REELEY—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, P.O. Francis Gerald Reeley, R.C.A.F., who is buried in Berlin Military Cemetery in Germany, who passed away April 10th, 1945.

A token of memories we meet
In loving hearts and days of pain,
For a far-off grave is a painful thing
To those who cannot see.
But God in His mercy will tenderly
Keep the grave of Gerald who is sleeping
Lonely flowers we lay,
Sadly missed by mum, dad, sisters, Annie and Helen and brothers Harry and John. A9

BRYANT—In memory of John A. Bryant who passed away April 9th, 1943.

Deep in our hearts his memory lingers,
Sweet keepsakes memories cling round your name,
True, he has left us, but we loved you with deepest affection.
Always and always in death the same
Ever remembered by wife and family. A9

Car Kills Deer Near Bancroft

Bancroft, (Special)— It was rather a "dear-deer" dance for Clifford Shea, 27 miles west of Bancroft, on Friday night, as going to a dance he struck and killed with a car on Highway 28, and killed the animal.

Shea reported the matter to Game Warden P. A. Thompson at Bancroft. Damage of over $100 resulted to Shea's car but no one was injured.

Reginald Blathenwick of Bancroft, reports that his son, Pet, Scarborough, during the week, reported seeing eight deer in one place. The deer apparently were gathering at a game preserve adjoint distance west of Bancroft.

Jardine Firm Changes Hands

Tweed (Special) — April 9 — It was announced this week that the firm of Jardine and Sons Hardware has changed hands, and it will henceforth be known as Hudson Bros. Mr. W. L. Jardine who purchased the business from E. H. Miller in June, 1940, has turned his interests over to his two sons, Leslie and Lorne Jardine.

Mr. Jardine has been responsible for many improvements in the interior as well as the store front since he acquired the business. His health is not of the best and he felt it advisable to turn it over to younger hands. The Jardine brothers are aggressive young business men of the community.

WILL BATTLE C.C.F.)

Vancouver, April 9 — (CP) — British Columbia's Liberal party will stand united with Progressive Conservatives against the C.C.F. in the next provincial elections.

The provincial Liberal association made that clear Thursday night after they overwhelmingly voted 528-54 to endorse Premier Byron Johnson's coalition government.

UK Conservatives Net 166 Gains In C. C. Elections

London, April 9 — (Reuters) — The Conservative party today claimed a net gain of 166 seats in this week's county council elections in Great Britain with 45 seats against a Labor net loss of 133.

The Conservative central office said results known so far showed the Tories had won 160 new seats and lost 14, while Labor lost 194 seats against 21 gained.

There is no official over-all collation of results in this week's local elections, which are ending today. Altogether 62 new councils were to be elected.

GUNMAN GETS $1,000

Montreal, April 8 — (CP) Provincial police said Thursday a lone gunman held up a bank manager in St. Philippe D'Argenteuil and escaped with an estimated $1,000. The village is about 30 miles west of Montreal and provincial police of both Quebec and Ontario were put on the alert.

Inspiring Messages Given At Annual W.M.S. Meeting Of Belleville Presbyterial

Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, Conference secretary, addressed the executive at a supper meeting on Tuesday last in King Street United Church, Trenton. Mrs. Informed members in her report of Dominion Board, that there was an atmosphere of seriousness, deep thought and calculatings as its members strove to find ways and means of making a better world. No effort less than the best was sufficient to work out the urgent changes needed in a world of social, economic and political upheaval.

During the next five years the church must take a prominent place in this changing world. The gravity of the situation was brought before the board by our Overseas Secretary, whose heart torn areas they are allowed to make their own choice whether they should stay on or not. The only money being spent in these areas is for the upkeep of property. The order of greatest need is the overseas field in Japan, India, China and Africa. Ninety new missionaries are needed at once and proportionate funds. The task of equipping one missionary for one year is $3,000 on the field.

General Policy Explained

The general policy of the Dominion Board is to place native Christians in places of responsibility. In Canada the Government is introducing public schools in areas of Indian settlement relieving the church in these areas where 2,500 boys and girls have attended our schools. This means that the church with only the Indian people must be developed in other ways. One of the newest developments in the church is the Sunday School by air and mail.

The Woman's Missionary Society provided a large grant for this work in the past year. Another outstanding rapidly developing phase of work is that being done at our sea ports receiving immigrants. Mrs. Harris pointed out that the greatest foe of the Christian church today is materialism and she quoted Mrs. C. M. Lovies who said "The greatest foe of Christianity was not Rome" Christians but 'nominal Christians.' " The only effective way in which we can all contribute to the peace of the world and that way is by living example, our personal responsibility as well as our forward advance in all spheres of our work.

Mrs. A. V. Empy, Presbyterial president, presided at all sessions of the conference. Mrs. W. M. Brown of King Street Church, brought greetings to the assembly of 250 delegates on behalf of the ladies of her church. She said "they considered it a privilege to have meetings of such spiritual inspiration in their own church when there was never a greater call than today for service."

Thanked for Co-operation

Mrs. Empy, in her presidential address, thanked the delegates for their co-operation and for their increased financial support when the world was calling for self-sacrifice, spiritually and materially. She challenged the membership to more sacrificial giving and living radiantly as Christians. She requested as many as possible to attend the school for leaders next month at Victoria. She was honored by the Bay of Quinte Conference and would be glad to welcome delegates from the twenty-fifth anniversary of union in 1860.

Miss Margaret Brown of China was introduced by Mrs. Georgeson. As the fifth esteemed missionary who has labored for the extension of Christian literature in China for 35 years spoke the assembly was hushed by a message that told of hardship, unrelenting toil and unlimited sacrifice to bring Christian civilization to a people who for centuries have reverenced the printed word.

How Can You Understand?

"How can I make you understand?" Yes, who but those never known a war and have never seen a civil war? You who have never seen fleeing people and whole families starving? These were her opening remarks as she went on to say that never in 20 years had she found it so difficult as now, to talk to a luxury loving people in our country living in overheated houses and indulging in supersumptuous meals. "How can you understand the suffering of our world?" She told of how every man had been dragged out of her door in China she stepped outside to see a family in her doorway fleeing from Communist controlled territory. The work of Mrs. Thetan Valiature Society which was organized by Dr. J. McGilvary in Shanghai 62 years ago had to be closed down because of war.

Vastness of Field

Interested in the continued promotion of this work moved further inland and engaged in translation and publication work. This experience taught her the vastness of the field and she explained the necessary changes in her work because of the limited time and difficulty of getting back to the early methods of setting up organizations and publication areas. Threading all through her remarks were illustrations of some of great achievements made possible by the efforts of consecrated native Christians. Many were compelled to use poor materials, the work suspended and by sale of small vegetable oil lamps but still carried continued by publishing magazines, Sunday School helps, papers and other small publications. The tremendous difficulties were experienced in getting books to copy from. There were no commentaries no books of sermons.

One theological college was compelled to use a middle school course on church history. A fleeing professor in a theological college told her "if had to throw away everything but my Bible. She said it would be difficult for us to understand what is meant to have one hymn book for a whole church, to not be allowed to buy a book unless it was to be used by the whole school or the whole congregation. How could we understand the joy of God in hearts where everything but our cherished books in order that the work of printing the Word might go on.

Returned to China

After a brief furlough in Canada in 1945 Miss Brown returned to China. She was stationed on every side by people as to the wisdom of returning in a time of peace like war. She was glad to China fighting for its life because wars were being fought for spiritual values. She returned to China by way of India over the Himalayas and was one of the first people to return to Shanghai where she established the work of the Christian Literature Society in their fine mission rented building. Transportation was difficult and it required six months for her to make her journey.

When she arrived she discovered that because of refugee service there was no elevator service. They were the only Christian publishers, who had not lost all their stocks after the hostels had been closed for five years. Because of a reduced staff she was called on to develop every branch and had to become administrator and high financier. In spite of all these difficulties they were able in their first year to publish 64 new books, 114 reprints and they had a mailing list of 15,000 for their children's magazine "Happy Childhood." 85,000 copies of the Hymnal were printed.

Stimulating Experience

It was a stunning experience to have the war end after 14 years during which we had talked almost of nothing else. Suddenly no one was prepared for the war to end. Overwhelming problems faced the National government. The Christian Literature Society has exerted a tremendous influence throughout all China ever since its establishment in 1890 even the Emperor read its publications.

They are preparing for whatever crisis may arise and accept the present situation as the judgment of God. They are resolved to make the most possible as Christianity faces its greatest opportunity. They realize it may take many years to establish Christian civilization in China but the roots of Christianity are far deeper and deeper than ever before. If Christians across the world make a new commitment of the Holy God we will have nothing to fear. Surely under the guiding spirit of such a Christian worker not only the power of Christ will win in China but in the heart of every person that Christian Literature Society as an ambassador as Miss Brown.

The Belleville Presbyterial, assisted by Mrs. P. MacMullen and Miss Florence Downs, reported the "Finding of Christian Stewardship" for the year our Presbyterial goal. It is gratifying when we realize how small our Presbyterial goal reflected in the great need as presented by Miss Brown.

Six Circles Reported

Mrs. MacMullen reported six Circles with a membership of 142. They had raised $432 which meant an average giving of $3.98 per person. She urged all to give liberally for they had freely received and to pray earnestly in these days that she explained the necessary changes in her work because of the limited time and difficulty of getting back to the early methods of setting up organizations and publication areas. Threading all through her remarks were illustrations of some of great achievements made possible by the efforts of consecrated native Christians. Many were compelled to use poor materials, the work suspended and by sale of small vegetable oil lamps but still carried continued by publishing magazines, Sunday School helps, papers and other small publications. The tremendous difficulties were experienced in getting books to copy from. There were no commentaries no books of sermons.

The year's work with the younger groups was very encouraging and showed progress in every department.

Several Books Recommended

Mrs. Fred Bell introduced the literature and recommended several new books to the society. She was in charge of the Literature Table during the day.

Mrs. J. W. Allen brought in the Treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. Ketcheson. It showed and stated that for the first time since Church Union the objective of $500 had reached its allocation. She asked for the Society to keep the folder of the stewardship envelope ever before them so that we would be able to strive for greater givings than ever before.

The morning session was closed by the Dedicatory Memorial Service conducted by Mrs. P. H. Naylor in memory of 22 members of our society who had passed into the great beyond. Five candles were, lit representing their contribution to the various phases in the service.

Afternoon Session

After the singing of the theme hymn and prayer by the President, the devotions were conducted by the continuation of the reports of Presbyterial secretaries.

Mrs. Hooper reporting for temperance stated that most of the societies were giving instruction in Christian Citizenship and temperance and a number were using temperance education in the Sunday School. Two others were doing excellent work with the new immigrants coming to Canada by assisting them with food and for some instances providing work for them and help in learning the English language. Mrs. R. N. Broad explained the duties of the social service secretary and felt her department had had a successful year. She felt there was great deal more room for advancement in this type of work provided new members for the Woman's Missionary Society.

Missionary Monthly

Mrs. H. Hamilton reported there had been a decrease in the number of members reading the Missionary Monthly and was sorry all of those made use of the magazine in order to conducting the worship services and felt it was very helpful in the preparation of programs in the department of the work. It is also a magazine of interest to those not in the United Church as it is presents a full picture of the work of the various stations. The pamphlet "How to Use" the study book was extensively used in the preparation of its presentation.

Miss D. Morden reported for supplies and asked that she be informed of all supplies needed and that it be sent in at the time stated and that only those articles asked for be sent. She also asked for greater care in the making out of the boxes. Mrs. Thos. Wilson revealed in her report on community friendship that reasonably the need was never greater than it is now for our expression of Christian love and sympathy to new comers within our land.

Miss Ward varied the day's way in which this is being done in the society. Mrs. J. R. Bell also reported for the press. Very few scrap books have been made but there had been an increase in the number of societies reporting to the press and the Missionary Monthly had published several articles of Presbyterial interest.

Mrs. Roger Bell, Dominion Board president, addressed the assembly briefly regarding Our Advance Program" and said we were grieved not only to have a review of the past but to plan for the future. She made an urgent appeal for clothing for Canadian church relief saying there were facilities at hand to pack and ship a ton a day and so continued support was needed from our membership to give every possible article of clothing for it may be that God's blessing on the Fall Fair is dependent upon our doing more than we are doing and before "to pass at least the bread if not the cake and the cross down toward the other end of the table."

Urgent Need

There was urgent need for supplies to be sent to our workers at the ports that they could give the immigrants, who are now allowed to bring what they can carry to Canada. She called for advance financially in order that our salaries for our workers in every field might be maintained and that our buildings and equipment should be kept up to date in every respect and that funds would be ready to send new workers into fields opening up. She told of the work of a deaconess in Tokyo who had asked the mother superior of a factory to give Bible training to 900 girls in his plant. 230 girls attended the meeting for Bible study but there was no leadership available and the work had to be delayed. She urged us to pray unceasingly ourselves and to implant it in our societies. Effective leadership in our schools, homes and in our organizations. She called for prayer

IN THIS READING AGE

Yet in this age Britain has had to bear very heavy hardships of limited size of her newspapers as a consequence of war and economic problems.

So it was good news to read on Friday that Britain's twin national dailies have been advised that they may publish two more pages on three days a week which means that they are to be published six-page papers six days a week.

Britons are tireless readers and they must have felt keenly the stringency what with their thirst for knowledge and for the thrill of reading the news of home and world affairs in an age when there has been more discussion on a world scale than ever before.

CIRCUS APPEAL

Yearning for the good old days of some things, among them the circus, is nr.tural in these days with spring reviving. Who does not recall the events of yesteryear which included the visit of those mammoth circus organizations which in their trips across the continent had a triumphal result of arousing millions of people.

Circuses do not come so often now as they used to in the other days but still their appeal is as lasting as anything in human experience.

The early morning arrivals of the show trains, the scenes of intense activity at the show grounds which assembled crowds upon hundreds of boys and girls and adults even before dawn. For a great experience had come to town when a circus landed. For a day the countryside and the villages, towns and cities were one as the immense gathering of people from east, west, north and south came and had a big space day of the happiest kind.

The circus is a miracle of organization and art and it brings wonders untold in number. It never grows old though it may bring the same species of wild life for the people to view in the cages again and again. This part of the circus was worth its weight in gold. And it will ever be so. It cannot be otherwise because humanity will not lose interest in strange animals from other continents.

Then of course there are the clowns, the myriad-colored dress of the whole world of people about the circus, the parade with its animals, its bands, its glitter and its calliope, the immortal clown — is as old as the ages and hundreds of years hence he will have the same appeal if there are circuses then — and there is certain to be something almost the same as a circus in its appeal of a world-wide range of attractions. The beautiful dressed equestrians and equestriennes hold their own in all ages, so do the artists on the trapeze, the animal trainers, the jugglers.

The very language that goes with a circus with its hyperbolic statements and descriptions of the acts is symbol of this great development.

And the words — they are the crowds who are made up of what might be called eternal or everlasting childhood and youth of all ages for everyone is young at a circus. For many people that scene has been rare. But in New York City the great appeal of the gigantic circus organization has come and that the millions of people who have known something of circuses and their history must feel a strange thrill as they think of the unfailing attraction the circus has had and still possesses.

WHY DID THEY VANISH?

In war-time the skeletons of the pre-historic animals kept in the London Natural History Museum were evacuated to several secret places of safety. Now they are all back again in their familiar homes, the Oamaurus Armatus, the Iguanadon, the Scelosaurus Cutleri and the Diplodocus. Peter Donne, in the BBC program, "London Column," spoke about these colossal creatures, observing that the Diplodocus was as high and as heavy as three London buses which seems a very great deal of animal, even though most of this abnormal length was made up of elongated neck and tail. This venerable creature, whose remains are some hundred million years old, lived in the marshes and lakes of sub-tropical England and fed on weeds which he strained through his long front teeth, the only ones he had. Despite his antiquity this inelegant beast was rather modern in a measure for his nostrils were placed above his eyes, and when he submerged in deep water and hoisted his long neck the only thing visible was his nose, which is, after all, a system which has much the same working principle as the submarine's Schnorkel apparatus.

THINGS ENDURING

What does the future hold?
"The times are bad;
Youth will not know the chance their fathers had."
We hear this muttered everywhere we go;
"Taxes are high and fortunes running low."
"Well," I reply, "some joys we have are sure.
Land, sea and sky and sunshine will endure.

"Young folks will marry.
There'll be smiles and tears
And children to be cherished down the years.
Mothers will run to soothe their hurts when they fall;
The same high hopes and dreams will come to all.
And when at last they kneel
beside the bed,
The prayers we learned, and said and taught, will still be said.

"The joys and sorrows will remain the same.
Gardens with yellow marigolds will flame.
The love of home will still continue on.
Never will come the day when faith is gone.
And that is sacred, tender,
pure and true
Will stay unchanged, whatever nations do."

Mackenzie's Column:

Western Powers' Plan in Germany Move to Peace

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Agreement at long last among the United States, Britain and France for the establishment of a German federal republic comprising their three zones is a further notable move towards peace and rehabilitation for Western Europe.

A defeated, war-torn, dismembered and embittered Reich has constituted a growing menace to European recovery. Only a decade ago Germany was the keystone of any plan to restore Europe cannot be put on its feet until that keystone is restored economically.

Unquestionably the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany remains outside the proposed republic because of the failure of the four powers to agree. However, the three-power agreement leaves the way open for Russian participation, and Secretary Hull has already said yesterday that it provides a basis for hoping for that the three western powers and Russia may solve their difficulties.

Lack Rich Area

Should Russia not see fit to unite the eastern zone with its sister states, the new government would take in the area which includes the one-proud metropolis of Berlin — hub of communications for the whole country.

Still the three western zones would be combined into a prosperous and important republic. They contain great resources, including the iron and steel of the Ruhr — one of the world's most important industrial areas.

The three powers had been in disagreement for long time over the vital issues of what sort of government should be established and how it should be adapted to the economic position of Western Europe. Russia's political strength — an understandable attitude, since she was ravaged by the war, and has some live roots in the Reich.

Permit Self-government

An announcement in Washington regarding the allied agreement says that it will permit the German people to exercise democratic self-government. Under the proposal the German government will negotiate its own European recovery agreement with the United States, and should qualify for membership in the organization for European economic co-operation.

We have a right to hope that this development will create a more healthful atmosphere in Western Europe. The Germans have a proud people, and their bitterness and despair in defeat has worked against rehabilitation. They believe now that they have to give them access to a new and straight road to reform and rehabilitation.

Brighteners

Baltimore — Times must be getting tough. Even burglars have to work for what they get.

Flint, Mich. — This morning, thieves broke into a bar and entered through a wall at the rear of the establishment.

Big open a heavy screen and force a window.

Lay a heavy safe over on its side and cabinet an eight-inch hole through the plating.

They had the money then, but they weren't through. So—to leave by a side door, they forced it open, only to find a heavy screen door padlocked. They broke that lock, too.

She telephoned for a taxi. The cab company sent its radio station to notify a driver whose car was next door to the woman's house. She had barely hung up the telephone, when the driver arrived.

"I won't ride with you," she said sternly. "You drive too fast, young man."

She called another company.

SUPERFLUOUS FLESH

People who accumulate superfluous flesh, whether in the form of a blanket of fat smoothly distributed over the entire body under the skin, or in the form of pads on hips, thighs or abdomen, or in the form of a spare tire or life ring around the middle, not only derive no benefit from the load of fuel they carry but are handicapped by it in everything they have to do or try to do.

This at once raises the familiar question: Why is it that some persons do not grow fat even though they eat as much as they like, whereas other persons—we'll, it seems as though everything they eat turns to fat?

For once I have a ready answer for the question. Probably there are several reasons for the difference in individuals. One reason why some persons get fat or remain fat even though, as they incessantly proclaim, they eat little less than their thinner friends do, is, I firmly believe, because they suffer from malnutrition. As Sir Robert McCarrison expressed it in his classical book "Deficiency Diseases" the long-continued use of deficient foods establishes the condition. The deficient foods mentioned by McCarrison are "artificial foods, white bread, white sugar, polished rice, poor butter, overcooked vegetables and excessive quantities of white sugar."

What! Refined sugar a deficient food? Refined sugar and other foods at any cost yield as many calories as the unsaponified pickle's worth or pound?

Yes, that is precisely why these foods, which constitute the main part of the everyday diet of most human beings constitute the main part of the everyday diet of most people, deficient foods we must forget ordinary nutrition or calorie values of certain other essentials of nutritive or calorie values and consider other elements of nutrition. But before we can do so all the beauty about it is that humans are most successful when they give expression to our endowments.

The painter gives expression to himself in his masterpiece, the writer to the book that he creates, the builder to the road, the furniture, the tunnel, or the ship, which his genius will produce. The musician gives expression to his life in the composition which he creates or to the melody of the instrument which his fingers and heart manipulate.

We are most successful when we please ourselves though honest expression. The process need have nothing to do with any material gain. Admiral Peary gave expression to his desire to conquer the North Pole — to achieve something that had never been done, for the pure joy of having done it. That was success to him.

We have gained a hold on love when we demonstrate that it can be made practical in all our ways of life. We can put it into the heart and mind, the plant it in whatever work we have at hand. Then lighten another's day and quench all fear. We can make it a vital force in everything that we do. We cannot be great without it. We can only see love in war if we choose. One song gives expression to love can be as worthy of expression as many antiques so expressible. In the home, the office, to write in a room that is bulging with honest expression, so that I am sure in the midst of success when I am within this room, the book, the picture, the furniture, the keepsakes, all are close to the life in its composition. These talks are the simple expression of one who has found happiness in what help and happiness they may somehow create in others, in you who read them.

No one has to be wealthy or famous to be a success. The most successful friend I have ever had, had only a little material nature. But he gave and gave of himself and made numberless others better and happier human beings. He gave expression to love and so he was a great success. And that's what anyone may be.

Brantford, April 9 (CP)—Many floors of Brantford homes will be bare this afternoon because of a fire Thursday evening which destroyed a rug-cleaning establishment of Georges Dee Division, Echo Place. Scores of valuable rugs ready for delivery to customers were burned. Others, still wet from washing, were also destroyed.

The blaze broke out shortly before 7 p.m. and swept through the frame building in a matter of minutes. The Brantford fire department was unable to cope with the flames which licked at the Der Stepanian residence 10 feet away. Fire hose had to be laid to a hydrant two blocks away in front of the Echo Place school.

Only damage to the residence was minor scorching to the eaves.

Origin of the blaze remains a mystery. Only soap and water and no inflammable fluids are used in cleaning the rugs, Mr. Der Stepanian said.

No accurate evaluation of the rugs burned has yet been made but it is expected to amount to thousands of dollars.

The frame one-storey building was insured at approximately $4,000, the proprietor said.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SUCCESS IS HONEST EXPRESSION

The most successful moment in the life of a bird is when it pours out its soul in song. It then gives evidence that it is free and alive to all the beauty about it. So humans are most successful when they give expression to our endowments.

The painter gives expression to himself in his masterpiece, the writer to the book that he creates, the builder to the road, the furniture, the tunnel, or the ship, which his genius will produce. The musician gives expression to his life in the composition which he creates or to the melody of the instrument which his fingers and heart manipulate.

We are most successful when we please ourselves though honest expression. The process need have nothing to do with any material gain. Admiral Peary gave expression to his desire to conquer the North Pole — to achieve something that had never been done, for the pure joy of having done it. That was success to him.

We have gained a hold on love when we demonstrate that it can be made practical in all our ways

"IN ALL PLACES, THEN, AND IN ALL SEASONS, FLOWERS EXPAND THEIR LIGHT AND SOUL-LIKE WINGS, TEACHING US, BY MOST PERSUASIVE REASONS, HOW AKIN THEY ARE TO HUMAN THINGS."

Strength for the Day

"REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY"

We enjoy one day's rest in seven because religion has established the Sabbath. Most of the people who take advantage of the opportunity which one day's rest in seven offers are blissfully unaware of the fact that it is not been for the Church and its teachings, people would probably be working seven days a week.

Everyone admits that we have to stop once in a while to get our breath. Everybody approves of one day's rest in seven. But the Sabbath is more than a day of rest. It is intended also to be a day of worship. Among Christians it is referred to as the Lord's Day, that is, a day set aside for particular and peculiar service to God. But many people, after getting in late Saturday night, sleep right through Sunday morning and awake without the least rebuke or conscience because they have disregarded one-half of the privilege which the Sabbath rest offers—humanity.

Rest, worship, and good works —these are the ends to which the day is divinely dedicated. To use the day for any one of these three ends without using it also for the other two is to misuse the day. The Sabbath rest is a merciful provision, and we should enter into its privileges with gratitude.

Mrs. S. W. Spafford conducted a membership forum with the assistance of Mrs. S. Homan, Mrs. F. L. Hooper, Mrs. Ralph Sills, Mrs. W. Neelands, Mrs. R. Thrasher, Mrs. R. N. Reed and Mrs. L. Bell, all stressing the need for recruiting new members. The first point in the discussion is "the Church is asking for gestural advance in all departments, the first place to start was in membership. What can increase membership than to a local auxiliary? "Every auxiliary member become a world Christian and only a world Christian can be fully useful in today's world and in a Church which is now a world Church. How might new members be secured? Necessary use of publicity, proper approach of prospective members and how to hold their interest after they have become members. They need a friendly auxiliary, one with good programs and ready to try new methods and one which can find work for new members and one which is willing to accept a large or allocation as it grows.

Resolutions Presented

Mrs. J. Fred Wilson presented two resolutions. One the curtailment of the sale of liquor rather than to promote it as a suggestion at the present time by the liquor interests. And one requesting a missionary be brought to this area to address several groups so that missionary work would be promoted in this presbyterial.

Mrs. Harris brought greetings from the branch and expressed appreciation of our achievements. Pat asked us to measure not in terms of money but in terms of spiritual enrichment.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Napanee, expressed the appreciation of the convention to the retiring officers and Mrs. R. D. P. Davidson brought in the report of the nominating committee when the following people were nominated for office:

Executive

Past President, Mrs. Geo. Finlay; President, Mrs. A. V. Emrp; First Vice President, Mrs. Ralph Sills; Second Vice President, Mrs. N. Reed; Third Vice President, Mrs. G. Haley; Fourth Vice President, Mrs. F. Montgomery; Fifth Vice President, Mrs. Helen Holmes; Recording Secretary, Mrs. James Rose; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lincoln Bluffe; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Miller; Secretary of Christian Stewardship, Mrs. R. P. Davidson; Secretary of Mission Circles, Mrs. P. MacMullen; Secretary of C.G.I.T., Miss Gladys Pettingill; Secretary of Mission Bands, Mrs. W. R. May; Mrs. Baby Bands, Mrs. A. Bertram; Secretary of Associate Circles, Mrs. G. Arvis; Supply Secretary, Miss E. Morden; Literature Sending Secretary, Mrs. Thos. Wilson; Literature Secretary, Mrs. P. MacMullen; Monthly Secretary, Mrs. James Sproule; Secretary of Temperance, Mrs. Usher Allin; Press Secretary, Mrs. F. R. Harback.

Executive Delegates to Branch

Members at Large to Branch

Mrs. C. L. Fraser, Mrs. P. H. Naylor, Mrs. F. L. Hooper, Mrs. J. Sproule, Mrs. Hillman, Mrs. Holmes.

Nominating Committee

Mrs. R. N. Broad, Mrs. Helen Holmes of Presidents of Centreville, Westlake, Eggleton, Holloway St., Belleville, and Selby.

Mrs. R. D. P. Davidson, Mrs. F. Mills, Mrs. Geo. Wood, Ivanhoe; Mrs. Fred Hubbs, Bloomfield; Mrs. Ralph Wightman, Napanee, Courtesy Committee

Mrs. P. MacMullen, Mrs. Frank Ruckstuhl.

New Officers Installed

The new officers were installed by the Branch President, Mrs. F. W. Ryckman with a very impressive ceremony.

The afternoon session closed in a beautiful quiet communion service conducted by Rev. D. Macin assisted by the elders of King St. Church dedicating the officers and members to the work of the new year.

Evening Session

The evening session opened by the worship service conducted by Grace Church Evening Auxiliary, taking as their theme "I pressed toward a mark for high calling of God in Christ Jesus" illustrating our work as climbing a hill. The speaker pointed out that Jesus went forward to a cross on a hill with a perfect assurance that He had done His Father's will. What hill should we climb if we are to do our Father's will? Three hills were suggested: The hills of better self, better Canada and a better world. Supplemented by a beautiful solo and prayer this was a very inspiring service.

Mrs. Ralph Sills brought the reply to the Greetings extended by Mrs. Brown and the Rev. D. Martin during the day in a very delightful manner and once again the conference listened intently to Miss Margaret Bowen's address "In the Midst of the Storm." Opening her address she said "There is something about the great Christian experience that compels one to write it down" and gave examples of this were the gospels and records of the early Church. A glimpse of the way in which the Christian faith has contributed was given to us as she pictured a man in a village sending up scraps of paper on which a few lines were printed because they were too precious to be trampled under foot. The Chinese people since before 3000 B.C. have been writing on skins and silk and paper because life has been too important to go unrecorded.

Treasure The Classics

They treasure the great classics and we have taken them the Christian Gospels. Miss Brown showed many books with the way Chinese value books with the way in which Paul treasured them saying to timothy "bring the books, especially the parchments." In 1943 a traveller at the door of China was only allowed to have 33 pounds of luggage but they had to have the books as they tore off the covers and cut off the edges of pages to be sought. Precious books autographed by authors than had to be described but on arrival at Changking the secretaries crowded around to see what books she had brought. Miss Brown told of the thrill at the first glance she had in finding a "Times" magazine in a missionary's home but on picking it up discovered it was two years old.

Hungry For News

People everywhere were hungering for news of the world. They wanted news of the world Church in the Christian groups. Through special effort one copy of each publication of the Christian Century is sent to China at an almost prohibitive cost. Air mail letters cost 70c each. This gave the assembly some insight into the facts that Christian people are at war countries without books and that schools and churches are operating without materials.

The young people in China are divided into two groups—Students and Non Refugees. Many of the students have been separated from their parents for as long as seven years and families have become scattered. Where we at one time had 17,000 missionaries we now have only between three and four hundred. Graduates of the University of Shanghai have been compelled to live in the Christian Literature building. Everywhere the valuable work of the church has been recognized by the Chinese as Christ is constantly asking "What is the Church doing in Canada?" Here and there groups of students have banded themselves together to serve in various ways true to the Christian faith regardless of what it may mean.

Doors Wide Open

At the Missionary Council in 1947 the Christian leaders declared "Now is the time for us to speak out as the great prophets of old". In West China the doors are wide open and the opportunities are still great. In spite of the crisis the Christian Literature Society has an amazing year in Shanghai. Books were bought and circulated and circulation is still increasing and plans have been made to carry on outside China. Young Christian groups are dedicated to witness in the love of God. the only power that can bring lasting peace and their slogan is "Under God we will not fail nor falter". Young groups of medical students in Szechuan in 1945 have taken "Service" as their motto.

They have pledged themselves to work without salaries and do everything they can for saving humanity. During the digging of an Artesian well natural gas was discovered. This has proved a tremendous value for power and producing light and heat and they say miracles still happen.

"We shall stand fast at our posts no matter what happens, we are safe in the Everlasting Arms." The speaker pointed out that what happens in Canada reacts so quickly there and perhaps we have not yet conscripted ourselves enough. The Church must rally people to positive tasks ready to do a job, ready to go forward in the name of the cross to enter into the Kingdom and transformed lives and into the personal life Spanish suffering of this age. Work Needs People

Mrs. R. N. Thompson took the place of Mrs. Roger Self in presenting the candidate appeal and told of two of Chinaness asked her to be prepared to send ten thousand missionaries to China as soon as the opportunity came. Our work needs people in every field. We need well and highly trained workers who should be recruited at an early age in order to obtain a thorough education with university training in their particular fields. Nurses and kindergartners are greatly needed. At the present time the personnel committee requires sixty nurses and two superintendents for hospitals as well as workers in many other fields. The training school has six missionaries graduating this year. Mrs. Thompson asked us as members of the Woman's Missionary Society to be constantly seeking to enlist young people in the service of the Church.

Musical Program

The Choir of King Street Church provided a very nice musical number and Mrs. P. MacMullen brought in the report of the Courtesy Committee expressing appreciation for the very fine way in which the women of the auxiliaries of King Street Church had entertained us and for the very lovely meals they served so graciously. Also for all those officers and guest speakers and musicians who had contributed to the enrichment of our society.

The session closed by the singing of the National Anthem and benediction.

To Buy Honey

Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced a government decision to buy 5,000,000 pounds of honey to help Canadian beekeepers, faced with losses through a market weakened by surpluses.

In the agricultural debate, Mr. Gardiner said the marketing bill had developed largely from requests of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. While the Federal body urged the bill to apply to all "natural" products, the government's measure was confined to agricultural products until more experience is gained.

F. D. Pulton (PC-Kamloops) said the Progressive Conservative party supported the legislation, though it felt it was "a good many years too late" and that the government was introducing it now only because of the approach of a general election.

F. S. Zaplitny (CCF-Dauphin), leading for a governmental delegation to buy 5,000,000 pounds of honey to help Canadian beekeepers, faced with losses through a market weakened by surpluses.

While the Federal body urged the bill to apply to all "natural" products, the government's measure was confined to agricultural products until more experience is gained.

F. S. Zaplitny (CCF-Dauphin), while he supported the legislation, urged the government to introduce a comprehensive agricultural marketing act which would ensure farmers a fair return for their labor and eliminate speculation in foodstuffs.

Benoit Michaud (L-Restigouche-Madawaska) said the legislation would be of little help to maritime potato producers who would face the same competition as they do now. There should be a Dominion marketing board which would set minimum prices.

Sought to Amend Bill

Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort) sought to amend the bill to authorize two or more provincial boards to form a central selling agency for their products, but dropped the proposed change when Mr. Gardiner gave assurance that the Dominion would endeavor if the provinces indicated they wanted such an agency.

Transport Minister Chevrier piloted the pipe-lines bill and said it would empower Canadian pipe-line companies to initiate bills of incorporation in the Senate.

"The companies were anxious to get this legislation," he said, which will run across the international border to feed United States markets, and planned to spend as much as $250,000,000, much of it in private funds, on the projects.

Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Centre) urged that the pipe lines serve Canada primarily, rather than the export market, and that the Dominion be responsible for assisting Alberta in conserving its natural resources.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge), supporting the suggestion that the bill go to a committee that it be wanted to make sure Alberta representatives have a chance to give their views.

TWO MYSTERIES

Krieger said he had last seen Witczak in 1945. Davis said the latter had called first but had no idea where Witczak is now. Interviewed in Toronto, he visited Montale in 1945 from his post at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Whatever he is, whatever name he is using now, he offered a little light on the globe-girdling characteristics of Soviet espionage.

Even with a Canadian passport taken off the real Witczak at the Spanish border, he arranged to send Krieger into a red ring in Japan which was broken the next year after achievements which are said to have made the Canadian network look tame.

The final irony of it all is the fact that the real Witczak, a Russian-born emigrant labor-man Leamington for years, now is living in Poland, behind the iron curtain.

NAVIGATION EARLIEST IN COMPANY'S HISTORY

Montreal, April 9 — (CP) The navigation season opened in the port of Montreal Thursday—earliest date on record—with the arrival of the 10,000-ton freighter Mont Alta of the Montreal Shipping Company. Capt. A. S. Baxter, 32, of Montreal, docked the freighter at about 8 p.m., a full 12 days ahead of the navigation opening last year.

More Stability In Farm Prices Is Recommended

Ottawa, April 8 (CP) — The Royal Commission on prices intimated Friday it would like to see prices of Canadian farm products stabilized generally.

"It may not be entirely wise to false the prices of farm products to be determined completely by the operation of the market," the commission said in a 400,000-word report tabled in the Commons.

The commission maintained that "prices of farm products have been extremely unstable" and that there were both in Canada and the United States a "large body of opinion in favor of moderating the cyclical swings in agricultural prices."

Since farm prices tend to fluctuate more than the prices of any other products over the business cycle," it was believed by "many that farm prices would be improved by the introduction of more stability into farm prices."

While not suggesting controls directly, the commission noted the actions of the government's Agricultural Prices Support Act and its principle of ensuring adequate and "stable" returns through orderly marketing legislation.

The Support Act can be applied to all agricultural products with the exception of wheat, which falls under the control of the Canadian Wheat Board. So far, it has been applied only to potatoes and eggs.

Contracts Helped

Discussing agriculture generally on a broad level, the commission noted that Canada's $400,000,000-a-year food contracts with United Kingdom helped keep the whole Canadian price structure at a low level during the post-war period.

The commission found that farm prices moved upward in response to the acute world shortage of food, an "inevitable aftermath" of the Second World War.

While the Canadian economy could do little themselves to avoid or moderate this rise, the rise was cut to an extent by the food contracts for wheat, bacon, eggs and canned salmon with the U.K. by the Canadian government.

"Both these agreements," said the commission, "and the restrictions that have placed on the export of farm products to the United States have had a stabilizing effect on prices from rising to the levels prevailing in export markets.

"This has undoubtedly helped to keep the whole Canadian price structure at a low level."

The prices commission noted that if Canadian food prices had risen to higher levels, it would have been subject to a more inflationary spiral.

It would seem likely, he said, that "industrial workers would have sought and obtained higher wages to compensate for the greater rise in the cost of living."

FIRE IN GLOVE-MAKING DEPARTMENT

Prescott, Ont., April 9 (CP)—Fire of unknown origin Thursday broke out in the glove cutting department of the Gold Glove Company here, destroying a glove making machine and a quantity of valuable silks and linings used in the glove-manufacturing trade. Damage was tentatively estimated at $4,000.

JURY WANT CHEESE

Toronto , April 9 — (CP) — Two Frenchmen bent on persuading Canadians to become lovers of rare old cheese visited Toronto Friday. They are Louis Collard and Andre Lapergue, visiting Canada and United States to develop markets for the French cheese industry. M. Collard thought Canadians would take to the French cheese "with a personality of its own." But Britons, confided M. Lapergue, satisfied for just an "honest" cheese, nothing fancy.

ARRESTED AFTER SMASH

Tokyo, April 9 — (Reuters) — Lieut. Norifumi Otoshu, a former Japanese army officer charged with helping behead eight American airmen, has been arrested after a two-year search, Supreme Allied headquarters announced Thursday. The executions were in revenge for the atom bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it was stated.

66 DRIVERS SNARED

Brampton, April 8 — (CP) — Brampton has a mechanically-minded police chief who is making things tough for speeders in this Peel county town. Chief Frank Keates constructed a special electro-magnetic gadget for timing motorists passing through Brampton and used it during the past week to snare 46 drivers exceeding the speed limit.

RESCUE SQUADS

Complicating the problem, diggers said, was the possibility the old pipe might have a bend or two, and also might contain some water, although the well has not been used in recent years.

The location of the girl at the 87-foot level was determined by dropping a ball attached to a steel tape. It stopped against something in the well at level and was pulled up dry, firemen said. No Child Heard

But there was no cry from below.

There has been no cry or word from little Kathy since about an hour after she vanished from sight while running after her sister, Barbara Jane, 6, and cousin, Gus Lyon, five.

"We can only hope Kathy is sleeping, said Police Chief Glen McClung, speaking what was on the minds of the hundreds of watcher, including Kathy's distraught parents, and Mrs. David Fiscus. Hundreds stayed on through the night to watch the rescue efforts.

Kathy was playing in a vacant lot near her home when it happened. The children were racing from one end of the lot to the other.

When the two older children looked back, they couldn't see Kathy. They started and Mrs. Gus almost stepped in the hole when he heard screams of terror rising faintly from below.

The children ran and got Mrs. Fiscus. She came and shouted down to her daughter: "Can you hear me, Kathy?"

suitable for shallow or deep wells, ¾ h.p. motor will deliver 870 gals. per hour at 45 ft. Price only, $172.00, installation extra. Larger h.p. also available, prices on request.

QUIET—The centrifugal-injector pumping principle, even in immediate unsaturated installations provides a smooth, non-pulsing supply of water.

EASILY INSTALLED—As there are no moving parts in the well, offset and overwell installations are easily made on both deep and shallow wells.

TWO-IN-ONE—The Duo-Jet* pump is so named because it can be used for either deep or shallow wells. A drop in the water level in a deep well necessitates merely an increase of investment since the Duo-Jet is readily converted to deep well service.

LOW COST — Measured in terms of more gallons per horsepower, lower installation cost and longer, trouble-free life, the Duo-Jet Pumps give top value to the rural home owner and farmer.

Drop in and see for yourself this amazing type of pump and we are sure you will leave convinced of the advantages of owning one.

MARMORA

Glee Club Holds Party On Anniversary

Marmora.—The Glee Club of St. Andrew's United Church held their third birthday party at the home of Mrs. F. B. Wells on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of the President, Mrs. Thomson, who has been ill, Mrs. Ellis presided.

A fine program was put on by the committee, which included humorous readings by Mrs. Lowery and Mrs. Foster, special numbers by the quintets, and community singing. Mrs. Fred Bonter had a very fine collection of shells, photo postcards and views which she had collected when she and Mr. Bonter were holidaying in Florida.

Mrs. F. N. Marett, who was married in the early part of the month, also spoke interestingly of her trip to Florida last winter.

Communion Table Clothes

The Club is presenting the Church with two lovely linen table cloths for the Communion table, one for Easter and the next Sunday for the pre-Easter Communion.

Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Ralph Neal served delightful refreshments, which included a birthday cake, with three lighted candles for Mrs. Wells, who had the honor of blowing out the candles, after which she cut the cake.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Litt and Mrs. Rennie.

Women's Activities

ALBERT COLLEGE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY

During the business period, which was conducted under the capable management of Mrs. W. Northcott, plans were completed for the annual tea, of technicolor entitle "This Canada of Ours", which will be given by Miss Ina M. McCauley, on May 11, in the Sunday School rooms of Bridge Street United, and following this, Miss Helen Sulman was in charge of the devotional period, which centred around the theme "Easter".

An extremely interesting program was enjoyed when Mrs. E. M. Hubbs delighted her audience by her charming rendition of three preludes by Chopin. Mrs. Ralph Morden gave a lovely reading entitled "The Easter Story", and Mrs. Clifford Templeton accompanied Mrs. W. J. Duff, sang two pleasing songs, "Birds' Songs in the Rain" and "The Old Violin".

A highlight of the afternoon was the delightful 'request' talk on "Hymns" by Mrs. Duff and their composer by Dr. Bert Howard, and was much enjoyed by all.

Later a charming afternoon tea was served.

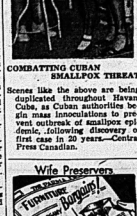
COURAGEOUS MOTHER AND "LUCKY" BABY

Survivor of the St. Anthony's hospital fire in Effingham, Ill., that claimed at least 52 lives, Mrs. June Ader man gazes proudly at new-born son, who came into the world one hour after she was rescued from the flaming building. At time flames were discovered Mrs. Ader man was in hospital delivery room, but she was able to climb to safety while her husband, Arnold Ader man, a truck driver looked on. He took her home and then called a doctor. mother and child are doing well. . and for the time being baby's name is "Lucky."—Central Press Canadian.

In view of the coming Easter season, the call to worship was "Christ is Risen—He is Risen Indeed". Mrs. W. Wickett rendered Mrs. J. G. Sills gave the Scripture lessons. Cazgi Stewart contributed an instrumental number in which the Thank-offering was received and dedicated.

The program was divided into three parts—"Advance in Home and Overseas Missions"—"Advance in Our Auxiliary"—and "My Share in Advance". The leader was assisted by Mrs. Fred Bonter and Mrs. Hicks, who gave a vision of the task of the church in face of the increase in immigration to Canada. Mrs. W. Scott told of the splendid opportunity of advance in Japan, and Mrs. G. Priest read an article by the Overseas Executive secretary, telling of the need of missionaries in India.

The second part "Advance In Our Auxiliary" was fully explained by Mrs. A. Shorten, who told of the chance for advance, if each member assumed her responsibility and she strongly advocated the starting of a Baby Band.



The leader then told of "My Share in Advance", and after mentioning a number of opportunities for service, silent prayer was observed. Mrs. Shorten pronounced the benediction and Mrs. Fred Bonter took charge of the business.

The Roll Call was answered by "Something Especially Thankful For" and some thoughts from the Belleville Presbytery were expressed by different members.

Mrs. Wickett reported "We had been sent away and Mrs. C. Bannerman gave a reading "Tempted once". Mrs. Priest gave some valuable help on "getting new members" and Mrs. E. Tunnson spoke on the supply work. Mrs. Hamber invited the society to her home for the May meeting.

Harmony Club Presents Movies Of New Province

Tweed.—A "Newfoundland Night" attracted over sixty members and visitors of the regular monthly meeting of the Harmony Club, last evening. This timely feature was in charge of a group led by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Howse, who are both natives of this new province.

The Newfoundland songs and hymns of the Newfoundlanders, all entwined with their ways and his fishermen, interspersed the commentary by Mr. Howse. A number of vocal selections by Arnold Montgomery, Jim Jeffrey, Carl Howse, S. R. Connell, Mrs. Perritt and Mr. Ardon, and rendered two "sally" numbers.

Mr. Howse outlined the geography portion of the talk, its climate and commercial and natural resources.

"Newfoundland has always been a problem and the Confederation will not solve the situation to any great extent."

Mr. Howse stated explaining that its comparatively small population is scattered around. which the Thank-offering was received and dedicated.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Faddishness of Appearance — Good-looking girls are a dime a dozen. You see them everywhere. But the quick-and-easy young lady who is perfectly groomed, from the top curls of her head to her shining, neat shoes, stands out from the crowd. She is such a treat to the eye that you take a second look. How does she get that way? Because she has a keen sense of order, is mindful of every small detail of day and evening.

She is a crank on cleanliness. She spends an extraordinary amount of time fighting dust and dirt, but she thinks the results are worth it. She'll have not a bit of it anywhere, on her scarred complexion, her hair, her hands or her garter belt. She carries a look of springtime freshness at all hours—during the day and evening when the late party is about to break up.

She loves the feel and smell of soap suds. Her morning bath is never hurried. She finds it a pleasure. It helps her to start the day right. She scrubs with a brush until her flesh glows, finishes with a quick, cold shower, gives herself a rubdown with a tonic that imparts a sweet tingle and then sees that her diet is functioning normally. By way of keeping her figure supple she does a bit of torso twisting, touches the floor without bending her knees.

All the sisters are judged by appearance

You should take a peek into her dresser drawers! Everything set as a geometrical problem. Stockings and scarves in separate boxes that also hold racket pads.

You'll never find her shoes and slippers kicking around. In her clothes closet is a shoe rack. Every pair of shoes on trees, so they will keep their shape. She never puts on a coat without brushing it. She knows that a couple of days' airing on a collar will type her as being untidy, despite all her other efforts to put up a smart, dainty appearance.

Her opposite is the girl who fancies that people don't notice little slips in grooming. She postpones the day when she must take her shoes to the cobbler to have a sole put on. Runover heels are disgraceful.

She may put off the shampoo until her hair looks dull and lifeless, ringlets going stringy, not realising that no hair-do can be chic and beautiful unless locks are shining clean. She may not keep a keen eye on nail polish. It is better not to use any than to have it patchy. The same goes for cosmetics. If a girl won't take pains to put it on cleverly, with proper blending, she is not justified in using it.

All the sisters are judged by appearance, given a high rating or a low one. Isn't appearance almost always a letter of character? One doesn't have to have the body be well-groomed. All one needs to spend is time and thought.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A thoughtful letter from a reader

It is a very pleasant thing to have a letter come to one. In awhile that tells a tale of happiness instead of one of misery. It is particularly heartening when a reader writes a letter of encouragement to someone who is disturbed about a matter that seems similar to one that reader has happily solved.

A few weeks ago, a letter printed in this column described the distress of a young girl who had been told by her fiance about affairs he had had before knowing her. This news had made her hesitate about marrying him, and she wanted to know if this part of his might be an indication that he would not make a good husband.

Now I have a letter which is intended to reassure that girl. It comes from a young wife who says she has been married four years, has "two lovely children and a husband who is so helpful I can never thank the Lord enough."

Then she goes on to say: "The girl who signed herself 'Confused' certainly had a right to be. I know how she feels. It happened to me.

"My husband perhaps was even more upset than I was. When he got a girl in his home town into trouble, he had promised to marry her, but things worked out differently and he left her flat. That was his only affair. He also told me of the others. The one just described, however, came to my ears from his mother after we had been married.

"I too felt hurt, but after all that was in the past. Why, I thought, should it have any effect on the present? I was inexperienced me, and was considerate and sincere, and I have never been sorry I married him. The girl who wrote to you will probably never really forget him, but she knows of this man's past. I never have, really, and I never intend to. To her I say: Go ahead, marry your man in spite of his excesses all the other good qualities you want in a husband.

"And one more thing. My husband came from another state, and I never would have known of his affair if he, too, had not been honest enough to tell me.

"Good luck to you. Confused, and couples."

This is a nice letter, and I am glad the "Faithful Reader" who wrote it was thoughtful enough to do so. I believe, myself, that under circumstances such as those the past need not matter. If a man sincerely wishes his future, and that of the girl he marries, to be happy.

Sheer crepe with medallions

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

YELLOW IN ALL its tones from palest lemon to deep sun gold, is one of the most popular colors this year. It appears in every collection including lingerie, clothes, and beach wear. Here it is delicate primrose yellow sheer crepe, used for a pretty nightgown. Lace medallions border the square neckline and the tiny puffed sleeves with net fluted edges. The front inset over the bust is gathered for a soft, pretty flare. There has a gathered inset in front and is gored in back. Ied by Mrs. Hodgen.

Canada Anticipates Biggest Tourist Season Ever This Year

It's a Land Where You Can Swim, Fish, Hunt, Climb Mountains, Sightsee or — Just Relax

PLENTY OF BEACHES FROM SYDNEY TO VANCOUVER

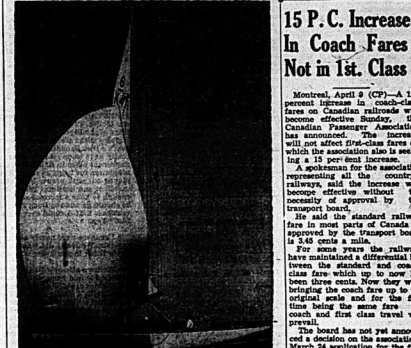
Canada came out of the 1948 tourist season with the biggest credit on record as U.S. visitors spent more in the Dominion than ever before. Preparations are already underway to make this year's tourist season an even better one. Ontario will greet U.S. visitors with free cups of tea to be served daily from 10.30 a.m. to noon and 3.30 to 5 p.m. It will be served at some of the more remote tourist reception centres such as Ivy Lea, Pigeon River and Kenora. Canada offers plenty of beaches for tourists to bask in the sun and pictures like this one makes you start thinking about summer vacations.—Central Press Canadian.

FISHING IN ONTARIO STREAMS

Scenes like this one are common throughout Ontario as visitors start pouring in across the border. The famed Muskoka district has become a favorite spot for U.S. visitors who return year after year. The province has an abundance of streams and lakes for fishing. People who like to take their holidays during the hunting season in autumn find Ontario an appropriate spot.—Central Press Canadian.

HISTORICAL ROMANCE OF PLACES LIKE QUEBEC CITY ATTRACT VISITORS

The national profit on tourist expenditures last year hit an all-time high of $150,000,000. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. Quebec, which draws hundreds of thousands of tourists each year, helped establish this record. This province offers the tourist the historical romance of its cities as well as the scenery of the Laurentians and the fabled Gaspe coast.—Central Press Canadian.



MOUNTAIN CLIMBING IN THE ROCKIES

Holiday mountaineers find the Canadian Rockies just the place to climb all the mountains they want. This part of Canada has been well-known for its beautiful scenery. The majestic snow-capped mountains are something to remember long after holidays are over. Often a visitor who likes to paint is found with his brush and easel in some quiet remote spot. Horseback riding and swimming are favorite outdoor sports while skiing in the Columbia icefields is a big attraction.—Central Press Canadian.

DEEP-SEA FISHING IN THE MARITIMES

Every year, deep sea fishing enthusiasts gather at Yarmouth, N.S., to try for record-weight tuna and swordfish. U.S. fishermen as well as experts from Jamaica, Mexico, England and France set out in small boats and are prepared for a big time. Last year's catch was below average . . . but you wouldn't guess it by this 550-pound tuna landed by Allon Sharpe, donor of an international tuna trophy. Bluefin tuna such as this can pull a boat through the water at 45-m.p.h clip. Tourists find Maritime fishing coves enchanting places to spend a holiday. It is predicted that the beauty spots of Newfoundland, Canada's new province, will attract many visitors this year.—Central Press Canadian.

SAILING ON THE GREAT LAKES

The Dominion government is planning to greatly expand its advertising program during 1949. The average citizen can help the tourist by recommending reasonable places for eating and sleeping accommodations and taking time out to give directions. Sailing on the Great Lakes as well as the Atlantic and Pacific draws many visitors to Canadian waters during the summer.—Central Press Canadian.

Urges Campaign To Build Better Tourist Industry

Ottawa, April 9 (CP) — A vigorous government campaign to build Canada's tourist industry into a "billion dollar" undertaking was urged Thursday in the Commons by J. W. Murphy (PC-Hamilton West).

To this end, he called for the establishment of a permanent Commons committee on the tourist industry to work and advise Trade Minister Howe, the Minister in charge of the government operated Canadian Tourist Bureau.

He said he was doubtful whether the industry was receiving sufficient attention from the government and urged that it be dealt with in a "more business-like manner."

An effort should be made to "sell Canada's good-will" and a library of Canadian films set up for distribution in the United States.

Mr. Howe reviewing the board's actions, said he agreed with Mr. Murphy's objectives and promised to bring his suggestion for establishment of a committee to the cabinet's attention.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West), long active critic of the National Film Board, expressed agreement with Mr. Murphy's proposals for showing Canadian films abroad, but said he was not satisfied with the board's distribution of its material in the American market. This should come within the jurisdiction of the provinces.

He placed before the Chamber a number of other objections to the board's activities.

Poland Blasts Western Press In UN Assembly

Lake success, N.Y., April 9 (CP) — Poland blasted at the western press in the United Nations Friday. She charged: "There are many publishers who are engaged in gathering news material by helping the warmongers in every direction of their work."

The outburst came from Jan Drohojowski, Polish Minister to Mexico, in the General Assembly's 58-member social committee during discussion of a proposed draft convention on gathering and international transmission of news.

"The really peace-loving countries cannot permit war-mongers to dominate the press and radio," Drohojowski said.

Canada is represented on the committee by Leon Mayrand, head of the American and Far Eastern division of the External Affairs Department. His adviser is George Hambleton, an officer of the International division of the External Affairs Department.

Drohojowski proposed an amendment defining news material as including that "which is neither designed nor likely to provoke or encourage any threat to the peace, breach of the peace or act of aggression, and that is not intended as a dissemination of false or distorted reports likely to injure friendly relations between the states."

The United States offered two amendments, one aimed at reducing censorship by governments.

The proposed convention would permit censorship only for maintenance of national security. The United States amendment would restrict this to "national military security."

15 P.C. Increase In Coach Fares Not in 1st. Class

Montreal, April 9 (CP)—A 15-percent increase in coach-class fares on Canadian railroads will become effective Sunday, the Canadian Passenger Association has announced. The increase will not affect first-class fares on which the association also is seeking a 15 per cent increase.

A spokesman for the association representing all the country's railways, said the increase will become effective without the necessity of approval by the transport board.

He said the standard railway fare in most parts of Canada as approved by the transport board is 3.66 cents a mile.

For some years the railways have maintained a differential between the standard and coach-class fare which up to now has been three cents. Now they were bringing the coach fare up to the original scale and for the first time being the same fare for coach and first class travel will prevail.

The board has not yet announced a decision on the association's March 24 application for the first class fare increase.

The increase effective Sunday will not affect coach fares to United States points but negotiations with U.S. railway authorities now are under way on this matter.

The fare increase is equivalent to the tax on transportation tickets repealed by the federal budget last March 22.

School, Belleville.

Mrs. W. Eggleton spent the weekend at the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Eggleton.

Klukay's Goal Gives Leafs 3-2 Victory Over Red Wings in Sudden-Death Overtime Play

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Detroit, April 9 (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs today were on the right track in the hunt for their third Stanley Cup triumph.

They got the "hot one," a 3-2 overtime victory over Detroit Red Wings in the best-of-seven series opener here last night, but they had to battle all the way for it against the Wings, who stoked the regular 60-game schedule at the top of the six-team National Hockey League to take the championship.

Pair-baited Joe Klukay, 27-year-old right winger from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., locked the victory away with a blazing backhand shot that found the corner after 17:35 minutes of overtime. His "million-dollar" goal broke a 2-2 deadlock and clipped the Wings, who went into the game slight favorites in the betting.

A capacity crowd of 13,445 was stunned into silence as Klukay's drive popped in under goalkeeper Harry Lumley's outstretched arm.

Leafs climbed the Red Wings in four straight in the playoffs last year and supporters now are calling them to set National Hockey League history by making the cup three years in succession. Leafs defeated Montreal Canadiens 4-0 in games in the 1947 series.

Klukay picked up another point, getting an assist on a first-period goal by Max Bentley which tied the score at 1-1. Wings opened the scoring, George Gee netting in a game from Lew Landsley and Gordie Howe.

It was a tight game for most of the regulation 60 minutes but both clubs, eager for the sudden death clincher in the overtime, pulled out all the stops.

Thomson Scores Second

Jim Thomson opened Toronto's second period while Sid Abel, one of Detroit's big guns and captain of the club, sat in the penalty box for elbowing. The 2-1 Leaf lead lasted only until Big Bill Quackenbush tied it up at 10:33 of the third session, sending the clubs into overtime.

Big Bob Dawes missed a chance to give Leafs the game in regulation play when his shot—from about five feet out—hit the goal-post and trickled on the line until goalkeeper Harry Lumley directed the tie to stop its roll.

Both clubs missed golden chances in the overtime session, one of the stars of the game, set up scoring gaps which were ignored but the Wings couldn't capitalize on them.

But it was Klukay's drive that settled it. He cut in from the corner to shoot and few in the arena saw it hit the nets behind Lumley.

Five teams remain in the playoffs for the Allan Cup and the Canadian Senior Hockey Championship — three in the East and two in the West.

East: Toronto Marlboros, Ottawa Senators, Sherbrooke Red Raiders.

West: Regina Capitals and Fort Frances Canadians.

ENDORSE PACT

Toronto, April 8 — (CP)—Toronto district Labor Council (A. F. L.) Thursday night went on record as endorsing the Atlantic Pact despite opposition by a group of delegates who claimed the treaty was intended for aggression. The Toronto Labor Council (C. I. O.) also supported the pact at a recent meeting.

The A. F. L. group criticized Labor Minister Daley for refusing to amend the Ontario Labor code at the current session of the legislature. Labor groups had asked for changes.

Number 13 Will Be Lucky For Flyers or Royals

Toronto, April 9 — (CP) — Bill Ivan Barilko No. 13 for either Barry Flyers or Montreal Royals when they clash here tonight in the opening game of the best-of-seven series for the Eastern Canada junior hockey title and the right to move into the Memorial Cup finals.

For the powerful Flyers, a win will give them 13 straight playoff games and equal a Memorial Cup record that has stood for 15 years. If it is the Royals, it may be their 13th playoff win in 14 starts. They will play the second and third game in Montreal Monday and Wednesday.

The Flyers will have an injury-free scout for their attempt to equal the record set by the famed Toronto St. Michael's College in the 1933-34 campaign. The Irish went on to win the Dominion title.

The Royals are raised a stronger team than last year's Royals.

In their recent series they ousted the highly-touted Peterborough Rockets in four straight games after Bert Blendell, former star with Halifax St. Marys and Gordie Knutsen from Regina Pats. Both were acquired early in the season and were among the top scorers in the Quebec league.

Meanwhile, the Flyers have been idle since last week when they defeated Porcupine Combines in four consecutive games of their best-of-seven series for the Northern Ontario championship.

They have three potent scoring lines, and each one has been getting its share of goals.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

Don't let that heading fool you folks. For today and today only this column is being written by none other than "NORM LYNCH."

'Down by the station early in the morning.

Chug, chug, whosoever of he goes."

Our dear sports editor has tripped (oops) merrily off to Peterborough to take part in the annual Ontario Baseball Association shindig that is being held there. So look what happens. He goes and leaves his trustworthy (what Pardon me while I think in my humble office maybe he sole charge of his ...tish)... well, this here thing anyway. So we then proceed to turn out the paper. Maybe we should have waited until he had gone first. With our one finger, the only contact one, that we have left after we had shaken hands with so great a man (you can pay us later George) we sit down and peck out a few notes that somehow got into our forged-up craniums.

Then, with hands shaking and knees quavering at having such an honor as this bestowed upon us we suddenly jump out of the chair, (it might have been because of the electric wire we found under the chair a little later. Wonderful guy that Mr. Carver isn't he) put on our hat and go for a stroll. Its a great thrill to breathe air, plain air at that. He left me the key to our shackles when he left us. Either that or he had a hole in his pocket. Meeting the postmaster on the street we suddenly chanced upon an old friend of ours, namely "Joe Klondyke" who is no relation to the great Mike. We doubt if he even has any relations. It seems that some two-bit meathead in a side show for some foolish reason that came to his head said pronto and there he was.

Joe is one of the worlds greatest pakkers. One almost has to bury himself in six feet of cement and fall into the bottom of the Dead Sea to get away from him. Sometimes we wish that someone would put a pillow to him. Rats the earplugs please. We can hear him better that way.

Ah. Something just hit us. No! It was not Carver. It was just one of those lightning fast brain waives that stuns us at times. The thought struck us to the effect that we should write would suddenly brake him by letting go a barrage of four recently acquired vocabulary. Carver lets us read once in a while.

"Good morning Joe. How are things with you?" Joe then opened his mouth and out came to our astonishment just one word, "Fine." Then he yelled again and out came another befallen this queer specimen. "Being anything these days Joe?" The answer was with a short sharp "Nope, just a match." After this strange phenomenon we decided to reverse our tactics. This was an opportune time to let loose with a blaze of intelligence. (sigh). Say Joe, We've noticed lately that lacrosse sticks are being put into use around Belleville. Boy that's a true Canadian game if we ever saw one. Surely we really have some real encouragement so that it could take a prominent place in Belleville's sport agenda. That game has a reputation for being as rough if not rougher than any game played but with proper instruction and training it can be an excellent and beautiful game. Say do you think you are lucky enough to have a lacrosse stick or can get hold of.as idle one he should go and buy Dewp Eaton, one of the best pitchers a YMCA could ever hope to have, don't you think so Joe?" Yep.

Leads we were nearly at our wits end trying to make this guy talk. We always did want to hear someone else after having to listen to you know who all the time.

Well we attempted another try at it. This one should do it. "Say Joe, old bean, old sock, old pal, did you know that Belleville Intermediate will be meeting in the YMCA floor, the pupils of Belleville's Public Schools, for the free "Learn to swim campaign" which is being operated by the physical department of the Y during Easter week. All public school children now have the opportunity of learning the basic strokes of the essential art. Application forms have been distributed to the schools and the returns are now coming in fast and furious-ly. We hope that the parents are encouraging their children to avail themselves of this excellent opportunity to learn to swim." Whew. Oh no. We're not stepping out. We've gone this far without an interruption so we will continue. "Did you know Joe that the Junior high members of the Y are forming some health classes between themselves. That is real sport for these young fellas. They are even going to have the floodlights at the Memorial Arena turned on for them. Gosh, isn't it cumpth, huh?" Then it came. With one whole breath he said, and we quote, "yep."

This seemed to be completely futile so we figured the only way to fathom this catastrophe was to come right out and ask him why he spared the lingo. Ah. Success. We were about to find the truth of this mystery. "Well, you see I like thith. If you got no thooth you don't walk. Well I got no teeth the I can't talk. Ith juth impothible. The other day thome thmart alec athked me to that whether or not I had thatty thoop and thoda bithcuith for thupper and my teeth flew out and went down the thewer."

After this great thoda bithcuit, (pardon us) soda biscuit oratory we decided that our only ultimatum was to rush back to the office, get a new supply of bread and water and shackle ourselves to the wall so that dear Uncle G. could not be suspicious of us when he reads his comics (opps pardon us, we mean sport page. Or do we?) on Monday.

Robinson Given Fine Ovation In Atlanta

Atlanta, Ga., April 9. (AP)—It was strange to hear Jackie Robinson say "I wouldn't change shoes with any man in the world."

But stranger still was the tremendous ovation given to the star Negro second baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers by the white fans of Atlanta when he stepped up to the plate for the first time in Friday night's game between the Dodgers and the crackers of Atlanta.

To be sure, there was some spotty booing at first But they were quickly drowned out by cheers from the majority of some 15,000 fans who came out to watch the first Negro ever to play here with a white against another white team.

Just to show they were sincere in their welcome, thousands stood up and applauded as the man Robinson responded by slapping a single over the baseman's head.

This from the fans of Atlanta, the home of the Ku Klux Klan and the core of southern segregation

"Believe me," Robinson said before the game, "this is the most thrilling experience of my life. It's the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me. It's great to feel that I am playing a part in breaking down the barriers against the people of my race. I was afraid it would never be in my lifetime."

Peterborough Legion Team Defeats Sarnia

Lindsay, April 9 — (CP) — Peterborough Friday night breezed to an 8-3 victory over Sarnia in the first game of their two-game, total-goals Ontario Hockey Association senior B final series.

Peterborough scored five times in the first period, three times in the second and once in the final frame. Sarnia scored one goal in each of the three periods.

B. Greenlaw paced the Peterborough attack with four goals. Parnell scored twice while their other goals were counted by T. Greenlaw and Crowley.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Lindsay, April 8 — (CP) — A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Henry Edwards, at Haliburton, found that the 48-year-old Ansley lumberman was accidentally killed by a jammer pole falling back and crushing him against the fuel tank of the bulldozer he was operating. Cause of death was due to severing of the spinal cord at the top of the neck.

Lumley Could Not Reach Shot That Won Game

Detroit, April 9 — (CP) — "I waved at it but couldn't get to it."

That was the comment of Detroit goalie Harry Lumley as he slumped onto a dressing room bench Friday night after Joe Klukay's overtime shot gave the Toronto Maple Leafs a 3-2 victory in the first game of the Stanley Cup hockey finals.

Lumley didn't have any alibis. He simply couldn't reach Klukay's climatic shot that streaked high past him to break up the 3-hour struggle.

The Red Wings were a droopy lot in the dressing room, but coach Tommy Ivan wouldn't admit they looked tired on the ice.

"We played hard and stayed right with them," little Tommy insisted. "Particularly in the 3rd period when we came from behind to tie the score.

Ivan was referring to pre-series talk that centred around the possibility Detroit might have been worn down in its seven-game series with Montreal for a quick kill by the fresh Maple Leafs.

Ivan wasn't sure whether sturdy Gordie Howe, Detroit's iron-man forward who tookstums with every Red Wing line Friday night, would be able to go into the second game of the series Sunday.

He hurt his left thumb in the third period and could hardly hold his stick late in the game. He was used sparingly toward the last.

Ivan said Howe saw extra service because he was assigned to guard Harry Watson and Watson was out there every time he looked around.

The scene was more jubilant in the Toronto quarters, where coach Hap Day said he was "positive the week of rest helped us."

"I thought we looked much fresher than Detroit and we missed plenty of chances to win it in regulation time," Day said. "But we did they."

The Leafs were concerned about Sid Smith, who was struck in the nose late in the game. How seriously he was hurt won't be known until later.

Albert College in COSSA Finals Defeating Petes; Napanee Girls Also Win

Toronto, April 9 (CP)—Eight teams battled it out Friday night in the opening games of the Central Ontario Secondary School Association girls' basketball meet. Play continues today in the final series.

In the senior event, Owen Sound defeated a scrappy St. Catharines squad 35-18; Haileybury's Albert College (Belleville) Petes Peterborough 21-19 in the other game.

Today Georgian Bay and Napanee will clash for the junior title and Owen Sound will meet Albert College in the senior final.

The Georgian Bay team was replaced by a 17-point splurge by tall Marion Ladouceur as the squad overcame a 23-12 score at half time.

Carol Dean followed up for the winners with eight points while Helen Lewis garnered five points and Lorraine Watson amped two points.

Julia Anzik was unable to lead her team to victory although she came up with 18 points to take scoring honors of the night. In the third period Julia was "red hot" in time and again but each time she scored the Georgian Bay crew would drive back.

Win in Last Quarter

Napanee drove from behind in the last quarter and Helen Lee and Nona McConnell with less than a minute remaining in the game gave Napanee the decision. Only fine defensive work by the winners kept the Peterborough squad from scoring.

Nona chalked up 15 points. Betty Murphy and Sylvia Dale got five and four points respectively.

Mary Craw notched 11 points for Peterborough with Bonnie Howson getting seven and Dorothy Pentall and Lois Hutchinson two points apiece.

In the senior tilt, Owen Sound seniors had little trouble disposing of St. Catharines. They held a 14-6 edge at the half and led 23-13 at the end of the third quarter.

Little June Scott notched 10 points to lead her team to victory. Shirley Reid followed up with nine while Jean Mackenzie got four, Betty Hutchinson and Kay Schenk each garnered six for St. Catharines. Helen Wanclik and Phyllis Honsberger scored four and three points respectively.

In the senior semi-finals, Peterborough went down to defeat when Nancy Dyer scored a basket in the last 23 seconds.

Rachel Craw was the big gun for the winners hooping seven baskets for 14 points. Madelyn Webster came next with four points and Percy Dyer followed with three.

Lineups:

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Augusta, Ga., April 9 — (AP)—The scoreboard at the Masters golf tournament distinguishes between amateurs and professionals this year for the first time ever.

This year the amateur designation is of considerable interest because the 1949 Walker Cup team likely will be named soon after the Masters and the boys figure their chances will be materially affected by their showing here.

Right now things look good for Frank Stranahan, Skee Riegel, Charley Coe and John Dawson and there's considerable doubt about the status of Dick Chapman . . . Stranahan, despite a painfull 77 yesterday, leads the amateur entry with a half way through the tournament . . . Coe, who hasn't been on the team before, shot a par 72 to tie Riegel at 148 and Dawson has 150 . . .

Riddle Dean

Two noticeable members of the younger generation in the tournament gallery are Fred Haas' little daughter and Dick Chapman's slightly larger son . . . Miss Haas was heard yesterday demanding that her daddy shoot eight strokes and nine birdies for her benefit . . . The Chapman lad, screwball since practical, "Come on, Dad, get this over so we can go practice." Dick needed it.

Wrong Number

Freddie Corcoran reports that the other day a fight fan asked Jack Sharkey whether he thought Jack Dempsey or Joe Louis a greater fighter . . . Sharkey replied: "Put them in a telephone booth and Dempsey would come out."

Soccer Notes

By DOUG EATON

With the advent of the Spring weather Belleville citizens will soon have the opportunity of seeing its soccer enthusiasts hard at work preparing themselves for the coming season. Word has it that the northern club has called a practice for Saturday afternoon at Queen Mary School grounds. Also, Belleville United will commence operations on the Bata field on the same afternoon. No word has been received from the other clubs but there is little doubt that they will also be donning their togs for a workout. Soccer will soon be a reality in Belleville and its citizens know it.

The Bata club held a very successful dance at the recreation hall at Batawa last Thursday evening with a maximum crowd in attendance. The committee under the direction of Art Duncan are to be congratulated for their fine showing. Elsie the Cow was present to add zest to the evening. All members of the soccer club were present to lend a hand in keeping things moving. It seems as if soccer is really taking a hold in Batawa. Belleville Clubs should take notice that the Bata club is really rolling.

Belleville United held a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening. At this meeting John Gee and George Rudd were elected club representatives to the league executive. The Belleville club will hold another meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening next to which all interested persons are invited to attend.

The league executive has had word from Rod Pertlon and Don Parnell, both of the R.C.A.F., that they are more than willing to assist the league by way of refereeing. These two men have had considerable experience in this line and their offer is most acceptable.

All clubs are reminded that copies of the league constitution are now available from the league secretary Doug Eaton at the C.I.L.

Word has been received that a soccer film is now available at the film library in Belleville. This film is entitled "The Great Game" and consists mainly of a championship game played before the King and Queen. Clubs would be well advised to have a showing. It would fit in well with a club meeting as it takes but 25 minutes for a complete showing.

Schools for Coaches Proposed At Annual O.B.A. Meeting

Peterborough, Ont., April 9 — (CP) — A three-fold basketball educational program for handling large-scale basketball clinics in Ontario was announced today at the 32nd annual convention of the Ontario Basketball Association.

The program, beginning about mid-May, will include a school for baseball coaches, managers and officials, a baseball educational school or clinic held both in Toronto and in several other Ontario centres, and late in the season a series of exhibition games between teams chosen from among the school's graduates.

The program will extend over most of the summer and will be sponsored by the Toronto Maple Leaf baseball club, the Philadelphia Phillies and a Toronto newspaper (the Telegram).

Garnet Frankland, president of the Toronto Baseball Association, told the convention that it's the greatest break for amateur baseball in years."

"This program of minor baseball development and the longfelt need of professional coaching for our leaders and makes available the opportunity of baseball improvement for our young fads."

Begin in May

The six-weeks school for coaches, managers and officials will begin the series, about May 14. It will be held at Toronto's Maple Leaf Stadium under the direction of manager Del Bissonette and members of the Toronto baseball club.

The second item, for two weeks in July, will be the baseball educational school with coaching personnel provided by the Toronto and Philadelphia professional baseball organizations. The first week's activities will be centred in Toronto and during the second week clinics will travel throughout the province with scheduled stops at St. Catharines or Niagara Falls in the Niagara district, Galt or Kitchener for the inter-county league area, at London for the western counties, Barrie for the Georgian Bay and Muskoka district and Peterborough or Belleville for Eastern Ontario.

Special Saturday afternoon games between teams of selected players will wind up each week's activity. The final Saturday game will be played in Toronto for the two Peter G. Campbell trophies donated by the Telegram.

Mr. Ziegler, in a letter read to the convention, said "it is the intent of the Toronto Maple Leaf baseball club to lend its support and weight in the promotion of all activities that will benefit the youth of Ontario."

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By FRANK KAPLAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, April 9 — (CP) — Detroit Red Wings battled through 60 games of the National Hockey League schedule to win the league championship handily. And whom did they meet last night in the first game of the Stanley Cup finals — Toronto Maple Leafs, the fourth place team on the season's play.

The Wings battered their heads against a stubborn Montreal club, third-placers, before even getting the privilege of a crack at the cup, while Toronto had comparatively easy going against the second-place Boston club.

As Ivan (Hamilton Spectator) Miller describes the playoff system: "The present set-up permits a club to stagger home a poor fourth in the schedule, secure an advantageous break in the playoffs, and then get a crack at a club in the final, that has proved infinitely superior during the entire season."

The Present Playoff System

"The cup playoffs were originated at a time when the clubs needed the dough . . . that's however, was a long time ago, and now there is no such need."

His suggestion: Have the two top clubs of the regular schedule battle it out for the Stanley Cup in a single series.

Doubts Revision

As the present system works out, Miller adds, "the fresher and well-rested Toronto team will end up with the Stanley Cup.

He figures his idea is just wishful thinking. "Hockey magnates are tradition bound to the game with rule changes, and having built it into a top money - maker, will undoubtedly have no part of a revised program that would reduce profits."

Toronto Marlies Win in Overtime From Millionaires

Toronto, April 9 (CP)—Lucky or not, Toronto Marlboros were good enough to win the same hockey game twice—that's the reason the Maple Leaf farm hands are working next week for the championship in the eastern Canada senior hockey final.

The all-Ontario champions won their bitth by slapping down Sydney Millionaires, Eastern titlists not once, but twice. They seemed to have the game safely clinched along with a 3-0 lead in the third period. Then the roof fell in and the Marlboros had to come from behind for a 5-4 triumph in overtime.

The victory spoiled a Sydney comeback—four goals in six minutes—that had the crowd of 5,500 shaking Maple Leaf Garden's rafters with cheers for the underdogs.

It gave Marlboros the best- of-five eastern Canada semi-final 3-1 games, with one game tied. A Sydney victory— and the Cape Breton Islanders came within 45 seconds of doing it in regulation time—would have forced an extra game.

McCormack Scores Winner

Centre Johnny McCormack's goal at 6:15 of the 10 minute overtime period was the result of a missed several set up chances— finally on the Millionaires.

Marlboros now meet either Sherbrooke or Ottawa Senators for the right to play the western Canada champions for the Allan Cup. The Senators lead the best of seven Quebec final 2-1 in games with Sherbrooke Cubs, who meet Sherbrooke tonight and again tomorrow night.

Marlboros' hard-lying goal was the second of the night for the veteran defence ace. The other was registered by Ken Kerr. Goalies Gaetan Mahoney and Alec Stankukow screen, then rallied himself on a pretty play after a pass out from behind the net.

The way the Millionaires lost out—and was the result of their play through the series. Hard skaters and clever stick handlers, the territorial edge on play over Marlboros but looked like loggerheads when it came to getting the puck in the net with the numerous chances they had.

2,000 Bags of Onions Frozen Solid

Toronto, April 8 — (CP)—Two thousand bags of Egyptian onions figured in a damage action settled in the courts here Thursday.

William D. Branston, Toronto importer, paid $2,000 as settlement to A. J. Wilmstein and Co., of New York, for failure to deliver the onions, for sold to the New York company.

FIVE MEN KILLED

Wellsville, N.Y., April 7 (AP)—Five men were killed early today when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into a tree after side-swiping another car.

The victims, several of whom are to be telephone linemen, were Donald Norton, 24, John O'Connell, 24, Kenneth Colligan, 25, all of Wellsville and William Schaefer of Buffalo.

Keiser, Mangrum Tied For Lead At Halfway Mark

(By The Canadian Press)

Herman Keiser, who putted his way into the 1946 Masters Golf title, hit another fine round today and went into a tie with Lloyd Mangrum for the lead in the 1949 Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga.

At the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament, Keiser and Mangrum each had totals of 145, one stroke under par. Keiser shot a second round of four under par 68 to go with his first round 73. Mangrum, the first day leader at 69, fired a 76 for his second round.

One stroke behind them came Johnny Palmer, Badin, N.C., who had 73-72—146.

At New York, Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said Friday he had received a telegram from Ray Robinson in which the welterweight champion said he signed to defend his title for the tournament of champions.

Harry Markson, general manager of the 10th Avenue Sporting Club, said that if Robinson had signed with the rival C. C. organization he would file suit against the welterweight king. The 20th claims Robinson signed an exclusive five-year contract with it in 1945.

At Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sal Maglie, former New York Giants pitcher, said Friday night he has signed with Drummondville in the Canadian Provincial Baseball League. Maglie is under suspension from organized ball for his part in the 1946 exodus to the Mexican league.

Vince Foster, welterweight contender from Nebraska, was awarded an unpopular split decision over Chuck Taylor, ex-coal miner of Coalport, Pa., in a bloody 10-round battle in the Chicago Stadium Friday night. Referee Johnny Behr voted for the surprising Taylor, while the judges gave the honors to Foster by a slight margin.

Who says they never come back?

Ball Would Live With or Without Reserve Clause

By TED SMITS

New York, April 9 — (AP) — What is going to happen if the courts knock baseball's reserve clause into a cocked hat?

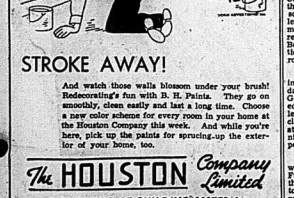
"There would be chaos at first" said a high baseball executive. "Salaries would be cut. The minor leagues would be hardest hit, perhaps mostly wiped out.

"There would be an adjustment to new conditions," said Frederic A. Johnson, counsel for Danny Gardella.

One way out would be for Congress to pass the bill introduced Tuesday legalizing the reserve clause. But before baseball could bank on this the supreme court would need to uphold it, and Johnson for one thinks such a law is unconstitutional."

If the courts get tough, and laws fail, there would be nothing to prevent the Pacific Coast League declaring its independence, luring big league stars to the west, and setting up a third major league.

Baseball men on the inside think this is the real threat if the reserve clause goes.



Others foresee a scramble by the rich major-league clubs to corral and tie up big name players.

The reserve clause that now looms so large is a promise to which every professional ball player has agreed each spring for the last 60 years. It binds him to sign with the same club next year, and so on indefinitely. It permits players to be sold, traded, or released at will.

Gardella, a former New York Giants outfielder banned for playing in the Mexican League in 1946, started the furor with a $300,000 suit under the anti-trust law.

Right now there is a flurry of legal activity within baseball. The United States Court of Appeals has cleared the way for trial of Gardella's suit. Mexico City has filed a $4,000,000 anti-trust injunction to let them referee baseball games if they could get jobs. They were turned down, and have appealed the ruling.

Congress will hold hearings April 14 on the bill to legalize baseball's status. These are preliminary skirmishes. The real test will come when the Gardella suit comes to trial, which in the normal course of events would not be before next year.

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

The difference between a small and a grand slam may hand by a thread. It safety usually depends on a successful finesse. So, if there is a king missing, should grand slam be tried?

You find many players who consider it wise to gamble for grand slam. If they lose, they will tell you it means only a few points. They fail to take into account the small slam points they gave up.

Work on this pair of partnership hands:

SOUTH
♠Q J 10 9 8 7
♥A 6 3
♦A K 9 4
♣None

NORTH
♥K Q 9 4
♦Q 6 5 3
♣K 4 3

The bidding went like this:

South	North
1 S	3 S
4 NT	5 S
6 S	Pass

Immediate jump assist in a major promises five tricks with two aces. Adequate support is also promised, of course. With a count of seven, you could add up to 12 tricks.

In answer to four no-trump, five spades is Kibitzer convention signal for showing one ace and two kings. A king is missing in their pair. It may not be the trump king or the heart king.

Even if the trump king was missing, grand slam might make. Why? West may have it and if north has the ace, a finesse will capture the king. At least, it is something to consider.

However, there is also the possibility that north has the king of trumps. If so, his ace may be his clubs. With such doubts would you have chanced a grand slam on this reckoning?

Consider another thing. When slam is bid there is more danger of finding unbalanced distribution. Even if there is no fear of the high trumps, there is still a bad split to take into consideration.

BANDITS ADMIT ARMED ROBBERY

Montreal, April 3 — (CP)—Toronto's Mutt and Jeff bandits pleaded guilty in criminal court Thursday to four charges of armed robbery and were remanded for sentence until April 22. They were identified as Hubert Ralph Payne, 23, six-foot-two and Joseph Ivan Ih, 25, who stands five-feet, four inches.

AT THE CAPITOL — Exciting adventures are shared by Randolph Scott and Helen Mack...co-featured with Helen Gahagan and Nigel Bruce in H. Rider Haggard's "She," which is co-billed with the spectacular "The Last Days of Pompeii," both Merian C. Cooper productions, released by RKO Radio, and opening today at the Capitol Theatre. Matinee daily at 2:30 p.m.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle:

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma's patience got exhawsted on account of me being late for supper again, and she hald to pop. Now really, William, I mean seriously, this is serious. We've warned him repeetedly but we might as well talk to the herds of the air. We'll have to take measures into our own hands, she said.

I agree with you, my dear, pop said. We'll have to deel with him as every other spoyehended lawbreaker is delt with. We'll have to punish him, he said.

Me thinking, Heck, and me said, P. Willie Hinkle had a very intristing article on disobedience in children in his column yesterday. He takes the point of view that if a child is permitted to choose his own punishment, it will give him a sense of cooperation equality and safeguard him from a false weeling of injustice or persecution, sometimes even ending in an inferiority complex, she said.

Yee gods, we cant have any of that around here, pop said. Benny what do you consider a fitting punishment for your confounded habit of being perpetually late for meals? he said, and I said, Well, pop, I'd like to make me take a dutch a steaming scalding hot bath, that I'd stay red for a week.

Oh my goodnes, ma said, and pop said, For Pete sake nobody and we wanted to boil you in oil.

Well then how about taking me to the movies rite after supper and just letting me sit between you without either of you saying a single werd to me during the whole picture, so I'd feel so miserable in my conscience that the whole show would probably be wasted on me and I'd just keep wishing I was home in bed where I awt to be anyways, I said.

The result being they made up their own punishment, being to make me eat a 2nd helping of splimich, and only one helping of dizzels.

Weekly Livestock Review

Toronto, April 8 (CP)—The Toronto livestock market this week slipped a bit. The fair run of 5,320 head sold generally 25-50 cents lower. Fed calves lost 51 and hogs dropped 50 cents. Good calves, sheep and lambs were steady.

A heavy run Monday formed the bulk of receipts and for the rest of the week supplies coming into the market were only moderate. Some heavy steers were carried over to next week's trading.

Choicy weighty steers sold at $23-$23.50. Good weighty steers $20.50-$21.50 and good heifers sold at $20-$20.50. Plain light steers and heifers sold as low as $17. Fed yearlings were $22-$23.50 for choice with mediums downward to $19. Good cows brought $16-$16.50 with, canners and cutters from $10-$13. Bulls ranged in price from $16-$18.50. Stockers were firm at $18.50-$20 for medium to good quality. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $150-$190 each. Stock cows were $14-$16 a hundredweight.

Calves totalled 1,492 head. Good to choice vealers sold at $27-$29 a hundredweight with plain to medium light vealers from $16-$25. Thin grades of calves sold for slaughter at $13-$15.

Hogs were 5,611 head. Prices dropped 50 cents a hundredweight at mid-week after being unsettled at the opening. Grade A dressed sold at $21.50 with grade B1 at $30.85. Sows were unchanged at $24 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were only 399 head. Good feedlot lambs from Ontario points sold at $26-$26.50 with mediums at $24-$25. The few sheep offered sold steady, at $5-$11, according to quality.

Betty Ritchie Says Dennis Gave Her Mink Coat

Santa Monica, April 9 (AP) — Betty Ritchie, pretty sweetheart of Gerard Dennis, 24, accused safety burglar, told in court Friday how she got a $3,500 mink coat.

She is charged with receiving it as stolen property.

Miss Ritchie testified she was confused when she told officers she raided her Beverly Hills apartment on Feb. 16 she had brought the coat with her from Canada.

The 24-year-old former Toronto school teacher said it was a black persian lamb coat she brought from the Dominion, not the pert-tailored mink.

She said, "Gerry gave it (the mink) to me last November. Dennis told her he bought it second hand when she asked him why it had no label, she added.

In addition to the mink, claimed by Mrs. Waite Phillips, wife of an oil magnate, officers found more than $50,000 in a locked closet in Miss Ritchie's apartment. She testified she didn't know what was in the closet.

She told Deputy District Attorney Mervin Aggler that met Dennis in a Hollywood dance hall in January, 1948, and they lived as man and wife after May, 1948.

The trial was recessed until Monday when the case will go to the jury of nine women and three men.

Four Candidates Certain to Enter Leadership Race

Toronto, April 9 (CP)—At least four candidates appear certain to enter the race for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario.

The closing day of the spring session of the Ontario legislature brought an announcement by Education Minister Porter that he would run and Provincial Treasurer Frost said he was giving the matter "serious consideration."

Two other candidates have already declared themselves — Attorney-General Blackwell and Kelso Roberts, Toronto lawyer and former member of the legislature. Mr. Frost said he would make an announcement "in a few days."

The convention meets here April 25-27. It was called to select a permanent leader to succeed George Drew who resigned after his election as National leader last fall. Hon. T. L. Kennedy took the provincial leadership and served as premier on a temporary basis pending the convention.

There was speculation in political circles Friday that the new premier may call a fall session of the legislature and that there may be a cabinet shuffle to bring W. S. Gemmell, member of the nickel-mining constituency of Sudbury, into the cabinet as Minister of Mines. The portfolio now is held by Mr. Frost.

COMMUNISTS DENOUNCED

Sydney, Australia, April 9 (Reuters)—Robert Menzies, federal opposition leader, denounced communists as "miserable cure" at a stormy meeting here Two arrests were made during the meeting, which was part of the former Australian prime minister's country-wide campaign as a preliminary to the general election towards the end of this year.

Music Company, Daily Newspaper Fined in Court

Sarnia, April 9 (CP)— The Weir Music and Home Supply and a daily newspaper, the Sarnia Canadian Observer, each was fined $23 and costs Friday after pleading guilty to lottery charges.

Weir Music was charged with conducting a scheme for disposal of radios by lot. This, the charge said, was through an advertisement in the Canadian Observer March 8 which stipulated that radios purchased in a limited time would be placed in a container. The customer who drew the right number at the end of the week was to receive the radio he bought free of charge.

Magistrate C. S. Woodrow criticized the criminal code, under which the charge was laid.

He said the advertisement was "a scheme to increase sales of a legal commodity. Personally, I think it is a great pity the law stands as it is." He deemed it unfair that lotteries were allowed in certain instances and not in others.

"Laws should either be enforced or thrown out," the magistrate said. The action in laying the information for the prosecution appeared to be by "someone else selling radios who didn't like it."

Conservative Leaves Govt. In Manitoba

(By The Canadian Press)

Manitoba's coalition government has lost another member, its third since the start of the present session of the legislature.

G. S. Thorvaldson (PC—Winnipeg) yesterday announced his withdrawal from the government caucus, because of "strong personal convictions." He said the government had failed to deal with the marketing of coarse grains as a matter of government policy.

Edmond Prefontaine (L — Carillon) and Dr. J. S. Poole (PC — Beautiful Plain) withdrew earlier from the coalition government. The coalition now claims support of 41 members in the 55-seat House.

Budget debate in the New Brunswick legislature ended yesterday with Premier J. B. McNair, a Liberal, attacking the "provincial rights" stand of George Nowlan, National Progressive Conservative leader. Mr. McNair said he feared some of the doctrines advocated by Mr. Drew might lead to discord and division. The legislature adopted the budget.

The Nova Scotia Legislature debated in a committee a bill to restrict use of white canes to blind persons but did not reach a decision. Fifty-six bills were given royal assent by Lieutenant-Governor J. A. D. McCurdy.

After sitting since Feb. 10, the Ontario Legislature ended its 1949 session. What had been expected to be a short, quiet session developed into a long and noisy affair which saw passage of 142 bills, a record number.

Laundry clerk Jessie Esquibel of Los Angeles, Calif., closed her eyes tightly, counted five and opened them again. Yes, it was no mirage. It was still there, a little dog had materialized out of a bundle of soiled linen sent to the laundry. The pup was promptly christened "Suds." He came with the bundle of Mrs. Ella Williams, who will pick up "Suds" when her laundry is ready.—Central Press Canadian.

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

Before she put the leash on Sandy, she looked around the room where Chris lived, where he read, smoked his pipe, and dreamed his dreams. There was a photograph of a pretty girl on his cluttered desk autographed, "Yours, Marion." Gay felt suddenly jealous of the girl. But who was Chris, after all, except a lean, good-looking young man who said true biting things one minute and the next said something so kind the bitter truth was less stinging?

The room represented all that Chris Mallory was — substantial and dependable and amusing, a boy who had worked and fought. It hurt her that he had had to work so hard. Dear Chris, who had been there today, Chris who had been there when the world was spinning before her burning eyes, who had said, "Don't let them know what it's costing you." No empty advice—that. It had come from the depths of his own grim experience.

On the street Macduff and Sandy trotted along on their short legs, smelled the brisling air, barked, and sniffed curiously at passing pedestrians.

Diana had a job as hostess in a tea room! How her governesses and the maid would scold to hear of their rigid training being utilized in a tea room! "You have initiative and adventure ahead." Ah had said. But what did Diana have ahead? There was no romance and adventure for her.

Chris was in when she got back. He pulled Sandy's and Macduff's cold noses and gave them the cuffing both enjoyed.

Gay stood in the doorway. Her head ached a little. "Lucia was going to marry Alan . . . Lucia was wearing her emerald . . . But somehow to be with Chris relieved the dragging misery of her feelings. To be with Chris made her even a little happy.

She smiled. "We're always exchanging favors. For taking Sandy out now and then, will you do something for me?"

"What is it now?" Chris asked. "Make it easy."

"I want you to take me to Lucia Bardin's dance Saturday night." Her eyes implored him. "Chris, I've got to go! I've got to show I'm not whipped."

"Will Alan be there?"

"Lucia is going to marry him," said Gay.

"You're a game girl to take it like that, game than I thought. I can't go, though" he said, smiling. "I've never worn full dress in my life. I'd feel like a fool."

"Won't you feel like a fool one evening so that Sandy can go out more frequently?"

"There you have me," said Chris. "You win. I'll hire a full dress suit either you or your mother will have to put the studs in and I'll feel so devilishly awkward I'll have no appetite for supper and forget how to dance." He looked around, smelling the aroma of baking biscuits that seeped in from next door.

"Come and have dinner with us," said Gay, "and Mother and I will try to polish your manners."

At the table, Diana looked at them. Chris ate hungrily. Gay's cool eyes took swift shy flights to his face. And for the first time laughter came from the little flint stirred by Chris' charming frankness. But Gay still hoped that tomorrow would never come, bringing with it Marion Marchand, Alan's hostile models, Lucia's dance, and Alan . . . Saturday night . . .

Antagonism faced Gay at every turn in the Marchand shop. The fitter grumbled, the other models excluded her from their intimate conversations and reasons for laughter, . . . the sales people were rude, and whenever she saw Marchand, his thin lips twitched in a smile of triumph.

In the mornings she felt weak, knowing she had to go to the store. She played with erbh store. She played with her breakfast, and Chris looked at her with her utter misery. There were times when she felt that her self-discipline was futile and she thought of accepting Lucia's offer to come back. But the more odious specific girls earned their "keep" by going from one house party to another to attract eligible men to homes where the daughters were plain.

But she could not give up, and in the back of her mind she knew she could not bear Chris Mallory's contempt.

The other models were cruelly sarcastic. Nita, the tall brunette, said that Gay was glad to get rid of her husband and that her mother? Isn't she the one who's going to marry Alan Biggs? Ho! Seems I can't keep up on my society, - but I could go for Dan Biggs man myself. Love 'em and leave 'em, that's the motto.

At home that night Diana said, "The tea room isn't bad, Gay. I meet the people who come in and ask them if they enjoyed their food, and I've been initiated into little place in a basement. I look for certain people. A boy and girl who come in often, and I believe each other very much. There is a man who comes in with his incorrigible her children are. And there's a man . . ."

Gay finished her napkin. "And you take their problems all to Mother?" she said.

Diana piled the dishes and salad-slipping an apron over her head, disappeared behind a door. "It has an interesting face." She looked around, smiling. "I haven't even any of my former friends. The place doesn't cater to the elite — but to people. "I'm not complaining, darling. You never complain. And Patti is just as sweet and protected."

Penny wanted to talk about Mac Bolton.

Gay asked, "But aren't you afraid for him? An aviator's life is so perilous." She smiled across the little studio. "I noticed that he was very good-looking."

"I love him," Penny said simply. "He's everything to me. When he isn't with me. I always think of him in the sky, flying like a strong sure bird. Oh, he's marvelous with a plane and very daring." Her lovely voice broke. "Then he comes back to me, the strong sure bird, winging his way home. Mac and my drawing of those two things are my life. They're all I want. They're my world." She smiled. "I guess I'm funny that way."

Gay's expressive dark brows came together.

"I'm learning things, Penny. I'm learning values. Your kind of love is something new to me. With most of the girls I've known love isn't enough. It's only a side issue."

Penny clasped her talented fingers and said sadly, "There's something I haven't told you. You see, Mac really doesn't love me. He's fond of me, that's all. There are other girls for him, glamorous exciting girls who love his good looks and his daring. I'm only a cute lamb to Mac."

"But one of these days Mac is going to fly home to you to stay and to be faithful," Gay said, her blue eyes serious. "Your kind of love, Penny, makes me think that I and my whole life and my friends are tawdry and sordid."

Gay wore a shimmering gold dress on Saturday night and her bright curls seemed almost aflame. That afternoon Chris had sent orchids with a card enclosed:

"This is the first time in my life I ever tried to keep up with the Joneses."

"You look very lovely," said Diana when Gay came into the living room with a black velvet wrap with an ermine collar over her arm. Diana, weary of standing, wore soft boudoir slippers and her small feet were resting on a footstool. "When Alan sees you, dear, Lucia's money won't seem half so alluring as my Gay. Don't miss anything. I want to know everything."

"Are you sure you won't go? You're invited."

"The tea room hostess is much too tired for dancing."

Chris knocked and came in wearing his first full dress suit fit.

"How do I look?" he asked. "I feel stuffed. How do guys get into these things every night?"

Gay asked cheerfully, "You're not going to wear that terrible looking hat, Chris?"

"It's the only one I have. I'll park it and no one will see it." He turned to Diana. "May Sandy spent the night with you?" he asked. The Scottie was frisking at his feet as he spoke.

"Of course, Chris. Sandy and Macduff are fine friends now and won't be any trouble."

Chris looked at Gay, standing by the table. So much seemed loveliness, he thought, but not for him. The gold dress and her hair were aglean. He thought. "She is rather like a princess, and I, a nobody. Gay, her Princess and pauper. I haven't looked at another girl since I've known her. She comes between me and everything I do, and everywhere I go I find myself looking for her."

"I'm ready," said Gay.

Ready! Ready for more humiliation, she thought. Ready to see Alan look at Lucia as he used to look at her. Alan . . .

In the cab, with his old brown hat pulled over one eye, Chris said, to take that strained look from her face, "I've got a first newspaper rep. do."

"What's it about?" And she knew he was making conversation to take that bleak look from her eyes.

"It's about you."

"About me?" She gave a short, broken laugh. "Oh, about a girl turned out into the cold cruel world, slightly the worse for wear by she put her white gloved hand over his. "How does it end, Chris? What happens to her?"

He looked at her some time before he spoke. His mouth twisted into a wry smile.

"Oh," he said finally, shrugging, "it ends sensibly. A miracle happens and she gets back the man and the money."

"You want it to end that way?"

"Sure! Why not? That's the way you want it to end."

"I guess . . . I do. But I'll be waiting for the miracle to happen. Don't put it away and forget it, Chris. It'll be a good play. So much realism."

"It isn't," he said, frowning, "a good play at all. It's rotten, if you ask me."

"Here we are."

"Keep your chin up," said Chris, "and look for me if I get lost. I've had to do big places to wander around in."

"I appreciate your coming with me."

"Forget it." He grinned. "Do I look okay?"

Gay smiled. "Okay, Chris."

Lucia Baring gave parties on a magnificent scale. In the great ballroom, a panorama of moving colors, were the debutantes. At the bar and in the cocktail room the bartenders were busy serving liquor which eager hands took up.

"Looks like a convention," said Chris. "Let's dance."

She put her arm around him and pulled her mouth into a courageous smile that said, "Well, here I am. Look at me. I'm all right with the best friend I ever had. He's a new friend but he'd never let me down."

When she saw Alan over many dancing heads, standing by the big window, her heart gave a queer jerk. She hated her pose for advertising toward him, for loving him still, for wanting him still. "I have tried," she thought, "to walk on my love, to crush it, and kill it. But in my heart I know I am not free of it."

When they were close to Alan, she smiled gaily, proudly.

Alan said, "I'd like to dance with you, Gay."

Gay introduced Alan and Chris. Two worlds meeting, she thought, in that touching of hands. Chris thought, "I thought he'd look like this. He's Gay's kind and he's the kind of chap all women fall in love with. I'm jealous — Jealous as the devil."

"I'll get a drink," Chris said and left them.

The music started again, an old song, a love song. Gay felt Alan take her in his arms, felt the familiarity of his touch and the familiarity of his dancing. But the delights and madness of a few months ago were not to be recaptured in a room with people watching them, she thought, even if they could be recaptured again.

Chris Mallory, with a glass in his hand, saw them pass. They look pretty 'right' together. They belong and I don't. She loves him so much she's blind to everything going on about her. There's only one way I can pay Gay to ed—for her happiness."

He heard a woman next to him say with a derisive laugh, "Did you see Alan and Gay? They're dancing together. Lucia asked her only out of pity. They say she goes nowhere! Of course, I've always thought that Alan loved Gay. Poor Gay. She models clothes and Alan's nose. Gay, I'm sorry about that day. We were both unnerved. Forgive me." He got to see you again. You don't stop loving some one because you've stopped loving yourself.

"I've got no right to see you. No right, Marion, let's go . . ."

"Who parades me about as if I were a prize pony. Let's go somewhere where we can talk."

"People are staring at us, Alan . . ."

"Let them. There's nothing in this room as lovely as you—"

Alan led the way to the library and closed the door. Gay thought, "I'm absolutely mad. What would I want to see me clandestinely, meet me in little restaurants where your friends won't see me, and take love to me in dark corners. I can't do that, Alan! If I marry you, I'll never be poor with me and marry me, I won't cheapen myself."

He drew her close to her.

"You want to see me. You know you still love me. You stopped loving me any more than I've stopped loving you. It's been horrible for you. Everything's gone flat for me. No Gay to laugh with and quarrel with. Gay, I'm sorry. I can't shut it away, Gay. Just see me when you can get out in the country with me. We can talk. And I can look at you."

"Alan, I've got to go. I've lost . . ."

"I've thought of nothing else. Do you think I'm going to let you go for me? I walked into a trap that Lucia set for me."

She lifted her head. "Don't blame Lucia. It's not fair. Alan, you want to have your cake and eat it, too. I'm not good at pretending. I put all of myself, my love into it. Alan, I'm sorry. You're right. I can't shut it away and forget it. But you're wrong in believing you in places where your friends don't go! I hate your friends, at least, let me keep my respect." She moved away and said, "Alan, I'm sorry you must I'd do anything you ask. But don't ask me to arrange secretly."

"You're lovely." He said it again and again. Alan's love song. — "You're lovely. You're lovely."

She smiled. "It's such an old, old story, isn't it? Alan, I'm working girl and the man about town. I'm not the girl people used to and scrape to. I have to bow and scrape to people now! But I'm learning things, nice things. Love have a newer, deeper meaning to me now. It took a little girl you wouldn't notice to see a man who'd seem crude to you to teach me."

"You're the same and I need you."

She blinked back the tears. Oh, to be strong-before the man she loved! To dull her ears to a deep voice that said, "You're lovely" and "I need you."

In two steps she should be in his arms again. But in two steps she'd make herself cheap and never again could she look Chris Mallory in the eyes!

"Let's go, Alan. If Lucia came in, she wouldn't like this. I would not blame her."

That moment the library door was flung open and Lucia, tall and handsome in white satin, came in, her angry eyes flashing first at Gay and then at Alan.

"I thought I'd find you here," she said coldly. She looked at Gay. "This is certainly a splendid example of gratitude. In spite of Mother's protests and everyone who said you were fabulously social, I invited you. Then when my back is turned, you throw yourself at Alan."

"That's not true," said Gay.

Alan said, "Don't make a scene."

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

WINIFRED E. WILSON

MOURNING DOVE

Like a seventeenth century lady the Mourning Dove wears a tiny black face patch. Her dress of shot silk or brocade with a front panel, and red shoes and stockings distinguished in the bird's costume. Most of its plumage is fawnish-grey with a blue cast, but from chin to red legs and feet the feathers are a pale, purplish pink, with an iridescent area on the sides of the neck. A small black mark lies just below and behind the eye, and its mouth is carmine. The head is pale grey; the tail long and graduated with the speed of white trimming up the sides.

In addition to this soft beauty, the Mourning Dove has the attraction of gentle ways and a plaintive, loving call. I've watched for any great fear of man, when on the nest it is quite tame. Too great truthfulness has diminished its exuberance. But in some states where it spends the cold weather it used to be classed as a game bird (probably because of its extraordinary swift flight), and shot as such, until the Migratory Bird Law changed this in 1913.

The foot-long bird is so like a small Passenger Pigeon that it has many times been mistaken for that extinct species. But in some respects they are quite different: the whistling of the Dove's wings as it rises is characteristic; it does not travel in a flock; nor nest in a colony. Soon after arrival in early April, a pair sets up housekeeping often near an apple orchard, though anywhere in the woods will do. A tree, a bush, even the ground may supply the site. The nest is at best a poor, frail affair for the two white eggs. This seems strange, because the Morning Dove makes a careful parent. Perhaps you have seen the mother sitting crosswise on her babies—their heads appearing on one side of her, their tails on the other. She sets the farmer's problems need steeds, discard's grain, and ground insects, and feeds the nestlings by regurgitation. The food, taken from her crop by the young ones, is mixed with a light colored fluid known as "pigeon's milk."

The parents gently and lovingly "coo" to one another and to their children. This mournful "poak, coo, coo, coo", which supplied the name for the species, is far carrying, and has been well described as sounding like someone blowing softly across a bottle top.

Mystery Woman of Spy Case Surrenders

Freda Linton Wed But Police Refuse To Divulge Name

Woman Gave Self up For "Personal Reasons"

Montreal, April 11 (CP) — The "mystery woman" of Canada's latest espionage case, known as Freda Linton but married now and soon to have a baby, surrendered to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Montreal today.

Sought for more than two years, she will be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of conspiring with Fred Rose to contravene the official secrets act.

Police refused to divulge the woman's married name.

She was immediately lodged in cells.

Mr. Cohen, who said he would undertake her defence, just as he defended Fred Rose who was convicted of conspiracy and sentenced to six years in penitentiary, said the woman was surrendering "for personal reasons."

Soon To Be Mother

Later it was indicated the fact she was married and soon to become a mother influenced her decision to surrender.

Her surrender followed by less than a week the appearance in Sam Carr as a king-pin in the alleged espionage ring and his being sentenced to six years in penitentiary.

Miss Linton, who was also known as Lipshitz was said by the Royal Commission to have acted as a contact for the spy network.

She disappeared shortly before probe story broke and had not been heard from since.

Mr. Cohen said he did not know where she had been keeping in the interim.

"I would not tell, anyway, even if I did know as it might harm her defence," he said.

She was the last of 20 persons to be taken into custody in connection with the spy probe.

Sam Carr was the fifth Canadian convicted on charges arising out of the 1946 probe. Nine were acquitted.

Received Phone Call

Inspector Bredin, one of the key officers in the prosecution of Fred Rose, said he had no idea where Miss Linton was or that she intended to surrender until he received a telephone call from Mr. Cohen.

There was absolute disappearance during the time she was wanted made her a "mystery woman," the police said of all sorts of conjecture as to what had happened to her.

The surrender came as a complete surprise to our department" said Insp. Bredin.

From Insp. Brady's office she was sent to Provincial Police cells pending arraignment tomorrow.

100 HOURS REMAIN

Tucson, Ariz., April 11 (AP)—Pilots Dick Riedel and Bill Barris today headed their plane for its starting point, Fullerton, California, with less than 100 hours remaining to break the world endurance flight record of 726 consecutive hours set in 1939.

LABOR RECEIVES STAGGERING BLOW IN ELECTIONS

Leaders Claim Not Enough Time Given to Explain New Budget

London, April 11 — (CP) — Labor leaders said today that had they more time to explain the new budget they might not have lost ground in last week's county elections in England and Wales.

Labor received a staggering blow from the Conservatives who, on still incomplete returns, gained 344 seats. Labor lost 336 seats altogether.

Four whole counties previously held by Labor were lost. They were Southern Essex, Northumberland and the West riding of Yorkshire. Their only gain was Carmarthen in Wales.

Labor held Durham, Glamorgan, Monmouthshire, Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire. It also claims to have retained London county council although control will be decided Wednesday when a chairman and 11 aldermen are to be elected.

In the London county elections Conservatives won 42 and Labor 8 seat Labor majority. Both parties swon 64 seats with the other going to the Liberal party. Ten aldermen, all Labor, are carried over from the old council.

Hopes to Maintain Control

Labor's hopes to maintain control hinge on electing the chairman, perhaps an outsider, and the aldermen.

Sir Percy Harris, the Liberal, may hold the balance of power between the two parties.

Whether Labor members will be able to manouvre 11 party heads into the comfortable Conservatives remains to be seen.

Morgan Phillips, secretary of the Labor party reviewing the results, attributed the amount of the Conservatives to "redistribution of seats and to the exploitation by the Tory party of the election as an artificial referendum.

"It is by no means a challenge to our political philosophy and it is a warning that we cannot ignore. We must review our organization immediately so that we may give a better account of ourselves in the next round of our fight."

The budget, brought down last Wednesday by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave Britons the prospect of another year of heavy taxation and severe austerity measures.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Toronto, April 11 (CP)—Synopsis: A weak disturbance moved northeastward from Texas into Kentucky Sunday, and by early this morning it was causing showery extending to near Lake Erie. The disturbance has stalled now and will continue to weaken as a new storm develops in the Gulf of Mexico. Consequently clear, fine weather will prevail in most of the Province today and Tuesday.

A burst of very warm air overspread the Prairies Sunday, and Edmonton reported a high of 72, the highest temperature on record there for April 10. While no section of Ontario is expected to experience the warmest part of this outbreak, Tuesday's temperatures are forecast to reach 60 at most places.

MURDER CHARGE MAY FOLLOW FATAL BRAWL

Toronto Man Dies Of Injuries in Fight

Toronto, April 11 — (CP) — James Patrick Murray, 22, today faces a murder charge in the death of his brother-in-law, William Ross Wilson, 31, following a fist fight at a Saturday night drinking party.

He was scheduled to appear in court today.

The events which led to Wilson's death started with a husband-and-wife argument over whether Wilson should have slapped his wife Mabel, Murray's sister, in the face during the quarrel and Murray protested.

Police said Wilson then went outside the house where he and his wife and Murray had been attending a birthday party. Murray followed him, hit him in the face several times and knocked him down, police said. Murray returned to the party and friends took Wilson to hospital.

Fell Against Hub Cap

Police said today they believed Wilson fell head-first against the hub cap of a parked automobile.

The front of Wilson's face was crushed in. He was bleeding freely from the nose and had small cuts and bruises covering his face. His nose, eyes and lips were swollen and discolored. Wilson died 45 minutes after admission to hospital.

An autopsy by Assistant Coroner E. C. Fielden showed that both Wilson's cheekbones were broken. Dr. Fielden said Wilson strangled in his own blood.

Chief Coroner Dr. Keith Lawson said Wilson's wounds probably could not have been inflicted by fists alone.

"He was hit with some blunt instrument. A fist wouldn't do it but a boot might."

Fear of A-Bomb Sparks Reds' Uncompromising Policy of Expansion

Toronto, April 11 (CP) — Fear of the atom bomb has sparked Russia's uncompromising policy to expand, Mal-Gen. L. M. Rice (Tommy) Burns said today.

The military strategy specialist who commanded a Canadian corps in Italy during the Second World War and now is assistant Deputy Minister of Veterans Affairs spoke before the Toronto Canadian Club.

If war should come again, he said in a speech prepared for delivery, there must be no doubt in the minds of North Atlantic treaty peoples and of the world who the aggressor is.

There must be a preponderance of moral force—as well as military and economic strength—behind the nations of the North Atlantic pact.

"The morale of the fighting men will depend in the days to come on the moral force that inspires the national will," Gen. Burns said.

"The spiritual force that convicted their cause is just, beyond any possible doubt.

"They must be sure it is our enemies who are the aggressors. Hence, in the present times, the North Atlantic Pact nations must be careful not to shut the door on any possibility of an agreement with the Soviet."

"There was an international deadlock," he said, "caused by the refusal of the Russians to the majority proposed at the United Nations atomic energy commission for the abolition of atomic weapons and the control of production of atomic energy."

The principal point that has split the commission is that the Russians want an immediate convention to outlaw atomic warfare and the destruction of existing stocks of atomic weapons.

Other nations insist this would not provide security, which could be achieved only after an international system of inspection and control is set up. The Russians on the other hand, do not agree to the type of inspection other nations are demanding.

"The crux of the matter appears to be whether Russia will agree to international inspection —and so far she has given an unshrouded to her cloak of secrecy."

While Gen. Burns could see no immediate prospect of negotiations with the Soviets which might lead to disarmament, security and peace, he believed "we must keep trying."

"If we do so, we will leave in the minds of the North Atlantic pact peoples in the world, and no possible doubt as to who is the aggressor, if war should ever come."

Mrs. J. E. Keays Testifies On Behalf of Her Husband

Mrs. J. E. Keays, wife of Constable Keays, took the witness stand today to testify on behalf of her husband, who for the past six weeks has been seeking to prove his allegations of interference and maladministration of justice by the Crown and Attorney B. C. Donnan and seven provincial police officers.

Mrs. Keays took the stand and last witness to be called to testify before Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay at the Royal Administration investigation. Mr. Donnan without Keays' reply which is expected to be completed this afternoon.

Corroborates Evidence

She corroborated the evidence of her husband with respect to a certain telephone call which she said had been received from Col. Donnan in connection with the Carefoot investigation, Col. Donnan denying the call which she said had been denied by other witnesses.

Mrs. Keays also bore out Const. Keays' testimony that she had gone with a visit to her home by Cpl. E. Irvine and two other provincial police officers. She denied that Cpl. Irvine had brought a lamp to her home but stated he had brought a case of beer and a bottle of rum.

Tells of Name Change

The witness said she had been married for 25 years; and that she and her husband had three children. She said her maiden name had been changed after her husband had taken her name at the request of one of his sons who was in the navy. Keays' former name was Soublliere, but he had never taken any action for the Change of Names Act.

Mrs. Keays said there had been no intention on the part of her husband to bring any charges against his brother officers.

On the other hand he had been quite content to settle matters quietly from the provincial police ranks on Berry's farm lands during the last week, waiting for the next step towards unfreeze.

Searching for food, they tear up his meadows each year on their annual trip northwards. In addition, he provides them with 300 pounds of grain out of his granary to feed them every day.

KATHY FISCUS FOUND DEAD, BODY REMOVED

Child Had Been Dead Since Last Friday

San Marino, Calif., April 11. (AP)—The world is a little sadder today. Little Kathy Fiscus was brought up dead from her well tomb after 52 hours.

All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame David and Alice Fiscus when the body of their towheaded three-year-old was found lying in water, wedged about 100 feet down in the 14-inch pipe. The unconsciousness of death, by drowning at 8.56 P.S.T. Sunday night brought to a tragic end the tireless digging of weary rescuers and the anxious waiting of sympathizers everywhere.

Little Kathy, running at play, stumbled into the weed-covered hole at 4 P.M. Saturday afternoon.

Even though nothing had been heard from the child since about an hour after she plunged into the abandoned old casing, horror prayer filled most human hearts.

Rescue efforts started by more than 15,000 took, in all, 52 hours; but it would have been the same if she could have been reached in two hours.

Dr. Robert McCulloch, family doctor, said Kathy had no chance. "She died instantly from a fractured skull."

Von Weizsaecker Found Guilty Of War Plotting

Nuernberg, Germany, April 11 —(AP) — Five of Hitler's leading government officials were convicted by a United States war crimes court today of helping him plan aggression.

They were the first Germans to be convicted of plotting against an American court. Not since the Nuernberg Military Tribunal convicted Goering and 18 other high Nazis nearly three years ago has a German been found guilty of this charge.

Today's verdicts began the final act of this last war crimes trial which began seven months ago.

One of those convicted today was Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, state secretary in Hitler's foreign office and one time German ambassador to the Vatican. He was found guilty of plotting aggression war against Czechoslovakia.

Also convicted were:

Wilhelm Keppler, 66, Hitler's economic adviser and founder of the "Circle of Friends" of the Gestapo chief, Heinrich Himmler; Ernest Woermann, 61, chief of the political division of the foreign office.

Victim of Crash Scalded By Escaping Steam

Fifty-four year old Hunter Faulkner, 276 George Street, Canadian National Railways locomotive engineer, was scalded to death here shortly before nine o'clock, Sunday evening, when the yard engine with which he was switching cars crashed into the side of a moving freight train.

Engineer of the moving freight train was the 44 year old Lorne Fox, C.N.R. fireman, 359 Ann St., who did not know until some minutes later that the accident had occurred.

The accident took place at the east end of the C.N.R. freight yards, approximately one mile one-half miles east of the station. Both the freight train and the engine were travelling east when at a switch the yard engine left the side of the moving freight cars.

Front Forced Off

Doors and roof of approximately ten freight cars were ripped off as the tender of the engine passed into the side of the moving train. The front of the yard engine was torn from the tractor and the cab of the engine crushed. Scalding steam also killed the engineer, but the fireman C. B. Robinson was able to jump to safety.

Members of the Belleville Fire Department assisted in freeing the body of Mr. Faulkner from the crushed cab of the yard engine.

Mr. Faulkner had been railroading since 1917 when he started with the former Canadian Northern. He had been working as engineer since 1928. He came to Belleville from Ottawa some years ago.

Traffic on the main line was disrupted for a short time as ancillary equipment repaired the track, but shortly after midnight the damaged engine was removed and the track replaced.

An inquest was ordered today by the Belleville Funeral Company Funeral Home before Dr. Russell Scott, coroner, and Assistant Crown Attorney Gordon Robertson. After preliminary evidence was taken the inquest was adjourned until Tuesday, April 19th.

Seamen Alleged To Have Refused To Obey Orders

Brisbane, April 11 — (Reuters) — The Brisbane agents for the 7,000-ton Canadian steamship Canadian Challenger that they had issued summonses against 30 seamen, alleged to have refused to obey a lawful command.

A spokesman of the men, on strike since April 7, said they were acting under orders from their union, which called the strike.

The master of the Tribarg said that wharfage and other charges for the idle ship were costing hundreds of pounds daily.

The Canadian ship, Anglo-Indian Duke, which reached Melbourne a week ago with a coal cargo from India, has not yet been unloaded.

New Zealand dockers today were refusing loading the 8,333-ton Canadian ship Tridale whose crew have received instructions from the C.P.U. not to join the strike of Canadian cast - coast shipping, Wellington dispatches reported.

A delegation from the Tridale arrived in Wellington today to enlist the support of the New Zealand Seamen's and Waterside Workers Unions.

Young Man Breaks Neck in Falling From Window

Peterborough, April 11 (CP) — Maurice Jeffries, 22, of Port Hope, fell from a window on the top floor of a local hotel Saturday evening and was found sometime later by Ernest Langford, assistant manager, lying on the roof of the kitchen 12 feet below, with his neck broken. He died in hospital and was reported this morning to have spent a comfortable night.

Jeffries was visiting Peterborough with a group of friends to join the strike of Canadian cast - coast shipping. Walkouts were also reported.

A delegation from the Tridale arrived in Wellington today to enlist the support of the New Zealand Seamen's and Waterside Workers Unions.

Snake Island's Seven Residents End Brief Famine Due to Ice Break-up

Snake Island, Ont., April 11— (CP)—The population of seven persons on this Lake Simcoe island ended a brief famine Sunday night when they ate their first food since Wednesday. The three-day fast was brought on when ice between the island and Keswick broke up suddenly last week.

Caretaker Harold McGee had crossed for food a week ago, but brought back only enough food for a few days.

A small channel opened in the ice Saturday and McGee rowed across, only to be caught on the mainland when the channel closed. On Sunday he borrowed a steel-bottomed boat and smashed his way to the island with food for his wife and two sons and for 87-year-old Jim Ashquabe and his two sons.

The island is held by the Chippewa Indians and McGee is the Indian Affairs Department's caretaker there.

Cobden, Ont., April 11 (CP) — Huge hungry flocks of some 5,000 Canadian wild geese today are busy gobbling up some 60 bags of grain provided them by the Ontario government.

They are the persistent annual visitors to the nearby farm of the despairing Harry Berry, just a short distance from the shores of Muskrat Lake some 50 miles northwest of Ottawa.

The big honkers, famished after their long trip from the south, have been landing by the hundreds on Berry's farm lands during the last week, waiting for the next step towards unfreeze.

Searching for food, they tear up his meadows each year on their annual trip northwards. In addition, he provides them with 300 pounds of grain out of his granary to feed them every day.

SIX WORSHIPPERS KILLED AT PRAYER BY EXPLOSION

R. C. Church in Marion, S.D., Destroyed as Furnace Switch Turned On

Marion, S. D., April 11 (AP)—This small South Dakota town today planned a mass funeral for the six Holy Week worshippers killed Sunday as a blast destroyed St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop William O. Brady of Sioux Falls, Diocesan head, tentatively set Wednesday for the mass rites for the elderly victims who died as they knelt in prayer. Forty-seven other persons were injured, several critically.

The brick church was shattered by a terrific explosion a few moments before the 9 a.m. Palm Sunday mass was to begin.

Church officials attributed the blast to escaping bottled furnace fuel gas. Phil Wachendorf, parishioner, said everything blew up when he threw a furnace switch.

The church had a seating capacity of 250 but only about 75 worshippers were in their pews.

Services In Rites in Moment

The priest, Father Joseph Zimmerman, 73, was preparing to enter the palm banked altar. When some of the parishioners complained the church was cold, Wachendorf volunteered to turn on the furnace. A moment later the church was in ruins.

Miss Agnes Ebrecht, rectory housekeeper, said she was leaving for church when she heard the explosion and saw the walls crumble, the roof cave in.

"I started putting in calls for doctors," she said.

Among first on the scene was Dr. A. P. Reding whose mother, Mrs. Peter Reding, was among the victims.

Besides Mrs. Reding those killed were Mrs. Art Arts, John Mirsso, Mrs. George Bittner and Mrs. Philip Lahr, all of Marion, and Charles McGinnis of nearby Monroe. All were in their 60s or 70s.

SUPPORT OF TREATY

Support of the North Atlantic Treaty by the Canadian business community was asked today by J. H. Brace, vice-chairman of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce. He pointed out that the treaty, designed to preserve peace in the world by an alliance among the democratic nations, has no value unless it is backed up by the people in the participating countries.

"The signing of this pact is a momentous step forward in solving many of the world's troubles," Mr. Brace said. "It is an important milestone in our history, and as such it should be understood and supported by every citizen of the Democracies. It is for this reason that I wish to make an appeal on behalf of the executive committee of Canada's national business organization that businessmen will ratify the North Atlantic Treaty, understand it, and make it part of their political philosophy.

"There is one purpose in particular which businessmenn can help to achieve. I refer to that part of Article 2 which reads: 'They will seek to eliminate conflict in their international economic policies and will encourage economic collaboration between any or all of them.' This is now part of the foreign policy of all the great countries which are parties to this treaty. It is a most happy and enlightened policy, and we businessmen can do much to ensure its implementation."

WORK COMPLETED

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, mediator of the troubles in Palestine, has completed his work and is turning in his commission. This is the type of democratic figure the world must admire, one who serves primarily to the full limit of his talent, endures his task and leaves his work finished. He is a model for all of the democratic principles. He brings about peace where there was difficulty and then withdraws.

How different has been the story of the undemocratic and the self-seekers. The story of the Nazis of Germany is one of the world's terrible examples of another type of men who leave a trail of blood and ruin and end in a crackup before the world democracies.

The U.N. mediator has been a lesson to all of justice and peacemaking.

CAT CALLS

Many domestic British cats ran wild recently when the BBC broadcast a program of cat calls, recorded by Dr. Ludwig Koch. The BBC has a large collection of these sounds.

One of Dr. Koch's greatest interests is in recording sounds new to most people that he himself has only heard after intensive periods of patient watching. It was he, for instance, who discovered that the giraffe, formerly considered dumb by scientists, has a very high-pitched voice. He has studied animal language even more closely than bird language and finds it much more difficult. Animals do not speak to each other as much as birds do, for they are more conspicuous and have not the same need for communication. For this reason they must be watched more closely and their patience and this is best done at night.

Dr. Koch's latest program was devoted to the language of the cat family. It began with domestic puss in undomesticated mood, howling and spitting on the ties at night, a recording for which the patient engineer spent hours in the London gardens with his apparatus, waiting for the right number and combination of cats to come within recording range. Cats, like humans, have variations in voice and this was demonstrated by one loud, regular purr like a motorcycle engine and another, more lilting purr from a less mechanical animal. Then was the strange voice of the cheetah, the speedy racing cat, and the serval, whose piercing call sounded like a fiercely protesting "No, No, No, No!" The recording of Dr. Koch's Siamese talking to her owner was one that upset many domestic cats, whose native this had reminded of spitting to the odd noises coming from their owners' sets. The lion has one of the largest vocabularies in the animal world and listeners who had formerly heard only his roar now heard his hunting call — used to frighten game into running — said then the lion and lioness talking to their cubs. It was most interesting to hear that the cubs make different noises when talking to each parent. The lion is the only member of the cat tribe that does not purr, but this lack was remedied by the purr of the satisfied tiger. After fifteen minutes of assorted cat calls of varying volume domestic cats and their owners were left in peace again.

THE PRICE

From the rigors of winter a lot of us flee
To climes where much gentler the breezes will be;
Where his mate from a tree top the mocking bird calls;
Where the sun lights the sands where no snow ever falls,
But all chance have a price for the pleasure they bring,
And where the winter's unknown they may never have spring.

Where the trees never sleep and the streams never rest;
Where seldom the skies in gray mantles are dressed,
Where the flowers never fade and the birds never cease;
The joy of the change of the seasons is lost.
Where never comes winter to bluster and sting,
They have never the joy of the spring that we know.

Though winter is heartless and cruel and cold,
There is this in its favor and praise to be told:
When its harsh rule is ended, behind it is seen
The glory of growing things once again green.
The fruit trees in blossom, the birds on the wing,
For winter's the price that we pay for the spring.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

Is there a common trait or characteristic to be found in all successful men?

If we could define one, it would be a great help in steering our young men on their course.

A newspaperman meets a great many successful and outstanding men in his work; but he rarely gets to know them more than superficially. It is therefore not possible to observation on m ypart to submit that all the outstanding men I have encountered hid one characteristic in common: tenacity.

In some of these successful men, tenacity was a noble trait. In others, it was tiresome, vulgar, almost nauseating. Politicians, parsons, builders of great industries, surgeons, explorers, inventors, planists, research scientists—I have just been backtracking in memory. And I cannot recollect a single great man among them who lacked that one basic ingredient, tenacity — the power of holding fast.

Some hold fast to a belief or faith; some to money. Some held fast to a program or 'purpose'; so as to consolidate the gained over others; to a system or a routine; to some simple code of living.

But they all had a powerful grip on that they held in hand. I never met a successful man who was easy-going. They might be likened to men riding horses. Some hold on with their knees; others held the reins on a curb-bit in the horse's mouth. Some ride with a loose rein; others beat their horses with crops and dug spurs into them. It was a pleasure to watch some of them; others, it was a temptation to throw rocks at them. But because they stayed on the horses, they prided themselves on being good horsemen.

This tenacity cannot be acquired or learned. You look at a great concert pianist and realize that the tenacity that made him what he is must have developed him a long time: he was born with it. It is my impression that the tenacity which makes a man a success is born in him, a gift like the color of his hair or the length of his legs.

NOTHING LOST IN THE SPIRITUAL WORLD

One of the great heroes of history about whom little is known by the general reader was the famous John of Luxemburg, the blind king of Bohemia who lived about the year 1300. John fought his last battle aiding his ally, the king of France, in his struggle against Edward III of England.

As the battle waxed hot, John asked three of his nobles to guide him into the midst of the fray that he might perish there wielding his good blade valiantly. This his devoted followers did, and the next morning they were all found lying on the field of battle, their horses still tied together. Such also. Ottawa, April 11 (CP)—The Senate had a tough time getting away for Easter this year.

It all started April 1 when the government leader in the Senate, Wishart Robertson, announced that the upper chamber had completed a lot of business so far this session and might be able to close down until May 2, except for one or two things.

The one or two things were the estimates necessary to supply Newfoundland with interim funds and the 1948-49 supplementary estimates over which the commons wrangled at this week.

Daily, the Senate met, with a handful of senators present to make up the quorum which would enable actual assent to be given to the supply bills in question. Daily, the commons continued its wrangle. The Senate was forced to meet briefly, day after day, to be informed that "the other place" had not finished with the supplementary estimates.

Senator Robertson, possibly foreseeing the delay, gave more than 24 hours' warning April 1 that it was high time they all went home.

He referred at that time to the fact that reservations for Senators in anything distantly like difficult to obtain, and asked that members closer to home stay to mark the quorum.

"I would ask those Senators," he said "who live in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec to be in attendance (next) sitting, and I ask them to co-operate in this way so that those who come from great distances may have the opportunity to make their necessary travelling arrangements."

The Senate finally completed business Thursday night. But even before that, in their hopes of an adjournment to May 2 had been dashed, the Easter holiday was clipped off at the other end— to April 25, the same date as the Commons.

Senator Robertson announced it was advisable to pass non-controversial bills relating to pipe lines, presumably those concerning the incorporation of new companies which have applied for such incorporation once the government's pipe line legislation is passed.

Communist China Ruled by Four Brilliant Men

(Editor's Note: John Roderick, now stationed in the Middle East, has studied at first hand among China's Communist leaders, during his assignment in Yenan, Communist capital, in the immediate post-war years. The following is written from his experience there.)

By JOHN RODERICK

Tehran, April 11 (AP)—A well known trio and a little known fourth man are the real rulers of Communist China.

The first three are party chairman Mao Tse-Tung, Foreign Affairs Chief, Chou En-Lai, and Generalissimo Chu Teh.

The fourth, about whom little has been written but whose importance probably is the greatest that of Chou and Chu, is Vice-Chairman Liu Shao-chi.

During my assignment in the Communist capital of Yenan, nearly everyone inside and out of the party agreed that if anything happened to Mao, quiet-mannered Liu Shao-Chi, and not the brilliant Chou or the military leader Chu Teh, would be his successor.

The careers of Mao, Chou and Chu are well known to the American public. Communist areas their pictures, six times bigger, than life, have hung beside those of Lenin and Stalin in many Communist offices. Liu's name rarely appears.

When Liu talks it is almost in a whisper. Even when he rises he becomes angry, or if he does, he doesn't show it. Yet behind the meekness of his exterior there is a brain as cold and as clear as ice.

Party Theoretician

He is the party theoretician; his knowledge of the "party line" is definite. He knows how Moscow thinks and how the Chinese Communists should think. He is to make these two views coincide, or if they do not, to bridge the differences.

Liu started his career with the Reds as a labor union.

During the Japanese war he spent months in Japanese-held Peiping, circulating inflammatory pamphlets, inserting anti-Japanese articles in newspapers and organizing workers into resistance units. But he was not arrested but often it was close.

Liu became leader of the Important Central Committee and a member of the politburo—the core and brain—of the party—he has an important voice in the affairs of China. During Mao's illness in 1945-46, Liu was considered the leader.

His announced views are that the Chinese Communist party, after the death of Lenin and Stalin, must remain independent. It is not necessary, he says, for foreign ownership of land, industry or buildings in China.

118TH HOLDS REUNION

Oshawa, April 11 (CP)—Nearly 200 members of the original 116th Battalion, Ontario county's contribution to the Canadian expeditionary force in the First World War, met here Saturday and Sunday for their annual reunion. It was the second time that the 116th, nicknamed the Dumpy battalion, has met in Ontario county where the unit was first recruited in 1914. Among old members present was Major Gen. A. E. Pearkes, V.C., who took over command from the late Col. Sam Sharpe, D.S.O., in 1918.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WHERE THEY WROTE

There are those who give the excuse for not writing something that is worthwhile that they have no fit place in which to write, or that they have not the proper equipment. Well, the majority of our great writers never took this into consideration.

George Gissing wrote his first book in a London cellar. Jane Austen had no room of her own, but wrote on her lap in the family sitting room. Francis Thompson lived in the open air and wrote his poems with scraps of paper and writing material in it. Robert Louis Stevenson could find a place where he could sit and be undisturbed. A favorite place was part of the blind monarch of Bohemia was said to have been unparalleled in the history of the war.

But there was a by-product of this act of valor which was almost as striking as the fact that John and his nobles were slain by the soldiers of the English Prince of Wales. So impressed, however, was the young English Prince by the spectacle of heroism, that he adopted for his crest the two plumes, Ich Dien (I serve), which had been the motto of this Bohemian ruler.

Nothing is ever lost in the spiritual world. Many probably shook their heads after the battle and declared that John had thrown away his life. But a life is never thrown away if an opponent so admires the courage of a hero that he adopts his motto crest.

in the bar of an old Inn.

Upon one of my visits to Oakland, California, a friend took me to the little bar and restaurant of Frederick Jackson Turner and his "First and Last Chance." Here it was that Jack London used to go and sit in an old chair in the corner, where he read and wrote, and he declared that he would become in the boy that he advanced from that chair to fame. Here, too, it was that London got material for his most famous book, "Sea Wolf."

Thomas G. Jerome, long before Fame had smiled his way, noted: "For a workroom I often preferred the dark streets — even all dead-silting room." Montaigne, however, had the ideal place in which to write. It was in a tower over the entrance to a castle. From there he looked out into his garden and was always free from interruption.

Several of the world's great writers wrote while in bed. We need to name a few: "Pilgrim's Progress" by John Bunyan, "The Age of Reason," and the "Ballad of Reading Gaol" by Oscar Wilde, from a Siberian prison camp, and Sir Walter Raleigh, from the Tower of London, but Francois Villon had to be content with a dungeon for his dwelling place.

Thomas Carlyle was so irritable that he had the walls of his room made sound proof. Even the early crow of a cock threw him into a furore. James M. Barrie wrote in the kitchen by his fire-side. Noise did not disturb him. Michael Scott sat in a tree and wrote "Tom Cringle's Log." It is said that Shelley "liked to compose poetry on the roof-tops."

AMBULANT TREATMENT OF HERNIA.

Ambulant or ambulatory means moving about, or in reference to treatment, it means the patient is not hospitalized nor confined to bed nor restrained from ordinary work or play while under treatment. The injection treatment of hernia (rupture, breach) is ambulant except in a few instances where there are complications.

Radical operation is not the only alternative for injection treatment. Small hernias of recent origin in young persons may be cured by truss alone.

Children student in good physical condition sustained a hernia last August while playing a heavy oak table in camp. His physician fitted him with a Ferris pad and bridge type truss and instructed him in the importance of keeping the rupture supported constantly. The young man wore the truss for six months, never letting it off for a moment even when he was not in bed. The hernia is now cured. The young man sent me the above statement after support a month ago.

Umbilical (navel) hernia in young infants usually heals spontaneously if properly supported for six months. Here is how: find a wooden disk, button or bottle cap, thick slice of cork about the size of the bulge or protrusion. Pad the disk with cotton (not cotton) or sponge rubber to give the shape of half an orange. Cover with silk or satin stitched in place to retain the padding on the disk. Apply the disk with padded side on the hernia and hold in place with the fingers of one hand while you attach strips of Z.O. adhesive plaster one-half inch wide and six or eight inches long of the same kind. Use a belly in criss-cross fashion, to keep the pad exactly on the "rupture."

Put on the baby's undershirt and over that put a belt made of linen or muslin folded once lengthwise to form a double four edges. The belt should be 5 inches wide and one inch less in length than the baby's waist measure. Insert eyelets in both ends — four of them in each end — and a flap near one end, to lie under the lacing. Insert two-inch widths of elastic webbing in each side of the belt. Put the belt on snugly, keeping pad in undershirt, and lace it with cord or shoelace or narrow tape.

Remove the adhesive plaster criss-cross strips when they loosen or slip on skin, carefully supporting pad with a finger while the old plaster is removed and a new one applied in different portions of skin. Old adhesive is readily removed from the skin by wiping with cotton moistened with carbon tetrachloride — never use gasoline for cleaning fluid. Adhesive plaster will not adhere if the skin is oily or if talcum powder is used first.

Inguinal (groin) hernia in children may be cured in most instances by a truss carefully fitted under the physician's supervision and adjusted by the physician regularly every two weeks from six months to a year. Most cures are obtained in children under five years of age — few cures in children up to ten years of age. Cures are rare in other children.

In the pamphlet on Hernia, available on request, I describe how to provide stamped self addressed envelope, a curative exercise which one performs at home supporting the hernia or the spot where the protrusion occurs with the middle finger, or fingers of the hand on the same side as the hernia.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Itching Without Apparent Cause

Please tell me if pruritus — has any significance. (R. J.)

Answer — No. It is just a medical term for itching without skin rash or other evident cause. Send stamped self addressed envelope and ask in writing (do not use clipping.) For Pamphlet on Pruritus.

Turn Forward or Backward

I can turn backward somersaults but not forward. Teacher in the army told me backward ones are not valuable to health. —(A.R.)

Answer—Forward rolls are generally easier than backward rolls. I do hope you turn my kind of somersault, Mr. Webster's. For instructions send self addressed stamped envelope and ask for Invitation to Somersaulting.

New Women

The change in my 20-year-old daughter since getting your keys to vim and vitality and the suggestions about diet and supplemental minerals and vitamins is nothing short of a miracle. She has more pep than any of her friend and looks wonderful. Dr. Brady is her beauty doctor. (Mrs. L. J. E.)

Answer — Thank you, Ma'am. The same suggestions are available to any woman who sends for booklet The 7 Keys to Vim, for copy send 25c and stamped self-addressed envelope.

Gum Chewing and Air Swallowing

Two girls in our office chew gum constantly and swallow air. Both have trouble with gas. Would the gum chewing have anything to do with it? (Mrs. A. W. H.)

Answer—Very likely, yes.

LITTLE KATHY

It spelled "finis" to the two-day and two-night vigil for the distraught parents, who had received hundreds of telegrams from well wishers, many offering suggestions how to rescue the child. Rescue is San Marino branch manager for the company which sank the well in 1903. Only last week he had urged enactment of a state law to cap up all old wells.

The old well was used for irrigating purposes until 1922 when the pipe parted at a depth of 230 feet. The original well was logged at 794 feet.

Question Unanswered

The question of how the top of the water pipe remained unprotected and merely covered by weeds was unanswered. Neighbors reported that there had been boards over the top but that some time ago the field had been plowed and this protection may have been knocked out by the plow.

Rescue workers knew they were in for trouble when a water table was struck at about the 40th hour of operations. However, hopes were kept up in the belief that the child was trapped above the water level. Besides, they reasoned, the well had been abandoned as dry.

But when the rescue team of Kelly and H. E. (Whitey) Blickenderfer dug through mud and water and cut into the pipe they found Kathy lay below, not above the ca

Kelly said he and Blickenderfer broke between eight and ten cutting wheels on their electric drills before breaking through the tough old casing.

Tough en World

The actual discovery and determination of death were made some two hours before the announcement was made public. Engineer Raymond A. Hill supervising operations, clamped on the secrecy ban. Later it was explained the idea was "to ease the blow for the parents." But it was tough on reporters and a waiting world.

The parents received the news at home. They culminated the most concerted rescue attempt of an individual since Floyd Collins was fatally trapped in a Kentucky cave in 1925. That lasted days, this hours that seemed like days.

From all of Southern California men came with equipment to free the tot from the narrow pipe after she was unable to fasten a rope around herself as firemen had hoped.

Bulldozers, clamshell cranes and rotary well diggers went into full swing. One pit, 30 feet wide, went down more than 75 feet before it was abandoned. Its sides started to slide just after Kelly had cut a window at 27 feet and said he saw the girl's arm and dress.

When it was abandoned, a smaller 30-inch shaft was drilled down beyond 100 feet and 24-inch casing was sunk. That was the rescue shaft through which Kathy finally was reached.

Early today the final chapter was written. Bulldokers were working full tilt filling up the rescue pits.

And so there would be no repetitions for other Kathys and their moms and dads, a giant bulldozer dug in and bent the top of the old well casing over double and sealed it tight.

Heir to $82,000 Forced to Accept Relief From City

Toronto, April 11 (CP) — An heir to an $82,000 estate, 78-year-old Fred Chapman said he had been forced to go on city relief because of a legal dispute over the will.

While an assize court probed the issues in two wills left by Miss Ann Chapman, Toronto charwoman and carnival operator, her husband said in an interview in their two-storey frame home that he is unable to work. He said he lived for several weeks last summer and fall on bread and butter while receiving relief.

"We've kept track of the money I got — it was only $6 or $7 a week — and as soon as the will is cleared, I'll have to pay it back," he said.

He said he and his wife years ago invested in a carnival concession after he was hurt in an accident.

"We earned the money together and saved it up," he said. The money was in his wife's name.

A trust company official told the court Mrs. Chapman was afraid her estate would be squandered. After a 1937 will divided the estate among her husband, a son and a grand-daughter, she drew up another in 1947, a few weeks before her death, which left income from the estate to her husband.

Members' Reports May Set Date For Election

Ottawa, April 11 (CP)— A two week Easter recess stretches before members of the Commons and many of them plan to use it to find out what the voter back home has on his mind.

On what the Liberal members hear and see may depend the date of the next general federal election. The Commons will reassemble April 25 and a caucus of Liberal members will be held April 27.

Prime Minister St. Laurent told newspaper men after a caucus Wednesday that he and his cabinet colleagues would be "very interested" to hear the news brought back by the Liberal members from their home constituencies.

As the members split up to go their various ridings, they appeared to be two distinct camps regarding the choice of an election date.

Some favored a spring election and others favored a fall election. An election in June or early July would make it necessary for the government to dissolve parliament within a week or two of the members' return from the Easter recess. Dissolution at that time would leave much of the work of the present session unfinished.

A fall election would allow sufficient time to complete work now on the program.

Since the session began Jan. 26, a fair amount of work has been accomplished. Members have passed the legislation required to bring Newfoundland into confederation as a 10th province. They spent almost a month discussing the Throne Speech and they renewed some of the government's control legislation.

Finance Minister Abbott has presented what they termed an election year budget. The Progressive Conservative and CCF parties called for votes of non-confidence in the government because of the budget's contents, but the divisions may not be taken for some weeks.

A one day debate was held on the draft of the North Atlantic Security Pact and it was supported 149 to 22.

Expect Gromyko Will Blast Pact

Lake Success, N.Y., April 11—(CP)—Andrei A. Gromyko today was scheduled to make his first major speech in the current United Nations General Assembly.

Some delegation sources predicted the No. 1 Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister would blast at the Atlantic pact while outlining Russian views on what to do with the pre-war Italian colonies.

He had said almost nothing in the assembly up to today, leaving the major work to his first assistant, Jakob A. Malik, a deputy foreign minister.

An expected Russian attack on the U. N. on th eAtlantic pact has failed to materialize but diplomats and observers expected the belief it would soon come.

43 Aircraft Take Part in Demonstration

Toronto, April 11 — (CP) — Toronto's industries were theoretically saved from a mock air attack Saturday when 43 supersonic aircraft turned back the bombers and fighters of "Operation Lakehead" in the largest scale Canadian air manoeuvres ever held in peacetime.

Radar installations east of the city picked up the three approaching heavy Lancaster bombers, from the R.C.A.F. station at Summerside, P.E.I., and their protecting flight from 12 Harvard training planes from No. 401 City of Montreal Squadron.

Eight Harvard aircraft from Toronto downed the Lancasters with mock bullets and then engaged in a dogfight with the escoring fighters.

Hamilton, the other city involved in the scheme, was also successfully defended against the heavy bombers on Saturday but didn't fare so well on Sunday when eight Harvards from the Toronto squadron made a successful attack on the Steel Company of Canada mills, sprawled along the edge of Hamilton Bay.

Vampire jet aircraft squadrons from Montreal and Toronto had their own mock battles, with the result a draw. The Toronto planes repulsed attacking Vampires from Montreal on Saturday but were themselves turned back by the Montreal planes on Sunday when they, tried an attack on Hamilton.

Returning Officer Named in Report

Toronto, April 11 (CP) — A committee of the Ontario Legislature reported Friday its "control find that Daniel McCabe should be absolved from knowingly lending himself to irregularities" in the election last June of Etobicoke Minister Porter.

McCabe was returning officer in the Toronto 'St. George constituency last June 7. The committee was appointed to investigate C.C.F. charges of irregularities in the election.

Evidence was that a report filed by McCabe increased Mr. Porter's majority by some 2,000 votes over reports submitted to him by deputy returning officers.

"The committee cannot find that McCabe should be absolved from knowingly lending himself to the commission of irregularities." There is strong suspicion that either he or someone to his knowledge made improper alterations in the vote tabulation.

Little wonder that owners use more kinds of jobs, with completely different jobs, than any in versatility—and in savings on gas, oil and upkeep.

SAVINGS WITH STYLE, FOR ME!

Extra-smart appearance makes the Ford F-47 Panel Truck a distinctive attachment for any business—and its low operating costs look good to owners, too. Extra handling ease in traffic and narrow streets.

I NEED ALL-ROUND UTILITY!

There are dozens of different jobs a Ford F-153 Chassis and Cab can do—and do well That's why thousands upon thousands of owners choose the F-153 for lower costs, longer life and a wider range of use.

MY TRUCK MUST HAVE STAMINA!

Owners who handle some of the toughest jobs in hauling prefer the Ford F-155, its extra-strong axles, frame, universal joints and crankshaft "per cu ft" in longer service, lower operating costs.

LOAD CAPACITY COUNTS WITH ME!

When it's a question of bulky loads, many operators make the F-153 Long-Wheelbase Truck their number one choice. It gives extra load space, extra loading and unloading convenience . . . with exceptional economy!

CORRUGATED STEEL BLADE GIVES "STRAIGHT-EDGE" SHAVE

"Corrugation" Stiffens Wafer-Thin Surgical Steel Gives Keener Edges And Closer Shaves

Less razor pull . . . more shaves per blade with Ever-Ready CORUX Blades

Ordinary safety razor blades don't give shaves equal to a "straight-edge" shave because the thin steel vibrates when it meets the beard.

Vibration causes uncomfortable "pull", quickly dulls the shaving edge. Ever-Ready Engineers have invented a process to cut down vibration, to make the thinnest steel much stronger, much keener, longer lasting.

Corux "straight-edge" action gives more comfortable, cleaner, longer-lasting shaves. Corux blades retain their super-keen shaving edges, give you many more perfect shaves.

The Corux is made in Canada and is the only blade of its kind in the world.

TRY ONE BLADE FREE

Buy regular 5 blade package of Corux blades (see an EXTRA free blade attached to the 5 blades in the blade box for...If you don't agree that Corux gives you a shave of its kind—take back the unopened package and get your money back.

AMERICAN SAFETY RAZOR OF CANADA, LTD. MONTREAL

Try this on your friends. Place a crisp bill across two glasses, like a bridge. Tell your friends they can't rest a fifty-cent piece on the bill without the bridge collapsing.

Then show them how it can be done. Crease the bill, lengthwise. You're actually "corrugating" your bridge.

Now the bridge will support the coin! This shows how "corrugation" adds strength. This is the principle that makes Corux blades stiffer, so they vibrate less and hold a keener edge for longer.

Man Swindled Out of Savings In Poker Game

Pembroke, April 11 — (CP) — Police said Sunday night that Herbert Kruschenski was swindled out of his life's savings Saturday in a $1,500 poker game with two men in a Pembroke hotel room.

They had little to go on except the barest of descriptions and that the men registered at the hotel, giving a Sudbury address. One of them was described as "about 30;" the other fairly elderly.

Police said the men accosted Kruschenski at a city market square. One flashed a roll of bills and invited their victim to their room.

During the game, Kruschenski lent one of the strangers $900 who lost it to the elderly player. The younger player persuaded Kurschenski that if he lent him another $600, he was sure to win it back.

Kruschenski went to the bank, drew out the $600 and returned to the game. When the younger stranger lost this to the elderly man, he told Kruschenski to accompany him to a nearby house where he would return the money by cashing bonds.

On the way to the address, he suddenly asked Kruschenski to return to the hotel room to make certain the elderly stranger did not disappear with the $1,500. When Kruschenski was left alone at the hotel, the elderly man had checked out. The younger man had also disappeared.

Workers Approve Strike Action

Detroit, April 11 — (CP) — The General Council of Ford Local 600 United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), approved strike action in a meeting Sunday.

A mass meeting of Local 600 members to take a strike vote was set for Saturday by the council. A favorable vote would require approval by international officers.

At issue is a management proposal to speed production on the final assembly line at the Ford Rouge plant's building, according to Thomas Thompson, local 600 president.

About 3,4000 workers are affected in the dispute. All 60,000 local 600 members would walk out in the event of a strike, Thompson said.

STIRLING

Elmwood Cemetery Board Holds Variety Concert

Stirling—On Friday evening a variety concert was held in Campbellton Orange Hall with a large crowd in attendance. It was held under the auspices of Elmwood Cemetery Board to procure funds for lawn cutting this summer.

All the talent was gratis and the club realized almost fifty dollars for their efforts.

Program Enjoyed

Reeve Harry Harrison was chairman and a good program was enjoyed. The home community entertained with vocal solos, Hawaiian music, tap dancing, piano solos and vocal duets.

The Carmel orchestra contributed two numbers; Mrs. Ben Clarke gave a humorous reading and Mr. Gow sang two Scotch songs; Mrs. Mabel Hayton of Foxboro rendered a dialect wedding and Mr. Frank Windsor gave a humorous story.

Mrs. Percy Macmullen, Mount Pleasant, Rawdon, contributed several readings which included humorous selection also poems by E. Pauline Johnson, the gifted Indian poetess.

Mr. George Hicks of Foxboro voiced the appreciation of the newly formed Cemetery Board to all artists who had assisted with the program and he hoped to make this an annual affair each year.

The ladies served refreshments to all the guest artists and their families.

Whatever our creed or language, we have all felt the impulse to pray. We may worship in various forms . . . we may call our God by various names . . . but, somehow, most of us express our faith in a Higher Power. When our loved ones are spared, we give thanks. At times of confusion or danger we call for guidance. When confronted by a mighty mountain, or the perfection of a tiny snowflake, we are awed by the wonder of life. We teach our children our faith, so that they will not be alone as they face the world.

FAITH is not just for holy days. Faith is for every day . . . at work, at play, in the quiet times the family has together.

We need faith — and never so desperately as today. The world is filled with voices of confusion. It is easy to feel helpless and alone. But faith in a Power outside ourselves can be a bedrock of family unity, a shield for family happiness.

Faith makes families! For greater happiness

A return to faith can give men and women a broader view of life—a sense of perspective. Then they are better prepared for the give-and-take of family living. The family united in faith has a strong and lasting bond.

Children naturally turn to faith when it is a daily part of the family life. And when they know the real meaning of faith, they will be tolerant of those who express their faith in other ways.

The home atmosphere is far different when a family stops trying to walk alone, when it sees its place in the bigger scheme of things. It works together for the things it can control — and trusts its God for guidance in problems beyond its control. Such a family can't help feeling closer together, more sure of itself, happier!

To keep alive the family's faith calls for a positive plan — just as you plan for your family's material welfare. How your family expresses its faith is a matter of choice. What is important to you is that you do express it!

Arts and Crafts Club Addressed By Col. R. Unwin

On Friday evening the Belleville Arts and Crafts club held their April meeting and had as their guest speaker, Col. R. Unwin, director of music at Bishop's College.

Col. Unwin gave a thoughtful and stimulating talk on his personal reaction to modern art. He is distinguished in many professions being a musician, art critic and writer and he also won the Military Cross during the last war.

The president, Mrs. H. S. Robbins drew attention the constitution which states the aim of the club as being "To promote endeavor in the various arts and crafts in Belleville." She expressed her hopes that everyone realized that the arts include music, drama, writing and painting. Mrs. Robbins also extended an invitation to any active in these branches, as well as crafts of any description, to join the club.

A film entitled "Klee Thyck" depicting the life and art of Emily Carr was shown.

The club was well represented in the recent Handicraft and Hobby Fair held at the library. Those contributing art were Mary Quinn, Phillippa Faulkner, Margaret Robbins, Carmen Murdoch, Mary Moult, Gladys Simpson and Ruth Milne. The contributors of handicraft were Helen Sulman, Dorothy Howard, Carmen Murdoch, Eileen Arnott, Jane Hill, L. Robillard, Ida Hornsby, Victorine Dandeno and Mrs. George Currie.

Plainfield—Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kilpatrick, Beverly Jean, and Baby Luella were given a surprise party on Tuesday by their Plainfield friends and neighbors and those of the immediate vicinity on the eve of their departure to the Robertson farm, near Shannonville.

They were presented with a beautiful clock. Many kind wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick and family, for health, happiness and prosperity in their new home to which they were going.

Ill Ex-Gov. Osborn, 89, Weds Canadian Adopted Daughter

Poulan, Ga., April 11 (AP) — Chase S. Osborn, elderly former Governor of Michigan who rose from a sickbed Saturday to marry his Canadian-born adopted daughter, remained in critical condition today.

His doctor, J. J. Crumley, said yesterday the 89-year-old friend of nine United States presidents was near death. A few hours later, however, he reported Osborn had made another of his amazing rallies and was resting comfortably.

"Michigan's grand old man" married his 53-year-old adopted daughter, Stellanova, Saturday in his Georgia retreat. "Possum Poke," Mrs. Osborn, a native of Hamilton, said the adoption was dissolved shortly before the ceremony for sentimental reasons.

Since her adoption in 1937, Mrs. Osborn has been the rugged former Republican Governor's constant companion, nurse and biographer. They have written several books together.

Osborn built tow great fortunes from timber and iron ore. Most of his wealth has been given to schools, charitable institutions and friends in recent years.

He rose from a log cabin in Huntingdon county, Indiana, to become Governor of Michigan from 1911 to 1913. He helped direct Theodore Roosevelt as a bull moose candidate for president in 1912.

He married the late Lillian G. Jones in 1881. She bore him two sons and a daughter. One of the sons, George Osborn, publisher of the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., News, left Myrtle Beach, S. C., to join his father.

The elder Osborn started the Sault Ste. Marie newspaper years ago with two other men. He later became sole owner.

During his long and colorful career, Osborn has been a political reformer, newspaperman, duck hand, ore prospector, foreign correspondent and lumberjack.

Kinsmen and New Kinette Club Hold Meeting

A most enjoyable evening was held at the Quinte Hotel, Friday evening, the occasion being the first joint meeting of the Kinsmen and the newly formed Kinette Club.

The meeting was presided over by Kinsmen, President Frank Lang, assisted most ably by Kinette President, Helen Wilbur.

Kinsmen presidents and their wives from Campbellford, Marmora, Tweed, Trenton, Picton and Kinette Presidents, Jean Finlayson, of Napanee, were guests for the evening.

Arthur Cruil, Guest Speaker

Mr. Arthur Cruil, immediate past president of the Belleville Kinsmen Club, was the guest speaker of the evening, and gave a most interesting review of the forthcoming convention being held here in latter part of May.

New Kinettes Welcomed

Two new Kinettes, namely, Gwen McDougall, and Marjorie Stock, were welcomed into the club by Secretary Vivian Hamilton, and were presented with the official Kinette pin.

A recent contest held by the Kinette Club for the purpose of naming the club bulletin was won by Kinette Irma Holway, and she was presented with a gift by Kinsmen president, Frank Lang, on behalf of the Kinsmen Club, for her very excellent entry.

Kinsmen Bob Best proposed the toast to the ladies, and was most ably responded to by Kinette Monica McDonald.

Delightful Solos

Four delightful vocalizations were given by Miss Sharon Lucy, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Leo Higgs, during the course of the evening.

Following the dinner a social evening and dance was held at Tobe's Country Gardens.

Delightful Tea Held in Aid Of St. Andrew's WMS

On Thursday afternoon, the spacious and attractive home of Mrs. D. L. Fleming, Church Street, was the scene of a delightful tea in aid of the expense fund of the Woman's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church. Miss Helen Blair and Mrs. V. Weir were the conveners for this event, which proved financially successful as well as a pleasant social event.

Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Mantle the W. M. S. president, welcomed the guests while Mrs. J. Reid and Mrs. Thompson acted as treasurers.

Mrs. W. M. Barlow invited the guests to the dining room where gay Spring flowers in a silver bowl centred a festively arranged table.

Pouring tea were, Mrs. I. L. Moore, Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. R. Cameron and Mrs. M. Templer, while the assistants were Mesdames Paragar, Fenson, Wallbridge, McDonald, Bell, Hall and Rogers and Misses L. Weir and M. Mackintosh.

A homecooking table in charge of Mesdames Mills, Miller and Kidd, was kept very busy.

MILLIONS OF EGGS

Lundar, Man. — (CP) — Three million whitefish eggs arrived here recently from the Dauphin River hatchery. The eggs are to be placed in Lake Manitoba near the Swan Creek hatchery, west of Lundar.

The Experts Say . . .

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa (CP)—Here's a tip for bride-to-marry: A family row has started from nothing more than a complaint by the head of the household that his breakfast egg wasn't cooked properly.

And by that they mean an egg which has been cooked at a high temperature which toughens the tender albumen of eggs. All eggs should be cooked at low temperatures.

This applies to custards as well. High temperature or long cooking curdles custard because the egg is toughened and separates from the liquid. While such a mistake cannot be corrected if the custard is baked, on the other hand a custard sauce may be reclaimed by turning immediately into a cold bowl and beating vigorously with a rotary egg-beater.

Eggs au Gratin—Ingredients: four cooked potatoes; one-half cup milk; four green onions (one-half cup chopped); salt and pepper; six hard-cooked eggs; one-half cup grated cheese.

Slice potatoes into a greased casserole. Heat milk and add onions and potatoes. Cover top with sliced hard-cooked eggs. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 25 minutes. Cut eggs in half—lengthwise. Arrange on potatoes, cover with grated cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 minutes in a moderately slow oven at 325 degrees to heat eggs and melt cheese. Yield: six servings.

Cheese and eggs also go together well in a Cheese Souffle.

Ingredients: four tablespoons butter; four tablespoons flour; two cups milk; two cups grated cheese; one-half teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon mustard; one-eighth teaspoon paprika; one-eighth teaspoon soda; three eggs.

Melt fat in pan. Add flour while stirring. When smooth add milk, salt, mustard, paprika and soda. When thickened add grated cheese and stir until smooth. Pour over beaten egg yolks and when blended fold in egg whites stiffly beaten. Pour into a large greased casserole. Set in pan of hot water and bake in oven of 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 45 to 50 minutes until firm. Serves six.

A Spanish Omelet is welcomed as a supper dish by nearly every family.

Pour the following sauce over a plain six-egg omelet: fry eight or nine slices of bacon, then add medium-sized onion sliced. When browned, add three-quarters quart of canned tomatoes, season with cayenne and salt and cook 10 minutes. Then add a small sized can of peas, drained. Mix in the bacon which has been cut in small pieces and small can of mushrooms, cut in half. Cook five or six minutes longer, or until it begins to thicken. Just before removing from fire add 1 1-2 dozen stuffed olives, cut in halves.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

BRITTLE FINGERNAILS

Your nails need an oily soaking

Your good looks reporter is handing along some interesting information given to her by a beautician of national reputation of the fingernails. She says that when they are brittle and break easily it isn't enough to anoint them with cream that is soon wiped away. Human talons need an oily soaking. She suggests that the fingertips be held in hot mineral oil for five or ten minutes just before one goes to bed. Then loose cotton gloves must be slipped on, tied tightly at the wrists to keep the oil out. Well worth trying. Nails that crack and snag are enough to curdle the disposition of an angel.

There never has been a time within our memory when there was so much sobbing and gnashing of teeth about fingernails that have gone dry and colorless. The explanation is not hard to guess. Many women who never held a dishcloth in their hands now without household help, are knuckling down to hard work in the home. They don't realize that having the hands in water robs the skin of natural oil, has a deplorable effect upon the fingernails that need much more attention than if one were a lady of magnificent leisure.

This treatment acts favorably upon the hands as well as the nails, especially if the flesh is anointed lightly with cream. While hand lotion should be used every day, some sort of lubricant is also necessary.

When nails are brittle, the skin is usually dry. That means that, unless there is plenty of creaming or oiling, the cuticle around the nails will thicken, may adhere to the nail fabric. One is likely to be tormented with hangnails, a beauty curse if ever there was one.

In the morning wash the hands with warm soap suds, rinse and dry. With the orangewood stick do little rotary movements from one side of the nail to the other, loosening the softened flesh which is in prime condition for this treatment. If you flush up little rag-tags of skin, snip them away with the curved, needle-point scissors, ends pointing toward the nail base, and being careful not to cause a wound. The flesh surrounding the nails is especially susceptible to infection.

When shaping the nails with metal file or emery board, work from sides to centre. Do not cut down at the sides. If you do that, the flesh will thicken and the nail itself may lose its natural contour.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A Man Who Can't Take Being a Stepfather

The problems that sometimes arise when a woman marries a stepmother are not new. One does not hear so often about the complications that may arise when a man becomes a stepfather.

This more unusual twist to the step-parent situation is described in a letter from a woman of 36, the mother of two young children, who remarried about two years ago after three years of widowhood. Now she is finding that instead of simplifying her life and making it happier by taking a second husband, she has only acquired more problems. In fact, what she seems to have done is to have added a third child to the two she had before, since the man she married is obviously an emotional adolescent, apparently unable to act the part of an adult and unwilling to try and overcome that inability.

When these two were married, the man, who had been a bachelor, moved into the home of the woman who became his wife. He also gave up the work in which he had previously been engaged to take over the business left by his wife's first husband. This business was in a field totally unfamiliar to him, and from what he's not going to like it as well as he thought he would.

Besides his dissatisfaction in this respect, he not only has no interest whatever in making himself a real father to his two stepchildren, but is actually so annoyed by them that he wants nothing to do with them. It is the children, in fact, that seem to be his greatest grievance. Three times in the two years they have been together, he has picked up and left, saying he was upset and was going to stay away to do some thinking. Each time he returned, but on the third occasion he told his wife he only came back because he didn't want to worry his mother.

Now this woman feels the time has come when she must decide whether to go on living with such an unhappy situation, not only for herself, but for her children, or to separate from her husband. "I do not care to think of a divorce," she writes, "but neither do I relish the idea of living under a strain the rest of my life, knowing how he feels towards my children. Also, there are times when I am led to believe that he does not care too much about me. I know just what it means to live alone and I am not afraid of responsibility, since I have most of it anyway. I am an active person and know that I can fill my time with outside activities and work, but this will not fill the need for companionship. Moreover, I don't like to think of all the years ahead of me when I will be alone after my children are living lives of their own."

From the situation as she describes it, it is my feeling that sooner or later, and probably sooner — this woman's husband is going to make some move that will relieve her of the necessity of making any decision herself. In other words, I think it likely that he is going to tell her before long that he wants an end to their marriage. There is, of course, the possibility that, as time goes on, he may become more accustomed to being a husband and a father, a role to which it is not surprising a middle-aged bachelor finds it hard to adjust himself. My suggestion would be that for the time being she let things ride until she sees which way they are moving — toward an adjustment on his part, or a request for his freedom. I think it will be one or the other.

ARMED WITH BAYONET

Toronto, April 11 (CP)— Grant Deuder, 20, was arrested Sunday when police said they saw him armed with a bayonet chasing his father down an east-side Toronto street. Police, who charged the youth with having an offensive weapon, said the chase started following an argument in the father's home.

Basic Beauty

Navy blue crepe dress

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

THIS YEAR THE basic frocks are so pretty that they do not require much dressing up except when one wants to give the costume quite a different appearance.

This one, in navy blue crepe, is cut on easy, wearable lines.

It has a cuffed collar to set off the deep V open neckline. The sleeves are short and flared and the bodice is buttoned in front above a swathed waistline. The skirt has an inverted pleat centre front and a gored back.

Fashion Flashes

SOFT AND BIG RUFFLES mark the trim of a new and pretty advance Summer hat, a cartwheel of cherry-red Milan straw. It is trimmed with a wreath of tiny cherries and gilt leaves.

FILMY FABRICS score for early Spring evenings, especially, at southern and western resorts. White chiffon printed in brown, rust, tan and yellow makes a pretty dance dress, the strapless bodice softly shirred, the skirt moderately full.

ALL SORTS of sensible, clever little novelties are on the way for Summer resort use. As an alternative to the short beach coat, one house will sponsor a big cape-stole with oversized self pockets on the wide panel ends. The fabric is terry cloth in white and colors, and the stole has a hand-knotted fringed edge.

* MOST INTERESTING handbag of the season is a brass-framed calfskin model fashioned after an old-time street lamp. It is cleverly constructed and fitted, too. When open, the top reveals a mirrored panel, key case, lipstick and matches, each in its own compartment. Comb, leather address book and change purse fit into leather slots in the lower section and there is a special cigarette compartment. Bag is leather lined in a contrasting color, and brass trim is non-tarnishable.

Women's Activities

SHANNONVILLE W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of Shannonville United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley MacDonald on Thursday evening. The President Mrs. Frank Dorstator, welcomed the visitors and thanked the hostess for opening her home. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, and also letters of thanks from Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Vivian, Mrs. Charles Kierl, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vivian for cards of sympathy and flowers sent at the time of their father's death. A letter of thanks from Mrs. R. Hinchey for a birthday card was read by the secretary and the enclosed donation of $5.00 was most gratefully received. A letter from the provincial treasurer was also read. The president read a letter from Mrs. Sam Elliott thanking them for the card received when she was ill. Several members gave personal thanks for cards sent when they were sick.

Mrs. Charles Woodcox on behalf of the Girls' Sunshine Club, asked for donations for a home cooking sale to be held at Shannonville market on April 16th, to procure funds for the building of the new Sunday School room; many ladies promised to help. The president announced that the supply secretary is looking for toys and books suitable for children between the ages of six and ten years, and also used hymn-books are urgently needed. Members are asked to bring their donations to the June meeting.

Mrs. Orval Stration kindly consented to act as group leader for the next two months. Mrs. Archie Greatrix gave an interesting synopsis of a chapter of a book on the life of Mr. and Mrs. John Stam, missionaries to China, from the United States, who were murdered by the communists in that country a few years ago. She quoted some of the poetry written by Mrs. Stam when she was Miss Betty Scott, a ministers daughter, which was very beautiful. The offering as received and declared. Mrs. Charles Wood, group leader, took charge of the Easter program, the theme being "Advance in Christian Missions". She was assisted by Mrs. J. A. MacFarlane and Miss Sara Dickney, who gave Bible readings and Mrs. Stanley MacDonald, who gave the prayer response. Easter hymns were used and an interesting reading by Mrs. Wood about a heathen girl who took care of a needy child in her home and extended this service as more room was provided. This was the beginning of a home for friendless children and much good was accomplished in this way.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. Wood using the benediction given in the Missionary Monthly. Grace was sung and refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants and a social time was enjoyed. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert MacFarlane. Easter Thank-offering envelopes are to be brought in.

23 FATALITIES DURING WEEKEND IN EAST CANADA

Nine Persons, Previously Reported Missing, Are Discovered

By The Canadian Press

The discovery of the bodies of nine persons previously reported missing swelled the total of deaths reported in Eastern Canada during Palm Sunday weekend to 23. Five persons died as the result of traffic mishaps—three of them involving bicycles.

A Canadian Press compilation reported 17 deaths in Ontario, four in Quebec, two in Nova Scotia and none in New Brunswick, Cape Breton Island or Newfoundland.

In Toronto James Patrick Murray, 22, was charged by police with murdering his brother-in-law, Rose Wilson, 32, in a flat fight which culminated a family quarrel during a housewarming.

The bodies of two persons were taken from the St. Lawrence River near Montreal on Sunday. One, Joseph Germain Deseves, 65, had been missing since Dec. 4. The other was a male woman found at St. Sulpice, At Ste. Christine, Que., the partly decomposed body of Edmondon Lorange was found on a newly purchased farm.

At Port Hope the body of Jackie Lindsay, five, who disappeared in spring floods in March, 1948, was found at the mouth of the Ganaraska River. A fisherman near Timmins in Northern Ontario hooked the body of a man identified as Pietro Candusio, 67, in the Mattagami River. Near Chalk Riverhillend, in Central Ontario, a body tentatively identified as a fisherman named Hickey, was recovered from a lake. Hickey's boat capsized last fall.

Bodies of three persons were found at Toronto. An unidentified body was found near Bells Island to the feet was taken from the harbor. Another body of elderly Arme Brycklya was found in a city park.

Man Takes Life

The body of William Archibald, 52, missing since April 4, was found beside a bridle path on Toronto Islands.

A dynamite explosion at the Barbour Limited textile plant near Liverpool, N.S., took the life of Norman Whynott, 44, and at Bridgewater, N.S., Franklin Knox, seven, was hit by a motorist. Fifteen months Donald Labourseau, died in a Montreal hospital after an orange had stuck in his throat.

The body of Mrs. Dora Sewer, 53, was found in a pond on her farm near Welland. She had been reported missing on Friday. Daniel Anderson, 27, a Welland Canal worker, was drowned Saturday in the canal near Thorold.

Collision between two shunting trains in railway yards at Belleville caused the death of Hunter Faulkner of Belleville, engineer of one of the locomotives.

Buried While Playing

In two Ontario sawmill accidents Charles Kozlowski was fatally injured near Brantford by a flying piece of wood and Bernard Pfohl, sr., of Gait, was buried under a pile of lumber on which he was playing.

The deaths were reported Saturday by Christine Casey, 13, and Denlea Gauthrid, 14, who were struck near Sturgeon Falls, while riding their bicycles Friday night. And at Colborne George Ireland, 39, was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile and let dying in a ditch.

Mrs. Emily Ludlow, 39, of Oshawa, died in an auto crash several miles west of Oshawa. At Toronto the body of J. W. Tye, 68, was found near railway tracks at suburban Lakeview and police said he was struck either by a train or motorcar.

FRANKFORD

Frankford — The Frankford Lions Club held their bi-monthly meeting in the Community Memorial Hall Wednesday evening. A delicious banquet was enjoyed by all. A sing song was enjoyed led by Lion Bert Carter. Several pranks were carried on, which brought hearty laughs from those present. Highlight of the evening was an address by Mr. Thomas Bate, in which he spoke of his travels through Europe, and conditions as he found them there. The Lions hope at a future date to have Mr. Bate for a return visit when he will show moving pictures he photographed in his travels.

To most people, it would seem that the days of knighthood have vanished forever. However, there is one lady in Frankford who insists that the days of chivalry have not passed away. On Friday afternoon, her favorite pet cat climbed a telegraph pole on Mill Street, and became entangled in the wires. She was truly a "Lady in Distress" until a knight in shining armour, in the person of Carman Grass came to the rescue. Carman climbed the pole, and after some difficulty, brought the wayward pussy safely to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lohnes, and Mrs. Harry Smith called on Mrs. Faith Buck who is ill in Trenton, on Thursday afternoon.

The Young Peoples Union of the Frankford United Church presented their three Act comedy drama "Raggedy Nan," in Ivanhoe Friday night. They plan to present the play in Wellington and Stirling in future dates.

CENTENARY

Centenary — Centenary W. M. S. ladies were guests of the Holloway Street ladies on Tuesday afternoon. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by those present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thrasher entertained a few neighbors on Saturday evening prior to moving to their new home in Belleville. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Woods and Dawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hart and family.

A few of Centenary ladies attended the W. M. S. convention at King St. United Church, Trenton, on Wednesday.

Centenary School is well represented on "Talent Unlimited" for this series. Miss Margaret Moody and the Misses Betty and Gwen Radford are wished every success in the contest for wrist watches.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Woods and Dawn, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Reid, Halloway.

Mrs. J. C. Crombie, Calgary, Alberta, has been visiting for the past week at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Sargent, and family.

A demonstration supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Shortt on Tuesday evening. After the summer, Miss McCormick, of Belleville, showed her product, which was stainless steel. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Christie, Dr. and Mrs. Keith Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jamieson and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hart.

Friends of Mrs. G. Shortt will be glad to hear that she is improved.

WHAT EVERY Middle-Aged Woman SHOULD KNOW!

When tears come too easily . . . when you get upset or panicky over the inexpressible . . . when you feel "all in" and just a bundle of nerves . . . these may be signs of bodily changes which every woman must undergo in her middle years.

But don't be alarmed! Many women pass through this period serenely—by using common sense and taking good care of themselves. Extra sleep, plenty of fresh air and wholesome food are sound rules. And you'll also find a good tonic, such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, is most helpful in building up your vitality and restoring a brighter outlook on life.

For over 50 years, Canadian women have relied on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help overcome a tendency towards nerves and hysteria at such times. Containing Vitamin B1, iron and other needed minerals, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has helped so many to feel better, eat better, feel better—whenever their nerves get on edge and they feel run-down. Let Dr. Chase's Nerve Food help you, too! Get the large "economy" size today. 12

Prime Minister Says Alberta Is Promised Land

Aboard Prime Minister's Train, April 11 — (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday described Alberta as the "land of tomorrow."

Mr. St| Laurent told a press conference aboard the train carrying him on his first invasion of the west since talking office that Alberta holds the promise of making Canada self-sufficient in oil and coal within five years.

The Prime Minister said that this self-sufficiency could loosen dollars to open up new trade possibilities with the United States.

Mr. St. Laurent devoted considerable attention to old age pensions, about which there have been reports of a probable boost to $40 a month from the present $30. The government intended to work towards a goal of a contributory system, like that for unemployment insurance.

He admitted that the more satisfactorily a non-contributory system operates, the longer it will take to condition the mentality of the people to press for the shared system. He said that abolition of the means test, such as has been suggested by some sources, would cost the federal treasury $300,000,000 a year and therefore was not immediately practical.

Among other major points brought out by the prime minister at the conference were these:

1. Canada hopes the North Atlantic Pact will develop an organization capable of "thawing" the cold war enough to allow member countries to press ahead with peaceful development of resources and care of their people.

1. He is not giving out any election date clues.

3. He is not able to comment on the forthcoming prime minister's conference in London this month since the consultations are top secret.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

1889 — 1949

In the years following 1889, the cycling craze swept this continent. Men and women, both young and old took to wheels. For the first time, people began to see the country, and "a demand arose for better roads. The development of automobile transportation in the present century was made possible by further expansion of our highway system and the use of Nickel alloys for important parts of automobiles. The use of these stronger, tougher alloys greatly reduced breakdowns and made the automobile safe and reliable.

How Nickel Benefits Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

Bonefish on The Florida Keys

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT
(World sportsman, author, and creator of Solunar Tables)

Key Largo, Florida:

We have been hearing increasingly more and more about bonefish lately. Until 1947 these salt-water speedsters have been taken mostly with bait. Now and then the plug casters would pick up some of them, but the technique of taking them with artificial lures with any degree of regularity is a very recent thing. Credit goes to one man — Joe Brooks of Miami, formerly of Baltimore, Maryland. This is the story.

So far as we can learn, the first bonefish was taken on a fly by Capt. Will Smith, of Islamorada, about eight years ago. This was in the nature of an experiment on "Smitty," just to see if it could be done. Satisfied with his achievement, Bill lit a pipe at that and nothing more was done about it until Joe Brooks came to Florida in July, 1947.

Last Game Fish

With Capt. Jimmy Albright, of Islamorada, Joe took his fly rod to the bonefish flats and the first day he landed two fairly sizable bonefish on orthodox fly-rod tackle, using a white streamer fly. To his delight, Joe found the bonefish to be a smoakin' the greatest fly-rod fish he had encountered and these two first game fish, either in fresh or salt water, that he has not taken with fly-rod tackle. For several weeks Joe worked on the techniques of fishing for these fish, perfecting his method and learning what he could of their preferences in terminal tackle. He waded the beaches and the inshore flats; he fished with boat captain after boat captain; for weeks he talked, ate, slept and lived bonefish.

Today the boat captains of the Keys, they say, are all out for bonefish as keen a fly rod until two years ago, speak teasgedly of three-diameter fly-line tapers and parabolic fly-rod actions. Moreover, all of them have learned to cast.

That season Joe landed seventy-seven bonefish on fly-rod tackle, and hooked and lost a great many more. A few of the larger fish were killed and brought in to be recorded, but the great majority of them were released. Joe doesn't believe in killing game fish.

First Hand Experience

I had caught bonefish when I was stationed in Florida during World War I, but my tackle was crude and I took them on bait. However, I knew at first hand of their speed and stamina. So here I am at Ray Shuey's ELRETIOR FISHING LODGE on Key Largo, and a more delightful spot would be difficult to imagine. I wanted to see what bonefish would do on fly-rod tackle. Above me, I'm finding out.

Steaks are to be found just across the way at Irene and Bill Turnier's KEY LARGO BAR and GRILL. Turtle steak, snapper dinners, steaks, chops or what do you want— all delicious and very handy.

Jimmy Albright took me out on my first trip. On his big cruiser with a skiff in tow, we sailed some twenty miles out among the keys to a super-special bonefish flat that is pretty much Jimmy's own personal property. There we anchored the big boat and unpoled me about the flat in the skiff.

The wind was fairly brisk, but the fish were on the flats and I managed to present my fly properly to the first pair of cruisers that came within range. One of them followed the fly a short distance and then took it solidly.

Headed for Deep Water

Never will I forget what happened next. With a surging swirl and a shower of spray the fish turned and headed for deep water. Such a thing as checking or stopping that determined, lightning-fast run was impossible. Nothing to do but hold my rod high and watch one hundred yards melt from the drum while the reel screamed and the handle became a revolving blur.

At last he stopped and I fought him back to me until I could see my casting line again. Then off he went for another determined run, this one somewhat shorter. From then on it was a bulldog battle to the net, lasting perhaps twenty minutes. His weight: six and a three-quarter pounds. The next fish was slightly larger, topping the seven pound mark.

Two Large Specimens

Then came the thrill of the day. Jimmy spotted two big cruisers "tailing" up across the flat. He estimated the minimum weight of either at not less than twelve pounds. That falls looked to be at least twelve inches wide.

On the first cast one of them fell on the fly like a wolf on a rabbit, and I set the hook. I thought that the first fish was fast but he was a loafer compared to this one. My two hundred yards or more of line and backing melted from the reel like butter on a hot griddle. Then fortunately, the big fellow reached deep water and slowed down.

He bulldogged for a while and I was able to recover some line. Then came that saddest of all sensations — the line went slack. I reeled in my line and found everything to be intact — he had simply become unstuck! Well— at least the existing fly-rod record of ten pounds, eight ounces was in jeopardy for a few minutes.

A bonefish, like any other game fish, responds perfectly to the Solunar Periods. Joe Brooks had told me that they did, and my experience with them bears out this statement. I'll tell you more about that next week. Meanwhile, let's take a look at Islamorada.

So far, I have hooked five bonefish and landed three. Every single one of these fish were hooked during a major Solunar Period. We have fished for them from early morning until late afternoon but the only "takers" we could find took the fly "on schedule."

Fred Bradley Re-elected Head Of the OBA

Fred Bradley, Hamilton, was re-elected president of the Ontario Baseball Association at the 22nd annual convention of that body held in Peterborough, Friday and Saturday. Bradley was given an acclamation.

W. J. Snyder, Hamilton, secretary of the association since 1933 was re-elected to that post.

The executive elected for comprised of Cy Whatley, Peterborough, Jim Millman, London, Vern Clark, Hamilton and Tony Gress, Wingham.

"The Association has improved its position to a sounder footing," Secretary Snyder told the meeting.

Presenting his report at the 22nd annual meeting of the association, Snyder said it was in a position now to give more boys a chance to participate under proper supervision. Its senior and intermediate members had continued to improve playing conditions in their respective communities, he added.

In closing the two-day meeting, he said there had been 1,183 players registered and applications for change of residence, 126 transfers being granted and six refused. Five players and two clubs were placed under suspension by the executive for violating league rules.

"The association was in a very healthy condition financially," he said. "It closed the year with a fairly good surplus even though we had an operating loss of $153.

The association approved an amendment by the Intercounty Baseball Association in Southwestern Ontario that any player who signed a contract with a professional club, and who is put on the voluntary retired list prior to July 15, can become eligible to play in the OBA when he returns to his home city.

The next annual meeting will be held at Niagara Falls.

The convention attracted one of the largest gatherings of baseball men in Ontario. The executive held forth at 4 p.m. Friday, while a general reception was held on the main floor of the Empress Hotel at 8.30.

General business got under way at 10.15 a.m. Saturday with the session being bandered a luncheon by Mayor Max Swanston and his city council of Peterborough. Mr. Adams Sands acted as chairman and presented a formal welcome on behalf of the city.

The Hon. Leslie Blackwell, K.C., Attorney General of Ontario, was the guest speaker and in a brief but highly interesting address, pointed out the benefits of sports teacher as juvenile delinquency is concerned.

Business was resumed immediately following the luncheon and entertainment.

President Don Thomas and secretary Jack Devine, Belleville, represented the Central Ontario Baseball League, while G. H. Bowen represented the Belleville City and District League. Others from this part of Ontario included former executive member and well-known baseball authority, Ernie Gibbard, Napanee.

Sport Shorts From Britain

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, April 11 (CP)—Korfball doesn't mean much to sporting Britons. But that doesn't matter, say its fans, it soon will.

The game came to stay after Netherlanders demonstrated here two years ago. It's the new sport craze in Holland.

A mixture of netball, basketball and what-have-you, korfball's popularity has blazed a steady, uphill trail. England has has four clubs in south London, a similar number in Rorkshire, and recently eight Cambridge University colleges announced their intention to field a team.

A national team soon will be selected to play Holland.

Korfball (korf is Dutch for basket) is played by teams of 12—six men and six girls—on a pitch 100 yards long and 40 yards wide. The baskets are mounted on posts 11 1-2 feet high. Players claim it is a severer test of fitness than basketball.

Men may defend only against men and girls against girls. The ball may not be carried and must be passed direct to a team-mate. Kicking or punching the ball is forbidden.

The playing field is divided into three sections—defence, midfield and attack; with four players from either side in each. When two goals have been scored the players change sections so that each gets a chance to play every phase of the game.

There's a powerhouse hole-in-one fraternity in Watford's Sun Social and Sports Club. Five to be exact.

The 24-member golf section's duke department stood at a modest two until recently three players each holder in one on the 180-yard 16th of the municipal course. Others may think there's a guiding runway to the 16th but sport circles say: Is this a record? or: What's holding back the other 19?

After four months' absence with a broken leg, Frank Baker has resumed his place in the forward line of Stoke City of the English Football League, first division. Baker, known as the "tin man" because he played last season with a steel shield on an arm that had been broken in two places, is revitalizing the attack.

FAVOR FEWER UNIFORMS

Regina — (CP) — A recommendation that city commissioners negotiate with the firefighters' union to have one dress uniform issued to firemen every three years instead of once a year was approved by council recently. Firemen wear dress uniform to and from work, and other issue clothing on duty.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Augusta, Ga., April 11 (AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa walked into the clubhouse at the Augusta National the other day, brawling and cussing to himself about his terrible round. Gene Sarazen sympathetically asked: "what did you have, Bobby?"... "It was awful, a 74," said Locke. "What did you have?" asked Sarazen admitted he also had a 74... Locke broke into a grin: "Why, that's funny, isn't it?" He exchanged. Bobby finished well down in the Masters tournament with a 74-74-74-72—294.

Fairway Clippings

Lloyd Mangrum was standing on a platform by the scoreboard when Johnny Bulla missed a putt for a birdie and second place on the 18th green. Lloyd, seeing $1,100 almost reduced to about that amount, salamed without saying a word... When big Johnny, who is a good amateur hypnotist in addition to being a professional golfer and a professional airplane pilot, started out, O. B. Keeler asked: "Who are you going to hypnotize today? You have about 30 guys who could use." Paul John replied: "I think I'll hypnotize myself!... Maybe he did when he made that eagle three on the tough eighth.

Short Take

Schoolboy Rowe of Philadelphia's baseball Phillies, another recent Atlanta visitor, says he figures Lake Appling will be the next Chicago White Sox manager "if anything happens to Luke Onslow"... Isn't that setting a new early season record for firing a manager?

TEACH BASIC LAWS

Montreal — (CP) — Extension of school curricula to give everyone a basic understanding of everyday laws was suggested by Mr. W. Jacobs, Montreal lawyer, in a service club address. Ignorance of the law was never accepted in court as an excuse for the laymen, he said.

TRAWLERS BUSY

Lunenburg, N.S. — (CP) — The local trawler fleet reports large catches in the last few weeks. Draggers are doing well, but line fishermen report below-average catch. Skippers claim the Pacific Coast herring bait being used is much tougher than Atlantic seaboard herring bait.

Dick Button Wins Skating Title For Fourth Time

By The Canadian Press

The Englewood, N.J. skater, three-time winner of the North America title and holder of the World and Olympic champion ships, went through a dazzling figure-skating exhibition.

Yvonne Sherman, 18-year-old New Yorker, won senior women's title. Her victory ended the six-year national reign of Boston's Gretchen Merrill, who finished second.

At Hamilton, Shirley Gladding of Stratford, former Ontario ladies' junior badminton champion, won top honors Saturday night in three events of the Waside badminton tournament. She won the ladies singles final by beating Helen MacDonald also of Stratford, 12-10, 11-1. In the ladies' doubles final she paired with Miss MacDonald to eliminate Muriel Sealey and Dorothy O'Loughlin of Hamilton 15-12, 15-11.

With Jack Kelcher of Kitchener as her partner, Miss Gladding defeated Bob Menzies of Kitchener and Dorothy O'Loughlin of Hamilton 15-11, 15-4 to win mixed doubles honors. In the men's doubles, Koehler and Menzies beat Jack Preugsmat and Bill Biddle, both of Kitchener, 17-14, 12-15, 15-8.

Dick Irvin, coach of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League for the last nine years, has been offered a new two-year contract, general manager Frank Selke said Sunday night at Montreal.

Irvin neither rejected nor accepted the contract, said Selke who added: "But he'll be back."

Failure of Ontario Amateur Basketball Association official schedules to appear caused postponement of the second game of the Port Hope-Port Colborne O. A. B. A. Intermediate "C" finals at Port Colborne Saturday night. Port Hope emerged with a 44-27 lead for the second game. It is hoped to have Port Hope return Wednesday night.

At Brampton, Napanee cagers beat out three other teams in a day-long tournament here Saturday to take the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association Junior "B" championship. In the final, Napanee defeated St. Marys, 52-27. In one defeated St. Marys, 52-27. In the semi-finals, Napanee edged Tecumseh, 41-39, and St. Marys handed Brampton a 70-44 trouncing.

At Marseille, France defeated Wales 11-0 Sunday in the season's final Rugby League international match, to emerge as champions in the seasons three-cornered tourney in which England also competed. England finished second and Wales last.

Olympia, the odds-on-favorite, dromped to an easy victory Sunday in the 1 1-16-mile exercise handicap No. 2 at New York's Jamaica track, covering the route in 1:44 2/5 for the fastest time in the stake's brief history. The Kentucky Derby favorite, with Jockey Eddie Arcaro aboard, was never even threatened by four others in the small field.

More than 10,000 soccer fans stormed Glasgow's central station Sunday night to welcome home members of the Scotland team which defeated England 3-1 in London Saturday, winning the British championship. The players, who ended a run of lean years for Scottish soccer, were carried shoulder-high to their cars.

Assumption Wins Ontario Title In Basketball

Windsor, April 11 — (CP) — Assumption College Purple Raiders Saturday night pranced over Toronto Central Y Jaguars, 80-56, to wrap up the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association Senior "A" title in straight games. The raiders won the first contest of the best-of-three series in overtime at Toronto a week ago, 67-65. It was their third such title in four years.

Hero of Saturday's debacle was Baldero Dusky Freddie Thomas who set two scoring records while aiding Assumption to its second 80-point game in the college's history. Thomas counted 47 points for an unofficial Canadian scoring record while boosting his all-time scoring past the 2,000 mark, a figure seldom achieved in college circles.

Thomas, who shot his 1948-49 year collecting to 2,014, to become the first Assumption player to break 2,000, was deadly accurate from all angles. He sank 15 field goals out of 30 attempts while counting 17 penalty shots on 23 throws from the foul line.

Assumption now meets the winner between Montreal, Ottawa and St. John, N.B., at Windsor April 25 in the first game of the best-of-three Eastern Canadian finals.

Dodgers Profit By South Tour

Atlanta, April 11 — (AP) — Brooklyn's southern tour may be the most profitable spring training trip in history.

With seven games to go, four of them in big league parks, the Brooks already have played before 143,060 in exhibition games this spring. The final total should be more than 250,000.

Jackie Robinson, the Negro second baseman, was the big attraction yesterday when 25,221 fans filed their way into Atlanta's Ponce de Leon Park to see the hometown Crackers thump the Dodgers, 6-5.

Despite the threat of a Ku Klux Klan boycott, there was trouble the Dodgers had was in counting the money. They really packed them in.

Negro fans, to the number of 13,885 overflowed the special bleachers in left and right field. They stood 10 deep around the outfield, forcing special ground rules.

The park, which seats 14,900, had about 10,000 extra.

St. Paul Saints Win U.S. Loop

Tulsa, Okla., April 11 (AP) — St. Paul Saints are the 1949 champions of the United States Hockey League.

They won the crown by defeating Tulsa Oilers 5-3 Sunday night in their fourth straight victory of the final playoffs. Tulsa won only the opener in the best-of-seven series.

A savage stick battle involving all players of both teams and both officials delayed Sunday night's game almost half an hour.

Scalp wounds were suffered by Jack McGill, Saints' goalie, and Joe Shertzl of the Oilers, referee Harry Ornest.

St. Paul's Hal Brown scored two goals while Eddie Young and Hal Brown were in the penalty box during the fight.

In the semi-final playoffs St. Paul disposed of Omaha quickly in two straight games and went on to face the Oilers, who had led the southern division most of the season.

O.B.A. PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED

Peterborough, April 11 (CP)—Fred Bradley of Hamilton Saturday was re-elected by acclamation as President of the Ontario Baseball Association. Fred Young of Chippawa was re-elected first Vice-President and William Nickel of Stratford, Second Vice-President.

William J. Snyder was renamed Secretary-Treasurer, a post he has held since 1945.

Brooklyn Dodgers Figured to Win National Loop

Atlanta, Ga., April 11 (AP)—The National League race figures to be a wide open six-team battle with Brooklyn Dodgers having the best chance to win the pennant.

Only Philadelphia and Cincinnati appear out of it. All the others, including Chicago Cubs, had in 1948, rate a tumble. Pittsburgh, the big surprise of last year, could well nip the Dodgers, if the way the finish looks, to the writer, a week before the opener:

1. Brooklyn; 2. Pittsburgh; 3. Boston; 4. St. Louis; 5. Chicago; 6. New York; 7. Philadelphia; 8. Cincinnati.

Most National League managers call 1949 "the year of the big hit." Important factors such as Ewell Blackwell's physical condition, Whitey Kurowski's arm and the comebacks of Pete Reiser and Johnny Russell can upset all calculations.

Despite their third-place finish, behind the champion Boston Braves and St. Louis Cards, it looks as if the Dodgers for the pennant from this corner.

Pitching Good

Brooklyn has no sure 20-game winner like Boston's Johnny Sain but in Ralph Branca and Rex Barney, they have a pair who could be tops. Manager Burt Shotton's pitching with Joe Hatten, Preacher Roe, Hugh Casey and young Carl Erskine to back up the Branca-Barney combination, rates with the best. Perhaps St. Louis has a little more class but its pitching staff is strictly southpaw.

Bill Meyer may be cooking up the surprise of the year for Pittsburgh. He made the experts look bad last year by leading the under-rated Pirates into fourth place. Of season deals for pitchers Murry Dickson, Hugh Casey and Bob Muncrief strengthened the club.

Picking last year's pennant winner for third place is risky business. Manager Billy Southworth has the same club that won in '48 with the addition of Reiser, Russell.

For the Braves it's still Sain and Warren Spahn as the one-two pitching punch.

MUST BE REINSTATED

Toronto, April — (CP) — Former professional soccer players from the United Kingdom must be reinstated as amateurs by their home association before playing for Canadian amateur teams, according to a new ruling by the Dominion Football Association. The order was the result of a ban by the Scottish Football Association that many Canadian players are still registered as pros with Old Country teams.

Contracts were signed Saturday for an international game between Sweden and Newcastle United at Exhibition Park June 15. The park will be opened May 24 with a match between Newcastle and Ontario All-Stars.

Boston Picked To Beat Indians In American

New York, April 11 — (AP) — The American League pennant race figures to be a two - team dog-fight between Boston and Cleveland with the Red Sox getting the nod from this corner.

Philadelphia and New York probably will prove a bit stubborn in the early stages of the campaign, but they lack the all-around class of the men of Joe McCarthy and Lou Boudreau.

As far as the rest of the league is concerned, President Will Harridge might as well grant the clubs a sabbatical leave. Detroit, St. Louis and Washington should rap loudly on Chicago's cellar door, but the White Sox ought to have enough starting power to remain entrenched in the basement.

In the final analysis, the Red Sox' devastating power, plus improved pitching, behind the master-minding of Marse Joe McCarthy, should overcome the Indians' superb pitching, sirtight defence and Boudreau's inspirational leadership.

Here's how the teams should finish: 1. Boston; 2. Cleveland; 3. Philadelphia; 4. New York; 5. Detroit; 6. St. Louis; 7. Washington; 8. Chicago.

Best Pitching Staff

The Indians, undoubtedly have the best pitching staff in baseball. They boast four potential 20-game winners in Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Gene Bearden and Steve Gromek. They have the best infield in the league.

However, there is this to be considered: Every regular member of last year's pennant winning Indians, except Feller, had the greatest season of his career in 1948.

Why the Red Sox? Only a poor beginning cost them the flag last year. At one stage they were in last place, but after the middle of June, they were the best team in the league. This, despite the fact pitchers Tex Hughson, Dave Ferris and Mickey Harris, the stars of the '46 champions, all had ailing arms. From a total of 61 victories in 1946, they slumped to only 17 in 1948, a difference of 45 games.

Hughson, who won only three games last year, has looked like the best pitcher on the staff thus far. Ferris and Harris have been impressive. Jack Kramer (18-5), Joe Dobson (16-10), Mel Parnell (15-8), Ellis Kinder (10-7), Earl Johnson (10-4) and Denny Galehouse are the other holdovers.

It is at the plate, however, where the Sox present their biggest threat. They have several good batters and in redoubtable Ted Williams, they have the greatest hitter in baseball.

Hershey Bears Hold Edge Over Providence Reds

Providence, R.I., April 11 (AP) —Hershey's vastly improved Bears held a 2-1 edge over Providence Reds-today in their American Hockey League best-of-seven Calder Cup series.

The Bears took the series lead Sunday night by pinning a 5-2 defeat on the Reds before 6,507 fans.

The fourth game will be played in Hershey Thursday night.

It was the first some loss for the Reds in 10 playoff games during the last two seasons.

Arnie Kullman netted a 25-foot shot in 40 seconds of the first period to give the Bears a one-goal lead. Then Hershey moved in front 4-0 in the second stanza on Goals by Phil Maloney, Jerry Brown and Kullman.

The Reds, who spread-eagled the Eastern Division in regular season play, fought back in the finale. Eddie Kullman tallied with a 15-foot shot in 38 seconds and Jack Stoddard scored at 6:03.

But the Providence attack slackened and veteran Herb Cain insured the victory for Hershey with a seven-foot tally.

NO TIME TO REDUCE FARM PRODUCTION

Niagara Fall, April 9 (CP) — William P. Watson, livestock commissioner for Ontario, told some 75 farmers here Friday night this is not the time to reduce the production of farm products." Although there was a surplus of United States commodities, he said he thought that commodity prices in Canada would continue at the present high level.

This year — C.C.M. Bicycles are better than ever before — because amazing new improvements are embodied in the new C.C.M.'s for Spring.

The new "Tourist's" Men's and Ladies' models feature a 3-speed gearshift rear hub with brake. And — a front hub combined with a built-in generator producing electricity for the head-light and tail-light.

Also, on the "Tourist" and other models, there are such outstanding new features as:

New Frame of top grade tubing, brazed by a new low-temperature method that makes for a stronger, lighter, livelier C.C.M. Bicycle.

New Frame Angles and Sizes that make for better riding position and more comfortable and easier pedalling.

Front Fork Design with a new taper, curve and caster that give improved steering and an extra-comfortable cushioned ride with noticeable lightness and strength.

Rear Stay Design embodying a new "brazed-up" assembly of strong light-weight material that imparts great strength with resiliency to the whole bicycle.

New Colors, new methods and new strength combine to make the 1949 models of C.C.M. Bicycles the best yet.

And remember there are 3,000 loyal C.C.M. dealers across Canada to give you check-up service and supply tires, accessories and parts.

Toronto Maple Leafs Make it Two Straight Over Detroit In Stanley Cup Final Series

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Detroit, April 9 — (CP) — There isn't much doubt about it — Toronto Maple Leafs are the hockey club of the National Hockey League. They operate in championship form in clubs — down competition.

The Leafs, an unimpressive fourth in the standings after the regular schedule, defeated the league champion, Detroit Red Wings 3-1 here Sunday night to go two games up in their best-of-seven final round Stanley Cup series. They took the opener, 3-2 via the overtime route Friday.

And Leafs can lose an assist to Pittsburgh Hornets, their farm club which didn't make the American Hockey League playoffs. It probably was a good thing because Leafs wouldn't be able to call on Hall (Bud) Smith, 24-year-old Hornet left winger who, so far, has won two of their seven playoff goals.

The kid from Toronto just couldn't stand the Wings Sunday night before a bulging 14,325 crowd, scoring all three goals. It was his second pay-off effort in the Leafs drive for their third straight Stanley Cup.

He almost single-handedly defeated Boston in the fourth game of the Bruins — Leafs semi-final round scoring two goals and assisting in a third as Leafs won it, 3-1.

The Leafs and Wings meet again in Toronto Wednesday and Saturday and — unless the Wings start flapping harder than they have here — it wouldn't surprise anybody if Coach Hap Day's team takes the prized mug as last year — four straight over Detroit. Victory in this series would make Leafs the first club in 22 years (N. H. L. history) to win the cup three times in a row. They defeated Montreal Canadiens in the 1947 series.

A Stalker Throughout

Sunday night's game was a sizzler throughout most of the 60 minutes of play. Leafs, through Smith, went into a 2-0 first period lead and they continued the pressure as if they were trailing.

Smith, who led the A. H. L. scoring with this season with 55 goals and 57 assists for a point total of 112, banged home his final counter at 17:36 of the second period to give the Leafs a 3-0 lead.

Pete Horeck, who was off on the Toronto player's first two goals, partially made up for it at 5:39 of the third session when his drive from near the blueline had goalkeeper Turk Broda beaten all the way.

The Wings took goalkeeper Harry Lumley out with just over a minute to go and they bottled up the Leafs in their own territory but they could not beat goalie Turk Broda. Sid Abel, Red Kelly and Gordie Howe were parked almost on top of the Turk but their drives were beld out.

Joe Primeau scored the sudden-death overtime goal in Friday's game, almost got another in the third period when his rink-length drive missed the empty Detroit net by about five feet.

In six league games this season between the two clubs on Detroit ice, Toronto managed to salvage only one point, a 2-2 draw Jan. 9. And Leafs — who were never able to win three games in a row in the regular schedule — opened the series here with a two-straight record hangover from the Boston series and now they're sung the bell for four in a row.

Lineups:

Toronto— goal, Broda; defence, Boesch, Barilko; centre, Bentley; wings, Klukay, Tingrethal, Thomson, Morton, Watson; Kennedy, Reinicki, Lynn, Macneil, Gardner, Juzda, Reeves, Smith.

Detroit — goal, Lumley; defence, Quackenbush, Kelly; centre McNab; wings, Couture, Podolsky; subs, Stewart, Reise, Lindsay, Geo. Howe, Horeck, Abel, McFadden, Enio, Glover, Reid.

Referee—Frank (King) Clancy. Linesmen — George Hayes and Sammy Babcock.

Penalty—Reinicki.

Albert College Girls Defeated By Owen Sound

Two Central Ontario secondary schools girls' basketball championships were decided here Saturday afternoon.

Marion Ledoucer paced the Midland team, scoring 12 points. Midland was seven points behind at the end of the first quarter, at 13-7. Winona McConnell sank five baskets for Napanee in the quarter.

Napanee was held pointless in the second quarter, while Midland scored seven to take a lead never relinquished, 14-13.

Owen Sound could have won on points scored by Shirley Reid alone. The smooth forward sank nine baskets and three foul shots to rack up 21 of her team's 23 points.

Rae Freeman made the first quarter close, sinking three baskets for Albert College. But Shirley Reid, with three baskets and one foul shot, and June Scott, with one foul shot, ended the quarter, 5-5, in Owen Sound's favor, and Owen Sound increased their lead to end the first half ahead, 13-10.

They boosted the margin to 22-14 after three-quarters of play.

BOY LEFT NOTE

Rythone, Durham, Eng., April 9 — (AP) — Robert Noble testified at an inquest Friday that his 15-year-old son, Thomas, committed suicide after being ordered to get rid of some pet pigeons. He left a note saying: "If I can't keep them I am best out of the way."

Montreal Royals Defeat Barrie By 3-1 Score

Toronto, April 11. (CP)—Montreal Royals, of unknown calibre to Toronto fans today, had proof of their hockey prowess on the record books here.

The Royals got an eye-dull Saturday night when the Royals scored a 3-1 victory over the powerful Barrie Flyers in the opening game of their best-of-seven series for the Eastern Canada Junior hockey title.

The second and third games will be played in Montreal on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The Royals matched speed and ruggedness with the Flyers as they chalked up their 15th playoff win in 14 starts and prevented the Flyers from tying a playoff record.

The Barrie squad had registered 21 straight wins and was one victory away from duplicating a performance by the famous Toronto St. Michael's College majors in the 1933-34 season that has stood for 15 years.

Bert Hirschfield, Neale Langill and Tommy Manastersky tallied for the Royals while Rick Hogg got the lone goal for the Flyers.

22 Penalties Handed Out

Hap Emms' Ontario champions, out of competition for a week, did not play with their accustomed sparkle as the Royals fought through a scoreless first period, went up 1-0 in the second and then outscored the Flyers 2-1 in the third period.

Manastersky, a defenceman, tallied early in the first period on the first period and drew five penalties by bouncing everyone who wore a Barrie sweater.

Decided in Last Minutes

However, the game was only decided in the last few minutes of play when Haschfeld scored on the open Barrie nets, after goalie Gil Mayer had been taken out in favor of a sixth forward.

The Royals were hanging on desperately when Emms yanked Mayer. The Flyers stormed the Montreal nets from the face off but Hirschfeld intercepted the puck, made his way to centre ice and blasted the puck home.

The Royals' second goal, at 1:39 of the third period, was the picture play of the night. Langill, who was fed by Hal Morgan of the Montreal territory and beat Mayer cold.

Then the Flyers put on the pressure. Time and again they drove into Montreal territory, but every time they went in Manasterscy was there to nip them.

The Flyers suffered a severe loss when their ace defenceman, Stan Long, was injured in the first five minutes of play. Long checked Lou Appelby and Appelby fell on top of him. He was taken to hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

Brilliant Little Rookie Praised By Hap Day

Detroit, April 11 (CP)— Coach Hap Day of the Toronto Maple Leafs went all-out for his brilliant little rookie, Sid Smith, Sunday night when the lightweight centre jammed into their dressing room after taking their second straight victory over Detroit in the Stanley Cup hockey finals.

"In all my 25 years in hockey, I can't remember a feat to match the job Sid has done for us in the playoffs," Day said.

"Not with my memory has a young rookie come through like this."

Smith, grinning under his crew haircut and chewing a wad of gum, had just finished whipping three goals past Detroit goalie Harry Lumley—all Toronto got as it took the second game of the cup finals 3-1.

Scoring goals isn't anything new for the 24-year-old kid who is up for his third trial with the Leafs after leading American League scorers with 56 goals and 57 points for Toronto's Pittsburgh farm club.

"I had only one hat trick all season at Pittsburgh," Smith recalled. "It was in a game at Philadelphia. Now I got one in the playoffs. Oh, boy!"

Smith has been out to the minors at the outset of this season, because he needed experience and didn't backcheck as he should.

Best in Leagues

He didn't do anything wrong Sunday night, and he certainly was in the right place at the right time.

Day said he was convinced his club was the best one in the league after the Leafs got rolling in mid-February.

"Veterans who hadn't been hustling started going as they should. We finally convinced them that the reason hockey players wore skates on both shoes was to use them. They're using them now."

"We got beaten. And I haven't any alibis," Ivan said.

"We put out everything we had and it just wasn't enough.

"Centre Howe was below par, but maybe it was on account of the thumb injury he got in the first game of the finals. Our first line was checked awfully close"

NOT AWARE OF INCREASE

Ottawa, April 9 — (CP)—Postmaster-General Bertrand Fridger in the Commons he was not aware of any increase in the cost of money orders or postal notes, but promised to inquire.

He was replying to G. K. Fraser (PC — Peterborough East) who said the cost had gone up April 1.

THREE ON ONE HOOK

Fermantis, Australia —(CP)— Fishermen Ted Nelson caught and landed three sharks on one hook recently. A gummy shark took the bait, a tiger shark grabbed half the gummy and a grey nurse shark grabbed the remainder of the gummy but jammed its jaw into the hook. Nelson hauled the sharks and the remains of the gummy into the boat.

Peterborough Legion Squad Defeats Sarnia

Lindsay, April 11 (CP)—Peterborough Legionnaires defeated Sarnia Sailors, 7-3, here Saturday night to take a two-game lead in their best-of-five series for the OHA Senior "B" title.

Peterborough won the series opener 8-3 here Friday. The third game will be in Sarnia next Friday.

Peterborough kept up the pressure in the middle session and Joe Rochetta counted the third Legion goal after two minutes. Defenseman Johnny Godfrey lobbed in a floater from the blue line to make it 4-0 before Jim Butler opened the scoring for Sarnia at 14:43. Bob Greenlaw scored his third goal of the series before the period ended.

The Sailors ganged in to make it hot for Legion for seven minutes in the third before Legion's Sal Fryia batted one past goalie Jack Rutter. John Needham added Sarnia's second goal with 4 minutes to go. Bob Greenlaw then scored his second last-trick in two nights six seconds later.

Midland Ousted By Gananoque

Oshawa, April 11—Displaying a shade more finish and combination skill, plus a little extra in staying power and speed, Gananoque Legionnaires ousted out Midland Flyers, 6-3, here on Saturday night. It was third and decisive game of the OHA Intermediate "A" semi-final series.

A special trainload of spectators earned an assist on the Gananoque victory. They cheered their heroes urging their squad to victory. The see-saw contest saw the winners come from behind to tie the count in the second period at 2-2 and then win out in the final frame, despite Midland's last-minute rally.

Fate took Hudson's pass to open the scoring early and then Morrison's uncharacteristic miss from Dunkleman, put Midland in front before the next two minutes had elapsed, while Jackson of Gananoque served a penalty.

Hudson fights the tie early in the third and Anderson made it 4-2 but desperate Flyers notched one in the last minutes and the dying seconds saw them send everybody up in a gallant but vain attempt to score the tying goal.

Napanee Cagers Win OBA Crown In Junior Play

Brampton, April 11—Sparked by the steady playing of Captain Alex Elliott, Napanee won the OABA Junior "B" basketball championship in a four-team tournament, played in the Brampton Armories Saturday afternoon and night.

The day-long tourney was a sudden-death affair for Ontario laurels, with Napanee, Tecumseh, St. Marys and Brampton competing. The two semi-finals were run off in the afternoon, with the final and consolation played after a banquet tendered by the Brampton hosts to the visiting teams.

After the final game, which Napanee took from St. Marys by a 52-37 score, Ontario championship crests were presented the victors by Stan Mockford, secretary of the OABA.

The tournament produced several individual stars, with Elliott, Napanee top point-getter, standing out in both games. The hard-playing captain, tallied 16 points to lead his team to a slim 43-39 victory over Tecumseh in the semi-final, and netted 21 points in the final with St. Marys. Maurice Sgarlata led St. Marys with 22 points in the semi-final against Brampton, getting an additional seven in the nightcap with Napanee, before being benched on five fouls.

Missing $50,000, Buried in Vacant Lot, Is Recovered

New York, April 9 — (AP) — Fifty thousand dollars reported missing yesterday at New York International Airport was recovered early today.

Police said an air cargo clerk had admitted taking the money. All of it was recovered buried in a vacant lot.

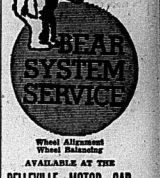
After a night-long investigation police said that Robert J. Murray, 24, a KLM clerk, admitted taking the envelope when he quit work Thursday midnight. Police said Murphy would be arraigned later today.



Police said he led them to a lot about a mile from the entrance of the airport where the envelope was found buried.

The money — 500 $100 bills — was delivered to the airport Thursday night.

It was being sent by an investment banking house to Adler and Company, an investment house in Zurich, Switzerland.

The names of Canada's new oil fields have been heard from coast to coast . . . Leduc, Woodbend, Redwater.

They are fields discovered in the greatest search for oil in Canada's history. Already they have brought benefits to all Canadians; and in the west where they are turning back the tide of expensive imports the direct savings are counted in millions.

But before the fullest benefits can reach everyone even more oil must be found.

The successes of the past two years have been possible because there were people willing to go on risking millions in the search in spite of repeated disappointments.

Now, after the barren years that went before, these new fields seem large—and they are large! But they are far from enough to make Canada self-sufficient.

Canada is still dependent on foreign countries for more than 80 per cent of her oil and so her own resources must be developed. Exploration must be continued. More and more wells must be drilled so that markets can be expanded.

There is not yet enough oil to justify the big investments that will be needed if all Canadians are to enjoy the fullest benefits of western resources. Pipe lines, for instance, cost a lot to build; but over the years they provide low-cost transportation—so necessary to reach out to wider markets. The Edmonton-Regina line planned by Imperial is but a beginning.

Further discoveries are the only means of breaking through the distance barriers that hem prairie oil with transportation costs. The future lies at the point of the drill.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts : : :

While it is now estimated the known oil in Alberta is roughly equal to our needs for the next five years, actually this oil could not be produced efficiently in less than 20 years.

To meet her present oil requirements it has been estimated Canada needs reserves of several billion barrels.

Therefore 480-mile pipe line from Edmonton to Regina is expected to be in operation by the end of next year. Cost is estimated at between $35 and $40 million. It is a step towards wider markets.

Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

So you think you are a bridge player. And may your confidence never grow less. Even if you have a tough time handling this deal:

SOUTH

♣None

Sit south as declarer and make a small slam in spades. Queen of clubs was the opening lead from west. Now study first of all what you may be up against.

The three dummy clubs can be ruffed in south. The three hearts are solid. There is no worry if opponent discards will split three and two. Because you could then afford to lose a trump trick.

There may even be a chance for 13 tricks if trump king is caught in a finesse. If not, the loss of a trump trick will still make your contract. Assuming, of course, that you lose no diamonds.

So, you ruff trick one and lead spade queen. West refuses to cover. Dummy ducks. The trump queen stands up for a trick. But up jumps the devil. East shows out in the first trump round.

This tells you that west has four trumps to the king. He can duck three trump tricks. By then the dummy ace must play. It looks as if west can lay off long enough to make his king.

So, it is important to know how the diamonds stand. If you can keep from losing no diamonds, you can let west make his king. You will then have the 12 tricks needed for your contract.

You find out the bad news when two diamond rounds are taken. It reveals that west will have a diamond trick. And loss of both a diamond and a trump will wreck your contract. Try to prevent it.

Would you sit there and say the taking of 12 tricks was not possible in this case. Assuming, of course, that opponents play their best and put forth every possible defense.

Despite anything opponents try to do, there is a plan that will win. Find it.

Hollywood, April 11 — (AP) — Ah, there's good news tonight for bobbysoxers. Van Johnson and Peter Lawford will star in a film together.

The two heroes of the adolescents are slated for "Please Believe Me," in which they'll struggle for the hand of Deborah Kerr. It's a story about a British girl who inherits a vast ranch in Texas.

Noted About
Robert Montgomery is heading for Britain. He has written a screen play which he'll direct and star in over there. It's called "Be My Love." The rest of the cast will be British.

Bob Taylor, Fred MacMurray, Walter Pidgeon and Peter Lawford put on one of the funniest acts Tuesday night. They were rehearsing their song-and-dance act for the Friar's Frolic this Saturday night. They'll be joined by Van Johnson, Ray Milland, James Stewart and Robert Montgomery for the highest prices chorus line of all time. Barbara Stanwyck was among those watching the hilarious antics.

Across a studio street I found a ballet team of no small proportion rehearsing. Among the sylphs were Rod Cameron, Dennis O'Keefe, Brian Aherne, Cesar Romero, Jack Oakie and Buster Keaton. The show will benefit the motion picture relief fund. Ho-hum.

Jeanette MacDonald, who used to be married to Lotte Lehmann, told me she won't be doing another film until November.

Maureen O'Hara is seeking a divorce from Charles Blyth of Fullback.

Van Johnson reports that his stock with his stepchildren has risen considerably. He took the boys to the circus and Gene Autry and Clyde Beatty came over to sit with them. The boys think Van is an important man now.

5 Men Injured When Mine Pump Falls Down Shaft

Sudbury, April 11 (CP)—Five men were injured and six others escaped possible serious injuries here Saturday when a 500-pound mine pump hurtled 2,400 feet down the main shaft of the property of the International Nickel Company.

Elito Buncle had his right arm severed by falling pieces of metal and concrete which battered against the hat will while falling. The four others injured, Robert B. M. Hines, D. McIvor and t. Vokes, suffered lacerations. All five are in hospital.

Company officials said the men were working on a blast off a round at the 2,400-foot level during shaft sinking operations. The pump was fastened to the bottom of the skip to keep the bottom of the shaft pumped out.

The skip was taken to the surface for unloading. The cable holding the pump became fouled and was severed. The pump hurtled down the shaft, breaking up as it struck the side walls.

Company officials are investigating the accident.

Cool Reception

"The Ivy Green," a play based on the life of Charles Dickens which had its premiere in London, Ont., last month, got a chilly reception from New York critics on arrival here. The New York Post's Richard Watts, Jr., termed it "tedious and woe-begone." John Chapman of the News, found it shows Charles Dickens as a bore. But the reviewers generally commended Stewart Chaney's admirable setting and costumes.

In Manhattan: 'The Traitor' Intelligent And Absorbing Play

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, April 11 (CP) — In "The Traitor," Herman Wouk has written an intelligent and absorbing play about national loyalties in the now atomic era.

"The Traitor," the new production at the 48th Street Theatre, is a tense melodrama.

The central character, Professor Alden Carr, has decided to turn over to Russia the secret of a new, cheaper process for manufacture of atomic bombs. He reasons that once both Russia and the United States have the bomb, peace will be assured because the strength of the two major powers will be eventually balanced.

But naval intelligence, aided by a Geiger counter, gets on the professor's track. Finally Carr redeems himself by enabling the intelligence men to catch the agent. It costs him his life.

Hunters Veneers Becomes Name Of New Firm

Tweed — (Special) — It was announced during the week that the veneer firm of Hunter and Roberts will henceforth be known as Hunter Veneers Ltd. Mr. Harold Roberts has disposed of his interests and will no longer be associated with the firm. He expects to resume his legal practice in due course.

Mr. Kent Hunter will be the new president of the firm and his brother, Robert J. Hunter, will be secretary treasurer. The latter has been identified with Hendry's Ltd., Toronto, cartage agents for the C.N.R., as company trouller, for some years. He has been making his home at Oakville where he is deputy reeve at the present time.

He was president of Oakville baseball club, provincial champions last year, and is identified with the Rotary Club and Sports Club and has been one of the active citizens of Oakville. He is married and has one son, Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will be arriving in Tweed shortly and will reside in Ambrose Trudeau's residence on North Victoria St., which they purchased recently.

Original Plant Destroyed by Fire

Messrs. Hunter and Roberts purchased the veneer and cheese box factory at Lost Channel from Mr. Dalton Clark in September 1946, but it was only six months later in March 1947, that the plant was totally destroyed by fire. They acquired the old C.N.R. engine round - house in Tweed from Emerson Hodgins and with the addition of new equipment and improvement to the building they were operating again in Tweed in June of the same year. Staff Increased

In 1948 they purchased a modern drier at Jamestown, New York, while other new machinery has been added at intervals. The original staff at Lost Channel has been increased to 35 men and at the present time, it is one of Tweed's most substantial and growing industries.

Southern Poplar Imported

Within recent months the firm has been importing poplar logs from the southern states, as this type of veneer has been finding a ready market with furniture factories in Western Ontario. Before entering the veneer business with Mr. Hunter Mr. Roberts was a member of the legal department of the National Trust Co. for 18 years. Since coming to Tweed both he and Mrs. Roberts have been popular citizens. Mr. Roberts is also a member of Tweed Consolidated School Board and is warden of St. James' Anglican Church.

THOUSANDS

Berry's plight began 25 years ago when he befriended a flock of a dozen geese. Since then the flock has grown and they keep ploughing at the Berry farm.

Berry's representative in the Commons, R. M. Warren, a freshrew North Liberal, appealed to Health Minister Martin to do something about the birds. Mr. Martin said he would refer the matter to the Agriculture and Resources Department.

Provide Grain For Geese

Meanwhile on Sunday, Ontario wildlife officers, armed with the 90 bags of grain, rushed to the Berry farm to provide free food for the hungry birds and so save the fields from devastation.

Members of the Renfrew Fish and Game Club and Ottawa Fish and Game Association helped the officers.

Each year they arrive with the thousands of Canada geese, remain for two or three weeks before moving northward. Luckily, they don't stay on their way south.

This was the first year the Ontario wildlife department has fed them, to save the young grass and clover in the meadows.

There was some discussion on the Berry farm yesterday on the possibility of building a sanctuary at Murkrat Lake for the protection of the birds against poachers.

Mackenzie's Column: Cyrenaica May be New Kingdom In Mediterranean

(By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Disposition of Italy's African colonies may see the birth of a new kingdom in the Mediterranean country of Cyrenaica under the Emir Seyid Mohammed Idris Al Senussi, lay priestly Arab sonage who is regarded as both religious and temporal ruler by his people.

The question of the colonies is now before the political committee of the United Nations General Assembly The United States has proposed that Cyrenaica, which is the eastern portion of Libya, be placed under British trusteeship.

Britain has two reasons for facing this solution. One is that during the war she promised the Senussi (a moslem religious sect of Arabs) that ever again would they be returned to Italian rule. The other, perhaps more significant, is that Cyrenaica is a powerful military base, dominating the main shipping route through the Mediterranean.

Laughed at Duce

In December 1943, I asked the Grand Senussi what he thought of Benito Mussolini's assumption of the title of "Protector of Islam" in connection with Il Duce's colonization scheme in Cyrenaica. The Nir laughed heartily.

It's the sort of thing which would only be done by a stupid person like Mussolini. No one could be a protector of Islam unless he embraced Islam. He also alluded to the position of Protector by his followers. Every Moslem knows that, and so Il Duce's title is an empty as his head."

The Senussi suffered cruelly at Mussolini drove them out from their fertile farms. Natives told me that thousands of their people perished in the desert to which they were driven without the wherewithal to care for themselves. Thousands more are said to have died in Italian Marshal Graziani's concentration camps.

At long last the war ended, and the Senussi who had survived began coming back from their desert hideouts and took possession of their farms; I saw them laboring diligently to reclaim their own. They were plowing with primitive sticks, drawn by donkeys or camels, just as did their forbears thousands of years ago.

Now the Senussi are looking for their own government. I am told by a reliable source that if Britain is given the mandate she likely will recognize the Grand Senussi as head of state and help him form a government which would work with British guidance.

German Press Attacks Treaty Offered by West

Bonn, Germany, April 11 (AP) — The Western Allies have given Germany a treaty returning a measure of self-government that defeated country. But the Germans say it doesn't give them enough freedom to run their own affairs.

The treaty — called on occupation statute — was handed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, chief executive of the German parliamentary council, by the three high commissioners of Britain, the United States and France.

The parliamentary council is charged with writing a constitution for a German republic composed of the occupation zones of the three western powers. The occupation statute is needed before the constitution can be put into effect. Adenauer promised to set up. This may be by July 1.

Research Control

The Berlin Social Demokrat, organ of the Social Democratic party, called allied control of scientific research "intolerable" and declared that German economy will be able to complete on world markets only if it is allowed to develop its industries "realistically."

Allied control of research was intended to prevent German development of any new means of war potential.

Under the statute the Germans will have full rule in the Ruhr-Iron and steel centre which was the German arsenal in the last two wars — but will decide what big business trusts should be broken up; alleged persons will continue an allied responsibility as will the custody of convicted war criminals.

Respect for Constitution

One provision of the statute gives the allies the right to enforce respect for the constitution." This will enable them to break up any attempt to seize power by either fascists or communists.

The allies can reassume complete control in Germany if that should prove necessary for their own safety. They may also veto any German law they consider inconsistent with the new constitution or "the basic purpose of the occupation."

Friday is Set As Deadline For Answer

Nanking, April 11 — (AP) — Semi-official sources said today the Communists had postponed until Friday the deadline for the government's answer to peace proposals.

Originally the answer to the Red demand for virtual surrender of government troops was due tomorrow.

Assurances have been given, Chinese sources said, that the Reds will not cross the Yangtze River before Friday.

The sound of artillery fire was audiable in Nanking Sunday night. Red troops attacked a Nationalist bridgehead on the north side of the Yangtze six miles from the city.

The capital was jittery. The whole Yangtze front extending from the sea inland 650 miles looked for the Communist smash southward.

Newspapers said Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung was taking an active part in peace talks at Peiping. They said Mao conferred Friday with Nationalist delegation chairman Chang Chih-Chung and with other National negotiators Saturday.

The main point being discussed by Nationalist generals here today was concessions to be made on the Communist demand for joint reorganization of the army. Only Gen. Tan Gen-Po, supreme commander of the Hangchow-Nanking-Shanghai area, was not present, he was at Chinkiang directing the defence of the vital Kwachow Highhead, 40 miles northeast of Nanking.

Communist troops still were attacking east from Icheng toward Kwachow. Capture of the bridgehead would give the Reds artillery positions that would allow them to disrupt traffic on the railroad to Shanghai.

FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN NAMED

St. John's, April 11 — (CP) — Addison Bown, former newspaper man, Sunday night was appointed supply minister in the interim cabinet that is governing Newfoundland until a provincial government is elected. Premier Smallwood announced the appointment of Mr. Bown, former editor of the weekly Bell Islander. Nine other ministers had been appointed earlier.

U.S. AIR FORCE WORKING OUT NEW BOMB ATTACK

Will Fit Ultra-Long-Range B-36 Strategic Warplanes

Washington, April 11—(AP)—The United States Air Force is working out a completely new bombing attack technique to fit its ultra-range B-36 strategic warplanes.

Because the six-engined B-36 bomber operates so high and so far it was necessary to build an aerial camera which could take pictures at altitudes of more than eight miles to show targets and attack results on those targets, Maj.-Gen. C. B. Stone of the U.S.A.F.'s Air Material Command disclosed.

He explained that with the new K140 cameras the B-36s could "come in, take a picture and go out without being caught."

No other existing plane in the U.S.A.F. can fly as far as the B-36. It was designed for 10,000 miles and some airmen believe it eventually can exceed 12,000. Therefore only a B-36 can be used for the reconnaissance essential to any strategic attack.

In bombing attacks a preliminary flight is made by planes to photograph and study with radar prospective target. Then the bombing mission itself is made.

This is followed by another reconnaissance flight to determine the result of the attack and show whether further bombardment is needed.

Must Divert Part

The U.S.A.F. is confronted with the fact that it must divert part of its B-36 fleet from bombing to reconnaissance missions. The U.S.A.F. has announced plans, up to now, for only four B-36 wings. With these wings at the newly-planned strength of 30 planes a wing, the U.S.A.F. would have a total of about 120 B-36s. Because of the demands for reconnaissance less than half of the force might be available for bomb-carrying missions.

There is an encouraging factor, however. The B-36 is intended to carry with atomic bombs. The average target will require only one or part of these mass-destruction missiles.

The strategic attack with B-36s may be made by small emissions or perhaps by only single planes, as in the case of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Flying at extreme altitude, because with an atomic bomb pinpoint hits are not essential, the B-36s would come in over the target from different approaches at different times.

FATHER DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Montreal, April 11 — (CP) — Police said Sunday night they were holding Stanislas Coulambe, 25, as a material witness in the death earlier Sunday of his 65-year-old father who is believed to have died from a heart attack during a family quarrel.

STAMPS FOR SALE

London, April 11 (Reuters) — A collection of air mail stamps and covers estimated to be worth £100,000 ($400,000) is being put up for sale in Britain. The collection was formed by the late Sir W. Lindsay Everard, pioneer private flier and founder of the Royal Aero Club in London for five years.

CANNOT FILL CONTRACT. CANADIANS EAT MORE PORK

Carp, Ont., April 11 — (CP) — Agricultural Minister Gardiner said in a speech here Saturday that because Canadians were eating 100 per cent more pork products than in pre-war days, Canada will be unable to fulfil her 160,000,000-pound bacon contract with the United Kingdom this year. However, he believed that the total amount called for in the contract might be made up by deliveries after the contract period had ended.

72 DEGREES AT EDMONTON RECORD

Edmonton, April 11 — (CP) — The mercury broke a 60-year record for April 10 by soaring to 72 degrees in Edmonton Sunday. Highest for April 10 was 74 degrees in 1889.

Charge is Robbery With Violence

Toronto, April 11 — (CP) — Stephen Golansky, 24, was arrested Saturday and charged with robbery with violence following an attack on James Ashley in a steam bath. Ashley, now in hospital with severe head injuries, lost $500 and boat tickets to Liverpool. He was scheduled to leave for New York Sunday.

24 BOATS DESTROYED

East Norwalk, Conn., April 11 — (AP) — One man was fatally burned and another severely injured when flames swept through a boatyard here yesterday. Joseph Ubil, proprietor of the yard, died in hospital. Thirty-four boats were destroyed. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

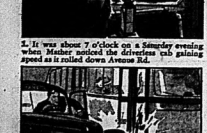
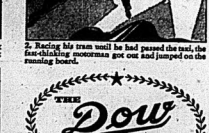
HEROIC TRAM MOTORMAN HALTS DRIVERLESS TAXI

WINS DOW AWARD

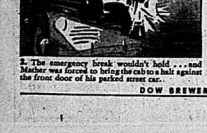


S. B. MATHER

Bright runaway cab to stop applied parked street car



One day in May Yonge Street car, S. B. Mather noticed a taxi standing still — with no driver — careening down Avenue Road! Realizing the disaster it could cause, Mather left his street car until he had passed the taxi. Then, stepping his tram, he rushed out... leaped on the taxi's running board and got the door open. With difficulty he managed to get inside, grab the wheel and bring the cab to a halt.



S. B. Mather has been given The Dow Award.

1. It was about 7 o'clock on a Saturday evening when Mather noticed the driverless cab gaining speed at Bloor and Avenue Rd.

2. Racing his tram until he had passed the taxi, the fast-thinking motorman got out and jumped on the running board.

3. The emergency break wouldn't hold . . . and Mather was forced to bring the cab to a halt against the front door of his parked street car.

THE DOW AWARD is a lifetime memorial for acts of outstanding courage and initiative in Civil Canadian Industry. The Dow Award is presented to a group of workers of leading Canadian manufacturing, service or transportation companies made by a nationwide, known name company.

COOL PERFORMANCE

Oslo — (CP) — Spectators at a recent ski-jumping competition here were treated to a seldom-seen exhibition of steel nerves and skill when Thorleif Mostue lost his skis in the mid-air. Placing both feet on the remaining ski he completed a 218-foot jump in perfect form.

INGENIOUS INVALID

New Plymouth, N.Z. — (CP) — P. Wakeman, an invalid who lives in a cliff-top home near here, has devised a method of fishing without leaving his bed. He has built a submerged cable and pulleys running to a rock under the sea he supplies enough fish for his neighbors.

LESS SAF

Embro, Ont. — (CP) — Fewer maple trees have been tapped in the Embro district this year than in former years. The sap season this year is expected to be short because of the arrival of warmer weather.

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

"I'm not going to make a scene," said Lucia. "You told me you didn't love Gay. You said she only fascinated you. Do you hear that, Gay? You can make your choice now, Alan."

Gay nodded her head. "He has made his choice. It's you he wants, Lucia, you and your money and the polo ponies you're going to give him as a wedding gift. I came tonight only to show you my friends that I haven't spent my time weeping over a broken life and a broken love."

Alan's hand touched Gay in a gesture of apology.

"It's all right," she said.

She opened the door and looked back at them — looked at a man marrying a woman's money and a woman buying a man's love. She felt a wave of pity for them. What has Chris said? "I don't want possession."

"I don't know," she said quietly, "that I want back what I lost. I might lose the clear vision that has come to me lately."

She found Chris at the bar.

"We're going."

"That suits me fine," he said. "If this is an example of the best society, I'll take Penny's parties any time. Let's go out and get a can of coffee and some spaghetti."

In a basement restaurant where the coffee was served in enormous mugs and the table cloths were red-checked, Chris said, through the smoke of his cigarette, "something upset you?"

She laughed quietly. It was good to laugh with Chris looking at you. It was good to be sitting in a shabby restaurant at one o'clock in the morning with a plate of spaghetti before you, with the candles on the table flickering, and looking at a man who had wisdom and gentleness and who had dark eyes with hidden warmth and meaning.

A man and Eric came to. The bell clanged loudly and the short stout Italian proprietor fluttered excitedly about them.

The man was Mac Boulton. He nodded to Chris and Gay.

Chris said: "There's a guy who thinks he's heaven's gift to women. I'd like to take a poke at his manly jaw and tell him that Penny, who loves him, is a thoroughbred of the first rank."

At the door of her apartment Gay said, "Thank you for going with me. Thanks for the lovely orchids."

"I never sent a girl orchids before," said Chris.

He looked down at her, at the bright color of her hair and at the proud chin tilted in the warmth of the ermine collar. It was no good, he thought. He couldn't run away from loving Gay. He could move, he could get a newspaper job in China, but Gay, happy and solemn and angry, would follow him. And in the play he was writing was all his love, was all he could not, would not say.

For a minute, a stirring exciting minute, they stood there. And Chris Mallory, with a gesture that sent Gay into the little apartment with a feeling that was close to reverence for him took her hand and kissed the palm. He said a short "Goodnight", and left her, but Gay felt, tiptoeing in last she awaken Diana, a higher sensation for Chris's little gesture than all Alan's passionate words whispered close to her face.

The next night it was raining when she left the store. She hesitated a moment, seeing a low roadster draw up at the curb. Alan got out.

"You're coming with me, Gay."

"I'm not."

But he took her arm and led her to the car.

"You're so obstinate that kidnapping was the only solution," said Alan.

"I'm taking you to dinner."

The working girl who needs a substantial dinner after parading all day long in shoes by Fifth Avenue wheels."

She was wearing a brown sport coat, a brown felt hat, and a green scarf tied close to her chin. "I'm sorry about last night," he said.

"I'm not sorry." Her eyes beneath the brim of the little hat were clear and grave. "And now—now will you please take me home, Alan?. Home," she said smiling "is a flimsy little place. You go up two flights of dark stairs and we have two rooms, kitchen and bath. There's everything wrong with it. But it's home. After the store all day, it's good to get back to."

He frowned. "You've changed."

Gay laughed quietly. "I've been smacked in the face so many times, Alan, and my pride flattened to nothing. But this life is fun in a way. Mother and I talk about making over our clothes. We get a tremendous kick out of putting a few dollars in the bank each week, and having ice cream for dessert is a luxury. You're not taking me in the direction of home, Alan."

"I told you I was taking you to dinner."

"I like little restaurants," said Gay, "with checkered tablecloths and Italian proprietors. You see, I've become a snob. I'm afraid of common people."

"You'll always be my Gay to me."

Diana was out when, later, she got home, her head ringing with all that Alan had said. She heard the fast click of Chris's typewriter from the next room. Chris —writing a happy ending to her love story.

The next night the rain had turned to sleet, and when she came out of the store, Alan was waiting for her again.

"I told you you again," she said, standing in the hall downstairs when he brought her home. "Alan, don't kiss me."

But she knew she wanted him to kiss her and she knew that whenever he came for her, she would go with him.

She saw Chris several times the next week. Afterward she was to remember being with him at this time, remember how they walked down the avenue on clear and rainy autumn nights, pausing to look into shop windows and stopping in at a certain small restaurant for coffee and sandwiches.

And Gay found herself so lost in his charm and personality and honesty that the misery of her own narrowed existence vanished when she was with him.

And while he was taking from these informal meetings things from his conversation he would always remember, Chris Mallory was falling in love more deeply, more passionately than he had ever dreamed.

Diana Chris. Their names echoed through Gay's mind when the gaunt house was quiet and Diana slept the sleep of the weary that led to bed. But it was not Diana she kept awake for. Alan always thought — his dark good looks, his firm hand under her. Faith might be torn and rent, but the soul of Gay who had fashioned a man from her young dreams still stubbornly and loyally loved that man.

But she always thought of the things Chris had said. She had no memories, as with Alan, of dancing with Chris on terraces where the fragrance of wet flowers was heavy in the air She had never sat on a yacht beneath a galaxy of stars with Chris.

When Gay came out of the store one night, Alan was waiting again. He took her to a crowded restaurant unfrequented by his friends where an orchestra played harsh music and where people with tired faces brushed by their table. He was safe here, she thought. There was no one here who would be back to his friends and to Lucia the news that he was dining with her.

She drank a cocktail and leaned forward a little.

"I can't give you up. You can't play the game at both ends, Alan."

"I can't give you up, Gay."

"You told Lucia I only fascinated you."

He smiled. "I couldn't tell her I was still in love with you." He took her hand. There is a way out for us, Gay. It's crude, I admit, but it is a way out. I'll marry her because she wants me. She can't love me, so she be lower. But it won't last. It can't. There is nothing to hold us together. She'll get sore over me, else, she'll want to display as one of her possessions and we'll be divorced. With the money she settles on me, you and I.

"No. This isn't you talking this way to me, Alan. I couldn't love you. We look darling. We love each other. There are no doubts there."

"But this is terribly unfair to Lucia."

Alan said, "Eat your dinner, darling.

A minute ago it had seemed that only she and Alan were in the smoky little restaurant. But suddenly she looked up and saw Chris coming toward them; Chris wearing an old trench coat; Chris who looked tired and angry and at the end of his patience.

He made no polite preface and his voice was conveyed by the orchestra to the other people as he stood over the table where Gay and Alan sat and said, "You're not going to finish your dinner, Gay. You're coming with me."

"I beg your pardon," Alan said.

"I said she's coming with me," said Chris.

"Aren't you being a bit hasty?"

"Are you ready, Gay?" Chris asked. Her eyes looked frightened, but resolute. He turned to Alan again. "I'm making this my business whether it is or not. I want you to stay away from her. I want you to stop shielding your cowardice and selfishness with pretty stories for her. She believes that she's in love with you. If you were half the person her imagination has made you, you'd get a job and marry her. But you're going to do the soft thing. You're going to marry money, but you still want to see Gay and take her to places like this because you're ashamed of her!"

Alan got up.

Reds Back up Peace Demands With New Drives

Nanking, April 11 — (AP) — China's top communist promised a "lenient settlement" of the bloody Civil War. But the Reds backed up their peace demands with new assaults across Nanking-Hankow railroad and Yangtze River on a 650-mile front.

Mao Tze-Tung insisted, however, that the communist 8-point peace demands be the basis for peace agreement. In their original form, these demands would amount to complete nationalist capitulation.

Replying to a message from the Nationalists' acting president, Li Tsung-Jen, the No. 1 red said he sees no obstacle to a peace agreement since the Nanking government has accepted his eight points as the basis for opening negotiations in Peiping.

Li telegraphed Mao Friday in a dramatic offer to be "burned in oil" if that would help achieve peace. He expressed his determination to "sacrifice myself to overcome the most difficult obstacle in the peace talks."

The acting president was referring to the red demand for surrender of nationalist "war criminals." On this crucial point, Mao was adamant today that it also be settled in accordance with his original eight demands.

(Exactly how the red chieftain's promise of leniency would fit in here was not clear. One of the eight demands has been for the government to turn over all those on the "war criminals" list, including Chiang Kai-Shek.

Mao concluded by declaring the communists' willingness to join with all patriotic and democratic Chinese for attainment of peace.

DOUBLY WARM

Regina — (CP) — At least one Regina man was taking no chances with the recent early spring weather. Despite a warm sun and temperature of 41 degrees, he wore large green earmuffs as he strolled down Eleventh Avenue. His ears weren't cold, he said. Naturally.

Penman's Strike Settled Without Wage Increases

Paris, Ont., April 11 (CP) — The strike at the Penman's Limited mills started last Jan. 10 is over, settled Saturday without granting of union demands for wage increases of 15 cents an hour and for union security.

Union sources said the settlement terms included a "no discrimination" clause. Thus the 325 workers the union claims answered the strike call will be eligible to be rehired. Company officials said, however, that there are insufficient vacancies for all strikers to return to work immediately.

MORE TROLLEY COACHES

Halifax — (CP) — Issuguration of a fourth line in Halifax's new trolley coach service took place recently when the No. 9 trolley line, running from Robie and Duffus Streets to Tower Road was put into service.

A number of persons, mostly union members, were arrested. They were charged with intimidation, assault and creating public disturbance. Feelings over the strike lasses ran high and many families in this town of 5,000 persons were divided in their attitude toward the strike.

At one time the union threatened to extend the strike to nearby Brantford by calling out employees of the Watson Manufacturing Company, a Penman-owned plant. The threat was not carried out, as Watson employees now have their own wage demands — similar to those at Paris — before a conciliation board.

The settlement was effected through the offices of Labor Minister Daley, without any direct contact between company and union.

Truman Asks Senate to Approve Treaty

North Atlantic Pact Designed to Balk Red Terror

Must Continue Peace Efforts Says President

Washington, April 12 — (AP) — President Truman called on the Senate today to approve the North Atlantic Treaty as a means of preventing Russian communism from smashing the free nations of Western Europe as it has those in the east.

"The people of the North Atlantic community have seen solemn agreements, designed to assure peace and the rights of small nations, broken one by one and the peoples of those nations deprived of freedom by terror and oppression," Truman said in a message.

"They are resolved that their nations shall not, one by one, suffer the same fate."

Deals with Realities

The president sent his message to the Senate along with the text of the treaty and a report on it by State Secretary Dean Acheson.

In a message, Truman said the treaty deals with the "realities of the situation we face today." He also said it is set up "within the terms of the United Nations Charter and the constitution of the United States."

"This treaty is only one step—though a long one—on the road to peace," the president said.

"No single action, no matter how significant, will achieve peace. We must continue to work patiently and carefully, advancing with practical, realistic steps in the light of circumstances and events as they occur, building the structure of peace soundly and slowly."

Signed by 12 Nations

The treaty was signed here by 12 nations on Monday last week. It pledged them to aid each other in event that one of them is attacked by an aggressor.

The second binding pact on the United States, the treaty must receive the Senate's ratification. That means approval by a two-thirds vote.

DOMINION CAN IMPORT 25 P.C. MORE MOTOR CARS

Canada's Trading Position With United States Shows Improvement

Ottawa, April 12 (CP)—Twin developments indicating a still further improvement in Canada's trading position with the United States were announced Monday by the government.

Finance Minister Abbott disclosed that Canada's reserves of gold and U. S. Dollars climbed from $696,000,000 on Dec. 31 last to $1,067,000,000 at March 31, an increase of $69,000,000.

At the same time, the trade department made a partial relaxation in import restrictions against American - made motor vehicles, allowing importers to bring in 25 per cent more shiny mobiles and trucks from the United States, effective immediately.

Mr. Abbott's announcement stirred speculation as to whether the government might not soon grant even further relaxation, perhaps increasing the amount of U.S. dollars individual Canadians are allowed—$15 a year—for pleasure travel across the border.

The finance minister said that at $1,067,000,000 the country's gold-dollar holdings were $459,000,000 better than they were at March 31 last year, when they totalled $608,000,000. They have dropped below the $500,000,000 mark when the dollar-conserving import restrictions were applied in November, 1947.

See Great Benefit In Mutual Trade Of UK and Canada

London, April 12 — (CP) — The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial commenting on the government's appeal yesterday for expanded exports to Canada and the United Stays, says that "the greatest mutual benefit" would be derived from development of trade with Canada.

The editorial says that "Canada is very largely dependent on this country as an outlet for her exportable surplus but the dollar shortage is preventing us from taking anything nearly proportionate which she is anxious to send.

"The Daily Express more elaborate campaign, announced by Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, that it is 'about time too.'

"Canadians are not able to understand why Britain makes two-way pacts with iron-curtain countries which channel away exports they badly need".

The News quoted an article in Montreal's Financial Times as saying that Canadians are worried "just how long does the London government hope to be able to play both sides against the middle?"

The Financial Times says the plan "is the best way to counteract the tendency of the world to split into two separate areas trading at different price levels.

LONDON DOCKS FACE COMPLETE TIE-UP BY STRIKE

60 Ships Lie Idle With Food Cargoes

London, April 12 — (CP) — The great port of London today faced almost complete tie-up in the second major dock strike in 10 months. At least 60 ships lay idle in their berths, some with vital food cargoes.

The Dock Labor Board announced that more than 12,000 of London's estimated 20,000 dock workers now are striking. Some union spokesmen estimated as many as 18,000 had walked out. Others were stevedores, who began their strike yesterday protesting dismissal of 32 men. Their walkout swelled the ranks already being by thousands of dockers, who Monday night voted to strike despite a back-to-at-work order from the Transport and General Workers Union, which regards the walkout as unofficial.

Tonight fishermen—men who ply cargo barges in the Thames — will meet to decide whether they will join the strike.

All along London's miles of docks export goods are piling up — automobiles, machinery and textiles. Of the 60 ships made idle many have large quantities of meat, wheat, flour, cheese and cocoa awaiting discharge. Among them are the Canadian freighters Beaverglen which was discharging wheat and the Canadian Star which arrived today with a cargo of wheat.

There now are 82 ships in the port of London. Another 40 are due to arrive this week but will be unable to dock unless the strike ends and new ships' berth are cleared.

The London Star said that if the stoppage continues authorities are expected to consider sending troops to deal with shifting perishable cargoes as was done in the dock tie-up last June.

At that time 19,000 men struck over payment of rates for Landing "dirty cargo" and the ban was tied up for more than a week. The strike ended only after the government had claimed communist influence was the basic cause and declared a state of emergency.

Treated for Injuries Inflicted by Men

Montreal, April 13 (CP)—Laurent Malarire, 58, manager of the Jamaica Inn, a down-town rooming house, was discharged from hospital today after treatment for head injuries inflicted by a group of men who rushed into the room with him of protecting strike breakers.

Malarire said three men entered the house as he did, and one struck him, calling him "a scab protector." The three escaped.

Machiavellian Plot of Nazis to Foist Guilt on U.K. Revealed by Tribunal

Nuernberg, April 12 (Reuters) —An American War Crimes Tribunal today disclosed a German foreign office plan "worthy of Machiavelli" whereby the Nazis hoped to foist the guilt for anti-Jewish murders upon the British government.

Details of this plot were contained in a portion of the judgment being read in the "Wilhelmstrasse" trial of high German diplomats.

The "Machiavellii" plan, the judgment said, followed a communication from the British government in May 1943, a change in the hope that Germany would agree to the emigration of 5,000 Jews from the Eastern occupied countries to Palestine.

The German foreign office memorandum on the proposal, which was forwarded by Von Moyland, laid down conditions "whereby the emigration be prevented by imposing impossible conditions."

These conditions included clausca under which Britain would agree to take in the persecuted Jews instead of them being sent to Palestine and that such willingness should be expressed in the House of Commons.

The secret document continudum said it was not expected that Britain would accept such demands, in which case the responsibility should rest on their shoulders.

Even if Britain consented to receive the Jews under these expectations, the memorandum stated "this suggestion should be considered available for propaganda purposes and would give Germany an opportunity to suggest that Jews be exchanged for interned Germans."

The tribunal commented:

"Every step which the foreign office took, every recommendation that it made, was directed to block efforts made by leading countries of the world, neutral as well as enemy state, to permit little children to conv unto them and to defeat the efforts of the good Samaritans and turn their offers into Nazi propaganda."

Canada, U.S. to Co-ordinate Industrial Mobilization Plan In Event of Emergency

Washington, April 12 (AP) — The United States and Canada today established a joint committee to co-ordinate their plans for industrial mobilization in the event of an emergency.

The state department made public an exchange of notes between Laurence A. Steinhardt, American Ambassador in Ottawa, and External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, creating the Joint United States-Canada Industrial Mobilization Committee.

United States members of the Board are Dr. John R. Steelman, acting chairman of the National Security Resources Board, and Donald F. Carpenter, chairman of the Munitions Board. Canadian members are Harry J. Carmichael, chairman of the Industrial Defence Board and E. R. Pierce, associate Deputy Minister of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

The committee will have the function of exchanging information "with a view to the co-ordination" of industrial mobilization plans, and making recommendations regarding such plans. It also will be responsible for co-operation with the existing Permanent Joint Board on Defence in industrial mobilization matters.

Hon. Leslie Frost Will be Candidate For Leadership

Toronto, April 12 (CP)—Hon. Leslie Frost, Ontario Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Mines since 1943, today announced he will be a candidate for the provincial leadership of the Progressive party.

He is the fourth man to announce he will seek the leadership at a party convention in Toronto April 26-27. Leadership was left vacant last fall when George Drew resigned to take up the post of national leader. Hon. T. L. Kennedy announced for the party leader and premier on a temporary basis pending the two days' posts immediately after the convention.

Hon. Leslie Blackwell, Attorney-General, was the first to announce himself for the leadership. He did so last fall, before Mr. Drew resigned. Hugh Roberts, former member of the legislature and Toronto mining lawyer, announced his candidature during the winter. Hon. Dana Porter, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, got into the race when he announced last Friday that when the legislature prorogued.

Announcement Made at Office

The announcement of Mr. Frost's intention was issued at his office in the temporary absence of the minister. It specifically that he had decided to offer his services to his party and the province and will be a candidate at the convention.

Mr. Frost, a 58-year-old lawyer, was born at Orillia. He served overseas in the First World War and took up his practice at Lindsay. He first entered the Ontario legislature as a member for Victoria in 1927 and acted as chief financial critic for the opposition until his party won the 1943 election. Then he resigned the cabinet.

Another possible leadership candidate, who may announce his intentions in the next few days, is Hon. George Doucett, Minister of Highways. There has been speculation also that Hon. Russell Kelley, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, may also be in the race.

FIRE VICTIMS REPORTED IN 'GOOD' CONDITION

Windsor, April 12 — (CP) — Rosemary Lowes, victim of second and third degree burns is reported in "extremely poor" condition by hospital authorities today.

The blonde - haired lass was taken to hospital Sunday with burns from the waist to the head suffered when her night clothing was ignited by flames from a Kitchener wood stove.

Authorities since lapsed into unconsciousness and is being given continuous intravenous injections in an effort to save her life.

New Threats Of Violence Rumble in Strike

(By The Canadian Press)

From Capetown to Montreal new threats of violence rumbled today in the Canadian Seamen's strike even as the Trades and Labor Congress called in Ottawa for a judicial inquiry into a bloody clash in Halifax last week.

So far, some 127 members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) and the rival Seafarer's International Union (A.F.L.) have been arrested in connection with incidents arising from the C.S.U. strike called March 31. Picketing ships in Vancouver, Montreal, Saint John and Halifax have been tied up by the workstoppage and Dominion shipping also is idle in such foreign ports as Liverpool, Capetown, Brisbane, Georgetown, British Guiana, and Hong Kong.

"The wounding of striking seamen on the docks at Halifax by trigger - happy strikebreakers in Toronto must be roundly condemned."

He referred to a clash last Friday when members of the anti-communist S.I.U. took over the Canadian National Steamships vessels from the alleged Communist-led C.S.U. Shots from riot guns were said to have been fired during the brawl and a number of C.S.U. men were injured.

Seamen Accept Writs

In Vancouver, C.S.U. crew members of the S.S. Seaton have accepted writs ordering them off the freighter. James Thompson, C.S.U. secretary-president said union lawyers would go to the courts today to attempt to have the Supreme Court injunction against the strike set aside.

In Montreal, C.S.U. crew members of the Canadian Alta continued their sit-in strike.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Visible Tonight

Toronto, April 12 (CP) — A total eclipse of the moon will be visible from the Toronto area tonight, the blow of the earth blocking off the rays of the sun, will start moving across the face of the moon at 9:28 p.m. For one hour the eclipse will be partial. The total eclipse starts at 10:28 p.m. The moon will be back out in the clear again at 12:34 a.m. The last time a lunar eclipse was visible from this area was in 1945. This year there are two, tonight's and another Oct. 6.

LABOR DECLARES "SECOND ROUND" NATIONALIZATION

Electoral Hopes in '50 Staked on Program

London, April 12—(Reuters)—The Labor party today staked its electoral hopes for 1950 on a "second round" of nationalization.

The announcement of the party program was issued the week after some dramatic labor reverses in county council elections all over the country. It proposed plans for the state to take over insurance companies, the sugar manufacturing trade and shipbuilding, the cement industry, water undertakings and suitable minerals."

This program, which must be endorsed by the party's national conference in June, will be put into force if Labor wins next year's general election.

In the three years in office Labor has nationalized fuel and power industries and has announced legislation for the nationalization of iron and steel from May 1, 1950.

Control over capital investment, distribution of industry, industrial building and foreign exchange will be required as permanent instruments of planning in a thriving national economy, the manifesto said.

Three Proposals

In view of the need for state competition to private enterprise in certain industries, Labor "is to act in the national interest," the manifesto made three proposals: :

Dies After Fall Of 175 Feet From Toronto Viaduct

He was found lying beneath the viaduct, moaning: "I'm dying, I'm dying."

Police said every bone in the man's body appeared to be broken. While being put in an ambulance, he said he fell from the viaduct.

Easter Trade in U.S. Being Watched To Learn Extent of Recessive Trend

BY FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Easter trade is being watched in the United States to see what may be learned of present recessive tendencies there.

Department store figures for the week ending April 2, the most recent available, are up eight per cent over last year.

However, last year's Easter Sunday came March 28 against this year's April 17. Hence direct comparisons are between this year's pre-Easter and last year's post-Easter periods.

The United States Federal Reserve Circuit Board says that, allowing for the calendar quirk, it "looks as if sales are down."

However, if there is any question about it, the situation probably isn't very serious.

In the meantime, Canadian department store sales continue up, as they have right along, with an 11 per cent increase for the week ending April 2 over the same week last year.

There are factors in the American economy which can make for a pick-up in activity later on; and oddly enough, they lie in part in the caution and nervousness now being shown.

Right along the line, customer, retailer, wholesaler, manufacturer, are shopping for lower prices. Unless panic develops there is a point below which prices can't drop at present if they are to cover costs of production.

When this level is approached, considerable buying may have to be done in the market to make up for depleted stocks.

Altogether a tug-of-war is going on in most industries to decide what present trends there should be, with some producers granting lower prices and others holding firm. Whichever they do, it doesn't result in any present flood of orders, pending the time when buyers make up their minds.

Buyers, in turn, are not only trying to get the best bargains they can but have to keep an eye on what the public will pay. They have been rather hoping the Easter season will overcome recent customer-resistance.

It is to the interest of every one that prices should be low, but it is in the general interest that they don't come down so fast that producers will have to take losses which will result in unemployment.

In some lines quite substantial cuts can be absorbed without distress; in others the line is closer-drawn.

What happens across the border is, of course, of utmost interest in Canada, because of the likelihood that it will soon be reflected here.

Double Shooting Fatal to Man, Woman Wounded

Listowel Man Suicides After Intrusion in Bedroom

Listowel, April 12 — (AP) — A 33-year-old construction worker wounded his girl friend's mother with a rifle shot then killed himself in a barn early today, police said.

They said Wilfred Parker was aiming at 25-year-old Mrs. Eileen Doig when his rifle shot hit Mrs. James Huston, 49, in the arm.

Parker had taken Mrs. Doig, mother of an eight-year-old daughter, to the movies before the shooting.

Mrs. Huston flung herself across the bodies of her daughter and granddaughter as Parker crept into their house, armed with a .22-calibre rifle. The three women had been sleeping in a large double bed when Parker entered the room.

Parker's body was found in the barn of Stewart Elliott, near this town 30 miles north of Stratford. The barn was just 150 feet from the home of James Huston.

Ordered to Lie Down

Parker crept into the house in his stocking feet, and first entered the room of Mr. Huston, who was weak from a heart ailment.

He turned to me and ordered me to lie down," Mr. Huston said. "He shot me in the left arm at short range. For a moment later, he came running past me and leaped down the stairs."

Parker was found shot between the eyes with a single bullet. The rifle was found lying beside the body.

Mrs. Huston received a blood transfusion in hospital here, and her condition was reported improving.

No Sign of Quarrel

Mrs. Huston said Mrs. Doig and Parker had stayed outside the house talking Monday night after they returned from the movies, but there was no indication of a quarrel.

"Eileen stopped going out with Parker about a month ago," Mr. Huston said. "She never spoke of him after."

Parker's body was found after a night-long manhunt.

Mrs. Doig said he found Parker, apparently kneeling and leaning against a corner of the house.

Parker's father said his son, who came here from Milverton two years ago, seemed "quite normal" last night. "He came in to supper, and I didn't see him again."

TO APPEAL CONVICTION

Brantford, April 12 — (CP) — Harry Conway was sentenced here Monday afternoon of wounding his wife Isobel with intent to cause grievous bodily harm, but appeal the conviction. This was announced today by A. H. Baddy, coroner's counsel.

$25,000 WORTH SUPPLIES SENT BY ICEBREAKER

St. John's April 12. (CP)— The Canadian icebreaker Sourel, with a big supply of medical supplies, was slated to leave here today with a fourth shipment of drugs to relieve starvation conditions in seven ice-bound southern Labrador villages.

Previously aircraft had made three trips to the isolated coastal area to land with food or parachute it from the air.

Premier Joseph Smallwood, leader of Newfoundland's provincial government, said the supplies would include the hungriest Labrador hamlets over the remainder of the shut-in season.

Emergency conditions were reported at three villages as a result of merry missions by R.C.A.F. and private aircraft. But the situation was regarded as "desperate" at four other outposts along the 700-mile stretch of brick coastline.

A third shipment of food from the Arlex yesterday greatly alleviated the hunger situation at St. Michael's Bay here and Port Hope Simpson. Previous flights had removed the spectre of starvation from St. Mary's Bay, 100 miles from Goose Bay, Labrador.

Basic Allotment Of U.S. Dollars Is Increased

Ottawa, April 12 (CP) Import control authorities have increased the quota of United States dollars available to Canadian importers of domestic refrigerators, radios, office machines and appliances to sales of more than 35 amperes.

The announcement will enable these manufacturers to increase importation of American parts and bring the dollar value of their imports virtually up to the rate in effect before currency restrictions were imposed in 1947.

The increase takes the form of a 25-per-cent boost in their basic allotment of U.S. dollars for 1949. Since they had been limited to 75 per cent of their dollar imports under the restrictions, they are virtually back to pre-restriction import levels.

P. U. COMMISSION HELD RESPONSIBLE

The local public utilities commission will be held responsible for the replacement of the sidewalk on the east side of Pinnacle Street between McAnaney and Bridge Street.

This was decided last night at city council when the matter came up for discussion. The walk was damaged during the installation of the new watermain along Pinnacle Street, the responsibility for the walk's replacement being turned over to the Utilities Commission.

FINED FOR ALLOWING MINORS TO PLAY BILLIARDS, LOITER

Pleading guilty to allowing minors to play pool and loiter in his pool room, the owner of the Francis Billiards, Dundas Street was fined twenty dollars and costs of $2.50 by Magistrate T. Y. Wills in magistrates' court today.

The case was the third of its nature to come up in the past two years and Magistrate Wills warned the accused that the fines would be increased if similar offences occur.

Four minors were playing pool and another looking on when police entered the pool room.

"If we have to make the fine from $12.00 to $20 and further fines will be heavier. "I do not want you to think you are being victimized" the magistrate said.

THREE GRASS FIRES ARE EXTINGUISHED

Four alarms, three of them grass fires, were answered by the local fire department during the past 24 hours.

Yesterday firemen were called briefly outside the city while last evening the reels were called to Victoria Park for a grass fire. Also last evening firemen were called to 52 Chatham Street where fire caused slight damage to a house roof. Early there was another grass fire at 133 Dufferin Ave.

TWO NON-TREATY INDIANS FINED

Two non-treaty Indians were fined five dollars and costs of $6.50 for being intoxicated in a public place by Magistrate T. Y. Wills today. The Indians, Freeman Maracle and Lawrence Brant, were charged under the Indian Act by Royal Canadian Mounted Police Corporal R. W. Christie of the Belleville detachment.

Brant, under questioning, stated that he had purchased wine for him, but he didn't know who he was. Maracle stated he had been drinking beer in a city hotel and later went on a beer-drinking party in a car with two other men.

Both were given ten days in default of payment. Maracle is being held for further examination.

FUEL OIL REDUCED ONE CENT A GALLON

The price of Esso fuel oil, stove oil and diesel fuel oils have been reduced by one cent per gallon, it was announced locally today by Mr. A. D. McLean, local representative of the Imperial Oil Company.

In Ontario the reduction ranges from 4/9ths of a cent to one cent a gallon; in Quebec one cent a gallon and in the Maritimes and Newfoundland, 1½ cents.

Company officials stated the reduction was in line with adjustments in Eastern United States markets. There has been no reduction in the price of fuel oil supplies.

Says Profit Sharing Can Reduce Disputes

The April meeting of the Kingston section of the Chemical Institute of Canada held at the Golden Acres Inn and they had as their guest speaker, Mr. J. Malcolm Robb, well-known Belleville barrister.

Mr. Robb addressed the gathering on the topic, "Labor Relations in Your Business." He pointed out that the interests of management and labor are identical and until this is realized, the present difficulties that even beset labormanagement relations in this country will continue. "Further," he said, "available capital will continue to be invested in bonds and banks rather than in business enterprise so long as costly strikes and labor disputes hinder and restrict the progress of business. The fact that the identity of their interests is not appreciated by labor and management, is the sole cause of these costly disruptions of production. The more efficient and hence less costly production of goods and services is the obvious aim of management. Only by this lower selling price can markets be extended and production volume increased, or in other words, can true wealth be increased. When labor realizes that their aim is identical to that of management, industrial disputes that directly or indirectly affect the welfare of every citizen in the country, will become less frequent.

Profit Sharing Plans

"The means of establishing this community of interest, namely, is the introduction of a scheme of profit sharing. The example of the Imperial Oil Co., in Canada, Canadian city, the production of one individual's employees by labor unrest, the other enjoying uninterrupted production serves to show the success of the profit sharing plan. Under this scheme the firm in question contributes 10 per cent of the profits to a profit sharing fund. Each employee has a bank book which provides him with a record showing the amount to his credit in the fund. Thus the worker has brought home to him the important fact that his welfare depends on the welfare of the business on more efficient production.

In conclusion Mr. Robb dwelt briefly on unionism in relation to modern business. He traced the development of labor unions and outlined the simple legislation necessary to eliminate from them Communism.

"Unions are at present constituted," he concluded, "forces workers in some plants having a union shop and check-off to contribute by their dues to the support of Communists in this country, since no legal means of identifying or expelling them is available to ordinary workers in trade-unions."

Earlier in the afternoon the members of the meeting were taken on conducted tours of the Canada Cement Co., of Point Anne and the Corby Distilleries Ltd., Corbyville.

The aim of the executive in having an out of town meeting was to bring together the members of the western part of the section. The gathering included members from Toronto and other points as well as the cities of Belleville and Kingston.

SLUSH ICE HINDERS SHIPPING THROUGH LOCKS

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 12,— (CP)— Heavy flows of slushy ice hindered shipping through the Soo locks late yesterday and, Monday night but officials reported this morning that the situation was somewhat better.

The mushy ice, pushed ahead of vessels entering the locks, was piling and packing against the lock gates.

Officials reported that 32 steamers were locked downbound in the past 24 hours and that 19 vessels were still above the locks waiting to come through early today.

Police Court

CampbellfordMan Pleads Guilty To Fraud Charge

Donald Cory, Campbellford, was given a year's suspended sentence and assessed costs or $28.40 when he pleaded guilty to charges of fraud in magistrates' court today.

Cory, police said, passed a worthless cheque to the amount of $40 to the Bay of Quinte Fisheries Company. Sentence was suspended after the accused promised to pay the costs and make the necessary restitution.

Charges of intimidation and breaking a ndentering were laid today against two local residents and laid over until Thursday's court. The men pleaded not guilty to the breaking and entering charge. The charges arose when the men were allegedly trying to enter the Army, Navy, Air Force Clubrooms via the roof.

Gordon Graves, charged with the theft of furniture from the Percival Furniture Stores here, had his sentence held over for another week by Magistrate T. Y. Wills. Gordon Bryden, charged with assault had his case enlarged for two weeks.

Rush Preserved Watermelon to Nephritis Victims

Kitchener, April 13 (CP) — Preparations are being rushed here to send a supply of preserved watermelon to nephritis victims in Hamilton and Calgary. A supply of the newly-found preserve has been sourced here through an appeal by Mr. Bert Bricker, Minister of Commerce.

Doctors believe this food may be only hope of survival in the two cases. A previous attempt at Kitchener to aid the Hamilton case proved worthless, when it was discovered the watermelon was of pickled variety. A wire from Calgary late yesterday requested the supply in the Kitchener area, and appealed for immediate help in the western case. The preserve is being driven to Hamilton and flown to Calgary today.

Architect Will Draw Plans For Alterations

A matter of discussion by city council, for several years, the proposed alteration of the city hall to include all city offices and city police, again came up for consideration Monday night at council.

As result council voted to retain an architect to draw detailed plans of the proposed alterations. Following receipt of the plan council will again consider the proposal to decide if the work will be undertaken.

Speaking to the recommendation to retain the architect, Alderman Lloyd, chairman of market and city property, stated the matter had been a controversial subject in council for many years.

Years ago a plan had been drawn up to include the city offices and police station on the ground floor of the city hall but changing requirements had more or less outmoded this plan.

He said plans for altering the second floor of the city hall to accommodate the city courtroom, magistrate's quarters, and the chamber of commerce, would come later.

Cost of the proposed alterations, according to Alderman Lloyd, would be in the neighborhood of seventeen thousand dollars. It was the feeling of the market and city property committee that the change should be made.

The Voice of Labor . . .

Most organizations have a weak link somewhere. The Chamber of Commerce is no exception, and this weakness is, that there is no adequate representation from Labor.

In order to serve the people of the Bay of Quinte District in the fullest sense, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce should represent a cross-section of the people.

The Voice of Labor should be heard in the councils of the Chamber as well as the Voice of Management.

Council Accepts Motion To Build 100 Rental Houses South of the County Home

Following a second rather spirited discussion on the subject, members of city council on Monday evening voted to accept the proposition of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to construct 100 veterans' rental homes on the Sidney County Home property south of the Kingston highway in the east end of the city.

In accepting the rental houses, council turned down a recommendation which, if carried, would have reserved the property for preferred industry. This recommendation had been forwarded to council by the Industrial Commission.

Under the terms of the proposition offered by Central Mortgage and Housing, 100 rental houses would be built on the property with Belleville approved veterans to be given the preference. Any surplus of houses would then go to R.C.A.F. personnel.

Although after a spirited discussion on the matter, council decided in favor of the houses, although in favor of reserving the property for preferred industry if did not go down without a fight.

Three Experts Heard

In an effort to sway council in favor of the preferred industry, Industrial Commission Secretary of industry, brought to the city three experts on industrial expansion who were in attendance at the meeting.

Lorne Campbell, from the Department of Trade and Development, stated they were not present to tell council what to do but what was being done in other cities with respect to planning.

Col. Turnbrook of the same department, but especially interested in industrial expansion, noted that the average municipality is "dead" ahead but for three or four years, when actually plans should be made for 25 years. He said many men prophesied that the population of urban centres in 25 years would be doubled. He advised that municipalities should plan for this eventuality.

Recommends Reservation

J. S. Raymond, of the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways, strongly favored the reservation of the County Home property as the logical site for way for preferred industry.

The opposing view point, he said, "Council must look at the matter not only from a financial point of view from a growth standpoint, but also from the aspect of taxation." He said that the 1945 taxes so much as ten times in taxation per acre as did housing.

He pointed out there were three different types of industry — the preferred type which demand good surrounding to enable landscaping programs, heavy industry with its smoke, noise and dirt, and the purely obnoxious type, which municipalities want miles outside their borders.

To attract the preferred type of industry, the speaker advised that municipalities must zone many years ahead, as a number of houses in an otherwise suitable area would destroy industrial possibilities.

Should Have 200 Acres

To illustrate, he said if Belleville in the next 25 years doubled its population, this would mean an additional 5,000 industrial workers. To accomodate this industry would mean that at least 200 acres should be set aside for industry.

He pointed out that few industries require water transportation home as planned.

Alderman Hyde expressed the appreciation of council to the three men for coming to the city and also tabled the recommendation for land south of the highway in the former County Home property to be reserved for preferred industry.

But Alderman Hyde would not listen. He asked why this land should be set aside, when already the city had an industrial area for which it paid considerable money.

One Requires 40 Acres

"True," replied Alderman Allin, "we had an industrial area of about 50 acres, but 20 acres of that is marshy and another eight acres has been set aside for a park." Only about 20 acres of the original 50 remained and at the present time negotiations were underway with an industry which required 40 acres.

Alderman Duffy disagreed entirely with the county home property being set aside for industry. "It may be essential that industry must have the most beautiful site in the city, but there is lots of room for industry and there is a crying need for housing. The site would be good for housing for the veterans' housing."

Alderman Armstrong accused Mr. Allin with "drawing a red herring across the trail" in the matter of selection of housing. He said the industrial planners here had been brought in to do only what was being done in other cities with respect to planning.

Col. Turnbrook of the same department, but especially interested in industrial expansion, noted that the average municipality is "dead" ahead but for three or four years, when actually plans should be made for 25 years. He said many men prophesied that the population of urban centres in 25 years would be doubled. He advised that municipalities should plan for this eventuality.

He pointed out that few industries require water transportation home as planned.

Mayor D. L. Storey took exception to the remarks of the previous speaker, pointing out that actually the county home property had cost the city but $200,000. The city had received a grant of $100,000 from the Ontario government toward a con.-elescent home.

No Basements Suggested

Replying to Alderman Thomas suggestions that $42.50 would be too heavy a rental, the mayor suggested that basements in the houses could be eliminated. In this would effect a cut in rental.

Alderman Clarke stated rentals of homes constructed by Central Mortgage and Housing received subsidization by the city. He admitted the city received $600 per lot but had to furnish the land all the services. Also this $600 per lot was to be said to be held back 10 per cent per year for ten years.

Alderman Tice asked about the Swift Canadian property south of College Street West. He said there was a rumour to the effect that this company was about to give this property up. If so he felt it would be an ideal site for rental housing.

Amendment Ruled Out

"It is just unfortunate that the Swift Canadian Company cannot get does not know anything about the rumor," stated Alderman Duffy.

Before the matter went to a vote, Alderman Allin introduced an amendment asking the property east of Churchill Heights be investigated before action was taken. Council ruled out the amendment and voted on the recommendations.

First council lined up 10 to 6 against the construction of houses by being reserved for industry, and then favored by a 9 to 6 vote the recommendation to accept the 100 rental housing proposed offered by Central Mortgage and Housing.

Favoring the recommendation to reserve the property for industry were Aldermen H. J. Allin, Clarke, Lloyd and Lummiss. Opposing were Mayor Storey and Aldermen Jas. Allen, Armstrong, Brown, Duffy, Liddle, Thomas, Tice and Wilson.

Favoring were Aldermen H. J. Allin, Clarke, Hyde, Lattimer, Lloyd, and Lummiss.

"You have just voted away a million dollar industry," remarked Alderman Allin, stating that he had been negotiating with a large printing firm which would now locate either Kingston or Brockville.

Alderman Brown wanted to know if Alderman Allin was serious in his statement, stating that he would not want to be responsible for such a large industry not locating in the city.

"I certainly am serious," returned Alderman Allin. "Now I will have to advise these people the property they wished is not available."

MEDIEVAL ORIGIN

The display of military insignia started in medieval times.

Eight Firemen To be Accepted By Fire Dept.

Applications for eight additional city firemen to increase the strength of the local fire department will be accepted, it was decided last night at city council.

Mayor Storey explained that it was necessary to properly man the new fire fighting equipment, when the new fire hall on Moira Street is occupied later in the summer.

Permission was granted to the local Rotary Club to erect club signs at the east and west entrances to the city. Previously service club signs were included on the city of Belleville signs but with the number of service clubs increasing, these were taken off the city sign. The traffic committee will direct as to placement of the Rotary sign.

After turning down the request for new taxicab licenses, approved of application from the H. J. McFarland Construction Company and from J. W. Hamilton for permission to install private hydrant pumps on their respective properties.

Replacement Discussed

The replacement of trees removed from city streets was briefly discussed with the suggestion that the parks board be directed to replace all such trees removed.

Alderman Duffy pointed out many on about the city were being cut down and said no trees should be removed unless they were hazardous. Alderman Hyde replied all trees being cut were hazardous and added there were many old trees standing which were dangerous.

A narrow strip of property between Dundas Street and the Moira River, immediately east of Mary Ann Tabernacle property was recommended sold to J. T. Hanson with the finance committee to give recommendation as to price.

Road Taken Over

On recommendation from Jamieson Bros., owner of the subdivision roads commission, Sidney Street from Bridge Road to No. 2 Highway was directed taken over by the roads commission.

Also Allanee Tabernacle property of business outlets in the Parkwood Hills estate was transferred to Bertram Docter, owner of lots in the area.

Council voted to close McDonald Ave. south of Dundas Street, on petition of owners of a few members. Mayor Storey stated the property on the west side of the street was owned by the Belleville General Hospital and the roadway was needed for erection of a laundry. If so the hospital would save about $5,000, he stated.

Several aldermen suggested they were cautiously in the matter but the recommendation to close the street carried.

Dobbs Funeral Home and Heating were awarded the contract for the installation of an automatic stoker at the new firehall on Moira Street, West.

Architect Made Mistake

Alderman Lloyd, chairman of city property, stated that unfortunately the architect who had planned the fire hall had made a mistake in the size of heating plant required, but added this had been done on the recommendation of a heating firm. It had been necessary to install a boiler of additional capacity at a cost of $350. Mayor Storey had given authorization for installation of the new boiler to enable plastering and concrete work to be completed as soon as possible.

William Mayer, of the Mayer Construction Company appeared before council protesting his firm was not responsible for the mistake in levels which resulted in several of the homes on Crestview Ave. in the Parkwood Heights district, having basement floors too low. Previously council had held the firm responsible for the error. No action was taken as result of Mr. Mayer's appearance.

No Action Taken

E. F. Stevenson, representative of the Canadian Congress of Labor, which is negotiating to form a union among local dairy workers employees, appeared before council, accusing council of "stalling" in preparing an agreement. He said he had been endeavoring since Nov. 16th to arrange a meeting with representatives of council.

Council took no action with respect to the matter.

Under general business Alderman Tice asked if there was to be any action taken with respect to the erection of the proposed incinerator.

He was told by Mayor Storey that the Searth was ready for shipment to the city. Alderman Tice countered with a question asking if the city was going to spend $55,000 for the hearth and not use it.

The same alderman asked if negotiations were underway for the sale of Zwicker Island to the McFarland Construction Company. Alderman Lummiss replied the local Parks Board had been approached regarding the matter last year but no action had been taken.

FREDA LINTON ALLOWED FREEDOM ON $5,000 BAIL

Will Appear for Hearing April 19th on Conspiracy Charge

Montreal, April 12 (CP)—Freda Linton, last link in the Soviet espionage case in Canada, today was freed on $5,000 bail for preliminary inquiry April 19 on a charge of conspiring to give away Canada's official secrets.

Bail, which was fixed by Judge Wilfrid Lazarus, was granted by Judge Lazarus in the Superior Court after Miss Linton's counsel, Louis Cohen, had argued that the charge was not a capital offence and that the accused was not a flight risk.

Miss Linton, 28-year-old brunette who surrendered yesterday to Royal Canadian Mounted Police after being missing for three years did not plead when brought into a crowded courtroom.

She was arraigned in peace sessional court on a score of cases involving burglars, auto thieves and small-time bandits had been disposed of.

Espionage Ring Shattered

Ottawa (CP)—Freda Linton may turn Canada's spy spotlight full glare on activities of Russia's Washington Embassy.

And she may at the same time solve the riddle of what an American penetration Arthur Steinberg had to do with the now shattered espionage ring in Canada.

Married and divorced from her, she faces arraignment today in a Montreal court on a charge of conspiring with Fred Rose to contravene the official secrets act.

She surrendered yesterday after disappearing for more than two years.

It appeared, the 1946 commission investigating spy activities reported, that Freda, Dr. Raymond Boyer, Fred Rose and Steinberg "well understood one another."

Boyer, explosives expert, received a two-year sentence as one of 10 persons convicted for spy activities; Rose, former member of parliament, got seven.

Steinberg, who, it appears, has never been questioned by a public hearing in the U.S., has however denied to U.S. investigators allegations appearing in the commission's report.

Freda Linton may have somethings to say about that.

Steinberg first appeared to have entered the Canadian scene when he came to Montreal in 1940 or 1941 to teach genetics. He became a friend of both Freda and Boyer.

But Steinberg was sympathetic to the Communists, Boyer said.

Where Story Ends

Here the story ends, no one seems to know why Steinberg went to Washington in 1944 and what he was to do there for the ring or 'corporation.'

And Igor Gouzenko, former Russian Embassy cipher clerk who has indicated before the commission that Freda may have been with Steinberg when he arrived in Washington, goes no further than to say that Steinberg was "handed" over to the Russian military intelligence through the officials of the Russian service there.

If it was true that Freda was with him then she may know something about Russian intelligence activities in the U.S. that has not been disclosed before.

And at the same time know it would advertise still extra.

THIS SEASON

The Christian world has entered the last week of the Lenten season, rich in its meaning to the world. It is a time of meditation as people think on the events of Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday. In the calendar of the Christian churches the time is celebrated with great solemnity and forms a fitting prelude to the dawn of Easter.

In some days the ceremonies of this week were marked with more solemnity than in the present age. But still the time is deep in significance and meaning to millions upon millions of men and women and young people.

The time is associated with the deepest feelings of the human heart for religion has and will have a paramount influence upon the lives of the people through all ages.

MANKIND'S SYMPATHY

The tragic ending of the supreme efforts put forth to rescue the little San Marino, Cal., child, Kathy Fiscus, from what proved to be her deathbed one hundred feet below the surface of the earth at the bottom of a hole of an old well into which she had fallen last Friday afternoon, brought the feelings of sorrow to a great section of humanity, to the parents and relatives, to the workers who had struggled so heroically to reach her in the hope of finding her alive and to that wide group of men and women everywhere who are represented by newspaper readers and radio listeners of this continent and also of lands beyond the seas.

Though the labors of the heroic men who strove against time were futile as the child had been dead by drowning two hours after she was last heard from last Friday afternoon, they were efforts any human being would have been pleased to render while there was the slightest hope that a life could be saved. But these efforts were not in vain, for they showed how the human heart beats in sympathy with childhood in danger and people and families whose kin are in peril.

These efforts which did not reach the desired success and the thoughts and prayers of the millions who listened to the news as to the progress of the rescue make human beings proud of their fellowmen, for women and children dread even tragedy happening to others which is not to be wondered at as everyone felt that Kathy was representative of all who might be in danger at some time or other in their lives.

It is a bright light on human nature that nothing pleases everyone more in actual life or in the depiction of life in the theatre or in fiction than a rescue from danger or the finding of a lost child or seeing wrongs righted. That spirit keeps the world on even keel despite the fears and annoyances of the age.

In attempting rescue of persons in danger, many a man and many a woman would gladly run into danger even at the risk of losing their own limbs or lives if they could but bring some one back to safety. A story of a lost child which has disappeared or of those long separated through conditions over which they have little or no control and who are then found is one of the great themes of great stories, of rescues and discoveries, in drama, fiction and especially in real life.

In the very nature of life sometimes the lost or injured or endangered are not found or recovered to safety, despite superhuman efforts to find or recover them. In this sad plight are the parents of the little girl, whose story shocked the world. But it is known this experience to his sorrow but even in the face of death and disaster he has a faith and hope that strengthen him in his trial. Such is the bereavement of the Fiscus family whose lives are sad through this untimely event.

Newspapers have of late had many stories of rescue trips by plane to the hinterland to bring out some ill patient to a hospital in a large centre for treatment of a special nature. The airmen rescuers on these mercy flights accept the dangers of such journeys in the name of humanity and accomplish missions which mean health and happiness to many. They think of others, less of self.

Through the modern agencies of radio and the press rescue missions are brought more and more before the public who can in their mind's eye see the missions at work in which as modern agencies help in bringing aid to people in distress, at sea, on the top of an Arctic ice peak, in areas cut off by floods.

ABOUT DOG TRAINING

At show obedience tests I see
Who trains a dog must patient be
With simple words speak each command,
Until it learns to understand,
And when the order it obeys
Reward with bits of food and praise.

To teach a dog what dogs should know
Is plainly patient work and slow.
To train a dog to heel or sit
A man must give his time to it;
Be stern at times, but always fair,
And give it tender love and care.

If dogs with patience can be taught
To live and do the way they ought,
Is not the duty just as plain
For all who have a child to train?
Should they the time required refuse,
Lest some small selfish joy they lose?

The dog that's left the streets to stray
No rule of conduct will obey.
The child that is not trained at home
But turned upon the streets to roam,
Denied parental love and care,
May stumble in the pitfalls there.

Mrs. Edward H. Cuddy, Monreal, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Buckley, Dundas Street. Later she will join her husband who is stationed with the C.P.R. in Winnipeg.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

As recently as 17 years ago, there were something like 70 different kinds of electric current in use in the British Isles. Before the days when one nine different currents and voltages. Could move merely across the street, and thereby have to scrap all your equipment, refrigerator or lawnmower, and buy new.

But for seventeen years past, Britain has been engaged in a nationwide experiment for the standardization of electric current at 50 cycles. Now 70 per cent of the country is available, it will be 240 volts.

In London, there are islands of old currents still in use, Charing Cross area using 25 cycle, 200 volts; and small sections still using direct current, with voltages ranging all the way from 150 to 460.

Apart entirely from the war and its ravages on Britain, this problem of standardizing the handicap Britain has had to carry in recent years. Those of us familiar with industry will realize what a terrible shackle this diversity of power must have been on the war effort in Britain, how impossible the problem of standardization for mass production, how the Old Country has greater understanding of the answer we owe than we suppose from our bridge lamps, toasters and radios. Multiply these little confusions imposed on forty million living in so small an area, and you have the crucial bane of individual freedom. Goodness knows how many individualistic complications, like this power confusion, the Old Country has been saddled with in the past century of industrialism. Formed in peace far more than in war, if she could rise to the pinnacle of an industrial age using seventy different kinds of electric current, nobody should fret over her economic recovery when she is determined to unshackle herself down to good old 60 cycle, 240 volts.

138,000 Kegs Of Nails Will Be Available

Ottawa, April 12 — (CP) — Steel Controller D. A. Jones said Monday night an extra 138,000 kegs of nails will be made available to the Canadian building trade this year through negotiations just completed with the United States government.

The extra kegs, expected to be made available beginning in May, will boost the annual nail production in Canada by about eight per cent.

Even though Canada has been running at its peak annual steel production — producing about 3,200,000 ingot tons a year — she still could not produce sufficient nails and other steel products to meet the country's demand.

Canada's nail production in 1948 amounted to about 1,700,000 kegs.

The extra steel supply will be over and above the steel which the Dominion gets from the U.S. It will come in the form of nail wire and rod which will be moved over to Canadian steel producers who will turn the steel into nails.

Mackenzie's Column: MoveShouldMean Much to Success Of Europe's Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

An adroit move which should mean much for peace is involved in the ruling by the United States military commander in Germany, which strips all of the continent's greatest armament works in effect, vested in the Western Allies.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay has changed the wording of a Nuremberg court's judgment on the disposition of the war Krupp steel industries in the Ruhr. The court —a United States tribunal — had decreed that the properties were to be confiscated by the Allied control council, comprising Britain, France, the United States and Russia.

However, the four - power Allied Control Council hasn't functioned in about a year, the Russians having walked out in Berlin last spring. Therefore Clay has ruled that the confiscation is to be made by the Allied commander of the zone concerned. Actually all the Krupp properties are in the British zone, with only a few small ventures in the Russian area.

Carried German Militarism

The Krupp development was the nine hundred years which carried the German military world on its shoulders. But the Krupps the Kaiser couldn't have functioned as they did in World War and Hitler would have been left biting his finger nails in frustration.

It was Krupps which during the First World War produced the monster gun that fired shells 75 miles from the battle front into Paris.

They say that when the late war ended, greater and more fearsome guns were found in the hiding works at Essen in the Ruhr.

Like Colossal Dragon

The main works at Essen sprawled under the control of the Krupp family for seven miles like a colossal dragon. It is described in sight as I found when I toured that area at the end of May last year.

Of course Allied bombing had played havoc with the factories and workshops. But you knew that these ruins were potentially a menace to world peace if not carefully controlled.

Looking down on this scene from a lift in the ornate Krupp palace, I could see people trails of the prideful Kruppa. It is an interesting commentary that as far as I can see, the Russians had come really near this massive hive of industry. Allied bombers confined themselves to the railway sidings and bridges as far as humanly possible.

Now it is the Allies' purpose to turn the Ruhr over to peaceful lines. This presumably will be carried out under control of the three Western Powers in view of Russia's hostility to them and Russia.

In any event, Krupps isn't likely to spark another German war.

State Secretary Thinks Election Long Way off

Corner Brook, Nfld., April 12 — (CP) — State Secretary Bradley hinted here Monday night there will be no general election later this year.

However, his remarks drew no confirmation from other government members.

The minister told an interviewer that a "by-election must be held in Newfoundland in the next three or four months if the province is to be represented in the January's session of parliament."

Mr. Bradley, Newfoundland's first Cabinet minister, was asked the probable date of a general election.

He replied: "Some time in the next month or so. I will go further and say that a by-election must be held in Newfoundland in the next three or four months if the province is to be represented in the January's session of parliament."

It was understood Mr. Bradley's reference to "three or four months" was to the province's advance "election weather" after that date. Many fishermen are on the banks and roads and communications are poor.

He therefore intimated that parliament's life may be extended until some time in 1950.

Prime Minister St. Laurent could not be reached for comment in Edmonton. He said Sunday no one seriously considered there would be another session of parliament before a general election.

Woman Believes Indians Could Help Tourist Trade

Kitchener, April 12 — (CP) — With a little help and encouragement, Canadian Indians could do a thriving tourist trade, thinks a slim, little English woman who became an Indian when she married into a tribe and spent eight years on the Lake Nipissing Reserve.

Mrs. Gisela Commanda, in Kitchener for the Canadian Citizenship Association Conference, believes that if interest and financial aid were given, Indians on reserves could launch themselves into craft industries and take some of the burden of supporting them off the taxpayer.

"I think Indians have a very fine culture of their own and Canadians are just beginning to realize it," she says.

She said governments were missing a tourist bet when they didn't feature Indians as an attraction. Money had been poured into developing other tourist baits, but Indians — with their picturesque costumes and customs — only needed publicity to become colorful attractions for tourists.

"Indian music should be more important. It is somewhat more vigorous than the white man's. Isn't raucous or noisy — it's Canadian and I like the Indian temperament, rather lovely and never getting anywhere."

Her interest in Indians goes back to her childhood when someone gave her a book called Thompson Seton's "Two Little Savages." She studied Indian folk lore and learned much about the gypsies in England because "they have many of the same characteristics."

Lives on Reserve in Summer

From Grey Owl, the famous Indian naturalist, she obtained the names of some of the Indian medicine guides with whom she could correspond and learn the Ojibway language.

Bored with life as an arts and crafts teacher in a girls' school, she decided to come to America and write to Indians she had corresponded with her. Several months later she became married in Sturgeon Falls, Ont.

As a ward of the Dominion government, her husband received a buy liquor or vote. She doesn't drink, so that means no vote for him, but she would like to vote.

A member of the Canadian Authors' Association, she has prepared three manuscripts about Indians. Two of them she has knowledge of 40 crafts in her teaching job at the Central Technical school in Toronto, where she is not strong enough to live the rigorous outdoor life in the winter. But all her summers are spent on the reservation.

Police Radio System to be Extended North

Toronto, April 12. (CP)—The Ontario Provincial police radio system will be extended to Northern Ontario, Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell told the legislature Tuesday.

First step in expanding the police radio network to the North area reaches only as far North as Burk's Falls, will be to establish stations in the North Bay and Temagami - Haileybury - New Liskeard areas, he said. Blackwell said in a 15-minute free-time broadcast that he was speaking.

It is proposed to establish 250-watt stations at Haileybury and North Bay, and 50-watt stations at Temagami, and to equip the two areas with mobile units, now numbering some 15 cars— with radio sets to keep them in provincial police radio-equipped cars, Mr. Blackwell said.

Mr. Blackwell said 11 principal stations cover the province at present.

Explaining new knowledge of the effectiveness of the Provincial Police radio communication system in crime detection, he said it usually operates for crime prevention," Mr. Blackwell continued.

Mr. Blackwell said 175 men will be added to the provincial police force this year to improve highway safety and traffic and to strengthen certain detachments engaged in general law enforcement. This will bring the total strength to 1,142, compared with 467 at the end of 1942.

One of the main reasons for the increase in personnel, he said, is consumption by the provincial of policing duty to his gird friend's home, 100 miles distant, found train and bus fares too expensive. Now he tackles the highway prepared with a gasoline can—converted into a suitcase. He says motorist seldom fail to pick him up.

THE FATE OF FULPLESS TEETH

A dentist who has practiced for forty years, the twenty-six years as a specialist in exodontia (extracting teeth) and oral surgery (cutting and structures about the mouth) cannot agree with dentists who believe a tooth may be devitalized (pulp removed or destroyed) or, as people commonly say, "the nerve killed") and not become a focus of infection.

Fulpless tooth is a better term, the dentist says, because even after the pulp has been removed, the root of the tooth receives some nourishment from the tissues into which it is set. (I will explain in a moment) pericementum.

Frankly the word was Sanskrit to me, but with all those dictionaries at my elbow it should take only a simple twist of the wrist to determine—but wait just a sec while I try it. Um-m, Dorland's medical dictionary says at the run-around, says it's the periodontal membrane, and leave you to decide what you are going to do about it. I wish to voice a vigorous protest against this trick of small time lexicographers—they are legion—of filling dinky little dictionaries to play games with the public. They take a word in the master—N. Webster at least makes a stab at a definition for every word in the book. Stedman's medical dictionary, Dorland's, Taber's, and Thompson Seton's "Two Little Savages." She studied Indian folk lore and learned much about the gypsies in England because "they have many of the same characteristics."

TODAY'S TALK

'BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE THING AT HAND

It should be the wish of us all to accomplish each day the most possible. But we are human. We cannot be accomplished by worrying over a mess of the past or disappointed in our ability to go ahead, but by doing the best thing at the present time for the fullest satisfaction and joy out of it all and for the future.

Here is a quotation from Carlyle that has helped me to get by. He said: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance but to do what lies clearly at hand." A simple statement, but what a lot there is to clean up as we go we will go along.

It's confusion that takes the efficiency out of us and we are no sooner where we start. We reach over into too many tomorrows and allow too many yesterdays to drag us from doing right things at the right time. One thing at a time, too — and that one thing done as well as we know. Then there is sure to be progress, and a sense of satisfaction that comes to success from systematic effort.

Strength for the Day

BIG QUESTIONS INDEED

Fifty years from now, the generation then alive will be standing on the threshold of a new century. Who will be leading America at that time? What kind of men will hold the offices of prominence and power?

Right at this moment, sleeping in some cradle is a boy or girl who will be the answer to many of the big questions. Whether that child's future scientist is at this moment crying lustily because his 4-hour feeding has been delayed. Some military genius, perhaps, is seated on the floor in a humble home playing with blocks. We see the boys and girls as they skip along going to school and coming back again, and as seldom as we do we look at them as tomorrow's leaders. We say, casually, "Isn't it funny to think of those things thirty years from now," but how much do we really think about those big words? How are all these children being prepared to meet overwhelming issues?

Let us keep in mind that character always comes first; so also let us remember that the truth — that stable character is almost invariably the result of religious faith. It may be that that boy who is throwing his hat up into the air and going through pranksyishness is one of God's great prophets; that girl who is laughing at him may in the future be a composer or a poet, or the mother of a world leader.

Pub Picketed For Ten Years By Local Union

By MICHAEL O'MARA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Dublin, April 12 (CP)— The world's longest strike is still going strong.

A dozen men have marched 30,000 miles to keep the non-stop dispute going. It's estimated to have cost £13,000 ($60,000).

It began March 6, 1939, when Downey discharged barman Pat Young because business was slack. The powerful Irish National Union of Vintners, Grocers and Allied Trades Assistants took up the cudgels for Young, declaring that he, as a senior employee, must have been fired last; the barmaid should have gone first.

Pinched for Help

Downey replied by discharging all union labor from his pub and advertising for non-union help. Then began months of pay. He's never since had trouble getting men to help out behind the bar.

"Ten years?" says he, "that's nothing. We'll go on 110 years if necessary. We don't mind the time or the expense. Our intention is to uphold trade union principles."

Replies 74-year-old Downey, who came to the pub at 15: "I will never employ a trade member in my pub as long as I live."

Even if peace was did come to the embattled pub, Downey and Beirne couldn't celebrate with a friendly drink. Both are teetotallers.

War Protection

Eire cannot remain neutral in any future world war, in the editorial view of the influential Cork Examiner.

"The Irish nation will be forced whether it likes it or not, to rely on the greater nations of this protection," said the newspaper. "If it is to worth while this protection, Ireland must be willing to facilitate those through whom it will hope for safety."

Countries upon which Eire probably would have to rely included Britain, Canada and the United States.

CREAM-COLORED SKUNK

Kingston, April 12 (CP) — A cream-colored skunk caused quite a commotion here yesterday. Farmer Rose Revell of Collins Bay was patrolling his fields when he shot what was thought to be a stray cat. When he got within close range, however, there could be no mistake. The animal was found to be without one black hair on its body.

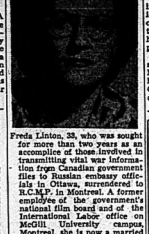
12-HOUR VIGIL ENDS AS CHILD IS FOUND DEAD IN WELL PIPE



This is 3½-year-old Kathy Fiscus, for whose life a crew of hard-rock miners with bulldozers, cranes and drills fought a desperate battle at San Marino, Cal., as they tried to reach the child trapped in a 14-inch pipe inside a well boring. Throughout Canada and the U.S. news of efforts to reach her in the abandoned well was awaited with anxious interest. After rescuers worked for 52 hours, the child was found dead in the well pipe. She was reported to have drowned a few hours after she tumbled into the 230-foot well. Her body was found lying in water, wedged about 10 feet down in the 14-inch pipe.

Fifteen thousand persons watched as weary workers dug, cut and pumped in efforts to find Kathy Fiscus, trapped in the abandoned well at San Marino, Cal. The child, while at play, tumbled into the weed-covered opening of the pipe in the 230-foot well. She answered cries just after falling in, then all was silent as rescuers continued working. This scene of the tragedy was taken as workers strove desperately to reach the child alive. — Central Press Canadian.

All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame Mr. and Mrs. David Fiscus, parents of three-and-one-half-year-old Kathy Fiscus, when they heard their child had been dead since answering cries that after falling in the abandoned well. They had received hundreds of telegrams from well wishers and many offers of suggestions on how to rescue the child. —Central Press Canadian.

Fur and Fliers Made Mackenzie Great Waterway

(By The Canadian Press)

A dour Scottish fur trader 160 years ago should help readers visualize it. He pictures this highway to the top of the world in "The Mackenzie" (Clarke, Irwin) 311th in the Rivers of America series, and the first to be written by a Canadian.

Using the changes of transportation along the Dominion's greatest inland waterway system as milestones, Roberts depicts the march of northwest history in terms of canoes, York boats, paddle-wheeling steamboats, airplanes, tractor trains, highways and airdromes.

Starting in 1789 when Alexander Mackenzie paddled for 102 days on the river from Great Slave to the Arctic Ocean and back again, he unwraps history of which many Canadians may be unaware.

The most fascinating reading in the 284 pages covers the period from the late 18th century to confederation when "white men travelled with their lives in their hands, not peril from the Indian population but form each other."

It was a time when the Hudson's Bay Company and the North West Company cracked heads in a bitter fur trade war. Competition at times "smashed one another as they travelled over the ice . . . Men were maimed. Loads of furs were captured."

The fur barons ruled the northwest with a rod of iron. The domain of the Bay Company was in fact, a quasi-military state with troops and all.

The new empire builders, counterparts of Mackenzie, are the first pilots who flew this wilderness trail—Punch Dickens, Wop May, Leigh Brintnell and others. Gilbert LaBine who found pitchblende near Great Bear Lake in 1930—and thus provided the number rock for the atomic bomb of the present World War and possibly atomic energy for the present industrial age—made a discovery with a world impact.

"Now Canada's government begins to realize that in its frigid back yard lies what may be the richest supply of untapped mineral resources in the world," Roberts says.

The empire of the Mackenzie stands on the threshold of the most tremendous development in the history of the country. The result will not be one or more big cities but many small communities grouped about mines.

Develop though it may, Roberts believes this frontier for 160 years "frontier will remain as long as mankind shall endure."

Hugh Garner, 36-year-old Toronto writer, has made a striking entry into the ranks of Canada's novelists with his first book, "Storm Below" (Collins).

Forceful and realistic, "Storm Below" is drawn from the wartime crew of a Canadian corvette HMCS Riverford, during one of her Atlantic convoy patrols.

The death of a young ordinary seaman, Knobby Clark, from a fall during the early stages of the Londonderry-St. John's crossing began a series of foreboding events.

Defying tradition and an old sailor's superstition, the captain decided against burial at sea and ordered the body stowed below decks so that Clark's parents might visit his grave in Newfoundland.

First one misfortune and then another occurred. Some stokers refused to oil the propellor shaft where the hammock wrapped body lay; personal quarrels broke out among some of the crew when patience were thin aboard the tiny vessel; five merchant ships were torpedoed in the convoy; anti-submarine equipment aboard the Riverford detected an enemy sub—a perfect "contact"—then lost with disheartening effect.

As the voyage progressed — seemingly at a snail's pace for the crew which was to go on 28 days' leave when it was over—tension mounted.

With the body below decks, the symbol of ill omen—the Storm Below—many of the ship's company became obsessed with a magnified awareness of their own personal troubles.

Garner, a naval veteran who served mainly on corvettes, has drawn his motley group of characters well. He has refrained from over dramatizing. The events, and more particularly their effects on a crew ill-at-ease under the stress of war, are woven with a realistic thread.

The characters are neither pretrified nor romanticized. Each stands out as a real person with plausible problems, whether he is the overbearing Englishborn captain, the French-Canadian stoker petty officer, the sub-lieutenant with his roundly-detested superior attitude or the nervous young seaman on his first draft to sea.

Prime Minister Champions Pact In Alberta Tour

Edmonton, April 12 — (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent had before Alberta today an appeal to swing its political allegiance to the Liberal party to gain an adequate voice in national policies in days which, he said, mark the "beginning of a great era" for the province.

In a one-day invasion of this citadel of the Social Credit philosophy, he twice declared yesterday that "either the Liberal party is going to win the next election or pe party will not."

The prime minister was en route to Vancouver today after a day which saw him meet or address more than 5,000 Albertans. He held forth three times as a champion of the Atlantic Pact which he predicted, will allow the 12 member nations to move ahead with development of their resources with a "practical certainty of peace."

No other area, he told this oil-boom region, would better recognize the significance of such a development.

He said the responsibilities of the pact would require each nation to set aside some of its resources to create that preponderance of strength which would bring the "practical certainty of peace." But its contribution would be "infinitely less" than the expenditures of the past two wars or of a third war.

Watch Presented In Appreciation For Kindly Services

Last Thursday Mr. Albert Wonnacott and Mr. William Wonnacott, local jewellers, called at the Roe Nursing Home and presented Mrs. J. J. Roe with a beautiful gold wrist watch in appreciation for her kindness and care toward their mother during her last illness at the Nursing Home. This unexpected and much desirable for Mrs. Roe, was much appreciated by Mrs. Roe.

Mrs. Roe, who has operated the nursing home for the past two years, has endeared herself to all who have come in contact with her by her administrative ability, and kindly disposition. During a recent inspection by the Department of Health, Toronto, Mrs. Roe was commended for having one of the finest nursing homes in this part of Ontario.

Great care has been taken to beautify the grounds for the pleasure of the patients. Last fall 1000 bulbs were planted, and the patients' rooms have been a bower of blooms from the ever-flowering gardens, through early Spring to late Fall. This is but one of the many acts of kindness shown to the patients by Mrs. Roe, whose greatest happiness is in making life more pleasant for those in her charge.

Mr. J. J. Roe was also presented with a gift of 100 cigarettes in appreciation for his part in this splendid work.

Czech Composers Featured in Fine Piano Recital by Rudolf Firkusny

By EUGENE LANG

Last evening the Collegiate Auditorium was filled to capacity with music lovers who came to hear the final concert of this season of the Belleville Community Concert Association. The artist of the evening was the brilliant young Czech pianist, Rudolf Firkusny, who has made many successes in the musical world wherever he has appeared. He has premiered two piano concerto of modern composers and recently in the United States and has lately concertized in Central and South America, France and Italy before making his pasent Canadian-American scedule of recitals. Besides his standard repertoire, he is giving audiences a taste of heretofore unknown piano works of his native composers—Smetana, Dvorak and Martinu—compositions of decided merit and musical worth that have been seldom performed, if at all, in this country.

Mr. Firkusny opened his recital with his own transcription for piano of the Organ Fugue in A Minor by Bohuslav Cernohorsky, a Czech contemporary of the great J. S. Bach of early eighteenth century fame. To many present this unknown work immediately became familiar as the subject of the fugue is practically identical with the fugue subject used by the modern Czech composer, Weinberger in his orchestral "Polka and Fugue" from his opera, "Schwanda the Bagpiper". Mr. Firkusny's performance of this rediscovered composition was richly sonorous, the voices being masterfully blended.

Masterful Work

For his featured solo Mr. Firkusny chose the Sonata in E Minor, Op. 90 of Beethoven, this truly masterful work of great originality in design, and one of Beethoven's supreme achievements in pianistic innovations, quite spoken of as "Sonata for a later age," meaning that it was far ahead of its time in music thought at the time of its conception. His interpretation was keenly perceived, being unfolded in a decidedly subjective manner in the first two movements, the final theme with variations affording more the composer's intensity of form and sensitive "third period" pianistic mastery of style and simplicity of utterance. This sonata should definitely be heard more often at piano recitals.

For his second group, Mr. Firkusny gave three well known numbers by Chopin, the Ballade in A Major, Op. 47 and the Nocturne in E Flat Major, Op. 9 No. 2, and the Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, Op: 39. The Ballade and Nocturne were played with great insight into their emotional content, but the scherzo was overemphasized as regards tempo which, a most necessary essential in playing Chopin, but one that can be overdone if not carefully curbed. The coda was noticeable for its too hurried ending, taken at a pace that could have been a bit retarded for more clarity of comprehension.

Following intermission Mr. Firkusny turned first toward his native land in his spirited and definitive playing of two polkas by Bedrich Smetana. These two short numbers showed that Smetana was a pianistic composer with virtuoso tendencies, being well seasoned with technical complexities. The artist next showed his wonderful powers of interpretation in his magnificent rendition of Liszt's tremendous transcendental study "Les Funerailles". This composition of ghostly character and ghastly harmonies is one of Liszt's great war horses for the virtuoso and was literally torn from the keyboard by Mr. Firkusny in his superlative reading of it.

Great Dexterity

Samuel Barber, the modern American composer was represented on the recital by two short pieces entitled "Excursions"—Calypso: Blues — both "small classic forms moulded into regional American idioms" as described by their composer. Both were delightfully phrased and rhythmically facilitated. The contemporary Russian composer, Prokofieff was slated as the final scheduled inclusion by Mr. Firkusny of living composers on his program as he performed the "Toccata", an ostentatious display of brilliant piano playing which has seldom been bettered by any artist that has ever played before Belleville audiences. What dexterity and fleetness of fingers this man Firkusny possesses! His playing is simply dazzling to the eyes.

Three encores were graciously given by the artist to the musical hunger of the very appreciative audience. Debussy's "Claire de Lune" serenely tonalized was followed by Chopin's Waltz in E Flat Major, Op. 18, meticulously spun, and culminated in an Etude by Smetana, another work that Mr. Firkusny pounced upon with frenzied fury in a cadyism of bravura outpourings. This young pianist has a most brilliant future awaiting his magically endowed fingers to capture for him in the years to come.

Tips For a Twosome

There is quite a trick in providing meals for two. The problem lies more in buying the right amount so that there will be no leftovers.

Choice of foods is somewhat limited. There can be no juicy seven pound roasts of beef, for no one wants to eat beef every day for a week or more. Big, beautiful cakes must be made only for parties where there are several guests. There are, however, many, many foods 'which are just as good prepared in small quantities and many others which may be cooked in larger quantities and served several times with slight variations.

Pullet eggs are an excellent buy for the family of two. When a large recipe calls for one egg, a pullet egg may be used in the half quantity mixture. A larger egg may be beaten, then measured and the exact half used. The remainder may be added to the morning scrambled eggs or to a dessert.

If a whole quantity of plain cake is made, a portion may be served hot, with sauce, as a cottage pudding and the rest iced, for a later meal. On the other hand, the remainder of a cake when stale, makes an excellent trifle or may be freshened for cottage pudding by steaming. Gingerbread may be treated in the same way.

Standard Quantity

The quantity of pastry usually given is for a nine-inch pie. This will make a small pie and an extra pie shell or six small tarts. Tart shells will keep for several days in a tin box in the small household but large cans are proportionately cheaper. Casserole and creamed dishes make good second appearance foods.

Gelatine jellies may be made up in the full quantity and varied by adding different flavors and moulding in individual moulds. If a lemon or pineapple flavored jelly powder is used, a teaspoon of vinegar added to one third of the prepared jelly will turn it into an aspic in which to mould fresh or leftover vegetables and make two individual jellied vegetable salads.

The following recipes for the small family come from the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture. Scalloped dishes are popular for luncheon or supper and are excellent for using small amounts of leftovers. Sometimes several of these bits may be combined or a little of the leftover food used with a larger amount of fresh food.

Basic Recipe for Scallops

2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1-4 to 1-2 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
1 cup milk
1-2 cup grated cheese (optional)
2 cups "character ingredient"
2 tablespoons bread crumbs

Melt fat, blend in flour, salt and pepper and slowly stir in the milk. Stir constantly until the sauce thickens. Remove from heat add grated cheese and stir until cheese has melted. Arrange alternate layers of "character ingredient" and sauce in a greased casserole. Top with crumbs and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375oF., until thoroughly heated and brown on top, 20 to 30 minutes. Yield: two to three servings.

NOTE: The character ingredient" may be cooked meat or fish, fresh or cooked vegetable, hardcooked eggs, spaghetti, macaroni or beans.

Fruit Crumble

This is a popular year-round dessert, rhubarb, berries, apples, cherries peaches and plums all make a delicious crumble.

2 cups prepared raw fruit
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1-4 cup brown sugar
dash of salt
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1-4 cup quick-cooking rolled oats.

Arrange fruit in a greased casserole and sprinkle with sugar. Cream fat, brown sugar and salt together. Blend in flour and rolled oats. Sprinkle over fruit. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 350oF., until fruit is tender and top golden brown, about 30 minutes. Yield: two to three servings.

Women's Activities

ZION W.M.S.

The Easter meeting of Zion W.M.S. was held at home of Mrs. Percy Ray with 13 members in attendance. The president, Mrs. Roy Sills, opened the meeting with hymn and read and approved. The treasurer reported finances of the first quarter. Mrs. Elmer Tufts, Mission Band president invited the W.M.S. to a tea in Zion Hall on April 22. Items to be used in aid of the Band.

Mrs. H. Casey gave a very timely reading on "The Temperance Question." An invitation to attend open meeting in Foxboro Church was received and accepted and a vote expressed to dare to attend.

Mrs. Ralph Sills brought "Highlights from the Presbyterial" held in Trenton.

Mrs. Roy Sills gave an Easter solo, "Lo in the Grave He Lay." Mrs. Kenneth Denyes was leader for the latter part of the program and gave the fifth chapter of the Study Book, assisted by five women taking parts.

Mrs. Tufts gave the Worship Service which was well prepared and presented.

Mrs. Ray served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Leonora Campbell, 91, Thinks There is Too Much Crime in World

A member of a well-known Hastings County pioneer family, Mrs. S. Leonora Campbell celebrated here ninety-first birthday at her home 212 George St., today.

Bright eyes twinkled from beneath a crown of silver-white hair was this life-long resident of Hastings County received a visitor come to an Ontario Intelligencer representative this morning.

Mentally, keenly alert, Mrs. Campbell, who resides with her daughter Miss Pearl Campbell, takes great interest in current events. She usually arises at 11 a.m. and retires at 9 p.m.

Last Sunday she celebrated her birthday jointly with a niece, Miss Ruth Peck, Reg. N., decorated army nurse of Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto. Mrs. Campbell, by way of evidencing that she has lost none of her culinary ability, made a delicious chicken pot-pie while her niece and daughter were at church.

Born Near Thomasburg

Mrs. Campbell was born at Moneymore, a few miles east of Thomasburg. She resided there for a number of her early years, then moved to Tweed, and later coming to Belleville where she has resided for the past 45 years.

She is a daughter of the late William and Mrs. Birleigh, and is the last member of a family of six boys and six girls. A son, Dr. William C. Campbell, Sudbury, passed away last year. Her husband, the late William F. (Frank) Campbell died fifty years ago.

Mrs. Campbell's father, William Burleigh was one of the first Orangemen of mid-Hastings County, the district originally from Northern Ireland.

She takes a great interest in current events and reads the newspapers daily. "There's too much crime going on in the world today. Crime and trouble is all we read about," she said.

Many Friends Call

"I didn't want any one to know that I have a birthday today", she smiled in gentle rebuke to her daughter.

"People remember from year to year and I'm sure your friends will want to know about it," said Miss Campbell.

Cards of congratulations were received by a bouquet of pretty sweetpeas, a birthday gift. A number of friends of Mrs. Campbell moved to offer best wishes during the day.

Argentina Ambassador Amazed at Cultural Developments in Canada

New York, April 12. (CP)—Canada's development amazes Atilio Garcia Mellil, newly-appointed ambassador to the Dominion from Argentina.

The 47-year-old diplomat, whose wife will embody inter-country relationships principally in the best of trade, said in an interview that what he has learned of Canada's culture from W. F. Chipman, Canadian ambassador to the Argentine, has been a source of constant wonderment to him.

"My interest in the culture is great because of the work I have done in the field for the last three years," he said in Spanish. "Now I will be able to learn more about it first hand and perhaps learn from it to widen the scope of Argentinian culture."

Mellil, who succeeds Dr. Juan Carlos Rodrigue, until recently was director of the department of culture of the Argentinian Foreign Affairs Department. Prior to that he taught cultural philosophy and literature in secondary schools.

A newspaper man and author of note in his own country, the dark, six-foot-tall diplomat could be mistaken for a motion picture actor.

The Peron government, he said, hopes to increase its relationships with Canada, and in no respect to trade between the two countries.

He said his instructions from the Argentine government were that in her relationship with Canada, Argentina hopes no problems will arise and should there ever be any problem it is to be worked out as quickly as possible.

A winner of the government award for literature in 1946 with a thesis on the life of Argentina, Mellil said he has started work on a book reflecting the critic of our time.

"I would like very much to publish this in Canada and perhaps have it published in English there, as well."

Friends Honor Family on Eve Of Departure

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kilpatrick and family at Plainfield, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Larkin recently to pay tribute to Mrs. Kilpatrick, a daughter of Mrs. Larkin on the eve of their departure from the community.

Following a social get-together Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick and family were presented with a lovely eight-day chime clock. The address was read by Ted Wilson and was signed by Mr. Wilson and Franklin Larkin, on behalf of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick expressed their heartfelt appreciation to friends and neighbors of the community and also their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Larkin for opening their home for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick and family are moving to Shannonville, after residing at Plainfield for the past two years where they took an active interest in community welfare and social affairs.

Tuesday at school little Miss Beverly Kilpatrick was presented with a pet plastic shoulder purse and handkerchief by her fellow pupils and teacher, Mrs. Boldrick.

Dancing was enjoyed during the evening with the music being provided by Messrs. Fred and Douglas Wannamaker and Ross Wilson.

Friends joined spiritedly in singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" and expressed their good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick and family in their new home near Shannonville.

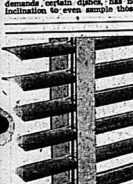
Hints for the underweight

While plumpness is old-fashioned, the extremely thin girl does not qualify for the looks parade either. Skirts aren't long enough to hide her skinny shanks her collar bones form little shelves; her lungs for curves with all her heart. The members of her family are forever urging her to eat more and become curvaceous. That is not good advice. What really puts on weight is not how much but what is eaten. Miss Skinny usually has a taste for sweets or starchy foods, would be content to live on a couple of lettuce leaves a day.



Excessive consumption of fats, sweets and starches—foods that form adipose tissue—is just as bad for the lean as for the fat. There should be a proper amount of them to form a balanced diet, probably more than has been consumed. There are fat-building foods of special value, that they should not be eaten to the exclusion of others. These are "regulators"—fruits, vegetables and cereals.

The extremely thin girl does not qualify

Butter has a high food value, but the girl who has the willowy shape should have it on vegetables, cereal served it plain on bread or toast. The day she should start with orange or tomato juice, a hot cereal, a soft boiled or poached egg, coffee with plenty of cream and sugar, or a glass of milk.

Meat is necessary to provide protein, but vary it with fish, occasional eggs or poultry. The girl who is skin and bones usually has a finicky appetite that demands certain dishes, has no inclination to even sample those that do not appeal. Poor eating habits are the main cause of nervousness. Certain minerals or vitamins are lacking and there is not enough rebuilding of tissue going on to make up for the wear and tear of daily activities.

A quart of milk a day is what the doctor will order—thick, creamy milk. A glass taken in midmorning and mid-afternoon, another one at bedtime will put fat on the ribs.

Hurried eating should be avoided. One should relax at the table if food is to be properly assimilated. Pleasant conversation is a help. In every family there should be a strict rule: no complaining, no worrying, no talk to arguments at mealtime.

Many thin girls are highly energized, inclined to be jittery. They should relax, sleep longer hours, take life easier. Exercise should not be violent. Outdoor pastimes and deep breathing are essential to girls who would increase their weight. Because of deep breathing, food is thoroughly oxidized and circulated through the system the general vitality and vigor of the body is improved.

By following these suggestions weights can be increased in a manner in the vast majority of cases.

Fashion Flashes

IMPORTANT for Spring gloves are the pale pinks and pinky-beige tones, in both suede and glace kid. Pearl buttons intended to match add a pretty touch, and in many models the button closing is the back where it acts as trimming, too.

WELL BRED costumes are always in demand. Women want clothes that look smart without being overly striking, clothes that lend themselves to frequent wear without tiring. Black sheer is used for a pretty contrast, the jacket with lapels of black lace over black net to match the entire bodice of the dress.

UNDER THE SUN this summer, we'll be wearing such choice cotton fabrics as mull, organdie and voile, the last named a particular pet of leading designers and houses. Gray voile with white pin-dots is used for a beautiful frock with bodice buttoned to the waist, sparked by a deep accordion neckline and a wide, double collar on either side. Unpressed pleats for the moderately full skirt.

BOLD checks and color lend interest to a handsome coat, a good town or country choice. The checks are navy and white, but the lining is of bold fuchsia leather. Section over the hips in back is cut in a V from which the soft skirt hangs. Slanting breast pockets add big hip pockets.

NICE GOING in a neat pump. Still the smartest of all footwear is a beautifully fitted pump of fine calf leather. We like the notion of creating pumps in various heel heights for either the high pump or the low-cut shell model. Lots of covered calf and suede around, too—especially navy and green, rather than last year's red.

IT'S A GOOD Spring for pretty floral prints. Fitted bolero silk makes a pretty frock with high neck, quite similar, slightly lowered waistline and full, bishop sleeves. The spaced floral print is in deeper beige, brown and green.

MAYBE RABE and costly chinchillas will become less expensive and so more in vogue now that domestic chinchilla farming is every month on the increase. In fact, a show of domestic bred chinchilla furs included many sumptuous garments designed to show the beautiful markings.

AT THE BEACH, come Summer, the girls will be wearing the new matador pants of printed cotton, cut on tapered, calf-length lines.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Letters and Answers

Humiliated by her drinking husband

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am the mother of three children, two girls and a boy.

My husband is a good provider, but he takes a drink, and in front of company casts up what he makes me feel I spend it, which is humiliating. Then the next day he is very sorry, sweet but that doesn't make up for what he has already said, to the company. He only talks like that when he is drinking.

Could you help me find some way to solve this problem? I hate it on account of my oldest daughter, who is in high school.

"Worried"

Dear "Worried":

Your situation is the tragic one that confronts every wife of a man who is a problem drinker. It is its effect upon an entire family that's one of the most serious aspects of the whole thing, particularly where there are growing children who cannot help but be emotionally disturbed by it.

What you need advice from someone who has had experience with drinking problems and who could perhaps make some suggestions to you as to how to handle your husband. I suggest that you write to the Alcoholic Foundation, 415 Lexington Avenue, New York, 17, N.Y., and ask them to give you the name of some one connected with the local Alcoholics Anonymous in your vicinity. Explain why you would like this information, telling them that you are anxious to help your husband, and to make your home a happier one for yourself and your children. I am sure they will do all they can to give you the sort of advice you need.

Interested in a handicapped boy

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 19 years old and in love with a boy who was born with one arm underdeveloped. This is not why I feel for him. I have loved him since last Summer. We are both very shy and I just can't seem to get to know him, even though we were introduced. I thought of a friend here who told one of my girl friends here much I like him and that I went and told him. He told her that he liked me, too, but he was too shy to tell me, or show any affection for me.

Could you please tell me how I should go towards this boy and how I could get to know him better? Do you think he is only fooling when he tells my friend he likes me?

"Heartbroken"

Dear "Heartbroken":

No, I do not think this boy is fooling when he says he likes you, but his handicap has probably made him so sensitive that it is hard for him to believe anyone could have exactly the same feeling for him as for a perfectly normal person. If I were you, though, I would stop thinking about being "in love" with him and just consider him a friend. He will probably be less shy and self-conscious than if you were to try and dramatize your interest in each other as "love."

I suggest that you invite this boy to come and see you, or better still, when he is among your friends are planning some party or other event ask him to go with you. If you simply show him that you want him to be one of your friends in a natural friendly way, I am sure he will respond.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Minister to sing "Bless This House" at Housewarming

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The assistant minister in our church is a fine young man whom we have known ever since he was born . . . his father and my family have always been close friends. He has been very interested in my building our new house, and has volunteered to sing "Bless This House" at the housewarming party planning to give soon. Of course we are happy and proud about this, but we are perplexed as to what hours to have the housewarming, and at what hour to suggest he sing. What is your suggestion about "Worries"

M. DeF.

What a charming plan . . . I should think you would be happy and proud at the prospect. I suggest, that, for your housewarming, you have a tea (or Open House) on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon, when it is more convenient for the assistant minister; and name the customary hours, four to seven, or, if you prefer, three or four to six. Then you might suggest to the assistant minister's singing of "Bless This House" say, five o'clock (if this is convenient to him), when most of the guests will probably be present I suggest, too, that when the hour is definitely set you invite the news of this delightful plan in your invitations to your guests and ask them to know this, and so could plan to arrive at that hour.

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

How should I address an Easter card to our minister and his wife (he is not a D.D.)

Sara G.

Address the card to:
The Reverend and Mrs. Joseph Wells.

Return address on Easter card envelopes

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Is it correct to write my name and return address on the flap of the envelopes in which I am sending my Easter cards and Easter notes?

Grace

Yes.

When a Guest Brings a Friend

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When a friend has given a guest permission to bring a friend to a rather large informal party, when he is the friend introduced to the hostess or host? And who should introduce the friend to the other guests?

Malta L.

The one who knows the hostess greets her immediately on entering the room, and then introduces to the hostess the one she doesn't know. Then the hostess introduces the stranger to all the guests, if the party is small; and if the party is rather large, to several of the guests at a time. As far as possible, it is the hostess, not the guest who makes the introductions.

How to Use Serving Spoon and Fork

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When at table a serving-dish is passed to you with a serving spoon and serving fork on it, just exactly how should you use these pieces of silver as you help yourself to the food in the dish?

Emily

Take the serving spoon in your right hand; the serving fork in your left hand. Use the spoon to separate or cut your portion, slip it under that portion, and then hold it in place with the fork, prongs down, while transferring the portion to your plate.

CANADA'S HON. PEARSON AT POLITICAL SCIENTISTS MEET

U.S. Opening Pocketbook to Reward Heroes

San Marino, Calif., April 12—(AP)—The United States is opening its pocketbook to reward the heroes who lost their race with death in their attempt to rescue little Kathy Fiscus.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports that money is coming in from all parts of the country for the 50 to 60 men who toiled under most hazardous conditions long beyond the normal exhaustion point.

President Earle V. Grocer of the Chamber explained the purpose of the fund is not to pay the men for the long hazardous hours they donated, but rather to give them financial recognition. The fund setup is known as the Fund Committee, c/o Postmaster, Los Angeles.

Meantime, H. E. (Whitey) Blickenderfer, "foreman" of the rescue effort, expressed the feelings of his gangs when he said:

"I'm no hero. It was just a matter of simple humanity."

Mr. Paul Hansen, family physician, said 3 1-2-year-old Kathy might have lived through the 53 hours of rescue work had lungs not been injured against her chest.

Prevented From Breathing

Dr. Hansen said the jack-knifed position in the 14-inch casing prevented her from breathing except with great difficulty. A preliminary autopsy report blamed suffocation for her death.

Dr. Hanson and Dr. Robert J. McCulloch said the child probably died painlessly and likely within an hour and a half after she fell 90 feet into the abandoned well Friday afternoon. They said she was conscious when a rope was dropped to her but she couldn't hold onto it and somehow fell another four feet. Dr. Hanson said he believed it was at that time that her legs became wedged against her chest.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus, urged friends who planned to send flowers to Kathy's funeral tomorrow to send the equivalent amount of money to the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles.

Through such contributions, they explained, "we feel that our little Kathy's untimely death might be the cause of saving some child for a useful life."

Walter J. Hedger Found Dead In Vacant Lot

Toronto, April 12 — (CP) — Walter James Hedger, 46, was found dead Monday night on an east-end parking lot, suffering facial injuries. Detectives said he may have been injured in a fight.

Kenneth Blair, 19, was held on a vagrancy charge and police were looking for a second man who might have been with Hedger last night.

Blair told police that Hedger had been struck by a truck. He disappeared after reporting the death to police and was picked up in his rooming house several hours later.

Hedger's clothing was torn and marks in the mud indicated he had been dragged into the lot.

Police said Hedger had been drinking heavily and had lived from place to place in recent months. He was a Second World War veteran and was father of two children.

His mother and several sisters and brothers reside in Belleville.

Montgomery's Name Will Be Commemorated by Street

The name of Field Marshal Montgomery will be commemorated by a street name in the new housing sub-division which is to be opened on the former Hastings county farm, it was decided at the regular meeting of council Monday evening.

Decision to include the name "Montgomery" as one of the street names in the new sub-division between the highway and Bridge Street, East, came when council members were called on to finalize the sub-division plan for registration.

Alderman Everett Liddle suggested the name Montgomery, stating it would be very fitting to commemorate the name of the great English general who led the Allied forces during the last war. He said the name Churchill had been commemorated in the city through the naming of Churchill Heights, the veterans' housing area, but thus far no recognition had been given locally to Montgomery.

Council members readily agreed to the alderman's suggestion and changed the street Quinte Blvd. to that of Montgomery Blvd.

Council generally frowned on the idea of naming one of the drives "Allin" Street. It was felt none of the aldermen's names should appear in the street names in the new area. It was decided to call this street Edward Street.

With his tongue in his cheek, Alderman Lloyd stated that in view of the criticism directed at council because of the purchase of the county farm, the names of all aldermen should be commemorated by street names.

"Then the names of council members responsible would be forever before our critics," he said. The plan was passed on for registration without action being taken on the suggestion.

Calf Has Face And Hop of Deer

St. Catharines, April 12 (CP) From nearby Caistor Centre comes word of a new-born calf which has the face and the hop of a deer. The calf is the offspring of a Holstein and for the first three days of its life had to be bottle fed. The calf hops about on stiff four legs. Its reddish in color, has a long slender nose and thus far has not been heard to utter a sound.

Avery Facing Another Blow-up In Management

Chicago, April 12 (AP)— Sewell Avery, grey-haired, hard-driving boss of the second largest retail merchandising firm in the United States, today was confronted with another blow up in his top management group.

And this time the eruption came within two weeks of the annual Montgomery, Ward and Company stock-holders meeting. Avery himself is up for re-election as a director at that meeting, scheduled for April 22.

Two more vice-presidents Charles Odorizzo and Arthur Romer resigned from the battle-scarred company yesterday. There were rumors that at least one more vice-president would quit.

Of the top management group in control of the company a year ago only Avery and vice-president Albert Sieffey are left. Ten top men have left.

The crash of Ward's executive personnel is virtually without precedent in recent American business history, particularly for a company which is rolling along with record sales and earnings. It all revolves around the 75-year-old Avery.

The dispute which has brought on the present crisis is believed in financial circles to be based on a desire of other executives to have more authority and responsibility than Avery gives them.

Despite everything, financial sources were betting Avery will be re-elected a director at the stock holders meetings.

Heavy Gains in UK By Conservatives In C.C. Elections

London, April 13 (CP) — The Conservative central office announced that final returns from last week's county council elections in England and Wales showed that the Conservative party had gained 300 seats and had lost only 12.

They said that Labor gained only 69 seats and lost 282. The Conservatives gained 222 of their seats at the expense of Labor, the office said.

In ridings where candidates received acclamations the Conservatives returned 384, Labor 303, Liberal 56 and Independents 1, 195.

In the London County Council, where the elections left Conservatives and Labor deadlocked, Labor's hope of winning control appeared to depend on whether a sick council member will be able to take part in Wednesday's council vote for a chairman and 11 aldermen.

If he fails to attend, Conservatives could elect 11 voting aldermen and gain control of the council, a rich political plum.

Even if the sick member does show up, the Conservatives can deadlock the voting for the aldermen if they get the help of the lone Liberal elected. The Liberal party leans more to the Conservative line.

The voting in London came the day after the announcement by Sir Stafford Cripps, of a budget decreasing another ten cents for Britons. The county council has nothing to do with national affairs, but the voting is considered a significant barometer.

FIVE FILE SUITS

Los Angeles, April 12 (AP) — A $1,000,000 suit was filed yesterday against Bing, Crosby, Frank Sinatra and 11 others by five investors in a hotel venture in Las Vegas, Nev. The five allege they were frozen out of a deal to build a hotel and possibly a racetrack in the Nevada town.

SHOOTS SELF IN COURTROOM

Jackson, Miss., April 12 (AP)— Malcolm Oakman, 43, shot himself to death yesterday in a courtroom after he heard the State Supreme Court confirm his five-year sentence for grand larceny. He had been free on bail pending result of his appeal.

SEVEN FISHERMEN DROWNED

Berlin, April 12 — (AP)—Seven German fishermen were drowned when two small boats overturned in the Baltic off Griefswald, in the Russian zone, the Soviet-controlled news agency ADN said today.

"I trust them more than I'd trust myself"

THE BANK'S the place for my money. I always put part of my pay into my bank account—otherwise it burns a hole in my pocket. I guess I trust the bank more than I trust myself! I figure that's one reason why my savings have been building up the way they have.

Another reason I'm sold on a bank account is that I always know just where I stand. All I have to do is take a look at my pass-book. They're a lot better bookkeepers than I am.

What's more, what's in my pass-book is my business, and I can count on the bank people to keep their mouths shut about it. And that suits me just fine!

Going to your bank is not like having to deal with a state bureau—but that's how it would be under state monopoly.

Toronto, Two up on Wings In Stanley Cup Final, Worried Detroit May Take Third Game

St. Catharines, April 12 (CP) —Toronto Maple Leaf coach Hap Day today was added to the casualty list. He's sporting a taped finger—the result of a biting habit during games.

Day, who has guided the Leafs to a two game lead over Detroit Red Wings in the best-of-seven final for the Stanley Cup, is also plagued with butterflies in his stomach.

Lounging around the Leaf training headquarters here, Day foresees a determined Detroit bid to win the third game of the series in Toronto tomorrow night. Toronto won the first game, 3-3 and the second 3-1.

"We took the opening two games from Boston in the semi-final series away from home," he said, "whereas if we lost the third to the Bruins right on our home ice . . . and I'm afraid of a repeat in Toronto Wednesday."

A three day rest may be all the National Hockey League champion Wings need. Although the Leafs, who have won the Cup for the last two years are in good form, the Red Wings have shown the effects of their tough seven-game semi-final series against Montreal Canadiens.

Day is expected to send in the same starting team as in the first two contests. Max Bentley will pivot a line with Joe Klukay and rookie Ray Timgren. Projecting 34-year-old netminder Turk Broda will be the much improved Garth Boesch and burly Bill Barilko.

Coach Tommy Ivan will likely start off with Max McNab centering a line with Gerry Couture and Nels Podolsky. Defenceman Bill Quackenbush and Red Kelly will front Harry Lumley in the Detroit nets.

Also on the Toronto casualty list today was right-winger Bill Ezinicki, who suffered a gash over his left eye in Sunday's game that required three stitches to close.

However, Ezinicki, who's back to his heavy-going form after a previously injury, doesn't take the injury seriously. "I forgot when I got it," he said.

NEARING END OF SERIES

Toronto, April 12 (CP)— The Eastern Canada Senior Hockey finals may open Friday night, if, depends upon the outcome of the Sherbrooke-Ottawa Senator series.

Ottawa leads the best-of-seven series 3-2, with one game tied, and can wind up the series with one victory, or a tie. However, if Sherbrooke wins tonight, a special Canadian Amateur Hockey Association meeting will decide when the eighth will be played.

If the Senators win tonight, the series final will start in Toronto Friday night and then switch to Ottawa next Saturday and Tuesday. The fourth and 5th game if necessary, will be played in Toronto April 21 and 23.

Regina Capitals And Fort Frances Meet in Finals

Regina, April 13 (CP)— The old-timers will be in their element here tomorrow night when Regina Capitals and Fort Frances Canadians open the Western Canada Senior Hockey Final.

In the Thunder Bay and Manitoba champions, they will find one of the few survivors of the "old" school of hockey where stickhandling passing and speed were considered the keys to success.

The railbirds who beman Western hockey's trend towards helter-skelter and alleged slaughterhouse tactics will welcome the Ontario team's "unorthodox" style of play.

Not an overly big club, Canadians make up for their lack of brawn with a dazzling array of speed and checker-board passing plays.

They like to carry the puck into the other end of the rink, with the rubber ring slapped about by three forwards travelling abreast at full speed. Fron Coach Gordie Fraser Down, they frown on the "shoot it in and chase it" method of attack. But they can resort to that if need be.

Clean, fast hockey has paid off for Canadians, who hail from a small town of 10,000 population on the Ontario-Minnesota border. It has carried them to 40 victories and two ties against only nine losses in league and playoff competition this season.

The success of Fort Frances so far makes the team a leading candidate for the "Cinderella" tag in the current playoffs. Competing with three United States teams in the Northern Amateur League, Canadians won 27 and tied one in 30 scheduled games.

Kenora Thistles, Port Arthur Bearcats and Winnipeg Nationals all have been pushed off the Allen Cup trail by Fort Frances. They were extended to the limit in each series but they came through in the end.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

We want to thank of all people our old friend Davy Kerr, manager of the Empress Hotel in Peterborough. Dave really gave us, of all people, of faraway places like Belleville a grand time. Personally, Dave we thank you. And "Lillian" too.

We met during our travels up around Peterborough way a scrap by name of Attorney General Leslie Blackwell. The A.G. spoke very briefly at the luncheon given by Manis Swanzion, who by the way is the mayor of Peterborough, and who with his colleagues of the Liftlock City Council gave us a hellaboreuillous at the guests of the Liftlock City.

We, as we said before, of the faraway places, do want to say "Thank You" to Mayor Max Swanzion and to Manager Dave Kerr of the Empress Hotel in Peterborough, for the grand reception we, as out of town people, received in the town of Peterborough.

We liked it. We appreciated it. We think we are speaking for the majority of the baseball people who attended the 22nd convention of Ontario Baseball Association Convention held in Peterborough last weekend.

We liked the fine tribute paid to the late Ken Colling, by President Fred Bradley, President Bradley came to our hotel room after the show and reminded us that fitting tribute had been paid to the memory of the late officer of the OBA.

We liked, too, the attitude of Attorney General Leslie Blackwell, who, in his address to the OBA, said that he was all in favor of baseball insofar as it did offset juvenile delinquency. The Attorney General in a luncheon speech, did not pull his punches. He said, that he felt that baseball and other sports filled a long felt want as far as juvenile delinquency was taken into the picture.

And now so much for baseball. Up comes the Ontario Amateur Softball Association next Friday. Good Friday, that is. It is understood that as far as Belleville is concerned, the CNR is sending Harold Rawden to Oshawa to represent this city. We hope there will be more.

But here is what George H. Campbell has to say. He and his organization as all out to publicize Softball. Listen to this. The Oshawa City and District Softball Association are your 1949 leads and their officers, together with Geo. H. Campbell, 1st Vice-President of the OASA have been working hard to make this the best OASA Convention ever held.

Registrations opens on Thursday at 4.30 o'clock. The annual meeting starts on Thursday evening, this year, at 7.30 p.m. and then at 9.30 p.m., we "recess" for a two-hour program of entertainment featuring Canada's best radio and stage artists.

There'll be fun galore. Buffet luncheons and refreshments of course and a chance to mingle with your softball friends from all over the Province.

We sat with Dh Clapper in Peterborough the other night and "Dh" was not talking. He did, however, say that he was glad to be back in Canada and get settled down to business. (He's put a sporting goods store in Peterborough.)

But as the Hockey News says: Things won't be quite the same, somehow, now that Aubrey "Dh" Clapper has announced his retirement from the game he has served so well. After 22 years as Boston—as if them as a player—Clapper has become so much a part of the Bruins and the game around Boston that it is going to seem strange without him.

"Dh" revealed his plans to retire at the Bruins' end-of-season banquet, after they had been eliminated from the Stanley Cup hunt. Clapper said he could no longer stay on as Coach of the Boston squad, but wanted to devote more time to his family and to his business in Peterborough, Ontario.

Thus, finis is written to a great career in the National Hockey League. Clapper, now 42 years old, broke in with Bruins as a rookie back in 1927. He rose to fame as a brilliant and valuable forward, a member of that famous and feared line of Clapper, "Cooney" Weiland and Dutch Gainor, the "Dynamite line."

Later, as the years took their toll, he moved back on defense, and played there with the same courage and resourcefulness he has always shown. He retired from active play only two years ago, but not before he set a record of 22 years service in N.H.L. competition, a feat that won him a nomination to the International Hockey Hall of Fame at Kingston, Ont.

The regard in which "Dh" Clapper is held in Boston was amply demonstrated at the farewell dinner, and ably summed up by Walter A. Brown, President of the Boston Garden. Says Brown:

"I don't know of anyone who ever represented a city in sports who ever brought it more credit than "Dh" Clapper."

Boston fans, and other hockey followers around the circuit can well echo those words. Because the personal and likeable Clapper was always popular with everyone, player and customer alike.

A gentleman of the old school, you might almost call him, a representative from the 'days of sports' golden 20's. "Dh" Clapper has always been a credit to the game he liked so well. Goodbye and good luck, "Dh."

MAX MOVE TO SENATE

Edmonton, April 12 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent hinted broadly Monday night that Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Minister without Portfolio, will be named to the Senate at the end of the present session of parliament. In a prepared public address, he regretted that Mr. MacKinnon's health will "not let him continue in the hurly burly of politics."

Riders Find Body Of Elderly Man

Toronto, April 11 (CP)—Two teen-age girls horseback riding in the city's outskirts Saturday found the body of an elderly man believed to be 82-year-old William Archibald, missing from his home since April 4. The girls—Judy Caldwell and Eleanor Pady, both 12—said they found the body lying under a clump of bushes beside a bridle path.

Hershey Bears Have an Edge On Providence

Hershey, Pa., April 12 (AP)— Don Pennilston's Hershey Bears cross sticks with Terry Reardon's Providence Reds tonight in the fourth game of the American Hockey League final playoffs.

The Bears have the edge on the Reds, having won two of the three preceding games — both by good margins, — 6-1 and 5-2.

The New Englanders' lone victory in the best-of-seven series came by a 5-3 margin on the Providence rink last Saturday.

That both teams have been playing aggressive hockey is evidenced by the scoring of individual players. Gordie Bruce of the Bears is leading with five goals and seven assists for 12 points.

In second place in individual scoring is Arnie Kullman, Bruce's team-mate, with five goals and six assists for 11 points.

KILLED IN CRASH

Almonte, Ont., April 1 (CP)— Asa V. Gawley, 35-year-old district farmer, was killed Monday when the milk truck he was driving struck a hydrant, overturned and crashed into a stone wall on the outskirts of this town, 20 miles west of Ottawa.

Robert Jean, Gawley's recently adopted 10-year-old son who was also in the truck, escaped unhurt.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning Business Practice
IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. Those dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.
We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become proficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.
THE BREWING INDUSTRY (ONTARIO)
Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands
Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy —that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

Canada's Teddy, Handicap Horse, Seriously Ill

(By The Canadian Press)

Canada's Teddy, last year's outstanding handicap horse on the race tracks, Monday at Toronto was reported seriously ill in the quarantine hospital. The horse developed colic at Woodbine track the week end and became ill Sunday. The ailment is believed to be bronchial pneumonia.

Canada's Teddy, owned by Mrs. Morris Fishman of Toronto, is the son of Teddy Wrack out of Wee Toddler II. Last year the owner refused an offer of $25,000 for him.

Miss Tilly and Bangsway, Winter book co-favorites for the Hambletonian, won't meet until the $67,000 trotting classic is staged at Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 10.

List of nominations for the circuit stakes disclosed Monday that Miss Tilly and Bangsway are named to three-year-olds takes worth $61,000-but never in the same race.

Miss Tilly, owned by C. W. Phelps of Greenwich, Conn., and Bangsway, from Toledo, O., stable of C. M. Saunders, were counted equally at 3 to 1 in the pre-trial early line.

Miss Tilly earned $49,876 in 1948, best year to become the biggest money-winning two-year-old of all time.

The final game of the All-Ontario juvenile final series between South Porcupine and St. Catharines was played in St. Catharines today. It was announced at press time last night. Second game in the best-of-three series will be played Friday and the third Saturday, all in St. Catharines.

St. Catharines Masons took a one-game lead in the Ontario minor hockey associations finals at Toronto, Monday night by defeating Toronto Marlboros 3-2 in overtime. The win gave Masons a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five series; Masons twice came from behind to send the game into overtime play and clinched it on Robertson's tally at 7:30.

Ab Morton, of Galt, veteran pathoner who finished fifth in the Western Ontario title bouts in 1946 and 1947, entered the 1949 event Monday. He did not compete last year.

Ky Detroit Spokane Flyers defeated Windsor Hettche Spitfires 4-1 Monday night to take their straight victory in the best-of-seven United States National Amateur hockey playoffs. The Clubs meet again tonight in Windsor. The two previous games went into overtime at Toledo with Spokane winning 4-3 and 8-7.

A 15-round bout between Gus Lesnevich of Clifton, N.J., for world light heavyweight championship" was approved Monday by the Canadian Boxing Commission. The scrap is scheduled for May 23 at Cincinnati Garden.

Archie Moore, Toledo light-heavyweight contender, chalked up his sixth consecutive knockout Monday night by flattening Tony Riviera of Montreal in the 2:06 of the eighth round in their scheduled 10-round boxing bout at Toledo, Ohio. Moore weighed 172 to 168 1-2 for Riviera.

Sugar Ray Robinson won all 10 rounds and scored two knockdowns as he whipped Randolph Dow(Jan a non-title fight at Omaha, Neb., Monday night. Both Robinson, the welterweight champion, and the Edison, Neb., veteran were tagged over the 147-pound limit: Robinson weighed in at 148 3-4, Lee at 159 1-4.

At Peterborough, Montreal Young Men's Hebrew Association Monday night defeated Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School 53-34 in the opener of their two-game, total-points final series for the Ontario Juvenile Basketball title. Lefty Moreau potted the winning basket with two seconds to go. Montreal led 27-26 at half time.

Atlanta, Ga., April 12 (AP) — Joe McCarthy is talking more freely to southern sports writers as he takes his Red Sox home to Boston, but he actually isn't saying much more than last year . . . Ted Williams, who claims he's shooting for a batting title fifth better than the home-run championship, sometimes seems more interested in good fishing spots than in either crown.

Montreal, April 11 (CP)— Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens have long enjoyed a monopoly of displaying the Memorial Cup final when that usually brilliant junior hockey classic is held in the east.

And it has become irksome to a lot of people outside of Toronto who doesn't know the city by any name other than hogtown.

Now, a year ahead of time, Andy (Montreal Standard) O'Brien takes up the cudgels on behalf of the outcasts and more particularly of course, from Montreal.

Andy says the finals have become the Gardens' monopoly in the seat "because of the $15,000 net gates offered there by Conn Smythe (the Garden boss) to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association."

Then he introduces Frank Selke with direct quotes from the Forum G. M.—

"I don't blame Smythe for going after the business—and he did it in a strictly legitimate way. The C.A.H.A., however, shouldn't allow the sweet music of clicking turnstiles at Toronto block Montreal's natural right to be considered as the locale for future juniors classics. With the Forum's 3,000 seating increase, we'd also be able to match the gates offered by Toronto."

Andy says Selke is particularly irked because the Canadiens' organization, dating in Buffalo and Cincinnati, has done more for junior hockey in Canada than all other professional clubs combined.

Andy figures Canadiens' expenditure this season in the junior field has topped $100,000, and "since Montreal leads the way, the city's fandom deserves a better fate."

Barbara Balks

Canada's skating queen, Barbara Ann, was a bit surprised when Andy made bold to tell her he thought people suspected she was merely teasing Sonja Heinie, the Ice Follies and Ice Capades into making an all-time super-bid for her contract.

"No fooling, it's no—but no—ice shows for me," replied B. A. Then she quickly added: "Not that I don't like ice shows. I love them, but merely because I'm doing plenty all right for myself as a free lance and have no desire for the 48-week year grind an ice show contract would demand."

then he got up and argued that he should be out!" . . . The bellicose Cobb replied: "There'd be three sudden deaths. The umpire would drop dead; the manager would die of apoplexy — but before he did he'd take a fast crack at knock that player's head off."

Dot's All, Brothers

Jimmy Dykes insists he still can live up to his reputation for being talkative. "But it's fourth hand talk. Aren't there three couches ahead of me on this club?

The Louisville Courier-Journal's Tommy Fitzgerald figures getting officials worried when Leo Durocher was tossed out of an exhibition game by an umpire. Says Tommy: "Leo saw his first robbing."

Calgary Buffaloes To Meet Brandon In West Finals

Moose Jaw, Sask., April 12 — (CP)— The Calgary Buffaloes and Brandon Wheat Kings for the Western Junior Hockey crown.

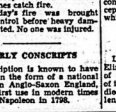
Buffaloes moved into the sectional final last night by pounding out a 5-2 victory over the lighter Moose Jaw Canucks. The triumph gave Buffs the best-of-seven series four games to two.

The Albertans and the Wheat Kings open their best-of-seven series in Calgary April 14 with the second game also there April 16. It's probable that the Wheaties will open at least slight favorites on their performances over the season.

Canucks had plenty of fight in last night's contest, played before 2,500 fans, but they simply couldn't match strides with the bulkier Calgary club. Calgary's goals were scored by Bob Collbody, Rose Tyrell, Sid Finney, Jack Steele and Bob Carlson. Moose Jaw scorers were Jack Shave and Red Mellor.

10 Homes Saved As Fire Sweeps Grass, Woodland

Aurora, Ont., April 12 (CP) — Firemen and 75 residents battled two hours Sunday against a grass fire which raged across 200 acres of grass and woodland surrounding the Aurora annex community near this Simcoe County town, 25 miles north of Toronto.



The blaze started from a small grass fire near the Aurora side-road. At one time 10 homes were in danger. Fire Chief Harry Jones said.

Yesterday's fire was brought under control before heavy damage resulted. No one was injured.

He announced Monday that Dick Fowler of Toronto, veteran righthander, will open against Washington Senators in the first American League game at Washington April 18.

The Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher said Monday he has turned down an offer of a $14,500-a-year job to act as goodwill ambassador for an automotive concern and will remain in baseball, at least for another year.

Cincinnati Reds may not have Johnny Vander Meer for pitching duty on the opening day of the National League season. The veteran hurler pulled a thigh muscle and may have to rest a while.

Hank Bauer, spelling for the ailing Joe DiMaggio, has hit a wicket clip for New York Yankees. He has hit safely in six of his last seven trips at bat in exhibition games.

Italy Pleads For Return of Pre-war African Colonies

Lake Success, N.Y., April 12— (CP)—Italy's Foreign Minister Monday pleaded with United Nations to return her pre-war African colonies.

Count Carlo Sforza told the 58-member political committee of the General Assembly that Italy would make the best use of territories for early independence.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's first deputy foreign minister, told the committee Saturday his government still insisted on placing all the former Italian colonies under a collective U. N. trusteeship. He accused the Western Powers of developing An African territories as bases for aggression against Russia. British and United States spokesmen denied the charge.

Britain and the United States favor giving British control over Cyrenaica in eastern Libya, under a U. N. trusteeship. They also want Italy to administer Italian Somaliland under a U.N. trusteeship. They favor Ethiopia's annexation of eastern Eritrea, including the Red Sea port of Mawwawa.

France wants Italy to regain control over all the colonies except for a portion of Eritrea which would be given to Ethiopia.

Cartridge Thrown In Fire Explodes Boy Loses Eye

St. Catharines, April 12 (CP)— Colin Aird, 14-year-old St. Catharines boy, lost his left eye Saturday afternoon as the result of an accident in which a .22 calibre bullet, thrown into a fire at a scout camp three miles south of here, exploded. A piece of the casing entered the centre of his eyeball. Dr. R. J. Shepherd who attended the boy found it necessary to remove the eye.

Scoutmaster Charles Killick, who was in charge of the party, said he had taken explosives away from Colin several times previously, but that other than this one fault, he was a good scout. Colin obtained the bullets from a friend. He had 13 others in his pocket at the time.

N.S. to Regulate Coloring Used In Margarine

(By The Canadian Press)

Nova Scotia is the latest province to take up the question of regulating margarine coloring by legislation.

The legislature at Halifax Monday night gave second reading to a bill which would give the provincial cabinet power to pass regulations setting the standards of color and quality. It also proposes minor rules regarding use of the butter substitute in eating places.

Ontario, British Columbia and Alberta recently limited margarine coloring to 1.6 degrees, compared with the three to five degrees of coloring used in butter.

The Manitoba Legislature tonight takes up a bill aimed at making the Canadian Wheat Board the sole marketing agency for the province's coarse grains. A similar bill was enacted by the Alberta legislature at its recent session and Saskatchewan already has passed legislation complementary to the federal bill which empowers the Wheat Board as the sole marketing agency for oats and barley.

Passage of the government bill before last Manitoba House—polies of the proposed measure were distributed to members late yesterday — would pave the way for implementation of the federal measure.

The New Brunswick legislature, only other provincial parliament which has still to complete its 1949 session of tasks, has started an Easter recess. It rose last Friday and will reassemble April 19.

HOUSES RANSACKED BUT NOTHING MISSING

Stratford, April 11 — (CP) — Two Stratford homes were reported ransacked during the weekend but so far owners have not discovered anything missing.

Clarence Ellison told police every room of his home was searched Saturday night. Contents of drawers and cupboards were left strewn about.

The second case was the home of Dr. H. Bowers, who reported he left his home Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday about 5 p. m.

South is declarer at a small slam contract of six spades. The opening lead from west is club queen. Without seeing opponents' cards, the trick looks easy when dummy hand goes down.

The plan of play seems plain. South can ruff trick one. Queen of trump is led. It will win when west and dummy duck. But east is not. When this is discovered the plot thickens.

West can duck three trump leads until dummy ace goes and king is still good. Hope then is for no diamond losers. But two top leads of that suit will show east out and west with a trick in it.

Looks bad. But opponents can not prevent 11 tricks from coming in. Cleverly played there is no defence the opponents can put up to defeat the small slam. See the step that follow.

After the first trump round wins, take three hearts and ruff a second club. Win a third diamond in dummy with the queen. Then lead the third club from dummy.

East covers the dummy club. Instead of ruffing, south shuffs his fourth diamond. West is now in a predicament. Will he ruff his partner's trick? If so, with re-duced trumps his king can be picked with finesses when south gets in again.

So, west shuffs his last diamond. East is now in the lead and can return only a heart or a club. South ruffs either and what can west do? Only cover or duck with a trump.

If he ducks, his king is caught in the next finesse. If he covers, the king is overtaken with ffm-the king is overtaken with ffm-the king is overtaken with ffm-

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle:

Little Benny's Note Book

Me and ma were home and on account of pop being around to the bowling alleys, and I was watching the clock getting slower and closer to 9 and wishing I had about another hour to watch it instead of only about 5 minutes, and I said, G, ma, I bet pop will sleep perfect after all the exercise he's having.

I hope so, I'm sure, ma said. Not that he ever has much difficulty in sleeping. His big problem is getting fully awake in the morning, like a certain other member of the family, she said.

Meaning me, and I said, Well anyways, ma, exercise, is supposed to make you sleep, isn't it?

Well yes, within the limits of moderation, ma said, and I said, That's what I was afraid of, ma. So I guess maybe I better go out and take fast walk around the block before I go to bed. I haven't had mutch exercise today, I said.

Well that's a piece of news for land sakes, ma said. You've been rushing and racing like a mad devvish ever since you came home from school. Sometimes I wonder where you get the breth or the strength, even at your age, she said, at the end of the day. I bet that's just the trubble, ma. I bet I've exercised outside the limits of moderation and that's why I dont feel sleepy. Maybe if I just got out a while and sit on the frunt steps and get a little quiet air, maybe it'll settle my muscels, I said.

According to the best authorities, there's nuthing more calming than a nice warm bath before retiring, ma said, and I said, Do you mean after I go out a little while?

No, I mean rite now on your way to bed, ma said, and I said, Aw G, ma, I mean heck, I'm just starting to feel suddinly sleepy, and the noise of all that water running mite make me nervius and wake me up again.

Taking of Evidence Closes Before Mackay Commission Keays' Rebuttal is Brief

After six weeks of evidence-taking and with approximately one and a half million words written into the transcript, the Mackay Royal Commission investigating the allegations by Constable J. E. Keays against Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan and against several provincial police officers and constables, was completed Monday afternoon.

The final session of the Royal Commission hearing before Mr. Justice Kellier Mackay consisted mainly of rebuttal by Constable Keays in reply to the evidence presented by a long line of witnesses called by Commission Counsel C. P. Hope, and by Malcolm Robb, counsel for five police officers.

Also called during the final session was Mrs. J. B. Badgley, who testified on behalf of Const. Keays.

Named in Const. Keays allegations were: Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer, Inspector W. A. Page of Belleville, and Inspector T. W. Cousans of Perth; Sgt. J. A. Stringer, Cpl. Sam Evrine and Constables G. R. Purdy and J. B. Driscoll.

43 Witnesses Called

A total of 43 witnesses were called during the hearing which commenced on February 7th, which saw Constable Keays take the stand to give his evidence in the first instance. The ex-constable testified steadily for four days before he was cross-examined by Malcolm Robb, counsel for five police officers, and by Crown Attorney Donnan, acting as his own counsel.

Throughout the hearing Const. Keays presented his case without the benefit of counsel, and although at times he was urged by Commissioner Mackay to stay within reasonable bounds of relevancy, was generally considered to have presented his case well.

Members of the provincial police force struck back at the constable in almost every instance with denials of the charges made, while officials told how Keays had caused dissension in police ranks and about many complaints which had been received regarding Keays' work as an investigator.

The six weeks' hearing saw varied interest on the part of the general public. At times the court room was jammed with interested spectators, while at other times interest fell off as scarcely two dozen persons, outside court officials and witnesses, were present.

Constable Keays made his allegations in a resignation submitted last Oct. 30th., to Hon. Leslie Blackwell, Attorney-General for Ontario. In his resignation he alleged Crown Attorney Donnan to have interfered on numerous occasions with his police investigations and also charged that Mr. Donnan had been implicated in a fraud against the public in connection with Dr. E. M. Carefoot.

Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer was alleged to have failed in carrying out the duties of his office, while Inspector Page and Inspector Cousens were alleged to have failed to take disciplinary action against members of the force for actions said to be contrary to police regulations.

Cpl. Sam Evrine was alleged to have committed perjury on the witness stand in falsification of his diary and in interference, while Constables Purdy and Driscoll were alleged to have made out false police reports.

Throughout the hearing Keays remained in the spotlight as he carried out the tremendous task of preparing and presenting his case and in examination and cross examination of the over 40 witnesses; the majority of whom were witnesses called by Malcolm Robb, or by Commission Counsel Mr. Hope.

Yesterday afternoon, which proved to be the final session of the hearing, saw Mrs. J. B. Badgley testify with respect to communications which her husband had with R. Mitchner, former provincial secretary.

She said Mr. Badgley had communicated with Mr. Mitchner to arrange an appointment with the Attorney-General for Keays.

Keays' Reply

Considering the ground which he covered the reply by Keays to the weight of evidence given against him was comparatively brief.

He launched an attack on Inspector Wilfrid J. Franks of the C.I.B., claiming that he had been drunk during his investigation of the Jean Badgley shooting in Nov. 1947.

Keays told of finding Inspector Franks drunk at a hotel and of taking him to Toronto in his (Franks') car "to save his job."

They had gone as far as Trenton where they went into a restaurant to enable Inspector Franks to obtain something to eat. There Keays claimed the Inspector had got into an argument with another man and Trenton police had been forced to interfere.

"I gave the Trenton police my credentials and on my return to Belleville stopped off to straighten the matter out," said Keays.

At Bowmanville Keays said Inspector Franks had put on another "demonstration" and they had finally got into Toronto at 6:30 in the evening. He said he took the Inspector to his home where he found that Queens' Park officials and Inspector Ward, head of the C.I.B. department had been trying for two days to get in touch with Inspector Franks.

Says He Paid for Meals and 'Gas'

He had been requested to stay at the Franks' home for the night. He said he had paid for all meals and also for the gasoline for the trip to Toronto, but had not wanted this to appear in his diary as he was away from Belleville without the authority of Inspector Page.

Keays disagreed with Inspector Franks' evidence that Dr. W. L. Robinson and Prof. Jocelyn Rogers had eliminated the possibility of murder or accidental death in the shooting. He said that both men had stated the position which the gun was found in would be impossible if death had been suicide.

He also referred to the fingerprint found on the gun and although Inspector W. Wonnacott of the RCMP and Sgt. Borland of the Toronto city police had testified the print was unsuitable for identification, said that with the use of fifteen 15 points compared with a thumb print of Harold Hagerman.

"I am not trying to place the blame on anyone, but I bring this to merely to support my diary which indicated Sgt. Borland and two of the detectives present there was sufficient detail in the print for identification," Keays said.

Mass of Documents Submitted

Keays submitted a mass of documents and letters in substantiation of his claims on various points and also to refute the evidence of several witnesses.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Justice Kellier Mackay indicated he would ask for written argument by counsel at a date not later than May 31st.

Commissioner Mackay voiced appreciation to counsel in addition to Constable Keays who had presented his own case.

He also voiced his appreciation to the public for the decorum during the course of the investigation. "It is of utmost importance that the dignity of the court at all times be maintained," he said.

One big advantage with a new floor of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile is that it offers almost endless opportunities for original designs.

It comes in a wide range of plain and marbleized colours. And, since it is installed one tile at a time, you can create your own pattern—to harmonize with any colour scheme, to make a room seem look wider, to make any room more attractive!

Another definite advantage is that Armstrong's Asphalt Tile costs less now than it did back in 1939. Upkeep cost is a minor item, too. This modern flooring withstands wear, stays new-looking for many years, with only occasional washing and waxing.

Flooring contractors everywhere in Canada are installing attractive modern floors of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile. Ask any Armstrong contractor or dealer in your locality to show you colours and sample floor designs, or to give you an accurate, free estimate.

ACROSS WORLD

An S.I.U. official charged that three seamen off the United States freighter Alcoa Partner were "assaulted by men who identified themselves as C.S.U. members."

The C.S.U. had charged earlier that one of its members had been "knifed" by S.I.U. men.

In Saint John, officers of three strike-bound freighters reaffirmed their intention not to sail with S.I.U. crews.

Also in Saint John, the Steamship Checkers and Cargo Repairmen (Local 771) of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) announced its support for the S.I.U. The Saint John longshoreman's local has refused to handle cargo from strike-bound ships, although the L.L.A.'s international president, Joseph Ryan, has expressed opposition to the C.S.U.

May Set up Naval Court

Elsewhere in the world:

In Georgetown, British Guiana 28 members of the C.S.U. have been charged with refusing to obey orders of their captains. A similar number of C.S.U. men have been arrested on similar charges in Liverpool, England.

In Brisbane, 30 more C.S.U. members have been arrested for refusing to obey Captain's orders.

In Rouen, France, it was reported that a naval court may be set up to find the dispute which has tied the freighters Westminster County and Sun Valley. The C.S.U. manned ships are still tied up by the all-in strike of crew members and by the strike of French dockers to load cargo.

In New York, 400 pickets repressenting S.I.U. and the Sailors' union of the Pacific (A.F.L.) charged the Marine Cooks and Stewards' Union (C.I.O.) with being Communist dominated. The Cook and Stewards Union has announced its support of the C.S.U.

In Capetown the crew members of the freighter Cambray held harbor police all day with ship's fire hoses for hours after the Cambray docked yesterday. The U. crew members finally allowed harbor officials to hoist the gangway.

Get New Pep, Vim, Vigor

"Had a dull, busy daze all set, why bother at all, no pep, vim, vigor, punch, energy or ambition," says many "indigestion" victims. Doctors say if you suffer from poor appetite, indigestion, gas, sour stomach, nervousness due to poor digestion, you may be missing needed vitamin B1, iron and calcium. Just try Ironized Yeast tablets for 30 days. Get Ironized Yeast today. Only 79c for new, small size. Or big family size, a $2.50 value, only $1.79. Money back unless delighted after first package. Ironized Yeast tablets are sold by druggists everywhere.

FENNAN WORKERS RETURN TO WORK AFTER 12 WEEKS

After a 12-week strike that saw over 40 persons arrested on picket lines at the Fennan Plant Co., Paris, Ont., workers are shown going back to work. The picket lines were withdrawn after signing of an agreement. The workers asked a 15-cent hourly increase and union security.—Central Press Canadian.

DOMINION CAN

From $998,000,000 at Dec. 31, the stock of "hard" currencies rose to $1,022,000,000 at Jan. 31 and $1,044,000,000 at Feb. 29, the highest new high mark of $1,067,000,000 at the end of last month.

In its announcement, the trade department said the relaxation will apply only to cars and trucks wholly produced in the U.S. It means a 25-per-cent increase in shipments from such motor car manufacturers as Hudson, Packard, Kaiser-Frazer and Willy-Overland.

The import quotas had allowed importers to bring into Canada motor vehicles to the value of $2,300 for every 10 vehicles they had imported in the base period ended Oct. 13,1947. That had meant a cut to between 10 and 15 per cent in imports.

There is no change in automobile parts. Canadian manufacturers still are limited to 70 per cent of what they normally imported in American-made parts, but the gap has largely been made up by increases in domestic production.

Reports from Labrador Rangers indicated that the flights had resulted in the disappearance of the danger of starvation from all areas but Seal Bight's Boody's Cove, Battle Harbor and Fox Harbor.

Because of the ice jammed tight on the Northern Newfoundland coast, the Laurel will take an "outside passage".

After swinging well out to sea and around the ice, the sea-going lighter Rose will smash through the barrier directly to Battle Harbor, some forty miles north of the tip of Newfoundland.

Captain E. O'Keefe, grizzled veteran of Arctic jaunts, will be the Saurel's skipper.

As weather conditions improved yesterday, an R.C.A.F. Dakota from Goose Bay parachuted 1,000 pounds of food to St. Michrel's Bay head and 2,400 pounds to Fort Hope Simpson.

The food shortage is said to have resulted when the areas scrimped on normal Winter supplies to await lower prices with the consummation of union.

Premier Smallwood arranged to have the aid sent after receiving two distress messages from Grenfell Mission workers.

LABOR DECLARES

"Government power to start up new enterprises; continuation of the present power to take over inefficient concerns; and government readiness to acquire suitable existing concerns where these are willingly offered for sale."

Other points in the manifesto are:

Colonies: Improvement of the quality of living for colonial peoples.

Foreign policy: Labor's three "supreme objectives" were establishment of the United Nations as a "world authority that can prevent war and ensure security"; "conclusion of a world settlement"; and "the closest collaboration between the nations of the British Commonwealth."

Ships Waiting To Load Grain Constitute Record

Fort William, April 12 (CP)—Grain shipping officials estimated today that the 45 vessels loading or waiting to load grain cargoes in ports set 24 hours constitute a spring record.

The 23 elevators at the Lakehead ports of Fort William and Port Arthur have been busy moving grain into the gaping holds of the big freighters. And the Mississippian River, leading into the lakehead harbors, is filled with waiting ships and others are anchored in Thunder Bay.

Vessels started to poke their way into the harbor Saturday and Sunday. By Saturday afternoon, 22 ships were under the elevator spouts. Of this number, five have been loaded in time to clear Saturday night.

Loading operations on the other 17 were resumed Monday and they now are on their way down the lakes. Grain men said that close to 4,000,000 bushels of grain was funneled into ship's holds yesterday. The record is around 5,000,000 bushels in one day.

as a body "capable of fulfilling the high purpose for which it was created," that Britain should "stand upon its own feet," independent of "extraordinary" economic aid from outside; and that "ceaseless war shall be prosecuted against the ancient evil of poverty."

The manifesto concluded:

"The aim to which we dedicate ourselves is to usher in the finest age in our history—a buoyant age of adventure, progress and initiative, of unity in common purpose and of justified pride in our nation's greatness."

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

"You can put the soft pedal on that," said Chris. "A fight and it would be in the papers. You don't want that. You don't want your fiancee to know you took a clothes model to a cheap joint like this!"

Gay said, "Chris, please, please . . . . "

He took her hand and turned to Alan. "I mean this. Stay away from her or I'll make it my business to put it in the papers. Come on, Gay."

It seemed an eternity before they were on the street. A rush of wind cooled Gay's burning face. Chris' face was spotted with anger. She had a momentary glimpse of Alan through the steaming window.

"How could you humiliate me like that!" she said. But she felt foolish and very small beside Chris. And guilty.

She cried softly in her handkerchief all the way home. Chris did not say anything. When they had walked up the steps, he opened the door of his apartment and followed her in. Standing by the fireplace where the embers still glowed, he lighted a cigarette and looked at her.

"Go on," he said. "Spill it. Tell me it wasn't any of my business."

Her eyes were cool now. She stood by the little table where the lamp made a circle of gold and her silhouette was on the wall behind her.

"No," she said. "Thank you."

"It was pretty nervy of me. But I saw red."

Her mouth seemed to come from a great distance.

"You are right. I'm right, Chris. But people in love don't want to be right. You can't write a book of love! I see through Alan as clearly as you do. I know he's a coward and a fraud. But women, bad women, have loved fortune hunters and cowards. They can't help themselves! You can't tear out love because it let you down . . . because it isn't as sweet as you thought it was. It's there! Look at Penny! Does that lover Mac Bolton less because of the other women?"

She went to him and put her hands on his shoulders.

"Chris, I won't see him again! I promise you that."

Always when she was close to him like this she had a feeling of fighting something that was stronger than she was. No woman could make Chris weak. No woman could make him fashion pretty phrases for her he did not believe. And she was fighting, she knew, something in him that quickened and was stirred by his nearness.

"There's something I've been wanting to tell you," he said. "Might as well get it off my chest."

The room was dim and restful and carelessly comfortable. Chris breathed deeply. His mouth was stern. Gay's eyes, still silent, waited.

He said, "I don't want friendship from you, Gay." He did not touch her but his dark eyes loved her and wanted her. "I haven't got a fast line so this will be pretty jerky and honest. I've been in love with you since the day I saw you. Heaven knows I wish I weren't. I've had no peace since. It was like a bolt that struck me. But I don't want just a vague friendship from you. I want to love you and marry you."

He shook his head. "More than a partition between us and arguments separating us. You're from one world and I'm from another. And I'm not going to be a devoted dog grateful for the crumbs of your affection."

Tears started again in her eyes. "I don't know what to say, Chris . . . "

Gently he touched her shoulder, touched the damp brown coat. "You don't have to say anything. You've always kind. You don't love me."

"I'm still terribly confused," said Gay, looking up at him. "So much has happened. My emotions are pulled this way and that. You're the best friend I ever had but I put everything into loving Alan. He was the first, and girls always put everything into their first love."

"Sure. I know. Don't try to make it easier for me. I'm used to pain." He threw his cigarette into the fire. "I'm pulling out tomorrow. Tonight," he said, "is good-bye."

Chris was gone. She said it to herself again and again during the days that followed, what night had been good-bye. The next day when she returned from the store, his rooms were vacant. His card outside his door was gone. No longer did Sandy bark in welcome at his return and whine when he left. Macduff missed Sandy.

It seemed to Gay that the one person who had filled the aching gap had been taken away. Walking in the store in the morning, feeling the wind against her face, parading gowns for critical women, eating a solitary lunch and walking home to Wiana's dinner, she said to herself over and over, "He loves me. It's a fine great love. If I never see him again, he's influenced me more than he dreams."

If she never saw him again . . . "I miss Chris," said Diana. "Your father would have liked him."

She was washing Gay's red hair in the white bowl. They did that for each other every Sunday and then sat by the window and let the sun dry it.

"I miss his busy typewriter and Sandy's gleeful bark," said Diana.

Chris! In those few weeks of readjustment he had given her so much to remember! Gay felt a tugging ache in her throat. Maybe he had kissed her . . . a tender passionate kiss. The night he put his lips in the palm of her hand and she had wanted to cry because it had come so! Now he was gone, leaving her to look for him on the street and in restaurants to look for the sight of his disheveled black hair and those dark eyes of his, tender one moment, unrelenting the next.

EXPLAINS MEANING OF PASSOVER

Because the evenings were lonely without Chris, she went to see Penny one evening and found her curled up on the studio bed like a sleepy child, her eyes wide, full and hurt, listening to Mac Bolton.

"Oh, Gay, come in," said Penny. "You know stac. He's been telling me the romantic escapades of an aviator." She smiled sweetly at Mac. "What were you saying?"

"I said she was a society girl," said Mac, drawing on his pipe, "and in the dressing room of the store. When she came out and gave a cab driver the address of the hotel, she was shivering. Oh, let him be understanding! Let him be nice! What would her father say if he knew she were selling a part of her soul, cheapening herself, degrading herself, to keep her and her mother from charity or the pity of their friends!

"John Wick, a big Florid man, with merry eyes and deep laughter, found her in the lobby. He took her arm and led her to the dining room.

"Marchand never sent me a redhead before," he said. "That lid's going to be lifted!

She could not eat and the shallow gay things she were expected of her stuck in her throat before the words said. For a moment she felt a wave of hysteria pass over her; she was filled with fear for herself and for this man. She was afraid to look around the dining room, imagining people saying, 'So that's what Gay Van Avery has come to!'

They went to the theatre and then to a crowded, smoky night club. She thought, 'I'm afraid. I can't flatter him and amuse him. I can't! And I'm afraid!'

When he asked her to dance, she said, "Not now. I'm rather tired," and her eyes implored him to understand and to spare her.

"Gets like you aren't supposed to be tired," he retorted tersely. "You get paid for this. I know the game. And I don't think you're much of a sport. This is all pretty painful to you. Anybody can see that." He drew out his wallet and beckoned for the waiter. "I'm getting to hate you home. But as far as I'm concerned the evening's been wasted."

She drew the silver coat over her shoulders and got up. Then she saw a warm smile. "Gay . . . "

And in her name was every thing, all his loneliness for her, his love . . . .

The orchestra was playing a stirring Cuban song. There was the noise of the clatter of dishes, the movement of waiters, people passing, and dancers' feet.

"Chris, I'm in trouble." She stood close to him. The gardenias that John Wick had given her were tremulous on her shoulder. "I'm out with a customer and I'm supposed to show him a good time. I don't know how to be a play-girl! Marchand wants his order. If he doesn't get it, I'll lose my job!"

"Where is this guy?" Chris asked. "He wants a good time? Okay. We'll show it to him. I know spots he's never been in. Are you good until dawn?"

"With you along I won't be so scared. Chris, I . . . "

"Don't say it. I'll get you out of this jam but I didn't want to see you again."

She introduced the men. Chris said, "Gay's been telling me your evening's been a kind of washout, Mr. Wick. She's new to this business and she's worried because you aren't enjoying yourself. So I volunteered my services. I've covered every corner of this town and I know places. If you don't object to a third party, we'll make a night of it. What do you say? You aren't going to hold it against a girl who hasn't been around."

WILL TAKE THREE YEARS

Toronto, April 12 (CP) — Ontario's $191,000,000 Hydro change over will take three years less than originally anticipated, H. H. Leeming, frequency director for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission said yesterday. He said original estimates called for a 15-year plan.

BLACKHEADS

are unsightly but a thorough cleansing with Cuticura Soap and warm water, followed by a touch of Cuticura Ointment, will help prevent most of them. Try it, we think results over the blackheads will please you well wonder where they have gone.

No More Harsh Laxatives!

Famous cereal brings lasting relief from constipation

Are harsh laxatives causing you distress and embarrassment? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"About 8 months ago, I decided to start eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. After a few days, I realized that regular use of this breakfast cereal was making my system work naturally. Constipation doesn't trouble me any more. Believe me, it's a great relief!" P. Lavelle, 4465 Rinard Street, Detroit.

Yes, if you suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, you may never have to take another harsh laxative again. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily and drink plenty of water.

ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome cereal. Eat as much as a cereal or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using one package you are not completely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Get delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

They Drained a Lake

to give Canada a Great New Industry

IT HAPPENED in Ontario's Rainy River District. Steep Rock Lake— fifteen miles long and ranging in depth from 40 to 265 feet — was emptied by a latterday of giant pumps. Trulyson Lake was lowered by draining from the bottom. The course of the Seine River was completely changed. And one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent was uncovered. Providing millions of tons of ore a year — with enough uncovered for years to come — Steep Rock's development has been spectacular, but it is only ONE of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern advance. Today we truly live in a Greater Canada — one with productive capacity vastly increased and diversified, offering to young Canadians greater opportunities than ever before in every field of endeavour.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"A sociable and determination to carry it through—these are the passports to success we see in today's greater opportunities in interesting opportunities in so many different kinds of activity," —says Mr. Lester Bucknall, Mr. Butcher—member of Canada's 1936 Olympic basketball team—after returning from college in the U.S. and being manager of a large department store, started his own sales and insurance office. Bucknall Enterprises. Their development, sales and management of this Their Canadian's energy and many examples of this. unique and fascinating enterprise. They include: a products for shipping servicing of the famous Windsor Arena; and the management of entertainment events with great success.

The iron and steel manufacturing industry presents another spectacular example of development: productive capacity and number of employees have been doubled since before the war, striking indication of Canada's new position as one of the world's great industrial patrons.

Sharp Cut Made In Factories To be Removed

U.S., Britain and France Have Agreed on Principle

POLISH DIPLOMAT WALKS OUT OF TOP SPOT IN LEGATION

First in Canada to Break From Communist Regime in Poland

Ottawa, April 13 (CP) — A youthful Polish diplomat looked for a new job in Canada today after walking out of a top post in the Ottawa legation of his red-ruled country.

First Polish diplomat in Canada to break from the Communist regime, Wladyslaw A. Zbik had resigned as second secretary of the legation rather than go back to Poland and a possible forced entry into the Communist party.

"I am still loyal to Poland, but not to the government," he said in an interview yesterday, would like the people of Canada to know there is a clear distinction. We know Communism is run from Moscow."

He had brought away no documents from the legation, he said, even leaving behind his personal diplomatic papers because "you do not need many papers in this country."

Meanwhile, it said, he was concerned only with leaving in Canada and getting a job to provide for his attractive blonde wife and their Canadian-born daughter, three-year-old Martha Vivian.

Washington, April 13 (AP)—United States, Britain and France today announced a sharp cut in the number of factories to be removed from Western Germany. All or part of 159 plants are to be removed from the reparations list previously agreed upon.

A United States department announcement said the amount of equipment formerly scheduled for removal but now to be left there varies among the 159 plants "from a single piece of equipment in a plant to the entire equipment of an operating factory."

"The equipment which will be retained in Germany is located in 32 plants in the steel industry, 86 metal working plants, 33 chemical plants and seven plants in the non-ferrous metal industries," the announcement said.

Five of the steel industry plants it was explained, produce crude steel and these will retain Western Germany's steel making capacity by 165,000 tons a year. That will give Western Germany a total capacity of about 13,463,000 tons annually.

The production ceiling of 11,-100,000 tons of steel remains.

The cut in the German reparations list was made on the initiative of the United States as the result of a survey by a group of American specialists.

Brought Into Harmony

The State Department announcement said that the revision of the reparations plan was made in order to bring the reparations dismantling program into harmony with the European recovery program.

"Under it, those plants which, if retained in Germany, can contribute most effectively to the co-ordinated economic revival of the countries participating in the European recovery program will be removed from the reparation dismantling list."

The announcement added moreover that "the removal of equipment not yet dismantled will be manlied and removed will be completed as quickly as possible."

Can Plan Promptly

The state department added:

"This agreement, which constitutes a final decision on this regard to the removal of those plants ordinarily available in western Germany, should enable the United States recipients of reparation and respective authorities in western Germany to plan promptly for the disposition of the equipment to be removed and that to be retained."

Reparations are the payments assessed against a defeated nation to help repay losses and war damage suffered by the victor.

The State Department said that in addition to the 159 plants covered in today's announcement the French had decided previously to keep in Germany certain of the equipment in 40 other plants or parts of plants which had been included in the original list of 361 examined by the Humphrey committee.

HEAVY TAXATION WILL CONTINUE SAYS MINISTER

Tied to High Living Standards, Protection

Toronto, April 13 — (CP) — Taxation in Canada is heavy and will probably continue that way for some time, Revenue Minister McCann predicted today.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Importers and Traders Association, Dr. McCann said high taxation was tied to high living standards and a heavy demand for protection and community services.

He described the outlook for Canada in the world of trade as "encouraging" although beset with difficulties, and declared that the government is supposed to barter deals, discrimination and balancing of trade accounts with individual countries.

Discussing the reasons for high taxes in Canada, Dr. McCann said:

"We have enjoyed our whole resources in two world wars during the course of one generation, with the consequence that our physical resources could not be paid for immediately, it must be liquidated from taxes payable in the future."

Problems of Abundance

Canada's problems were problems of lack of war materials, he said, of nearly everything. Adjustment to peacetime economy was an easy "financial device" by which Canada's difficulties could be overcome.

The Revenue Minister declared that international trade was sought in Canada's export trade position, even though it "has been in relation to imports."

Canada could not be satisfied with the present situation or immediate prospects. Alternative outlets for Canadian products had to be found.

Some had urged that Canada go back upon barter deals, discrimination and the balancing of trade accounts with individual countries.

It was the government's belief that the "inevitable" return to these bilateral, discriminatory deals is to abandon the total volume of world trade."

One objection was "that under the present system the Soviet bloc self forced to accept surplus products and to refuse to direct to unload" surpluses of her own.

Another objection was that it would "give undue advantage to nees transacted by the government-trading countries" and would not be removed from the reparation dismantling list."

The announcement added moreover that "the removal of equipment not yet dismantled will be manlied and removed will be completed as quickly as possible."

SEAMEN FACE CHARGES—two of the five members of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) taken from a Halifax-Montreal train at Moncton, N.B., are returned by R.C.M.P. officers to Halifax to face charges laid following a riot said to have occurred during the clash of rival unions last weekend. The incident took place when S.I.U. men broke through the Canadian Seamen's Union picket lines to board three Canadian National Steamships' vessels in Halifax harbor. General Manager of Ottawa Senators Makes No Comment On Cancellation of Series

Ottawa, April 13 (CP)— T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, general manager of Ottawa Senators, had no direct comment to make today on the announcement by George Dudley, Eastern Canada Senior Hockey Association head, that the Eastern Canada Senior Hockey finals have been cancelled.

"I have nothing to say about his (Dudley's) decision," Gorman declared. The series was to be between the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

Gorman added, however, that the Senators who won the Quebec Senior Hockey League championship Tuesday night "are ready and willing to play any team any time. If the C.A.H.A. and Q.A.H.A. can't come to an agreement, there is nothing the Senators can do about it!"

Before he learned of the cancellation which Dudley said was made because of Quebec tardiness in declaring senior championship Tuesday night "are ready and willing to play any team any time. If the C.A.H.A. and Q.A.H.A. can't come to an agreement, there is nothing the Senators can do about it!"

Before he learned of the cancellation which Dudley said was made because of Quebec tardiness in declaring senior championship, Gorman disclosed that transportation had already been booked to Toronto for the series with the Toronto Maritimes. The Senators then had learned from the Q.A.H.A. that they must first play St. Joseph D'Alma, champions of the Saguenay, Que., loop.

"Why, I've never heard of that Saguenay team," Gorman stormed. "They must play on doubleruner skates. Yet, the Q.A.H.A. has notified president Dave MacNeil of the Senators and me that if we don't play the Saguenay champions the club is suspended.

"If the Senators are suspended by the Quebec Association, I am told by president George Slater of the Quebec Senior League that the whole league will pull out of the Q.A.H.A.," he added.

Twenty Seamen Are Sentenced

Liverpool, England, April 13 — (CP)—Twenty of 28 seamen from the Canadian freighter Seaboard Ranger, who have been striking since April 1 in connection with the Canadian deep-sea strike, today were sentenced to prison terms for disobeying the lawful command of the ship's captain to return to work.

Five of the seamen were sentenced to two months and 15 to one month. The other eight were bound over.

The men were found guilty after which the court adjourned the cases to give the men a chance to consider their strike position. The Canadian strike is a jurisdictional dispute between the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) and the Seafarers International Union (A.F.L.).

Defence counsel J. J. Tarsh said appeals would be lodged in all but two cases.

The men were allowed bail on their own bond of £5 ($20) each, pending hearing of appeals.

After leaving the court a number of them paraded along Lime Street carrying boards bearing strike slogans.

Resignations of Executives Leave Great Store With Few Officials

Sewell Avery was there as chairman. Willard Sahloff was there as treasurer. But a position to which he was appointed last June, But the president was gone and so were eight vice-presidents.

Albert Steffey was the latter of the vice-presidents to walk out. He did so yesterday, making the third vice-president to resign in the last three days.

The eruptions this week affected two men in the most important operating department of the firm.

Steffey had been with the company 22 years, Odorizzi 12 years. Arthur Romer, another vice-president who quit earlier this week, had been there 22 years.

Ward's blow-up is without precedent in the company which last year sold more than $1,000,000,-000 worth of merchandise and had earnings of $68,000,000. Ward's is the second largest retail merchandising firm in the United States, being exceeded only by Sears Roebuck and Company.

Specific reasons for this week's resignations were not given.

Financial men were said to be the Avery solicitation for votes at the annual stock-holders meeting April 22. It disclosed that none of the resigning men had received a bonus or pension for the 1948 year.

It has been customary in the past at Ward's, as with other companies, to grant extra compensation for additional years salaries when a company has a good year. Avery, who rules with an iron hand, decides on this important point.

There was no indication the current rumpus would result in Avery's being defeated for re-election as a director. Nor was there any suggestion either Ward directors would turn against Avery. Most have since stated and business ties with Avery.

FARMER'S BODY FOUND WITH HEAD BATTERED IN

Suspect Held by Police at Welland

Welland, Ont., April 13 (CP)—The body of a 68-year-old farmer was found early today slumped over a barrel in a chicken coop the back of his head battered in.

The body was identified as that of J.P. Koabel, Police are holding a man identified only as Christian. Koabel lived with another elderly man in a log cabin at Dain city, three miles south of here. His companion, who has not been identified, said Koabel left the cabin about 7:30 a.m. to feed the chickens and when he failed to return Koabel's companion went to look for him and found the body in the chicken coop, lying over a barrel, Ontario Provincial Police and Dr. H. E. Workman arrived at about 8.15 a.m. Dr. Workman said Koabel died instantly.

Prague, April 13 (AP) — Miss Vlasta Vraz of Chicago, head of American relief for Czechoslovakia here since 1945, has been under arrest since last Saturday, charged with political activity, it was disclosed by the United States Embassy today.

The Embassy said her case was being watched, and all appropriate steps would be taken.

The American relief for Czechoslovakia provides food for children there.

The chief United States consular officer in Prague, Carroll Parry, saw Miss Vraz in prison yesterday.

Well Treated So Far

She told him, Parry said, she had been well-treated so far and that she understood she was being held for investigation of charges that she had engaged in political activity.

Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs' office said the United States Embassy was keeping in touch with Miss Vraz case.

Embassy officials said that no answer had been given them so far on their request for more information about the charges, and long full terms for two American soldiers who wandered across the Czechoslovak border from Germany and were accused of espionage.

The absence of Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis, on a trip to Sofia, Bucharest and Budapest, was given as the latest excuse for lack of information on the two. American representatives were able to talk with the two soldiers once in jail, only after repeated requests. This followed their detention for more than three months and their secret trial.

CANADA UNABLE TO FILL BRITISH BACON CONTRACT

Jump in Domestic Consumption and Drop in Hog Marketing Given as Cause

Ottawa, April 13 — (CP) — Two unexpected developments—a jump in domestic consumption and a drop in hog marketings—constitute the main reason why Canada will be unable to fill her 160,000,000-pound bacon contract with Britain this year.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said last weekend the commitment could not be met. Agricultural authorities confirm this statement by reporting in their weekly shipments at "something less than 1,000,000 pounds against a required weekly allotment of 3,000,000 pounds. Only 3,000,000 pounds are to be sent by the yearend.

Shipments of the other two 1949, food contracts with Britain are expected to be completed assured. The eggs contract calls for 120,000,000 pounds between now and the cheese deal with 50,-000,000 pounds and agricultural officials and university authorities indicate they will be filled.

Though the inability to complete the bacon agreement stems directly from the slump in marketings and a sudden public taste for pork, livestock producers can trace the shortage of export pork back to the fall of 1947 when price ceilings on grain fed to hogs were removed.

Profit Narrowed

At that time, the farmer obtained $29 per hundred pounds for his hogs under the existing British contract and the sudden rise in feed prices narrowed his profit to the point where many sent off of the hog-raising business. A new price range of $35 per hundred pounds was negotiated in December, 1947, for the 1948 contract, but by then the damage was done.

Under the new price incentive, farmers returned to hog production and the 1948 commitment of 195,000,000 pounds of bacon, which managed to deliver only 160,000,000 pounds.

Conventions Of Orange Order Are in Session

Peterborough, April 13 (CP)—Three Orange conventions, representing the jurisdiction of Ontario East, were in business sessions at different locations in the city today.

•The Provincial Grand Lodge, Loyal Orange Young Britons Association began its 72nd annual session on Tuesday night at the Orange Hall with 40 delegates attending. Membership has increased to rise to nearly 100 before the close of the three executive takes place later today.

About 200 delegates to the 90th annual session of the Provincial Grange Lodge of Ontario East, began in the Victoria Hall and registered before th opening gavel sounded today.

Past Masterosses of three Peterborough Lodges No's 344, 525 and 650 were also busy accomplished the Scarlet Degree for about 100 visiting Orangemen who arrived for the 30th session of the provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East, Loyal Orange Young Britons Association.

The business session being held in George Street United Church will continue through Thursday.

Grand Master J. J. Nelson of Richmond addressed the Loyal Orange Young Britons Association night. Secretary Denzil Graham of Ottawa reported that the Association had increased its membership by 10 per cent during the past year.

Two new lodges were formed during the year by the Grand Lodge, he said. They were No. 85 at Peterbroke and No. 446 at Merrivale.

This is the first time in many years that the Young Britons Association has held its annual meeting in Peterborough.

Canada Suffers Least From World's Troubles Says Visitor From India

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

A visitor from India commended after a stay here that Canadians should pray every day in their homes.

"Dear God, please do not remember Canada in your prayers."

His idea was that in the distribution of this world's troubles Canadians should dream about the least share.

Mr. Hahn came back from India with a $2,000,000 order for a pulp and paper mill to be built by Canadian interests. He also remarked that Indians are wide-awake industrialists, highly trained in Canada and know a great deal about Canada. He commented that Canadians know about India; and he added that even a small rise in the standard of living in India would provide a vast market for goods.

It illustrates the vital interest of this country in world movements which are going on; the awakening of great areas to a desire for a better manner of living; and the international co-operation which is being attempted to bring it about.

This comes at a time when Canada is becoming one of the industrial giants of the world, with her storehouses of oil and iron and fuel being opened up, when her factories are ready to process her resources.

Canada has so long been a marcher in the world parade that it is hard to think of her as a vitalist.

Mr. Hahn, president of John Inglis Co., Ltd, Toronto, quoted the invocation in a recent press interview.

Huge Oil Tanker Ablaze at N.Y.

New York, April 13 (AP)—The 13,000-ton oil tanker Pennsylvania Sun was ablaze in Delaware Bay today after colliding with an inbound 7,800-ton freighter in the darkness of early morning.

Radio reports said there had been no casualties among either ship, but the burning tanker hulked in the path of heavy commercial ger and sent out an urgent appeal for additional flame-fighting equipment. A plane was dispatched from Brooklyn with an emergency supply of flame-smothering chemicals.

Owner-master of the United States Lines freighter American Attorney radioed he was in no need of assistance.

One man was swept overboard from the freighter by the force of the collision, but later was picked up by a passing ship, the S. S. Green Falls Victory.

The ships crashed at 2:40 a.m. EST in a wide part of Delaware Bay, about 30 miles northwest of Cape May, the southern tip of New Jersey.

Cause of the collision was not known here.

Moon Disappears For an Hour During Eclipse

New York April 13 (AP)— The moon made astronomical history Tuesday night.

It disappeared—for an hour.

Scientists said the "Black Eclipse" was the first one like it here in more than 100 years.

The moon also disappeared up another 20th century milestone — the advent of drawing-room sky gazing.

The solar spectacle was piped into thousands of American homes via television.

It appeared on screens in bars and taverns too.

The top of Empire State building was jammed as the moon crept slid into the shadow of the earth and gradually became invisible.

The phenomenon took place on one half the earth's surface — wherever it was night at the time it occurred.

Authorities at Hayden Planetarium said that, as view in New York, the moon was completely blacked out, reddish in a sunset. Full eclipse it shines with a dull red glow.

Robbery Suspects Rounded up In Short Order

St. Thomas, April 13 —(CP)— The Provincial Police under the direction of Corporal J. H. Macland made fast time of rounding up five young men as suspects following a break-in at a hardware shop in Sparta, 12 miles southeast of here early today.

The store safe was removed by the intruders, who left the abandoned farm east of the little village.

Within 45 minutes after the theft was raised, the five suspects were apprehended half a mile south of Aylmer and about eight miles east of the scene of the robbery in a motor car said to have been stolen in St. Thomas. The five men apprehended are Clifford Tarsley, James J. McNeil, Anthony McNeil, Ferguson Hoy and Vincent Thomas, all of the district.

Cancer Society Needs Funds to Carry on Work

Once again the Canadian Cancer Society is appealing to the public for funds to carry on the fight against cancer, the disease which struck down 13,000 Canadians during last year.

A sum of $500,000 is required in the province of Ontario to promote research in Canada into the cause and cure of cancer, and to provide fellowships to enable qualified workers to carry on research.

In addition the educational program and the Society is designed to make all adults familiar with the early symptoms of the dread disease. Money is needed to provide literature, films, displays, and for advertising.

Also the service program of the society is designed to ease the burden of the cancer patients by providing either directly or through the co-operation of existing agencies, cancer dressings, cancer transportation service, sick room supplies and rehabilitation.

Many cancer patients can be saved if symptoms are recognized and treated in the early stages. A committee has been set up in each city, town or village.

Members of the committee in Belleville being Mayor D. L. Storey, Alderman H. J. Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong, members on Thurlow township are Reeve Harry Sandiford, C. Bennett and Douglas Atkins, and for Sidney township, Reeve Em. Hescher, H. M. Rutter and Harold Wright.

The planning board is particularly interested in reservation of suitable industrial property and have forwarded a recommendation to city council to have the former Hastings county home property south of No. 2 highway between McDonald Ave., and Herchimer Ave., reserved for preferred industry. At the last meeting of council it was stated that construct rental housing on this area.

Other Areas Recommended

Another industrial area recommended reserved is property lying immediately to the north of the present city owned industrial area in the northeast part of Belleville. This recommended area is bounded on the north by the C.N.R. line, on the east by the Purdy sideroad and on the south by the extension of Pine Street.

Still another 150 acre is recommended reserved for industry, this being north of First Street starting at the Canadian National Railways roundhouse, extending from University Ave. on the west and the Leeming farm on the east and south to the end of the second concession of Thurlow township.

The above three industrial areas are considered by members of the Planning Board to be sufficient to take care of industrial expansion in Belleville for the next 25 years.

Want Land Reserved

With the view of providing adequate park area for further housing development in the east end of the city, the board has recommended that from 10 to 15 acres of land be reserved, east of Herchimer Ave. The suggested area would commence 400 feet east of Herchimer and would be bounded by Victoria Ave. on the north, Farley Street (unopened) on the east and No. 2 Highway on the south.

It is also recommended that Zwick's Island be reserved as a park site. Consideration of further park area in the north and west parts of the city will be gone into at future meetings.

Consideration of a zoning and building by-law suitable for Thurlow and Sidney townships is also being made with reeves and clerks of each township having been advised to meet with the planning board on May 10 to finalize the by-law.

Members of the Planning Board have scheduled an inspection tour of the planning area on Tuesday, May 3rd.

Quinte Tennis Club Prepares For 1949 Season

Completion of seasonal playing facilities arrangements was nearly all up to expectations at the Quinte Tennis Club held in the clubhouse, Queen and Dufferin streets on Monday evening.

Dr. Alf Wilkes acted as chairman.

A concerted drive on preparation of court surfaces will get under way immediately after Easter, Poles for court lighting fixtures will be erected towards the end of May and tournament play is expected to commence by May 24th.

Membership drive of the club is well under way, the meeting was told. Most of last years members intend to play again this year but there are still a few vacancies for potential members. Application for membership should be made to any member of the executive without delay.

Competitive tennis will be one of the features of the club. It will enter the Eleven of Quinte Tennis League again and ladder competition among club members is expected to start soon after the regular season opens.

An invitational tennis tournament has been scheduled for May 24th with all arrangements under the supervision of tournament chairman Barney Shetfield.

The social side of the club has not been neglected. Under the chairmanship of Beverley Goodfellow an outstanding program has been arranged and will be presented to the club executive at the next meeting scheduled for April 25th.

CHROME MOULDINGS

Planning Board Requests Certain Areas be Reserved For Industry and Parks

With the view of expected industrial expansion and housing development in the city during the next few years, members of the Belleville and Suburban Planning Board are leaving no stone unturned in an effort to recommend allocation of suitable property for the various projects.

Program of the planning board is far reaching but this year close attention is being given to four specific phases.

There are designation of suitable industrial site property with consideration of highway and railroad facilities; designation of suitable area for new residential area; housing and zoning of housing, and road and thoroughfares to serve the various residential, business and industrial areas.

Members of the planning board are really interested in their work and meet regularly every two weeks to discuss the various problems.

J. J. Tredeau Chairman

Chairman of the Planning Board is J. J. Tredeau and the members being Mayor D. L. Storey, Alderman H. J. Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong, members on Thurlow township are Reeve Harry Sandiford, C. Bennett and Douglas Atkins, and for Sidney township, Reeve Em. Hescher, H. M. Rutter and Harold Wright.

Perfect weather conditions prevailed Tuesday evening for the total eclipse of the moon which this year gave observers in the district through a clear sky.

Described by astronomers as one of the best astronomical shows" in several years, the moon was ideally situated in the southeast sky for the eclipse which commenced right on schedule at 9:28 p.m.

First the shadow of the earth crept over the moon at what ritle marksmen would term "9 o'clock." One hour later the moon had completely entered the earth's shadow but at no time was the satellite completely eclipsed being always visible in varying shades of coppery red.

The total eclipse lasted for one and a half hours with the dull red hue of the moon gradually shifting to the bottom of the sphere as the moon was about to break out of the earth's shadow. The celestial body will over shortly before 2 a.m. this morning and once again the bright full moon shone forth.

Due to its clear visibility and to the fact that the "show" took place early in the night, the eclipse aroused considerable interest in the city. Hundreds of persons took an occasional glimpse to watch its progress.

However, a total eclipse of the moon has no particular scientific interest these days. Last night's eclipse of the moon was the first in 1949 and there'll be another October 8th.

Just for the statistically inclined, the moon is some 240,000 miles distant from earth and 2,100 miles in diameter.

Child Health Clinic Will be Held at Rossmore

On the afternoon of April 20th between the hours of 3:00 and 4:00 p. m. the Prince Edward County Health Unit, with the cooperation of the Women's Organization of Rossmore, is planning to hold a child health clinic in Rossmore United Church, Sunday School.

Dr. Wells, Medical Health Officer, will be on hand to give physical examinations and immunize against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox. Miss Chalk, Public Health Nurse, will also be in attendance to give advice to mothers regarding habits, training and the normal development of the child. Volunteers from the Women's Organization will assist in weighing infants and helping mothers. This clinic will be held once every month, on the third Wednesday between the hours of 3:00 and 4:00 p. m.

Mothers from all parts of Ameliasburg township should make plans to attend this clinic, which is aimed at better health for the infant and pre-school child.

Miss Chalk is for the preservation of health of well children and those in need of medical care will be referred to their family doctors. It will be realized that a child suffering from a communicable disease should not be brought to the clinic.

IN MEMORIAM

DUESBURY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Jesse Duesbury, who passed away April 13th, 1945.
His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past;
And in our aching hearts we know,
He found eternal rest at last.
Ever remembered by loving wife and family.
A13

KILPATRICK—In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas Kilpatrick, who passed away April 13th, 1945.
The dearest mother a world could hold,
The truest friend we had on earth,
And those who knew her all will tell
How much we lost one year ago.
Always a smile behind a cloud of pain,
Always a hand when one was down,
Always a heart to understand,
What a friend we found in mother.
Always remembered and sadly missed by son Vernon, daughter-in-law Pearl and grandchildren, Jean and Lorna.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, April 13 — (CP) — Price changes were held to small amounts here today in a generally dull session, brightened in part by a few golds with uranium holdings. Industrials managed to hold their ground while western oils backed down from early firmness. Golds and base metals were balanced.

The exchange's 1 p.m. index showed volume for the first three hours was 400,000 shares, about 99,999 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Uranium stocks attracted renewed attention as the most active stocks on an otherwise dull board.

Winnipeg Electric dipped 1¼ at 32 in Industrials while Consumers Gas, Union Gas, International Paper, McColl Oil and Consolidated Paper brightened.

Consolidated Smelters rose ¼ at 97⅛ in base metals and East Sullivan was active at $3.10, up 16 cents.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, April 13 — (CP) — Produce prices on the spot market here this morning were quoted as follows:

Cheese Factories In the District Now Opened

The majority of cheese factories in the Bay of Quinte district have now commenced operations for the summer season, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Opening of cheese factories is considerably earlier than usual, it is stated.

All indications point to an early start at spring work on the land with many farmers already having commenced spring cultivation. Fields dried out early and very little water is present even in low lying areas. Some farmers have done some early sowing.

Orchard men in the district have been busy applying the dormant spray to apple trees.

Fall wheat varies in condition but on the whole is stated to have wintered in fairly good condition. There is an active demand for seed and fertilizers, while all types of live stock are in demand and selling well.

In Hastings new members are continually joining the Stirling Local of the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association which has been formed this spring.

2nd Belleville Scout News

The Troop were honored on Friday evening by having Mr. Adams make a visit and instruct-ing on Second Class first aid. He instructed on being able to deal with shock (not electric), sprains, cuts and scalds, bleeding from the nose, stings and bites, avoidance and treatment of sunburn, and he also showed the boys ten very useful bandages.

Scout John Young passed his lashings which come in very handy during everyday's lifetime.

This Friday the Troop is going on an all-day hike to teach the boys some bush lore and that famous art of cooking and building a fire. While on the hike some signalling will be done and one of the naturalist badge which along with the two other badges "Camper and Forester," that he has will give him that insignia of bushlore "The Bushman's Thong."

Now that the King Scouts will be finishing their exams this week at the High School they have more exhaus to worry about but of course it's not a worry to them. They have to begin reviewing their Scout tests in order to maintain that highly honored rank of "King Scout." Our troop have seven King Scouts at present and hope within the year to maintain this standing and if possible increase it.

HOGS

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—Hog prices at Stratford this morning were still unsettled. However, hogs bought Monday and Tuesday were settled at $21.10 to farmers and $21.25 to truckers.

At Peterborough hogs were down $1 with grade A selling at $23.65.

MARMORA

Canadian Legion Attends Service On Vimy Day

Marmora — The annual church parade of Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion was held on Sunday evening. Led by Lieut. Percy Clay and the colors party (Comrades A. Bartlett and G. Osborne) the Branch members with visiting Legionnaires from Havelock, paraded from the Legion Hall to St. Andrew's United Church to participate in the Vimy Memorial service conducted by the pastor, Rev. George Young, B. A., B. D.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary joined the parade at the church. The processional hymn was "The Son of God Goes Forth to War', the junior choir being on duty for the service. The National Anthem followed, after which Robert Sanderson sounded "Last Post" and "Reveille" with the two minutes silence intervening.

Scripture Lesson Read

The Scripture lesson, which consisted of portions of the eleventh chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews was read by Lieut. Percy Gray. The choir rendered as anthem "Atlanta, Alleluia," by Sir Arthur Sullivan. The subject of the sermon was — "Our Sacrificial Debt" based on the text "God Having Provided some better thing concerning us that apart from us, they should not be made perfect."

The preacher mentioned that the old writer having gone over the muster roll of the valiants of faith came to the realization, "that their labors, good as they had been, had not been perfect. It remained still for us to labor to accomplish what they set out to accomplish for that too has been allotted us. We must realize our place with time. Perfection is not to be unless we have a share in those things passed on to us by those who struggled and are now at rest." The speaker then drew a parable from the evolution in warfare, the upward climb from daggers and tree-tops to the cockpits of the planes. There must be the upward stirring of the soul of man.

Poem is Given

In conclusion he recited a striking poem of Don Blanding, an American poet, of our day, "They Did You see?", which illustrated his foregoing remarks, and added "All shall not perfected unless we work for the peace of the world to thereby make perfect the sacrifice, and self-denial that has been directed towards that end" The parade returned to the Legion Hall for dismissal by President W. M. Regan.

Fathers' Night At H. and S. Club Much Enjoyed

The April meeting of the Canifton-Corbyville Home and School Association was held at the school on Monday night and a fine and very entertaining program was held for Fathers' Night.

The May meeting is to be the last for this year and a new executive is to be elected. Mrs. Plumpton appointed Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Douglas, Mr. Curlette and Mr. Darling to prepare a slate of officers for the next meeting. There is approximately $31 in the treasury and it was suggested that something useful be bought for the school. It was decided that the money be spent for drapes and a mirror for the teachers' room. The Marmora Home and School Association have asked Canifton-Corbyville to be their guests at the April meeting on Monday. The Collegiate Vocational Home and School is also holding a cooking school on April 27-29.

Mr. Ed. Brown of Belleville sang three solos which were very much enjoyed. Frank Hockaday gave one of his "Willie McGuire" ventriloquism acts and also a comedy act. A quiz program was conducted and the contestants received some very nice prizes, which were all donated. Refreshments were served by the fathers following the meeting.

Chairman for the meeting was Alden Boyd and he was ably assisted by Mr. Clarence Bird and Mr. Norman Curlette.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TIME TO CLEAN UP STREETS

Spring is definitely around the corner. The threat of winter has passed, we hope, and residents of the city are looking forward, more or less, to the annual house-cleaning job.

Even as Madame Housewife plans the spring classic of cleaning, so should the city fathers. Winter debris litters the streets. Leaves of last autumn clutter up gutters. The residue of winter storms is everywhere in evidence.

Let's clean up the city. Now. Belleville the "beautiful" is losing caste with the present condition of its streets. True some work has been done, so we are told, but the main thoroughfares and the byways have yet to be cleaned up.

The Public Works Department of the city should take the matter in hand and see to it that Belleville maintains the reputation it has long held for being not only the "friendliest" city but one of the cleanest in the district.

LIGHTS ON AGAIN

Britain, that land which has developed the principle of democracy and liberty and given it as a gift to mankind and is helping to make possible its growth across the world, has seen her capital in a dimness for a long time. Now at length London has taken on what might seem almost a festive appearance because the light, symbolic of that light of freedom, has come again to the great city.

If any people have earned the right to that freedom of light which makes the night more cheerful, it is the people of Britain.

Nights have not always been cheerful and there are still recollections of the nights when the Hun tried desperately to make an impression upon the hearts of the British people and utterly failed because these people had the light of freedom in their eyes and souls and the strength of freedom in their arms with the beat of justice and right in their hearts.

Light is one of the facts of life that man finds indispensible. He cannot do without it or in its form of fire. All the thinkers of the ages, the poets and the leaders of men have been fired by the thought of light and the light of freedom. Even in the world today much of our work is directed in home and on the street to making daytime out the night's darkness.

The lamp and the candle and the sun are great facts, and are also symbols of meaning to men and women.

FORTY YEARS AFTER

It is forty years ago since one of the quests of the ages, the discovery of the North Pole, was achieved and Admiral Peary became linked with the leading figures of progress and achievement of all time. The name of Columbus has been assured of fame as long as the globe lasts. He is looked upon as the great discoverer for his journey of the ocean brought in new part of the world, about which possibly for all time there had been associated complete lack of knowledge, except for the revelations of science that were leading men to dare great voyages on the seas in quest of the unknown.

The achievement of Admiral Peary was the culmination of all the voyages of discovery which had been made to reveal that part of the earth's surface. According to the New York Times, Peary had learned from his own experience and from that of others. He had come into possession of the secrets of the Eskimos, who had lived in the Arctic for centuries and who knew how to dress, hunt, travel and fend for themselves under the most possible conditions. Unlike Rae before him and Stefansson after him, Peary had not learned to live off the country. He took with him vast amounts of supplies and food and dogs and created the smoothest piece of human machinery conceivable for accomplishing his purpose. Brains more than brawn accounted for his success."

The deeds of Admiral Peary have not spoiled the ardor of those who like to explore the condition of a state of eternal winter. After him have come the most modern of man's inventions, the airplanes. Now balloons are used for discovery and man in the past few decades has come to know more about the uninhabited parts of the earth than ever man learned in all history.

Attention is drawn to the fact that it is in the Arctic that the weather is made for the northern world. That is sufficient to give exploration an intensity of purpose for the weather is one of the great facts of life always facing man and posing him with problems.

THE FRIEND IN NEED

A friend in need's a friend indeed,
But this law should be heeded:
One, case must take a friend to make,
Before that's really needed.

THE HARD PROBLEM

The utmost best from you,
Remember that: the easy tasks
Most anyone can do.

And skill may be defeated
The victory of luck alone
Can seldom be repeated

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO

April 13th., 1919.

Mayor Harry Greenleaf, Ald. George Tice and Ald. Rollins were appointed a committee by council to draft a by-law with regards to signs and bill boards within the city.

A pipe culvert will be installed across Stone Street to relieve flooding.

Mr. J. A. Forster of Buffalo, N. Y. is spending a few days here with friends.

The by-law, which is to be submitted to the ratepayers of this city with regards to the purchase of the local distribution plant of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, will probably be introduced at the meeting of the city council on Monday next. This information was given to us today by Ald. Geo. A. Reid, who has been active in having the question brought to a vote.

30 YEARS AGO

Belleville Market Prices: — Eggs 43 cents to 48 cents per dozen; butter 56 cents to 60 cents per pound; chickens $1.00 to $1.50 each; geese $3.00 to 5.00 each; ducks $2.50 to $4.00 per pair; potatoes $1.40 to $1.50 per bag.

Postmaster's Night at Moira Lodge No. 148, A. F. & A. M. attracted a large attendance at the Masonic Temple and a very interesting evening was passed. Wor. Bro. William Cooke, W. M., of Moira Lodge, handed over the lodge to the Postmasters present and the first degree was exemplified by the following: I. P. M. Rt. Wor. Bro. F. W. Ketcheson; S. W. — v. Wor. Bro. McIntosh and Wor. Bro. Cooper; J. W. Wor. Bro. J. W. Barlow; J. W. Wor. Bro. W. W. Anderson; J. D., Wor. Bro. Thomas Bleecker; J. S., Wor. Bro. C. Ashley; Chaplain, Wor. Bro. D. Price; Inner Guard, Wor. Bro. H. A. Morgan. After the business of the lodge a social time was passed in the banquet hall with Wor. Bro. Cooke presiding.

April 13th., 1909

The annual Easter vestry meeting of St. Thomas' Church was held in the Parish House with the Rector, the Rev. Rural Dean Rosanig presiding. The reports submitted were very satisfactory. The Rector appointed Ald. John A. Kerr as warden, and the vestry elected Byron Hudson as People's Warden. Other officers elected were: Auditors, John Elliott and A. F. McCuaig; Advisory Board, T. E. Ketcheson, E. M. Rose, H. Sneyd, John Elliott, S. A. Lockwood, J. P. C. Phillips, F. H. Corby and F. R. Lingham; Sidesmen — A. A. Reid, who has been active in having the question brought to a vote.

The annual congregational meeting which followed the meeting of the vestry, S. A. Lockwood was appointed to the same body for a term of two years.

50 YEARS AGO

April 13th., 1899

At the quarterly meeting of the Belleville Board of Trade the following officers were elected: President, W. H. Gordon; Vice President, Alex McFee; Secretary, J. Parker Thomas; Treasurer, J. Parker Wilson; Council, — W. H. Ponton, W. P. Hudson, George Wallbridge, E. H. Truman, A. Jones, Sinclair, H. Corby, M. P., U. E. Thompson, Laidlaw, D. R. Leavens, N. B. Falkiner, C. P. Holton, Thomas Bilchis and Harry W. Johnson; Auditors, T. P. Brown and P. C. Jones.

For the first time since 1889, the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist Church will be held here this year.

POLICE ARREST 21 IN STUDENTS' STRIKE

City college of New York students are shown picketing the campus as they went on strike in demand for the suspension of two faculty members, Prof. William W. Knickerbocker and Instructor William C. Davis, who they charge are anti-Semitic. The first demonstrators, carrying placards and chanting as one young man strummed a banjo, started picketing before classes opened. Later 27 students were arrested, 25 of them thrown bodily into patrol wagons after a mass demonstration on the campus turned into a riot. The strike was voted by the student council in protest over "administrative inaction" in the cases of the two accused.—Central Press Canadian.

Mackenzie's Column:
Britain Against Eating American Hominy Grits

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Britain is up in arms again over the prospect of having to eat American corn meal or hominy grits—and there's the deuce to pay.

The upheaval started when Agriculture Minister Hall in the newspapers that these two products would be going to Europe in great quantities soon as part of shipments under the European recovery plan. The reaction was general and explosive. An AP dispatch summed it up at this blunt British comment:

"Now the Americans expect us to eat the ruddy stuff!"

Those of us who know what delectable dishes can be conjured out of corn meal and grits find it difficult to understand the violent antipathy of the British people to this food. But the dislike is there and it's deep-seated. One just doesn't eat corn meal. That's all. Simply isn't done.

Old Grievance Revived

This current outburst really is a revival of an old grievance against which our British country revolted successfully (and they're inordinately proud of it) in 1917 during the First World War. Then the Britishers were hungry—mighty hungry. The German submarine campaign had pinched off the British Isles' shipping upon which Britain was dependent for the bulk of its food supplies.

Hoover, a large quantity of corn meal was available in Britain, so Herbert Hoover, then chairman of the American Relief Commission, inaugurated a campaign to get the British to eat dishes made from the corn product. His efforts met with the ire of big British dailies and full-page ads were run, urging the folks to cook corn meal and telling them how to do it.

It didn't go well. With one accord the people turned up their noses and refused to touch corn. They really preferred to go on short rations rather than experiment with corn meal.

Now the issue has to be fought out again. I suspect that if John Bull would give corn products a good trial he would find him liking them. Some of the best corn bread and muffins I ever had were served to me by an English gal. That's my wife.

Not Strange

Actually it isn't strange that Britain isn't familiar with the ways of preparing corn—maize, they call it—for the table. It's too cold in Britain to grow maize and what little hominy they have has been for pigs and poultry.

But, given time, Britons may get accustomed to corn—and like it.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Kingston, April 13 (CP)—Wesley Hawley, 20-year-old student at Regiopolis College here, will leave on Friday for a plane trip to Belgium as the representative of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce at the commerce conference in Brussels April 21 to 27. Forty nations will be represented at the conference and delegates will have opportunities for visits to Britain, France and possibly Germany.

BIRD'S NEST RESPONSIBLE

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—A bird's nest provided a convenient nesting place yesterday for a spark which eventually caused $2,000 damage in a roof fire at the home of George Wood's in suburban Islington. The spark came from a bonfire of burning brush and caught in the dry nest just below the eaves. Firemen from three stations fought to subdue the blaze.

Chronicle Lost Million Dollars In Fifteen Years

Halifax April 13 (CP)— The Halifax Chronicle lost "substantially more than $1,000,000" in the 15 years before it merged Jan. 1, 1949, with the Halifax Herald, Trade Minister Connolly told the Nova Scotia legislature Tuesday.

The minister was giving an explanation of the investigation his department into the merger of the two newspapers.

A provincial act requires employers to give the minister at least three months' notice before closing a plant employing 50 or more persons.

Russell Cunningham, C.C.F. opposition leader, asked what action the department had taken or had contemplated.

Mr. Connolly said he had not known of the merger until it was announced in the newspapers.

His department then had sought from the Chronicle Company limited information of disposition of staff and earnings over the last 19 years.

Mr. Connolly said he was convinced that the department had made efforts to sell but no one had wanted to buy.

The company published two papers, the Chronicle, a morning newspaper, and the Evening Halifax Star. The Chronicle merged with the Herald to form the Halifax Chronicle-Herald and the Star merged with the Halifax Mail, evening counterpart of the Herald, in to the Halifax Mail Star.

Mr. Connolly said he did not believe the act was intended to apply against a company which over a long period of years had sustained "heavy losses."

First Canadians To Fly New U.S. F86 Jet Fighter

Ottawa, April 13 (CP)— Two top-notch veteran fighter pilots comprise the team of being the first Canadians to fly the new American jet fighters—F86—an RCAF spokesman disclosed Tuesday night.

They are Wing Cmdr. R.W. McNair of North Battleford, Sask. and Sqdn. Ldr. H. C. Stewart of Calgary. Both are officers at air force headquarters here.

The two officers were recently dispatched to Inglewood, Calif. to get familiar with the single-seater jet fighter which will go into production in Canada at about 18 months.

"Since we're going to produce the jet fighters in Canada," said the spokesman, "we believed it would serve the RCAF best if we got some of our men familiar with the craft."

The two fighter pilots who shot down more than two dozen enemy aircraft between them during the Second World War have been attached for some time to the air plans and air training divisions at air force headquarters.

ASEPSIS IN DENTISTRY

Speaking of the removal of pulpless ("dead") teeth—that is, teeth from which the pulp has been removed or, as the old timers said, the "nerve killed"—a dentist I admire made this remark: :

"In the treatment of disease it is an axiom to make determined endeavor to remove the cause. If the patient is ill and you have cause to believe that pulpless teeth is the source of infection, remove the tooth surgically. A high degree of skill enables the modern dentist to make satisfactory restoration of any such loss.

By which the dentist meant installation of a bridge or other functionally efficient denture to carry on the work of the tooth or teeth so sacrificed.

To that I say amen.

I still maintain that every functionally efficient tooth or restoration is worth from five to a thousand dollars. Just as health, vite and longevity insurance, to say nothing about the cosmetic value. That is, to say nothing about it today, for I believe we'll have something to say about the relation of teeth to longevity—and I don't mean tooth paste hokum.

In the Journal of the American Dental Association four months ago E. Max Lashar, D.D.S., presented a technical article on infected pulpless teeth in relegation to root canal fillings by author states the carelessness and indifference of dentists to asepsis are responsible for a high percentage of failures. Of course, the practitioners ignore asepsis" (to be defined presently), "depending on antiseptics and germicidal agents which often cause tissue destruction, irritation and are constantly maintained, many infections which in pulp cavities could be averted."

Germicidal agents kill germs. Antiseptics prevent, inhabit, or arrest the growth or multiplication of germs. Many of these agents are responsible for a high percentage of failures. In the nineteenth century, was called antiseptic. The nineteenth century with the use of antiseptics then, and the fight on germs today, in the operating room or in home care of minor injuries, wounds, is the fact that the chemical substance that inhibited, arrested or prevented the growth of multiplication of germs also inhibited, arrested or prevented the growth or multiplication of new tissue cells which must grow and multiply if the wound is ever to heal.

Fifty years ago physicians and surgeons began to recognize that all wound healing (operative or accidental) was faster and better if the wounds were not subjected to germicidal or antiseptic (only) treatment. The antiseptic era was succeeded by the aseptic era of medicine, obstetrics and surgery. Aseptic means literally germs out of the wound or the immediate environment. The aseptic treatment of wounds, operative, major or minor has been the method of choice for fifty years now, but many of the older doctors, dentists, nurses, obstetricians and even some surgeons were unable to comprehend the scientific principles of asepsis and hence were unable to employ aseptic technique successfully in practice. Hence we find some doctors, surgeons, obstetricians, dentists and nurses still using more or less "powerful" antiseptics in the nineteenth century fashion, and their patrons or victims have scarcely enough intelligence to wonder why.

Dr. Lashar's explanation for so many failures in the treatment of pulpless teeth and in root canal filling may explain why there is any controversy among dentists in the treatment of pulpless or "dead" teeth.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

That's a Lot of Cabbage

Please give your opinion of the mange juice known as Scabbo and Sulphur ointment.—(M. F.)

Answer—I have not observed in court cases to form an opinion. If I had peptic ulcer I'd give it a try. I'd suggest that instead of cabbage to produce the daily ration of sulphur I'd use large glassful four times a day.

Arrested

Is an arrested case of tuberculosis likely to communicate the disease to another person, as in the case of husband and wife?—(Mrs. J. P.)

Answer—If the disease is arrested there is no danger. Also elevation of temperature or moderate cough are not necessarily tuberculosis. But when one's temperature is elevated and one coughs, and sweats, one should know, the patient should seek the advice of his or her physicians immediately.

Boer is Bad

Do you have a pamphlet on rheumatism, neuritis, arthritis and sciatica? Is drinking a quarte of beer a day bad for these conditions?—(J. D.)

Answer — Send twenty-five cents in coin and a stamped addressed envelope for booklet The Ills Called Rheumatism. Yes, beer is bad for rheumatic conditions.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

Saskatchewan led all other provinces of Canada in the control and eradication of tuberculosis. Ontario has lately been making great strides. Steps are taken Saskatchewan with its records in mastering what once was known as the White Plague.

But there is a new foe in the ranks. The tuberculosis records taken among the soldiers who report overseas for the present war reveal an astonishing fact. Even those Saskatchewan and Ontario — the two banner provinces — that victim to tuberculosis more than troops from any other sections of the country.

This is a curious instance of a very puzzling problem facing medical science. It has not been well known for years that measles, for instance, wreaks a very mild epidemic, wreaks death and destruction in the American Indian, who, never having encountered measles before, has no resistance to it. But now the situation facing medical research is this: if we eliminate certain diseases, do we also eliminate the resistance to those diseases, a resistance built up over centuries of time?

In other words, if we get ourselves into such a state of purity, what happens when, from some still dirty region of the earth, the germs of those things come back and catch us defenceless?

Some children, raised amidst most unsanitary conditions, immunize themselves against a mild manner of disease by becoming infected with a mild strain of them. Children from the privileged and protected regions are exposed to the bacteria when an epidemic gets loose.

Measles, for instance, now include summer camps and fresh air camps for slum children. The next thing public health will figure out is summer sickness in the slums for little rich boys and girls, to dirty them up to fortify them against measles.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

POWERS BESIDE OUR OWN

There are some very wonderful stories in the Bible which describe how certain persons when the heavenly world broke through into the mundane state and became visible to human vision.

As Jacob in great dejection of soul went to meet his brother Esau, he saw, walking alongside the ranks of his retainers, a celestial army. The prophet Elisha on one occasion prayed God to open the eyes of his servant that he might be conscious of spiritual realities; and the young man looked, "and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha." On the Mount of Transfiguration, the heavenly order shone through the person of Jesus until His very garments became of supernatural luster which no brightness of earth could equal.

Are we not justified in believing that day after day spiritual powers are at the right hand of every one of us? Some years ago I was privileged to walk at night through a lonely wood, followed closely by a man who, I knew, had deathbed, this man confessed to the clergyman that he planned to kill him that night. "Why didn't you do it?" asked the clergyman. "Well," said the man in surprise, "when I saw a strong man walking on either side of you!"

This physical world in which we put so much confidence is probably of little consequence compared with the unseen spiritual order.

Frankford Man Grand Master Black Chapter

Peterborough, April 13. (CP)— Cecil Palmer of Frankford, on Tuesday night was elected Grand Master of the Provincial Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario. He succeeded Earl Draper of Prescott who completed a two-year term.

This week the annual meetings of the Grand Black Chapter, Eastern Ontario, Orange Young Britons of Ontario East, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, and the Grand Black Lodge of Ontario East are all being held in Peterborough.

Frankford—Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cooper were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cooper and sons of Springbrook.

Messrs. Stanley Cooper and Hiram Cooper spent Tuesday visiting relatives in Shannonville.

The play "Pickle Fortune" presented by Tabernacle Young People's Union of Belleville, and sponsored by the U.E. Welcome group of the Frankford United Church, was well attended in the Rose-Lowery Hall Monday evening.

The Lions Club photography contest is now open for entries. A first prize of $10.00 will be given for the best picture of Frankford and district. The pictures may be of buildings, streets or scenes. Unusual views are especially welcome. Contestants may enter as many pictures as they wish. The second prize is $5.00 and an addition $2.50 will be added to either of these prizes, if the winning picture is one of a series of four, taken in the four seasons.

Entries are to be left either at Medills' Drug Store or Lohnes' Insurance Office. Be certain that your name is clearly written on the back of your picture, so they will not become lost. The contest is open to all residents of the village of Frankford, and the closing date will be May 30.

Plans are being made for a banquet, to be held in Trenton April 21, for the Frankford District Hockey League. Members of the seven teams have been invited, and a large turnout is hoped for. The league trophy will be presented to the champion Bethel-Zion club.

The Frankford District League Hockey Club will be holding a dance in the community Memorial Hall on April 22.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parcels of Norwood spent the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmott Scott on Monday.

Teachers Meet

The teachers of the Thurlow and Tyendinaga Public Schools attended an interesting and instructive meeting recently at Foxboro public school.

Mr. K. M. Bird addressed the group on "How Composition and grammar papers are marked". A lively discussion followed, during which the teachers expressed their personal opinions on this subject.

Mr. R. H. Macklem notified the teachers of coming events of interest to them, and gave a report on Dr. Kidd's lecture on "The use of films in the school". Following this report, Mrs. W. Sine showed a film demonstrating this subject.

During the evening, Miss Conklin led the teachers in two games which she had used successfully in her own school.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by the teachers of the Foxboro Public School.

NOT ENOUGH FIELDS

Brantford, Ont., April 13 — (CP) — Softball enthusiasm is a great thing in this city, but it's causing some embarrassment to officials of the Brantford Softball Association and the Brantford Board of Parks Management.

The park officials say there just aren't enough playing fields for the B.S.A.'s long list of softball leagues, from police youth movement teams to the seniors. Already one industrial league has been forced to bar any more teams from entering it.

And to provide more fuel for the problem, the B.S.A. is running a four-day softball school during Easter holidays to make more players.

Madoc Kiwanis Club in Charge Of Meeting

The Madoc Kiwanis Club, sponsored by the local organization, presented the program at the Kiwanis Centre on Tuesday, when the two clubs joined in an inter-club meeting and it was the best meeting that has been held in some time. Cal Kincaid, president of the Madoc Club, was in charge with Norman Edwards, Belleville president, assisting and Rev. Henry G. Vaclavik of Stirling giving the principal address.

A most delightful musical program was given by the visiting club, Stanley Hawthorne being at the piano and who rendered a piano solo. A quartet of George Duffin, Ken Holmes, Jack Kincaid and Stanley Hawthorne gave two numbers, their rendering of "Clancy Lowered the Boom" being outstanding. "Now is the Hour" was also given with the whole club joining in the chorus.

Lorne McDougall introduced a new member, Ted Clarke, employed with the Hastings Fire Insurance Company, and he was initiated into the club by past Lieutenant-Governor Cliff Bangay. The attendance prize, donated by Addison Lloyd was won by Ken Ross. A number of Kiwanians, who have been on the sick list were welcomed back to the club. The president of the Madoc Club announced their first project, that of providing swings and slides in the Madoc park for the kiddies and the money will be raised by a recital by Phyllis Beatty and Stanley Hawthorne.

The speaker of the day was introduced by Ken Holmes of the Madoc Club and appreciation was expressed by Arthur Smith. Mr. Vaclavik, who came out from Czechoslovakia some years ago as a refugee without being able to speak any other language only his native tongue, told his listeners that he liked the country so well that he decided to remain. He gave as a reason for staying the interest taken in him by Dr. Oliver, former Moderator of the United Church, in enabling him to go to University and then take over the work among refugees and displaced persons in Canada.

Praised Club

He praised the work that the Kiwanis Club was doing to break down racial barriers and discrimination, declaring that Christ gave us a better conception of life than any other scientist. He claimed he did not like communities where one set of people exploited other sets and claimed that Canada was a country where all dissensions could be dissolved. Mr. Vaclavik told of his work in the ministry stating that for many years he delivered three sermons every Sunday in three languages and rode 50 miles on horseback to deliver them. The speaker urged the breaking down of barriers in a community and believed that the Kiwanis Club was on the right track in that respect.

SEEKERS LINE UP

Toronto, April 13 — (CP) — Ticket - seekers lined up Tuesday night in the waiting queue for tonight's Stanley Cup game between Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs.

The line-up outside Maple Leaf Gardens included four hockey fans from Midland, Ted Courtemanche, Jack Armstrong, Wally Hook and Tommy Anderson, who brought along a camp cot.

QUEENSBORO

Queensboro — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fraser, of Belleville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Holmes on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fitzgerald, Remington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Leslie.

Mrs. Effie Manchester, of Marmora, spent Saturday at her home in the village.

Mrs. Jas. Roushorn is spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mr. John Moore, Rolphton, is spending a week at his home here.

Mrs. R. A. Sager, Roberta and Barbara were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cassidy on Sunday.

The play "Pickle Fortune" given by the Young People of Tabernacle Church, Belleville, under the auspices of the W.A. on Friday evening was very much enjoyed by every one present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holmes, Diana, Percy and Mrs. Dan Master, attended the funeral of the late Mr. G. Maypes at Picton on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kelly and family who have spent the winter months in Queensboro and Madoc, left on Friday for their home in Kelfield, Sask.

Mrs. Frank O'Rourke spent Tuesday in Trenton attending the annual W.M.S. meeting of Belleville Presbyterial.

WEDDINGS

McMULLEN—McDONNELL.

On Saturday, April 9, at 1.30 p.m., in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, Ont., before an altar banked with calla lilies, Helen Madelaine McDonnell, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell, Stirling, and the late Mrs. McDonnell, was united in holy matrimony to William Burton McMullen, son of Mr. George McMullen, Stirling, and the late Mrs. McMullen, the Reverend A. J. Anderson officiating.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. H. Kerry, organist of St. Stirling, assisted by Mrs. Lorne Blakely, of Belleville, who sang, "Because".

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and looked charming in a gown of white brocaded satin with sweetheart neckline and bustle back, floor-length veil and halo headdress. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Betty McDonnell, Belleville, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a floor-length dress of sky blue net over taffeta, with a halo headdress and carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Hugh McMullen, Stirling, was groomsman. Mr. Gordon Nelson, Stirling, and Mr. Lorne Blakely, of Belleville, ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, which was profusely decorated with pink and white carnations. Mrs. Kennedy, Belleville, Miss Doris Saddler, and Miss Marion Hemmer served the dainty refreshments.

Later, the young couple left for a wedding trip to western points, the bride travelling in navy with white accessories with corsage of sweetpeas. Upon their return they will reside in Stirling, Ont.

Elizabeth Does Not Want Company Until House Ready

London, April 13 (AP) — A young British housewife named Elizabeth, just like any young housewife, doesn't want company in her new home until everything is just so.

That's why only a handful of relatives and visitors have any idea of what it's like inside the new home of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The royal couple will move into Clarence House, one of the mansions in the grounds of historic St. James Palace, around May 1.

Until Princess Elizabeth herself has had a chance to make sure the furnishings are just as she wants them, there will be no guests, official or unofficial.

Even the King hasn't been in the house since the start of the remodelling.

I.O.D.E. Branches to Step up Clothes Shipment to Europe

Hamilton, April 13. (CP) — Ontario branches of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire are to step up their clothing shipments to Europe.

The increase in the volume of clothing sent to the needy on the continent was urged Tuesday night by Mrs. K.I.G. Drope of Toronto, the I.O.D.E.'s National post-war convener. She told 800 delegates to the Ontario Chapter's three-day annual meeting:

"Our clothes shipments, both knitted and used, have fallen off tremendously during the last year. Yet the need for them continues".

It was decided that the I.O.D.E. should continue to send its relief clothing shipments to the United Kingdom and the rest to Europe.

The food parcel shipments also will be continued, Mrs. Drope said. Emart Waterdown Ontario post-war convener, suggested the sending of "Canadian prefabricated cupboards containing more meat than in the past. She reported that during the last year the Ontario branches spent $128,281, with $15,972 going into overseas food shipments.

Way to Fight Communism

Sending of food and clothing to European countries is "one way to fight Communism," said Mrs. C. F. Wright of Chatham, suggested. She said:

"If people are cold and hungry, they won't be able to think the right way."

Mrs. F. P. McCurdy, of Toronto, I.O.D.E. National president, warned members against becoming associated with groups set up as "Communist Front". She said delegates should not join any study groups until they learn something about the leaders, the group's purpose and what literature is distributed.

Reports from various conveners took up most of yesterday's opening day sessions. Membership convener Mrs. M. S. Sowers of Hemmingford said the 248 chapters in Ontario now have a combined membership of 13,344.

New Scholarship

A new $500 scholarship for Indian students in the Six Nations and Mississauga Reserves was announced by Mrs. L. L. Skuse of Milton. It will go to the student with the highest high school record wishing to go to Normal School. Mrs. Skuse said Ontario chapters raised $17,726 on education during the last year.

Contributions Urged

Increased contributions to the Governor's memorial fund was urged by Mrs. W. N. Smith of Sudbury. Chapters had given $1,459 to the fund during the year.

Mrs. J. H. Watt of Toronto, ex-service personnel convener, said $14,067 was raised and spent for welfare work, an increase of $1,302 over the former years.

The danger of Communism was widely discussed in Empire Study groups, reported Mrs. Wright, of St. Catharines. A total of 1,003 papers on Empire study were given by chapters.

Mrs. R. E. Briant of Welland, reported that $1,000 was raised and spent on welfare work, almost double the total for the previous year. Treasurer Mrs. Allan F. Holliness of Waterdown said $10,825 had been contributed to the Second War Memorial Fund. Eighty Chapters had raised $293,851 during the last year and had contributed on their many projects.

Immigration Convener, Mrs. G. I. Hamilton of Windsor, said the I.O.D.E. naturalization greeting cards were presented during the year.

Safety-Pin Idea Netted Inventor a Trifling $100

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York — (AP) — One hundred years ago — April 10 — a Rawdon inventor got a patent for a remarkable household gadget. Nobody today remembers him and nobody uses his product.

The man was Walter Hunt; the gadget was the safety pin.

Hunt never knew his invention may have netted him at least 4,000 years (some say since the Ark, or, more likely, 3,000 years B.C.) but nobody had ever tried to patent it, and he was the patent fee, $28.

That should have put him on Easy Street — but Hunt needed money and within the short space of three hours he had conceived the idea, made a model and sold his rights for $100.

Hunt had a good mind, but very little practical sense," said Joseph Nathan Kane, a writer who digs up historical characters and brings them back to life.

"He gave inventions away to pay debts, and he always owed money."

According to Kane, one day in 1849 Hunt wanted $15 to pay a debt. He rummaged around in his shop until he found a piece of brass wire about eight inches long. He pondered one end. Then he bent the wire and made a loop so that the two sides acted as a spring. He bent the other end and brought the point through it. It was a shielded safety pin.

Then he went to see a manufacturer named Richardson, who looked the gadget over carefully. "I'll give you one hundred dollars cash," he said finally.

"All right," said Hunt.

"And of course you'll apply for a patent and assign it to me," said Richardson added.

Richardson peeled off $100 in small bills.

A few months later, on April 10, 1849, the patent was issued.

This was the legal beginning of contrivance that has served a thousand and one purposes. Safety pins, say the National Geographic Society, have been in use since the cave man era. The primitive lake dwellers of Switzerland and Northern Italy used them. Museums have numerous relics, made with typical spring catch. They disappeared from recorded history during the middle ages, but came back after the renaissance.

After Hunt's patent re-established them, they became an indispensable gadget in every household. Today, they are issued in six sizes, usually in brass and steel, and covered with nickel plate.

Born Martinburg, N.Y., July 1796, Hunt had an industrious and inventive turn of mind.

His most important invention was a lock-stitch sewing machine. Twelve years later a man named Elias Howe developed a similar device and Hunt lost the glory because he had neglected to obtain a patent.

Hindu Women Will be Given Certain Rights

New Delhi, April 13 (AP)—India's 150,000,000 Hindu women soon may receive some of the rights which their western sisters long have taken for granted.

A bill recently presented to the legislative assembly by law minister B. R. Ambedkar would change centuries-old Hindu customs.

It insists on monogamy. Hindu husbands now may marry as many wives as they please.

It confers the right of divorce. Until now Hindu women have been indissoluble legally.

For the first time a woman may share in her father's property. Present Hindu law provides that only sons share their father's estate.

The new bill would reserve another ancient law by making the mother, and not the father, the heir to an unmarried son's property.

The bill has been in the making since 1941 and is based on the findings of a select committee which toured the country recording all shades of religious opinion.

2ND THURLOW

Neighbors Aid Addressed by Rev. D.C. Amos

2nd Thurlow —The Neighbors' Aid held a social evening in S.S. No. 4 on Friday night. The President, Mrs. J. Walker, spoke a few words of welcome to all and called on Mrs. Harry Thomson, 1st vice president, to introduce the guest speaker, the Rev. D. C. Amos of Bridge Street Church, Belleville, who gave a very interesting talk on his experiences as chaplain when the Alaska highway was being built. Mr. Amos showed two films of the construction work and other interesting pictures.

Mrs. F. Doxtator moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker and Mrs. Craig also added her appreciation. Later refreshments were served and social time enjoyed.

Stirling Girls' Club Holds Mothers' Night

Rawdon—On Wednesday evening last, the Stirling Girls' Club entertained their mothers at the home of Mrs. Frank McGee. Seventeen mothers were present thirty in attendance.

The hostess, Mrs. Louis Redgate, welcomed the mothers and spoke briefly of the work of the club.

Miss Ruth Donnan contributed a piano solo.

Miss Ruth Mumbly delighted with a piano solo, and also sang a vocal duet with Miss Francis Morrison and the latter played the latter accompaniment.

Misses Eileen and Evelyn Cooke gave a vocal duet and Miss Laura McGee a reading "Why I am a Club Member?"

Each member of the club spoke briefly. Miss Betty Cooke demonstrated "Table Setting" and Miss Ruth Mumby gave a talk on "Sandwiches".

Mrs. Rodgers contributed "How to prepare six different kinds of fancy sandwiches".

The girls served their mothers appetizing refreshments and were tendered a vote of thanks.

Mrs. Redgate has been busy tutoring the girls this Winter and the new officers elected for the coming year will be held at the Community Hall, Stirling in May.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Cornelius Beekman

'Bon Voyage' means 'Good Trip'

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

A friend of mine is taking a trip to San Francisco and she is going by plane. Last Saturday afternoon tea was given for her, and the invitation read in part: "You are invited to a 'Bon Voyage' tea to be given for on Saturday afternoon." I wondered if it were correct wording to write "Bon Voyage," as she is travelling by plane. Is this correct?

S. F.

Yes, this is a correct translation of the French expression. The French word "voyage" is not limited in meaning as our English word "voyage" is to "journey by water", the "Voyage" in "Bon Voyage" means any kind of travel, a journey, a trip. The idea is "Best wishes for a good trip."

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

(1) At our late-June wedding the groom, best man and ushers are wearing white jackets and black trousers. Does the person who is to give me in marriage wear the same kind of attire? And what color boutonniere do they wear? (2) The best man is unmarried. I want very much to have a matron of honor. Is this proper? (3) Mother is going to wear a dinner gown. Would a pastel color be suitable for her?

G. F.

(1) The attire of all the men in the wedding party should be as uniform as possible . . . and the bride's father or whoever is to give her in marriage, is a member of the wedding party. With white dinner jacket, black trousers, black cummerbund, a black bow tie are correct. The groom wears a white boutonniere from his bride's bouquet, and the other men in the wedding party wear either a white or red carnation. (Occasionally the men in the wedding party wear narrow bow ties and very dark red carnations.) (2) The fact that the best man is not married does not mean that you may not have a matron of honor. The important point is that the bride should choose the one she wishes for her honor attendant, maid of honor or matron of honor, and the groom should choose the man he wishes for his best man. (3) Your mother should wear the color (or pastel black) most becoming to her; shades of blue are universal favorites with "the mothers". Pastel shades of green, rose and blue to navy blue. Neutral colors are frequently chosen: champagne, for example, or a rich shade of grey. Or perhaps burgundy is a becoming color to your mother's rose beige.

Order of relationships in death notices

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

(1) Is there any special order in which relationships should be mentioned in death notices: (2) And how many relationships are given?

C. T.

(1) Yes. In the death notice of a man . . . his is the order: . . . husband of . . . father of . . . son of . . . brother of . . . (2) The death notice of a woman follows the same sequence: " . . . wife of . . . mother . . . daughter of . . . sister of . . ." (2) Under the usual circumstances, others relationships are not given, and quite often not more than two relationships are given.

Should she give a stork shower?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Would it be considered proper for the mother of a daughter to give her a stork shower?

R. R.

Must be 'Alert To Deadly Peril Of Apathy'

Hamilton, April 13 — (CP) — Mrs. Cecil L. Brown of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Chapter, I. O. D. E., today warned delegates to the Chapter's 39th annual meeting that "they must remain alert to the deadly peril of apathy."

"So far as democracy is concerned, there is as much thing as achievement — only achieving," she said. "We must be vigilant . . . and see to it we are not actually lured by the glittering sophistry of Soviet subversive propaganda."

Mrs. Brown was one of three women who spoke at the three-day meeting's opening sessions.

Mrs. Ray Lawson, wife of Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant - Governor of Ontario, who is Patroness of the Ontario Chapter I. O. D. E., and Mrs. F. P. McCurdy of Toronto, president of the National Chapter, both brought greetings.

Mrs. McCurdy said "the true greatness of the Order lies in its ideal of unselfish voluntary service."

She emphasized the power and influence of such a group of some 32,000 women across Canada.

Beauty and The Budget

By ALICE ALDEN

FASHION THAT offers beauty and smartness for all is very much in mind of the American way. Of course, it is wonderful to boast a belt the size of the grandfathers, but most of us have to do more than think about the budget. Happily that's no hardship when there are lovely hats such as this in the budget bracket. Walter K. Marx creates this pillbox-turban for this hat which surely belies its modest budget tag. A cluster of white violets rises from a green velvet band and a mist of green mesh veiling lends softness to the silhouette.

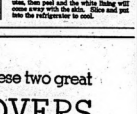
Hamilton, April 13. (CP) — The Ontario Chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire spent $92,967 on welfare last year—almost double the amount it spent the year before, the Chapter's annual meeting was told Tuesday.

Mrs. T. E. Briant, of Welland, Welfare convener, added "a tremendous number of actual hours of service were given by the members". Welfare projects included aid to British Columbia flood victims, mass tuberculosis surveys, baby clinics and aid to handicapped and aged persons.

Mrs. J. B. Smith, Waterdown, reported $128,221 was spent on post-war services, including food parcels of Britain and overseas and shipments of clothing to the British Isles.

Ontario chapters raised a total of $293,203 during the year and spent $273,872, reported the Treasurer, Mrs. Allan F. Hollinrake, of Hamilton. Mrs. W. N. Smith, Sudbury, said the Order's endowment fund had received $8,439 but increased contributions would be needed to finish it by 1950 as planned.



Mrs. J. H. Watt, Toronto, reported that ex-service workers' hostesses of visits by veterans' hospitals with gifts of food, clothing and books.

Mrs. G. L. Hamilton, Windsor, said there was a stepping-up of the Order's "Canadianization" work among the 123,414 immigrants who came to Canada last year. Mrs. D. W. McIlhon, Toronto, in her report on films, asked for assistance in making sure of suitable films for children.

Mrs Henry T. Ross, Jr., Sarnia, said Echoes, the Order's magazine now had 14,506 subscribers and Mrs. C. F. Washington, Walkerton, said $538 was spent on the Order's work in India. Mrs. Peart Mowry, Port Arthur, said there were 2,692 Empire correspondents links last year.

He left his wife — wants to go back

The quickest way to right a wrong is always to admit one's mistake honestly and directly. This is not an easy thing for anyone to do, but it is especially hard for a person who is not in the habit of being honest with himself or with others.

Here is a letter from a man who some days ago left his wife and now wants to make up with her but apparently doesn't know how to go about it. He simply says of going to her and saying: "I was wrong, I'm sorry, I'd like to try again", seems not to occur to him, and I strongly suspect the reason why it does not is because he lacks this ability to be honest.

This is what he says:

"I left my wife ten months ago during an argument. I realize now how good she was to me, and the sacrifices she made for me.

"During the time I was living with her, I didn't support her properly as I had other expenses. I would lie to her and ask give true figures about money.

"Now my conscience is bothering me more and more. I have been talking another woman out and I find I am lying to her, although she doesn't know it. I am still in love with my wife, although I pretend to everyone I am not. I realize how the love I have for my wife will never die. Do you think she will forgive me for being so mean to her? I would do anything to please her now."

As I have already said, it seems to me that the only decent and sensible way for you to proceed as a solution of this matter would be for this man to go to his wife and make some such simple direct statement as I have already indicated. But for the reasons I have also also mentioned, I am afraid this is going to be very hard for him to do, as he is obviously not in the habit of being truthful and direct.

I think if he writes in his own admission that he has not only lied to her but that he now lying to this other woman.

It will take a real effort of will, and very sincere purpose, for him to summon up the courage to necessary spirit of humility, and to be fair to convince her that he really wants to be a man of his band to her in the future than he has in the past.

If he can bring himself to do this however, and if he does it in the right way, it is not at all impossible that she will give him the chance to prove he means what he says. If a man who has killed a woman's love for him entirely, she is usually pathetically eager to have him demonstrate his love for her.

I hope this man will pull himself together, stand on his own feet and tell his wife exactly what is in his heart.

He may not deserve it at all, and probably doesn't, but the chances are that she will be willing to start all over again and forget the past.

Princess Margaret Is Fashion Leader

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, (CP)—If the King's illness had not cancelled the Australian tour, Princess Margaret's clothes would have been front page news.

For the first time her wardrobe would have been her own choice rather than clothes for the Queen. She can tour were chosen by the Queen.

At 18 the five-foot two-inch Princess Margaret is regarded as a teen-age fashion leader. Her dress sense is held to be better than Princess Elizabeth's and she is certainly fonder of clothes. But until now, she has had little chance to assert herself. The Australian tour would have been her first real chance and its cancellation is a keen disappointment.

Clothes for the tour had to be chosen but those already completed the princess was allowed to keep. Examples are:

A Molyneux ball gown of toning gunmetal lace with floral design in silver thread, over a matching taffeta underskirt. Has wide skirt, neat waist, lightly boned bodice and off-the-shoulder neckline with deep frills.

Favored by Princess

This wide fichu neckline has become a favorite with the princess. Another ball gown is of silver brocade—the hardness of the brocade softened by tucked net and a derpiece of softer draping with matching material.

A dance frock in pale pink crepe-de-chine with large artist designed large shaggy roses has its fichu necklines circled completely with a wide-spaced frieze of roses.

In day dresses Margaret prefers mid-calf length and the slope-shoulder line with which she is in one with the bodice. Finest wool crepe is used for two dresses she wears this Spring. One has tiers of flounces, full skirts with panel hair-pleating the other, plain round neck, very full swing skirt with a minority interest in the sleeves and three-quarter length.

The afternoon dress in her wardrobe is the coral shantung frock with the high fichu collar and pleated skirt. This she is to wear with a matching coat of fine wool.

For some time now the Queen and Princess have been wearing platform-soled, ankle-strap shoes. Fashion editorial staff, said the book will tell the province's story from its early history until today.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Cultivating vocal charm

Lucky is the woman who is a delight to the ear, as well as the eye. The svelte shape, the peaches-and - cream complexion, the chic hat-do are important in the composition of the feminine mortal, but nowhere else love value if one has a shrill, rasping voice. The picture changes, and not for the better Queen. . . . if one has a husky, raw-edged voice.

Not to be confused with the whole story of pulchritude,

Women spend millions to make themselves attractive

A well-placed, colorful speaking voice is an element of charm. It has a strong appeal. It is evidence of poise. A cultured woman never lifts her voice beyond a certain level. To shout is to lose one's manner. Very loud talking and shrilling go on at some of our very best parties.

It is by the voice that we are judged. If it is warm, vibrant, pleasant, it betrays refinement, good taste, breeding. It expresses one's true feelings. Words mood. Put welcome in your greeting when you meet a friend. There are any number of ways of saying "hello"—or good - by. The words can be cordial and friendly, or they can be cold, according to the tone or the manner of delivery. The voice should have resonance that will make the softest tones sound round, the dramatic ones pleasant to hear.

Test your voice. Read aloud; listen carefully. Do you enunciate each word clearly? Are you interested in timing your words for the best effect? You should pronounce each syllable properly. Don't swallow the g's in going, coming, sewing, etc. That is a common habit and a sloppy manner of speaking.

After reading, whisper the same words that you have read. That is a good exercise. Then say the vowels, slowly and carefully, pausing between each one. That practice will prepare you for more fluent speech.

Remember, your mouth must be open to let your voice out. If it is partially closed you will mumble, or drone, and the one to whom you are speaking will probably ask "What did you say?" If your voice is shut in too closely your tones will be nasal; that will not add to the sum total of charm.

Deep breathing and good posture have a favorable effect upon the voice. Many movie and radio stars have had to go through a speaking course to get the voice in form. Many public speakers have sought professional advice.

Women the world over spend millions to make themselves attractive. The complexion, the hair, the figure all get the best attention. But about the voice, if it does not quality, little is done.

FIVE MEMBERS DISMISSED

Toronto, April 13 — (CP) — Five of the total of members of the police force of suburban Weston have been dismissed since December. This was revealed Monday night at a Weston council meeting during which the council's police committee tried without success to persuade fellow members of council to set up a police commission.

Man Surrenders In Court Room

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—Johnny Hill, 36, sought by police since March 13 when he escaped during a police raid by leaping through a glass panel, surrendered to police in court room yesterday.

He was charged with illegal possession of drugs.

Police said that at the time of his escape Hill was on $5,000 bail and he was released on charges of illegal possession and sale of drugs.

He said he did not want his mother, who put up the $5,000 bail, to lose her money by having the bail forfeited.

Britain Provides Variety Of Fare for 1949 Tourist

By MICHAEL O'MARA
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London— (CP) —Britain holds a strong hand in the contest to draw all tourist business and the Travel Association expects to see 500,000 overseas visitors this year — an increase of 55,000 over 1948.

An attractive program of money-pulling events has been spread across the April-September segment of the calendar and even without last year's crowning drawing card — the Olympic Games — hotel-keepers, theatrical impresarios and sports promoters expect to do better than ever.

The shipping position has substantially improved, a Travel Association spokesman told The Canadian Press. In addition efforts to spread the trade over spring and autumn, instead of having it confined to the height of the summer season, are bearing fruit, enabling available shipping to do the maximum job.

One of the biggest increases is from the United States — 130,000 instead of 100,000 last year. As in 1948, about 20,000 Canadians are expected. This should improve last year's estimated take of about 12,000,000 pounds worth of hard currency.

At Stratford-upon-Avon, Warwickshire, Birthplace of the bard, the Shakespeare Festival — right through the spring, summer and early autumn.

Highlight of June will be the International Eisteddfod at Llangollen, Wales, where the finest Welsh singers will compete to occupy the Bardic Chair.

Music and Drama

July will see the Canterbury Festival of Music and Drama and August the Malvern Drama Festival. From Aug. 21 to Sept. 11 the International Festival of Music and Drama — a big artistic and financial success the last two years — will be in full swing at Edinburgh.

The Trooping of the Color — traditional celebration of the King's Birthday — will take place in London's Horse Guards Parade early in June. Indisposition may prevent His Majesty from taking part in the ceremony this year and it is thought not unlikely Princess Elizabeth will act for him.

Another colorful pageant will be the Royal Windsor Horse Show in mid-May. Against the impressive setting of the historic, grey castle, the show features jumping competitions and the crack Household Cavalry's musical ride.

All through the summer there'll be plenty of excitement for sports fans. New Zealand is sending a test team to take on the cream of English cricketers, Wimbledon will again draw the world's best tennis players for two weeks' play.

Big race meetings will draw cheering thousands to Epsom, Ascot, Goodwood and Newmarket. For rowing fans, there's the Royal Henley Regatta and for yachtsmen the racing off Cowes.

Promoter Jack Solomons will stage the Bruce Woodcock-Freddy Mills prize fight in London's White City Stadium in June. The fish salesman is also angling to bring a world heavyweight contest to Britain in September.

Second Will Ruled Invalid By Judge Wilson

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—The second will of a wealthy chatwoman Tuesday was ruled invalid by Mr. Justice Wilson and her $82,000 estate will be divided according to the terms of a will she made in 1937.

The court was asked to rule on the validity of a will she made in 1947, 12 days before her death. It was contested by three heirs—Frederick Chapman, her husband, F. W. Chapman, her son, and Muriel Chapman, her granddaughter.

All three were given joint 'access to capital" in the first will, but the second will stipulated the husband would receive the entire earnings of her estate, without access to capital.

Mr. Justice John L. Wilson ruled the charwoman—described as "self-seeking" by relatives—had lost her "testamentary capacity" as a result of "mental deterioration."

Jersey Victimized By Holiday Racket

St. Helier, Channel Islands (CP) — Jersey authorities have moved to stop a holiday racket that cost the Island's taxpayers £1,000 ($4,000) last year.

They are seeking a two-way pact, by agreement with Britain to end the Island's responsibility for people who go there on a one-way ticket and then report destitute when their holiday is over.

Senator Philip le Feuvre said every day single-ticket "spivs and drones" sail from Southampton and Weymouth to the Island. One man stayed at a top-class hotel for a fortnight, couldn't pay his bill and was sent home free with a £3 note. A month later he did it again with the same result and now he was back on his third "Jersey holiday.

Last year 73 holiday-makers of that kind went to the Island and the Island's treasury paid out £1,000 to send them home.

There are no vagrancy laws on Jersey where beer costs 6d (15 cents) a pint compared with 11d in Britain and cigarets 1s 4d (28 cents) compared with 2s 6d.

CACHED IN LOCKER

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—James Ashley, 45, is on his way home to England today with all but $100 of the $700 stolen from him Saturday when he was beaten by three men in a West-Central steam bath.

Acting on a tip, a detective took Ashley to a railway station where they found nearly $600 and train and boat tickets to Liverpool which had also been stolen. They had been cached in a locker.

NESCAFÉ is quick—quick as you can add a cup of boiling water to a teaspoonful of Nescafé.

Yes, and Nescafé is economical. While other coffees are away higher than pre-war levels, Nescafé prices are down. So cup for cup, Nescafé costs less than ordinary coffees in can or jar.

Make one cup or many—in cup or coffee server. Nescafé is always the same, always delicious in flavour. It comes in powdered form, in air-tight glass jars. Two sizes—4 oz. and the 12 oz. economy size. Try Nescafé today.

"Nescafé (pronounced NES-CAH-FAY) is the exclusive registered Trade Mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its Soluble Coffee Product. It is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavour."

Cactus King Sells Spines Around World

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

He even peddles it to Arizona, a state with enough cactus to puncture every living thing on earth.

A 44-year-old ex-Georgian, former travelling salesman, Fitzpatrick wholesales and retails four million plants a year. On a dull day, he ships 5,000. Nine million spiny plants thrive in luxury on 11 acres at the rear of his 15-room brick home in the Rio Grande Valley; six miles north of Edinburg. He'll soon have 20 more cactus-covered acres.

Cactus is the scourge of southwestern and western ranges. It steals water, keeps grass from growing. But Fitzpatrick, a hefty long-faced six-footer, sells a million plants a year to a concern in Phoenix, Ariz. Another million go to a firm in Grand Rapids, Mich.

New Yorkers fairly cry for cactus. The Brazilian and Siamese governments are regular customers and the U. S. department of agriculture recently bought 1,000 assorted plants for the Botanical Gardens in Washington, D.C.

Orders flow in from Newfoundland, Australia, Africa, Portugal, Japan, China, Peru and they flood in from England.

One Englishman purchased $1,000 worth of cactus seed. It took the stubborn influence of a member of parliament to get the money out of the country.

1,500 Varieties

Twenty-five Latin-American employees handle the cactus. Fitzpatrick has 1,500 varieties (there are more than 1,000), including rare plants from South America and Africa, but most of the cactus is transplanted from neighboring Starr County where it grows abundantly.

The Starr County cactus includes the popular peyote, a small spineless plant which contains an intoxicating drug.

"Indians used to eat peyote and get drunk," said Fitzpatrick, "it affected their eyesight — they'd see in technicolor. Now scientists are experimenting with peyote as a possible remedy for eye trouble. I get orders regularly from hospitals and medical schools and even shipped some recently to the U. S. Army in Mannheim, Germany."

The cactus specialist ships his percentages of his products in cardboard boxes manufactured during the war for shipping articles to veterans overseas. He also purchased a couple of those war-surplus camouflage netting The netting now covers 2,000,000 young plants.

"It protects them from too much hot sun and too much rain," Fitzpatrick said. "Too much rain is bad, I mix sand with my soil so rain drains off quickly. Most housewives water cactus too much. You have to let it alone."

Why is cactus popular? "Because, people don't need a green thumb to grow it," Fitzpatrick said. "It thrives on damn treatment; it'll live in a steam-heated apartment. It's tougher than a goat; it has real character. It gets along."

WHITE'S DISTRICT

White's District — Mr. and Mrs. George Youker of Belleville were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jeffery.

Mrs. Ritchie Ketcheson, Mrs. Gordon Shickle, Mrs. Frank Sandercock, Mrs. Glen Meyers, Mrs. Hilton Rush, Mrs. Leonard Young, Mrs. W. A. Jeffery, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. H. I. Mooney and Mrs. H. W. Rose of Trenton, W.M.S. were guests on Tuesday afternoon of Holloway Street Church W.M.S., Belleville, at their Easter Thank-offering meeting.

Mesdames Clifton Rush, Glen Meyers, Floyd Jeffery, Leonard Young, W. A. Jeffery, Walter Jones, H. I. Mooney and H. M. Rutter of Bayside W.M.S. attended the Belleville Presbyterial at King Street Church, Trenton, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bilham, Sylvia and Larry of Trenton, on Thursday tea, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones on the occasion of Mr. Bilham's birthday.

Choir practice was held at White's Church on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Westover were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Westover of Alker's community.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Young were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Palmer of Consecon. Mr. Palmer who has been under the doctor's care, is much improved.

Mr. W. E. May is convalescing at his home following an operation in Toronto.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Mrs. Florence Foster who passed away at the home of her daughter at Verona on Tuesday. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. A. C. McCallum at the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford, on Monday afternoon.

Service at White's Church was conducted by the Rev. A. C. McCallum on Sunday afternoon. He chose as his text, "I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." This passage shows the egotism of Jesus, the optimism of Jesus and the magnetism of Jesus. The egotist is not a very popular type o fperson today, but Jesus was divine. He was also an optimist and had faith that men would take up His cross. He had a magnetism that attracted both young and old." The choir assisted with an anthem "Breathe on Me Breath of God."

At the conclusion of the service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. A special service will be held on Good Friday evening with the Rev. Roy Rickard as guest speaker and Easter Sunday service will be held on Sunday evening.

C.S.U. CASUALTIES—A pitched battle of the Halifax waterfront Friday between the Canadian Seamen's Union members and members of the rival Seafarer's International Union over manning of three Canadian National Steamship vessels resulted in seven C.S.U. men being sent to the hospital. S.I.U. men broke through the C.S.U picket lines to board the vessels Here are two of the C.S.U. men after the battle, Albert McEllen, left of Montreal and William Walker of Cape Breton. (CP Photo)

London Letter:

Spring Comes To London On Schedule

By MICHAEL O'MARA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, April 13 (CP)—Spring came to London right on schedule this year—just as though the birds, the flowers and the sunshine had never heard of austerity.

Householders slapped green and yellow paint on their shutters and front doors.

Office workers ate sandwich lunches in the parks and shared them with the swans and pigeons.

Housewives turned their quarters upside down, shook feather-dusters out windows, made life horrible for their husbands and excused the chaos by calling it "spring cleaning."

London was having her own spring cleaning. A squad of government workmen moved forough the Whitehall area washing statues of bygone kings, statesmen and petty politicians.

Cleopatra's needle, a landmark along the Victoria embankment, was to have its face washed too, and Londoners wondered whether they would like the pristine pink granite as much as the smoky-brown shade the obelisk has turned since it was brought from Egypt and set up more than 70 years ago.

Spring and summer costumes were featured in most dress-store windows.

Here and there a bathing-suit showed itself, shyly but determinedly, like a crocus.

The male animal also went gay. Fedoras of sprightly hue—though none as drastic as last year's "pastel" atrocities—blossomed and some of the young rakes were wearing flowered lavendar waistcoats, reminiscent of Beau Brummell and Nash.

The young man's fancy, naturally, was also turning in the direction the poet said it does in the spring. And the young woman's fancy was inclined, judging by the number of hand-in-hand couples strolling through quiet streets of an evening.

Holland Expects 500,000 Visitors For Flower Rally

By GEORGE FRANKS

The Hague — (Reuters) — Special plans are being made to celebrate tulip time in Holland this year.

From early in April, a large part of the country is carpeted with multi-colored mosaics of tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and narcissus.

Highlights of the year's celebrations of this galaxy of spring flowers will be the international motor tulip rally to be held from April 25 to 29. The event will start in the various capitals of Europe and finish in Noordwijk in the heart of the bulb growing district.

Entries have been limited to 150 cars and preference is being given to foreign competitors. But there have already been double that number of applications for entry.

Starting points for this 1,700 mile drive will be Lisbon, Madrid, Rome, Monte Carlo, Paris, Glasgow, Oslo, Copenhagen and Stockholm. The cars will cross the southern Dutch frontier near Breda early on the morning of April 28, then travel 280 miles in a great loop round the former Zuyder Zee and through the bulb district to the coast.

On arrival at Noordwijk the cars will be sealed. Next morning, they will be driven in convoy to the motor-racing track at Zandvoort along another route through the bulb fields.

On the same general classification trials will be held, and the rally will end with a prize distribution dinner and ball at Noordwijk on April 30, Queen Juliana's birthday.

Flower Mosaics

Noordwijk, which is the most fashionable holiday resort in Holland, is already preparing to welcome the motorists. Magnificent multi-colored mosaics of tulip and hyacinth petals will be laid out in the streets and squares, and every house along the route will be decorated with flowers.

Following the mild winter and warmer February there were fears that the flowers might appear too soon for the planned program, but a cold spell in March, mixed with snow, has given the bulbs just the setback needed for them to be at their best towards the end of April.

To cope with the expected influx of 500,000 visitors to see the bulb fields, Holland's transport chiefs are arranging extensive schedules.

The K.L.M. (Dutch airline) will run sight-seeing excursions by air over the bulb fields every Thursday. Railroads are putting on scores of extra trains to carry daily visitors to places like Haarlem and Noordwijk.

The Netherlands national tourist office is arranging tours covering five and eight days from Amsterdam and The Hague at the height of the tulip festival season.

Holland's bulb fields have now fully recovered their pre-war beauty and magnificence and as the season this year is regarded as especially favorable, the tulip festival is expected to be one of the best ever.

War Declared On Carp in Lake

Toronto, April 13 (CP) — War has been declared on carp in Lake Scugog by the Fish and Wildlife Division of Ontario's Lands and Forests Department. The carp, a heavy-bodied "coarse" type fish, uproots underwater vegetation, depleting the food supply of game fish.

James Hazard and Arthur Fulford of the government department yesterday raised a 150-yard net they are operating in the south of a creek running into the lake, 35 miles north east of here. Along with other fish and one bewildered mud turtle, the net produced 50 carp.

Under direction of Ben Smith, conservation officer, the carp were thrown into a boat to be taken ashore and used as fertilizer. The other fish were carefully liberated.

"The trouble with carp," said Dr. H. H. MacKay, fish and wildlife director of fish culture; "is that the commercial demand for it is not great enough. So it goes on competing with game fish for food."

Safecrackers Get $300, Miss $200

Windsor, April 13 (CP)—Safecrackers scooped $300 from a strong box at Standard Brands Ltd., but overlooked $200 stuffed loosely in an envelope in another part of the safe.

Police believe the thieves had a spotter outside the building and they were frightened away before they had a chance to thoroughly examine the contents of the safe.

The safecracking part of the job appeared expert. The combination was knocked off the steel door and a hole an inch and a half in diameter was punched through the door and the lining to push the lock into the safe.

The thieves were some of the west side store's first customers. The company recently moved offices from downtown Windsor and the store was opened only last Friday.

Diseases of Vegetables Title of New Booklet

Professors J. E. Howitt and D. R. Sands of the Botany Department, and Prof. F. H. Garrard, of Bacteriology at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, are authors of a revised booklet on vegetable diseases being distributed by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The book is available free of charge from any local Agricultural representative's office.

"Diseases of vegetables" is the title of the compact little booklet and on the front cover are realistically colored photos of blight on potatoes; pod spot on beans; late blight and blossom end rot on tomatoes. The book carries several photographic illustrations of what the various stages of disease look like.

Details on symptoms and treatment for asparagus rust, various bean blights; club root on cabbage, cabbage yellows, cauliflower whiptail, cauliflower brown heart; black leg and black rot or bacterial wilt; diseases and blights of celery, corn, cucumbers, and melons, egg-plant, lettuce, onions, peas, potatoes, tomatoes and various other vegetables are given in detail.

The first part of the publication deals with the nature of various plant diseases and their symptoms. Causes are given wherever known and methods of control are detailed.

The booklet is one that should be in the library of every up-to-date gardener.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1949

BOUND FOR HOME-BUILDINGS AND PRE-ELECTION WORK are these Progressive Conservative Parliamentarians from Eastern Ontario who here are seeing good-bye to their leader, George Drew. Sitting are G. R. Webb, M.P. (Leeds) and Mr. Drew. Standing, left to right are: A. J. Casselman, M.P. (Stormont-Dundas); Lewis Mercier, M.P.P. (Wellington North); W. R. Ayers, M.P. (Lanark). Mr. Drew himself will not speak in the week before Easter, but immediately afterwards will fly to Newfoundland to address public meetings and on his return will speak in Sydney, N.S., and St. John, N.B.

CANADA AND U.S. AGREE ON PLANS OF MOBILIZATION

Industry in Event of Another War First to be Formulated

Ottawa, April 13 — (CP) — Canada and United States, already co-operating closely on defence matters, have agreed to co-ordinate plans for the mobilization of industry in the event of another war.

Through an industrial mobilization committee, established Tuesday by an exchange of diplomatic notes, the two countries will exchange information and co-ordinate views of the two governments on plans for the mobilization of industry in an emergency.

The four-man committee will work closely with the United States – Canada Permanent Joint Defence Board, established in 1940 to co-ordinate defences.

Harry L. Carmichael of St. Catharines, Ont., chairman of the Industrial Defence Board, and S. D. Pierce of Ottawa, associate deputy minister of trade, will represent Canada on the new committee. The United States representatives will be Dr. John R. Steelman, acting chairman of the United States Security Resources Board, and Donald F. Carpenter, chairman of the Munitions Board.

Canada's Industrial Defence Board, made up of representatives of the government, the armed forces, and industries across the country, has been in operation for about a year. But it has made no one-to-one tie-up with any similar agency in the United States.

Duties Outlined

Duties of the Industrial Defence Board were outlined in an order-in-council passed last April 26. The board was ordered to advise the government on all matters relating to the industrial war potential of Canada and to prepare and to keep up-to-date a plan for industrial production in the event of war.

It also was to arrange for such liaison between the defence forces and industry as is necessary for the understanding of defence needs and the active co-operation needed to meet such needs. The board was to encourage the standardization of specifications and industrial practices.

With establishment of the new committee, the board will be able to draw on information available to the United States.

In the exchange of notes between Laurence Steinhardt, United States ambassador to Canada, and Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson, the committee was given these specific functions:—

1. Exchange information with a view to the co-ordination of the plans of Canada and the United States for industrial mobilization in peace and common concern should be made to each government.

2. Be empowered to organize joint sub-committees from time to time to facilitate the discharge of its functions.

3. Be responsible for co-operation with the Permanent Joint Defence Board on matters of industrial mobilization.

Flu Breaks Out in Labrador Village of Hebron, Medicine Parachuted for 47 Sufferers

St. John's, April 13 (CP)—Ice-bound Labrador, slowly recovering from a starvation threat, was faced with possibilities of an influenza epidemic today.

Yesterday an R.C.A.F. Dakota from Goose Bay, Labrador, flew some 250 miles north along the coast to parachute medicine to the village of Hebron where some 47 persons are reported suffering from influenza.

A nurse in Hebron died in the greatest need a pestilition. It was not believed there had been any deaths so far.

Meanwhile, the Transport Department icebreaker Sagona was making her way for St. Mary's Bay and other coastal villages along a 50-mile strip where many families were threatened with starvation last week.

Since the first distress message from a Grenfell Association nurse at St. Mary's Bay to Premier Joseph Smallwood, an R.C.A.F. Dakota from Goose Bay had dropped two cargoes of food, totalling four tons. A private plane has also made a mercy flight to the affected area.

It is understood the food will tied the villages over the crucial period before the Sagona gets some $25,000 worth of food, will smash its way through the Labrador ice barriers to deliver its mercy cargo. Its supply is expected to be sufficient for the villages until the ice blockade is lifted.

Mrs. Elsie Dube Sent to Trial On Murder Count

Rimouski, Que., April 13 (CP) — Mrs. Elise Plante Dube, 40, today awaited trial here in Quebec women's jail where she will spend a full year before her trial for the shotgun murder of her 18-year-old daughter Irene.

Only an order from the Attorney General will hasten the trial date fixed yesterday for the March Assizes of 1950.

The dark-eyed mother, charged with killing her daughter April 3 after a 24-hour drinking party in her camp at Matane-Sur-Mer, 50 miles below this Gaspe Peninsula town, sat quietly through the preliminary hearing.

Asked if she had anything to say she wept quietly and said nothing.

Dominique Gaudet, a witness who described himself as "a friend" of Mrs. Dube, said there had been quarrels throughout the previous night and during the day.

He described the scene when one of Mrs. Dube's nephews who had been with Irene at the time moved to pick up the body. Mrs. Dube stopped him saying: "Leave her there, she's all right there."

Witness Tells of Quarrel

Two other witnesses were musicians who provided the party with music for reels and square dances until 4 a.m. (E.S.T.). They said the mother and daughter quarrelled continuously with the mother wielding a 16-gauge shotgun and the daughter a rifle.

One of the musicians said he heard the mother say: "Shut up or you'll get a shot in the belly" He said Irene dared her mother, telling her: "Kill me. I prefer to die than have a mother like you."

The two musicians left the house before the shooting.

Mrs. Dube signed a paper after the shooting willing all her possessions to a young son now in college at Riviere Du Loup, Que., where another daughter is also studying.

Police Brand Kidnapping as Father's Hoax

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 13 — A 10-cell jailer today branded as a father's hoax the kidnapping of a five-year-old boy and said the lad's mother is inclined to agree.

The child's father, Joe Goodman, Sr., is in jail on charges of suspicion of grand theft as a result of an investigation into the case. The theft charge is not connected with the kidnapping story.

Police Chief C. B. Anderson flatly described Goodman's story of the kidnapping of a $50,000 ransom payment as "an attempt to gain sympathy so he wouldn't be pressed to pay $15,000 in gambling debts which he admitted owing."

Mrs. Goodman told officers her son was driven off Monday by bogus representatives of a military academy. Shortly afterwards she received a telephone call ordering her to bring $50,000 to a downtown building to ransom the boy.

Mrs. Goodman withdrew all she had—$33,000—from a safety deposit box, she said, met a man and gave him the money. He instructed her to wait at a phone booth, where she said she received a call and was instructed to pick up the child. This she did. The boy had an envelope with $1,000 in his hand.

The father was booked in connection with a $400 wrist-watch robbery.

TORONTO MARLIES ENTER CUP FINAL AGAINST WEST

Series With Ottawa Has Been Cancelled

Midland, Ont., April 13 (CP)— George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced today that the Senators of the Allan Cup hockey final has been cancelled and that Toronto Marlboros will enter the city final against the Western Canada champions.

Mr. Dudley said in a statement this action was taken because of failure of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association to have a champion ready to meet the Marlboros, who won the eastern semi-final, by Friday, April 15.

(Ottawa Senators won the championship of the Quebec Senior Hockey League Tuesday night and it was expected they would be entered in the final against the Marlboros. However, it was reported in Toronto that the Q. A. H. A. has ordered the Senators to delay further series with the Isle Maligne team which won the Quebec intermediate title.)

Impossible to Grant

Mr. Dudley explained his action in a 375-word statement which said the Quebec Association had applied for an extension until April 16 "but it had been impossible for the C.A.H.A. to grant this."

The statement said playoff dates were arranged in August, 1948, at leagues and branches could draw their attention accordingly. The statement was given a bye into the eastern final. If the C.A.H.A. extension was granted, the eastern final to start April 19.

On his own responsibility, Mr. Dudley, who is in charge of playoffs in Eastern Canada, later granted a further three-day extension to April 15.

Every Branch Complies

Every other C.A.H.A. branch in Canada had complied with playoff arrangements, the statement said. Some have had their championships declared for a month. Every branch but Quebec had already participated in interbranch playoffs. The association regretted the situation but in fairness to all hockey players no further extension could be granted.

The Marlboros won the Ontario Hockey Association title at Stoneship and then eliminated North Bay, Northern Ontario champions, and Sydney Millionaires, Maritime champions.

Faster Schedules By CNR Trains Start April 24

Toronto, April 13 — Additional passenger trains and faster schedules are being introduced by Canadian National Railways spring and summer services commencing April 24, the company's new timetable which goes into effect with the change to Daylight Saving Time on Sunday, April 24th.

R. C. Gadsby, general passenger agent, said here today that while the CNR would continue to operate on Standard Time, timetable changes would be largely made to offset the one-hour difference between the two time systems. He advised that passengers should consult local agents for changes affecting their territory.

Extra daily service from Toronto to Montreal will be provided from June 26th to September 15th by additional pool train which will leave Toronto at 8.15 a.m. (EST). It will have a fast running time of seven hours and fifteen minutes, arriving at Central Station, Montreal, at 4.30 p.m. (EST). A diner and compartment parlor car will be included in the equipment.

Sandpaper Away Scars of Smallpox

Atlanta, April 13 (AP)—Dr. John R. Lewis, Atlanta plastic surgeon, yesterday told how to make smallpox scars disappear — just sandpaper them away.

He explained the sandpaper rubs off the outer layers of skin and the skin is allowed to heal between sandings. After several treatments the skin is left smooth, he said.

JURY FREES TEACHER SHE STAYS IN JAIL

Although declared innocent by a jury of nine women and three men, brown-eyed Betty Hrebik, 24, former Toronto, Ont., schoolteacher, remains in Los Angeles county jail today. A jury in 50 minutes eliminated the only criminal charge against Betty, that of accepting a stolen $3,500 mink coat from Gerard Dennis, fabulous "Waffles," and a native of St. Catharines, Ont. She faces two additional hurdles to freedom; one by the U.S. immigration, the other in suits by insurance companies protecting homes looted by Betty's one-time common-law husband who admits the car burglaries of homes of wealthy Beverly Hills Hollywood residents. She previously declared her anxiety to go home to be with her parents at Pension Falls, Ont. Meanwhile she stays in jail where she has been incustody since her arrest Feb. 16 — Central Press Canadian.

Tulsa, Okla. — (AP) — Jim Pfiffner woke up screaming early yesterday. There was a 12-foot snake in bed with him.

His room-mate, Bill Cadion, borrowed the tame python for an exhibition. It escaped from its box during the cold night and curled up with the warmest object handy — Jim.

"I'll bet I never get another good night's sleep again," Phillips moaned.

Great Falls, Mont. — (AP) — The 1,187 parking meters in Great Falls have been seized for nonpayment of personal property taxes, and downtown motorists got free parking yesterday.

County Treasurer R. E. Linnane covered each machine with a paper bag. He said 1946 taxes are due on the meters paid by A. H. Rhodes, Inc., Hartford, Conn.

The meters will be advertised for sale, he said, unless taxes are paid.

Springfield, Mass. — (AP) — "Any kidder can be murdered."

The query was put to a soldier, desperately seeking an apartment. "Yes," the soldier agreed with a sad expression. "But they're in the cemetery."

The soldier's wife brushed away a tear.

Then they drove to the cemetery, looked up their three children who were in on the ruse, and marched off to the apartment.

The landlord objected to the youngsters. The parents brushed him off by waving the rental receipt.

Secret Classes Of American Reds Are Described

New York, April 13 (AP) — Secret classes in which American Communists were taught to overthrow civil government in case of a war between Russia and the United States, were described yesterday at the Communist conspiracy trial.

Herbert A. Philbrick, informant of the Federal Bureau of Investigation within Communist ranks, testified that the party's advocacy of wartime insurrection was unfolded at meetings in Boston.

He told the jury that the class of which he was a member, consisted of teachers, doctors, lawyers and other professionals, who were "underground members" of the party.

Until discussions in early 1948, he said, were led by a "Martha Fletcher," in whose home the group met.

The defendants are accused of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the United States government.

FEDERAL VOTING MACHINERY BEING SET UP IN NFLD.

Seats May be Filled In General Election

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, April 13 (CP)—Steady progress is being made in the establishment of federal election machinery in the new province of Newfoundland.

Newfoundland will be entitled to seven seats in the Commons and the general speculation is that political leaders here is that they will be filled during a general federal election this year rather than through by-elections.

Boundaries of the seven constituencies were outlined in the two Acts passed by the New foundland became the 10th province on March 31.

The seats will be known as St. John's East, St. John's West, Humber-St. George's, Burin-Burgeo, Trinity-Conception, Bonavista-Twillingate and Grand Falls-White Bay.

Returning officers for the constituencies have been named by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer.

Constituencies

St. John's East will take in about half of the city and outlying points; population in 1945—the last year for which figures are available—was estimated at 48,811.

St. John's West will extend from the north. It has a population of about 59,788.

Boundaries of the Avalon Peninsula on which St. John's is located will be the Trinity-Conception constituency, one of the most densely populated sections of the island. The estimated 1945 population of about 52,143.

To the east of Trinity-Conception is the constituency of Burin-Burgeo, which extends from Placentia Bay to Cape Bay on the southwest coast of the island with a population of 51,677.

The Bonavista-Twillingate constituency takes in a large northeastern section of the island. There are no large towns in the area, and the estimated population is estimated to total 43,912.

Practically the entire west coast of the island is included in the constituency of Humber-St. George's. It extends as far north as the Straits of Belle Isle and as far south as Cape Ray. Its main town is the booming lumber centre of Corner Brook. Population of the constituency is 41,143.

Largest district

The largest constituency in area but not in population is that of Grand Falls-White Bay, which covers Labrador along with the northern section of the Newfoundland. The constituency, has a population of 44,227.

Seven seats in Labrador is estimated at fewer than 5,000 persons and is usually voted in small centres near the coast.

Steel Scrap Prices Lowest Since Nov., 1946

New York, April 13 — (AP) — Steel scrap prices in the United States dropped this week to the lowest point since price ceilings were removed in November, 1946, The Iron Age, metal-working trade weekly, said today.

The publication's scrap composite at $23.58 a gross ton was down $2.39 from the preceding week, and compared with the ceiling average of $18.17.

Declines in the price of No. 1 heavy melting steel were reported by the trade papers as follows: $8 a ton at Chicago, $1.75 at Philadelphia and $1 at Pittsburgh.

The steel industry now is in the buyers' market, The Iron Age said, and the price declinations placed this week at 99.5 per cent of rated capacity "is pointed slowly downward."

Steel order volume has dwindled in the past few weeks, it said The Iron Age, adding: "So much so that a few steel firms are happy that they started to take heavy backlogs of orders and avoid what they thought they would produce in the second quarter."

The publication said: "Also steel users are demanding and getting exactly what they want in steel."

Violence Flares As Rival Unions Continue Dispute

28 C.S.U. Crew Members Obey Order to Quit Ship

By The Canadian Press

Violence flared up on eastern and Pacific coasts Tuesday in the Canadian Seamen's Union strike which has partially tied up Canadian ocean shipping for 13 days.

At Halifax four members of the striking C.S.U. (T.L.C.)—two of them officials—were under arrest by city police following a flare-up on the waterfront and a series of raids on union halls.

The two officials were Atlantic organizer H. C. (Bert) Meade and port agent Gus Geniles. They were charged with "holding weapons without permission," and will be arraigned today.

Two seamen were Michael Rybko of Bagotville, Que., and Angus Kingsley of Halifax. No charges have been preferred against them.

Their arrests came after some 75 police converged on the waterfront amid reports that the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) was about to board the strike-bound freighter Sunprince. It later was announced that the S. I. U. men appeared on the waterfront only to disperse pamphlets in connection with the strike. Rocks and sticks were thrown by C.S.U. pickets at the half-dozen taxis containing the S.I.U. men.

At Montreal violence likewise failed to break out when 28 C. S. U crew members of the Canadian Challenger were ordered to end their five-day sit-in strike by Immigration officials before they left the ship quietly.

Tied up alongside the Mont Alta, the freighter Montreal City was idle with 30 of her crew staying a "silent protest." The Canadian Challenger sailed with the 28 C.S.U. members of the crew after a meeting of the court ruled that "every time the ship owners want to take away your workers' legitimate rights, they have just to go to the courts and an injunction will be drawn up on their behalf."

His words were echoed in Halifax by Herb Perryman Jenkins, district 26 president of the Mine, Mill and Smelter (C.C.L.) local affiliated with the C.I.O. United Steelworkers of America. He said all U.M.W. locals to protest to Labor Minister Mitchell "the use of strike-breakers and scabs" in the strike.

Moves to Mid-Stream

Early today, the Sunprince, apparently manned by her officers, freed herself from her berth and made her way down the stream under her own power. No violence accompanied the move.

Tuesday night C.S.U. pickets watched a third union ship, the Canadian Freighter Riverside in mid-harbor after a day of waterfront violence at Vancouver.

A 21-man, S.I.U. replacement crew climbed aboard the freighter from launches while 60 policemen held off 200 rushing C.S.U. pickets. Police reserves required hospital treatment.

Meanwhile in Ottawa a department of national defence spokesman said that Canada has available several thousands of active force troops who could be moved to the waterfront in any emergence becomes so extensive that police cannot cope with it.

The defence department statement said that interference of "organized gangs" with the movement come about, except in the case of "extreme emergency."

He said that the use of strikebreakers was a means of completely avoiding aside our protective labor legislation.

Prepared to Settle

Earlier today, T. G. McManus, secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labor at Toronto his union is prepared to settle the deep-sea strikes on the basis of a formula drafted by the Federal Labor Department. He did not disclose details of the formula.

At Georgetown, British Guiana, 28 C.S.U. union members were enjoying their freedom after being released on collective bail of $5,000 following charges of wilful disobedience of the ship's command.

As the men were released a rival S.I.U. crew moved aboard the Canadian bauxite ship Sunprince, held up since the C.S.U. called the strike.

A walkout aboard two Canadian ships in Rouen harbor, France, the Westminster County and the Sun Valley, has been referred to the Department of Labor, a Canadian embassy spokesman said.

ARAB COUNTRIES PLAN TO DELAY ISRAEL'S BID

General Assembly to Review Application for Membership in U.N.

New York, April 13 (CP)—Britain and the Arab countries were reported planning today to attempt at least to delay Israel's bid for membership in the United Nations.

The 58-member general assembly was scheduled to review the application at Flushing Meadows Park where a new flagpole already stands outside the assembly hall to receive Israel's flag as U.N.'s 59th member.

While Britain has indicated she would withdraw opposition to Israel on membership, a move was reported underway to send the application back to a committee for further study.

Britain also has requested the Tel Aviv government to make known its position concerning Arab refugees.

United States sources, who usually have an accurate touch in feeling the U.N. pulse, were certain that the majority required to bring the country into the U.N. would be mustered.

Canada, whose delegates to the U.N. in 1947 played an important part in drafting the partition of Palestine was expected to support the membership bid.

Heated Debate Coming

Meanwhile, the 58-member political committee was preparing for heated debates on the case of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and 15 Protestant church leaders of Bulgaria.

The assembly late yesterday decided by a vote of 30-7 to give a full hearing to the Communist prosecution of the religious leaders, the country countries abstaining—an unusually large number on an important question.

Freda Linton Back in Jail In Spy Case

Montreal, April 13 (CP) — The last Red Army spy case to be tried in Canada will be tried, Freda Linton was back in jail today after she failed to raise $5,000 bail followed by a brief appearance yesterday. Her case is scheduled for the next Tuesday.

Mr. Lawyer, Joseph Cohen, K. C., said that "friends will probably be able to raise the amount today."

The 33-year-old woman, who was described as a "go-between" between Soviet agents in the 1946 Royal Commission report on the espionage ring, pleaded guilty in a crowded court room Tuesday.

Mr. Cohen argued that his client, who is seven months pregnant, should not likely to escape if she were granted low bail. He pointed out that Miss Linton surrendered voluntarily.

She is the last of 20 persons charged in links to the 1946 spy case.

The ex-secretary and telephone operator nodded aquiescence when asked by the court if she would waive reading of the lengthy charge which alleges she conspired with Fred Rose and Dr. Raymond Boyer to give away Canada's official war secrets.

Rose, a former Labor-Progressive member of parliament for Montreal-Cartier, Rose is serving a six-year sentencitentiary term for his part in the ring. Boyer, one of Canada's top research chemists, was sentenced to two years in prison.

Listed as only Freda Linton in court records, the accused has never revealed her married name. She disappeared from her job as National Film Board secretary in Ottawa when the spy case broke. She is believed to have spent part of the last three years in the United States.

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

Wick cleared his throat. "I — I'm sorry. I didn't know it was like that, Miss Van Avery. I'm sorry, indeed."

She put her arm through Chris'. She said, "Hold onto me, Chris . . . tight! . . . and 'don't let me out of your sight."

Never in her life did she dance so much; never in her life did she feel that she was dancing above the world. The world was but a series of cabs and a series of places — from night clubs where society danced and drank and the price of the orchestra ran into four figures, to water - front restaurants where sailors and freighter captains drank beer and had the horizons of far-off places in their wise eyes.

To Gay's astonishment, John Wick became a jovial man who left the responsibility of a large store and a large family in his home city on his annual visit to New York.

Music, and Chris holding her . . . Chris' dark eyes that gave messages his lips would not say. Gay felt intoxicated with the music and the strongest arms that had ever held her.

The green chiffon dress was crushed, the gardenias had withered, and her red curls had the dampness of the dawn on them when they went to a well-known mid-town restaurant for bacon and eggs when the first bright colors of dawn streaked the sky over tall buildings.

Drinking coffee, Chris asked, "Well, how was it, Mr. Wick?"

"I'm going back to my hotel and sleep a week."

"Please don't," said Gay, putting butter on toast.

"Oh, you mean the order! I'll take care of that." He looked at her. "You've got now a girl to have your kind of job."

On the way home in a cab Gay fell asleep. Chris put his arm around her and put her head on his shoulder. He wished they could go on riding like this together to a place where there would be no reminder of Alan Riggs and the other things and people that estranged them now.

He had stayed away, and as Gay had looked for him, so he had looked for her, though he knew how futile it was to love her. A stroke of luck would happen to her — and Alan Riggs, loving her, would come back to her. What had he, Chris Mallory, to offer her? The helter-skelter life of a newspaper man and small shabby rooms where her beauty would be wasted?

His play . . . he was writing it with his blood, writing a happy ending to Gay's love story, sending her back to Alan.

He would never forget tonight. In the pattern of their acquaintance it stood out above the others. Gay, close to him, her red curls upon his shoulder, her eyes questioning. Eyes that were not sure — eyes that did not yet know her heart.

When the cab stopped before the familiar house and gay awoke with a start, Chris Mallory scoffed at the Fate that had brought them together. The society girl and the reporter — although he knew that he had not lost her, he would have gone on, hoping and groping for the one woman for him. An ironic shaping of things had brought them together. It had shown him a girl he was to love all his life but a girl he could never win.

In the dark narrow hall she stood close to him. He knew above all the sordid things, her feeling for Chris.

"I've missed you," she said. "Haven't you missed me?"

His mouth was grim. "I've missed you like a devil."

"Aren't you going to see me again?"

"Why? See you and love you and know I'll never have you?" He smiled. "Oh, I'll turn up now and then."

"But I need you."

"There is only one thing to keep me from being a fool," he said. "That is to leave New York."

"You're afraid to love me, Chris."

"You don't love me. You like me. That's fine, but that's not enough. I haven't anything to offer you and I'm not going to become involved. I'm going to please me; try to get a job somewhere else — another country perhaps."

"You've done more for me than anyone has ever done, Chris. Where were all the people tonight who used to flock around me to get an invitation to my parties? Where were they? If they thought-of me at all, they thought 'Poor Gay. She's finished and forgotten.' But you . . ."

"I'd have done as much for anybody in a spot. You'd better get some sleep."

She looked up. "Chris, don't go away. I'm still mixed up. Everything bewilders me I feel lost. Some day I'll find myself."

"Sure you will. But I won't be in the picture. I'm an intruder, and I know it. I'm a hick with a little polish on my shoes and I probably won't amount to much. I don't care about anything—if I have to get ahead by graft and handshaking. I wouldn't do that —even for you. The woman who marries me will have a pretty hectic life but it'll be a full life and we'll have fun. Good night, Gay. Forgive the sermon."

He drew her close and put his lips against her forehead.

"He said good-bye before but it's final this time," he said. "I wish you luck and happiness."

He was gone. She stared after him, shivering in the light silver wrap. And he was gone from the splendid shining heights where Chris lived, knowing she could never climb them again—without him.

When she went into the apartment and closed the door, there were tears in her eyes. Without Chris the way ahead was all uphill.

Gay stopped in at the little tea room where Diana worked and seeing her mother, wearing an immaculate white uniform, go from one table to another cheerfully greeting the people who came in made her think that no amount of hard work or sacrifice on her own part could be too great.

Diana, born to be ornamental, had had luxury all her life. Her hands were small, useless hands, and her slim body was too fragile for tedious working hours. She came home in the evening, her ankles swollen, her face dawn and weary.

"Darling, what a surprise!" she cried, seeing Gay. "How do you like my little hideout?"

"It's a picturesque little place. It has a foreign flavor."

"I'll get you some tea, dear. The manager told me this morning he wants me to tell fortunes by tea leaves. What next I wonder? How is it you're free this afternoon?"

Gay smiled. "Marchand's been generous since Mr. Wick's big order. I'm going to wander thru the stores."

"And look at clothes you can't have. You haven't had anything new to wear in months. Nor have I. I've got to run along now, dear. Here comes . . ."

A man came in.

Diana said, "Good afternoon, Mr. Bannister. I want you to meet my daughter. Gay, this is Mr. Bannister who never misses his afternoon tea."

He was in his late forties. Gay thought he had a brown face, dark eyes, a close - cropped mustache and his hair was a mixture of black and white. He was dressed well in somber gray.

"Your mother's so kind," she said, "that afternoon tea a pleasant habit."

At home that night, Diana said. "Ian't Mr. Bannister handsome, Gay? But he looks as if he has something on his conscience."

"And you won't stop," said Gay, looking over a magazine, "until you find out what it is and then go him your comforting philosophy."

Diana rested her head on the back of the chair.

"I wonder where Patti is tonight. Paris probably. She loves Paris. They'll be coming home after Christmas. She's been sending my mail to her lawyer, you know. She doesn't know anything about that."

"She'll have her eyes opened." Gay laughed quietly. "She'll say, 'Oo-oh, what a horrible little place!'"

"It's the best we can do. And at Christmas we're going to have a turkey and a tree and invite Chris and Penny to dinner."

"Chris is going away," said Gay, frowning into a magazine. "We won't . . . see him again."

"He's going away because he loves you, dear. He's proud and independent. I admire him for it."

Gay looked up. "There's still Alan, Mother."

Diana had gone to bed and Macduff, a little black ball, was asleep on Gay's feet. Gay stretched out her slim body in blue corduroy pajamas on the sofa and snapped off the radio with an impatient finger. They played love songs to haunt you and to stir memories, and to Gay they recalled evenings with Alan, certain songs that reminded her of him and the places where they had been happy together. But the most haunting melody of all, she thought, was the one they had played for Chris and her on the night when her silver slippers had seemed to dance above her dreary little world.

The telephone shrilled and a deep voice asked, "Gay?"

"Why, Chris . . ."

"I'm sitting at midnight."

"Sailing? Where?"

She gave a low laugh. "I'm going to Nassau to finish the play, and probably write a few more. I haven't got much money but it's worth the chance." He paused. "This is just another in a series of good-byes."

"I don't want to say good-bye to you . . ."

"I want to know if you'll keep Sandy for me."

"Of course, Chris. But I — I won't say good-bye to you. I'll say au revoir because I know we will meet again."

He seemed to pause a moment again, and she visualized him in some telephone booth, his eyes tense and dark, and his mouth tight because he would, not say what was in his heart.

"Good-bye, Gay," and the receiver clicked and an impatient operator reminded her that the party on the other end of the line was no longer there.

It set in to snow two days before Christmas. Women, wanting new clothes for holiday festivities, flocked the shop. On her lunch hour Gay shopped for inexpensive gifts for Diana, Penny, a frugal old uncle in California, and for Macduff and Sandy. She bought Diana stockings and a white blouse, another etching for the artistic Penny whose studio walls were half covered with them already, a pipe for the uncle in California, and new leashes for the scotties. She never passed a jewelry store that she did not want to buy something for Chris—if only she knew where he was. He needed a new hat—but would he give up his battered old friend of a hat? He should have a bright woolen scarf.

Last Christmas, she remembered, they had had open house on Christmas Eve and for hours people had come in steady streams. Her father had been there. Alan and Patti had been there. How secure they all felt then! Alan had said, "It's always going to be like this for us, darling. Gayety and good friends. We're always going to be on top." NNow this year her father was dead, Alan was going to marry Lucy, and Patti was honeymooning in Paris reminded of the pitiful wreckage she had left behind. This year, added to the others who were gone, was Chris.

Penny came to the dressing room two days before Christmas. Her bright eyes were shining.

"Mac is going to be here for Christmas, Gay! I just got a telegram! I — I was afraid he would be sailing. I'm so excited I can't breath for fear he wouldn't. He's coming back in his own plane."

Then the invitation to you to have dinner with us Christmas Eve, includes Mac, too. He wants guests, Penny. We want people to talk and laugh with and so we are reminded of last year."

Penny's expressive hands fluttered. "I'll borrow a car and we will go to the airport to meet him Christmas morning. I love to see him bring his plane down. Gay, you don't know how I feel when I see that winged thing flying back — back to me . . ."

Diana had been up since six to put the turkey in the oven. She and Gay had exchanged gifts and had exclaimed with delight over them. Gay wondered how much genuine delight her mother felt over gifts of stockings and an inexpensive blouse, remembering last year when one room of the large apartment had been filled with gifts for her.

She put on a green woolen dress, pulled the green hat over her hair, and put on the brown sport coat and arctics.

"We'll bring Mac back with us," she said, standing in the doorway of the kitchen. "He'll entertain us with stories of his flights and escapades."

"I do hope," said Diana, her face flushed, her hands busy with pots that everything turns out well. Tell Penny to be careful in driving."

Penny, wrapped in an old raccoon coat, called for Gay in a borrowed car. Penny's eyes were dark stars, her face was apple red, and her fringe of bangs danced across her forehead.

"I'm so happy I want to shout and sing," she said, managing the car expertly on the slippery street. "I want to stop people and shout, 'Hi, there! Mac is coming back to me! Merry Christmas!' He strays but he always comes back, Gay. He tells me his troubles, he borrows money from me, he tells me about other girls. But he's my Mac. When he puts his feet against my fire and nods off to sleep, all's right with the world. I give Mac contentment."

The landing field was a blanket of white. The clouds hovered near the ground.

Penny waited, looking up, warned by excitement and anticipation. Gay's eyes scanned the clouds for the sight of wings and the roar of a motor. Penny, she thought, asked for himself. Penny wanted only to give. Love like hers put to shame Patti's demanding selfish love. "And Chris loves me the way Penny loves Mac."

Penny's voice was a shrill cry of joy. "Oh, Gay, there he is! There he is! Do you see him?"

And while they watched, rapt, looking at the shining bird crashed with a thundering, splintering roar!

Nurses and doctors walked on stubbing feet to the hospital. They passed, a steady procession of them, outside the room where Gay and Penny waited, had been waiting for hours until gray day crept dark night.

They waited tearlessly, quietly. Tears were for lesser hurts than this. Penny's childish face was pinched and frightened. The horror that had come to her eyes at the sight of the plane falling had not gone out of them. Her dancing beags were still.

Gay felt numb and her temples throbbed. Her eyes burned. She had a full feeling in her throat. The snow had melted on her coat. It felt cold and damp.

She had walked out of the room a dozen times and asked, "How is he? Can't you tell us something?" We have waited such a long time." It was nothing and doctors pacified gently and would say nothing more.

After a long silence Penny said, "He's in a room over there, Gay. They've had to tie him to keep him down. I don't care what is left of him. I want him. And I'm going to wait until they let me see him. He was flying back to me. I want him to know I was waiting and that I'm here. Oh, this isn't true! It can't be true that Mac will never go up into the clouds again! Grounded! He'd rather die. He made his last flight to see me."

AUSTRALIA LOOKS TO BRITISH ISLES FOR NEW CITIZENS

By LESLIE BRODIE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Canberra — (CP) — The Australian government is planning to bring a minimum of 500,000 immigrants to the Commonwealth within the next three years.

Immigration Minister Arthur A. Calwell disclosed that two-thirds of them would be from the British Isles. He said the pool of displaced persons in Europe was "drying up" and Australia would have to look to the United Kingdom for the future immigrants.

"Today we are bringing large numbers of displaced persons from Europe and the number will increase this year," he said. "We are taking these newcomers at an increasing rate because the international refugee organization has provided the shipping."

Calwell has earned praise for the way he has tackled the immigration problem. His biggest worry has been lack of shipping.

In British alone he has over 400,000 waiting to come here. The British government in the past has been cool on the idea of large numbers of her people emigrating to Australia, but of late its policy appears to have relaxed a little. Two more ships have been added to the British-Australian migration fleet this year and the minister expects more before the end of the year.

Numerous ship agencies that have sprung up in Europe since the war ended, have cashed in on the shipping shortage.

Many immigrants, tired of waiting for a passage from Britain, have answered advertisements from some of these agencies on a promise of getting a quick passage. They pay anything up to $900 for the trip.

"A Few Extras"

On top of the high fare they find they have to pay "a few extras." These extras usually include an agency booking fee, port extras and a fee for booking the applicant's rail ticket to a Mediterranean port. Rail distillusionment comes when they find they have to share the "suite" with two other persons.

Some of the ships amount to no more than ill-equipped tramp steamers. The Australian immigration authorities have little control over the ships or the agencies at the other side of the globe. All they are able to do is warn the prospective traveller.

Mr. Calwell is doing everything possible to avoid the mistakes made after the First World War when large numbers of immigrants were brought out and then turned loose to look after themselves as best they could. Today immigrants — more often than displaced persons — cannot sail for Australia unless they have accommodation guaranteed by their sponsors.

Thousands of workmen throughout Australia are converting former service camp huts into temporary accommodation to house 100,000 displaced persons expected here during the next 18 months.

Calwell is having the huts erected to overcome the acute housing shortage. He advocates bringing out thousands of the right type of European regardless of the housing situation.

"We wait till we have houses for everyone we will never get them here," he told reporters.

When displaced persons arrive they are sent to settlements in New South Wales and Victoria where they are taught English and the Australian way of life. The idea is to prevent the practice of former years when non-English speaking migrants congregated and formed separate communities speaking only their native tongue.

Says Poultryman Knows War Cure

Vancouver — (CP) — Robert St. John, former Associated Press foreign correspondent, believes the poultry farmer has a cure for war.

After six years of poultry - raising in New Hampshire, he said in an address here, he does not care to repeat the experience, but he learned one valuable fact.

"I've had enough of chickens," he said. "Though, sometimes I think I would rather work with chickens than humans.

"Chickens, except on rare occasions, do not kill their own kind. And a good poultry farmer knows how to handle these rare occasions. He treats the cannibal hen as a diseased hen —and the disease as contagious. He either kills the cannibal or segregates it for life."

War might be stamped out if offending nations and people were handled the same way.

"I think most people — and certainly all women — will agree we might live in peace if we could shut off the war - minded on some remote and rocky isle."

On poultry farming he said, "I set to giving one night stands with a circus, poultry farming is the worst possible way of earning a living — except maybe lecturing."

Porter Ranks High In Music Festival

Winnipeg. — (CP) — A quiet-spoken Negro basso, Maurice H. Earle, is a porter on a train running from Halifax to Montreal. He visited Winnipeg to sing in the competitions at the city's musical festival.

He placed third in the bass solo, Grade A competition, winning 82-83 marks for singing the test piece, "The Heart Worships" by Holst and his own selection, "The Song of Moumus 'to Mara" by Bemberg.

He was runner-up for the chief vocal trophy at the Ottawa Musical Festival in 1948.

Mr. Earle is seldom in his Halifax home. He spends most of his time on the train he studies books on vocal technique, and often practises.

In Ottawa last year he was baritone winner of the sacred solo class and, earlier in the festival, clashed by one first and two seconds with his sole. He is reticent about his own ability and his success in finding won in singing.

He has been studying at the Halifax Conservatory. On his runs from Halifax to Montreal he often has appeared as guest soloist at Union United Church in Montreal.

For more than 20 years, he has sung in Cornwallis Baptist Church in Halifax. He also enjoyed associate membership in the choir with Percy White, who has become one of Canada's internationally famous contraltos.

Mr. Earle first started winning trophies at festivals in 1944, when he won top honors at the New Glasgow Music Festival. Except for 1946 he held the trophy every year since. He is married and has three sons.

Nesting Birds Baffle Experts in New Zealand

By J. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Auckland, N.Z. — (CP) — If anyone knows a sure way to keep birds from nesting in the static of hydro-electric department in New Zealand he would be very glad to know of it. Birds nesting in sub-station structures are a serious cause of power failures.

So far all efforts to end the nuisance have failed. Ornithologists, scientists, Chinese market gardeners and even high school pets and purely amateur well-wishers have all offered remedies, but so far without a practicable solution.

An ornithologist suggested a stuffed owl in a glass case might scare away the birds. The theory was that the owl was the natural enemy of small birds which instinctively recognized it. A trial disposed of this theory. Apparently birds know a dead owl when they see one.

Reports of the use in the United States of supersonic waves for scaring birds led to the building of a supersonic generator. It proved equally ineffective.

Then it was noted that Chinese market gardeners used a device to consist of a bell and a whistle. The fire crackers were dispersed. The racket was set alight and simultaneously, setting off the crackers and frightening the birds. The idea, however, was not practicable among the high-voltage electric wires, but a variation was tried. Tried Bell

A large electric bell was set up and connected with a mechanism which made it peal at irregular intervals. The birds soon got used to this and it was shortly after a sparrow was seen completely ignoring it at a distance of four feet. Besides, people in nearby houses complained of the noise.

The next plan was to smear thinly perches with a sticky substance. It annoyed the birds for a while but soon formed a film on which they perched quite happily.

When people in the United States heard of the difficulty they started sending ideas. A woman in St. Louis, Missouri, described how she kept cheesecloths filled with mothballs on her porch and was never bothered with birds again. A clergyman quoted from people who had used this remedy and passed it on as a contribution to the good neighbor policy.

A teacher in Missouri suggested literally dry cleaners' crude oil, hydrogen sulphide or sulphur dioxide. He said a Missouri town was troubled with a flock of 10,000 blackbirds which nested in a group of trees in the centre of town. They defied all attempts to disperse them until a garage stored greasy second-hand machinery on the trees

The department is trying out several of the proposals but doubts if any will be suitable for use in the large areas covered by modern outdoor power stations. It is still looking for a sticky, smelly, noisy, poisonous or electrical surprise for its feathered friends that is simple, cheap and effective and will not bring protest from nearby residents.

Montreal to Erect Laurier Monument

Montreal — (CP) — A monument to Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be put up on Dominion Square this time next summer — 30 years after the design won first prize in a Canada-wide competition.

The unveiling of the 25,000-pound, 22-foot high memorial to the first French-Canadian prime minister of Canada.

The design by Emile Brunet Montreal sculptor who was competing in Paris at the time of a competition for a National monument to the great Canadian statesman, has been held first and second prizes, but because of the size of the first prize design, the second choice was selected to be built on Parliament Hill in Ottawa.

The monument will be a high shaft of Megantic non-ferrous granite on which will be carved the coats of arms of all 10 Canadian provinces. Part of it will be a bronze figure of the famed Canadian statesman on a five-foot pedestal.

The features of the former prime minister of Canada are said to be almost perfect, as the sculptor was able to work from a death mask on his subject.

The idea of a monument to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Montreal was originally proposed by the late T. S. Douglas, father of the Hon. Lewis Douglas, United States ambassador to Great Britain, who launched the campaign with Senator T. D. Bouchard of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

Say Clerical Collar Good Identity Mark

Winnipeg — (CP) — Ban the dirty collar! "Yes," said very Rev. Archie Markby of London, England. "It is an oddity, and makes people think vicars are odd."

"No," say representative clergymen in this city. They be ashamed of wearing the uniform of the church.

Said Rev. Markby: "It's time we found another symbol. We have to move with the times."

Said Rev. J. H. Orel of St. John's Cathedral here: "I think the collar is an identifying mark for those people who feel they may need a minister."

Rev. Canon William Askey, All Saints' Anglican Church: "I am proud of the uniform of a priest. It should be Robbed."

Rev. D. G. Carlson, Tabernacle Baptist Church: "A useful symbol. A man should identify himself as a clergyman in public."

Rev. Harold A. Snell, St. Stephens - Broadway United Church: "I don't wear it all the time, but should be in evidence at all church occasions."

Canadian Trader On Spanish Main

Vancouver — (CP) — Jens Christian Nielsen, 42, burly former resident of Vancouver, sailed his converted Canadian minesweeper into the West Indies trade and is living the life of Riley.

Back in Vancouver to buy fishing tackle, the former west coast trawler man, told how his "wild gamble" had paid off.

From War Assets Corporation he bought the Dearwood for $125,000 and paid $65,000 to convert it. His original intention was to use the craft for fishing in icy Bering Sea.

Nielsen changed his mind and switched to the Caribbean, although he had no experience in island trading.

"I was told that the Bahamas needed a freighter," he said. "Lots of people told me I was crazy, but I took a chance."

Ever since the Dearwood has been almost continuously in commission, ferrying rum, rice, charcoal, spices and sugar between the little balmy seaports once made famous by buccaneers. There are nearly always 200 tons of something aboard at up to $40 a ton for freight.

With a native crew of 11 and a West Indian skipper and navigator owner Nielsen sails as engineer.

"For sport there is the fishing, he said. "Those kingfish are the fightingest fish — like pike rolled through your line, or just walk away with the hook ..."

He said the summers in the Bahamas were a year long and there were no mosquitoes worth mentioning.

Portraits Show Darkest Africa Colorful Place

By ROBERT MARX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York (CP)—African natives may not wear any clothes, but they're "the world's most perfect gentlemen," says Mrs. Margot Moberly-Perrin of Toronto and Old Lyme, Conn.

She ought to know; they've been her hosts for eight years.

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin discounts any dangers she faced during a 160,000-mile trek through the Dark Continent. She says she was too interested in her study of the people to worry about trouble from "dangerous savages."

Officials repeatedly warned her against venturing among them. She consistently ignored their advice.

"Why, they are the most gentlemanly people you could imagine," Mrs. Moberly-Perrin says. "I was always treated with the greatest consideration and hospitality."

The result of her study, a selection of 42 brightly-colored portraits from the 300-odd she painted is being exhibited here in the Museum of Natural History.

"Darkest Africa," as shown in the Canadian artist's work, is a colorful place. Racial and tribal characteristics are clearly depicted in her work. Varied headdresses, ceremonial cloaks, dancing costumes and warlike shields background the figures. Accessories show vivid yellows, reds and greens, while faces range from greyish for the Arab traders to chocolate for Zulu girls and fierce black for bushmen.

Accompanied by Son

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin was accompanied on her safari by her son, Peter, who also acted as interpreter. He speaks English, French, Spanish, Arabic and several native dialects. Mrs. Moberly-Perrin speaks only English.

"The natives never had been photographed or painted before. When they saw the finished portraits they were delighted to be able to recognize themselves and their friends," she said in an interview.

The pair travelled when possible by automobile, but often had to resort to river transport and pack animals or trek on foot to reach out-of-the-way villages and settlements.

The Moberly-Perrins were hampered but not interrupted by wartime conditions. Authorities feared the possibility of agitation among the natives and were reluctant to permit foreigners to enter the bush.

Frequently they were unable to cash travellers' cheques, since the local population complained they would not be able to collect until after the war. One British consul was sympathetic but said he could offer no assistance, because he was living on credit himself.

On several occasions disease halted their travels. Cerebral malaria and amoebic dysentery sent both to hospital.

Mrs. Morbely-Perrin was educated at Havergal College, Toronto, and the Ontario College of Art. She is the daughter of Thomas Edward Moberly, formerly editor of the Toronto Mail and Empire.

Firemen Save Child, Head Wedged Between Tree and House

Oshawa, April 12 — (CP) — Firemen rescued four-year-old Dorothy Willis today when she fell from the rear verandah of her home and her head became wedged between a tree and the house. Firemen pried the tree back with crow bars and a fifth pulled the little girl free.

She was unhurt — except for scratches on her face.

New Jet Fighter Production May Start in Canada

Ottawa, April 12 (CP)—Production of a new jet fighter plane may be started in Canada in about 18 months, Defence Minister Claxton said today.

Discussing development of the Dominion's air power at a press conference, Mr. Claxton said he hoped arrangements could be completed within the next few weeks to pave the way for construction of the single-jet F86 in Canada.

Mr. Claxton said there was a possibility the F86 would be fitted with a Canadian-designed engine—the Orenda—now in the test stages at the Toronto plant of A. V. Roe.

The Orenda, plans for which were drawn up to enable it to compete with any jet engine in the world, has been under test for a year in the prototype stage. There was no indication of when it might be ready for production although it would take from 13 to 18 months to start producing the engine once it has proved itself.

Minister to Ask Contributions For New Road

Ottawa, April 13 (CP) —Another important hike in the long road towards achieving a Trans-Canada highway will be undertaken when parliament reconvenes April 25.

Reconstruction Minister Winkler will then take over Federal responsibility for the highway. He gave advance notice that he will ask permission to start Federal contributions toward its construction.

In all the highway is expected to cost about $200,000,000 of which the Federal government is expected to contribute $150,000,000, the remainder to be borne by the provinces.

Mr. Winkler will ask a measure providing the reconstruction minister power to enter into agreements with any provincial providing for the payment by Canada to those provinces of contributions in respect of the cost of a Trans-Canada highway.

It will also provide him with power to arrange for the employment of temporary ... engineers, technical officers and other employees for the purposes of completing the highway project.

Warns Against Placing Explosives In Garbage

Toronto, April 12 (CP)—Roads Commissioner Mark Cox of suburban Islington warned residents of Etobicoke to make sure explosives are not discarded with their garbage.

The warning came after a workman reported discovering a tin box containing 21 .38-calibre shells in a pile of garbage he was shovelling into an incinerator.

"Had these shells gone into the incinerator, ..." Mr. Marsh said, "they would have been discharged and could easily have put out the workman's eyes."

He said the supervisor and three workmen were working in the incinerator at the time. He said on another occasion several boxes of gunpowder had been thrown in the incinerator.

CORNWALL DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Cornwall, April 12 — (CP) — City council Monday night approved a resolution making Daylight Saving effective from April 24 to Nov. 26. The action followed a request from the Cornwall Retail Merchants' Association.. Previously, council had decided that Daylight Saving Time would be in effect April 24 to Sept. 23.

FRANKFORD

EVENING AUXILIARY

Frankford—The monthly meeting of the Frankford Evening Auxiliary of the United Church was held in Rose-Lowery Hall Friday evening with Woolcot Evening Auxiliary as guests. The hall was decorated in keeping with the Easter Season. President Mrs. Raymond Rowe opened the meeting with a prayer reading. Mrs. Rowe welcomed the guests from Woolcot.

Mrs. Crosby and her assistants took charge of the worship service. The theme was "New Advances in Christian Missions."

The program was in three parts "Advance in Home and Overseas Mission"; "Advance in the Auxiliary"; "My Share in Advance." Mrs. Albert Warren and Mrs. Sidney Martin sang a duet, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lackey. A reading, "Easter Day," was given by Mrs. Roy Osterhout. A solo, "Galway Bay" by Mrs. Ewing of Wooler, was much enjoyed. Mrs. Jack Flanigan told a humorous story. Mrs. Gerald Cherry of Belleville sang "Easter Sunday With You." Mrs. Bennett and Miss Edith Henry conducted a musical game, to close the program.

Refreshments were served by the Frankford auxiliary.

It was 1909. Lurching and bumping over the rough ground of Baddeck, N.S., the Silver Dart rose into the air, piloted by J. A. McCurdy. It was the first aeroplane flight in the British Commonwealth.

History was written in the air again in 1919. Alcock and Brown flew from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland, and brought Canada to the doorstep of the old world. Then came the intrepid bush pilots, opening new pathways through great wild spaces to new discoveries.

In 1924, Canada's Air Force was born. Through the years it worked quietly, efficiently. Then came the war, and Canada's men of the air emblazoned their names forever in the annals of the world's great.

Now celebrating its Silver Jubilee, the Royal Canadian Air Force is carrying out a work of peace. Lives are being saved by mercy flights . . . the uncharted North is being photographed . . . scientific knowledge of aeronautics is broadened. Norwegians Fear Whaling Industry May be Vanishing

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Oslo (AP)—Norway has turned whaling into a coldly scientific industry with a payroll of $60,000,000 a year. She has lured $50,000,000 tied up in floating factories that sail each winter to the Antarctic and return in the spring with 150,000 metric tons of whale oil, also refrigerated steaks.

In the brief hunting season allowed yearly by international agreement—3 1-2 months—Norwegians cut up and boil down more than 12,000 whales.

This country controls a majority interest in global whaling with 10 floating factories as against eight owned by the rest of the world. But the No. 1 position is logical for Norway. A Norwegian named Sven Foyn revolutionized whaling.

Back in 1868, Foyn invented a gun which fired a grapnel with an explosive head. Instead of being annoyed by hand-thrown harpoons, whales began to be blasted into eternity in a few seconds by this Norwegian artillery.

With the best whaling far off in the Antarctic, Norwegian shipwrights invented the floating factory. It carries a squadron of catcher boats, all mounting harpoon-guns. It also has machinery for reducing the whales, which the boats bring in, to their last drop of oil.

Before the war, both Japan and Germany tried in vain to overtake Norway in whaling. Now Germany has no floating factories left, while Japan has put two into service again. Britain has four. The Netherlands one, and the Soviet Union one.

Norway is miffed at the United States for allowing the Japanese to get back into the business, and was shocked when some sources tried to get money from the European Recovery Program for new German floating factories.

Norway's Argument

The Norwegian argument is that her whaling fleet is already large enough to catch alone all the whales allowed by law, so E. R. P. financing of German floating factories would be sheer economic waste. The painful surmise is that whaling, as a result of its super-modernization, may be a vanishing industry, as was hunting buffalo on the American plains.

H. T. Knudtzon, the Norwegian government's whaling expert says that the blue whale, biggest animal in the world and basis of the business, may be dangerously nearing extinction.

"This greatest of the leviathans is blue on his back, blue-grey on his belly, weighs up to 150 tons and may be as long as 100 feet. On a floating factory, he becomes 15 tons or more of oil.

"An international pact sets the world catch at 16,000 blue-whale units annually. A blue whale is counted as equalling two fin whales, 2 1-2 humpback whales, or six sei whales. Actually, more fin whales are caught than blue whales.

"We had hoped suspension of hunting during the war would permit blue whales to increase substantially, says Knudtzon. "But it hasn't. A little more international conservation would help. The truth is that whale oil production could be boosted now and fewer whales killed, if whaling powers adopted a rational schedule for hunting.

"The thing to do is to hunt later in the season, when the whales are fatter. Right now a whale that affords only 85 barrels of oil in December would have given 100 barrels, if left alive until March."

Four members of the clergy from each diocese will attend.

Modern Science Aids Fishermen

Nanaimo, B.C. (CP) — A detailed and scientific "fish story" will stand the test of 700 top piscatorial experts at the United Nations World Science Conference at Lake Success Aug. 17.

The "fish story" is the work of Dr. J. L. Hart of the Pacific Biological station here. His paper, "Technological Advances in Fishing Methods," has been released for study by the experts — 22 of whom are Canadians — and will form a basis for a part of their discussion on methods of boosting living standards.

Dr. Hart says radio, telephone, echo sounders, radar and direction finders are putting more fish on the world's dinner tables than ever before.

The use of complicated equipment has increased the qualifications needed by the modern fisherman, but better returns and the better life aboard ship make up for the effort required.

Banish "coffein blues" — Switch to POSTUM today

A FAVORITE trick of those who would like to destroy confidence in newspapers as the first step to doing away with them is to complain that they are the tools of special interests dangerous to the people. Sometimes they say it is the bankers or the politicians or the labor unions or the advertisers—whatever fits the occasion.

Usually the critics have their own axes to grind. What they want published are their own opinions and not contrary ones. They would like to be the "special interests" represented exclusively in the newspapers.

If such people had their way, there would not be the newspaper as you know it today. They would eliminate the great variety of facts and opinions that appear and without which democracy would not work.

To exercise your rights as a free citizen, you must have free access to information. You must know about laws and prices and theories and movements so that you can approve or protest. Ignorant of events and trends, you would not be able to keep your representatives in government representing you.

Now you get the facts of what takes place and you get the opinions of why they take place and what should be done. You get all sides of questions—statements by bankers and borrowers, businessmen and labor leaders, government officials and private citizens. The editor has his views too but he can't limit his pages to them. Readers include all sorts of people and all shades of opinions. If the editor wears any kind of a collar, it doesn't belong to one man or group. The leash is held by all his readers.

What the critics don't want and are afraid of is the diversity of facts and opinions brought to you by newspapers. They actually want a one-class, one-idea press—the kind that Hitler had and that Stalin runs today. If they succeed, it will sound the death knell of freedom in Canada.

These critics are your enemies as much as they are enemies of the newspapers. When they take away the right of a free press, they take it away from you. They know that if they can control what you read they can control your mind—and you. Working sometimes openly as committees with high-sounding slogans, they are blueprinting what you shall and shall not read.

There is nothing particularly new in the pattern. But you cannot ignore it without risk. If you permit these self-styled leaders to take away your right to read what you want, when instead of a free exchange of facts and opinions, you decide to depend on the propaganda they hand out, you will have taken the first steps towards the loss of all your rights as a free citizen.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Battle of The "Big Lines" Looms as Leafs and Wings Clash in Third Cup Game

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—Down two games in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final, Detroit Red Wings were hopeful of breaking the jinx in tonight's third game against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Coach Tommy Ivan brought his team in from Detroit with the word: "We'll go with the team that won the National Hockey League championship." That means he's using the same line-up that lost 3-2 and 3-1 in the first two games at Detroit.

Coach Happy Day of the Leafs had an injury-free roster ready to try to make it three straight.

The Detroit coach said that he'd brought just enough players, including spare goalie Terry Sawchuk, for the third game. "We left all our rookies at home where we are sure of ice for practice," he said. "If we need any of them here for the fourth game Saturday night we can soon get them."

Ivan will have five defencemen and 11 forwards, with Harry Lumley in goal as usual. Up front he's got his "big three" line of Sid Abel, Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe. A second line is Max McNab, Doug Couture and Marty Pavelich, and a third line is Jim McFadden with Pete Horeck and Jim Enio. On defence he has Jack Stewart, Bill Quackenbush, Leo Reise, Leo Reise and Leo Fortier, with George Gee for a trouble shooter and Bud Polle for power-plays.

To Wear New Hat

Day had nothing special to report on the Leafs' line-up. But he's wearing a rakish, light-colored fedora as acknowledgement that his Leafs finally accomplished in! playoffs what they couldn't do in the regular schedule—win three straight games.

The Leafs reportedly the only type of its kind in Canada, will stage Ray Out from among some 14,000 fans who are expected to bulge Maple Leaf Gardens tonight.

The headpiece was presented to him early in the regular schedule. Day promised not to wear it until the Leafs won three consecutive games. They've just accomplished more than that. They downed Boston Bruins in their last two semi-final games and have thus far beaten the Red Wings twice.

On the way to a record making third straight up, the Leafs aren't expected to rely on any omens reflected by Day's hat.

They'll be sending an injury-free outfit into the battle while the Red Wings will be counting on their top line of Lindsay, Howe, and Abel to pull off a win.

The Red Wings top line failed to show much in the first two games after a top notch performance against Montreal Canadiens in the semi-final series. Howe, himself, accounted for the goals in the series against Canadiens.

FACES WINNER'S JIGG - By Alan Mayer

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE B. CARVER, Sports Editor

Now that the glamor and color of hockey has passed into the sports discard, the young man's fancy turns to sports of Spring and Summer. The ice is being gradually cleared from the hockey cobbles in Memorial Arena and the chain saw piece hits the presses the job will be completed. In the meantime while waiting for the opening of the baseball, softball and golfing seasons, the big boys of the squared circle will provide sports entertainment. Manager Walter Geerow of the Memorial Arena here told the scene that he has booked in the pachydermic behemoths in action probably a week from Good Friday.

Black water has passed under the wrestling bridge since the antics and howls of excited fandom echoed in the Arena. Whipper Billy Watson has lost his British Empire crown to the popular big lad from "down under" Fred Atkins, the Australian giant. Meanwhile many of the favorites are back in action including Earl "the Human" McCready. Those of the "wise" fraternity who made a hundred wrong guesses regarding the identity of the "Masked Marvel" have learned that the "bad man" of the ring is a gent by the name of Reynault. From whence he came—it seemed to have caught the popular fancy in Toronto, Peterborough and Ottawa wrestling circles. They were popular here, too.

Belleville is claimed by the maestros of the wrestling game here to be one of the best centres in this part of Ontario insofar as attendances goes. Whatever is the allegation, the game never fails to draw crowds nearing the 2,00 mark. Special attractions like Whipper Watson, against such "villains" as the hated John Kelan; the phenomenally fat ace the colourful Pat Flanagan; the clean-cut exhibitions of Gentleman Jack Claybourne; the grim purposeful antics of the French "Angel" and his counterpart, the physical "monstrosity" from Sweden; the smooth-working wrestling of the new famous Sharpe Brothers, Mike and Ben, and many others, have never failed to "fill the house."

The biggest attraction in the mat game is Gorgeous Georges, a run-of-the-mill grappler in other years under the name of George Warner. But he assumed a new and flamorous guise when he had his hair marcelled, acquired a lush and fancy wardrobe and hired himself a valet who disinfects the ring with a spray gun. Gorgeous has no less than 87 sartorial robes and has "ranked" himself to numerous wins from Hollywood to Hoboken. Another colorful character is one who arrays himself in all the splendor of the comic strip figure "Buck" Rogers. He dons harness, headgear and has the reputation of being able to toss the hero around the ring, terrified of atomic guns or other deadly weapons associated with the comic strip.

Arthur Daley, New York Times sports editor wrote a colorful description of wrestling as he saw it. "The way results" is staged these days" he said, "there is always a hero and a villain. The hero is the All-American boy type, clan-limbed and pure of heart. He obeys the rules and doesn't rassle dirty."

• • •

The villain is a cad, a snucker and a scoundrel beneath contempt. He will punch when the referee isn't looking. He will violate every rule in the book, and when the hero is finally goaded beyond endurance so that he punches back, this dastard will protest to the referee with violent gestures. He will cower like the craven cur he is and cower up in sheer cowardice, unable to stand the same sort of torture he just had administered.

• • •

Then the villain grabs a bolt of the hero (sic!) and flings him across the mat. The hero is greggy. The villain is beastful in every grimace and strutting pose. He throws the All-America by again. And again. And again.

Women in the crowd hide their eyes at such rank injustice. Strong men blanch. The hero is getting weaker and weaker from his terrific beating. Human flesh can stand no more. In rushes the villain for the kill, a loathsome character who is escaping his just deserts. But, lo! In some superhuman fashion the hero gathers together his last ounce of strength and throws his tormentor to the mat, pressing his shoulders to the canvas and lies there limply. Victor has triumphed. The villain blackly refuses to shake his hand. They almost come to blows.

Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees great outfielder, has reinjured his heel and will go to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for treatment. Dallas specialist said today. Reached at Fort Worth, DiMaggio said he didn't plan to retire but would definitely miss the April 19 opening game. DiMaggio hurt the heel playing at Greenville Sunday when The Yankees met the Greenville Majors of the Big Slate League in an exhibition game.

Bob Porterfield Money in Bank For the Yankees

Fort Worth, Tex., April 13 (AP) —There's a silver lining in every dark cloud, and in the case of New York Yankees the silver lining is Bob Porterfield, who now has pitched 18 3-3 hitless innings.

The 24-year-old Porterfield carved a 10-2 no-hit, no-run triumph over Fort Worth of the Texas League Tuesday. The game was called after eight innings to allow the Yanks to entrain for Twee Haute, Ind.

Porterfield, who pitched a 2-0 one-hitter against Cincinnati Reds his last time out, faced only 27 men Tuesday, three above he minimum.

When called up by the Yanks in August, Porterfield led the International League in shutouts with six and posted the best earned run mark for Yankees with 15 and lost six for Newark and Kansas City and dropped three for the Yanks.

FORMER LACROSSE CLUB

Hespeler, Ont., April 13 (CP)— A lacrosse club is being formed by the local branch of the Canadian Legion and the club will apply for intermediate berth with the Ontario Lacrosse Association at its annual meeting in Toronto April 23. Jack Greig has been named as president of the club, which plans to form a minor town league with four teams of school age athletes.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL YIELD

Canberra — (CP) — Each Australian sheep shorn in 1948 yielded on an average 7.6 pounds of wool which was worth about five dollars. The number of sheep in Australia was 102,077,926 and they yielded 3,079,712 bales of wool.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Winnipeg, April 13 (CP) — Another sportswriter has joined those scribes who are blasting the present day style of hockey. And he places the blame squarely on Kimberley Dynamiters, 1936 Allan Cup champions.

"They were the true champions those Dynamiters" says Bert (Winnipeg Free Press) Greer, "but the Kimberley crew indirectly wrecked Canada's major sport."

Greer says it was the Dynamiters who introduced the technique of shooting the puck into the corners and battling for it as the defencemen parked on the opposition's blueline.

"Every sortie up the ice was a semi-power play with the B. C. boys and that style so confused the opposition that it paid off with the Allan Cup."

Going Berserk

"They said this type of hockey is what the patrons like. Perhaps so, but do those fans—coaches and managers, too—realize that the tempo of the game is becoming too great for theiphysical?" asks Greer. "Do they not realize there must be something wrong with the game when players become so excited they go completely berserk and stand toe-to-toe swinging sticks at each other's heads?"

He cites the battle between Cal Gardner of Toronto Maple Leafs and Ken Reardon of Montreal Canadiens, and Red Hamill of Chicago Black Hawks clouting Vic Lynn of Toronto.

No Stanley

There were lots of fights in the old days, he says, but no stick-slugging matches—and the belligerents knew what they were doing.

Edgar Laprade of the New York Rangers recently said N.H.L. play was terrific and that he preferred to be an amateur again. However, Bert claims Laprade would prefer NHL play the same thing he sonfor ranks.

Sooner or later, something will have to be done about the menace, Greer believes.

"It is doubtful that fans will stand for the style of hockey the old brand. Have they ever been given a chance to voice their opinion?

"It seems popularity of a game is judged by the clinking of the turnstiles. But wasn't hockey always popular throughout Canada?"

Johnny Crawford Of Boston Bruins May Quit Game

(By The Canadian Press)

Boston Bruins may start the next National Hockey League season without the services of defence defence star Johnny Crawford.

Currently spending a brief vacation at Kirkland Lake, Crawford said Tuesday that he was "thinking seriously" of hanging up his skates for good.

"I haven't really decided yet," Crawford explained, adding that if certain business opportunities developed, he would definitely be through with the game.

With the Bruins for the last 11 seasons, Crawford played defence 13 years ago with Kirkland Lake Blue Devils.

Canada's Teddy, crack handicap star of the Morris Fishman Reding Stable, Tuesday showed slight signs of improvement. The five-year-old horse was removed to a veterinary hospital Monday. Dr. J. H. Black said that Canada's Teddy "looked a queer" Monday night but today there was a hope that the son of Teddy Wrackline Hill would be returned to the races. He was taken suddenly ill with stomach trouble Sunday.

Winnipeg's current rising star on the flatic horizon, Dominion Lightweight champion Ted Zastre, Tuesday night punched his way to his sixth consecutive knockout victory at the expense of Amos (Sugarfoot) Dorsey of St. Catharines.

Peterborough won the Canadian Juvenile basketball title Tuesday night when its Collegiate and Vocational Institute team beat Montreal Young Men's Hebrew Association 63-37 at Peterborough in the same game of a two game points to count series. Montreal won the opener Tuesday night 55-54.

Ottawa's Connaught Jockey Club has again applied for membership in the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association, it was learned Tuesday night at Toronto. The application will be discussed by the I.C.R.A. at the next meeting, date of which has not yet been announced. James Hefering of the I.C.R.A. is reported to have discussed the proposition recently with Connaught owner Tommy Gorman of Ottawa. It is the second time in the last few years that the application has been submitted.

At Midland, Weston Athletic Club Tuesday night captured the Ontario Hockey Association Junior C title by defeating Midland Huskies 6-4. Weston swept the best of five series, winning 5-3 in the first game and 6-0 in the second.

Colorful Louis (Bobo) Newsom agreed Tuesday to pitch for the Chattanooga Lookouts. President Joe Engel said at Chattanooga, Tenn., the big, right-hander would report in camp. A telephone conversation from his home at Orlando, Fla. Terms of the agreement were not revealed.

Walter R. Hargood, 75 former sports editor of the Boston Herald and the Boston Traveler, and widely known in baseball, died Monday night in Boston. One-time business manager of Montreal Royals and a former part owner of the Boston club in the International League, Hargood was taken ill in Miami last month.

Windsor Hetiche Splitfires Tuesday night took their first victory, 4-3, over Chatham Flyers in the best-of-seven United States Amateur hockey playoffs. Spokane leads 3-1. The two teams meet again Thursday night in Windsor.

COAL PRICES LOWER AT LONDON

London, Ont., April 13 (CP)—Retail coal prices in London will drop in price Tuesday as dealers passed on to consumers a half dollar rationalized reduction in the prices of anthracite and bituminous coal.

First grade anthracite egg, stove and nut coal is now selling at $22 a ton.

Prices of buckwheat and rice coal were decreased 25 cents.

Doctors to Take Another Look At Dimag's Heel

Baltimore, April 13 (AP) — Johns Hopkins Hospital surgeons prepared to take another look today at Joe DiMaggio's ailing heel which means so much to New York Yankees' pennant chances.

The big slugger may be here for 10 days or more. He will be host to his club for the opening of baseball season next Thursday—but Joe has no thoughts of retiring from the game.

He checked in at the hospital early today, said he was "dead tired" after a flight from Texas.

It was the fifth trip to Johns Hopkins in two years for the $100,000-a-year centre fielder.

In 1947, a bone growing on "spur" was taken from his left heel.

Before the 1948 season, Dr. George Bennett removed bone chips from his throwing arm.

The great ball player seemed to be well mended until the closing weeks of last season. Then his right heel started to pain.

He finished the season, and came back to John Hopkins. Last May 19 Beaumont, Tex., where he bruised a thigh sliding into third base. The heel began to ache.

Dr. T. M. Girard, a Dallas specialist, gave him a four-hour examination, and then packed him off to Baltimore Monday.

Both Bennett and Girard said they believe time and treatment will put the star's right heel in playing shape.

Hershey Bears Need One Game To Clinch Title

Hershey, Pa., April 13 (AP)—Hershey Bears need only one more victory to clinch the American Hockey League's Calder Cup.

The Bears, surprise team in the league this season, defeated Providence Reds 3-2 Thursday night to take a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final playoffs.

Phil Maloney led the Bears' attack with single goals in the second and third period.

Providence drew first blood with a counter by Jack Stoddard in the opening period. Hershey's Gordie Bruce evened the count two minutes later with a shot from 50 feet out.

The Reds got their second score in the closing minutes as Harvey Pratt rammed home a 20-footer.

The fifth game will be played tomorrow night at Providence.

Sports Editor At Rouyn, Que. Is a Woman

Rouyn, Que., April 13 (CP)—Hard-bitten men of this Northern Quebec gold digging area threw aside when tall, blonde-haired Rose Gibson goes after a story.

Of all this Rose is the sports editor today. And she has earned the respect and admiration of the mining men for her fearless writing for the weekly Rouyn-Noranda Press newspaper.

She doesn't stop at sports writing. The veteran of eight years reporting has covered murder trials and fires, taking things in her stride.

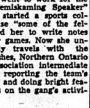
Always, hatless — in sub-zero winter weather or burning summer Rose started reporting after a doctor told her she had a bad heart and warned "no exercise, no excitement."

That didn't phase Rose.

"I figured if I had only a short time for this world that it might as well be fun," she said.

So Rose went to work for the weekly "Tenskanning Speaker" where she started a sports column because "none of the fellows" asked her to write notes about their games. Now she unconsciously travels with the Rouyn Flashes, Northern Ontario Hockey Association intermediate champions, reporting the team's road games, and doing bright feature stories on the gang's activities.

Still Laughs at That One



Once she was told she wasn't a lady by a blushing Superior Court judge. She still laughs about that one. The judge ordered the court cleared of ladies during a messy case, making an exception of Rose.

Reddening, the judge sputtered, "I mean Miss Gibson is here in the line of duty."

Rose, unmarried, refuses to reveal her age and where at first a number of her readers and fellow workers resented a woman covering the sports beat, most now have become her staunchest supporters.

A rival sports editor wrote—"Now I've seen everything — woman sports editor. I bet she won't go into the dressing rooms between periods when the coach is blistering his team."

Rose tossed this challenge aside with: "Anything that might be said in a dressing room, wouldn't be anything new."

Average Canadian Set For Spring Athletic Activity

By The Canadian Press

Whether it's basketball in New Brunswick, harness racing in Quebec, baseball in Ontario or golf in British Columbia, the average Canadian is set for a spring of feverish athletic activity.

A Canadian Press survey shows all sections of the country either just finishing up the last of the winter sports, making plans for new activities or well into the swing of spring sport.

Baseball and fastball appear to be in for their greatest year as communities the country over plan leagues and teams swing into pre-season training. Next in popularity for the man-in-the-street comes golf as people from all walks of life head for the fairways.

In New Brunswick it's basketball with games attracting an average of 1,200 fans. Tennis is expected to receive greater play than previously while baseball training doesn't start until mid-May. The Nova Scotia scene is quiet as uncertain weather hinders golf, tennis and boating.

Around Montreal The favorite sport is golf and some 20 courses have 16,000-17,000 players. Baseball is tops in spectator sports with the International League Montreal Royals opening their home schedule against Baltimore Orioles May 4. Around Quebec City the Alouettes of the Canadian-American League draw their share of baseball fans.

Horse-racing—both harness and flat—draw huge crowds throughout the province. Thrice-weekly harness racing cards are expected to outdraw all other sports attractions around Quebec City.

Hockey Still Lingers

Hockey still lingers around Toronto as the Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings battle it out in the Stanley Cup finals. The Eastern Canada Memorial Cup and Allan Cup finals also are being played.

Baseball, too, is in the air with the Leafs scheduled to play their first home game against Newark Bears May 4. Fastball leagues are training and one Toronto team has imported several American Negro stars, including ace pitcher Charley Pride. Mild spring weather has sent thousands of golfers to the few links open this early.

Ontario fastball leagues—Intermediate-Waterloo, Hamilton, St. Thomas, Niagara Falls, Guelph, Galt, Stratford, Peterborough, Kingston and North Bay all expect baseball or fastball to record a bumper year. Lacrosse in Southern Ontario, including a new entry in Peterborough, expects another good year as do the amateur boxing people in most Ontario cities.

Farther west, Winnipeg reports the only sports now in action are hockey and basketball playoffs. Tennis courts won't be in shape for another month or so and baseball and softball teams won't open their schedules until sometime next month.

Has Good Start

Golf has had a good start in Regina and most courses are playable. The South Saskatchewan Baseball League is expected to operate for the 11th year. Softball will again be the prime competitive sport.

An early spring enabled golf courses to open in Alberta and in Edmonton players have been in action since the first week in April. The Big Four, Calgary-Edmonton Baseball Leagues open late next month and some 23 teams are entered in the line up in the Edmonton Intermediate Fastball League.

British Columbia sportsmen had just about the best weather in the Dominion with an early sports start. Big years are forecast in golf, baseball, soccer and lacrosse. Golfers have been matching strokes for weeks and some professionals are preparing for the Canadian open with five lifeby to enter. Including Victoria's Stan Leonard and Fred Wood.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Some hands cry out loud to be taken to a slam. So it was with the north cards when south opened the bidding this deal:

NORTH
♠A 9 4
♥ 7
♦Q J 10 8 5
♣A K J 8

WEST
♠3
♥K J 9 6 3
♣Q 9 6 5 4

EAST
♠K 10 7 6 2
♥Q 10 5
♦K 9 6 3
♣10 7 3 2

SOUTH
♠Q J 8 5
♥A 8 4 2
♦A 8 4
♣K 8 7 4
♠None

Here is how the bidding went:

South	North
1 D	3 C
2 S	3 D
4 NT	6 D

As soon as south opened, north knew final trump suit would be in diamonds, of course. After south bid spades, north was sure that diamonds was their best trump suit. Know how?

With two equal length suits, first bid the higher rank. With different length suits, first bid the longer. Having bid diamonds before spades, south said he had at least five of the sparklers.

North has powerful support for diamonds. From the moment the south hand opened the bidding, north knew their trump suit would be diamonds. Why then did north first bid clubs?

The order of choice of bids is takeout first, assist next, no-trump last. With a biddable club suit, north simply follows the routine order of preference of bids.

You may point out that it was not necessary for North to bid at this deal. You can show me many deals in which it would not be necessary to takeout first. So what?

Assisting first is a virtual denial of any takeout suit. Is this what you desire to tell partner? Can you sit there and tell me you always know when he does not need the truer information? Do you know in advance that it is of no use to him?

Routine information may not always change the result. But no harm can come of it. Nothing is lost and something can be gained.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, April 13 (AP) — Erich Von Stroheim, the famed "man you loved to hate" of the silent screen, is back in Hollywood and as swashbuckling as ever.

When asked what he thought of actors, he replied: :

"They are ungrateful, egotistical and . . . (censored)."

He explained his views on their lack of gratitude: "You can do everything in the world for them and they never even send you a penny post card at Christmas.

About actor's egotism: "They have to be egotistical. All this to make faces in front of 50 machinists, electricians, cameramen, directors and assistant directors. They have to be able to say to themselves, 'I can do this better than other people.' Otherwise, they are not actors."

The Austria-born film veteran admitted to being an actor, but by accident. He said he was enlisted when studios were looking for "monstrosities" to portray German officers during the First World War.

He performed the same function in the last war. He played Rommel in "Five Graves to Cairo" and did what he called a "lousy little bit" as a Nazi officer in "North Star."

He is proud of his other functions besides acting. "They talk about these modern geniuses who write, direct and star in their pictures," he scoffed. "I did that in nearly all my pictures here from 1918 to 1926."

Still a United States citizen, Von Stroheim has made his residence in France for the last 11 years. He was absent during the occupation, and a good thing, too; he later found out he was high on the Nazi liquidation list. Now here to promote "his directing of "Sunset Boulevard," he said he hasn't been away long enough to store up some American dollars to spend in France.

He explained his preference for life in France:

"In Hollywood, you're only as good as your last picture. And if you don't have a last picture, you're no good at all. In France, they remember and honor you if you did a great picture 50 years ago."

He added that every time he comes to California he gets ill. "It's the sub-tropical climate or something," he said. "I can always tell when Hollywood is near. I can't drink. This is a source of great pain to me. I'm a man who likes his whisky and port wine and so forth."

C.N.R. Men's Club Holds Social Evening

On Monday evening the Belleville Railwaymen's Educational Club of the C.N.R. brought their activities to a close for the season with a social.

Euchre, entertainment and the refreshments formed a successful evening.

Mr. Jack Goodfellow, the club chairman, was in charge.

Mr. Bob Jones won the first prize. The second prize went to Mr. Tommy Tinsley, while Murney Bates took third and Neil Rob placed fourth.

Mr. Dave Fisher and son Carl were the consolation takers.

Mr. Neil Rob acted as auctioneer and did an able job which created much interest.

Lucky theatre ticket winners were Messrs. C. Fisher, M. Petty, R. Rabb, T. Hay and D. Jones.

The chairman thanked the members for their support during his term of office.

The club wished to think those local stores who helped make the evening a success with their donations of various prizes. Also Mr. Art Booth and son for their help.

Montreal Royals Still Favored To Cop Series

Montreal, April 13 — (CP) — Montreal Royals remained favorites to cop the Eastern Canada best-of-seven playoff final in the Memorial Cup chase today following their 6-5 overtime victory over Barrie Flyers in the second game of the series Tuesday night before a capacity crowd of 13,000.

The victory was blitzery won as the desperate Flyers battled gamely throughout the 70 minutes of action-packed hockey.

Three goals were rapped home in the extra stanza after the teams see-sawed in the first three periods

It was Skippy Burchell's goal that finally settled the issue. The fiery Montreal forward banged home the winner at the 6:37 mark of the overtime session when he stole the puck off defenceman Bob Bingley's stick and raced in alone on goal Gil Mayer. The Barrie netminder came out to meet the expected shot but Burchell slid the puck around him. Herschfield backs them.

Barrie's brilliant Real Chevrefils was the big gun for the visitors with a pair of markers. Harold Hopper, Gord Pennel and George Lee scored the others.

Chevrefils opened the scoring in the first period, but Herschfield and Frampton roared back to send Royals in front before the session ended Chevrefils tallied his second marker on a pass from Hopper to even the count.

Pennel sent the Flyers ahead in the middle session but Herschfield again connected to keep Royals in the running. Then Burchan counted for Barrie and the teams went into the third period with Flyers holding a one goal advantage.

Little Dickie Moore came through for the Montrealers when he potted the only marker of the game on a pass from Gordie Knutson.

Mayor Bucks Strike

With both teams showing signs of tiredness, Barrie suffered a setback early in the 10-minute overtime period when goalie Mayer made his one bad mistake of the night. Benoit picked up a loose puck inside the Barrie blue line and slid it along the ice. It fizzled into the net when Mayer fanned at it while trying to pass forward.

Hopper tied the score on a close in drive, then came Burchell's clincher and Royals staved off Barrie's drive for the remaining three and a half minutes.

The rugged game produced 20 penalties, including a major to Roland Rousseau for fighting in the only fistic exhibition of the night.

The teams clash in the third game of the series here tomorrow night.

Blacks Win Second Half Major B Loop

It was a nip-and-tuck battle in the Major "B" (Tuesday) Bowling League at Recreation Alleys last night before the winner of the second half of the league was eventually decided.

Blacks Meats and Sacos were tied at 42 points each to end the second stage of the loop play and a sudden death game was necessary. Blacks edged Sacos 1169 to 1158 to win the title and the right to clash with the Our Gang team for the league championship.

In the regular play Sacos defeated Blacks by three points to one to climb into the first place tie. "Our Gang" took the measure of the Just Us team by a similar score while the Ontario Intelligencer Inkspots dunked the ANAF team by a 4-0 score. High triple for the evening went to E. Cornell with 7. Sills scoring 299 for the high single.

Playoffs between Blacks Meats and Our Gang will get under way next week.

BOY WHO STARTED FIRE HANGS SELF

Bedford, Ind., April 13 — (AP) — A 10-year-old boy who admitted starting a fire in a school handed himself to his cell yesterday while awaiting transfer to a reform school. Officers, who said a suicide verdict would be returned, withheld the boy's name.

RUSSIAN CABINET CHANGE

Moscow, April 13 — (AP) — A new change in the Russian cabinet today relieved I. I. Malyshev as minister of geology and named P. A. Zakharov to succeed him. No explanation of the shift was given in the brief announcement. Malyshev had held the post since June 14, 1946.

FOURS KEROSENE OVER SELF

Shelby, N.C., April 13 — (AP) — Mrs. Sadie Reece, 22, committed suicide yesterday by pouring kerosene over herself, setting fire to it and burning herself to death. A physician said she made a previous suicide attempt last week by drinking disinfectant.

Argos Regain Top Position In Bowls Loop

Competition still remains keen in the first division of the Bata Bowling League. After being knocked out of third place last week, the Argos regained the position, by taking seven points from the Orphans, thus stopping the cold the Orphans' bid for the top division of the league. Spitfires, by taking four points from the fourth place Whasmules, need to win only two of their remaining 6 games to clinch first place. In the other games, the Blazers took four points from the cellar dwelling Falcons, while the Engineers ensured themselves of at least second place, by taking five from the Spartans.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

Little Benny's Note Book

After supper ma said to pop, We had quite an intristing case today, William.

Meaning in court where ma is on the jury and pop said, Another dammidee suit, I suppose?

No, but this was unusual, ma said. This geri is a professional model, and she went to this bewty expert to have her nose straightened to a more becoming angle, and he charged her a good round sum and performed an operation, and I must say her nose really looks delightful, ma said, and pop said, What went wrong, cant she smell with it eny more?

Oh, I suppose so, that didn't come up, ma said. But ever since the operation she never knows when she's going to be overtaken by an involuntary wink of her left eye. Well my dear, you can imagine the complications in a fashionable dress shop when a bewtiful model with a pert little nose starts winking at the customers' husbands. This geri claims it has lost her 3 jobs since her operation, so naturally she is suing the bewty expert, and we would have decided in her favor without a single compunction if it hadn't been for the 8 men on the jury, ma said.

Do you mean all the men sided with the bewty surgeon? pop said, and ma said, Not at all, just the contrary. Every time the geri felt a wink coming on, she deliberately aimed it at one of the men on the jury, till the entire 8 got so unbearably conceited that we 4 women felt in duty bound to put them back in their place by arguing against them in favor of the bewty expert. Naturally, we finely came around to the geri's side, but I assure you we gave those 8 men an unpleasant uncomfortable hour, she said.

I wish I'd been there, but it's something to even be here, pop said.

And he laffed like anything to prove it.

Port Colborne Swamps Gans By 15-1 Count

Port Colborne, April 13 (CP) — The sharp-shooting Port Colborne Merchants swamped Canadnoque Legionnaires 15-1 here last night to go one-game up in the best-of-five series for the Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A title. The next two games will be played in Kingston this week.

It was a combination of deadly scoring combinations, a stellar defence and virtually flawless goaltending that accounted for the wide margins.

The Port Colborne squad held a 9-0 edge going into the third period and then overpowered the hapless Legionnaires 6-1 in the final.

Chambers and Clarke paced the winners with three goals apiece. Castle, Kilpatrick and Pine followed up with two each while Benner, Minor and Cochrane each got one. Compeau got the lone tally for the Legionnaires.

The Merchants had no time in displaying their superiority. At 2:03 of the first session Clarke started them on a four-goal scoring spree. The rest were tallied by Cochrane, Clarke and Pine.

Before the half-way mark of the second frame, Pine lengthened the lead to 7-0. Then Kilpatrick notched two and Benner and Castle one apiece to send the winners further into the lead.

Casanova finalized their scoring like after three minutes of play in the final period. Compeau drives the puck home when he took a short pass from Jackson. From then on Port Colborne carried the play.

Chambers got the first two when he tallied twice with 23 seconds of each other. Clarke followed up minutes later. Then Castle beat netminder MacDonald cleanly on a pass from Sergisse at 16:21. Minor and Chambers closed off the scoring with one apiece.

ELEVATOR SETTLES

Owen Sound, April 13 (CP) — An official of the Great Lakes Elevator Company told a hearing of the Ontario Municipal Board yesterday that the company's 4,000,000-bushel grain elevator there "testers like a ship being loaded," "settlings at the company's appeal against a $560,000 city assessment, company secretary Fred Brown said the building had settled four inches at the north end and 12 inches at the south since it was erected. The hearing continues.

Ottawa Senators To Play Marlies In East Final

Ottawa, April 13 — (CP) — Battered and bruised Ottawa Senators, Quebec Senior Hockey League champions for the second consecutive year, face a heavy task ahead of them as they prepare to meet Toronto Marlboros in the first round of Eastern Canada Allan Cup finals.

The Senators copped the championship Tuesday night when they outmaneuvered a tough Sherbrooke team to win by the slim margin of 3-2 in the seventh game of a best-of-seven series, taking the series four games to two with one tie.

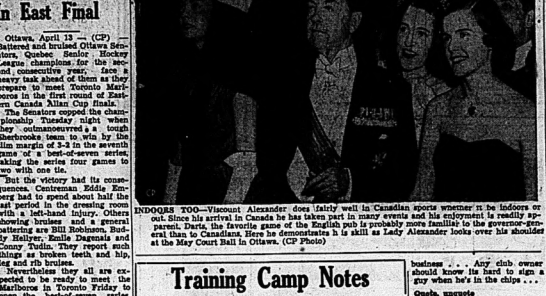
But the victory had its consequences. Centreman Eddie Emberg had to spend about half the last period in the dressing room with a left-hand injury. Others showing bruises and a general battering are Bill Robinson, Buddy Halker, Emile Dagenais and Conny Tudin. They report such things as a broken teeth and big leg and rib bruises.

Nevertheless they all are expected to be ready to meet the Marlboros in Toronto Friday to open the best-of-seven series. Second game is scheduled for Ottawa the following day.

Long Hard Grind

Both these teams have had a long hard grind to gain their present standing. The Marlboro defeated North Bay Trappers for the All-Ontario Senior Hockey League crown and then ousted Sydney Millionaires, Maritime senior champions, in the Eastern Canada semi-final round.

Ottawa, after leading the Quebec League through most of the season, put Valleyfield Braves out of the playoff running in the semi-final series and now Sherbrooke in the final set.



Where the Senators will go for their first meeting in the Queen City Friday night, the Marlboros will have the advantage of more than a week's rest. The Senators on the other hand, have played seven rough battles against Sherbrooke within a short period of time.

Tuesday night Ottawa and Sherbrooke played a nip-and-tuck battle from the opening faceoff and it was not until the 9:48 mark of the final stanza that left-winger Alex Kaleta registered the per-off marker.

Scoring was well divided for both teams. Kelly Burnett and Giles Dube counted for Sherbrooke, while Robinson, Jack Trembley and Alex Smart were the Ottawa sharp-shooters.

GOING DOWN

Officials recently discovered that London Bridge has dropped several inches at one point on the south side.

INDOORS TOO—Viscount Alexander does fairly well in Canadian sports wherever it be indoors or out. Since his arrival in Canada he has taken part in many events and his enjoyment is readily apparent. Darts, the favorite indoor sport in England is probably more familiar to the governor-general than to Canadians. Here he demonstrates h is skill as Lady Alexander looks over his shoulder at the May Court Ball in Ottawa. (CP Photo)

Training Camp Notes

(By The Associated Press)

Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling will alternate in centre field for New York Yankees until the return of Joe DiMaggio, who flew to Baltimore last night to have his injured heel examined.

Bauer, up from Kansas City, will be used against lefthanders. Woodling, purchased on a conditional basis from San Francisco, will operate against right-handers.

Manager Bill Meyer of Pittsburgh Pirates is grooming Late of Brooklyn Dodgers, is "the best pitcher I've seen." Gregg probably won't get a starting assignment this year, but manager Meyer says: "he is in control of the situation every time he takes the mound," Meyer says.

Bucky Walters isn't agreeing with the predictions of sports writers that his Cincinnati Reds will finish last in the National League, but he's worried about his pitching. Ewell Blackwell, the star, still isn't ready after a kidney operation, Johnny Vander Meer has been suffering from shin muscle injury, and the younger hurlers have been wild and ineffective.

Chuck Comiskey, young vice-president of Chicago White Sox, thinks the club, which finished last in the American League last year and is generally picked for that position in 1949, must develop a winning complex. He also stresses winning extra exhibition games because of a direct bearing on advance ticket sales at home.

National Loop Likely to Remain Six-Team Circuit

The National Hockey League is likely to remain a six-team circuit a few more years.

Operating an N.H.L. club is probably a $1,000,000-a-year business, and the word from President Clarence Campbell is that an arena of between 14,000 and 15,000 capacity is needed to support a big-league team. On top of that Campbell said in an interview, it must be located within easy reach of cities now in the league to get a franchise.

A feeler was put out by St. Louis of the American Hockey League but nothing came of it. The Missouri City has a 13,000-seat building with standing room for another 1,500 but its geographical location rules out any such haul for the other clubs.

How About Boston?

Campbell's figure of 14,000 and 15,000 for arenas prompts the question: what has Montreal been doing with its Forum's 16,000 its Forum standing-room capacity of 12,100? Information is that they are doing fine, Sorry.

Unofficial attendance figures for 30 home games at the Forum this season were 326,204 and, with average admission price of $2.22, the intake totalled around 724,000. The Forum will be extended to handle a 14,500 crowd next season and this should put Canadiens up with the other arenas in the financial league.

While in at it, Campbell squelched all rumors about the newly-opened Cincinnati club. "The arena there is too small (capacity 9,000) and, besides, they are not interested in joining the league.

It's even money that the Toronto-Detroit playoff series starts will go five games. Here's how Detroit gamblers bet before the first game in the best-of-seven round last Friday.

If you picked Detroit you could bet $1 to win 55 cents. If you favored Toronto you could get back $1.60 for each $1 wagered: And effes Toronto won the opener 3-2 in overtime, the Detroit News announced: "Odds now 22 to 1 against Wings winning."

No matter which way you look at it, Ted Kluszewski will pocket more cash than Leaf players when the series ends. Here's how the statisticians figure it:

Detroit players get $1,000 as N.H.L. champions against $150 each for the fourth-place Leafs at the end of the regular schedule. Players on both clubs receive $1,000 each as semi-finalists and the winner of this round get $1,000 against $500 for the loser. The maximum each Leaf player can get is $2,150 and the minimum for each Red Wing is $1,500.

Walt is Out

The latest from Bill (Vancouver Province) Good quotes Walt as saying: "Toronto is absolutely out."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, April 13 — (AP) — A communique from California says that old Chalky Wright has become the best "corner man" and trainer the fight game in that section has seen in a long time . . . "The boy," says our correspondent, who can't be more than half right, "has a way of putting it across and doesn't limit his work to rowing a towel, removing a mouthpiece and giving a drink a lot too quickly like a lot of these so-called trainers" . . . If old Chalk has absorbed Eddie Walker's lesson — never talk to one of your fighters because if you do, he'll ask for money" — he should do okay...

CRAZE ON WANE

Toronto, April 13 (CP)—The Pyramid Club craze seems to be waning in Toronto. A Globe and Mail survey Tuesday night produced an estimate that it had 50,000 supporters here instead of the nearly 1,000,000 it should have had after 18 days. A few persons were being paid off every night, some were said to have received up to $1,000—but statisticians estimated that had all gone well, more than 300 should have been in on the payoff.

Desperate Scots Build Own Homes

Inchinnan, Scotland — (CP) — Three men in this village eight miles from Glasgow found a way of beating the housing problem. They simply set up a housing society and built houses—cheap.

To date these pioneers, none of whom had any knowledge of the building trade, have built 56 houses in two years.

"In 1947 three of us were desperate for homes," said Jimmy Vipond, chairman of the society.

"We found we could build them on a non - profit - making basis by forming a housing society. We found, too, that the government would grant a loan up to 90 per cent of the total costs of building provided we were not making profit and the types of houses were suitable.

"The remainder of the cost, however, had to be met by the share-holders - householders. The response was immediate. We had so many offers — more than 500 — we had to pick out the 150 most deserving cases."

Within a month things got going on the site at Inchinnan and several months later Vipond, George Foster and Ed McKenzie moved into their own smart, semi-detached villas.

Plan Garden Strip For Blackpool Prom

Blackpool, England — (CP) — Blackpool's miles of concrete promenade, where strong sea winds have defied for years the raising of flowers or trees, may blossom forth as a result of experiments now being made.

Cared slowly, setting off the cracks south of the central pier, Blackpool officials say that with protection from the wind, and careful selection of hardy plants, the garden may flourish.

"If successful the idea will be extended," one said.

Rabbit Industry Expands Rapidly on Pacific Coast

By FRANK FRAWLEY

Los Angeles — (AP) — Rabbits, contrary to popular belief, are not raised for the Easter season.

On the word of the men who buy and distribute rabbits for the United States market, there isn't any "Easter Bunny". He went out with high button shoes.

Many states prohibit the sale of "Easter Bunnies," the cute, downy little creatures about three or four weeks old. The reason: children do not know how to handle them; they shouldn't be handled, and the adult who would purchase them for children would not know how to feed them. Organizations against cruelty to animals helped frame the laws.

Any figures pertaining to rabbits are likely to be erroneous, but it is safe to say that more rabbits live and die — at an early age — in Southern California than in all-the rest of the United States combined.

The rabbit industry is a big industry and it is getting bigger every day — thanks to the rabbits. In 1947 (the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce says) there were 6,392,000 rabbits produced in this country with a money value to the grower of $5,163,000. They are still struggling with 1948 figures.

Robert Dubbell, field production manager for Herman Pelphrey, who shipped more than 300,000 rabbits to all the States and Hawaii and the Canal Zone last year, says 75 per cent of the country's rabbits have been eaten here, "but the industry is expanding, and it is spreading out by leaps and bounds (naturally) in certain other sections of the nation."

Co-operative Animal

Los Angeles is about the only place, Dubbell says, where you can order 5,000 rabbits and get them delivered at once. It seems that a word to the rabbit is sufficient. He's a most co-operative creature, easy to raise, is relatively free from disease, is a table delicacy and his fur keeps lots of garment makers busy in New York.

Colley, Lapin and other furs that go into milady's coat came off b'ree rabbit's back. The common, table variety of rabbit right now is bringing more over the butcher's counter than his competitor on the scales, the chicken.

Rabbit fur is used extensively in the hat manufacturing business. Top quality felts are made of rabbit hair, and these come from the common New Zealand type of rabbit or the latel-developed Californian. The Angora rabbit represents an infinitesimal percentage in the industry, but its fur is clipped frequently for long hair. It is not generally raised for eating purposes, and lives one, two or three years.

The New Zealand or Californian has a short, active life. Ninety-nine per cent are killed by the time they are 12 weeks old. Thus they reach the market when the meat is tender. Growers insist there is less waste and more meat pound for pound in rabbit than in a chicken, and that the profit-margin is greater.

The hides all reach the New York market for woolen coats, men's hats, fur felt, and for a number of other purposes. Some clothe now have a percentage of rabbit fur that makes for softness and wearing quality.

Southern California's ordinarily mild, even climate is favorable for rabbit raising, Dubbell says, although the recently - departed winter that brought subfreezing temperatures and some snowfall caught many growers unprepared and several hundred thousand young rabbits were frozen.

Bishop Criticizes Settlement Scheme

By BURCHELL O. WILLS
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Georgetown, British Guiana, — (CP) — The leader of the largest religious denomination in this British colony has charged a lack of provision for religious teaching in government settlement proposals.

Rt. Rev. Alan Knight, Anglican bishop of British Guiana, wrote in the current issue of the diocesan magazine that three such reports indicated "an apparent lack of provision of spiritual care for people in the proposed new settlement areas."

Bishop Knight earlier was requested by Governor Sir Charles Woolley to comment on the Evans, Peberdy and Gregory-Smith reports. Each is aimed at colonizing lightly-populated areas of this mineral-rich dependency.

Bishop Knight said: "All three reports pay tribute to the work and influence of the church and the Evans report goes so far as to state that the first batch of one religion and accompanied by a minister of that religion..."

"But while 'provision' is laid upon the need for educational and cultural facilities in new centres of population, notably in those which will be made up of immigrants from the West Indies, I can find no provision — or even reference to — the religious needs of the people."

Newspapers in the colony have largely endorsed the bishop's claims.

"... Even if this serious mission is unintentional it is none-the-less inexcusable," he said. " . . . Much labor has gone into the compilation of the Evans report and it contains proposals which should give us grounds for sober optimism for the future . . . but such a grave omission . . . seriously undermines one's confidence in the whole report".

Alexander Packs Fishing Gear, To go After Trout

Ottawa, April 13 — (CP) — With spring turning many a frozen brook into a purling trout-stream, one of Canada's most ardent fishermen, Viscount Alexander, has packed his skis and skates and started checking his fishing gear.

He hasn't an impressive collection of flies and reels, but as any other fisherman, the Governor - General prefers to check them personally at this time of year, dreaming of secret pools where trout and salmon play.

Salmon and trout, which he has fished extensively since coming to Canada three years ago, are the Governor-General's favorites.

His love of sport is well known to most followers of spectator events, particularly hockey and football. His records for kicking off the official ball at rugby games are a source of personal pride, as at least one Winnipeg photographer discovered last fall.

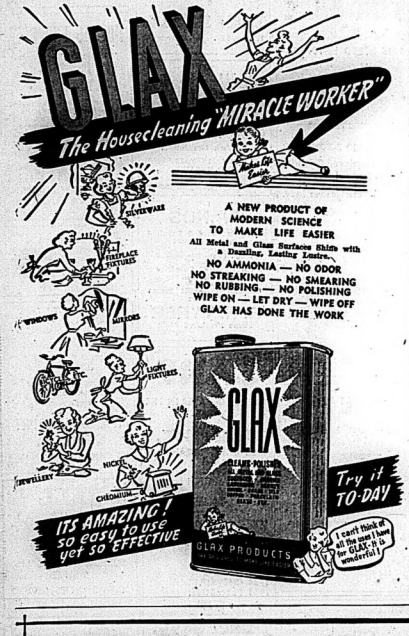
When the photographer attempted to have Viscount Alexander kick into the sun, for a better picture, the Field Marshal declined. He preferred to boot the other way, taking advantage of the wind.

Since coming to Canada he has found time to pursue skiing, which he learned in the Swiss Alps, skating, tennis and various other games.

Viscount Alexander didn't pick up his love for sport on the playing fields of Eton. He's a Harrow man, and proud of it. At Harrow he played on the cricket XI and the rugby XV, and won the Harrow cross-country race in record time.

Peak of his track career came in 1916 when he was amateur mile champion and ran for England against France. He also participated in the England - Scotland-Ireland contest and was asked to train for the British Olympic team for the games — postponed by war — which would have taken place in Berlin in 1916.

About this time he won a race called the Irish Mile — a distance of 6,721 feet — in four minutes and 32 seconds.



Typical of his interest in sport was his performance some time ago in Halifax, where he was invited to watch the ancient game of quoits on a local green.

He arrived in full uniform. After viewing proceedings for a short time, he stripped off his coat to try his own hand.

EIGHT DEAD, UNTOLD DAMAGE IN EARTHQUAKE

NEW VIOLENCE BREAKS OUT ON WEST COAST

Charge of Attempted Murder Preferred

(By The Canadian Press)

In Halifax today a Montrealer is scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing on a charge of attempted murder arising from a bloody riot in the 14-day old deep-sea shipping labor dispute that spread violence broke on the West Coast.

At Vancouver Wednesday night striking Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) pickets clashed with police at a rival Seafarers International Union crew (A.F. L.) boarded the strike-bound S.S. Seaside. Police squads of city police stopped garaged C.S.U. men and six were severely injured in bare-fisted fights. It was the second successive day on which there was violence in Vancouver.

Although the situation remained trigger-tense there and in at least two other Canadian ports Ottawa was indicated the Government was tightening its grip on the 14-day-old tug-of-war between rival unions for control of deep-sea shipping. Government officials already have brought an assortment of court actions.

Most serious of these is the attempted murder count against Montrealer Hector Bourdon, 34, S.I.U. Pilgrim is alleged to have fired a shotgun at C.S.U. members from the deck of the Canadian National Steamships vessel Rodney in an outbreak of violence at Halifax during which eight men were injured.

The C.S.U. in an announcement in Montreal, headquarters of the strike now has extended to a 125th century, a 46th ship became involved when the Federal Department of Labor, Immigration and Commerce, reached Nuevitas, Cuba, announced it reported to have pledged to support the seamen by not unloading or loading the ship.

Sidelights on The Quake

Seattle, April 14. (AP)—This wasn't earthquake country at 11.54 a.m. Thursday, but a minute later, it was.

And today the signs of the tremor are in scores of Washington cities and towns.

There still is some rubble in the streets of Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia, all near the centre of the shock.

Many business places remained closed today and pedestrians walked gingerly around ropped-off mounds of debris before damaged buildings.

Home owners were shopping for many replacement items—new window glass, cement to patch cracked basements, new crockery and nails to hang pictures jarred from the walls.

In the aftermath of the quakes here are some of the stories being passed around:

In the southwest Washington city of Aberdeen, the shock sent all occupants of a downtown tavern rushing into the street—all but two men playing the pinball machine. They stayed on. When the shock began to filter back, the two were still standing at the machine. They were arguing warmly over which of them made it register "111".

At Monmouth, Ore., Dr. Joseph Santee, professor of Social Science at Oregon College of Education, was telling his class about California earthquakes.

"Of course," said the professor, "nothing like that ever happens here." Mother Earth immediately answered back.

NAZI OFFICIALS DRAW LONG TERMS FOR WAR CRIMES

Nineteen Sentenced From Four to 25 Years

Nuernberg, April 14 (AP)—Nineteen high Nazi officials, convicted in the final Amnesan war-crimes trial, today drew prison sentences ranging from four to 25 years.

Each will receive a reduction of sentence equal to the time he has spent in jail—about four years. They promptly appealed to have the verdicts and sentences set aside on grounds the United States tribunal which tried them lacked jurisdiction.

Brigadier General R. B. (Elite Guard) Lieutenant-General who was convicted of crimes including participation in mass murder and atrocities, drew sentences of imprisoning 25 years, the heaviest imposed on any of the 19. All had been convicted of helping in various ways the Nazi horror program of aggression, plunder, brutality and murder.

The best known of the 19 Baron Konstantin Weizsaecker, was sentenced to seven years. He is a former envoy to the Vatican, and former state secretary of the German foreign ministry.

He was convicted in the last of the long series of war crimes trials by American courts. Charges on which he was sentenced included participation in the genocide war against Czechoslovakia, and participating in the commission of atrocities against the Jews.

Pacific Coast Area Fears New Tremors After First Shock

Vancouver and Victoria Shaken But No Damage

Seattle, April 14 — (AP) — Eight persons were counted dead, scores injured and preliminary damage estimates ranged as high as $10,000,000 in the wake of an earthquake which jolted the Pacific Northwest yesterday.

The shock struck at 11:55 a.m. PST.

Bricks showered off cornices and building facings; chimneys toppled; plate glass windows were shattered; roads sagged and split; moving automobiles danced and many parked machines were battered and dented by falling masonry.

Cities from Vancouver and Victoria in the north, eastward to Oregon towns in the Salem, Ore., area felt the quakings of the earthquake. Scientists rated it'at No. 8 intensity, which compares to a No. 12 or "total destruction" quake.

The total effect in British Columbia, however, appeared to have been a bad scare. No one was killed or injured and there was no extensive property damage reported. However, the quake was felt in most of the 35 points of the Dominion seismograph at Victoria registered. Shocks continued more than four minutes. It was one of the severest recorded in Canada.

The Victoria seismograph registered No. 6 intensity on a Canadian scale which differs from that of the United States in that "total destruction" is No. 10.

In the United States, the Red Cross sent relief workers agencies moved by today, ready to plunge in with aid and that funds would be forthcoming for rebuild homes damaged by the quake, on a basis of individual need.

Olympia Hard Hit

Two of the quake dead were in Olympia which was especially hard hit. Falling chimney bricks killed Percival Bisson, and Mrs. J. W. West died of a heart attack when the quake shook her hotel. Two elementary schools, Lincoln and Garfield, were damaged. Two of the injured were children hurt in the old soldiers' home at Retsil, near Victoria, when a wall fell after damage to their building.

Tacoma 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" of buildings with cracked bricks and other minor hurts. Many downtown buildings were ordered evacuated and all school was roped off because its steeple had been damaged.

The Holy Rosary Church, probably the highest in Tacoma, was closed, as its cross was in imminent danger of collapsing.

Trains By-Pass Town

Trains ran late between Seattle and Portland, by-passing the "Evergreen Divide" at Tacoma where quake-caused slides were not expected to be cleared until later today.

Two men were injured at the Navesco Bridge project, where a 23-ton "saddle" fell and sunk a pier.

At Puyallup, also near Tacoma, a 10-story apartment house developed during the quake in a four-block area, although there were no water mains in the vicinity. A woman was injured when her third floor of an apartment in Puyallup collapsed.

Seattle, in preliminary listing showed 75 buildings which suffered damage. Damage estimate mated up to $50,000 apiece.

No Publication On Good Friday

Tomorrow being Good Friday, statutory holiday, there will be no edition of the Ontario Intelligencer published.

14 Families Evacuated From Flooded Home

Winnipeg, April 14 — (CP) — Six Red Cross rescue boats Wednesday night stood by to evacuate marooned residents of four homes while volunteer flood fighters worked late dynamiting ice jams on the Assiniboine River near St. Francois Xavier, a small town 15 miles west of Winnipeg.

Fourteen families have been evacuated from flooded homes in the Portage la Prairie district 40 miles west of here, where part of the town on one side of the Assiniboine was under three feet of water.

Freight and mail trains were unable to reach Baldur yesterday. The town is 117 miles west of Winnipeg. About seven rail bridges have been washed out between there and Winnipeg.

Ice-churned flood waters early yesterday washed out a section of No. 1 highway 39 miles west of Winnipeg.

SIX REPORTED MISSING

Cebu City, Philippines, April 14 — (AP) — A child with a flamethrowing toy touched off a $1,000,000 fire in this city's densely-populated area. Six persons were reported missing and authorities estimated about 8,000 persons were left homeless.

ST. LAURENT SAYS GOVT SEES NO SERIOUS DECLINE

$500,000,000 Insurance Fund Built Up to Meet Unemployment

Vancouver, April 14 — (CP)— Canadians have amassed a $500,000,000 insurance fund to meet unemployment but their government sees no serious economic decline on the horizon and feels it can value employment to even higher levels, Prime Minister St. Laurent said yesterday.

In the second city visit he has already felt the bite of post-war belligerency, the Prime Minister made a major topic of employment in an address Wednesday night before a crowd of 3,000 which overflowed two halls of the Hotel Vancouver.

Earlier in a crowded day he indicated to another overflow luncheon crowd of 1,100 that the democracies don't know whether Russia has equivalents of their "instruments of destruction" greater than any yet used in war. To 2,000 students of the University of British Columbia, he held up the government's record for financing a higher education for veterans as one which would benefit the Canada both of today and tomorrow.

Leaves for Victoria

Mr. St. Laurent left late Wednesday night for Victoria after a day which saw him greeted by a blare of bands, the silent picketing of 35 striking Canadian Seamen's Union members and a minor earthquake which shook the city just as he was entering the hotel for the luncheon address.

In his night address, Mr. St. Laurent agreed that Canada has a long way to go "before we can be complacent about the welfare of our people" and won applause when he said Canadians want nothing again like the depression of the 30s.

Because one in three Canadian workers were dependent on trade, "we are doing everything which we can to re-open foreign old markets and to find new ones."

Seasonal Employment

He did not think any government would deserve to survive which did not strive even in the face of unfavorable conditions abroad to maintain high levels of employment, production and national income."

Detailing the Liberal party's stand on "full employment" he said: "In a country like Canada there is always bound to be seasonal unemployment and in every free country there is bound to be casual unemployment while people are changing jobs or looking for better jobs or because certain factories are slack.

"What we mean by 'full employment' is a level of jobs over the country which makes it reasonably possible for most men and women to get work most of the time without too much difficulty.

So far, since the war, there had been no mass unemployment. There were some signs of slackening but demand but "even though we may not continue to have a seller's market there is no area of sour signs of any decline in business.

"There had not been any great drain on the unemployment insurance fund now up to $500,000,000 This was a bulwark but the government did not consider it a substitute for employment.

"The first concern of the government in domestic affairs is the promotion of prosperity and social security for all," Mr. St. Laurent said, "and that, in large measure, does mean jobs for all who are able and willing to work."

Commies Picket Vancouver Hotel

Vancouver, April 14 (CP) — Some 50 members of the Labor-Progressive party silently picketed the hotel Vancouver where Prime Minister St. Laurent was bedded down Wednesday night after an arduous day.

Wearing placards with slogans such as "we want peace," the picketers handed out leaflets headed "Peace Treason!"

The leaflets bore a picture of Mr. St. Laurent —not one of his best— and one of L.P.P. leader Tim Buck. The latter's picture bore the inscription "Wanted" while Mr. St. Laurent's had the caption "War."

Body of the leaflet was a letter from Mr. Buck to the Prime Minister criticizing Canadian foreign policy.

Indicted Bank Executive Leads Agents to Loot

New York, April 14 — (AP) — Led to a lonely, rain-swept cemetery by a bank executive, agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Wednesday night dug up $124,000 in cash buried near a grandmother's coffin.

Discovery of the hidden money left only $12,000 still not recovered out of the $385,000 in cash and bonds that Richard H. Crowe is said to have looted from his bank's vault.

The cash was found in a metal box buried about a foot deep just behind a seven-foot granite tombstone marking the family burial place of Crowe's paternal grandmother.

Crowe was taken in custody in Long Beach, Fla., bar after a 10-day hunt by the F.B.I.

Of the total, $124,000 recovered $690,000 in bonds after Crowe directed them to a hiding place in the attic of his home. Earlier $261,000 of the $385,000 in cash was recovered. About $50,000 was found in Crowe's suitcase when he was arrested; $15,000 was found where he had hidden it in his parents' home, and about $60,000 was mailed to his creditors.

Smaller Municipalities Will Pay More for Provincial Police Services

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — Services of Ontario Provincial Police will cost smaller Ontario municipalities slightly more in future, Attorney-General Blackwell said today.

Municipalities of less than 10,000 population who buy police services from the Ontario government will pay about $1,000 a constable rather than the $1,750 they have been charged under 1944 agreements.

The $1,750 rate in relation to 1944 pay rates amounted to about 75 per cent of the actual policing cost. Since that time costs have increased and the Attorney-General's Department has decided to charge the municipalities the full cost of police services, which amount to between $2,400 and $2,500 a constable, Mr. Blackwell said. Under legislation passed at the recent session of the legislature, however, municipalities of less than 10,000 population are eligible for grants of 25 per cent of policing costs, whether they maintain their own force or buy services from the government. This grant will reduce the actual rate charged for an O.P.P. constable to about $1,800.

Union Official Charges Company Violated Contract

Paris, Ont., April 14 (CP)—Union officials charged today that Penman's Limited, had violated the agreement that ended a 12-week wage strike last Saturday.

William Stewart, International Representative of the United Textile Workers (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) said none of the strikers had yet been taken back to work. He said the men were ready to renew the strike if necessary.

Mr. Stewart said a delegation would be sent to the Ontario Labor Minister department officials in Toronto and "we will demand that the government intervene and force the company to live up to the contract."

The strike ended last Saturday after 12 bitter weeks marked by picket line clashes between strikers and non-strikers. The two biggest strike issues were seniority and a demanded 15-cents-an-hour increase —were left to be settled by further negotiation.

The settlement agreement provided the company would rehire all strikers as needed with no discrimination shown.

Mr. Stewart said some of the non-strikers had agreed to support the strikers in any action.

Denies Approach Made by Russia Over Blockade

London, April 14 (Reuters) — A foreign office spokesman today denied that Britain had received any approach from the Soviet government aimed at settling the problem of the Berlin blockade.

State Secretary Desa Acheson made a similar denial on behalf of the United States government in Washington yesterday.

Biggest Postwar Holiday Rush To United States

Toronto, April 14 (CP)—The biggest holiday rush to the United States since before the war starts tonight.

Extra equipment has been called into service by airplanes, railways and bus companies to handle the exodus. Canadian Pacific Airlines have put four additional trains on the Toronto-New York route and extra sections have been added to the fast Toronto-Montreal afternoon pool train. Canadian National Railways reported more than 1,000 reservations and is making up a special train to take holidayers to New York tomorrow.

Trans Canada Air Lines officials said a special flight will be made to take passengers from Toronto to the United States and Montreal.

SAYS REDS BEHIND STRIKES

New York, April 14 (AP) — Federal Bureau of Investigation agent Whitley Quoted a Michigan Communist leader as saying the party was "behind all strikes auto, steel, electric and meat." The agent, Fred Cook, did not identify the statement for a federal court jury at the conspiracy trial of 11 top United States Communist leaders.

Defence College Members Visit U.N. Assembly

New York, April 14 (CP) — Twenty-five members of the National Defence College, Wednesday were told their presence at the United Nations proved the Dominion's two-fold efforts to preserve world peace.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's permanent delegate to the U.N., said Canada aims to widen world co-operation through the United Nations.

He warned the group from the Defence College at Kingston not to be taken in by declarations of the U.N. The peace agency, he said, had made great achievements.

The parties of Canadian Navy, Army and Air Force officers are guests of the U.N. Secretariat for a first-hand study of the U.N. They flew to Washington from Flushing Meadow and the headquarters of the Canadian Joint Staff.

Their arrival was delayed five hours by cancellation of their N.Y.C. of the train preceding them. The one-day visit to the U.N. is a part of the nine-months defence college course.

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz of the United States and Mexican Ambassador Francisco Castillo of the Canada-United States joint Industrial Defence Committee will be whose establishment was announced Wednesday.

Nimitz hailed formation of the committees as a "step of strength" which he said would be a deterrent to any aggressor.

Peterborough And North Bay Branch Offices

Toronto, April 14 (CP)—The government - operated Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation today announced opening of a new branch office at Kitchener, and the elevation of two district rental offices at Peterborough and North Bay to become full branch offices.

Angus McCleskey, Ontario regional supervisor, named R. E. Sheppard, formerly of Ottawa, manager of the Kitchener office, H. C. Bollard of London, Ont., to the North Bay office and Miss M. E. Wocker, formerly of Sarnia, to the Peterborough office.

Both Mr. Ballard and Mr. Wocker formerly headed the district rental offices in those centres.

Mr. McCleskey said the three new branch offices would speed the processing of housing loans and loan applications which previously required Toronto office approval.

E. R. Collins was named manager of the lending and branch office to succeed C. E. Robinson, transferred to the head office at Ottawa.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — Synopsis: Cool weather will prevail in most parts of the country for Good Friday. Skies are clear in southern regions and cool air is pushing slowly south and will cover the entire province by Friday morning. Maximum temperatures Friday will likely be in the low 50s. A disturbance developing over Missouri is moving eastward and brings a threat of scattered showers to Southern Ontario today. Most of the precipitation associated with this disturbance is expected to occur south of the Lower Lakes.

Legislature May Consider Law Against Dogs

(By The Canadian Press)

Savage sled dogs have been attacking humans in Manitoba's northern country and the legislature at Winnipeg may consider a law to deal with them.

Such a law was mooted yesterday in the legislature by D.R. Hamilton (CCF-Rupert's Land) who said adults as well as children had fallen victim to the marauding dogs.

Some trappers let their sleigh dogs run loose when approaching a northern settlement, Mr. Hamilton told. Often the hungry dogs pounced on the first person they saw.

Sled dogs were needed in the north and it was not practical to shoot the animals because they were valuable to trappers.

Good trappers kept their dogs tied up as a precaution to the dogs themselves as well as to the public. The "careless driver" who let his dogs loose was to blame for the trouble.

No decision was reached.

The legislature also gave second reading to a bill to control rental charges and sale of oil and gasoline. The bill, providing for basic gasoline prices, sets butter substitute packages to bear word "Margarine" in large letters and requires that restaurants serving margarine in place of butter must note the fact on their menus.

PICKS ON DETECTIVE

Toronto, April 14 — (CP)—Of 14,000 — or odd fans bulging Maple Leaf Gardens Wednesday night for a youthful sniper had to pick the wrong person — a detective. Attending the third Stanley Cup final game with Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings, Ronald Gregory, 18, produced 4 tickets. He asked $10 a pair.

One Person Killed, Ten Injured When Express Train, Freight Collide

Jackson, Miss., April 14 (AP) — One person was killed and 10 were injured Wednesday night when the crack Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad's "Rebel" and a fast freight train crashed headon near New Albany, Miss.

The accident occurred at 11:50 p. m. CST.

Jay Cannon of Jackson, mail clerk of the Rebel, was reported killed.

The injured persons were taken to hospital at New Albany, but no one was critically hurt.

The Rebel engine and mail car was reported "completely crushed." The freight engine was also crushed, but not as badly as that of the passenger train.

The Rebel was headed to New Orleans from St. Louis. The freight was en route to St. Louis from New Orleans.

Railroad officials said the wreck was caused by a "misunderstanding of orders."

Girl Sustains Severe Injuries, Hit by Truck

Said to have darted in front of a passing truck as she was on her way to school, six-year-old Betty Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Trent Road, suffered a broken leg and multiple other injuries this morning.

Police stated the little girl had been struck by a truck owned by George Greatrix, local trucker, and driven by Carl Smith of this city. The truck was eastbound, while the little girl was walking west on her way to Avondale public school.

The little girl was rushed to the office of Dr. W. C. Morgan, who ordered her to hospital. Besides the broken leg the little girl's face was badly lacerated.

Trenton Man Given 7 Days for Drunk Driving

William E. Snider, College St., Trenton was sentenced to seven days in the county jail when he was committed by police court this morning on a charge of drunk driving.

Asked to plead on the charge the accused replied he could not plead either way because he did not know whether he had been driving the car.

"Do you mean that you were so drunk that you did not know whether you were driving?" asked Magistrate T. Y. Wills.

"Yes," was the reply, "I was completely out."

Provincial police who investigated told the court that the Snider car had been found overturned in the ditch on No. 2 Highway just east of Trenton. They said Trenton police had taken Snider to the Trenton police station when they arrived.

Many Tons of Live Mudcats Shipped to American Waters

Literally tons of Bay of Quinte mudcats will go south for the summer, and stay there to raise their kind spring for hungry American mouths.

Specially-equipped tank trucks from south of the border will convey these fish to a chief American centre from which point they will be distributed to American ponds for restocking purposes.

The first consignment will leave the Bay of Quinte Fisheries next week for a point in southern Ohio. Four tons of Mamma and Papa Mudcat will leave their natural habitat in the Bay of Quinte waters for their new home.

The trucks carry two large tanks. They are filled with fresh water after arrival here. The fish are then loaded, and two large motors go into action pumping oxygen into the water, giving it an appearance of boiling. The fish arrive in perfect condition at their destination hundreds of miles away.

Last year sixteen tons of Bay of Quinte mudcats found new homes in American streams and ponds. Herbert McCabe, manager of the Bay of Quinte Fisheries, has stated today that he expects a similar quantity, if not more, will make an exodus this spring.

Mr. McCabe has a special permit from the United States Department of Game and Fisheries to ship these fish across the border.

The live fish are procured through the medium of cribs placed in the waters where the fish abound. Fishermen then convey them to the fisheries where they are kept alive until the arrival of the American trucks.

205 Chickens Killed by Two Dogs In Marshall Road Poultry House

Quivering mounds of blood and feathers with the exception of one badly injured rooster, is all that is left of the fine flock of 205 bi-weekly old Plymouth Rock hybrid chickens that two marauding killers raided the poultry house of Arthur McGowan, Marshall Road, shortly after seven o'clock this morning.

The dogs, two handsome Dalmatians are owned by Mrs. H. Frederick, Tyrbe Rd. Mrs. Frederick that the dogs had broken loose and got away. Mr. McGowan is stated to have searched for her dogs after they were found missing.

The dogs ripped their way through a wire screen at the door of the building, and left the same way.

Blood splattering their beak and forelegs, the dogs after the mass slaughter left by the side door of the western part of the McGowan building. Constable Mrs. Wesley Elliott. Mrs. McGowan saw the dogs as they wandered about the grounds leaving a slight blood trail.

Bloody Sight

"I hope," she shuddered, "that dogs like these don't bother my chickens."

A few minutes later she went to the henhouse, and got a sight to met her gaze.

Threshing and twitching in death agony, the most of them dead with blood staining their plumage, were the remains of the once proud flock. One rooster remained alive. It stood on a roost, head bent in dejection, with red stains on its neck. The rest were piled in pitiful mounds of red-stained feathers.

The chickens were nine weeks old and weighed between two and one-half and three pounds. Mrs. McGowan valued them at $2.50 each. Besides the monetary loss of a packing company had been about to buy the birds from other week before selling them.

The killing happened between seven and eight o'clock this morning. This belief is substantiated by the fact that Mrs. McGowan fed and attended the flock at 8 a.m. before leaving for work. The bloodstained dogs were at the house a few minutes after seven o'clock.

"I did not hear a thing that evidenced the attack," Mrs. McGowan said. "I live in the front of the house and was busy at the time."

Sounds Muffled

The henhouse in which the flock was housed is a sturdy well-built structure, with double walls, and it is easily conceivable that any noise would be muffled. It is situated about fifty feet from the McGowan residence.

Mr. McGowan's brother, who resides with Mrs. McGowan was a partner with her in the chicken raising project. He is a bricklayer to be and will be married within the next few days.

Mrs. McGowan after the grim discovery telephoned Chief Constable Thomas Thorne, who turned the matter over to the Belleville Provincial police here. Officers investigated the killing and located the owner of the chickens. Mrs. Frederick told the officers she would reimburse Mrs. McGowan for the loss.

Glut of Smelt in U.S. Markets Causes Sharp Drop in Price Here

Huge consignments from the smelt-packed waters of Green Bay, Wisconsin, and surrounding streams, lakes, rivers, shipped into Detroit and other American market centres without benefit of boxes and commanding four cents a pound delivered, has been responsible for the sharp decline in prices of Canadian smelt, Herbert McCabe, manager of the Bay of Quinte Fisheries stated today.

Present prices of local smelt due to this reason, have dropped to as low as two cents per pound. This is an overall decrease of almost eighteen cents per pound.

"Efforts have been are being made to strengthen the Canadian prices over the holiday," Mr. McCabe said.

Muddats are commanding twelve cents the pound, and this too, is a decrease from opening quotations.

There is a good demand for sunfish, those tasty little fat fellows which are popular in South Carolina and other southern states. Present prices are quoted at twelve cents the pound and are subject to slight increase. It is shipped in American trucks to the United States.

Fish lovers in these states eat the fish in the form of sandwiches and there is a great demand in restaurants.

"Twelve cents is a good price for this kind of fish," Mr. McCabe said. "I can remember years ago when we sold them for two cents a pound and were glad to get it."

BELIEVED MAN DROWNED

Parry Sound, April 14 — (CP) — An unsuccessful airplane search was made yesterday for Phillip Trudeau, 40, believed drowned near his hotel, the Manitou Inn, here. Trudeau's sweater was found by Pilot Gordon Scott in open water and his hat was found in the lake. Trudeau is believed to have drowned while breaking ice in the bay near his hotel.

Will Use Films To Teach Art Of Swimming

Every method of instruction is being employed by the Y.M.C.A. to bring the essentials of swimming and water safety to the boys and girls registered in the year's "Learn to Swim" campaign. It has been found that visual aids have proven invaluable in the instruction of this necessary recreational art. To this end the physical department has secured the use of several useful films on swimming and water safety from the Canadian Red Cross. These films will be shown to all registered members on Saturday next in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Because of the number of registrations it has been found necessary to hire two separate showings. The boys will see the films at twelve o'clock Saturday morning and the showing for the girls will be at three o'clock.

Four Films Shown

Four films will be shown to all pupils. The first film entitled "Heads Up" deals with safety in swimming and with methods of rescue when drowning is the victim. The second film concerns life saving and shows the swim and has the title "Learn to Swim". A third film shows the advantages of the crawl stroke and the girls will be at three o'clock.

It is important that all boys and girls registered for the campaign attend the films as well as the pool, in addition to the movies. class times for the campaign will be arranged so that it will include every pupil attend each class and that is be on hand for all classes. Swimming instruction must have continuity and attendance at every class is important.

Rev. John Knox Special Speaker At St. Michael's

The Rev. John Knox, S.J. of the Jesuit Seminary, Toronto, was the special speaker Wednesday night at St. Feldcurn retreat held in St. Michael's Church. This Thursday morning the Mass of the Holy Ghost and the Holy Sacrament was celebrated by Father Knox assisted by Rev. C. E. Baker and Rev. J. A. Carley, as Deacon and sub-Deacon respectively.

After the Mass, the Consecrated Host was carried in Procession to the Altar of Repose, which was beautifully ornamented with flowers and lights. The children of St. Michael's Academy, chanted the Gregorian Chorus. This evening the closing and Friday night will open at 7.30 p.m.

The Mass of the Pre-sanctified will be chanted on Good Friday morning at eight o'clock and the Stations of the Cross will take place at three in the afternoon.

Carrier Boys Have Scotchlite Applied to Bikes

Beginning this Saturday and every Saturday at the Armouries until the ice is down, the Optimist Club is going to Scotchlite the bicycles in Belleville.

Last night carrier boys of the Ontario Intelligencer had the Scotchlite applied to their bicycles to help the club members to be better able to operate an assembly line, when the operation gets into full swing. Bicycle owners are being urged to wash their bicycles before they go to have the Scotchlite applied. It will save a lot of time as a dirty bicycle has to be wiped with gasoline before the Scotchliting can be done as it will not stick to dirt but once it is stuck will last for the lifetime of the bicycle.

This "Scotchlite-a-bike" campaign starts Saturday and includes applying three horizontal, red, warning bars to the back fender, a silver strip to each fender and a silver circle to each front, fork. Scotchlite is a light that never fails and has a reflecting brilliance of 70 times as powerful as white enamel.

Kiwanis Classes In Hobbycraft Now Completed

The annual breakup of the Kiwanis Hobbycraft classes was held at the Kiwanis Centre Wednesday night. Prizes were awarded for the best objects produced and a party was given for the boys and girls who took part in these classes.

The classes started with close to 300 boys in attendance and over 40 girls. They have worked on everything from woodwork to photography and needlework. The instructors have done a great job in helping these boys and girls. The ladies who were given their time so freely to help the girls were Mrs. Morris Button, Mrs. Addison Lloyd, Mrs. D. F. Pocock and Miss Monique Laports. The gentlemen who gave also of their time to instruct the boys at this work were Stewart Connolly, chairman of the hobbycraft committee, Bill Riley, director of photography, Jack Richardson, director of archery, and Jack Walker, Dr. Harold Craig, Rev. Quincey and Harry Brown, all of whom were instructing leather work. Others were Donald Dyer, Percy Geen and Graydon Caldwell.

One of the attractions of the exhibition was the photographs that were taken by the boys and girls. Gerry Hall showed some very fine skill with his pictures taking first prize and receiving honorable mention.

Jack Barclay also won a prize while Marion Wallace, Jim Hill and Richard Moore received honorable mentions. The boys' leather work department Thomas Lynch took first prize and Robert Johnson second. There is on display over boats, aeroplanes, lamps and birdhouses.

A party was given for the boys and girls and Mrs. Larry Lazier also led them in a sing song, while Len Fozard performed magic tricks for the children.

Special Church Services For Good Friday

A joint service is to be held at the Bridge St. United Church of the three United Churches of the city on Good Friday.

The time of the service is at 11.00 a.m. and the sermon is to be delivered by Rev. George Young of Marmora.

There is a Good Friday service at 8.00 p.m. at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The choir will sing the "Cantata, Penitence, Pardon and Peace" by Maunder assisted by Mr. D. LaFrance, violinist.

Reverend W. R. Schamehorn is giving pre-Easter service at the Wesleyan Methodist Church tonight through Friday at 8.00 p.m. each evening.

On Good Friday at St. Thomas' Church the services of the three Hours will be conducted from 12 o'clock noon to three o'clock, by the Rev. Canon H. E. Coleman, B.D., rector of Trinity Church, Brockville. There is a Lenten service for the parishioners of Christ Church and St. Thomas'.

Evening prayer will be said in St. Thomas' Church at 7.30 and in Christ Church at 8 o'clock.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, April 14 (CP)—A wide list of senior golds moved strongly ahead in mid-session on the Toronto stock exchange today to liven up an otherwise dull preholiday session. Industrials and base metals mixed gains and losses and western oils tended slightly firmer.

The exchange's 1 p.m. index showed volume for the first three hours was 502,900 shares, about 102,000 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Senior golds led the upturn in the gold list as action increased to the best this week. Junior producers tended brighter on some scattered small penny advances.

Several industrials reacted to annual reports but generally the list was still on changes held to fractions.

Base metals moved narrowly with several key issues gaining.

Calgary and Edmonton and Okalta crawled ahead slowly for five cent advances in western oils.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) Trade was dull with prices weaker on the cattle market here up to noon. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: cattle 100, hogs 50, sheep 30.

A few choice weighty steers sold at $22.50 a hundredweight and butcher cows went $14-$16.75. Canners sold from $10-$12 Some fed yearlings sold at $18-$21 and bulls brought $16-$18.

Hogs were steady at $30.25 for Grade A and $29.25 for Grade B1. Sows were $22, dressed.

A few sheep sold at $6-$12.

HOGS

Toronto, April 14 (CP)—Hog prices at Stratford this morning were still unquoted. Other markets unavailable.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., April 14 (AP)— Cattle 200; best cows 17.00-19.50; good dairy type heifers for slaughter 19.00 - 21.00; good weighty sausage bulls 21.00-22.00.

Red Cross Fund Has Now Reached Total of $10,922

With close to twenty - seven of the returns completed the Red Cross appeal has now reached a total of $10,922.81 and will not be too long before they reach their objective of $13,000.00.

The campaign committee is fully appreciative of the splendid efforts of the canvassers and they are quite confident that when all the returns are complete the objective will be reached. The officers and executives of the Belleville branch of the Red Cross extend their sincere thanks to all the contributors and supporters for their generous co-operation.

Persons who have not been approached by canvassers may turn in their contributions to any bank and receive a receipt for the same or they may drop it into the office at 224 Pinnacle Street. Further applications are needed and will be appreciated.

Woman Fined After Pleading Guilty to Charge

A strict warning that she must not take the law into her own hands unless how much her personal feelings might enter into the matter was given by Magistrate T. Y. Wills to Mrs. Stella Reid, Hillcrest, as she appeared in county Magistrate's court on an assault charge.

Mrs. Reid pleaded guilty to the assault charge and was ordered to pay a ten dollar doctor bill and $5 fine. She was given suspended sentence for one year.

Provincial police who investigated stated that neighboring children living near the home of Mrs. Reid had thrown stones and the woman threw a stone in return, striking a small boy. The lad was taken to the doctor where it was found four stitches were necessary to close a cut on his head.

In passing sentence Magistrate Wills told the woman that she must not let her personal feelings destroy her better judgment.

"Do you mean to tell me that I have to let those kids throw stones at my home, they do it all the time?" she said.

"Yes I do," returned the magistrate. "You have no right to take the law into your own hands. That is what the police are for."

Pickerel Spawning At Peak in Bay Of Quinte District

The pickerel spawning period is at its peak this week in the Bay of Quinte, Lake Ontario and tributary waters, Dr. J. R. Harkness, Chief of the Department's Fish and Wildlife division has appealed to sportsmen, anglers and local residents throughout the Province for their full co-operation in giving the fish adequate protection during this critical period.

A fair sized female pickerel contains upwards of 100,000 eggs when ready to spawn, and when one considers that officials estimate less than 2 per cent of these eggs will normally reach maturity as adult fish, the appeals of conservation officers for co-operation and protection, makes good sense.

Unfortunately such appeals to date have apparently had little effect. Patrols have been intensified and overseers have been busy night and day checking on illegal pickerel fishing. A considerable number of poachers have been apprehended, and it is evident that unless more observance of the regulations is practised, prosecutions will greatly exceed former years. The high price being paid for pickerel at the present time appears to be a primary cause for the activity.

Good Catches of Smelt

Good catches of smelt have been reported by fish and net men along the south shore of the eastern Bay of Quinte. Smelts are just beginning to show in the creeks, about a week later than last year, where fishermen are using small hoopnets and seines. Lack of uniform ice nets is apparently resulting in mixed grades, bringing somewhat lower prices.

80 beaver pelts were sealed by conservation officers during the week and as April 10th is the last sealing date for the current season, operations are now completed.

The scarcity of muskrats continues to be evident and licensed fur buyers estimate the catch is only 40 per cent of that taken last year. This refers to the area south of Highway No. 7 where muskrat trapping is heaviest. Overseers report that a number of trappers have ceased operations.

Hatchery Busy

Hatchery staff at Glenora have been busy this week. Pickerel started to spawn on April 6th and by the evening of April 11th spawn taken had collected 34,673,000 eggs from the two nets set in Hay Bay. It is safe to say that collections will exceed those obtained in 1948 when a total of 51,000,000 eggs was collected.

Visitors are becoming numerous again at the Glenora Hatchery and any who are interested in this branch of the work are always welcome. Hatchery staff are available from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily including Sundays and will be glad to answer any inquiries.

OBITUARY

ROYAL RUSSELL WALKER (Marmora)

Allan's Mills, April 14. (Special).—The death occurred in the Civic Hospital, Peterborough, on Wednesday of Royal Russell Walker of Marmora. He had been ill for only three weeks. Although resident in Marmora for scarcely two years, he was highly esteemed for his many fine qualities and had made many friends, who sincerely regret his death at the early age of 44. He was born in Huntingdon Township, being the son of the late Royal Walker. His mother, who remarried is Mrs. Alice Sparks of Hastings. Besides his mother and wife, he is survived by six children, Mrs. Arthur Young, (Gwendolin), Bancroft, and Shirley, Raymore, Wayne, Marvin and Dale at home. The surviving sister is one brother, Arnold, Marmora, and five sisters, Mrs. E. Stevenson, Toronto; Mrs. J. Rusticke, Oshawa; Mrs. W. Brown, Peterborough; Mrs. R. Lalonde, Tweed and Mrs. Percy Embury, Marmora.

Prior to taking up residence in Marmora the family lived in Bancroft, for eighteen years. Mr. Walker followed the occupation of a well driller He was an adherent of Marmora Free Methodist Church. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, but arrangements have not yet been completed.

Therefore We Strongly Recommend

THAT ORDERS BE PLACED IMMEDIATELY to fill your bin for the next year. The price of the fuel will be guaranteed as at the time of the order. We feel safe in assuring you that this year the average quality of our coal will be even better than in the past. ALSO, we are planning on treating as much of our fuel as possible to assure DUSTLESS DELIVERY.

One Further Announcement

We are instituting a BUDGET PLAN to make it possible for every person to secure delivery of their fuel in the Summer, when both the supply and the quality—if there is any difference — is better than at any other time. There is a small charge for this, but it is more than made up by the satisfaction of having a safe supply of a better quality, and the convenience and cleanliness of delivery at this time of the year.

Call our office for particulars of our complete heating service... This includes the cleaning and servicing of furnaces, oil burners, stokers and space heaters by a competent mechanic with a vacuum cleaner to eliminate dust and soot. We provide a COMPLETE HEATING SERVICE.

LENT'S LESSON

Lent nears the end of its long travail with lessons of importance to men and women which will enrich their lives and make them a blessing to the community. This penitential season has focussed the attention on those emotions which are fraught with a wealth of importance and value in the development of human life.

In the world which has so many interests Lent brings healing influences to work upon the spirit of the people so that life's values are seen in their true spiritual aspect. In the hurlyburly and the rush of modern life and the sweep of events on the world's stage it is well that there should be a guide such as the Lenten season with its thoughts and proper sense of values for the men and women and the younger people so that life may be understood and appreciated in its true meaning. It throws a spiritual aspect over the thoughts and emotions.

Lent teaches the triumph of personality and of the soul. It points to the true manner of life which every person should try to achieve for the fullest appreciation of his or her existence.

SPRINGTIME

Time of the new life in nature has come again after the deep sleep and the silences of the late autumn and winter. The first flowers of spring are adding their rich colorings to the earthly scene about the homes and gardens. These signs of the new life are not only beauty in themselves but they are the herald of the vast expansion of life which comes as the days and weeks of the new growing year advance.

Spring brings its lessons for the lives of men and women. Life is growth just as the resurgence of the vitality in the seeds is life and means life for countless forms which have been developed by nature as the cycle of the glorious earth on which man is destined to dwell. Man feels the new spirit which comes with springtide and with the world growing in richness of color and in multiplicity of forms as the consequence of the return year after year of spring after winter's chill and rest. He feels a new spirit within him which finds expression in outdoor work, in adding to his habitation new attractions by the labor he spends on clearing up his premises, in decorating his home or in getting ready for spring if he has a plot of land on which he delights to grow produce for his table and the tables of others here and abroad.

This is the time of year when the pleasure in the life of nature about one is intense and when everything forcibly tells growth in nature in so many forms which have influenced the life of men. It is the time that sets in motion the influences which provide the food for the entire year and in such fortunate lands as Canada and the United States provide food for millions in lands abroad, where agriculture has not so far advanced as it has here where plenty is to be found on every side. These thrilling days of germination for the tillage of the land and for the growth of the foods which are so much desired in less fortunate countries are days of inspiration for Canadians and Americans who have lands which are treasures in wealth of minerals and in richness and expanse of tilled fields which will in the near start the flow of grains and other products of the labor of nature and man working together to many parts of the earth.

FAITH

Faith has to do with what is beyond our physical senses. It is an act of surrender.. "The steps of faith fall on the seeming void," says the poet John Greenleaf Whittier, "but find the rock beneath." Everything which we profess to understand is based upon this "seeming void." The solidest of material objects have been shown by science itself to be reducible to some mysterious invisible force. The world whirls around in space, supported by nothing concrete or fixed. The unseen is the most significant "fact" in natural philosophy.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE DREAM GOLFERS

Back to the grill the golfers come,
Hope shining in their eyes,
The robins sing to welcome spring,
The fairway opes its lies,
Now at the table where we all
They proudly tell to me
When they get out, beyond a doubt,
They'll score in seventy-three.

All winter long they've studied how
Who'll tell the cure for hooks,
And some in bed, for hours have read
The latest published books.
A few have been to goldom's schools,
Instruction wise to get
In stuffy halls, where practice balls
Are driven in a net.

Others have played their favorite course
In dreams before the fire,
Where pits are not, and every shot
Achieves the heart's desire.
And some have putted on a rug,
Night after night, and dreamed
Greens fast or slow, blow wind or no,
Their every putt will seem.

Time was the golfing books I read
And thought the art I knew,
When springtime came, with eyes aflame
I boosted what I'd do.
But this I've learned from year to year
With each returning spring,
The scores are made where golf is played;
And that's a different thing.

"Your husband is certainly particular about his appearance, at all times, isn't he?"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

April 14th., 1910.

Mr. Ewart Maidens, Canadian Immigration Officer at Niagara Falls, Ontario, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John MaSiena, Victoria Avenue.

Mr. Harry Shirley has left for Winnipeg Manitoba, enroute to Sherritt Gordon mines, where he has accepted a position.

Rev. W. H. Truscott has been unanimously invited to remain for a fifth year as pastor on the West Huntingdon Circuit of the United Church. He was also granted leave of absence for two months to visit his parents in Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Masson of this city will spend the weekend with friends in Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Legate of Toronto are visiting their son, Mr. G. H. Legate, Dufferin Avenue. They are en route to Florida and later spending the winter in Florida.

30 YEARS AGO

April 14th., 1910.

Mrs. Joseph Taylor has returned to her home here after visiting friends in Toronto, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls.

Mr. Delbert Prest of Syracuse, N.Y., is visiting his mother Mrs. T. A. Hicks, Herchimer Street.

An religious census will be taken shortly in this city under the direction of the Ministerial Association and the Sunday School Association.

Mr. Norman Welsh is visiting friends at Moira.

Mr. William McKee of Joliette, Ill., is visiting his mother at her home on West Moira Street.

Mrs. Harry O. Stewart is visiting friends in Toronto and later and alarming than it really is, for, after all, there are few people like Ma Barker in the world. Most people are good natured, tractable, and, unless they be stone blind, helpful. But how can we live at peace with the ones who are not?

Of course the first thought that comes one's mind is that we would like to start "swinging around." Well that does no good. The one thing people cannot resist is love and good will, and love turns them in spite of their meanness. We really can overcome evil with good. The lion and the lamb can actually be promptings in life down together. This is a miracle but it can be accomplished by the kindly power of the spirit.

40 YEARS AGO

April 14th., 1900.

Rumor says that many citizens will buy automobiles this spring.

Mr. F. M. Clarke is in Picton today on business.

Miss Emma Duffin has returned home from Toronto where she visited friends.

Mr. A. E. Parks of Vermillion, Alberta, is renewing acquaintances in town.

Mr. Thomas Manley has returned home after spending six weeks in Toronto.

Mr. George Turner will leave tomorrow for Sault Ste. Marie, where he has accepted a position.

Mrs. J. D. Middlemass of Revelstoke, B.C., is visiting friends in the city.

50 YEARS AGO

April 14th., 1880.

Mr. J. Lyons Bigger is spending today in Kingston.

Mr. Fred Burrows is home from Toronto to spend a few days.

Capt. J. B. Ramsay is spending a few days in Kingston.

Mr. Charles Natter of Woodstock, Ontario, formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

The 15th. Battalion Recruiting Classes continue nightly. Mr. Charles A. Hicks has been selected as Ambulance Sergeant.

The dredge will commence work in the Bay, at once here on Monday.

The steamer Varuna will make her first trip this season on April 24th. She has been completely overhauled during the winter.

The fire which remained in the local harbor unusually late this season, moved out into the bay yesterday.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THE LION AND THE LAMB

Some people have a perfect genius for bedeviling everybody in their vicinity. The wife nags, the husband whose grouches are chronic, the boss who likes to kick everybody around who will stand for such treatment, the workman whose chief delight is to get 'all his fellow workmen quarrelling — these are the bedevilers par excellence, and they keep constantly stirred up worse than does the threat of war. Probably the worst bedevilor of all is the person who is chronically nervous — who is never in danger of having a nervous break-down himself but who induces breakdowns in everybody else.

Well, this all sounds more sin-

There is also the wheeled window - shopper. Strangely enough, there appear to be more men than women among this class of traffic terrors. Driving blithely along the business streets, the licensed operator of the private motor vehicle ahead of you keeps twisting the head from side to side, glancing at all the shop windows. Sometimes these characters will spot something of particular interest, and actually turn and crane the neck while taking driving, lingering look backward at a shop window. The amazing suspicion is that these drivers are merchants, out for a spin, gathering a few ideas from their competitors before re-dressing their own windows.

It stands to reason, a very considerable proportion of traffic accidents must be caused by these profile drivers. My own method of dealing with them is to toot my horn every time they turn their profile. But this only makes a lot of racket and probably does no lasting good.

The PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

To me, the most disturbing thing in traffic is a profile driver.

A profile driver is one, either a man or a woman, who seems incapable of conversing with the passenger sitting alongside without turning to look at the companion every thirty feet.

Profile drivers are the gabby type. And the gabby love to see the expression on the faces of their hearers as each sentence drops.

Or profile drivers must be lip-readers, who are incapable of listening to the remarks of their companion without turning to watch their faces while they speak. At all events, hardly a day passes on which you do not find yourself driving immediately in rear of a car, the driver of which appears merely to glance, every once in a while, ahead of him: the rest of the time, he or she has the profile turned to you while engaged in hearty conversation with the fellow passenger.

Report Moscow Sends out Feelers On Berlin Issue

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Let us examine, without undue skepticism, the report that Moscow has been putting out feelers about possible negotiations of the Berlin imbroglio with the western powers.

Developments entitle us to ask whether Soviet Russia has reached the conclusion that her great offensive for the spread of communism across Europe has come up against an impassable barrier. Foreign Secretary Acheson of the United States said in effect yesterday that if the Russians want to talk about lifting the Berlin blockade and starting four-power talks on Germany, the way is open for them to do it.

As far back as March 30, Eddie Gilmore, AP Chief of Bureau in Moscow, reports that "some diplomats not directly involved in the four-power dispute over Berlin speculated today that there may be a new move to settle that issue. At least three times has been written other speculation along that line, and numerous reports which have sounded all right though lacking confirmation.

Concrete Developments

What concrete developments are there apparently that there is a peace parley isn't outside the range of possibility?

Item: Ivan Maisky, one of AP's top-flight correspondents, is making the rounds of Europe. He is reports that the Marshall Plan has achieved its political purpose of blocking communism.

Even more important is the statement that Maisky has published which consolidates the United States and virtually all Western Europe into a solid defensive bloc. Back of this is the American decision to provide the Atlantic allies with the weapons with which to resist aggression from any quarter.

In short it's apparent that the line which Moscow has established through Central Europe is the line on which it must stand, at least for the present. That being so, the time has arrived for consolidation.

Signs of Discontent

This would seem to be especially true since Russia has encountered extensive political disaffection in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. There also have been signs of discontent elsewhere, notably in Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Thus it would be rather surprising, if the Kremlin adopted a good generalship, if the Russians didn't pause now. The Russians are mighty good generals.

However, it shouldn't be thought such a pause would mean that the campaign for world communization was ended or even slackened.

That will continue until either the world is spent or the likes when you have an army man. Doesn't your best friend call you crazy, foolish or old fashioned times?

Recently I made my apology to the Druggists of America for having implied here that there is real merit in the 13% to 15% alcohol tablets without prescription was misleading or anything of the sort. The druggist is simply obeying the law, federal, state or municipal, which prohibits sale of nitroglycerin tablets to anyone except on prescription. You see. I didn't know that such a regulation had always been in force until it became effective.

While we are on the question of buying medicines without prescription I am going to mention two other medicines I have recommended for years. First there is Fenol wax. It has become increasingly difficult to procure when one has constipation, diarrhea, for preparing home made iron tonic. Hundreds of readers have complained that they have been unable to find it. Druggists and druggists have tried to persuade them to buy something else, and lately I have recommended a pup I have without prescription.

Then Troy was a pup I have been recommending Fool Proof Home Made Cough Remedies and literally thousands of readers have been pleased with it. But some readers tell me, drug registers refuse to sell even elixirs of soda without prescription. This, if true, is carrying the thing too far. Citrate of soda was commonly used in the baby's bottle to prevent formation of curds, before it was put up in tablet form, water, milk or magnesia, barley or oatmeal water, etc. So it is absurd to imply that it is "dangerous."

Perhaps the "lethal capacity of nitroglycerin," I contend it has no greater lethal capacity than the sacrifice in the various preparations which practically all diets sell and even recommend for aches, pains, neuralgia, headache, tired feeling, worry, anxiety, alleged "nerve" grip, flu, fatigue or what have you. In the booklet C V D (about heart and artery trouble), I give advice about nitroglycerin, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, angina pectoris and the proper use of analgesic drugs. Analgesic means absence of sensibility to pain or other distress. For a copy of the booklet send (clean) twenty-five cents and stamped self addressed envelope.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Rain Water is Fine

We have both hard and rain water. Which is best for the complexion. We all enjoy your columns very much as formerly. I am a good neighbor who has just dropped in for a visit. (Mrs. C. J.)

Answer—Rain water is fine, but I can't understand it. So many readers write me that it's arsenic and lacking in sympathy.

Cook That Pork

My husband wants me to grill his pork chops—that is, to broil them. I think these are one would a steak. Is it safe to eat pork so rarely cooked? (Mrs. T. C.)

Answer—It is not. Pork should be cooked thoroughly in order to kill trichinae, fatty worm-like or tapeworm larvae in the meat which should be destroyed. Experience for a second time, but trichinosis is painful and sometimes fatal.

Worms

Please send me the pamphlet "Optimum Health." (Mrs. Mc.)

I inclose also 25 cents in coin for a booklet about worms in children and adults. (Mrs. G.)

Answer—I am sending the pamphlet and stamped self addressed envelope. For the booklet Unbidden Guests send twenty-five cents and stamped self addressed envelope. The booklet deals with worms, cooties, bedbugs cockroaches, fleas, spiders, pinworms, roundworms, tapeworms, ringworms, hookworms, flies, mosquitoes and anopheles.

Statue of St. Ann Said to Weep When Kissed

Syracuse, N.Y., April 14 (AP)—Dozens of persons flocked to a four room flat in Syracuse today to watch an 11-year-old girl kiss a broken plaster statue of St. Ann. They said they saw tears of sorrow to be tears falling from the statue's eyes.

Shirley Anne Martin, near exhaustion, pressed her lips to the crucifix time after time. Several spectators were visibly moved.

Dr. Joseph McMahon of Our Lady of Pompeii Roman Catholic Church said that he "watched the little girl kiss the head and it began to weep."

The Rev. Stephen Schaefer, assistant pastor of Paris' most popular church, said he could not explain the phenomenon.

Dr. Schaefer, Acheson of the United States said in affect yesterday that if the Russians want to talk about lifting the Berlin blockade and starting four-power talks on Germany, the way is open for them to do it.

As far back as March 30, Eddie Gilmore, AP Chief of Bureau in Moscow, reports that "some diplomats not directly involved in the four-power dispute over Berlin speculated today that there may be a new move to settle that issue. At least three times has been written other speculation along that line, and numerous reports which have sounded all right though lacking confirmation.

Concrete Developments

What concrete developments are there apparently that there is a peace parley isn't outside the range of possibility?

Item: Ivan Maisky, one of AP's top-flight correspondents, is making the rounds of Europe. He is reports that the Marshall Plan has achieved its political purpose of blocking communism.

Even more important is the statement that Maisky has published which consolidates the United States and virtually all Western Europe into a solid defensive bloc. Back of this is the American decision to provide the Atlantic allies with the weapons with which to resist aggression from any quarter.

In short it's apparent that the line which Moscow has established through Central Europe is the line on which it must stand, at least for the present. That being so, the time has arrived for consolidation.

Signs of Discontent

This would seem to be especially true since Russia has encountered extensive political disaffection in Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. There also have been signs of discontent elsewhere,

CARMEL

Energetic Group Entertained by Carmel Comrades

The Carmel Comrade Group were hosts on Friday evening to the Energetic Group of Holloway Street Church, Belleville. A record crowd filled the church to capacity to enjoy a well-prepared evening's entertainment.

Mrs. John Lawrenson, as song leader, opened the program with a rousing sing-song accompanied by Mrs. C. Hinton at the piano.

The devotional period was opened with a duet "In the Garden", by Hazel and Carman Defoe followed by the Scripture reading by Earl Defoe.

Mrs. M. Robinson then impressively presented the topic, "the Garden of Gethsemane". A poem was read by Don Tearse and this part of the service was closed with a hymn and prayer by Mrs. A. Bitz.

Miss Ivy Horton, president, then welcomed the Energetic Club and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. I. L. Moore, of Belleville, who spoke on her trip to Australia. This fine address was much enjoyed by all present after which Earl Defoe expressed the appreciation of the clubs to Mrs. Moore for her very capable manner of addressing the evening.

A short program followed consisting of a solo by Mrs. Ackerman of Belleville. Music by the Carmel orchestra, a solo by Mrs. Lawrenson and a monologue by Mr. Gander of Belleville.

The following half-hour was spent in recreation prepared by Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Sullivan and Mr. Horton.

Following the bountiful refreshments which were served by the Carmel Mr. Gerwitz, president of the Energetic Club, expressed a vote of thanks to all Carmel Young Adult Group for the splendid evening and hoped that they would spend an evening in the near future as guests of their club at Holloway Street United Church, Belleville.

Wellman's W.A. Holds Bazaar And Pie Social

Rawdon.—On Friday evening last the members of Wellman's W.A. staged a successful event. Guests were present from near by points. The pastor, Rev. H. C. Vaclavik, portrayed a set of colonial dishes on the platform and the pictures were beautiful.

Mrs. Harold West of Stirling rendered a vocal solo and she also sang a couple of duets with Rev. Mr. Vaclavik, with Mrs. H. C. Vaclavik at accompanist.

The Junior choir contributed two numbers and Mrs. Frederick Beckett gave a vocal selection with Miss Lois Weaver as accompanist.

Misses Mildred Morton and Yvonne King sang a duet.

A large array of articles for sale was artistically displayed in the Orange Hall and this included a Fish pond for the children.

The ladies served pie and sandwiches.

MADOC

Dorothy McGlashion, D.D.G.M., Pays Official Visit

Madoc — On Monday night D.D.G.M. Dorothy McGlashon of District No. 12, O.E.S., paid her official visit to Madoc Chapter No. 143, O.E.S. After routine business and the initiatory degree had been conferred on three candidates, and special work exemplified, Sis. D. McGlashon, D.D.G.M., gave a very worthwhile talk to the chapter and committee the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Newell Broad, and her officers, on the very efficient manner in which they put on their work.

Mrs. Prudence McCoy was soloist for the evening and the hall was brightened up by the addition of several pots of spring flowers.

At the conclusion of Chapter the D.D.G.M. was presented with a gift from the Chapter by Associate Matron Theresa Kilpatrick.

Presiding Matrons and Patrons were present from Belleville 55, Trenton, Minerva, Havelock, Peterborough and Tweed as well as several members from the various chapters mentioned. A pleasant social hour followed which included a memorable anniversary in the history of Madoc Chapter.

MARMORA

Catholic Women's League Holds Annual Meeting

Marmora—The annual meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart School on Sunday evening last with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Charles Cook occupied the chair. The meeting opened in the usual fashion after which the president thanked the members for their co-operation, and support during the past year, and stated that she had enjoyed working with them.

Following the roll call, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read. The correspondence was then dealt with, after which the president gave a report of the Diocesan executive meeting in Kingston on the previous day, and which she and Mrs. J. Black had attended.

The following reports were given by the conveners:

Child Welfare: Mrs. Charles Crawford and Mrs. R. Donaldson;

Social Welfare: Mrs. Rose Johnston;

Education and Scholarship: Mrs. Don Shannon:

Magazine: Mrs. M. Reid;

Secretary's report: Mrs. W. A. Shannon;

Treasurer's report: Mrs. Chas. Crawford. In the absence of the treasurer Mrs. C. Heath.

The annual report was given by the president Mrs. Cook, who then presented Rev. D. J. Farrell with a cheque for $140, which was the balance on the carpet fund, for which he expressed his thanks and appreciation.

Mrs. Ernest Hughes gave a reading entitled "Epitaph for a departed housewife." Rev. Father Farrell addressed the meeting, congratulating the members on the good attendance and also on the splendid reports given, and expressed his thanks for their co-operation during the past year.

The nominating committee then took over and last year's executive was re-elected as follows:

Director, Rev. H. J. Farrell; past president Mrs. J. Black; president Miss C. Cook; 1st vice president Mrs. W. B. Hughes; 2nd vice president Mrs. M. Reid; 3rd vice president Miss Mary Hughes; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Shannon; treasurer, Mrs. Carl Heath; councillors, Mrs. J. J. Ethier, Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. D. O'Connor, Mrs. H. Clemens, Mrs. Don Shannon, Mrs. J. Freeman, Mrs. B. Gaffney and Mrs. R. Johnston.

Refreshments were served by the Ita Lafleur Group 9, and the meeting adjourned.

Marathon Bridge Players Are Entertained

Madoc — A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Broad on Friday last when they entertained the players and their friends of the Marathon Bridge Tournament which was held by the Madoc Chapter No. 143, O.E.S. Cards were played during the evening and the presentation of prizes followed the highest standing, Mrs. Allan Burris and Mrs. Ken West; second highest, Mrs. Walter Broad and Mrs. Blanche Alexander; low, Mrs. Cleland Barlow and Mrs. Jack Baker. Mrs. Broad served refreshments and the high feature of the evening was a real old-fashioned taffy (maple syrup) on ice which was enjoyed by all present. Thanks were extended to the Worthy Matron and Patron for their kind hospitality.

Home and School Assoc. Holds "Fathers' Night"

"Fathers' Night" was held in King George School under the auspices of the Home and School Association.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Meldrum, presiding. Mr. J. Bennett told of the progress the health unit committee was making with regard to getting more support for the scheme from the city council.

Mr. A. Outinpyrke then introduced Mrs. Ruth Ackerman, who sang a solo, entitled "School Days".

Mrs. Harbeck, the guest speaker for the evening was introduced by Mr. Hackett. Mrs. Harbeck's subject was "The Place of the Family in Society Today". After which Mrs. Ruth Ackerman delighted her audience with another fine selection, "Galway Bay", followed by an entertaining film shown by Mr. Wyatt.

The pianist for the evening was Mrs. F. Buck.

A social hour followed the main portion of the evening, during which time, "Fathers" under the leadership of Mr. Outinpyrke served coffee and doughnuts to the ladies present.

Mrs. C. L. Brown Heads I.O.D.E. For Second Term

Hamilton, April 14 (CP)—Resolutions on education and post-war service work will be discussed today as the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Ontario chapters, complete the three-day session of the 39th annual meeting here.

The more than 800 delegates from all parts of the province elected Mrs. Cecil L. Brown of Hamilton as president for a second term at yesterday's sessions. Closed conferences dealing with orders and administration were held, followed by a tea and exhibition of paintings entered in the I.O.D.E. pictorial contest.

The magnificent increase in post-war service, emphasis on education and encouragement of the arts have been the highlights of the last year," said Mrs. F. F. McCurdy of Toronto, national president.

She said the order hoped to raise the national membership of 32,000 to 50,000 by next year, the Golden Jubilee year.

Mr. Justice Kellfer Mackay of Toronto, Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario, told delegates at a dinner meeting that he wished a study of the English language were "imperative in every year, in every course in every university."

"The English-speaking nations remain the greatest and most influential in the world, the symbol of liberty within the law," Mr. Justice Mackay said. "Under the Atlantic Charter we are committed in unity to the furtherance of the ideals for which our fighting sands, and together with the United States (the charter) offers the greatest known assurance for the preservation of those ideals."

He called for unity between English and French-speaking elements in Canada to maintain the "mighty fabric of commonwealth solidarity."

Mr. Justice Mackay scoffed at persons who thought it "smart" to sneer internationalism as "an only loyalty. A country whose people were not in sympathy with its institutions and the patriotism symbolized by the flag was "sailing in shallow waters toward unfixed eddies of uncertainty if not the open rocks of dismemberment."

WEDDINGS

RIDDPHON—HEDGER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Christ Church on Saturday, April 2nd, at high noon, when Margaret Elizabeth, "Betty" eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hedger, was united in marriage to William James "Roger" Riddphon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Simpson, both of Belleville. The ceremony was performed by Grant Sparling, assisted by the Rev. Canon Bedford-Jones.

The wedding music was rendered by Miss Dorothy Hinchey.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white, brocaded satin with off-the-shoulder effect, veil ending in points over the wrists. The abundance and neckline was caught in graceful folds by small pearl clasps. The yoke was of fine net and buttoned down the back with pearl buttons. She wore a three strand necklace of pearls with matching earrings. Her flowers, length veil were gracefully caught together by a halo of lace and lilies-of-the-valley. Both halo and veil were imported direct from England.) She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and hyacinths.

Miss Ruth Bain was bridesmaid, and was charming in a floor-length gown of blue sheer with long sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder length veil was held by tiny blue flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink tulips.

Little Sheila Hedger, sister of the bride, was flower girl, looking lovely in a floor-length gown of pink taffeta with blue sash. Her shoulder length veil was caught with tiny, pink rosebuds, and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations, sweetpeas, rosebuds, tied with pink and blue ribbons.

Mr. Arthur Perry, Belleville, performed the duties of groomsman.

Mr. Arthur Perry, Belleville, performed the duties of groomsman.

Mr. Norman Christie, brothers-in-law of the groom, ushered.

The wedding reception was held at the Lansdowne, where a buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. W. J. Colclough, wearing a floor-length gown of street length dress with grey accessories, and corsage of yellow roses, assisted by the bridegroom's mother in a navy blue tailored length dress, with black accessories, and corsage of cream roses, received the guests.

COOKE—PEARSON

A lovely double ring ceremony took place on Saturday, April 9, at 3 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pearson, Foxboro, R.R. No. 2, under an evergreen arch of wedding bells and white streamers, when Vivian Lorraine became the bride of Roy Earl Cooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darius Cooke. The Reverend Mr. Vaughan, Tweed, B.A., B.D., officiated.

The wedding music was played by Miss Audrene Martyn, cousin of the bride, and the hymn for the signing of the register, Mrs. Avery Martyn, aunt of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of white silk organ satin, long sleeves ending in filly points over the wrists, with beadings of matching white roses and fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses, and wore the groom's gift of a gold pendant and matching bracelet.

Miss Doreen Pearson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of pink brocaded taffeta with matching headband, dress of rose and shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of pink tulips and white carnations, and wore the bride's gift, a gold locket.

Mr. Hazen Cooke, of Trenton, was groomsman.

At the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother, wearing a green printed silk and a corsage of red roses, assisted by the bridegroom's mother in a brown printed silk and corsage of yellow roses, received the guests. The bride's table was trimmed in pink and white, centered by a three-tiered wedding cake.

For travelling to Kingston, Ottawa, and points east, the bride chose a grey herringbone tafeta dress, and blue shortie coat with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink camellias. Upon their return the young couple will reside in Trenton, Ont.

The groom's gift to his groomsman was a combination cigaret holder and lighter.

MILLER—TUMELTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Tumelty, Madoc, was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers, daffodils and Spring flowers for the marriage of their daughter, Hadie Victoria, to Donald Milton Madoc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miller, on Saturday, April 2, at high noon. The Reverend Alfred Poulter officiated.

Miss Marion Love rendered the customary wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, which was caught up at intervals with clusters of sprays of lily-of-the-valley. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of red roses with streamers of white satin and rosebuds.

Miss Ann McIntosh, of Toronto, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length gown of nile green, sheer crepe with matching shoulder length veil of net, and matching mittens. She carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mr. William Tumelty, Madoc, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

At the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother, wearing blue taffeta with matching accessories, and corsage of red roses, was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore powder blue, with wine accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

For travelling to Virginia, the bride chose a navy blue tailored dress, with grey fur trim, and wine accessories, with black top coat. Upon their return the happy couple will reside at Little Brook Farm, Madoc.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Ruth Wynne, Toronto and Miss Prudence McIntosh, Toronto.

White Shrine Instals Officers

On Wednesday, Bethlehem Shrine No. 11, White Shrine of Jerusalem, installed their new officers with very impressive ceremony. The room was attractively decorated in white, yellow and green. The Installing Officers were Mrs. M. Cherrie and Mr. R. Reid, Colclough, soloist, sang before the ceremony. "O Perfect Love" was sung during the singing of the register, "Because".

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a becoming floor length gown of navy romaine, with accessories and navy accessories, and corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. K. Wynne, of Belleville, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a dove-grey crepe floor length gown with matching accessories, and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. George Watson, Belleville, R.R.6, was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Al Wilson and Mr. Norman Christie, brothers-in-law of the groom.

River Valley W.I. To Get Books To Get Appreciation

Rawdon.—On Saturday, Mrs. Percy MacMillan received several clippings from England, one reads as follows: The W.I. movement continues to grow, and at the end of November 1948, there were 6,957 Women's Institutes in the 58 county federations of England and Wales, which is an increase of 207 in a year."

Another reads—"Members of Abbot's Leigh Women's Institute at Bristol have collected money at their 113th meeting to buy a book or books on Bristol before and after the air raids.

"These books will be forwarded to their friends at the River Valley Institute, Canada, who have sent them many food parcels which have been most welcome. These books go to Canada as a small token of our appreciation and we heartily thank the River Valley Institute for all their kindness to us in 1948."

MADOC

District Deputy Visits Oakdale Rebekah Lodge

Madoc.—On Friday evening last Sister Ethel Duffin, of Stirling, District Deputy President of Belleville District No. 30, paid an official visit to Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, Madoc. There was a good attendance of members and many visitors were present from Parham, Stirling, Belleville, Thomasburg and Havelock.

The degree team of Ivy Leaf Lodge, Parham, conferred the degree on two candidates in a very impressive manner. The charges were well given, and the floor work well done. Ivy Leaf Lodge was instituted just two years ago and the degree captain, Mrs. of Parham.

Mabel Bray, and her degree team are to be congratulated.

Sister Ethel Duffin, D.D.P., gave an instructive address which was well received. Sister Mrs. Gowan, W.N.G. given by Sister Heath, N.G., and Sister Evelyn Bailey, of Laurel Lodge, Stirling; Sister Howse, N.G.; Sister Bray, P.N.G., and Bro. [illegible] Charlton, of Parham; Sister Irene Amar, P.D.D.P., and Bro. Miller, of Belleville; Bro. B. Bailey, Madoc, also the two candidates. Sister Laura Woods and Sister Annie Shaw. Sister Elliott Mc-Gowan, W.N.G. of Madoc congratulated on her recent appointment to succeed Sister Duffin as District Deputy President.

A Pollygoing the meeting, a banquet was served by the Madoc ladies. The head table was attractive with a large, beautifully decorated birthday cake, and silver candelabra holding pink candles. The cake was in honor of the second birthday of Ivy Leaf Lodge, Parham.

A vote of thanks to the Madoc ladies was moved by Sister Cronk of Parham.

Citizens, Police Hunt Suspected Auto Thief

Bolton, Ont., April 13 — (CP) —Nearly 50 citizens, some armed, joined forces with Provincial Police last night in an extensive search for a suspected car thief believed to be hiding in the Bolton or Woodbridge district, 20 miles northwest of Toronto.

The manhunt, said to be one of the most extensive in Peel county history, started Tuesday night when a Brampton police officer spotted a speeding auto and attempted to stop it. The speeding car was abandoned by its four occupants here after it struck a large rock and careened into a ditch.

Three of the four occupants, two young girls and a sailor, all from Hamilton, were arrested but a second man escaped. The trio were released when they told police they had hitched a ride from Hamilton with the other man. Police said ownership of the car has not yet been established since the license plates were also stolen.

Scandinavian Customs Union Will be Formed

Annecy, France, April 13 (Reuters) — Norway, Sweden and Denmark today told the 30-country tariff conference here that they are planning a Scandinavian customs union.

The statement said the union might "possibly include Iceland."

Object of the conference, broadcast effort yet made to reduce world tariff barriers, is to admit 11 more countries, including Sweden and Denmark, to the 1947 Geneva Trade Treaty.

The three Scandinavian countries timed their uniform tariff plan announcement to coincide with the opening of the negotiations to obtain tariff concessions from the newly-acceding countries.

These would match the concessions already granted one another by the original signatories. The Scandinavian union would be the third to be included, with the Geneva tariff and trade treaty. The others are the Benelux union and the projected Franco-Italian Customs Union.

Canada Acquires Rights to Build F-86 Jet Fighters

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

She drew the shaggy fur coat over her shoulders. Gay buttoned her heavy tweed coat. They walked down the long lonely corridor.

A young nurse approached. She looked from the little girl in the raccoon coat with a wisp of hair across her forehead to the tall girl with short red curls. The tall girl looked shaken, the nurse thought. But there was utter desolation in the face of the small girl.

Gay took Penny's arm and asked, "Won't you tell us where Mr. Bolton is? We don't know anything. We don't know if he is . . ."

Calm professional eyes glanced at Penny. The nurse said, "He's resting now. I'm sorry, I'm dreadfully sorry; but — but his face will be scarred and — and one leg was badly injured . . ."

"No!" Penny cried. "No! Mac!" She looked up through a rain of tears. "Can't I see him, please? I want him to know he isn't alone. I want him to know that some one is here, some one who—who cares."

"But just a few minutes. And you must be brave."

Walking down the hall of the hospital holding onto Penny's arm, Gay thought, "I make Penny brave? I'm not half as brave as she is! Today I've seen something I didn't know existed! I've seen a love that could stand anything!

"Are you sure you want me to go in with you, Penny?" Gay asked. "Perhaps I shouldn't."

"I must have some one with me. Oh, don't you see? He's still Mac to me. It doesn't matter what has happened to him! But he'll think I'll be darned again. He won't be able to show off and the girls in the girls won't like him now. That's what hurts! I'm ready now."

Mac Bolton was pale. His face was wet. Perspiration stood out on his forehead beneath the bandages. He was smoking with a brown right hand.

His voice, a boyish voice, broke Penny's stare.

"Hi, Penny."

"You remember Gay, don't you, Mac?"

"Who could forget that head?" He inhaled deeply. His mouth twitched. "My head is still resting a bit."

Penny looked at him with a sweet tragic smile.

"Nice of you to come," he said curtly. "Where is Chris?"

"In Nassau," said Gay.

"That's right. My head's thick. Can't think."

She walked toward the white door but his voice stopped her.

"I want you to stay. I want you to listen to what I've got to say, too. I'm still dizzy. Maybe that's why I can say this now. He looked at Penny. "There's never been anyone like you, Penny. You're . . . well, you're tops. You treated you pretty rotten, Boasting — that's me. Always what a fine guy I am and all the girls crazy about me. Well, they won't be crazy about me now! I'm grounded for good!" He paused. His voice seemed to drift a moment. "Nothing can compare with flying. There's something mad and mysterious about it. You feel you're the only person in the world. You feel powerful and free. That's finished for me. I'm finished with you Penny. You deserve a better break."

"Mac, this doesn't matter to me. Believe me, it doesn't."

"It's funny, but I was in a hurry to get back to you this time. I saw you down there, waving." He shook his head. "But as soon as I get out of here, I'm going to Chris." He reached for her hand. "You're such a swell person, Penny."

The nurse opened the door, to say, "You must go now. Mr. Bolton must rest."

Mac dropped her hand. "So long," he said. His eyes were wet. His mouth was a grim straight line. "Happy — — happy landings".

Gay called Diana from the hospital and said she was spending the night with Penny.

Christmas Day. Another dark blot upon her lips. Gay thought, riding to Penny's studio. "You thought you'd been through everything. You thought you'd been hurt so much you'd be invulnerable to the hurts of others. But that hurt stung and opened your eyes and made you think of the good things you had ago. "A year ago I thought I 'knew what love was."

She fixed tea and sandwiches and pulled a short - legged table before the fire. Penny's eyes were soon again and it was banked high in the grate. She stirred the fire and the flames roared upward.

Lying on the sofa, Penny said, "I lived for Mac. Now I feel as if I've been set afloat from my harbor. There's no reason to paint now because I can't show my pictures to him. There's no reason to buy a new dress because he won't see it. . . ."

In the morning Gay left Penny sleeping and took a bus to the hospital. She found Mac Bolton smoking. She pulled a chair up beside his bed.

"I feel that I know you very well, Mac, from Penny has talked of nothing except you."

"And I know you because in every letter Chris writes he tries to use your name casually and fails."

Gay took his shoulder firmly.

"Penny doesn't pity you, Mac. She loves you. You can't shut her out of your life now. You can't let pride send you as much as a mile from Penny wants you. Half or whole, she wants you."

"I'm not going to let her spend her life waiting on an invalid," he said harshly. "You're wasting your time if you think you can talk me into that."

"You won't be an invalid."

"I'll never fly again."

"You can do as much for aviation on the ground as you did in he air."

"Back of my mind," he said, "I knew I wanted to marry her. I didn't want to marry any of the girls who fell for my brass buttons and flying records. They were just good-time girls. But I'm not fit to marry any woman now! You're wasting your time!"

"I'm not, Mac. I'm trying to make you listen to reason! The girls and wives of the men who fought in the war didn't cease loving them or divorce them because they gave a part of themselves to their country. Penny doesn't love you because you look handsome in your uniform. She loves a part of you that nothing can destroy. If you had died, she would have kept on loving that part of you that is really you." She bit back the tears. "Mac, you can't set her afloat and yourself, too! You can't!"

"You're a swell person," he said, smiling faintly, "but I can't do it. When I get out of here, I'm going to Chris. We're good friends. Will you — will you tell Penny that I love her? That fancy wistful face of hers means more to me than a thousand prettier faces! No, I won't poke her to an invalid." He put the cigaret to his lips. "Is there anything you want to tell Chris when I see him?"

She walked to the door and turned around.

"You can tell him I still mean su revoir and not good-bye."

In the room she walked back to the studio to tell Penny she could no longer live alone. Penny must come and live with her and Diana and the two scotties.

Penny moved the next week to a studio apartment. It was a desolate looking place but it had a skylight where the sun filtered through on bright days. Into it came what was left of the Van Avery household goods, and Penny brought her shabby artistic wardrobe, her sketching materials, and the trinkets Mac Bolton had given her.

They guessed but they never questioned the under currents that ran intensely beneath the surface of their lives. Penny's mouth smiled but her eyes had tragedy and defeat in them. Diana sighed but never complained of the weariness that threatened to overwhelm her. Gay, behind her health. It fell to Gay, behind by for Chris and thinking of Alan, to say amusing things when conversation languished, and to suggest places to go within their limited means.

In Gay's mind she called the little studio "the place of broken dreams." Was she to go on indefinitely, she wondered, spending her days at the store, looking at clothes she could not have, feeling on the 'cold outside' of everything and wondering what thrills of a man in Nassau writing a play and a man in New York, a fellow, whom she could not forget?

One day in January the letter came. "Miss Baring is in Marchand's office. I just saw her. I guess she came to see about her wedding gown. They say she's getting married at Easter."

Maxine came in.

"Marchand wants to see you, Gay."

What did Lucia want with her? An idea for her wedding gown? "It was to be my wedding gown," she thought, tracing the curve of her mouth with a lipstick. "He was so much my Alan then. . . . wonder if I shall ever lose that feeling of possessiveness toward him."

Lucia's face was soft and lovely framed in a silver fox collar. A row of dark curls circled her head beneath the chic black hat. Marchand's desk was spread with fashion sketches. Penny had sketched some of them.

Lucia smiled. Apparently, Gay thought, conscious of her business girl's appearance, Lucia had decided to forget the scene at their last meeting when she had come upon Alan and her in the library.

"Hello," said Lucia. "I'm at such a loss. I need some help."

"Miss Baring is selecting a sketch for her wedding gown," said Marchand, his eyes twinkling.

"Yes," said Lucia. "And it's such a problem, my dear. They're all so lovely. It makes me positively breathless when I think of all little lines in which to get ready. I've bought so few things that I really like! Fittings bore me frightfully and I've asked Monsieur Marchand if you would spare me the tiresome fittings, Gay. We wear the same size."

"I'll be glad to spare you," said Gay.

Spare Lucia! That was funny. Gay thought, "You don't want to spare me, do you? You want me to think of Alan each time I'm fitted in your wedding gown."

"You're such a help," said Lucia, brushing a cigarette beneath a tall black heel.

When she left, Marchand looked up and met Gay's eyes.

"She ought to have class," he said dryly, "and eyes that see in the night."

Each night when Gay went home she looked eagerly for a letter from Chris. None came. Years came to her eyes when she thought of that first good-bye between them. Tears came but they were quickly smothered. She couldn't cry! She had to go to the kitchen and get something cheerful to Diana while helping with the dinner and she had to say something amusing to Penny to take that bleak look from her eyes.

She was walking to the store one morning in a raining snow when she saw Alan's roadster pass. Lucia was with him, turned to the cars. The rumble seat was filled with baggage. She walked on, thinking of them going to a house party in the mountains, seeing Lucia and Alan in skiing togs. All the old crowd would be there.

PINK SWIRL CAKE

Mixing Time: 4 minutes

MARTHA LOGAN'S "HELPING HAND"
RECIPE POINTS THE WAY TO SUCCESS

So, you've never made a cake? Don't worry—with Swiftning and this beginner-tested recipe, you'll make a light, tender, beautiful cake! Just watch for the little hands—they warn where there's a chance of error.

Preparation: Have all ingredients at room temperature. Pre-heat oven at 375°F. Line bottoms of two 9-inch, or three 8-inch round layer pans with heavy waxed paper.

Ingredients: (Use standard, level measure)

2 squares chocolate
½ cup Swiftning
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
Be sure to sift flour before measuring.
Spoon lightly into cup.
1¾ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups sour milk (or 1½ c. sweet milk + 1½ tbsp. vinegar)
2 eggs

Step 1: Melt chocolate over hot, not boiling water. Place Swiftning in bowl. Sift together flour, sugar, soda and salt into bowl. Add vanilla and 1 cup of the sour milk. Beat 2 minutes by hand, using about 150 strokes per minute; or at medium speed of electric mixer. Keep scraping batter off sides and bottom of mixer bowl with rubber scraper. After 2 minutes, scrape beaters or spoon and bowl thoroughly.

Step 2: Add the unbeaten eggs, melted chocolate and remaining milk (½ cup). Beat 1 minute. Scrape beaters and bowl, thoroughly. Continue beating 1 minute. Pour equal amounts of batter into prepared cake pans. Bake about 30 minutes.

When done, cake will spring back quickly when pressed with finger. Cool on cake rack 5 minutes; loosen sides carefully with spatula, leaves on rack; remove pans. Cool thoroughly before frosting.

Pink Mint Frosting: In top of double boiler, mix thoroughly 2 unbeaten egg whites, 1½ cups sugar, 5 tbsps. water, and 1½ tsp. white corn syrup. Beat constantly over rapidly boiling water with hand or electric beater until frosting stands in a peak (about 5 to 7 min.). Remove from water, add ½ tsp. mint flavouring and small amount of red colouring. Beat until thick enough to spread. Tint 3 tbsps. of frosting a deeper pink. Fill and frost cake, making swirls with back of spoon. Fill center of swirls with deeper shade.

You'll wonder how you ever got along without Swiftning You'll be delighted to find how much easier and quicker it is to bake light, fine-flavoured, fresh-keeping cakes with new Swiftning, and you just won't believe you can make such tender fluffy crusts till you try this new kind of shortening. WEST IS READY TO CHALLENGE RUSSIA'S CLAIMS

Not Plotting Atomic War Through Pact

New York, April 14 (CP)—The western powers today were prepared to challenge Russia's charges in the U.N. Security Council that they plot an aggressive atomic war through the Atlantic pact.

Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, was reported ready to ask for a chance to reply to the blast delivered yesterday by Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's No. 1 delegate to the council.

Gromyko's 75-minute address followed Austin's statement that the United States is not afraid of the veto as determining the confidence of U.N. members in efforts of the Security Council to maintain peace.

The Russian replied with a counter-charge that the western powers were wrecking the U.N. by forming alliances which, he said were violations of the U.N. charter.

The dominion came in for a sideswipe from Gromyko. He claimed Canada, the United States was building "secret bases" in Canada he said, is a threat to peace on Russia.

Russia previously criticized the pact in a note to the United States, but Gromyko's slap was the first in the U.N.

No Recommendations

Gromyko however, made no recommendations in the U.N. Security Council for action against the pact whose signatories he said, were trying to encircle Russia.

"The conclusion of the North Atlantic treaty signifies that the ruling circles of United States and Great Britain have reversed to the old Anti-Soviet course in foreign policy aimed at isolating the U.S.S.R.

Russia's aim is "to uphold the basic principles of the United Nations, to frustrate the plans of the aggressive circles to unmask warmongers."

Austin issued a statement to the press Wednesday eve denying the Atlantic pact is a threat to any country. He said no country had anything to fear from the treaty unless it planned to attack one of the countries which signed the pact.

Technically, the issue before the Assembly still was the veto question, but many delegates were reported ready to forget their prepared speeches to include statements on the pact.

Poland, Czechoslovakia and others then said they were expected to have long prepared speeches ready to back Gromyko when he took the western countries.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs Britain was expected to answer the Russian charges.

Drum Majorette Of Queen's Chosen As Pin-up Girl

Kingston, April 14 — (CP)—Margo MacGregor, drum majorette of the Queen's University band, has been chosen pin-up girl of an R.A.F. squadron flying the Berlin airlift.

The second-year student from Pembroke, Ont., received a letter from the squadron, based at Lyneham in Wilts, England, asking for autographed pictures of the pretty drum major who is a well-known figure at intercollegiate football games.

"I can fly coal and flour all year if I had a girl like that on my instrument panel," one of the pilots said when told about Margo.

The squadron first learned of her through Leslie Guy of Kingston, a friend of Sqdn. Ldr. M. W. Moore, formerly stationed here. Sqdn. Ldr. Moore is also a member of the airlift squadron.

MAIL HANDLER ARRESTED

New York, April 14 (AP) — Nathan Tokofasky, 33, mail handler at Pennsylvania station here, yesterday was accused of stealing $50,000 worth of merchandise from the mails by pasting new labels over the original address on packages. The new labels carried an address where Tokofasky was alleged to have received the parcels.

WORKING AT 81

Gananoque, April 14 — (CP) — Seven months' illness at 81 years could start most men thinking of retiring to their rocking chair and slippers. But not William Baldwin of Gananoque, who reported for work Tuesday at the Link Manufacturing Company after his convalescence. He has worked there since early in the Second World War.

Four Persons Seriously Injured As Cars Collide

Sudbury, April 14 — (CP) — Four persons suffered serious injuries in a two-car collision at the junction of the Falconbridge highway and Highway 17, just outside Sudbury, Wednesday night. All four are reported in satisfactory condition in hospital, although complete examination of their injuries has not been completed.

Injured in the crash were: Mrs. Inez Pegoraro, Sudbury, who suffered possible fractured ribs and right clavicle and shock;

Thomas Butler, of the Ontario hydro project near Falconbridge, who suffered a severely cracked head and face and a possible fractured skull;

Albert Bernier, Sudbury, undetermined injuries and shock;

Mrs. Lougheed, Sudbury, fractured nose, lacerated right knee, fractured left hand and fractured foot.

Details of the accident were not immediately available.

It is believed that the Pegoraro car pulled out into highway 17, and was struck by the Bernier car. Both cars were badly demolished together, and are total wrecks.

The impact drove the two vehicles a distance of over 70 feet across the highway.

Maundy Service At Abbey Attended By Elizabeth

London, April 14 (CP) Princess Elizabeth today represented the King at the age-old Royal Maundy ceremony at Westminster Abbey.

She saw the Lord High Almoner, Bishop of Lichfield, distribute purses containing specially-minted Maundy money to 76 old women and 21 old men of the parish.

Each received 84d. in pennies, twopences, threepences and fourpence coins. The amount of money was chosen in token of the King's age, 84. This year 24 men and 84 women were entitled to gifts but one man was unable to attend. They will receive their gifts later.

MANY VISIT STATES

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — Some Toronto banks ran out of United States currency yesterday in the face of a heavy run on American currency by thousands of Easter holiday travellers planning to spend their holiday south of the border.

Railway and bus companies report a heavy demand for tickets, with New York and Buffalo the favorite destinations. Extra buses are being added on route from Toronto to Northport, Ontario and the Lake Simcoe district.

WANTS NEWSPRINT FACTORIES IN ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, April 14 (Reuters) — President Juan Peron yesterday issued an invitation to foreign and domestic capital to set up newsprint factories in Argentina to overcome an acute shortage of newsprint. Those qualifying will receive special facilities, including exchange to import necessary materials, which will be allowed in duty free.

NATIONALISTS RECAPTURE CITY OF KAOCHIAO

Appears Nationalist China Breaking Up Into Separate Parts

Nanking, April 14 (AP)— Government forces today recaptured Kaochiao, 50 miles east of Nanking, amid some indications it had lost the civil war and surrendered to the Communists.

At the same time, the government apparently had lost the Yangtze River island of Taiyangchow, 70 miles southwest of Shanghai, to the Communists.

The China puzzle was complex. But it seemed apparent to neutral observers that Nationalist China was breaking up into separate military and political parts.

The Communist radio in Peiping announced formal peace talks had started after 13 days of preliminary meetings. In effect, they seemed to mean to observers here that the government negotiators had agreed to eight points laid down by the Communists. They amounted to virtual surrender.

But that is political. And the politicians negotiating do not represent all of Nationalist China, which continues to fight on in the south of the Yangtze.

South Hsiang Hsiang Shanghai apparently still belongs to retired president Chiang Kai-Shek, even though he has publicly disclaimed any interest in the whole business.

The Nanking government's sector—at least that part controlled by Li Tsung-Jen—seems to be the rich Yangtze Valley. But even there there is a question of divided authority and loyalty.

That leaves the Communists actually in possession of north China and Manchuria, which is about 7 per cent of the country geographically speaking and comprises about 90,000,000 people.

With the states thus divided, the recapture of Kaochiao and the loss of the island of Taiyangchow mean little to the over-all picture.

PROBING BREAK-IN

Toronto, April 14 (CP)— Police today were investigating a break-in during the night in which thieves took a small safe containing some $1,000-$2,000 in cash and cheques, from the offices of McCormick's Ltd., biscuit factory in northwest Toronto, and drove the box away in the company's truck. A police constable found a window forced when he made his 2.15 a.m. rounds.

TAUGHT AT QUEEN'S

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — William Robert Greaves, former Professor at the University of Toronto and Queen's University, Kingston, died Tuesday at Battleboro, Vt. Born in Minnesota, Prof. Greaves taught at Queen's from 1911 to 1913 and at Victoria College, Toronto, from 1916 to 1929. He retired in 1944 as Professor of Public Speaking at Yale University.

Support for New Labor Proposals Seems Assured

London, April 14. (Reuters)—Trade-Union support for Labor's new nationalization proposals announced in the party's draft program for next year's general election seems assured, but not without much further discussion and bargaining in the Labor movement.

First reaction by Union quarters were far from unanimous. In some cases the new Labor program does not go so far with Nationalization as some Unions desired.

In the case of insurance it goes farther than they contemplated.

Discussions will top in being the varying school of thought into agreement and annual Trades Union Congress Resolutions will show how far the dissidents have been able to persuade more radical measures than those now proposed.

The first meeting April 23 will be between members of the Labor party executive and leaders of the National Federation of Trade Unions, which claims insurance workers and 42,000 employees in insurance companies scheduled for State control.

After meeting Labor leaders and getting more details of their intentions, the Federation may call a conference next month to hear the views of the Nationalization which it at first opposed.

The National Amalgamated Union of Shop Assistants, Warehousemen and Clerks—Labor's employees of the Co-operative Insurance Society controlling 17,000 members—favor nationalization.

Trade Unions in the chemical industry are equally divided.

Less than one-third of the 360,000 workers in the Industry are in Unions and they are split between the transport and general workers unions and the National Union of Clerks and Technical and Allied workers and chemical workers. The two big general unions oppose immediate nationalization the two smaller unions support it.

The confederation of shipbuilding and engineering unions wants nationalization "but simply all shipbuilding but of all "marine industries".

Nationalization of sugar manufacturing and refining, of cement and of wood working skings appears to have solid union support.

There is no difference of opinion on the management—all are strongly opposed to further state intervention.

Youth Recaptured Within 12 Hours

Sudbury, April 14 — (CP) — Malcolm Macdonald, alias M. G. Goldsmith, aged 21, had a scant 12 hours as a free man after his swash Industrial Farm Wednesday. His was recaptured shortly before 8 p.m. after he had escaped from the custody of a work party at the jail farm at 9 o'clock in the morning.

MacDonald was recaptured only a short distance north of the main camp. He was evidently endeavoring to make his way to the C. N. R. line, in hopes of catching a freight train and making his way out of the north.

Ford's Theatre in Washington Where Lincoln Assassinated 84 Years Ago, Hallowed Spot

Washington, April 14 (CP) On noisy 12th Street, in the bustling heart of downtown Washington, is one of the capital's most hallowed buildings—Ford's Theatre, where Abraham Lincoln was assassinated 84 years ago tonight by John Wilkes Booth.

It now is a museum containing a rich collection of Lincoln's photographs, clothing, documents and personal belongings.

Across the street is the tiny peterson House where Lincoln, his huge frame stretched diagonally across a small bed, died in the early morning of April 15, 1865.

In the old theatre is an almost boundless array of history. There is a wooden settee Lincoln had made to order: "I want this settee made large enough to stretch myself on." There are the boots he wore the night he died, the lariwell he used as President, his silver-headed walking cane.

There is one of the 3,000 rails Lincoln split in his youth. It had been used tremendously to the Illinois Republican convention in 1860.

There is a copy of a letter he wrote in 1838 when asked to take something of himself:

"...if any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said, I am, in height, six feet, four inches, nearly; thin in flesh, weighing on an average one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair and grey eyes. No other marks or brands recollected."

Booth Figures in Museum

Booth also figures prominently in the museum. There is the six-inch, single-shot muzzle-loading pistol with which he shot Lincoln; the spur which caught in a flag as he leaped from the flag-draped box; the bowie knife he brandished as he bolted across the stage, one leg broken in the fall. There are neatly-labelled pieces of the rope used to hang Booth's four conspirators.

There is even a wooden bar to secure the outer door of Lincoln's box, as he prepared to see the President. The bar is there.

On the polished wooden floor of the museum is marked an outline of the box and the stage and a straight, narrow line of footprints showing Booth's escape route to the far wings.

Little boys sometimes scamper across the "stage," striving mightily to tread where John Wilkes Booth trod. Most visitors stand quietly in one side, impressed by the solemn hush of this old theatre, where the footsteps of John Wilkes Booth still seem to echo.

GALA OPENING

Music and Hula dancing are features of the opening of the Hawaiian legislature.

London Dock Workers Return To Jobs Saturday

London, April 14—(Reuters)—Stevedores today voted to go back to work, ending a five-day illegal stoppage, and at the same time voted to give the legal three weeks notice of their intention to strike.

Their decision will enable work to begin again — at least temporarily — on more than 80 ships in the River Thames and London docks.

The stevedores, who walked out in protest over the dismissal of a number of workers declared surplus, agreed to go back to work Saturday.

The striking members of the London Mercantile Union and the Transport Workers Union are expected to return to work also on Saturday.

Fifteen thousand men were involved in the strike by this morning, and the stoppage had caused a new crisis when many dockers returning to work found a changed attitude on the part of the employers.

The returning dockers were members of the Transport and General Workers Union, who decided at a mass meeting yesterday to end the day strike.

Employers refused to accept this condition.

The strike began Monday when the 7,000-strong stevedores union, which controls dockers, protested the dismissal without pension of 33 "surplus" and feckin' men.

The strike spread to members of the other unions.

STRIP TEASERS BATTLE

New York, April 14 — (AP) — A false peace hung today over Bradley's Restaurant, where things are not always what they seem. Strip teaser artist Georgia Sothern still is the star of the floor show, she fought it out in the ladies' room at the club on East 54th Street early Wednesday with rival strip teaser, Joan Collier. The two disagreed over who gets on what stage from the floor show — and who wears the falsies.

FELL ON PITCHFORK

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — Six-year-old Ronald Rock, who suffered severe head injuries Tuesday when he fell on a pitchfork at his father's farm near Limehouse, died in hospital today without regaining consciousness. The youngster was injured when a cow, being milked by his father, kicked him against the pitchfork.

E.R.P. Has Good Chance to Succeed Say Top Officials

Paris, April 14 — (AP)—Men on the inside of the European Recovery Program claim it now has a 40- to 60-per-cent chance of long-range success.

The European Recovery Program has already cost the United States about $5,000,000,000 since it was started April 3, 1948.

The total cost may reach $17,000,000,000 before the program is completed in mid-1952.

The pay-off hoped for is nothing less than this: the peaceful evolution of diverse countries toward self-supporting European unity.

More simply, the pay-off might with the impetus of the Atlantic Alliance, be a kind of United States of Western Europe.

E. R. P. is aiming in this direction, is strictly a gamble.

But in short - range activities, E. R. P. is less uncertain.

E. R. P. involves many operations, but most of it is investment banking. It furnishes dollars to stimulate and expand production, a kind of industry through normal commercial channels.

Investment Banker

E. R. P. as an investment banker, tries to make each of its dollars do the work of three or four. In a given country, it is always hoping to make a single dollar and a dollar's exports as well as a dollar to imports, trim a dollar off the national debt as well as add a dollar to capital investment.

The immediate political purpose of E. R. P., when it started in April last year, was to keep Italy has not been cut back, but it has not grown. In other countries, like Norway and Denmark, fellow-travellers have been forsaking the Moscow party line.

In no E. R. P. country is there the likelihood now that communism could win governmental control by anything short of invasion by the Soviet Army.

FIRST CARGOES EXPECTED

Kingston, April 14 — (CP) — First cargoes of grain bound for the elevator here this season are expected this weekend. The grain carries Lemoyne, Stadacona, Donacona and Gleneagles now are on their way from the head. About 2,000,000 bushels of grain are being carried on the four ships.

WESTERN POWERS READY TO LISTEN ABOUT BLOCKADE

In Strongest Position Since Cold War Started

Washington, April 14. (AP)—The United States stood ready today to receive and consider jointly with Britain and France, any proposal Russia might make for lifting the Berlin blockade and renewing four-power talks on Germany.

The Western Powers now are in the strongest position they have attained since the start of the Cold War. In view of this it appeared they would receive negotiations in the Russian blockade, at the outset, at least, largely on their own terms if Russia should come forward with a surprise proposal.

This attitude was clearly confirmed yesterday by State Secretary Acheson, and shortly that the council meets it'll be broken unconditionally, prior to resumption of the four-power discussion on Germany as a whole.

Acheson was reported to make his brief comment on the situation yesterday by an industry about a press dispatch from London. This dispatch attributed to a diplomatic informant a report that Russia recently had ordered Soviet officials in Berlin to return for renewing four-power talks on Germany.

Some informed officials said they had never heard of any Russian idea. At Frankfurt, Germany, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States Military Governor, said he had not approached on it.

If any hope was stirring that the Russians might modify their position and accept western terms in exchange, there was little outward sign to support it.

Moscow radio was heard in London saying that the Anglo-American-French plans for Western Germany are "destined to complete the political dismemberment of Germany, perpetuate the occupation regime, postpone indefinitely the conclusion of a peace treaty and make certain the separate west Germany state is included in the aggressive North Atlantic bloc."

Acheson's comment that the way is open for the Russians to make some move regarding the German situation if they wish to do so provided a lonesome, but perhaps significant, indication of a peace hope in the midst of a considerable barrage of German west Germany is included in the aggressive North Atlantic bloc."

The Easter Hare Is Like Our Dear Old Friend Santa Claus

What a busy little animal the Easter bunny will be this night hopping about, hiding the brightly colored eggs in the most surprising places for excited kiddies to find in the morning. And a fine hunt they will have, much a hurry and scurry to see who can find the greatest number of hidden treasures. The Easter rabbit is like our dear old friend, Santa Claus, for he comes secretly at night when nobody is about to see him arrive or watch him at work. Then too, like Santa, he comes with a pack of good things, charming gifts that children love, eggs both real and candy,-down chicks and quacky ducks and bunnies that hop around when you wound them. Nor does he forget grown-ups when he is distributing his good things, for he brings to mothers and sisters, aunties and cousins that chief delight of the spring season — the Easter bonnet.—Central Press Canadian.

No Newspapers For Third Day In Washington

Washington, April 13 (AP) — Washington, source of much of the world's news, was without a newspaper of its own for the third day today as both strikers and publishers refused to make further concessions.

A government effort to end the walkout of AFL pressmen and stereotypers failed yesterday.

But the pressmen, in a statement today, offered to make "every effort humanly possible" to end the dispute.

The pressmen are seeking, among other things, an $8 weekly pay boost, and a 35-hour work week instead of the present 37 1-2 hours. Their present basic weekly wage is $79.10.

Publishers have offered to raise that by $6, and have made the same offer to the stereotypers, who are asking $8 over their present $78.60 a week, plus a cut of one hour in their present 33 1-2-hour work week.

All four newspapers were in constant readiness to publish once the dispute ends. They were through all operations daily except the last two—which are those affected by the walkout.

NEW WASHING DISCOVERY WITH SUPER-WETTING ACTION

washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, EASIER than any soap on earth!

FAB's Super-Wetting Action means that when you wash with FAB, the FAB-and-water solution instantly penetrates materials . . . soaks them more thoroughly. FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—gets fluoride materials' pushes dirt out!

FAB means faster, cleaner, easier washing of dirtiest overalls, towels, work and play clothes! FAB brings extra-dirt-removing power for extra-clean results! FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—does away with clinging soap scum! Brings you whiter shirts, towels, and sheets!

Don't miss FABulous FAB . . . the only thing you'll need for everything you wash!

Now scientific washing power found in Colgate-Palmolive-Peet is a FABulous work saver for the cleanest overalls, work shirts, children's clothes, towels, sheets . . . everything that's extra dirty!

WHAT IS SUPER-WETTING ACTION?

See for yourself! Take a length of cotton sewing thread. Roll it into a ball. Drop it into a glass of water. It floats; does not penetrate completely wet for a long time.

Now drop another little ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks, becomes completely soaked at once. This simple test shows you how FAB makes wet water . . . instantly penetrates all washable materials faster . . . pushes dirt out!

That's FAB's FABulous Super-Wetting Action . . . something no soap on earth can give you!

African Red Locust Control Service Situated in S. A.

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, April 13 (CP) — The African red locust is just as tough as the Prairie grasshopper but scientists say he's just about lick-ed.

Representatives of four countries—the United Kingdom as a colonial power, Southern Rhodesia, South Africa and Belgium—recently met in London to sign a convention establishing the International Red Locust Control Service.

The council will establish a headquarters at Abercorn, Southern Rhodesia, and all members will contribute to its maintenance. Whatever it costs, they consider it will be cheaper than the £3,-120,000 ($332,480,000) in crop losses marked up against locusts in the 10-year period from 1925 to 1935.

The agreement culminates a long war against the African locust. Entomologists met in Rome in 1931 and, among other things, undertook a study of locust movements and breeding habits.

—Reports from 40 countries finally established that nearly all outbreaks could be traced to certain areas such as: the Sudan along the Red Sea coastal belt.

Winter Rain

The scientists found that every 11 or 12 years rains came and these areas were heavy and vegetation plentiful. The locusts increased with the coming of summer crowded into valleys and cultivated patches.

Anti-locust services were established in the early '40s and in June, 1947, Dr. B. P. Uvarov, director of the London anti-locust research centre, said that "energetic campaigns had checked invasions but had not eliminated the locusts.

The research centre in London will co-ordinate the campaigns in Africa and will warn local control units of threatening outbreaks and continue to work towards eradication of the pest.

The purpose is to strike at locust swarms as soon as they begin to assemble, and the location of outbreak centres has been established.

Success Last Year

One successful campaign was waged last year when a threatened outbreak was spotted in Central Africa, developing from small swarms from which had left an uninhabited area and started to breed elsewhere.

"The main method used to combat this threat was the spraying of gammexane from hand-pumps. This new poison has proved deadly to locusts but harmless to cattle, sheep and camels," said a report.

TWEED

Tweed—Mrs. Fred Fletcher of Belleville, Mr. W. J. Spry of Montreal, are visiting their sister, Mrs. S. B. McGee and Mr. McGee.

Mrs. Maria McDonald of Peterborough is visiting relatives in town and attended the funeral of the late Miss Libbie Bath.

The first service of Holy Week was held Monday night in St. John's United Church. The speaker was Rev. A. Shorten, B.A., B.D. of Foxboro who gave a very impressive Easter message. An unaccompanied quartet sung by Mrs. Connor, Sharpe, Beatty and Miss Pam Sharpe was much enjoyed.

W. A. Play "Listen Ladies"

A very fine play "Listen Ladies" was presented in St. John's United Church Sunday School Rooms on Friday night by group 3 under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Albert. The play under many handicaps due to flu and cold was well presented and those taking part were commended on their fine performance. The cast was as follows: Mrs. F. Manion, Mrs. Y. Arden, Miss Joyce Goodfellow, Mrs. H. Foster, Mrs. Gerald, Mrs. Bob Bronson, Mrs. Bill March, Mrs. R. Sexsmith, Mrs. Ray Thompson, and Mrs. McTaggart. It has been requested that the group give a repeat performance at a later date.

Finer fruit—bigger picks WITH C-I-L SPRAYS

USE C-I-L'S COMPLETE PROGRAMME

FERMATE for Apple Scab.

The only available fungicide which is compatible with oil-lead arsenate and oil-nicotine. Does not normally cause russeting and usually improves size, colour and finish of fruit. Especially valuable during the "change-over" spray. Recommended in Government spray programmes.

SULFORON Micro-Fine Wettable Sulphur.

Milder, easier on foliage than Bordeaux or lime-sulphur. Micro-fine particles assure more thorough coverage of surfaces where scab protection is most needed. SULFORON is completely wettable, stays in suspension and does not clog nozzles. Compatible with most standard insecticides, including DDT.

C-I-L PARATHION.

A 15% wettable powder, which has given outstanding results in the control of European red mite, aphids, eye-spotted bud moth and many other hard-to-kill insects.

C-I-L 50% WETTABLE DDT.

The most widely used DDT orchard insecticide. Combined with C-I-L Parathion, it gives excellent control of BOTH codling moth and European red mite. Ultra-micron particle size provides superior suspension and adhesive qualities.

Sunday School Lesson of the Week

Christianity's Basic Fact

By ROY L. SMITH

It is a matter of the utmost seriousness that the Christians celebrate Easter, for the fact of the resurrection of Jesus is absolutely basic in the Christian faith. Except for the resurrection there would have been no Christian religion.

It Produced the Church

The central fact of the early Christian preaching was that Jesus of Nazareth had been crucified by Rome and had been raised from the dead. The story of one who had defied the law and ignored death captured the imagination of the ancient world with the result that churches began to spring up everywhere.

Other popular preachers had appeared, such as John the Baptist, for instance, but in every case when they died they remained dead. In many cases such preachers had proclaimed great gospels, but they did not have the authentication of a resurrection.

Those first Century Christians were ready to die rather than renounce their faith in the fact that Jesus was alive. Hundreds of them testified that they had seen him; hundreds of thousands testified to the fact that a new spirit of life and hope had entered into their lives as a result of believing in Jesus and his resurrection. Around this faith the Church grew up.

It Produced the New Testament

Everywhere the early Christian preachers went declaring their faith in a risen Lord and men began asking, "What kind of man is this who, being dead, is alive?" or, as the Greeks might have said "What is your explanation of this man Jesus?"

To answer these questions each of which was altogether legitimate, the great Christian thinkers began putting their convictions down in books. Certain devoted disciples went to great pains to preserve in literary form some account of his life and teachings. Great thinkers and preachers, anxious to hold the churches in line in behalf of good conduct and straight thinking, wrote letters to them giving counsel and instructions. Finally a considerable number of these writings were gathered together in one collection and called The New Testament. But without the resurrection it would never have happened.

It Produced Christian Theology

The Greeks were a learned race, fond of asking straight questions. They wanted reasons for everything. They believed that the whole universe could be reduced to some logic and order.

Therefore they began asking the Christians difficult questions. They wanted to know what strange power, what unusual quality, this man Jesus included in His life. What relationship did He bear to God, and to humanity.

Profound thinkers like the author of the Fourth Gospel and the author of the Epistle to the Hebrews, undertook to answer their questions, and in doing so produced the first Christian theology Out of such a book as John's Gospel, for instance, the Christian theologians have been quarrying doctrine for nearly two thousand years.

The Resurrection and Immortality

It is unfortunate that the Christian pulpit does not discuss the question of immortality more frequently, for it is not only a religious problem but also a scientific subject. One of the oldest questions upon human lips is this "If a man die, shall he live again?"

The resurrection of Jesus remains to this day the most satisfactory answer to that inquiry. "Because He lived, we too shall live." If any man mourn, and if any woman's heart is sore distressed, let them look into that empty tomb and take heart.

The Resurrection and Triumph

But the resurrection is more even, than evidence in favor of personal immortality. It is also evidence that no movement any man ever makes in righteousness and truth is ever lost.

The cross was evil's last word. It would have been tragedy of the first order if Cæsar's sword could have ended forever the most beautiful life ever lived. That would have meant that death is the conqueror of this world and of the human soul.

But the cross was not the end. Following Good Friday came Easter morning—death was swallowed up in victory, and any man who has thrown his life in on the side of honor, truth, duty righteousness, or God need have no fear. Death does not have the last word in this world. That word belongs to God and the resurrection.

April in Canada

April in Canada! Silver streams are flowing,
Limpid lakes are gleaming from icy fetters free,
And in shower and shadow, or in sunshine glowing,
Hear the robins singing of the summer days to be.

April in Canada! See the crows are drifting,
Casting darksome shadows from tops of lofty trees,
And the sun is gleaming as the clouds are rifting
And the grass is greening, touched by the April breeze.

April in Canada! Willows now are gleaming
In the misty meadows, by the freshet stream,
And from distant hilltops fair with promise teeming
Comes the laughing Springtime, fresh from winter's dream.

April in Canada! What new hopes are springing!
What new roads are winding throughout the coming years!
Month of mist and music sets the heart to singing—
And the sweetest music is what the Spirit hears.

Lucky "Three" Gives Toronto Victory and 3-0 Edge Over Detroit in Stanley Cup Finals

By FRASER MacDOUGALL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, April 14 — (CP) — There's Stanley Cup victory magic in the number "three" for Toronto Maple Leafs.

When they downed Detroit Red Wings 3-1 Wednesday night to take a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven cup final, it was the third time that three goals brought the defending champions through. They won the series opener 3-2, the second game 3-1.

Now they need only one more victory to become the first team to win the trophy three times in succession since it became the symbol of modern world professional hockey supremacy.

Backed by the spectacular work of veteran Turk Broda in goal, the Leafs held off a determined Detroit offensive through the first period and into the second before they took command of the game themselves and drove in their three goals in less than six minutes.

The Wings started off with the same sort of solid play that won them the Stanley Cup in regular season. They took a 1-0 lead within five minutes on a screened shot by defenceman Jack Stewart from just inside the blue line. Pete Horeck fed him a diagonal passout right from the Toronto corner. The puck whistled past several players on both sides before the rugged defenseman trapped it, then took his time in picking the open side of the net.

Through the rest of the first period, the Wings rode out three minor penalties to Toronto's one. They played with assurance again to start the second but the Leafs suddenly caught fire, scored quickly and gave a lucky penalty which left them two men short for 23 seconds.

Fought Off Wings

First there was a penalty to Stewart of the Wings, at 6:41. Defenseman Garth Boesch of the Leafs followed him at 7:16 and right winger Bill Ezinicki was chased at 8:33. Centre Ted Kennedy and defenceman Jim Thomson and Gus Mortson fought off the Wings for the 23 seconds Boesch and Ezinicki sat together in the box.

The Leafs had the best of the play while Ezinicki finished serving time. Nine seconds after the muscular forward stepped on the ice he scored the score from close range on a rush with Cal Gardner and Harry Watson.

Ted Kennedy, Leaf centre and captain, put Toronto in front one minute and 32 seconds later with a backhand ankle-high drive.

A brush between Ezinicki and Detroit's Ted Lindsay, in which each threw some punches at the Detroit end, brought the combants minor penalties for roughing. Detroit's George Gee drew a 15-minute misconduct for arguing the point with referee George Gravel. Goalie Harry Lumley of Detroit also argued energetically and the incident seemed to throw him off his game.

The Lindsay and Ezinicki penalties had 52 seconds to run when Gus Mortson let loose with a screened shot from the blueline which hit Lumley's stick and bounced into the goal.

Then there was nothing went right for the Wings.

May Change Lineup

Coach Tommy Ivan of the Wings may juggle his lineup somewhat again to start the second but the Leafs,

Ottawa Senators Will be Ready To Meet Marlies

(By The Canadian Press)

A hockey club from the Northern Quebec woods some 125 miles north of Quebec City stands today in Canadian amateur hockey's limelight. And it intends to make the most of it, but the odds are against them.

The club — St. Joseph D'Alma Aces — mesjs the mighty Ottawa Senators in the capital city tonight in a sudden-death game for the right to meet Toronto Marlboros in the Eastern Canada finals of the Allan Cup.

The Aces won the senior "B" title in Quebec. But few, until Wednesday, knew much about the team from the paper town of St. Joseph (population 2,300) on the Saguenay River in county Lac St. Jean.

They have two former professional players in their ranks and Marler-coach Armand Gaudreault a hopeful of chalking up an upset victory. Gaudreault played during the war years for the National Hockey League Boston Bruins.

Biggest Mixup in Years

The story of how the Aces entered the Allan Cup picture and almost entered the Eastern Canada finals unopposed — is the story of one of the biggest mixups in years in Canadian amateur hockey.

The whole business started Wednesday at Midland, Ont., when George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association had delayed too long in naming a team to enter the eastern finals.

He called off the final and named Toronto as the team to meet the Western Canada senior champs.

Soon after Dudley relented and said the Q. A. H. A. could have a few hours to make up its mind about Quebec's representative. And the team would have to be chosen in time to meet Marlboros in Toronto Friday.

Belated Protest

The Quebec Association made a belated protest that Dudley had "overstepped his responsibilities" in previously ordering Ottawa Senators into the eastern final. President Asarie Choquet ordered the Senators to meet the St. Joseph outfit.

And, said Choquet, if Ottawa-Quebec senior champs by virtue of playoff victories against Valleyfield and Sherbrooke — didn't meet St. Joseph then the Aces would be declared winners and meet Toronto.

But with the choice of playing St. Joseph or missing out on the eastern final manager Tommy Gorman had only one answer. He agreed to the sudden - death contest tonight.

The entire playoff series might have gone off smoothly if Quebec had been able to finish playoff series and declare a winner in time, Dudley explained.

The C. A. H. A. at a meeting last January had given the Quebec Association a time-limit extension of three days to finish its playoffs, with the eastern final to start April 12. Another three-day extension to April 15 was granted, but when Quebec asked for more Dudley phoned his ultimatum — the decision to give Toronto the final unless Quebec named its team.

Gordon Wallace Wins Decision Over Nels Beaudry

Hamilton, April 14 (CP)—Gordon Wallace, a blonde Brantford boxer with a good right hand, won a five-round decision Wednesday night over Nels Beaudry of Sudbury in the 160 pound main bout of an amateur fight card.

A free-swinger affair between two 135 pounders was the most crowd-pleasing fight of the night as Grant Riley of Toronto outpounded Rudy Geul of Kitchener to gain a slight margin in a five round decision. Only knockout in the eight bout card was registered by Dave Morden of Brantford who flattened Hamilton's William Wilson in the second round.

Other results included:

Semi-Final

155 pounds— Scotty Mason, Sudbury, won a five-round split decision over Hiram Berry, Toronto.

Preliminaries

135 pounds— Davey Turnbull, Hamilton, won a five round decision over Bobby Case.

145 pounds — Ken Smith, Kitchener, won a three round decision over Gordie Monroe, Toronto.

130 pounds—Chick McPherson, Toronto, won a three round decision over Don Miller, Brantford.

Regina Capitals Meet Their Match In Fort Frances

Regina, April 14 (CP)—Fort Frances Canadians Wednesday night lived up to their reputation as hockey's Cinderella team when they defeated the favored Regina Capitals 8-4 in the opening game of their best-of-five Allan Cup semi-final.

Not the slightest bit awed in the fast-packed arena that boasts four former National Hockey League players, nor by the fact that they were playing on foreign ice, Canadians gave a scrappy display to whip the Caps who had gone 17 games without tasting defeat.

The goals for the team from the little paper town on the Ontario-Minnesota border went to Gord Miller, Doc Johnson, Jack Marshall, Dun Sampson and Mike Hupchuk. Regina's goals were scored by Vic Myles and Cliff Hill, two of the former N.H.L. men, and Red Tilson. Myles had two of the counters.

Coach Cecil Fraser, whose only pre-series prediction had been that his team would make a battle of it, had Canadians humming along with their ontact checkerboard plays. And his Canucks showed they could strike with a vengeance, too, if they rapped home two goals on one occasion when Toby Brown of Caps was off for a major penalty.

Both clubs had disallowed goals in the final period which was dominated by Caps. But leechlike backchecking and the lively footwork of Barefoot in the Fort Frances nets assured the victory for Canadians.

Next game between the two clubs will be played Saturday night.

South Porcupine Takes First Blood In Final Series

St. Catharines, April 14 (CP)—South Porcupine Teepees, playing in front of some sensational goaltending by Ivan McLelland, took first blood in the all Ontario Juvenile A finals here Wednesday night by defeating St. Catharines Lions 6-5.

Lions bombarded the Porcupine goal from every angle and McLelland checked a total of 54 shots. But Smith in the St. Catharines net was called on to handle only 19, including the six which eluded him.

The defending champion Lions took a 1-0 lead in the first period on a goal by Frank Toyne, but Frost and Boone boosted Teepees into a 2-1 margin in the second and they added it away on goals by Bellisle, Kulik, McLaughlin and Boone's second of the night. Teal scored the final Lion goal.

The series continues tomorrow with a third game if necessary Saturday.

Joe Dimaggio Out of Lineup On Opening Day

Baltimore, April 14 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio expects his discharge from Johns Hopkins Hospital today, but there is still the big question of how long it will be before he will keep the big slugger out of the New York Yankees' lineup.

Doctors examined him Wednesday and reported finding "immature calcification deposits" around his heel. His right heel, from which a bony growth, or "spur", had been removed last November, has been bothering him again.

Joe was examined by George A. Bennett, who had treated him often in the past. Afterward, Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, director of the hospital, issued this statement:

DiMaggio was found to be suffering from "immature calcium deposits in tissues adjacent to his heel bone.

"He will receive the usual treatment for this condition, which is seen in many parts of the body. It is expected he will be discharged on April 14, but will continue treatment as an out-patient. The length of the disability will be determined by the results of the treatment.

Dr. T. M. Liddard, a Dallas specialist who examined the Yankee Clipper before he came to Johns Hopkins, described the ailment as an irritation requiring rest, medications and X-rays.

The Yanks open the season Tuesday. They would have little chance of figuring in the American league pennant chase if their $100,000-a-year star is lost for the season.

BLAST KILLS ONE

Clark Field, Philippine Islands, April 14 (AP)—One person was killed and more than 20 were injured at this big United States base today by the explosion of 100 tons of stored bombs.

Cause of the explosion was not determined.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By STEWART NEBBS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Calgary, April 13 (CP)— Statistics are fine, and even necessary, in sport but there may come a time when the average fan, overburdened with statistics, will either wind up a walking encyclopaedia—or in a padded cell.

Things may not have reached that stage yet but Bob (Calgary Herald) Mandel says that in baseball, the most statisticized of all sports, there's a movement afoot for more statistics.

In some quarters, it's urged that individual and team strengths and weaknesses are not shown in the present system. Batting averages are figured over the entire season and against all forms of pitching and those with a bride for figures don't think that's good enough.

They want to know the exact batting average that a particular man at the plate has against the Joe out there on the pitching hill. They want to know how he has been meeting ball with bat during the last couple of weeks. They want to know how he figures against left or right-handed pitching.

He says .300 batting average for the season isn't good enough for those who like to know a moment that advance just what the batter will do in the next few seconds. Slugging Averages

There are those who would like to see the so-called slugging average introduced many years ago, amended so that a player will be credited with only a base hit no matter how he got there, and doubles, triples and home runs worth a little more than just a straight hit in the averages.

They also figure that a baseball player who forms a habit of hitting into double plays, should be penalized with a brace of times at bat, one for forcing a teammate and another for his failure to get to first base.

Says Bob: "It all sounds very complicated and this corner will be happy to see baseball averages remain as is."

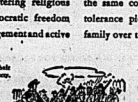
CALVERT 1622 Famous Families CROOKS 1794

In 1794 James Crooks arrived at Niagara from Scotland and engaged in mercantile life. He commanded a Company of Militia in the War of 1812. He served in the Legislative Council for twenty-five years. His son Adam, lawyer and Vice-Chancellor of Toronto University, was appointed Attorney-General in 1871. In 1872 he became Provincial Treasurer and was Minister of Education from 1876 until his retirement in 1883. Truly a distinguished Canadian family.



Great Families Create Great Nations

EARLY in the 17th Century, Calvert, head of the famous Calvert family, distinguished English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland.

Calvert's descendants took a deep personal interest in the welfare of their settlers by fostering religious tolerance and democratic freedom and by their encouragement and active participation in many educational and recreational pursuits which helped to unite these pioneer families into democratic communities.

The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us strive to promote within the great Canadian family the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family over three hundred years ago.

The Calvert family prepares their settlers to defend their liberty.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

From carelessness comes the worst accidents. In bridge we see it, too. Overconfidence in the trick-taking ability of a pair of hands often results in accidental death of a sets contract.

In a recent tournament one south player received a gift slam in diamonds with this deal:

NORTH
♠A 9 4
♥7 3
♦Q J 10 6 5
♣A K J 8

WEST
♠3
♥K J 9 8 3
♣Q 9 4 3

EAST
♠K J0 7 6 5
♥Q 10 5
♦A K 9 8 4
♣10 7 2

SOUTH
♠Q J 8 2
♥A 8 4 2
♦J 3
♣A K 5 7 4
♠None

The west player started off with an opening lead of spade deuce. Obviously there were no trump losers, no club losers, no losers in hearts. A spade should be lost and nothing more.

The north dummy can take the first trick with spade ace. Trumps can be pulled in two rounds. Shifts on the two top dummy clubs can be two south hearts or two south spades.

Thereafter a spade can be lost. Any other cards that need be taken care of can be ruffed back and forth. A declarer could almost close his eyes and make sure of taking his needed 13 tricks.

Feeling sure of making his contract, this one declarer failed to provide against possible danger, instead of grabbing the first trick, dummy ducked and east took the first trick with spade king.

East returned a spade and west ruffed with a dinky trump. This defeated the slam before declarer knew what had struck him. It was pure carelessness on the part of south.

Of course, it could be that south stopped to think and made a bad decision. The lead of a deuce could be from a suit of four cards. That is, if eight have been a fourth best.

If so, the leader might have the king. With such reasoning, south may have thought he could win trick one with spade queen. If so, it was the wrong time to try for an extra trick.

Probably such a mistake would never be made by Maybe I shouldn't have mentioned it.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle:

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma made liver and onions in pop's honor, and pop put on his nife and fork, saying omehow I haven't got the energy to tackle a 3rd helping. Horse feathers! Ma'ma. I've been working too hard. How am I going to hold up 3 more days till Sunday? By not even going to take off all of Saturday too. I'll take more than one day to hild my depleated reserves, he said.

That's a very good idea, William, providing you dont spend the exter day pitseering and pottering around like a bundle of nerves, or providing you dont take it into your head to go out and play golf like a madman and come home drooping like a limp rag, ma said, and pop said, Hive little you know me. I expect to spend the whole day sleeping and yawning and stretching and snoozing in my mos disreptiable clothes, he said.

Now that's sensible, ma said. I'll even dig out your old sweater with the holes in it, if that I wasn't going to let you wear any more, even in private. And just to make sure, I'm going to hide your razor, she said, and pop said, Well now that mite be a mistake. I mite need a little gentle exercise like slowly mowing the lawn, he said.

All rite, but dont ask me where your golf clubs are, because they'll be securely out of reetch, ma said, and pop said, But for Pete sake I've got to use my mussels a little bit or I'll collapse intirely. Dont bame me if I'm in etch a weekend condition I'll have to stay home recuperating all next week, he said.

Oh, all rite for land sakes, I wont hide anything, ma said. Go on out and play golf with your face all out up from shaving in bed more dead than alive, she said.

Probably being what will happen to you into the dining room, pen, only exaggerated.

NAZI OFFICIALS

The courtroom was packed as sentences were pronounced in the same room where Hermann Goering and other top-ranking Nazi leaders were convicted nearly three years ago by an international tribunal.

One of the eight charges in the original indictment was dropped early in the trial. This was a charge of war crimes against the Germans.

The charges were:

Count 1—Planning, initiating and waging a war of aggression.

Count 2—Conspiracy to commit crimes against peace and humanity.

Count 3—Murder and ill-treatment of prisoners-of-war.

Count 4—Dropped.

Count 5—Atrocities and offences against civilian populations (mass extermination of Jews).

Count 6—Plunder and spoliation of invaded countries.

Count 7—Enslavement of conquered people.

Count 8—Membership in criminal organizations.

Weizsaecker was credited with four years he has been in prison awaiting trial, leaving him only three years to serve.

Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, suave English-born chief of the Nazi party's foreign organization, was sentenced to five years. He was convicted only on count eight.

Ernst Woermann, chief of the political division of the German foreign office and pre-war councillor at the London embassy, drew a seven-year sentence on two counts—one and five.

Karl Ritter, former ambassador for special assignments, known as the "hatchet man" of the foreign office, got four years on count three.

Convicted on Three Counts

Edmund Veesenmayer, drew a 20-year sentence. He was convicted on counts five, seven and eight.

Hans Heinrich Lammers, one eyed chief of the Reichscanzellory, who was convicted on six counts—more than any other defendant— also drew a 20 year term. He was found guilty on counts one, three, five, six, seven and eight.

Richard Walther Darre, Argentine born minister for food and agriculture, was sentenced to seven years on counts five, six and eight.

Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press agent, got seven years on counts five and eight.

Lutz Schwein Von Krosigk, former finance minister, got 10 years on counts five and six.

Emil Puhl, Vice President of the Reichsbank, drew a five year sentence on count five.

Head of Bank Given 7 Years

Karl Rasche, head of the powerful Dresdner bank, was sentenced to seven years on counts six and seven.

Paul Koerner, Goering's deputy in the four-year plan and air brain-trust, drew 15 years on four counts — one, six, seven and eight.

Paul Pleiger, Ruhr coal expert who played a leading role in Nazi war production, got 15 years on counts six and eight.

Hans Kehrl, who once headed the war production office was sentenced to 15 years on counts five, six, seven and eight.

The last four defendants to be sentenced were absent from the courtroom because of illness.

Gustav Steengracht von Moyland, bullet-proof chief of the foreign office who succeeded Weizsaecker as state secretary, got a seven- year sentence on counts three and five. He is in hospital with typhoid fever.

A 10-year sentence was passed on Wilhelm Keppler, Hitler's first economic adviser. Keppler, too, is in hospital with complete typhoid, was convicted on counts one, five, six and eight.

The court ruled Wilhelm Stuckart was so ill that any sentence against him would amount to the death penalty, so no sentence was given him in addition to the four years he already has been in prison awaiting trial.

He had been convicted on counts five, six, seven and eight.

Walter Schellenberg, chief of the S. S. Intelligence, was sentenced to six years on counts five and eight.

MELROSE

MELROSE W.M.S.

Melrose — The Melrose Women's Missionary Society was recently held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Reilly. Owing to the Presbyterial in Trenton, the meeting was held over, but the delegates appointed were unable to be in attendance.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Mackenzie, chair was filled by the vice president, Mrs. Russell Macfarlane, who conducted the worship service. The theme, "A New Advance in Christian Missions," impressed each one with the need for sincere individual effort resulting in a bigger and better auxiliary and advance in home and foreign mission work. "Look Ye Saints" was sung. Prayer was offered by Mrs. E. M. Badgley after which the Scripture was read by Mrs. John Weese. Miss Bailey lead in prayer and the offering was received amounting to $2.82.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Grant McLaren, following which items of business were discussed. The Easter thank offering will be received at the next meeting when the ladies will meet for an all-day quilting. This will be held at the home of the secretary. Used clothing and donations will be received, as well as relief abroad. The last chapter of the study book was presented by the leader, Mrs. Pascoe, and Mrs. MacFarlane. Readings, "Advance Means More Members," by Mrs. Irwin, and "Christian Stewardship," by Miss Bailey were given.

Mrs. Reilly sang, to her own accompaniment, "The Old Rugged Cross," and the meeting closed with prayer.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother.

Mrs. Dwynes, Belleville, is staying for a time with Miss A. Clarke who has been ill.

A large attendance enjoyed the Sunday evening service when a junior choir of boys and girls assisted in the singing and the pastor delivered a special message on "The Most Thrilling Rescue Story in the World."

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hodgen spent Tuesday in Kingston and called on Mrs. Arthur Casey at the Kingston General Hospital.

Members of a junior S. S. class with their teacher, Mrs. C. Bentber, were very nicely entertained at the home of Mrs. George Hicks on Tuesday in honor of Nancy Ellen Reynolds' fifth birthday. Games were played and refreshments served by Mrs. Hicks. Congratulations Nancy Ellen.

W. A. group meetings were held on Tuesday at Mrs. C. Bentber's home; on Wednesday at Mrs. W. Scott's; and on Thursday in the S. S. parlors where a quilt was also completed.

Had Indigestion; Suffered With Gas; Afraid to Eat

Kept Getting Worse and Worse, Says This Woman. Often Felt Dizzy, Got Bad Headaches, Couldn't Sleep. Tells How Syntona Helped Her.

MRS. SUSIE BUTLER

"For a long time I suffered with stomach disorders which in spite of everything I took, kept getting worse and worse," said Mrs. Susie Butler, Arkona, Ontario, in a recent statement.

"At times I was afraid to eat, because every meal would cause me gas, sour stomach and stings. I would feel distressed and short of breath. Very often I got dizzy spells and throbbing headaches and I was always having to take something for constipation. Many nights I couldn't sleep well.

"After taken so many different things without benefit that I became discouraged, but when I saw Syntona advertised, I decided to try it. In a very short time I began to notice an improvement. I kept on using it and this medicine has given me wonderful relief. I can now eat what I like and indigestion, gas and dizziness are a thing of the past. I sleep well and I am free of that awful distress and headaches. Now my sleep is more sound and restful and I have more energy to do my work.

"The action of Syntona is often surprising to many people, but there is good reason for this. Syntona contains 13 herbs, roots and barks and acts on stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels. It aids assimilation of food for increased energy and resistance and helps rid the system of excess acid and waste matter.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAN THE DRUGGIST. Find out how it can help you, too.

ATTENTION ALL GROWERS ...Earn MORE MONEY This Year from Any Crop You Grow...

Yes, no matter what you are growing this year, "NA-CHURS" LIQUID FERTILIZER will help you make more profits. "NA-CHURS" is ideal for seed beds, transplanting and side dressing. B.C. U.S. COAST ZONES ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKE — FEAR MORE

The worst earthquake in the history of the Pacific northwest coast shook a significant area from Victoria, B.C., to Salem, Ore. Ghost people were killed and damage was estimated at more than $20,000,000. At least 61 persons were hospitalized and hundreds more suffered minor injuries from falling debris. Hardest hit were Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Chehalis, Centralia, Longview, Kelso and Castle Rock. All fatalities occurred in Washington State. The quake was felt in dozens of B.C. points. Two Vancouver office workers in skyscraper buildings experienced panicky minutes. This automobile parked in front of a hotel in Seattle, Wash., didn't stand a chance when a huge cornice of the hotel, shaken loose by the tremblor, flew threw the air and landed in the street. There was no one in the car at the time. — Central Press Canadian.

ERP Slowly but Surely Erasing Scars of War From Italy to Norway

Paris, April 16 —(AP)— Green wheat covers the once-deadly Anzio Plain in Italy, where seven American and British divisions slugged it out with the German army five short years ago.

Shattered farmhouses at Campo Morto and Formello — grim names, both — are patched up or entirely rebuilt. Tiny boys are as schoolgirls in their new pink pallid.

The wheat grows green. The vines are thick on the Alban slopes.

This is another spring in Italy — better in its promises than any since the war. American administrators at Rome or dollar aid from the European Recovery Program have many impressive graphs showing the rise of Italian industry and agriculture.

But graphs are a skeletonized caricature of the real picture.

In Italy, an ERP counterpart feel that things are getting better.

You take the map of Europe and the Dutch coast. There is Walcheren, the island on which General Eisenhower based a salt flood in 1944. The dikes are rebuilt.

Walcheren, in the land-army battleground, is slowly beginning to bloom. An E.R.P. counterpart found:

Netherlands pay to match their dollar aid — is counted on to keep the rehabilitation going.

But a long-range plan goes beyond that. Several submerged islands are to be raised and drained. They would be entirely new land, increasing the tillable acreage of The Netherlands by six to seven per cent. For a little country, that could be the difference almost between starvation and subsistence.

Then turn to the far north to Hammerfest, little Norwegian fishing, sealing and whaling town which proudly claims to be the northernmost town in the world.

In 1944, the withdrawing Germans army burned Hammerfest to the ground. You'd enjoy it today. The new architecture is blue Fjord echo to the clatter of carpenters' hammers and the shouts of postwar children at play.

Like the rest of Arctic Norway, Hammerfest will spend their last Easter in the British Commonwealth. Proclamation of the Independent Republic of Ireland is planned for the patriotic holiday in Easter week.

Workers in Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia will spend the week work and pray for peace for two Czechoslovak Peace Day.

In Western Germany, Czechoslovakia and some other countries most people are enjoying a four-day holiday as they runs through Easter Monday. The holiday began Thursday in Norway.

Worshippers will crowd the old churches of the continent — St. Peter's in Rome, Notre Dame in Paris and St. Paul's in London. Sports fans and travellers turned out in record numbers for the long weekend.

WALLACE BEERY, BELOVED ACTOR, DIES IN CALIF.

Stricken With Heart Ailment Last Fall

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 16 (AP)—Wallace Beery, 66, beloved movie actor for his good-humored, hard-boiled roles, died Friday night of a heart ailment.

Beery, who had been in pictures for 36 years, was conscious up to the time of his unexpected death at his home. He had been under treatment for more time for a heart condition but appeared to be improving. At his bedside were his divorced wife, Mrs. Rita Beery; a brother, Will Beery; his adopted daughter, Carol Ann; and a nephew, Noah Beery, Jr.

The husky actor's fervent hospital treatment last Nov. 19 after he said he suffered from heart attacks last summer during a trip to his lodge at Jackson Hole, Wyo. At that time doctors said he would have to slow down.

Born in Kansas City, he joined a circus at the age of 16. In 1904 he became a singer with a musical show in New York. Then came stock.

His busy actor's career spanned the years from the United States since before the Second World War. Officials of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Montreal estimated on the basis of applications for U. S. passports that close to 100,000 persons started a southward trek from that city alone.

Airlines put on extra flights to handle the crowds. Customs formed at railway stations and bus depots. A special train was to be put on a train from Toronto to accommodate more than 600 Canadians headed for a holiday in the Orleans.

British Columbia residents were lured into holiday cruises to Alaska, where, with the temperature soaring to 66, a near-record degree.

Accident Toll Light

Thousands of Canadian motorists took to the highways on trips to visit relatives, to prepare the summer cottage for the 1949 season or to join in the holiday festivities in various parts of the country. But despite the volume of traffic, the accident toll was light.

One of the worst traffic accidents was a Good Friday crash near Mattawa, Ont., about 200 miles northeast of Ottawa, which took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Smith of Ottawa and injured two other persons. Police said the Smith automobile was rolled with a transport and a wood-pulp truck.

A house fire at Nictaux Falls, N.S., snuffed out the lives of Mrs. John Bonnell and her son Burns, one. At Virginia, N.S., Allan Potter 13, was drowned in a spring in which he had fallen a cow. Emkie Viel, 66, was killed near Edmonton, Alta., when he was struck with a stick while chopping wood. The body of an unidentified man was found near Caton's Island in the St. John River.

A farm tractor which toppled during a stump-pulling job fatally crushed Adolph Wudrich near St. Catharines, Ont.

SPOKANE FLYERS WIN

Windsor, Ont., April 16 (CP)— Spokane Flyers, champions of the United States senior hockey championship Thursday by defeating Windsor Spitfires 7-2. The win gave Spokane a four-game series, with two games to one.

Cy Rouse and Lorne Nadeau each scored two goals for the winners, while Larry Wilson collected both the Windsor tallies.

Holiday Travel Easter Weekend Greatest in Decade

Record Exodus of Canadians To U.S. Since Before War

(By The Canadian Press)

Canada's Easter weekend is shaping up as the biggest in at least 10 years. Holiday travel is heavy and accidental deaths are relatively light.

A Canadian Press survey showed that the holiday started with fine weather on East and West coasts, clear skies and cool breezes in Manitoba but with thunder, rain and snow in southern sections of Ontario and Quebec. Snow also hit Northern Ontario.

However, the weather in central Canada, is expected to improve for Easter Sunday.

Easing of exchange regulations touched off the greatest holiday exodus of Canadians to the United States since before the Second World War. U.S. officials in Montreal estimated on the basis of applications for U. S. passports that close to 100,000 persons started a southward trek, from that city alone.

Airlines put on extra flights to handle the crowds. Customs formed at railway stations and bus depots. A special train was to be put on a train from Toronto to accommodate more than 600 Canadians headed for a holiday in the Orleans.

NEXT WEEKEND WILL SEE START DAYLIGHT TIME

Farmers / Won't Have It, Alberta Puts on Ban, But Must in B.C.

By The Canadian Press

Daylight saving time— "bugbear" to the rural folk, "blessing" to the city dweller—starts next weekend in most of Canada.

People in one province, Alberta, won't have it. They legislated it out of existence in 1945.

People in another province, British Columbia, must have it. It's a legal "must" for everyone.

Elsewhere in Canada, in most towns and cities and a few villages which have fallen into city ways, people will turn their clocks ahead an hour and leave them that way until Sept. 25.

A few cities will keep daylight time even longer. In some districts Toronto will keep it until Nov. 25 and Cornwall, Ont., until Nov. 26. Montreal and Quebec, being different, are scheduled to return to Standard Time earlier, on Sept. 18. But even they may extend it past that date. Since everything may be provided longer working hours outdoors.

The pulling across the country, excepting Alberta and British Columbia, is not to be uniform. Canada opposite it as much as ever; their stock argument is that it is not fair to the Standard Time. So rural areas generally won't change to the fast time.

Bill Withdrawn

A bill to make Standard Time mandatory throughout was withdrawn in the Manitoba legislature after strong opposition from Winnipeg which developed into a political battle. Local option keeps Brandon on Standard Time but not Steinbach will have Daylight Time.

Ontario, somewhat to the confusion, train schedules across Canada will stay on Standard Time. Most bus services change to Daylight Saving. Officials of the Trans-Canada Air Lines will they continue to Quote scheduled flying time. Thus, but no extra flights in some places to accommodate businessmen and others.

IRISH REPUBLIC TO BE DECLARED NEXT MONDAY

Ireland's Troubled History Will Pass Significant Milestone

By MICHAEL O'MARA
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Dublin, April 16 — (CP) — The troubling history of Ireland's centuries-long struggle for self-rule passes a significant milestone Monday with formal declaration of the Republic of Ireland.

The Republic will include the 26 counties of the south and the six Ulster counties, under a Unionist government which recently won decisive re-election, show signs of giving up the old war-cry "Ulster will fight."

The fight for Irish freedom from English rule has been on for nearly eight centuries—since 1170, when the Earl of Pembroke invaded the country. Irish leaders, split by dissension then offered only scattered resistance.

It was in the Elizabethan era that religious warfare — ever since a strong influence in Anglo-Irish relations — began. Protestant Queen Elizabeth sought to impose a reformation up the Irish Roman Catholics. The Irish fought back.

The Stuart period ended in a Settlement by English and French blood when William III and his Orange forces met Jacobite troops in the fierce battles which Ulstermen still sing about.

Protestant ascendancy for two centuries the lot of the Irish Catholic was to be a hard one. Penal laws were enforced.

Polley More Liberal

From 1800 on, however, British policy toward Ireland became more liberal. By 1803, Gladstone was able to get a home rule bill through the British parliament, only to see the House of Lords reject it. Another land rule bill in 1914 was postponed by the outbreak of the First World War.

The Irish, growing in prosperity, would not wait. In 1916 came the Easter rising, speedily crushed by British arms.

The Irish, despite the efforts of the dreaded British Irregulars, the "Black and Tans," continued guerilla fighting until at last Lloyd George was tired, like the rest of the British people, of the whole "Irish question" — called a peace conference.

From these talks was evolved the treaty whereby the Irish Free State was set up in 1922. But many Irishmen, notably Eamon De Valera, now opposition leader in the Dail, thought the treaty did not meet all Ireland's needs and engaged the "free staters" in civil war. The Republicans lost, but their ideas persisted.

Last November the Dail passed unanimously a bill to change Eire into a republic.

ESSENTIALS OFF RATION

Paris, April 16 (AP)—Butter, cheese and milk went off ration today.

For the first time in nine years a housewife could walk up to the counter and buy dairy products. Only sugar and coffee remain on the food-ration list.

Pleads for Forgiveness After Killing Girl's Father

Merrick, N. Y., April 16 (CP)— 16 (AP)—Devlin Coombs, 22, killed his former girl friend's father early today, then held off police for an hour with a shotgun while pleading for her forgiveness in a bedroom full of tear gas.

Coombs, of Wantagh, N.Y., barricaded himself in the house after slaying Francis S. Fay, 58, in a gun battle on a cellar stairway, police said.

More than a score of police from this Long Island residential town and from nearby communities surrounded the darkened house, but were unable to close in because of the intermittent shotgun blasts.

Police said the youth shouted at them:

"I'll kill the first man that comes near this house."

Tear-gas grenades failed to dislodge him. Finally a policeman crept near a window and shouted assurances that neither he nor the girl would be harmed, if he gave himself up.

Coombs then tossed out his weapon and surrendered.

Police gave this account:

Coombs and Fay's eldest daughter, Veeda, about 22, had been close friends until about a month ago when the father and Coombs had a disagreement. Fay ordered the youth not to see his daughter again.

About 2 a.m. today, Coombs broke into a cellar window of the Fay home. Hearing the noise, Fay investigated, taking a pistol with him.

A gun battle ensued on the cellar stairway, Fay was felled.

Coombs made his way upstairs, broke into a bathroom in which Veeda and her younger sister, Betty, had locked themselves. The girls fled by the window, with their aid and was slightly hurt in the fall. The teenage girl was also hurt, but her injuries were called minor.

Coombs forced Veeda into bedroom and pleaded for a reconciliation. Once the girl's aunt started, he darkened the light, then remained pleading with the girl.

U.K. Building Fleet of Princess Airliners to Match Atlantic Superiority of 'Queen' Liners

London, April 16 (AP)—Britain is building a line of giant "Princess" flying boats to compare in luxury and speed to the world's two famous "Queen" steamships.

In June the first prototype in Trans-Atlantic passenger service, a winged luxury liner is now under construction at the Saunders-Roe Aircraft factory on the Isle of Wight.

Dubbed the "Princess" by her manufacturers, Britain's biggest flying boat will be ready for her maiden flight until February, 1950, for her trans-Atlantic debut. But it is hoped that four others will be completed between 1950 and 1953.

The ten-engined, two decked "ship will carry 105 passengers more than 350 miles an hour. She will have a range of 8,000 miles. Here's how the plane will compare in size with other big aircraft in the world:

Smaller than the flying boat recently completed by Howard Hughes in the United States.

Smaller than the United States Army's XC-99 land plane now under construction.

Larger than the 184,000 pound Lockheed Constitution land plane now being produced for 204 passengers and a crew of 13 across the United States.

Larger than the 225,000 pound British land plane Brabazon, now under construction at the Bristol aircraft controlled British Overseas Airways Corporation.

The British South American Airways Corporation has said it will buy the plane, provided the tests are successful. This would probably be the first fleet unit of the British Overseas Airways Corporation, since these two companies merged Dec. 31.

The Princess, officially known as the BS-45, will be 140 feet long with 220 foot wing span. Her 10-gas turbine engines will develop 3,500 horsepower each for take off. They will drive four double contra-rotating propellors and two single ones.

Czech Relief Worker Released

Prague, Czechoslovakia, April 16 (AP)—Miss Vlasta Vrzal, an American relief worker, was released from a Czechoslovak prison today. She had been held for a week.

She told a United States consul earlier this week, after being held incommunicado three days, that she thought she was being detained for an investigation of the political activities of her self.

The United States Embassy had demanded her early release and asked to be informed of the "specific charges, if any" against Miss Vrzal, of Berwyn, Ill., who headed the Prague office of American relief for Czechoslovakia.

New Steps Toward Forging 'Cancer Bullets' to Kill Disease Reported

Detroit, April 16 (AP)— New steps toward forging chemical bullets to kill cancer were reported today to the American Association for cancer research.

The new things are half a dozen chemicals that destroy parts of tumors and slow down cancer growths in mice and other animals. But they are too poisonous and dangerous, and it is not yet known whether they will be of value for human use.

The fact that they work a little against cancer is hopeful. Starting with them, man-made chemicals may be fashioned which can be injected to seek out and kill cancers without seriously harming the human body.

The new chemicals were described in a series of reports by scientific teams at the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md.

The chemicals were turned up in a search which so far has tested 1,000 different chemicals against cancer. These belonged to various families of chemicals. Out of each 100 tested, only four or five have shown any effect.

Three of the new ones come from a giant, the May Apple or Mandrake Root. A crude extract, podophyllin, from this plant has been used for years to treat and transplanted into mice. The new ones are purified chemicals obtained from this crude stuff.

They are at least effective against the mouse cancer, but are less toxic. Each shows slight differences.

Two curious things turned up in these tests. One is that it makes a difference how the atoms are arranged in the chemicals. They are made of exactly the same things. If the atoms are arranged in a certain way, the chemical works against the cancer, although only partly and tentatively. But if the atoms are spaced slightly differently, it doesn't work.

The other finding is that the chemical arrangement that works seems to do it by interfering in some unknown way with other chemicals, the enzymes systems, inside the cancer cells.

So far these chemicals and others are only clues. The job is to find out how and why they work. Then better ones can be made.

Four Dismissed Appeal to Pope

Newton, Mass, April 16 (AP)— Four Roman Catholic educationists who announced they were dismissed from their posts exceed Boston College of heresy, said Thursday they have appealed to the Pope.

In response to the announcement Very Rev. William J. Keleher, S. J. President of the college, said three of them had been cautioned to remain within their own field—philosophy and theology. Father Keleher said, they had "continued to speak on matters contrary to the traditional teachings of the Catholic Church, in the name of academic freedom and tolerance." They had been told they must cease such teaching or leave the faculty.

Husband Wanted In Connection With Wife's Death

Hudson Bay Junction, Sask., April 16 (CP)—Officers of a vast and afoot today were searching heavy bushland near this northeastern Saskatchewan community for stocky, dark Metro Machuk, 43, wanted for questioning in connection with the death of his wife, whose bludgeoned body was found on the floor of her one-roomed home about 20 miles east of here by neighbors, Tuesday.

She apparently had been beaten to death. Her body was found nearby.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police from Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Hudson Bay Junction are participating in the search, aided by two dogs and a patrol aircraft.

Mrs. Machula had been married only two months to the first husband of the president of the "frontier" are on the northern rim of Saskatchewan in which Machula farms a quarter-section. Many families are in the area, called up" for greater protection.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Toronto, April 16 — (CP) — Synopsis: Cool air covers the entire province of Ontario this morning. Snowflurries are occurring this morning in southern and central regions of the province but the weather will be fair to cloudy today in these regions. Clearing is expected tonight and Easter Sunday will be mostly clear with a little warmer in Southern Ontario.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Toronto, April 16 — (CP) — Dr. John Sheahan of St. Catharines was elected president of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons at the Association's 84th annual meeting Thursday. Dr. Woolner of Ayr was named vice-president.

Gayest Easter For Many Years In West Europe

London, April 16 — (AP) — Western Europe spruced up today for the happiest Easter since prewar days.

In many countries of the continent, working people took a long holiday to rejoice again for the resurrection of Christ 19 centuries ago.

A new-blooming prosperity stemming from their own labor and the Marshall Plan underlies the Easter celebrations. Under the ERP Program gave West Europeans the means for their gayest Easter in the memory.

Britons were ready to revive their Easter parade of spring bonnets. Many have saved them from clothes rationing days. Even the men planned to strut in pastel-hued hats, ties and shirts, while showing off their best clothes.

The French had more holiday days than any. They ended butter rationing and lowered milk and cheese prices today.

The people of Ireland's 26 southern counties will spend their last Easter in the British Commonwealth. Proclamation of the Independent Republic of Ireland is planned for the patriotic holiday in Easter week.

Workers in Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia will spend the week work and pray for peace for two Czechoslovak Peace Day.

In Western Germany, Czechoslovakia and some other countries most people are enjoying a four-day holiday as they runs through Easter Monday. The holiday began Thursday in Norway.

Worshippers will crowd the old churches of the continent — St. Peter's in Rome, Notre Dame in Paris and St. Paul's in London. Sports fans and travellers turned out in record numbers for the long weekend.

Top Secret Cog in Canada's Second World War Defence Never Used

Moncton, N.B., April 16 — (CP) — One of the top secret cogs in Canada's Second World War defence network was disclosed here today.

A Canadian National Railways' official said of a mobile Split-second unit designed and built in 1941 when the threat to Canada's communications by air and sea attack loomed high in the minds of government planners.

The unit was maintained in readiness at Winnipeg Junction, N.S., about 30 miles from the key C.N.R. junction — funnel of Canada's war effort. Purpose of this mobile unit was to assure continuance of communications if regular facilities were put out of commission.

Frank C. Sayer, C.N.R. public relations chief for the Atlantic region, said some aspects of the unit still are on the Dominion's secret list.

One of the cars embodied complete sending and receiving telegraph "office," housed in an ordinary Pullman coach. Another contained generators and transformers and in the third were the living quarters for operators of the unit.

In the event of aerial or sea attack and subsequent disruption of communications in a concentrated area, the cars would have been shunted as near as possible to the communications centre.

Power then would plug in outlets to overhead wires and the vital job of transmitting messages would continue.

The power were used and were dismantled in 1946.

Sayer explained every warborn device came by a nickname, the terminal guests in brief existence known only as "The Cars." Serial numbers alone identified them.

Provision was made for a sixman crew and living accommodations for protracted stay aboard were provided.

"They were quite a set-up," reflected Mr. Sayer. "But I'm glad we didn't have to use them."

Talk on Proper Use of Film Given to Council

The Belleville and District Film Council held its regular monthly meeting at the Corby library last Thursday evening.

The report of the meeting held in Picton last month was presented by Mr. R. Macklem. Several of the local Film Council were there to hear the special speaker, Dr. Roby Kidd, assistant director of Adult Education for Ontario. His talk explained why films are used so extensively and gave hints to guide leaders in their attempts to achieve the maximum value from the use of films. Three films were shown to demonstrate his points.

It was decided to purchase and add to the local library a copy of "Look, Listen and Learn", by Harry Strauss and Roby Kidd. This book deals with the use of audio-visual aids in informal education. Along with the book "Grierson on Documentary" edited by F. Harry which is now in the library, readers interested in this field will have valuable help whenever needed.

Decision to make use of the projector and films continues strong. The president, Mr. H. McElrath, pointed out that the second projector if the council is to cover the field thoroughly in the city.

Mr. R. Ward, National Film Board representative, snowed two interesting films, "Dominion Fire Protection" and "Fighting Prevention" which dealt with the protection of forest fires and with the case of fire. The other film described the work of the Canadian parliament. Information regarding these films may be secured through Mr. Ward, Librarian of the Corby Library.

Women Teachers Of P.E. Meet At Bloomfield

The Wellington unit of the Women Teachers' Association of Prince Edward County held their April meeting at Bloomfield public school the guests of Miss Ival Brown, district president and Mrs. W. Chase.

Arrangements were made for a tea meeting with the Picton unit Women Teachers' Association to take place in May. It was decided to continue work on the "Know Ontario" project. A committee consisting of Miss Barbara Sandford and Mrs. James Gough was asked to prepare a slate of officers for the County Association to be presented at the joint meeting. The president, Miss Helen Vine Hubbs, appointed as delegate to attend the regional assembly in Peterborough, May 7.

Mrs. Chase invited the teachers to hold their June meeting at Jericho School. Mrs. Chase and Miss Grace Hamilton and Mrs. Wall were named a nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the unit association.

Mrs. Ellis Wood, welcoming the teachers and visitors took charge of the following program.

A piano solo by Miss Lois Dorsey. This was followed by a solo by Miss Joan Waters accompanied by Miss Stark.

Dan Beacher's Story

The guest speaker, Mr. Donald Beacher, M.P., was introduced by Miss Stark.

Mr. Beacher described legislative procedure leading up to the passing of a bill and explained the Canadian Superannuation Act, one of the bills passed during the last session of parliament. Salary increase have been made in present pensions and the rate will be increased next September.

Mr. Beacher answered the Education which was appointed in 1945 has already 3 reports to make and will be able to make its findings public.

Miss Irene Walters moved a vote of thanks to the speaker. A humorous reading from a magazine was given by Miss Margaret Donaldson. A piano duet by Miss Stark and Mr. Harold Cleaves, followed by a contest completed the program.

The hostesses and committees then served refreshments and a social half hour was spent. Mrs. Gilles moved a vote of thanks to the Bloomfield teachers for their hospitality.

Scotchlite-a-Bike Campaign

(Photo by Riley.)

The Optimist Club is starting a "Scotchlite-a-bike" campaign today with which they hope to Scotchlite every bicycle in Belleville. Scotchlite is 50 times as powerful as white enamel. Carrier boys of the Ontario Intelligencer have had the Scotchlite applied to their bicycles in a practice run to help the workers in mass production when the campaign gets into full swing. Scotchlighting of the bicycles begins at 4.00 p.m. at the Armouries. Picture shows Scotchlite on the back fender and front fork as applied by the club members. Left to right they are Don Boyce, president of the Optimist Club; carriers Hugh Barclay and Jack Kennedy, and Perry Everett.

Unusually Heavy Rail, Highway Traffic For Easter Holiday

Apparently taking full advantage of the long weekend holiday which for many people started Thursday evening, many Belleville and district residents are spending Easter away from the city.

Starting early Thursday evening motor traffic through the city, both east and west, was exceptionally heavy, with long streams of cars carrying holiday bound people continuing throughout the night and Friday morning.

Bus travel was also heavy with additional buses being put on to carry the extra east and west bound traffic. Additional buses were running on Thursday evening and on Friday.

Railroads also reported heavy Easter traffic with the sections of the fast trains on Thursday evening running between Toronto ago of the long weekend holiday and Montreal. There were two which for many people started sections of the noon train on Thursday and also for the afternoon train to Toronto on Thursday. Two sections of the fast train operated on Friday.

Railroad officials reported passenger traffic "very good" Thursday and Friday but when speaking of travel for Saturday indicated that most persons intending to spend Easter away would probably have gone by Friday evening. Also Saturday morning's snow and rain was thought might have kept a few holidayers at home.

Buses running into the northern part of the county also are considerably heavier traffic with two buses leaving Thursday and Friday where one ordinarily would handle the traffic.

Eggs in Demand On City Market

Inclement weather put a quietus on the local produce market as attendance on the outside market, both from a vendor and buyer standpoint, was considerably below normal.

Eggs were in good demand with many vendors quickly disposing of their stocks at 47 cents for first and 45 cents for mediums.

Chicken also found a ready market, spring broilers fetching 60 cents per pound and with mature fowl ranging down to 50 cents. A few turkeys were offered at 78 cents per pound.

Maple syrup was offered in fairly good quantity at $4 per gallon for pails and the quart will be had maple sugar at five and ten cents each.

Only a few apples were offered. McIntosh sold at 75 cents per basket and snows at 65 cents, whilst Talman Sweets fetched 35 cents per half peck.

Potatoes brought $1.65 to $1.75 per bag, carrots and parsnips 50 cents the half peck, winter onions a dime the bunch and rhubarb 15 cents.

Young pigs were in good demand with farmers asking $13 and $14 each.

Householders Advised To Use Milk Tickets To Prevent Cash Thefts

Repeated instances of milk bottle thefts with money disappearing from milk bottles in several different sections of the city have resulted in some sound advice from Police Chief Walter Trower for householders to use milk tickets instead of placing change in their milk bottles.

"When milk tickets are used instead of change there is not the incentive for stealing," pointed out the police chief. He added that milk tickets are not easily disposed of unless at the dairy in payment for milk.

It is considered that the majority of milk bottle thefts are done by parties in search of ready cash and they would not be bothered with the milk tickets.

Streets Being Given Clean-up

With the winter's snow off the streets at an unusually early date, many streets in the city this spring have been cleaned of the winter refuse of dirt and leaves at a much earlier date.

Some weeks ago employees of the Public Works Department made their rounds of paved streets cleaning away sand and gravel which had been applied as a "non-slip" during the slippery winter months, while later the city street sweeper commenced its rounds to clean refuse from the pavements.

The city engineer's department stated streets had been cleaned this year at a date much earlier than usual.

Thunderstorm Causes Minor Damage Only

An early morning electrical storm, accompanied by a downpour of rain which lasted throughout most of the morning, somewhat lightened the spirits of expectant holidayers Friday morning.

It was the first thunder and lightning to be experienced in the district this season and the rumbling lasted for some hours before it passed over.

Although no serious damage was reported as result of the electrical storm, the lightning did put the CJBQ radio station off the air for slightly more than half an hour, while also the traffic lights at the corner of Pinnacle and Victoria Ave. were out of commission. Until the weather was remedied the red light showed continually on the one traffic artery while cross traffic was given the green light.

The local Public Utilities Commission reported several "outages" both local and rural, as the lightning served to blow out fuses. No trouble, however, was minor, with no major stoppages being reported.

Rainfall was fairly heavy with .81 inches being reported for Belleville on Friday. However, in the Stirling district the rain seemed heavier with creeks running in freshets as result of the downpour. Spring is also the delayed several days as result of the rainfall.

Police Blotter

Only routine matters occupied the attention of the city police department on the holiday. No accidents were reported either in the city or in the immediate district.

City police reported apprehending one drunk driver who was seen to be driving his car in an erratic manner on Front Street. But few drunks were apprehended over the holiday.

An Ann Street woman reported her home had been entered and a sum of money and a raincoat having been taken.

Walter Bellis, Moira Street, East, reported the lock and hatch on his boat anchored in the local bay had been broken. A new water pump was taken from the boat.

Two Men Given Suspended Sentence

Pleading guilty to attempted breaking and entering of the local Army and Navy Veterans hall, Wilfred Woodcock and Lloyd Bailey, both of this city, were given suspended sentence of one year when they appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Willis Thursday afternoon in magistrate's court.

The two young men in addition were assessed costs of $11 each.

Giving summary evidence Inspector J. C. Hayes of the Belleville Police Department, told the court that on the early morning of April 9th, the Army and Navy Veterans' hall manager, Joseph Samain, had been awakened by a noise outside on the roof.

Going out the back door he had seen two men attempting to raise the window leading to the board room of the building. He had called to them, but the two men, Woodcock and Bailyt but when they ran down the fire escape. Mr. Samain notified police and a few minutes later pointed out the two men who were later taken into custody.

Mr. Samain was also called to give evidence, but stated he had nothing to add to what Inspector Hayes had told the court.

Bailyt was also charged with intoxication and paid an additional $13 fine and costs.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMPSON—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Thomas Thompson, who passed away April 17th, 1947.
He is gone but not forgotten
And memory keeps him dear
And many hours of thinking
Of one we loved so much
Days of sadness still come over us
Tears may flow, but the wound is deep
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within the heart concealed.
Ever remembered, Doris. A16

THOMPSON—In loving memory of our dear son, Leonard Thompson, who passed away suddenly, April 17th, 1947.
Those we love, go out of sight,
But not out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts of those they have loved,
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
Ever remembered by mother and dad. A16

THOMPSON—In treasured memory of our dear brother, Leonard Thompson, who passed away April 17th, 1947.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Dear brother, sweet and true,
There is not a day we do not miss you,
There is not a minute of your loss,
Sadly missed by dad and mom. A16

Christ is Crucified

Painting by Edward Byam Poole

"And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

"And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

"And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost." St. Luke 23:44-46.

RED CROSS BANNER IN LINK WITH BATOCHE

Vancouver — (CP) — Stained and bullet-torn, a flag which links today with the exciting story of the Riel Rebellion is on its way "home."

One of the earliest Red Cross flags ever to fly in Canadian history the banner way turned over by its owners to the Red Cross Society here to be sent to Winnipeg where it will be framed and hung in a place of honor.

Mrs. Harold Huggins and her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, both of Vancouver, relinquished the link with the 1885 Battle of Batoche. It had flown over the covered wagon used as a field surgery unit by Mrs. Anderson's father the late Lieut.-Col. Alfred Codd, of Fort Osborne.

Women's Activities

ST. ANDREW'S W.A.

The St. Andrew's Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society held its Easter Thank-offering meeting on Tuesday afternoon.

The President opened the meeting. The minutes and treasurer's report were read. Plans were made to accept the invitation of the Foxboro Auxiliary to the meeting, Wednesday, April 30, and also for a quilting on April 21. The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. John Craig then took charge of the program. Prayer was offered by Mrs. D. L. Fleming. The Easter Story as told in Mark, 16: 1-8, was read impressively and a meditation on it given by Mrs. C. Barager. A beautiful solo "Alone" by Mrs. J. Irish made an appreciative contribution of the program. Mrs. Craig then gave an inspiring talk basing her message on the privilege that Simon, the Cyrenian, had when he helped Jesus carry the Cross.

A social half hour followed the close of the meeting.

SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY

Point Anne — The regular monthly meeting of the Scout Mothers' Auxiliary was recently held at the home of Mrs. M. Youngcutto.

There was a discussion of general business and plans were laid for a father and son banquet to be held in May for the Boy Scouts and Cubs and their fathers.

Following this, Mrs. Youngcutto served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. John Bastedy, and a social half hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Phil Loft invited the ladies to her home for the next meeting.

MELVILLE LADIES' AID

Melville—The Melville Ladies' Aid met on Thursday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. Douglas Palmer and Mrs. Howard Palmer, with the President, Mrs. Arthur Kinnear, presiding. The meeting opened in the usual manner.

Mrs. Kinnear read "Good Friday" and "Easter" instead of the usual Bible reading, followed by the minutes and roll call read by the Secretary, Mrs. J. Root, the roll being answered by an "Easter verse."

Mrs. J. Root offered her home for the May meeting. She then read to us verses from the Bible with "Mother" or a "Bible Mother". She also gave an Easter reading and Mrs. Kinnear gave a piano solo. Mrs. A. Crudick-shank gave a contest consisting of jumbled fruit and vegetable names.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses on behalf of the Aid, who were thanked for their hospitality.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

Belleville Chapter 435 Women of the Moose held the regular meeting in the Conservative rooms with Senior Regent E. Murphy presiding.

Co-worker M. Galbraith and Co-worker Lena Connell, were appointed on the audit committee. One applicant was balloted on for membership. Committee reports were given on Publicity, Co-worker M. Galbraith on Hospital Guild work; Chaplain, Mary Fewings gave a report on "Child Care" that a contribution was made to the Children's Aid Society to help with needy clothing for a family of small children. A letter of appreciation was read from the superintendent of the C.A.I. Society for the donation.

Grand Recorder, Zola Kenney, of Moosehaven, acknowledged the contribution to sponsors of Music Scholarship Fund. The usual Birthday party for this month is to take place the last Monday in this month.

BILLIARD BALLS MANDY FOR YEGGS

Capetown — (CP) — billiard balls were put to novel use by thieves who stole a safe from the Imperial Hotel here. The safe contained more than $300 ($1,500) in cash.

The thieves, lifted it off its stand in the office, next to the billiard room, and rolled it out to the street on billiard and snooker balls.

ANCIENT CRICKET GROUND

Meopham, Kent, England (CP) A special committee has been set up for the upkeep of Meopham's Green, on which cricket has been played for more than 250 years.

Camera Club Meets

On Tuesday evening the Belleville Camera Club held its bi-monthly meeting at the Corby Public Library, Mr. Hedley James reviewed April's issue of Mexican photography from which the members obtained many hints on color and infra-red photography.

"Portraits" was the subject of the April print competition. Bill McCormick won top honors with a fine portrait of his two son entitled "Two Rascals." A print made by Mr. James and one by Mrs. Howard won second and third prizes respectively.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the club members went to the home of Mr. W. F. Tonkin. Here Mr. Tonkin demonstrated the method of obtaining the proper lighting effects in table top photography.

Judging the Oshawa prints was the highlight of the evening. After much discussion the members awarded C. Johnson first place for his portrait of a baby entitled "Hi." C. Johnson again attained laurels by winning the second award for his print, "Sky Broom." "Fantasy in Straws," by C. H. Cooper won third prize. After judging the Oshawa prints the members enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Tonkin.

EASTER JOYS

Easter, the spring festival of Christianity, celebrating the Resurrection, comes again in all its beauty and appeal to the hearts of men and women and children. The long period of Lent, coinciding with the depth of winter, comes to a close with the most inspiring ceremonies of worship in the church. In this part of the world, it is apt that the season is in the spring when the world of nature has been released from the bondage of winter and life is reviving on every hand, in the trees, in the gardens, the fields. The migrant birds have been returning, the buds are swelling on the trees and the outer world takes on all the signs and glory of life.

About this festival the church has gathered a wealth of appeal, which worshippers feel in their very nature. Churches and sanctuaries are decorated with flowers, emblematic of the time and of the festival. Music, created by the inspired masters expresses the soul of the occasion in forms which make no small contribution to the spirit of the celebration. Everywhere is the sense of joy and of hope and of the majesty of life as interpreted in the message of the Resurrection and the lessons taught by the Master in His ministry among men.

About Easter as about Christmas have been assembled the richest forms of worship which leave an abiding influence in the hearts of the people. To adults Easter is a day of joy and of certainty and to the children it comes with influences which will abide in them to the latest day of their lives. It is a time when the people sing from the depths of their hearts for joy and the blessings of life and the sense of freedom and liberation. Easter teaches the lesson of life and it is Christians it brings the assurance of an eternity of individual life. This appeal has always been felt in the heart of man.

Gladness is in the heart for the Master gave in His Resurrection the assurance to His followers that life is continuous and does not end with the grave.

Easter is the answer to the cry of human hearts for proof of that eternal spring of immortality.

So the Christian world celebrates the Resurrection with all the fervor and joy which the human heart is able to express.

WILD LIFE WEEK

National Wild Life Week has been observed in Canada this week. It is a plan of education in respect to the conservation of birds, wild animals and the fisheries resources of the country.

Mention of such a subject immediately calls up the name of one of the great naturalists of any age, the late Jack Miner, and it is very appropriate that this week of observances has coincided with the anniversary of this great lover of wild life who did more to attract attention to the numerous resources in Canada than in her game birds and animals, her fisheries and her natural assets in forest, lake and stream, than any other man.

Lessons the late Jack Miner taught the people of Canada and also the United States and through them other lands and of the greatest importance to nature as they were also during Mr. Miner's lifetime and since his death. The influences he left are enhancing the natural heritage this country possesses in her wild life and with the co-operation of many other individuals the work can be enlarged so that every Canadian will be conscious of the importance of the preservation of wild life assets in the appeal it makes to the tourists, in the lessons it teaches any Canadians who have not yet realized the importance of this factor in Canada's economic structure and in the safeguarding through the birds, the forest and agricultural wealth of any country.

Jack Miner has also had influence in attracting the attention of the people back to nature. The life of nature is the background against which human existence is set and on which it depends. Children, youths and their elders have all felt a profound regard for nature and the lessons of life to be learned in the woodland, in the field and on the waters.

Sportsmen's organizations, the schools, the churches and individuals have benefited by the lessons taught by the late Jack Miner and are spreading the message he left as a result by his untiring efforts.

JUST FOLKS

BEFORE AND AFTER

In speaking of the living, one set of words we choose
And everyone is labelled by the adjectives we use.
We speak of some as clever, some as rich are known,
Since everyone is tabled of by the traits which he has shown.
But what about the living by his fellow men is said,
Is very seldom uttered when we talk about the dead.

Oh, whether priest or parson speaks the final solemn rite,
The viewpoint of the living neither one will choose to cite.
Though his comrades, wise or foolish, long had stamped him ere he died,
The judgments of the gossips at the bier are brushed aside
And the adjectives then spoken are the gentler, simpler few
Such as tender, kind, devoted, brave and generous and true.

'Tis all so very different when the end comes, it is said.
The soul is all that matters when we're speaking of the dead.
The pride in wealth is ended, and the fanfare is at which we sneered
With the passing of the spirit have forever disappeared.
And a happier world [illegible] tain we should shortly come to see
If the living, to the living, would a little fairer be.

EASTER

Easter morning at dawn, a group of weeping, broken-hearted women, at the sepulchre of our Lord! Easter afternoon, the risen Lord walked with two sad hearts between Jerusalem and Emmaus with two disciples who were not recognized as Him remembered the crucifixion, but were greatly baffled as to why, in a God-controlled world, a thing as unjust as the crucifixion should have taken place.

Broken-hearted women and broken-minded men! It was to these two groups that our Lord Jesus spoke words of reassurance on the first Easter Day, "Be not afraid." Again He spoke, repeated up to the two disciples the afraid." He said. As they walked Scriptures until their hearts burned joyfully within them.

To the broken-hearted in every age and to the broken-minded in this chaotic age of the risen Christ still speaks. What He says is the only thing that will turn sorrow into joy. His counsel alone will turn the nations of the world from confusion, bewilderment, strife and lead us into the ways of peace.

Let us remember at this Easter season that Christ is real, living in the world today, just as He was on the first Easter Sunday. And if we will let him speak to us, He will dry our tears and comfort our hearts. If we heed His counsel as we ponder life's problems, the glory of the resurrection will make life's pathway plain before our feet.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

"But whichever way I go, I am glad I came," wrote the famous John Burroughs about his wanderings in the fields and woods of Virginia.

That seems to be just about the perfect motto for the ever-increasing multitude of Canadians who are taking pleasure in the out-of-doors.

Burroughs has been dead since 1921. He was born in New York State the year of the Mackenzie-Papineau rebellion in Canada, 1837. He was first a school teacher, then a bank clerk. In 1864, he was a clerk in the United States Treasury. In 1874, he retired to a farm at Esopus, N.Y., and at the age of 37 devoted himself to a career of writing about nature. That was a whole generation ahead of the large school of nature writers that included, Seton-Thompson, Long, and Charles G D. Roberts.

But the curious fact remains open to challenge that Burroughs is still today, more than half a century after his death, the most read nature writer in the history of this continent. He lived to the age of 84. He knew Carlyle. He was also a crony of Henry Ford, and Thomas Alva Edison.

The great secret of success of his many nature books are to be had in book stores and particularly at the second hand book dealers. They actually are pocket editions, no bigger than a prayer book.

Let us get out of book of "Wake-Robin," "Locusts and Wild Honey," "Winter Sunshine," —that you can read a fifteen-minute chapter of, on a day like this; and then go out for a walk with eyes as refreshed and alert as though you were yourself a creature of the open-air, instead of a prisoner of city or town. Whichever way you go, burroughs makes you glad you came.

Mackenzie's Column: 'Cold War' May Continue For Indefinite Time

By DEWITT MACKENZIE,
(Associated Press News Analyst)

This being the season of fresh hopes and new, it is only natural to turn to the prospects of peace. Is our jangled old world making any real progress toward the tranquility and goodwill which mankind as a whole so eagerly desires?

There are parlous times in which misplaced optimism is a dangerous thing. The world is beset with quarrels out of which, without any doubt, another major war could develop. Even barring a violent upheaval, the "cold war" in Europe could—and probably will—continue indefinitely to rack the intelligence of many lands. We should indeed be encouraging foolish dreams if we refused to acknowledge these facts.

Still, I believe that conditions have improved substantially in recent weeks. The chance of increasing peace—if not amity—are better.

Hard Fact

There is one hard fact which we must face. Our world is undergoing a fundamental ideological upheaval which is affecting many countries. That will continue until time has ironed it out—probably in the distant future—in the minds of the various peoples.

Meanwhile there's only one thing "Communism" can do, and that is keep this politico-economic revolution alive by creating violence. One of the ideologies works by strong-arm methods. The other employs peaceful means. Yet the use of force a part of its creed. The present Soviet line revolves about that point.

However, the world's communist offensive which was sweeping across Europe toward the English Channel has been halted by the resistance of the revitalized west. The Marshall plan really is working, and the new Atlantic pact nations are building a defense against aggression from any quarter.

The danger of a shooting-war still exists, but it isn't as great as it was—at least it so strikes me.

CANNERS' HEAD DIES

Hamilton, April 14 (CP)—William Bagnall, Hamilton, president of Canadian Canners Ltd., died Wednesday in hospital here. He was firm into one of the largest of its kind in the Commonwealth and had been active with introducing many developments in the canning industry. He was a native of Strathroy, Ont.

Believes Stalin Will Live For 'Long Time'

New York, April 16 — (AP)— Gen. Walter Bedell Smith said today he did not think Prime Minister Stalin of Russia is a sick man. Smith said he believes Stalin will "live for a long time".

The former United States Ambassador to Moscow, now commander of the First Army, was questioned about Stalin's health during a "Meet the Press" radio interview.

"I don't think Stalin is a very sick man," he said. "He is rugged. He looks well. Georgians are notoriously long-lived." Stalin is 74. He added that he believed the Russian leader would "live and exercise his enormous influence for a long time."

Smith also scouted predictions that Russia could take over the European continent in "two or three weeks."

"The Russian Army is a magnificent organization," he said, but "the difficulties of supplying it in a long and rapid advance are enormous."

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MISFORTUNE

We are left largely in the hands of Fate, when it comes to major misfortune in life. Some single incident may change the entire course of our lives. W. Somerset Maugham, while on leave in London hospital, wrote his first novel, "Liza of Lambeth." It did not have a large sale, however, but he did like it best. "Of Human Bondage," which has proved to be one of the great and has the great books of modern times, but it did decide him to drop medicine as a career and devote himself to literature.

Sir Walter Scott, when but six-teen years of age, was stricken with an infantile fever which left him with an injured leg that lamed him for life. The loss of a limb was gifted with an otherwise strong body, but because of this lameness he was rejected by the army career was blasted. So he devoted himself to writing. This misfortune was undoubtedly lucky for Scott, for he later wrote: "I never knew the day that I would have given up literature for ten times my present income."

It was misfortune that kept W. E. Henley in hospital for a year or more, but which inspired his great poem "Invictus," where he stated that he was the master of his fate and the captain of his soul. We would never have had that greatest of all dog stories, "Bob, Son of Battle," but for Alfred Ollivant been thrown from a horse and made an invalid, writing from his bed that famous masterpiece.

While Thomas A. Edison was a newsboy on a train out of Detroit he ran to catch his moving train and was hauled up by the ears by a fellow trainman, his left ear deaf for the rest of his life, but this misfortune saved him from other powers, especially that of concentration, which resulted in proving him one of the great benefactors of all mankind.

To a greater or lesser degree, misfortune follows most of us throughout life. We can usually only spur us forward, fortify our will, and let the more determined to live our lives courageously and without complaint. Misfortune has all too often proved a blessing in disguise. Let us not forget this. Fortune has a way of smiling in the dark!

Says Russia 'Far Behind' Western Nations

London, April 16 — (AP)—A former Red Army officer has warned his Russian people their armed forces and military equipment are "far behind" those of other countries.

The British Broadcasting Corporation disclosed today that Lt.-Col. Gregory Tokaev, speaking in Russian service April 9, said:

"We have been told that our armed forces and military equipment are better than those anywhere abroad. This is an absolute lie. Here, too, we are lagging far behind."

Tokaev fled from his post in the Soviet section of the Allied Control Commission in Germany last year. He came to Britain in an R. A. F. plane. Before talks with British intelligence officials he wrote a series of articles for Britain and American newspapers which claimed to disclose the secrets of the Kremlin. He has been making a weekly broadcast in the BBC's Russian service since Mar. 10.

FIVE ESCAPE AS CAR ROLLS OVER TWICE

Cornwall, April 14 — (CP) — Five persons escaped when a taxi driver Wednesday escaped serious injuries when the car in which they were riding went out of control and rolled over twice before landing in the ditch. The car was wrecked.

Police said the occupants, Laurent Bolsclair, Sylvio Bergeron, Wilfred Dupre and Raymond Gauthier, all of Cap de Madeleine, Que., were members of the Canadian Seamen's Union en route to Kingston to man ships. They continued their trip by bus. Driver of the taxi was Marchand Benoit.

NEVER MIND YOUR COLON

After years of suffering from a stimulant when "normal" they function irregular.

The natural reaction of the person to the irritation of enema, injection or irrigation is self-protective—pouring out excessive mucus. So the impressive quantities of mucus T. F. B. mentions would be consistent with the "special high colonics" the credulous customer evidently receives at the colon filling station. The same remarks apply to irrigations the victim takes the more mucus the tortured bowel secretes. Thus the bowel wash business is almost self-perpetuating — or would be if the customers did not lose faith in the process or perish in an emergency-come under the care of an honest doctor.

3. Too much refinement of the everyday diet is one of the main factors of chronic colon derangement. As I explain in detail in the booklet On Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene. For a copy send twenty-five cents and stamped self-addressed envelope.

4. The term "colitis" (meaning inflammation of the large bowel) is a misnomer in the great majority of cases. In the earlier years the trouble is virtually only functional derangement. But if the over-refinement of the everyday diet is not corrected, Fifty Individuals will eventually achieve the degeneration, the atrophy and the irreversible changes usually commonly called malnutrition.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Perspetrid is the Word

H. E. Hall—Your stomach-bowel-rectum-proctoscopy was performed on me by Dr. Indigestion and Dr. Constipation and I suffered atrociously for over 3 weeks after the operation—and for months I have had the original trouble. (D. E. A.)

Answer—Send a stamped self addressed envelope and ask in many words for the pamphlet "Stupid Suffer from Piles."

Excessive Sweating

Fully three months ago I asked how to prevent perspiration and I suppose was an answer to my question. If it's money you want just tell me. (Miss B. J.)

Answer—Nah, I haven't any use for the stuff, child. But if you will send a stamped envelope inclose a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask me pamphlet "Selling how to control excessive sweating."

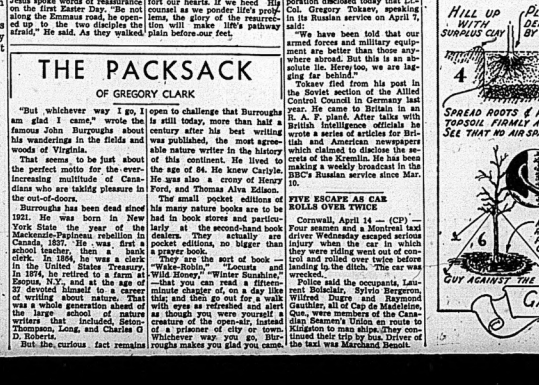
Board Named To Administer Canteen Fund

Toronto, April 16 (CP)—T. M. Medland of Toronto has been appointed chairman of a new board of trustees to administer Ontario's First World-War canteen fund, announced Thursday.



planning Minister Arthur Welsh

Other members of the board: Percy Ashwell, Toronto; Stanley Harpham and E. S. Evans, both of Toronto and G. H. Tolley, Sault Ste. Marie.

The fund arose from the operation of military canteens in the first war.

Although more than the original amount has been disbursed, the fund still amounts to some $700,000 due to revenue arising from investments.

GIVE THAT TREE A CHANCE

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

All morning she could not put them from her mind. When she lunched with Penny, she had little to say. Alan and Lucia . . . Alan and Lucia . . . There were tracks of snow in the little restaurant. People looked cold and tired. How sordid it was! Not that it would make much difference to think of anything to say.

At three o'clock when it seemed they would never come, she put on a gold dress and daubed a bit of rouge on her face to take away the pallor.

When she walked into the salon, she saw a striking middle-aged woman in a mink coat looking at her. Standing beside her was a tall blond young man who looked a little embarrassed to find himself in a woman's gown shop with his mother, looking at a ready-made girl in a gold dress.

"You are Stephen Van Avery's daughter!" the woman said.

She came toward Gay and took her cold hands. "You are his daughter, of course! I'd have known you anywhere, my dear. You are a perfect combination of your mother and father. You don't know me, do you?"

"I'm afraid I don't."

"I'm Millicent Randolph and I should married your husband, rather myself. This," she said, smiling at the tall blond young man, "is my son, Gregg. No, you have never met. When my husband died, I went abroad to live. I've been in England for twenty years."

"Mother," said Gregg Randolph, smiling at Gay, "never tell me again that your eyesight is poor."

"I never forget a face. Pay no attention to his impertinence, child. He's always chiding me. That's why we get along so beautifully." She laughed. "Now, dear, why did I come in here? I've entirely forgotten."

"You came," said Gregg, "to buy your daughter a new dress. She needs one."

He was smiling at Gay. He had blue eyes, fair hair, and a boyish smile. Not a hard stern mouth like Chris'. He had never had to work like Chris. The Randolph wealth was well known. Gregg had done nothing except acquire the finest education Oxford could give him and accompany his beautiful, worldly mother when her mood took her all over the world.

"I remember now," said Millicent. "My daughter married an absolute pauper. A writer. But so interesting. Dear, dear. She hasn't a dress to her back and already she's given me three grandchildren. The children are well. Gregg and I have been in the States for a week or two. We've come to see what we wanted to see. Where is your mother? And," pausing a moment, "why are you doing here?"

Gay felt a warm excitement and genuine liking for Millicent and Gregg Randolph.

"Things happen," she said. "We had a disagreement."

She saw Maxine look at her with an impatient frown. Maxine hated it when old friends recognized her.

"You poor child. Your father . . . I heard about that. He was, next to my husband, the best of men." She patted Gay's hand. "We must go now and let Darling and put it to his lips.

"Tomorrow," he said.

When he opened the door of the apartment that evening eager to see his daughter, Stella Randolph, her heart seemed to stop beating.

Patti was there, crying. Richard wasn't with her. Penny, sitting at her drawing-board, looked very confused.

Patti hadn't taken off her mink coat nor her brown hat with a lacy veil. An initiated brown bag was on the floor at her feet.

Gay kissed her.

Penny said, "I'm going out. I — I've some letters to mail."

When Penny left, Patti cried, "I've left Richard! He was unkind to me! He — he abused me! I'm terribly angry and horrid. I went to the apartment on Park avenue and found strange people there. Oh, I didn't know what to do! I went to the lawyer's and he told me to come here! Oh, Gay, what a horrible place and I find you a clothes model and Mother's waiting and some — some person living with you."

"Some person," Penny. Sweet, adorable Penny.

Gay pulled off her hat and her hair seemed to have lost its brightness.

"Mother didn't want you to know," she said steadily. "She didn't want to spoil anything for you."

"Oh, I couldn't stand Richard! He was beastly and stingy!"

Gay thought, the little hammers beginning sing again in her head, "Is she really older than I? I feel so wise beside her."

"I don't believe Richard was cruel to you, Patti," she said severely.

Patti looked up with angry eyes.

"What do you know about marriage and men?"

Gay touched her sister's shoulder comfortingly. It was difficult to understand. To make ends meet with only thirty-five dollars a week between two women who had never been taught to be economical.

"I don't believe you're glad to see me at all," said Patti.

"It's not that. I'm thinking of Mother. All along it's been a great comfort to her to know you were safe and protected from this kind of life." Her eyes travelled around the room, warm and comfortable with the fire burning. "I don't find it so depressing now. I hurry back to it at night. I'm not fighting poverty any longer." She looked down at her sister. "Where is Richard?"

"I don't know where he is. I don't care! We had a ghastly scene. He called me vile names!"

Gay's mouth curved. How could people who love each other have ghastly scenes and call each other vile names?

"Don't you love him, Patti"?

"Love? Patti cried derisively. "Love has meant only one thing to me — to get what I want. I could never understand your story-book idealism."

Too concerned with her own problems, she did not ask about Alan. Gay thought. "Was I once like Patti, demanding, shaping everything to suit me? Chris drew her mouth into a wry smile. "You and I are on an unlucky merry-go-round, darling. We can't turn Patti out. I'm sure none of this is Richard's fault. I know my child. Richard has fixed ideas and abhors extravagance. All this is probably because he refused her something she wanted. But it's not the forgiving sort. If there's any pursuing to be done, she'll have to do it."

"People have always had to come to her," said Gay. To take Diana's mind from the immediate problem she said, "Millicent Randolph and her son came in the store today. She knew I was your daughter. We're invited there tomorrow night. I liked her."

"If she back after all these years! She is charming, isn't she, and unaffected and utterly frank? She's never been a snob. And her son — what's he like?"

Drinking, Smoking Expensive Habits

Dundee, Scotland — (CP) — George Mathers, Labor member of parliament for Dunfermline and Lord High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland General Assembly, said in an address he feared the United Kingdom was in danger of becoming very largely a nation of "addicts."

He said that in 1947 £ 678,000,000 ($2,712,000,000) was spent on alcohol, £ 690,000,000 on tobacco and an estimated £ 700,000,000 in gambling.

"If we are really patriotic we will try to improve the standard of our country," said Mathers. "We will try to put such expenditure into other and better channels."

Those who followed the way of self-indulgence which involved not only expenditure but the wastage of health were doing something contrary to the public interest. It was time those who could not deny themselves these things were dealt with.

Whitehead saw Kenneth Riddell, 19, sprayed with the gasoline of an automobile which he had been pushing. She ran into her house and came out with a coat which she threw around the victim, snuffing out his burning clothes. Riddell was taken to hospital suffering first degree burns.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

WINIFRED E. WILSON

WILSON'S SNIPE

Shortly after mid-April Wilson's Snipe, known to hunters as the Jack Snipe, makes it appearance in some Canadian marsh. It may remain near the border, or continue north, even beyond the Arctic Circle. Many nights have been spent in travel since leaving the southern states, Colombia, or Brazil. Seemingly very secretive, this Snipe chooses darkness for other purposes also: night is its favorite time for feeding.

For several reasons this is one of our most interesting game birds. The unusually long bill, which takes up nearly one-fifth of the owner's 11½ inches, has a most curious tip: both flexible and sensitive. Though classed as a wader, the Snipe has not long enough legs to go into any depth of water, but it pokes down into mud (sometimes right to its eyes), feeling for unolce grubs, worms, and bug. Once the prey has been located, the end of the bill even though soft, can open and grip the food.

Also the flight of a Wilson's Snipe is strange. On rising from the bird rises quickly, showing the observer a short, orange tail, and makes off in a zigzag flight for 20 yards or more before deciding on a straight course. This irregular track puzzles hunters. At mating and breeding time a song flight has puzzled many an amateur bird watcher, who finds it hard to believe that this hollow, whistling sound comes from a Snipe. The "wh-u-u-u", however, is not the bird's voice, but the noise made by wind rushing through the stiffly held outer tail feathers as the Snipe circles so high as to be a speck in the sky, then drops swiftly to the ground. Its only note, a nasal rasping, is uttered when it is flushed.

Its camouflage is depended upon until the last minute. Crouching low, the bird expects its rich brown and buff passage, striped and spotted with white and black, to remain hidden in the swamp grass. A mere depression at the edge of a pond or marsh, the nest is generally arched over with tall grass. The four rather large eggs also blend in with their surroundings. They are olive grey, covered with dark streaks and blotches.

Sometimes Wilson's Snipe finds our winter sufficiently mild to remain this side of our southern border, but ordinarily it leaves Canada before the end of October.

New York — (CP) — P. T. Barnum was once quoted as saying there is a "sucker born every minute." But there isn't a Barnum every minute—so three Connecticut cities have suddenly claimed him as their own.

It all started when Bridgeport asked the United States government to issue a commemorative stamp honoring the great circus promoter. Then the town of Bethel heard about it and backed their claim with the Encyclopedia Britannica which says he was born in Bethel July 5, 1810.

Today Danbury put in its bid—they point out that until 1855 Bethel was part of Danbury.

Now it's up to the Post Office Department — and somebody's feelings are going to be hurt.

Mankato, Minn. — (AP) — Even a bill for $50,000 didn't stop Pte. Arthur E. Schwein when he went to toot sweet notes in an army band.

Schwein, 44-year-old farmer, contractor and trumpet player, liked his notes when a 56-piece band was activated here as part of the Army Organized Reserve Corps. It meant he could do a little soldering, and also play his favorite instrument.

Schwein joined up. But he couldn't play. Crowding his place was none too good. The sweet notes from his trumpet were lost because of poor acoustics.

Sensing only a waste lot, built nancink and on his own lot, built the unit an armory. It's complete with space for drilling, rifle range, storage space for equipment and, of course, a special soundproof room where the trumpet notes are good.

Gillingham, Dorset, England—(Reuters)—Rev. J. R. C. Dawson-Bowling, vicar of St. Mark's Church here, is a tidy man.

Every time confetti was strewn over his church after weddings he became annoyed.

So he hit upon a plan of charging bridegrooms a $3 deposit. If there was no confetti left in the church or churchyard, the deposit was returned.

But confetti manufacturers are annoyed with the vicar.

One would to him, saying: "All parsons should be exterminated. Why should they interfere with innocent fun, making other people gloomy, and what right have they to ban confetti-throwing?"

The vicar said: "I am looking after the church's property just as a good housekeeper would look after his. I charge the deposit to pay for the cleaning up if necessary."

The vicar added that he did not object to rice throwing — as long as it was thrown in bags.

Club Activities

BELLEVILLE AND PRINCE EDWARD CLUB

Th April meeting of the Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlor, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. G. F. Lent in a few words welcomed those present, and a stipping from the Church Observer "Meditation for Good Friday", was read by Mrs. G. Cornish.

The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer gave a satisfying report of the New York City for the Easter holiday.

Mrs. J. Wardner, who had just returned, from spending the Winter in Florida, was called on and told of some of the places, she had visited while there.

Mrs. Montgomery had charge of a program whilst Mrs. Hall of some comments, singing and short readings, "The Prize", by Mrs. A. Pettingell, "The Mother Johnes the Club", by Mrs. W. McCoy, "Forward and Crustiest", by Mrs. J. Boyd and a reading by Mrs. Montgomery "The Wild White Rose".

An Easter contest was conducted by Mrs. Montgomery, the flower going to Miss Clara Anderson.

A vote of thanks was extended the hostesses and those contributing to make the pleasant afternoon, and to Mrs. J. Barber for the donation of a lovely bowl of roses and sweets which centered the table.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. M. Weese, Mrs. J. Barber and Mrs. W. Hall assisted by Mrs. P. Perliament, Mrs. J. Burley, Mrs. H. Roblin and Mrs. G. Gerstine.

Women's Institute

Eldorado and Bannockburn W. I.

Eldorado—The Eldorado and Bannockburn Women's Institute, held the April meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Wm. Chamberlain with a fair crowd in attendance. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Chas. Carman. Business was dealt with.

A reading was given by Mrs. Chas. Pigden on "Housewife occupation."

Mrs. Hugh Empey gave some splendid ideas for removing stains.

Current events were given by Mrs. Ken Bateman.

A sing-song was then enjoyed. Ten ways were given to kill an organization. Helpful hints were given in the home. A demonstration was given on making a pie wheel.

Mrs. Ed Blakley was made a life member of the W. I.

The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem. Refreshments were then served by the hostess and a social half hour enjoyed.

Shower Given Rita Lancaster By Girl Friends

A delightful miscellaneous shower was give Wednesday evening by Miss Jean Thomson at her home, 102 Leighan Street, in honor of Miss Rita Lancaster, bride-elect of this month.

Fifteen girl friends of Rita's were present and had an enjoyable evening playing games. Miss Lancaster, the guest of honor, presented to the bride-to-be which had been previously made by the girls.

Miss Lancaster was then seated on a seat underneath an umbrella, prettily decorated in pink and white, which was suspended upside down from an archway and laden with presents, which she opened, and then graciously thanked the donors.

Miss Margaret Hillis then favored the girls with two solos "I Love You" and "When Apples Grow on Lilac Trees".

Later refreshments were served by hostess, assisted by her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Helen Hales and Miss Harriet, while the bride-elect's mother poured tea.

Scotts W.A., W.M.S. Hold Bountiful Dinner

A bountiful dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Farmer for the April meeting of Scott's W.A. and W.M.S.

Mrs. Faul opened the W.M.S. meeting with the Easter message. Roll call showed 12 members and three visitors present.

Mrs. Ed. Reid gave a temperance reading on "Who drink to excess and at what age?" A survey was taken and out of 100 patients in a mental hospital 81 were there from alcohol alone. Of these 63 were college graduates, 9 were under the age of 21 years old, 7 were physicians, 6 lawyers and 4 farmers.

Mrs. E. Sine read for scripture from Mark, and Mrs. Murray in her prayer gave thanks to God for Jesus Christ, for the Church's salvation for the gifts of nature, for the countless followers down through the years.

Mrs. R. Thelen read for 2nd scripture lesson the book of Acts, and Mrs. E. Sine led in a prayer for a blessing on our church, and for the forgiveness of ourselves that we may have greater power and zeal for the kingdom.

Mrs. Meade gave a reading on "The church has many ways to thwart the word of God." Everything good comes from God and should be used for the extension of His kingdom as radio. Christian women should be united in asking that on Sunday evening the radio should be used for church broadcasts instead of being wasted on comedians.

Mrs. M. Sine, Mrs. K. Faul and Mrs. Nesbitt reported on the the Presbyterial held recently in Trenton. Plans for more United Church missionaries was stressed.

Mrs. Edison Sine gave a reading on "Teaching our children to know God." This is the responsibility of the mother. Mrs. Murray read an interesting poem on April. The great need for used clothing for overseas missions was emphasized.

The W.A. president arranged for the next dinner to be held at Mrs. K. Faul's, in May.

The W.A. convention is to be held on May 26 in Grace Street Church, Trenton. Delegates to be Mrs. Lott; Mrs. R. Dafoe and Mrs. C. Frost.

The Experts Say . . .

Ottawa (CP)—If you're over-down Newfoundland 'way in berry-picking time, be sure to taste the most popular dessert in Canada's 10th province —blueberry flummery.

Thousands of blueberry bushes cover the low brier areas of the coastline and there are few housewives who don't go off on berry picking sprees in the summer.

The season may be a couple of months away but perhaps Mrs. Ivanhoe Reader's Index is interested that Newfoundland pie recipe now—before the ink is completely dry on the papers of confederation.

Blueberry Pie—Pastry, 2 1-4 to 2 1-3 cups of blueberries; one half cup of sugar; one-eighth teaspoon salt; three tablespoons flour.

Line deep pie pan with pastry and fill with fruit. Mix sugar, salt and flour and sprinkle evenly over the berries. Cover with a top crust or with strips of pastry. Bake in hot oven for first ten minutes and then reduce temperature to moderate (375 degrees Fahrenheit). Bake for 35 to 40 minutes.

Fish and Brewis is another favorite Newfoundland dish. However housewives in other parts of Canada may have difficulty locating its basic ingredients, hard tack and salt cod.

Ingredients: one pound hard tack pack; two pounds salt cod; one half pound salt pork (cut in small pieces).

Soak the hard tack overnight and also the fish. Fry the chopped pork in a pan and season with slices of onion. Boil the cod for about 20 minutes and cook the fish separately. Serve altogether.

Home economists of the consumer section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, are right in season with a new way for making rhubarb pie.

Butterscotch Rhubarb Pie—Ingredients; four cups rhubarb (cut in one inch pieces) one half cup white sugar; one quarter cup of flour; two tablespoons butter; two tablespoons shortening; one third cup brown sugar; one eighth teaspoon salt; one half cup flour; pastry.

Pour boiling water over rhubarb; let stand for five minutes and then drain. Place in uncooked inch pie plate with pastry. Combine white sugar and the one-quarter cup flour, mix with rhubarb and arrange in pie shell. Cream together the butter, shortening, brown sugar, salt and one half cup flour. Sprinkle this mixture over the rhubarb. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes and then reduce temperature to 375 degrees Bake 30 minutes longer. Yield: one nine-inch pie.

BRITISH BOSSES URGED TO EMPLOY WORKERS OVER 40

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London — (CP) — For the first time since the pre-war depression, a familiar cry is being heard in Britain: "Too old at 40."

It is voiced by thousands of experienced men who in letters to newspapers and magazines and appeals to their members of parliament complain that being over 40 bars them from suitable employment.

Said one, a war veteran: "I am 48. I don't look it or feel it, yet for the first time in my life I have started lying about my age."

This man said he has had 20 years' experience as a business manager, production engineer, company secretary and chief executive. He writes 15 or 20 letters of application every week. Long out of work, he has had to mortgage his savings and insurance policies.

The cause of the over-40s is championed by the ministry of labor, whose figures show that 153,588 men and women age 41 and over now are drawing unemployment benefit.

"The greatest crime for an unemployed man today is to be over 40," said Brig. C. C. Russell of the Ex-Civilians Re-Employment Association, supporting an appeal by the London Chamber of Commerce that firms give the over-40s a chance.

He added that of 2,000 men on the books of the association more than 1,000 are over 40.

Of Proved Ability

A. E. Leigh, secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, told The Guardian Tory newspaper: "Many of the jobless are men of proved administrative ability who, once they get into a firm, would prove the worth of their age and experience."

Employers give these reasons for the plight of middle-aged workers:

1. There has been a big reorganization in industry.

2. Younger men returning from the services are given preference.

3. Employers cannot fit the over-40s into pension and superannuation schemes.

Another adverse factor is the rapid rise in the average age of the labor force. A ministry of labor official said, "In 1946 it was found that 43 of every 100 people in Britain were over 40. By 1951 there will be 46 — a three-per-cent increase in five years."

The Evening Standard in an editorial urged the government to make "a scientific survey of the whole problem."

Old Days Better Debaters Prove

London — (CP) — Bearded Sir Christopher Hatton (1550) smiled across at starlet-coiffed Sir Edward Coke (1616), Lord Talbot (1733) and William Pitt (1800) in the Inner Temple's Niblett Hall.

They seemed to smile approval as the Cambridge Union Society and the Hardwicke Society debated the motion "That this house would feel preferred to live in any century but this."

Debaters favored the roast beef of old England with present-day tinned smoke, boiled whale and dehydrated eve — and carried the motion by 12 votes to nine.

Twentieth-century music was called "barbarous." Its rawness "deplorable," its fashions "drab" and its noises "unmelodious." One Cambridge student said the atom bomb alone was sufficient reason for wishing to have lived "in any century but the present."

Maori is Suggested For Vice-Regal Post

By J. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Auckland, N.Z. — (CP) — A Maori may be the next governor-general of New Zealand.

The man suggested, with considerable support from both Europeans and Maoris, is Sir Peter Buck, probably the leading living authority on the native Polynesian Pacific, and at present director and president of the board of trustees of Bishop Museum, Honolulu.

Although he is of mixed Maori and Irish descent, Sir Peter has always identified himself with New Zealand's native race and has been looked upon as one of their great leaders. He first came to prominence as a doctor working among the Maoris. Before the First World War he entered parliament as a Maori representative and became a member of the cabinet representing the native race.

He resigned from parliament to fight overseas in the First World War, first as a doctor but later as a combatant officer and was awarded the D.S.O.

After the war he became director of Maori hygiene, but his studies of Pacific anthropology demanded that he spend more time overseas, and as a field worker for Bishop Museum he ranged far and wide over the Pacific. He brought a new approach to the native races, learning from them information that white investigators had been unable to obtain.

Honored Overseas

Honors were heaped on him by overseas universities and he achieved the signal honor for a member of a colored race of being appointed to a professorship at Yale University. Later he was appointed to the Honolulu post probably the highest post of honor for a Pacific ethnologist.

Te Rangihiroa, as he is known among the Maoris, recently revisited New Zealand after a long absence as a leading delegate to the Pacific Science Congress. In his talks to Maori tribes throughout the country he urged them to avoid separatism and to enter into full unity with the white race so that the blood and cultures of the two might be joined and used for the benefit of themselves and the country.

Supporters of Sir Peter Buck as the next governor-general argue that it would be a fine gesture to the Maoris and the world of the equality New Zealand has achieved between the two races. They also stress that Sir Peter has an unequalled knowledge of the Pacific which the United States has drawn upon freely.

It is significant that the suggestion has been given prominence in "Freedom," organ of the National party, which will oppose the present Labor government at the general election later this year.

The term of the present governor-general, Lt. Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., expires next year.

Daylight Saving Wins No Converts in U.S.

By JOE HALL

New York — (AP) — The city-dominated states in the northeastern sector of the United States will cling to the daylight saving system this year but they have not won converts elsewhere in the nation.

In fact, the number of Americans enjoying the extra hour of sunlight in the evening will be smaller in 1949, since populous California does not plan to use "fast time" as it did in 1948.

Nearly all communities using daylight saving will go on the new time at 2 a.m., April 24. It will extend five months until Sept. 25.

A nation-wide survey indicates at least one-third of the nation's 145,000,000 citizens will live under the new time for the late spring and summer.

It continues to have its great appeal for golfers, gardeners, commuters, and other lovers of the great outdoors. Farmers oppose it just as much as ever; they insist the cows recognize only standard time.

State legislatures, frequently dominated by rural members, traditionally display hostility to daylight saving. This year was no exception.

In Tennessee, the 1949 legislature banned the system completely, thus slamming the door in the face of Nashville, Chattanooga and other cities which had used it. Nashville, in a city-wide referendum, had voted for the system last year but the legislative action voided the ballot verdict.

For Standard Time

The Indiana legislature passed a law this year making standard time official for the entire state. But Indianapolis and cities in northern Indiana plan to get around it by using "fast time" through "recommendations" of city councils and mayors.

In Ohio, a bill for state-wide daylight saving was killed. This state probably will split on the question again this year, with Cleveland and nearby cities in the northeastern section adopting it and others staying on eastern standard.

California used daylight saving most of last year because of a drastic power shortage. It doesn't expect to repeat in 1949. Elsewhere on the Pacific coast, there is sentiment for the new time in large cities. Seattle plans to vote it, but will not move its clocks ahead until June.

All or most communities will use daylight saving in these states: Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

Some communities probably will use it in these states: Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Virginia, West Virginia, North Dakota, Washington and Oregon.

Ten Octogenarians Stage Annual Meet

Edinburgh — (CP) — Ten ministers, all more than 80 years old have their invitations and will be at Tom McAndrew's annual dinner in June, when they have seven year since 1892.

For 56 years, Rev. Thomas Watt McAndrew, minister of the parish of Carmichael, Lanarkshire, has arranged an annual dinner for his classmates of 1893. About 60 young ministers attended the first dinner but the memory of the 50 who have died is bright in the thoughts of the 10 who remain.

McAndrew himself, at 84, is in charge of his parish still, his energy undiminished. He wanted to retire 10 years ago but his parishioners would not permit it.

He still drives his car, a sports model. When his gasoline runs out — it can happen often under rationing — he walks the six miles to Lanark in 1¼ hours.

ANGLING BEAR

The largest fisherman among animals is the monstrous Alaskan brown or Kodiak bear. He sometimes reaches a weight of 1,500 pounds.

U.N. LINGUISTS STRAIGHTEN OUT MODERN "BABEL"

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

Lake Success, N.Y. — (CP) — United Nations interpreters say their profession started with the Tower of Babel.

Today their highly-skilled work rules out any recurrence at U.N. of that pass. Old Testament confusion.

The Burmese delegate who doesn't understand a Bolivian's rapid Spanish but reaches for a pair of earphones, turns a switch, and hears the speech in English, French, Russian or Chinese instead. These four and Spanish are "official" U.N. languages.

Whose voices come through the earphones? Those of men and women interpreters who speak from glass-enclosed booths, giving a running interpretation of each speech, complete with gestures.

George Sherry, 25, Polish-born Romanian-reared citizen of the United States translates from Russian into English. He tries to give the fire and flow of Russian delegates' speeches, as well as the logic.

Sherry also is one of a number of top-notch interpreters from French into English among the 65 interpreters of seven nationalities at Lake Success. All of them object to being called translators, because translators work with the written, rather than spoken word. Started at Versailles

Interpreters first took part in international meetings with the Versailles Peace Conference of 1919. Before that, French was the diplomatic language and all who attended spoke it. English came to the fore at Versailles.

When the Allies met at San Francisco in April 1945, several delegations brought their own interpreters to help in the negotiations to form the United Nations.

"Never has so much been owed by so many to so few," says senior interpreter Georges Kaminker, paraphrasing Winston Churchill. Kaminker, a former member of the French Assembly, has interpreted at all the world's big conferences since the war. He has a more personal relationship with senior Soviet diplomats. Nowadays few meet the delegates socially.

Kaminker is leader of the "old-fashioned" school of interpreters, which frowns slightly on simultaneous translation, used in all U.N. meetings except the Security Council.

In that major body, a full interpretation is given after a speaker ends his address. Kaminker says this gives the other members a chance to think and also allows the interpreter to do a better job. During a speech, the interpreters take abbreviated notes, then deliver the entire address.

Delegates tune in translations on a wire system attached to their chairs in the council chamber. Visitors use one-pound radios similar to walkie-talkie sets, which are tuned to special frequencies allotted to the interpretation division.

Austerity Diet Hard on Canuck Hockey Players

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London — (CP) — The Court Rangers were dragging their skates and doctors diagnosed faulty diet — so pep pills took a hand.

Britain's austere fare levies a heavy toll on hockey players' stamina. The Rangers felt languid, lost weight and complained they were "off color."

The club's 19-year-old Montrealer Ken Booth, weakened so much the club's doctor asked an athletic advisory committee to assist in finding a method of maintaining playing fitness.

A course of pills consisting of glucose and halibut liver oil was prescribed for six selected players. Before each game they are weighed; pulses are checked and blood pressures recorded. The procedure is repeated after the match.

"The idea is to gauge the players' recovery rate," said Dr. N. Y. Sinkin, one of three doctors conducting the experiment. "The speed of recovery gives us a line of the players' fitness.

"These pills are not weird and wonderful contraptions to make cheap play like supermen. They are designed simply to improve players' health so that each man will be at his best over-all.

And that's how it's been when the players take to the ice. They haven't played like inspired supermen but there's an all-round improvement.

Put On Weight

In the first month they put on an average of two pounds, and the increase isn't stopping there. Booth added five pounds.

"I can feel my old form returning," said the talented 131-pound centre, playing his first season in British hockey. "But I could do with a couple of those meals I had in Montreal before coming here."

The team gets enough food, except meat, but there's little variety, they say.

A hockey player must have at least two steaks a week to keep fit the whole season," said forward Henry Hayes of Montreal, who can recall eating days of a different kind in British pre-war hockey. "We can't get steaks, and the boys, some of them here for the first time, find it tough after an adequate Canadian diet."

With Britain's meagre meat ration taking another recent cut Rangers don't hold out much hope for the coveted steak or two.

If the experiment is a success the Rangers intend to spread the rest of the team, who mostly hail from Montreal, in the pep pill division.

Diamonds are trumps. The declarer in south leads next. Have him take five of the six tricks now remaining. Do it against any defense the opponents may attempt to make.

Lead a small club and ruff with dummy's diamond deuce. Lay down trump ace and pick up the next king. On this trick shuff a south small club. On this trump trick what will west shuff?

Suppose he fires a club. South gets in with spade ace and lays down club ace. This picks up the west club king. The south queen of clubs is the fifth trick for declarer.

Instead of a club or the heart opponent west chucks heart jack. The aces of spades and clubs take two tricks. Then the heart ten is led. Dummy ducks. If east refuses to win it is the third trick for declarer.

East may prefer to take the heart ten with his ace. If so he is in the lead with nothing but hearts to return. This runs to the dummy heart king for the fifth trick for the defense.

Instead of a club or the heart opponent west leads one of his spade faces. South gets in with spade ace and leads heart ten. You

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, April 16 (AP)—Hi-Ho, Silver, the Clothbusters Ride Again!

It's Rosalind Russell, who has come out of movie mourning to return to the joy, gossip and fun of "My Next Husband."

For her current film, the actress has unspleen spectacles and hair that would make Electra jump for joy. Roz couldn't be happier.

"There's no doubt about it," she explained, "good roles in movie trade has fallen off terribly. Women aren't going to the movies in the daytime as much as they used to, so I don't know the reason for this.

"Women used to love to see fabulous fashions in the films. They liked to drool over the out-of-this-world clothes that were worn by Gloria Swanson and Norma Shearer, and Joan Crawford and the others.

Another World

"Nowadays there are no style leaders in the movies."

Movie actresses are missing the boat as far as glamor is concerned, Roz indicated.

"The magazines used to carry lots of photos of film queens in lavish gowns. Now the accent is on home layouts, with the star puttering about the kitchen in a peasant dress. But the average girl reader of the magazine has a peasant dress; she wants to see something glamorous."

Here's good news for harried husbands (including this one) whose wives blanked for new wardrobes because of lowered hemlines. The new look is a ploy by the dress sellers, said Roz, because dresses will be a good 14 inches from the ground. This compares to a dust-sweeping three inches at the depth of the new look.

"Hold onto those dresses," said Roz. "They'll be back."

Chatter

What Hollywood is talking about . . . The fine job television did in covering the Kathy Fiscus story and the relatively poor coverage by radio . . . The report that Lila Leeds, figure fan for Robert Mitchum can will do a film on the evils of marijuana . . . The $1,500,000 limit on musicals at MGM, where they used to cost at least 2 mill . . . The increased ballyhoo — previews, stunts, etc. — for film releases. They have to be sold these days.

Will west overtake with the ace? If so, he has nothing but hearts to return. The heart king will win and the small dummy spade will complete the five tricks for declarer.

What if east does not overtake the west heart jack? West will then be in the lead with nothing but clubs to return. This will run smack into the south club tenace for two more tricks.

Now you can rest your baby blue eyes.

LEO'S LEAP

'South Pacific' Marks Another Hit For Rodgers, Hammerstein

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, April 16 — (CP) — Chalk up another smashing success for Robert Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, assisted by Joshua Logan.

The three prove themselves a top-flight theatrical team in "South Pacific," a new and gorgeous musical which had just reached Broadway.

"South Pacific" is based on James Michener's "Tales of the South Pacific," a book which won a Pulitzer Prize.

It is principally Mary Martin and Enzo Pinza, acquit themselves admirably. Miss Martin, who a few years back starred in a sophisticated role in "One Touch of Venus," this time is a wartime United States navy nurse from Little Rock, Ark., a little naive but completely loveable. Pinza, widely-known opera singer, is making his first appearance in the legitimate theatre as Emile de Becque, a French planter.

Hammerstein and Logan collaborated on the book for the musical, which deals in tender fashion with the romance of Ensign Nellie Forbush — her colleagues call her "Knucklehead"—and De Becque.

Rodgers has composed some melodious numbers for the show, including "Some Enchanted Evening" and "Younger Than Springtime," and the rousing "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Guy."

Rodgers and Hammerstein, with revolved theatre-goers with "Oklahoma!" and "Carousel," and Logan, responsible for "Mister Roberts," need to worry. They have another hit on their hands.

Kazan Scores

The leading play awards announced this week by the New York drama critics circle give Elia Kazan the distinction of having staged two consecutive prize-winning plays. The critics chose "Death of a Salesman" as the best American play of the 1948-49 season. Last year they chose "A Streetcar for Desire" and in 1946-47 the award went to "All My Sons." All three were directed by Kazan. It was also an honor for Arthur Miller, author of both "Death of a Salesman" and "All My Sons."

Aisle Jottings

Sarah Churchill, British film star and daughter of Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, has accepted an invitation to attend the Toronto Men's Press Club Annual By-Line Ball on May 7.

Casting Notes

Uta Hagen is to take over the leading feminine role of Blanche Dubois in the New York production of "A Streetcar Named Desire" next September. Since last September she has played that part in the road company . . . Reports along the Rialto say that Thomas Mitchell will play the leading role of Willy Loman in the planned Chicago production of "Death of a Salesman" . . . and that Paul Muni will play the same part in a company which will stage the drama in London.

Detroit Can Find Precedent For Halting Leafs' March to Trophy in Own Hockey Book

Toronto, April 16 — (CP)—If Detroit Red Wings need a precedent for halting the Stanley Cup march of Toronto Maple Leafs, they can find out in a dismal page from their own book.

As the two teams prepared for the fourth game tonight in their best-of-seven final even the enthusiasm of Toronto fans over the Leafs' three consecutive victories was tempered by the recollection of what happened in the 1942 series between the same clubs.

That was the year the Red Wings swept the first three games handily. Then the Leafs juggled their lineup to drop veterans Jim Bucko McDonald and Gordie Drillon and went on to win four in a row and take the series.

The Red Wings came close to duplicating that feat in 1945. They lost the first three games to Toronto and then came back to take three and tie it up. But the Leafs recovered to cop the seventh and the trophy. The Wings had a chance again last season but when the big fourth game came up, the Leafs were a lot more decisively than the first three.

Coach Tommy Ivan of the Wings, announcing yesterday that recruits Pete Horeck, Jerry Gerald Reid from the Indianapolis team of the American Hockey League would go back into his lineup, indicated he has hopes of his team duplicating the Toronto feat.

Leafs at St. Kilts

Ivan said a decision would be made at a strategy conference at noon today on what players would be dropped to make room for Podoliuk from Winnipeg, Reid, from Owen Sound, Ott Podolsky played in the first two games of the series and Reid appeared in the second.

The Leafs went into stay at their training quarters at St. Catharines, Ont., until late this afternoon, will stick to the same lineup that won the first three games, manager-coach-director Conn Smythe announced.

The Leafs have a chance to write hockey history. If they win the series they will become the first team to capture the Stanley Cup three times in succession since it became the symbol of the world professional hockey supremacy.

If they do it by winning tonight, it will give them 12 consecutive series wins in Stanley Cup finals. Two years ago they lost the opening game to Montreal Canadiens, 6-0 and then came back to take four in a row. They won four straight in last year's final with Detroit.

Manager Jack Adams could bring Clarence (Hap) Day his fifth Stanley Cup in eight seasons as a coach just as a player as a coach in 1932. Since he became coach in the 1941-42 season, he guided the team to cup triumphs in 1942, 1945, 1947 and 1948.

Stan Cotts of Montreal, World's professional badminton champion, retained his title and the Ontario Trophy by defeating former title holder Doug Grant. Cotts is prepared to defend the championship and has issued a challenge to all contenders, particularly the outstanding professionals in the United States.

Television Will Be Used in Many Ball Parks

New York, April 16 (AP) — The play-at-home fan who prefers baseball in his living room to hot dogs at the ball park will get a better break than ever before in major league cities this summer.

Radio coverage will be about the same as last year, but television has made big strides. Only Pittsburgh Pirates have said "definitely no" to television. Cleveland Indians are agreeable to the idea but haven't found an agreeable to the cost.

Then there's the case of St. Louis Browns. They're all in favor of being full-time video stars but, sorry, interested. Dennis is the only available St. Louis star who isn't interested in carrying all of the games. The situation is still under discussion.

Pending lawsuits against baseball which claim the game has become interstate commerce because of the vast radio and television contracts apparently have no effect on coverage this season. Some observers have predicted that baseball might cancel these contracts in case of an adverse court ruling.

The general acceptance of television came as somewhat of a surprise. Not long ago many baseball men viewed with alarm the prospect that fans might be able to see the games without becoming cash customers.

Billy Johnson Of The Yankees Moved to First

(By The Canadian Press)

Billy Johnson, last year's regular third baseman, will, open the 1948 baseball season with New York Yankees' first sacker, manager Casey Stengel decided.

Stengel decision followed an announcement by manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn, that Cal Ermer, bridge converted catcher, would be the Dodgers' first baseman opening day.

Thus, with only days remaining before the championship races get under way, the two pennant contenders have solved their biggest problems.

Twelve paraplegic veterans from Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital at Montreal will try to Toronto Maple Leafs out in the fourth game of the Stanley Cup final between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings. It is believed the flight is the first undertaken by a group of paraplegic veterans for pleasure purposes. Travelling with them will be seven other veterans from the hospital.

Amateur Frank Stranahan taught 19 of golf's big time players something about golf during Virginia Beach, Va. The Toledo, strong man paid little attention to it strong wind and toured the course in five under par 65 to take the lead in the first round of 18 holes in the $10,000 Cavalier Open tournament.

Deadlocked for second place three strokes behind were Bobby Locke, South African star, and Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., dentist who is called a "Fi.

A 18-man Scottish soccer team which will tour Canada and the United States this summer was announced.

Included in the team were all the players who played English eleven which defeated England 3-1 at Wembley Stadium April 3 to win the British Isles championship in triple crown. The Scots previously had defeated Wales and Ireland. The team:

George Young, Sammy Cox, William Woodburn, William Waddell, William Thornton, all of Glasgow Rangers; Willie Cowie, Morton; Bobby Evans, Glasgow Celtic; George Aitken, East Fife; Jimmy Mason, Third Lanark; Billy Steel, Derby County; Laurie Reilly and John Govan, Hibernian; William Redpath, Motherwell; William Telfer, St. Mirren; John McKenzie, Patrick Thistle; and Bill Houliston, Queen of the south.

External Affairs Minister Pearson was suggested Thursday as the man who should be Canada's hockey "Czar."

The suggestion was made by Dr. Tommy Daly, Ottawa sports promoter, in an address at the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association dinner.

He recalled the tiff between the Canadian Amateur and the Quebec Amateur Hockey Associations over Ottawa Senators right to withdraw against Toronto Maroons in the eastern Allan Cup finals.

Soccer Notes

Soccer, a familiar yet unfamiliar word to many folk, is a game with a long and romantic history. Familiar in that the word associates itself with a game played mainly in the "Old Country." Unfamiliar in that the detail of the game is very unfamiliar to the average citizen.

Soccer, or association football, had the beginning in either Greece or in Italy, rather than in England as is the general belief. The ancient Romans used the game to conditions their troops. In their conquest of Britain they introduced the game to the natives who really took to it. The game as played then was not at all like the game as played today. And often one village pitted itself against another, the playing area being the distance between them which was often very considerable. Rules were few and injuries numerous.

With the passage of time the game flourished in Britain. Rules, crude in our estimation, were introduced but they were rules. Kings banned the game because it stealing interest from archery upon which the country depended in times of war. But the game persisted and the schools adopted it and introduced rules which laid the basis for the game as it is now played. Soccer assumed an important role in the lives of college students, a roll it retains even today.

Soccer came to North America with the immigrants and was played in the universities. At the end of the last century soccer was the important sports activity at those universities. Canadian colleges also played the game. McGill had a great team which played both soccer and English rugby.

A game was arranged with Cornell in the States. After the soccer game the students played rugby. This latter game "caught on" and spread to other colleges until, before too long, rugby became the game with the American universities. Soccer became a secondary sport and rugby flourished.

Soccer today is played on a rectangular field by two teams of eleven men. Two goals are placed at each end of the field of play. The game is to propel the ball through the opponents goal by any means excepting the use of the hands. Each of the players has a specific job to do. The goalkeeper, who is the only person permitted to handle the ball, and then within a specific area, has the job of keeping the ball from passing into his goal.

This is a brief history of the game which is being introduced to Belleville and district this summer. Soccer is a game which is suited to almost all age groups, universal one. It has been said it is an inexpensive game and is that the sun never sets on a game of soccer. It is truely a universal sport.

Northern Electric and Belleville Intermediate "A" are two successful work-out last Saturday and will hold another this Saturday. There will be a game on Sunday dressed and playing. This augurs well for the coming season. United lacked the numbers but had the spirit. Larger attendances are anticipated this Saturday.

Last Saturday Scotland defeated Wales by a score of 3-1 before a record crowd of 90,500, a larger by more than four times the size of Belleville.

Belleville United held a very successful meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday. The problem of club finances was discussed. It was felt that all members will have to make an effort to secure the necessary finances. The meeting was concluded with a movie, "The Great Game." There will be another meeting next Monday.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Scenting the third straight Stanley Cup in their fiery hockey sticks the "five-straight Maple Leafs will go storming into the fourth game tonight in the semi-final bunch of the Stanley series with their record hands tonight in Maple Leaf Gardens. They should do just that thing, if the exhibition of the fiery-tempered Detroit Red Wings in the second and third periods of Wednesday night's game is a criterion. The third periods of Wednesday night's game is a criterion. The Wings buried themselves from top to bottom in their own goal and if they had been at all fairness to them it it had not been for Turk Broda, they might have piled up a few more goals than the three they did get before slipping home that mid-period tally, took over the situation. After that it was just a matter of whether for the count.

The Wings appeared to be dor-dint. Two days rest might help their recovery to some of the oldtime fire and fury, but it is doubtful. There's Stanley Cup blood in the Leafs' nostrils and they won't be denied.

• • •

We're still perched set on the well-known limb but much closer to the ground than when the finals series started. We closer to the ground than when the finals series started. We don't usually use the bromide "I-told-you-so," but if memory serves us correct we called Leafs to win three straight and to cop the Cup by a 3-1 score in the fourth game, so far, so good. Only one game called for, and the Leafs in good shape since they entered the playoff series—and there's no sign of it deserting them. It has, as a matter of fact, been the big asset in the uncanny. So we reiterate, we call the Day crew to a hit on the uncanny. So we reiterate, we call the Day crew to a hit on the uncanny. So we reiterate, we call the Day crew to a hit on

Bonefish and the Solunar Periods

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT

(Noted Sportsman, author and creator of Solunar Tables)

Key Largo, Florida

Florida bonefish, as the saying goes, are indeed something. Shy as brook trout, packed with streamlined power, they are a challenge to the flyrod fans of the nation. Under proper conditions they take the fly readily. Once they put up a battle for freedom which, weight for weight, I have not seen duplicated by any other species.

While a good deal of their time is spent in fairly deep water, they are essentially shallow-water feeders. When a feeding period is in progress they move in from deep water and feed across the flats and shoals, grubbing on the bottom, usually with their dorsal fins and tails out of water. If there is a more heart-warming sight than a school of these speed kings "tailing" across a shallow flat, I have yet to see it.

Two Favorite Methods

There are two ways to take them —casting from a skiff or wading. For the beginner, skiff fishing is the more preferable. As in most types of fishing it is essential that the angler present his fly to the fish before the fish sees him and takes alarm. This means that you must locate your quarry well ahead of time and that is not as easy as it sounds.

At this writing I have spent six full days on the bonefish flats and even now, with the most important instructions available, I have much to learn about spotting my fish while they are still out of range. The bonefish guides with their keen vision and years of training can locate your fish for you and put you in casting position.

Once in position, then it is your job to place that fly so that it will be taken before your fish will encounter difficulties. The wind blows at times and that interferes with accuracy. Usually it is a one cast job. If you can gauge the distance correctly, figure the windage allowance, and place the fly lightly, a few feet in front of a feeding fish, retrieving it in short, decisive jerks your chances of hooking the fish are good.

But if your cast is too short or too long or off to the side, so that it must be picked up and recast nine times out of ten the fish will take alarm and "finish." Then you go look for more bonefish.

Powerful Rushes

The first run of a hooked bonefish is difficult to describe. Lightning fast, powerful, all you can do is to hold the rod high to avoid complication with the bottom, let him run against the drag and pray that you have enough backing on your reel.

Yesterday Mary Brooks hooked an eight pounder who was "tailing" in the shallows, well inside the reef. He equipped with 400 feet of nylon backing, 90 feet of fly line and about 10 feet of ten pound tapered nylon leader. It was a matter of 12 seconds until that 100 feet of line and leader was off the reel and Mary was running through the sandy shallows in the frantic effort to avoid losing her entire rig.

Mary won and landed her fish but only after forty minutes of slip-and-tuck farware. The fish was landed exactly half a mile from the spot where it was hooked—truly a creditable job of angling.

During the last ten days I have talked to a great many bonefish guides. All have their theories but there is little disagreement among them, say that the bonefish will be "tailing" in the shallows on low ebb tide; other prefer low stack tide; still others like low incoming tide. At first it was rather confusing.

However, after nearly two weeks of actual investigation and observation, the whole matter resolves itself down to this simple truth. Bonefish, like other game fish, feed during the Solunar Periods. That's all there is to it.

What seem at first to be inconsistencies are due entirely to fishing locations. Tidal flow is quite variable here among the keys and different locations, purely because of geographical location show variations of an hour or so. The actual feeding comes pretty much at the same time of day, regardless of location.

Of course, you can find cruising bonefish in comparatively shallow water most any time of day, and now and then you can get one of them to take the fly. But the good fishing comes when the fish are "tailing" actively on the feed, and that is when they will take your fly solidly and readily.

Get Information

If you want to try your hand at bonefishing with the fly rod (and I strongly urge that you do, as it is a sport you won't forget in a hurry) you can secure all necessary information either by writing to me in care of your newspaper, or by writing to Mr. Joe Brooks, Manager of Metropolitan - Miami Fishing Tournament, 1307 North Miami Avenue, Miami 15, Florida. To date Joe has taken 135 bonefish on his fly rod and he holds the fly-rod record of ten pounds, nine ounces.

You can find comfortable quarters here on the keys, good food and plenty of fresh water (a district novelty to anyone who knew the keys in their "dry" state prior to World War II). Bring a fly rod with plenty of backbone, preferably nine-foot six or ten feet, a grilse reel with a dependable drag, a three-diameter line, size GBF or GAF and a supply of Nylon strength in fifteen, twelve and ten pound tests.

Of course you can take some fish with bait and a casting rod but the fly rod is more fun and a tougher angling job.

Last but no means least, bring along your Solunar Tables. If you haven't the schedule for enough in advance, don't worry too much about it. Most of the boat captains down here have the Solunar Tables and you can get daily times of the Solunar Periods from them. Even down here in the Florida Keys they are finding that it pays to keep track of the daily Solunar Periods.

Toronto Marlies Defeat Senators By 5-0 Count

Toronto, April 16 — (CP) — Unless a change proves as good as a rest for Ottawa Senators, Toronto Marlboros can start counting right now on an Allan Cup date with the Western Canada senior hockey champions.

The Senators looked as if they needed both change and rest as they bowed 5-0 to Marlboros last night, in the opening game of the eastern final. For one period the Quebec champions made it a game, then Marlies slapped in two goals in the second period and three in the third.

Injury-riddled and travel-weary, the Quebec champions from the capital showed enough flashes of form however to indicate they may be a different team in the second game of the best-of-seven series at Ottawa Monday night.

Goalie Howie Hawry, the 21-Year-old Montreal boy in the Toronto nets, had to make some sparkling saves to gain shutout. But after the veteran William (Flash) Hollett gave the All-Ontario champions a lead in the second period, Hawry recovered and seemed to be in the game.

The Toronto Leafs' Lenfs amateur farm hands, playing before a crowd of 12,749 in their home Maple Leaf Gardens, poured in four more goals. The triggermen were George Armstrong, Cal Blair, Johnny McCormack and Ray Hannigan.

Before the next game, however, the Senators get a chance for their first layoff since the playoffs series games in seven days. Ottawa had to play a sudden-death game for the Quebec title three days night with St. Joseph D'Alma — beating them 5-0 after just finishing a hard-fought series with Sherbrooke.

Dressed Only 18

The seven - game series with Sherbrooke for the Quebec Senior League title crippled the Senators so coach Frank Boucher could dress only 13 players last night, one less than permissible.

Big Butch Stahan was out with a torn knee cartilage, since man Connie Tudin with a knee injury and centre Eddie Reiner with a broken hand. Boucher said he wasn't too hopeful about any of the five playing in the series.

Besides that, defenceman Johnny Copp, Ottawa's captain, played with a broken thumbnail Stu Smith, speedy little forward, was barely recovered from a fracture-ed jaw.

On the other hand, the Marlboros looked well-rested after their layoff since eliminating Sydney Millionaires in the eastern final last Friday night. Coach Joe Primeau iced the same fast, rugged team — with a couple of valuable additions — that beat out Kitchener - Waterloo for the Ontario Association crown, then eliminated North Bay Black Hawks before tackling Sydney.

One of the valuable additions was George Armstrong, the 18-year-old native of Skead. Ont., who scored the picture goal of the night, by far, for the Junior Marlboros for the play-offs. Armstrong's backhanded bonne his own rebound after Ray Tralnor, rugged Ottawa defenceman, knocked him to his knees. The teams play the next two games in Ottawa, Monday and Tuesday night before coming to Toronto for the fourth Thursday night.

Barrie Flyers Down 3 Games To The Royals

Toronto, April 16 — (CP) — Barrie Flyers may come to the end of their junior hockey season this afternoon when they meet the Toronto Royals in the fourth game of their best-of-seven series for the Dunlop Canada junior hockey title.

Winning 3-2 and 5-4 games over the flagging Flyers, Montreal could jump into the Canadian finals of the Memorial Cup with a fourth win today.

Barrie Flyers' charges, returning to more familiar surroundings at Maple Leaf Gardens after two whippings in Montreal, are tired and battered and still looking for the spark that swept them through Ontario playoffs in their series against the Marlies.

Barrie's chief stumbling block, apart from a lamentable lack of finish around the Montreal crease, has been the tenant of that goal—Bob Bleau. The lanky Bleau has been one of the main forces holding off Barrie's marksmen and giving his mates a chance to pepper little Gil Mayer in the Barrie net.

Timmins Bowler Rolls 932 For Three-Game High

Toronto, April 16 (CP)—Bowlers from Ottawa and Timmins shared the spotlight yesterday at the opening of the annual Canadian Bowling Association five-pin tournament.

Ken Tomkins of Timmins scored the highest number of points in the men's singles 932. He rolled 304,326 and 302.

Highest in mixed doubles were Stan Craig and Mrs. Harper of Ottawa with 1,577. L. Davidson and Dick Mansell of Timmins were next with 1,443.

Timmins Caterpillar set the pace in the mixed teams competition with 3,319. Two other Timmins teams filled third and fifth places.

The tournament continues until April 30.

SHARK BITES BATHER

Tampico, Mexico, April 14 — (AP) — A shark, frightened from the sea by naval gunfire and depth charges, jumped up on Miramar Beach yesterday and bit a bather. Other bathers grabbed sticks and clubs and beat the shark to death before it could get back to the water. The injured man was taken to the hospital.

RESCUES DOG FROM MINE

Troon, Cornwall, England — (CP) — Lost in an old mine for three months, a terrier was rescued by a 60-year-old ex-miner, T. J. Knowles, who was lowered 190 feet on a rope, and was suspended for an hour before he found the dog in an entrance to the shaft.

Hershey Bears Need One Game To Take Title

Hershey, Pa., April 16 — (AP) — The Hershey Pennsylvania Hershey Bears have a chance to clinch the American Hockey League title tonight on their home rink in their sixth game with Providence Reds.

The Bears lead 3-2 in the best-of-seven series. Victory means possession of the Calder Cup.

Should Providence win tonight the final game will be played at the New England rink.

The Reds emerged victor in the last game, played Thursday, at Providence. Two overtime sessions were required for a 4-3 victory.

Hershey returned here considerably bettered. The team is without the services of Fred Hunt, winger; Arnie Kullman, center; and possibly goalie Gordie Henry. All three are on the injured list.

Hunt is still in a Providence hospital with a head injury suffered when he hit the boards behind the Reds' cage.

The injured Kullman is second in scoring in the series with 12 points. Gordie Bruin, also of the Bears, leads with 14 counters.

Roger Bedard, Victor Lemieux and Mark Marquess, Hershey, are tied for third with 11.

Little Benny's Note Book

Today in school Miss Kitty was telling us about people being the highest form of life in the world on account of having brains and soles and everything, saying, it is possible that people have existed on earth ever since the beginning of creation, or at least ever since the world cooled off a little, although many scientists believe that men discended from a kind of a superior type of monkey. And now unless there are any questions we will go on to arithmetic, she said.

Sounding like a good time for questions, and Shorty Judge waved his hand saying, Are men the only ones they think descended from monkies? How about women and children? he said, and Miss Kitty said, Well naturely when I say men I mean mankind. Is that the only question? she said.

Which it wasn't, Sammy Poland saying, If dogs are men's best frends, why didn't they pick dogs to descend from and keep being frendly?

It's not a question of frendship, it's a question of intelligence, and next to man a munkey is the most intelligent of creatures, Miss Kitty said, and I quick waved, saying, If munkies were more intelligent than dogs, they'd chase their flees around like dogs do, instead of trying to catch them.

And why would they, pray? Miss Kitty said, and I said, Because nuthing makes a flee madder than being cawt, and they bite when they're mad, but dogs just keep chasing them with their hine legs because dogs are intelligent enough to know a flee hasn't got time to bite as long as it's bizzy running.

Oh sutch a class, Miss Kitty said. Sometimes I think I really doont know what to think, she said.

Briefs From Britain

(By The Canadian Press)

Pevensey Bay, Sussex, England —(CP) — A "land mine" spotted here turned out to be a petrol can embedded in the beach.

London — (CP) — Following reports of disorderly conduct the Battersea Borough Council is considering putting a ban on "jitterbugging" in dance halls under its control.

Halifax, England — (CP) — Great-grandfather Joseph Holroyd, 80, continues to work a 48-hour week in a textile mill because "I should go crackers if I stopped."

Peterborough, England — (CP) — A cream-colored mole was found here.

Lincoln, England — (CP) — A mutton chop representing Britain's weekly ration of 8d. (14 cents) has been placed in a butcher's shop window — behind a four-inch magnifying glass.

Chelmsford, England —(CP)— Nine million pounds ($36,000,000) is the estimated cost of sites and building costs for Essex Education Committee's scheme for further education. One-third of this will be required in the next five years.

Brighton, England — (CP) — As part of a drive to improve the standard of cleanliness in cafes, Brighton Food Control Committee decided to issue catering licences only to proprietors whose premises had been inspected by the corporation's health department.

Pontypridd, Monmouthshire — (CP) — A factory to be erected here, will have a sun-bathing terrace for its 1,500 workers.

London — (CP) — A new 24-hour influenza cure is being successfully tried out in hospitals throughout the country. The cure — 1,000,000 units of penicillin every four hours — puts patients on their feet five days earlier than usual.

Wicken, Cambridgeshire, England (CP) — Villagers claim they have seen a laughing monk, an "angel," and phantom dancers on a farm near the sites of an old abbey where an abbot was murdered in 1406. A psychical research society is investigating.

Liverpool, England — (CP) — The Bishop of Liverpool, Dr. A. C. Martin, asked by a choirboy for two autographs, sent him only one and commented: "I will not have him swapping two bishops for one film star."

Liskeard, Cornwall, England — (CP) — The lovers' walk here will be inspected by D. L. Richards, parish council chairman, because of complaints that the kissing gates have fallen into disrepair and the path is overgrown.

Westerham, Kent, England — (CP) — The rifle range here, thousands of soldiers and airmen perfected their shooting in two wars is being demolished. The land will be returned to cultivation.

UNDERWATER SOS

Survivors of sea disasters can now be located by means of an underwater sound system capable of detecting the explosion of a small T.N.T. rescue bomb 2,000 miles away.

2,500 Gun-Shy Geese Wait Out Long Watch

The group of 20 watchers collected in the shaky log shelter might justly imagine themselves hidden from view, but coming faintly across the icy lake the uneasy honking of 2,900 wary geese told that the watchers were being watched, says an Ottawa Journal staff writer.

Squatted firmly on the ice in the centre of Mud Lake, on Sunday, the geese waited patiently for the unwelcome audience to leave before venturing ashore for the dinner which had been scattered for them in the fields along the shore.

Take No Chances

The human beings were obviously hospitable creatures — they scattered a banquet of 400 pounds of feed each day — but the gunwise geese were taking no chances of being soaked to provide a banquet in turn.

Grouped in the log shelter on the farm of Harry Berry, at Cobden, Ont., were five directors of the Ottawa Fish and Game Association, led by their president, Dr. Ernest Rowe, four district game wardens, Frank Kelly, of Cormac; Arthur Stafford, of Renfrew; Philip Pierce, of Pembroke, and Wilson Hudson, of Ottawa; several curious neighbors, and a pair of forlorn cameramen.

The directors were making an on-the-spot survey of the migrating flock. The game wardens were there to supervise the feeding. The curious had come to watch. And the cameramen had come in hopes of getting a close-up view of a goose having supper. They could see the unwelcome looking through telescopes at the group on the ice, and gave up on the ice more than half a mile away.

Even as they watched the gigantic flock was growing as newcomers winged over the hills and circled the farm wearily before planing down to join those below.

Annual Stop-Over

They came in groups of two and three, or in formations of a dozen or more, swinging out of the skies after a flight of thousands of miles from the Southern States straight to the tiny lake which for 25 years has been a stop-over point on their annual migration.

"They will gather here for about three weeks," Game Warden Arthur Stafford said. "By that time there will be close to 5,000 birds in the flock. Then in some mysterious way they will receive a signal that their nesting place around James Bay are finally clear of ice, and suddenly they will be on their way."

It was on a bright spring day 25 years ago that geese first showed an interest in the Berry farm. That day 17 wing-weary birds settled in the field by the side of the lake and began feeding on the newly sprouted clover. The Berrys are hospitable, but clover means money to a farmer, and so they tried to chase them away. Their success in this is demonstrated by the fact that last year 4,000 Canada geese used the farm as a stop-over point, and 5,000 are expected this year.

The birds forage for miles in all directions, and last year in an effort to cut farmers' losses and keep the birds from starving, the Renfrew Fish and Game Association started regular feeding for the first time.

This year the Department of Lands and Forests is supplying two tons of feed, and when this is exhausted another half ton will be donated by the Ottawa Fish and Game Association. The Renfrew and Pembroke Associations may also give assistance.

Lakeshore Table

The feed, a mixture of corn, oats, barley, and wheat, is scattered on two fields by the shore of the lake. The birds come in to eat late in the afternoon, and the ground is blanketed with the hungry geese who swarm in a grey cloud over every inch of the land where the grain is spread.

They spend the night sleeping in the comparatively warm fields, but shortly after sunrise they return to the centre of the lake where they spend the day sunning themselves on the ice, waiting for the next meal to be scattered.

The first flocks arrived two weeks ago, and feeding was started last Thursday. To lure the birds away from the Berry's valuable fields, the first grain was spread a quarter of a mile south of the farm.

The geese weren't fooled. For 25 years they had been giving their business to Harry Berry, and they had no intention of changing now. They left it lying there to be eaten by a group of wild ducks who didn't know any better. The game wardens surrendered, and on Friday the feed was scattered at the old spot.

Although farmers all through the area are still plagued by raiding flocks, oddly enough there is one field adjacent to the Berry farm which is never disturbed.

Like Elephants

Two years ago the outraged owner set steel traps which captured one of the thieving birds. Its screams warned the others away, and geese have long memories. Since that day not a single goose has set foot in that field which is in the centre of their gathering area.

Among the gigantic colony of slate-grey birds there is one lonely alien which has attached itself to the flock. A single pure white Snow Goose which continually honks its arthritoratic bewilderment at finding itself among such unwonted company.

The flock is also keeping its eye on one other member of inquisitive, home-making little lady who just can't wait for the spring nesting places up North to thaw out. Game Warden Philip Pierce found a single brown egg in the field Sunday morning after the flock had risen.

Siren Song

The wild geese cause farmers other troubles too besides damaging their fields. One farmer last year had a flock of seven tame geese which, when migrating started gathering just a few fields away. It seems there was a bit of fraternizing and tempting tales were told of the wild free life in the skies. In the end, seven more birds flew out of Cobden than had flown in.

Another farmer had a similar experience, but his flock changed their minds just four miles out from their home base, and made an emergency landing at another farm. The farmer went out next day with his truck and brought the disillusioned birds back home.

One of the results of feeding the wild birds will be to keep them settled in one place, not disturbing the tame geese in the area. So for about three more weeks the tourists will be fed their 400 pounds of grain each day, as more and more late arrivals struggle in to take advantage of the bonanza.

Then one night they will come in as usual to feed in the fields, but a strange restlessness will hang over the flocks. They will pick listlessly at the grain and stay nervously at one another.

And suddenly, in the middle of the night the grey mass will stir noisily and surge into the air to wheel endlessly in the darkness as flock after flock rises to join the formation.

Gradually the circle will become a triangle, with its apex pointed northwards. The mysterious "signal" will have come that the nesting grounds are free of ice.

The geese can look after their own meal tickets for the rest of the year.

Unemployed War Veteran Charged With Murder

Welland, April 14 — (CP) — John William Christian, 27-year-old unemployed war veteran, was arraigned in the Welland county jail on a charge of murder this morning, and remanded to April 21. The accused was represented by R. Boak Burns, Welland solicitor, retained Wednesday night by the father of the accused, J. W. Christian, a painter.

Christian's wife, an English war bride, came to Welland from Port Dover, yesterday afternoon, but as yet no attempt has been made by any member of the family to see the accused man in the jail.

Christian, it is understood, has given police a signed statement.

Provincial Police under Inspector Ward (B) Kennedy are continuing their investigation of the case. Police today scotched rumors that Jacob Koabel, the murdered man, had been slashed with a razor. An autopsy performed Wednesday night by Dr. Lorne Whitaker of St. Catharines showed death to be caused by blows inflicted on the back of Koabel's head by a heavy blunt instrument. The murder weapon has not been found.

PASSION PLAY AGAIN

The famous Passion Play of Oberammergau, Germany, will go on again in 1950, for the first time in 16 years, the longest lapse in the history of this play.

Motor Production At Postwar High

Detroit, April 14 — (AP) — Motor vehicle production in the United States will hit another postwar high mark this week with the assembly of 126,202 units, Automotive News reported today.

The trade paper counted 101,231 passenger cars and 24,971 trucks in this week's output. This compares with last week's postwar high of 99,251 cars and 25,440 trucks.

Automotive News said that barring supplier strikes next week's output will be stepped up further. It predicted a total April production of 525,000 vehicles.

Thrilling action and spectacle are combined in the new Twentieth Century-Fox release, "Canadian Pacific", which opens Monday at the Capitol Theatre. Filmed in color by Cinecolor, "Canadian Pacific" tells the story of the building of the great trans-Canada railroad. Randolph Scott is starred in the Nat Holt production, which also features Jane Wyatt, J. Carroll Naish, Victor Jory and Nancy Olson. On the same program, "The Three Stooges" in "Brideless Groom". Matinee daily at 2.00.

DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Huntsville, Tex., April 16 — (AP) — Buster Northern, 20, died in the electric chair early today for the murder of a 69-year-old woman nearly three years ago. He was charged with having trampled her to death and a previous conviction was set aside because the indictment failed to stipulate "with his feet." He was convicted at a second trial.

EARLY LONDON

London, England, is said to owe its beginning centuries ago to salt pack trains which made the area a resting place.

AT THE BELLE—Jane Russell and Bob Hope have an uproarious time in their co-starring Technicolor comedy, "The Paleface", showing today and Monday at the Belle. The Paramount fun film has Bob in the title role with luscious Russell as Calamity Jane.

Minister States Plans to Improve Hunting, Fishing

Ottawa, April 16 (CP)—A whole new host of plans to improve fishing and hunting in Ontario were disclosed Thursday by Harold Scott, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests.

For one thing Ontario guides will receive boat and woodcraft training at the Dorst Ranger School in the Muskoka district to place them among the finest guides in the world, Mr. Scott said.

He spoke before 1,400 Ottawa sportsmen at an Ottawa Fish and Game Association rally.

A new plan will be adopted, he said, whereby game overseers will be moved from one part of Ontario to another to give them broader knowledge of fish and game conditions in the province as a whole.

A new law is being contemplated to make the use of aircraft illegal for actual hunting but may be used legally for travelling to and from fish and game camps.

Predator control will be practised to a greater degree. Some $75,000 will be spent this year in wolf bounties alone.

Trapping areas will be set up and trappers licensed. To protect grounds against poaching, 40 planes will be made available during the summer months and 10 planes will be equipped with skis to be used during the winter.

Commercial hunters will be penalized more heavily. For killing deer and elk illegally, fines will range from $50 to $500; for bull moose from $100 to $300 and for female moose and caribou from $200 to $500.

Hatcheries will be increased. Altogether there will be 28 hatcheries in production this year.

Mr. Scott said there may be a need for greater conservation of deer, due to current shortages. He said study also is being given to shutting down the moose season for two years to build up stocks.

PATIENTS NOT DANGEROUS

Brentwood, N.Y., April 16 — (AP) — Police today sought six of seven male mental patients who escaped Friday night from a nearly state hospital after beating two attendants and taking their keys.

One man was captured a few hours later. The escapees were not considered "particularly dangerous," hospital officials said.

AT THE McCARTHY — "Wake of the Red Witch" Republic film starring Gail Russell and John Wayne, bows into the McCarthy Theatre, Monday. A stirring story of romance and adventure, it is a fine screen version of Garland Roark's great, best-selling novel.

Peterborough Legion Wins Senior B Title

Sarnia, Ont., April 16. (CP)—Peterborough Legionnaires skated off with the Senior "B" O.H.A. Championship crown Friday as they took their third straight game from Sarnia Sailors 6-3.

The Sailors, spurred on by 2,000 rooters showed fighting spirit they lacked in the first two games of the series.

At the beginning of the first period, it appeared that the Sarnia crew would force a fourth game in their best three-out-of five series. Several times they dragged Nichols out of the net. Tempers flaired and in all 14 penalties were handed out.

At 1.14 Garvin of Sarnia and Crawley of Peterborough were both put off for high sticking. Kowcinak raced in to pot the first goal for Sarnia. The Tars had their plays worked down to a fine point and Kowchak, and O'Bright landed two more goals to make the score 3-0. Hill scored in the first visiting goal with Fraser of Sarnia sitting in the cooler. Crawley raised the score to 3-3 with another goal for Peterborough at the end of the first.

The second period dragged, Sarnia staying on the defensive but Godfrey scored once for the visitors without a reply.

Sarnia hit the skids in the third period, with Peterborough rapping in three fast goals to sew up the game.

Sarnia—Goal, Rutler; defence, Haddon, Dodds; centre, Kowcinak; wings, Garvin, Cousins; Subs Butler, Kirkland, Maugh, Beauchamp, O'Bright, Needham, Fraser.

VIOLATED IMMIGRATION LAWS

Mobile, Ala., April 16 — (AP) — Errol Callender, 20-year-old native of Trinidad, Friday was sentenced to 18 months on charges of violating United States immigration laws. Officers said he had stowed away three previous times on ships bound for the United States and had been deported three times. He will be deported again after his release.

Several Assaults Result in Arrest Of 7 Toronto Men

Two Policemen and Five Citizens Injured in Brawls

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — Police arrested 167 persons during the Easter weekend and charged seven with assault in an outbreak of fights which resulted in injury to two policemen and five other persons.

"I've never seen so many assaults in which there was no reason for trouble," said an officer. "The assailants just seemed to go berserk."

Most persons were arrested for drunkenness. Others were held on charges of assault, thefts or creating disturbances.

Douglas Thibeault, 18, and Norman Blair, 19, were arrested for theft and robbery of Jack Brundage outside an east-end restaurant after Brundage had been chased from the restaurant by a gang of teen-agers for no apparent reason. Police said the two youths followed him, knocked him down on the street, stole his jacket and $175.

A doorybrook in a Queen Street east bar in which two police officers were injured resulted in the arrest of Clifford Heffernan, 21, and Donald Clement, 25, on assault charges. Police were called after Heffernan and Clement left front glass door because the proprietor ordered him out for dancing in the snack bar. Heffernan joined the free-for-all and ripped wood.

Another assault in a theatre ended in the arrest of Allan Fuller, 22, Arnold Morton said when he objected to a man sitting in the theatre seat in which his wife was sitting, both he and his wife were struck.

Plea For Medical Aid Comes From Labrador Village

St. John's, April 18 (CP) — Hebron, tiny outpost huddled on the mountainous North Labrador coast, today lay sick with only one hand and crossed fingers on the other.

Nearly 350 miles south of Goose Bay, the C. A. F. prepared to wing aloft with penicillin for 100 ailing persons in the settlement, reported Sunday in the grip of an influenza epidemic.

Premier Joseph Smallwood said a message here telling of the village's plight. He then urged the air force at Goose to fly in needed medicines as soon as possible.

Hundreds of miles south, the federal health ministry took a breather after slogging her way through grinding ice floes to bring food to Southern Labrador hamlets reported short of provisions.

Saurel shoved her way to the settlement of Aulatsivik near the St. Mary's Bay region a half-dozen villages were menaced by starvation last week. Their situation has been alleviated by airborne food parcels.

The Canadian icebreaker dumped her 250,000 food — parcels at Anchorage. Supplies will be lugged overland to wherever they are most needed.

Some 60 persons were reported sick in Hebron last Friday by Mrs. Margaret Grubb, wife of a Moravian Missionary in the predominantly-Eskimo village.

An air force doctor, Sqdn. Ldr. J. Kettles, was flown in from Goose after Mrs. Grubb said her patients not improved to new dinary influenza treatment.

Sqdn. Ldr. Kettles later reported that epidemic conditions probably were caused by overcrowding and unsanitary conditions. He said he saw one hut where 12 persons slept on the same board bed.

Investigate Death Of Young Woman

Kirkland Lake, April 18 — (CP) — Coroner and hospital authorities today investigated the circumstances surrounding the death of a young woman who died in the hospital after regaining consciousness after being found in a deserted bedroom Friday night.

Believed to be Elfrida Zentila, the woman was found on the bed of her room and could not be roused. She was taken to hospital where she died Saturday. An autopsy did not reveal cause of death.

Detective O. Wright said the woman's parents showed nothing to indicate foul play.

Later inquiries indicated the woman was Latvian-born and planned to begin work at the Kirkland Lake hospital as a trained nurse. It is believed she married in Germany in 1944-45 and worked at Weston hospital at Kenora, Ont., and Sioux Lookout, before her arrival in Canada.

Her only known relative is a Mrs. Diuze, Toronto.

CENTRAL HEATING CONSIDERED

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — Toronto's three major hospitals — the Toronto General, the new Mount Sinai Hospital, Ont. new Hospital for Sick Children and the Women's College Hospital — were reported today considering a scheme for a central heating plant which would save them a total of $600,000 capital expense and a $70,000 annual fuel bill.

The hospitals are located near each other downtown.

PASSENGERS BEATEN IN DAWN ATTACK ON SHIP

Asleep in Cabins At Time of Raid

Montreal, April 18. (CP)—Violence shattered the Easter Sunday quiet of a Montreal waterfront when a raiding party boarded the cargo-liner Beaverburn and beat up passengers asleep in their cabins.

A spokesman for the Canadian Pacific Steamships, owners of the Beaverburn, described the 20 passengers as "long-time ne'er-do-wells" of the company on the West Coast enroute to England to bring back a new vessel, the Princess Patricia.

Six of the men injured in the dawn attack were from Vancouver. They needed treatment for facial cuts and bruises suffered in the two-hour battle.

The swinging battle but were discharged in time to sail on the Beaverburn at mid-day.

The C.P.S. spokesman said the attack appears members of the Brotherhood of Railway and steamship employees.

Others belonged to the Seafarers International Union of N. A. (C. L.)

Eight of the party did not sail. The reason was given by the men sailing.

The battle was the most violent since the Montreal Navigation season opened last week during which there have been 10 attacks by the Canadian Seamen's Union (C. L.) on ships of other lines. Owners signed an agreement with the C.S.U. last week.

Police estimated that 20 men took part in the fight, and when the Beaverburn men while still asleep in their bunks at 5 o'clock nine minutes later when police in five cars reached the dock the attackers had fled.

There were no arrests and police said no charges will be laid unless they had any leads on the attackers or their reason for the assault.

Numerous clashes have occurred between members of the C.S.U. and S.I.U. in their fight of war for control of shipping jobs since the strike developed here two weeks ago.

James Tandy, 40, of Montreal, who was attacked aboard the Beaverburn, said he was knocked unconscious by a blow when he boarded the ship first. He said he awoke to find the ship's officers of the ship's all-British crew.

Other Beaverburn members of the Beaverburn's crew did not take part in the battle.

Observers Sifting New Reports of Soviet Efforts To End Berlin Blockade

Berlin, April 18 — (AP)—Are the Russians seeking a diplomatic way to lift the blockade of Berlin and still "save face?"

For several weeks, there have been reports of new Soviet efforts to find a way out of what has become a devastating situation.

The Allied counter - blockade has deprived the Russian occupation zone of Germany and many of the Soviet satellite countries of materials necessary to their economic well-being.

There were reports from authoritative sources in Germany Sunday that Germans of the eastern zones are putting pressure on the Russians to lift the blockade.

Die Welt, official British Army newspaper at Hamburg, said the Germans are "at the end" and want to resume trade with western Germany.

Die Welt said Vladimir Dekonosov, former Russian Ambassador to Germany, has been in Berlin for several days to advise the Soviet military administration on these proposals about resuming inter-zonal trade and traffic which have now reached a decisive stage."

The story was supported in part by Lawrence Wilkinson, economics advised to Gen Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor. He said the communist-dominated German Economic Commission of the eastern zone had sent informal communications to German officials in Frankfurt asking a common effort to get trade started again between eastern and western Germany.

Wilkinson said the American answer was "Nothing doing. No trade until the blockade of Berlin is fully lifted."

Die Welt said the German Economic Commission told the Russians their two-year economic plan is doomed to failure unless western products can be obtained.

The British-licensed German press service said the German railway directorate of the Russian zone also was pleading for free inter-zonal transport to save the railroad from bankruptcy.

"There have been no Soviet overtures to the Allies either direct or anyone else," a top official source declared. "The Germans and communists being squeezed by our counter-blockade undoubtedly would like to see the Berlin crisis but the Russians are running easier — particularly in Germany. This German wishful thinking gives rise to many rumors but few facts."

CHINESE GOVT. TRYING TO WIN DELAY IN DEMAND

Communists Ask Govt. to Surrender by Next Wednesday

Nanking, April 18 (AP) — The government, reliable sources said today, is trying desperately to win a delay in the Communist demand that it surrender by Wednesday.

There were reports that an emissary would leave shortly for Chikiow, below Shanghai, to lay before retired President Chiang Kai-Shek the terms presented by the Communists for surrender of the Nationalists.

Meanwhile, along a 650-mile Yangtze River front, the Communist 200 troops awaited the word that would set them to fighting again. Some officials said they had ordered rejection of the Communist demand.

The government has about 500,000 troops concentrated along the Yangtze River for superior Communist forces in the north bank of the river.

Fighting may burst out regardless of the government's wishes, a government sieve the Communists, who want their capital in about a dozen places and take over National troops.

The Communists are dealing with retiring President Li Tsung-Jen. Li, at Zest, controls only about 100,000 troops, mostly in the Shanghai and Nanking defence troops are under the control of Gen. Tang En-Po, whose loyalty to Chiang Kai-Shek has been questioned recently.

Many observers here feel that Tang will refuse to fight along the river. Some of his troops likewise would refuse to fight along the river. Some of his troops likewise would refuse to fight along the bulk of the Chinese navy and air force of Chiang Kai-Shek. Others might try to reach South China ports.

High Nanking officials today bitterly criticized the holding of planes on Formosa when they are badly needed here for defence of the capital.

The consensus here was that if whatever Li told the Reds, there will be a fight of some sort put up by at least part of the Nationalist armies.

SAVED FROM BURNS

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — Mrs. Stephen Sandy and Stephen Sandy were resting in hospital today with serious burns received Sunday when their clothing caught fire as he attempted to pour gasoline on a bonfire in the backyard of their suburban York township.

Mrs. Sandy's neighbor, saved the boy from more serious injury when she heard his screams, dressed him across the field and beat out the flames with an old sack.

KILLED IN FALL

Toronto, April 18 (CP)— Eugene Pelletier, 44-year-old steveedore, was killed early Monday when he fell 30 feet from a catwalk while unloading grain from the freighter Monalco.

CANADA MARKS HAPPIEST EASTER SINCE BEFORE WAR

Weather Could Have Been Better

For its lavish display of finery, its heavy travel volume and its light accident toll, Canadians will remember 1949 Easter holiday weekend as the best since before the Second World War.

Their only complaint is that in some sections the weather could have been better, Vancouver, with a summery 62 degrees, and Victoria and Calgary, bathed in bright sunshine, found Easter Sunday perfect. But the temperature stood at 47 degrees in Regina, a chilling 24 in Winnipeg, the low 50s in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, while in the Maritimes a day of overcast skies ended in showers and a snowstorm.

Almost everywhere churches were thronged with the biggest Easter music reminding Christians of the triumph of the Resurrection. The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, attended a Sunday morning service in Ottawa. Prime Minister St. Laurent, on a pre-election tour of Western Canada, went to church in Calgary.

Toronto's Sunnyside boardwalk was thronged with the biggest Easter parade in the city's history, an estimated 100,000 persons crowding the favorite color of women's Easter outfits and the bonnet had plenty of trim.

Recent easing of currency restrictions permitted many Canadians to journey to New York and other points in the United States. Upwards of 100,000 Montrealers crowded the railway stations, trains, planes and buses carried travellers southward to vacation.

The first holiday of the spring season gave Ottawa a taste of the sightseeing rush it experiences during the months of fine weather. Close to 2,000 persons crowded over Parliament Hill buildings. Visitors to the Capital included 200 Ontario nurses gathered there for their annual convention.

Zombia Wants To go Home But Where is Home?

San Francisco April 18 (AP)— Zombia are looking forward to Cobra Simba Pula to go home, but they're not sure where it is.

United States Immigration Service can find out where home is.

As an alien, Zombia has requested deportation to Africa, who never knew whether the application service investigator, said today. Zombia's home country of Africa is Zombia's native land.

Zombia's story begins 22 years ago — everyone's story begins when he was about seven:

"I was born in a little village street," he recalls, "and following some people on to a little ship."

Zombia ended up with a shipload of animals and Hagenbeck Wallagi tribesmen bound for the United States to join the Ringling and Bailey Ringling Brothers Circus.

All he's been here since, learning to eat fire and juggle tables.

But time immigration and naturalization service finds itself checkmated because Zombia doesn't know what country he came from. To get clearance to bring him back, some country has to accept him.

Weather Forecasts for Year Ahead Possible for any City Says Expert

Washington, April 18 (AP) — Weather predictions for months in advance are possible for any city, Dr. Charles G. Abbot, 87-year-old expert of the Smithsonian Institution, reported today. The secret lies in certain periodic fluctuations in the heat radiation of the sun.

Abbot claimed a near-perfect record for predicting cool and warm days—but actual dates—in the United States capital during 1946, and the method could be applied to any other local area.

Abbot's report concerns temperature variations only. He also has worked out a similar scheme for predicting whether the likelihood of rain or fair weather on specific dates a year ahead of time.

Here's what Abbot did in 1946 about Washington temperatures:

In January of that year, he selected 25 specific dates—four or five for each month—when he said the temperature would drop to a minimum and then start rising again. Between the "cold days," he predicted, there would be warmer days averaging 7.1 degrees higher, followed by a drop to intermediate levels.

Then he locked his predictions in a safe.

In Early this year the safe was opened by the director of the Smithsonian's astrophysical observatory and the predictions were checked with the actual weather record of the United States Weather Bureau.

Out of the 25 "minima" predicted, said Abbot, 16 dates had lower temperatures than others intervening between them. The average was 6.2 degrees, against 7.1 degrees predicted.

He says there is a "uniform periodicity of a little more than six days in the sun's heat radiation—that is, rises and falls in intensity due to sun-spots and other disturbances."

This pattern of periodicity can be applied to the weather records of any city, says Abbot, so that forecasts can be worked out for them—both on a temperature and rainfall basis.

Eire No Longer Linked to Crown, Becomes Republic

Six of 32 Counties Remain Members of United Kingdom

Dublin, Ireland, April 18 (CP) —Stalwart Irishmen shed unashamed tears of joy today as they watched soldiers of Eire march proudly—and legally—in honor of the birth of the Republic of Ireland.

Among the marchers were many members of the old I.R.A.—the Irish Republican Army—who carried on a furtive and bitter war for years against Britain. They wore the green and gold medal Ireland has bestowed on the army of that handful of desperate men who struck against British authorities Easter Monday 33 years ago.

More than 100,000 joyous Irishmen lined the route, and this city rang with their cheers and their songs. Top-hatted, frock-coated President Sean T. O'Kelly beamed from the reviewing stand as he took the salute of the first legal army parade in English invasion of 780 years ago.

At 12:01 a.m. today, Easter Monday—Eire became the Republic of Ireland. All the pomp and ceremony the country could muster went into the proclamation that Ireland no longer is linked to the Crown.

Bells pealed, cannons roared, rifles salutes were fired and hundreds of thousands of Irishmen danced and sang in the streets. There were lumps in their throats and tears in their eyes as they looked into the skies where piercing searchlights shone on the new green flag of white and green and green fluttering in the Easter night.

"Na poblacht abu!"—Gaelic for "up the Republic!"—they cried.

The Republic covers 26 of the emerald isle's 32 counties. The northern counties voted in February to remain in the United Kingdom. But thousands of Ulstermen came south to help celebrate.

The Pope, the King Prime Minister Attlee, President Truman, Prime Minister Nehru of India and Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan of South Africa were among those sending telegrams of congratulations to the new Republic.

The King and Britain fell "neighborly links" with the Irish Republic.

He added:

"I look to most grateful memory services and sacrifices of the men and women of Eire who joined our forces and gallant assistance to our cause in the recent war and who made a notable contribution to our victories."

Demand British Withdrawal

In London's Trafalgar Square thousands of Irishmen living in England massed to demand British withdrawal from the northern counties. Former Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, Eire's independence was emphasized when she refused to be neutral during the Second World War. But little by little the ties which bound Eire to the British Commonwealth were cut, last December, the last one was cut.

This was a provision in the constitution of Southern Ireland that forbade the King to accredit Eire's diplomats abroad.

Ireland's status as completely independent country then but the formal independence proclamation was put off until today in order to put public feeling in the right mood for the Easter rebellion. This means that Ireland's independence will come on a different date, each year—the day after Easter.

In the afternoon President O'Kelly of Prime Minister Costello will lead a pilgrimage to the graves of these men.

Other observances the festivities will begin again.

Tonight there will congratulate Irish leaders at a reception in the presidential mansion.

Five Are Killed In 2-Hour Easter Sunday Gunfight

Pullman, Wash., April 18 (AP) —A young veteran, rated as an expert marksman, killed four men—three of them police officers —before he was shot dead in a two-hour Easter Sunday gunfight.

The so-called "one man army" herself" when an officer tried to arrest him. Police Chief Arthur Rickets said, was George Mcintyre, 24, a veteran. He was a Boy Scout troop leader and an expert marksman in the United States armed forces.

Rickets said McIntyre hit one of his victims with seventeen rifle shots yesterday. Then he shot an officer in the head as he stood up and clubbed the policeman as he lay dying.

When a posse closed in on McIntyre near his home, he opened fire with a German sharpshooter's rifle equipped with telescopic sights. He killed two more and wounded another with this hand another rifle before the posse's bullets killed him.

day.

An high noon, on the steps of the general post office in O'Connel St, the declaration of independence will be read.

It was here on Easter Monday in 1916 that Patrick Pearse first read the 486-word document calling on the Irish to strike for independence "in full confidence of victory." This was the "Easter rebellion."

Independence finally came, but Eire gave birth to seventeen years of the tragic day did not live to see it.

Four of the seven signers were executed at trailors to the British. Also other three died fighting Britain.

The rebellion flared sporadically for six months until 1923 the Westminster parliament set up the Irish Free State. Eire's independence was emphasized when she refused to be neutral during the Second World War. But little by little the ties which bound Eire to the British Commonwealth were cut, last December, the last one was cut.

World's Largest Flattop Will be Capable of Carrying Atom Bombers

Newport News, Va., April 18—(AP)—The keel of the world's largest aircraft carrier—large enough to carry atomic bombs capable of carrying atom bombs—was laid today.

The ceremony attended start of work on the 65,000-tone super flattop despite the fact that the use of a hot controversy between the United States navy and the air force.

The air force regards the $186,000,000 carrier, which will be named the United States, as an invasion of the field of long-range strategic bombing, a field to which the air force claims exclusive rights.

The navy denies this and contends the planes of 1952 should have correspondingly up-to-the-minute seagoing airships to operate from.

Laying of the keel today ended a week of uncertainty as to whether the navy would get its giant carrier.

The carrier, first ship of the navy's postwar building program, will be 1,090 feet long. She will have a beam at the water line of 130 feet with a maximum fixed width above the water line of 190 feet. She will fly from her flush deck the latest type jetrier planes and will be equipped with the most advanced armament of her time.

Lay Instructors Appeal to Pope

Boston, April 18 — (AP) — Three Roman Catholic lay instructors, dismissed by Boston College for "insubordination" in the case of Father Feeney, have appealed their couters to Pope Pius a secular.

James R. Walsh said Sunday he and the other two teachers had made the second appeal to the Pope "because we believe that Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, is not the real author of Father Feeney's suspension."

Father Feeney was dismissed from the college in June, 1948, after he had refused to appear before the trustees to answer charges of insubordination.

Walsh, a philosophy instructor, Leo Richard, English instructor, professor of philosophy, and Charles Lindsay, instructor in chemistry and physics, were discharged last week. Father Leonard Feeney for speaking "on matters contrary to the traditional teachings of the Catholic Church."

Grievous Choice Faced Driver of Runaway Car

Lake Arrowhead, Calif., April 18 — (AP) — Driving a runaway downsteep mountain grade, a car with failing brakes brought death to three persons and severe injuries to three others.

The 1948 ride down the dangerous Twin-Peaks road near here featured a tragic decision on the driver, Mrs. Robert A. Crawford, 37, of Minneapolis.

For several miles she fought the slipping brakes and the downgrade control they gave out. Ahead was a sharp curve which rimmed a 400-foot cliff. Inside the curve was a large cedar tree.

Mrs. Crawford chose the tree.

In hospital, she told patrolmen that she decided at the last second that the out-of-control car would never make the sharp curve.

GIRL RETURNED HOME

Toronto, April 18 (CP) —While police were conducting a widespread search for 15-year-old girl missing for several days from her home, a letter was received telling her stating she was happy, had a job and was sorry she had caused so much trouble.

ST. LAURENT MAY NAME CALGARIAN TO CABINET POST

Marshall Forter, Lawyer, Would Take Post Vacated by Hon. James Mackinnon

Regina, April 18 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent may name a Calgary, Lawyer, Marshall Porter, to a cabinet post before the July 1 election, it was reported today, as one step in his efforts to bolster Conservative fortunes in four western provinces where the party is now holding 11 seats.

Between the speeches and functions which have been the keynote of his western tour, he has found time for private talks with Conservative leaders — many whom are far from ruling out a June 27 election and are acting accordingly.

There is no indication yet, after visits in British Columbia and Alberta, that he has tipped his hand about the date he will be. The Prime Minister himself insists that he hasn't made up his mind and that the final decision will rest with the cabinet. But there is no doubt that the country will go to the polls this year.

Appeals For Support

In Alberta, dominated by the Social Credit party, he appealed for support on the ground that any party that has its capable of winning the election is entitled to have stable government. In C.C.F.-dominated Saskatchewan, he is believed to have held up the spectre of minority government as a reason for voting Liberal.

The naming of Mr. Porter to a cabinet post, Conservative opinion would be far from a precedent. At least four of the present cabinet started in that way. It is considered a boon to a candidate's prestige.

In his middle 50s, Mr. Porter has been prominent commercially in the oil and grain industries as well as other qualifications which party strategists think would make him a logical man to succeed Hon. James Mackinnon, Minister Without Portfolio and an Alberta member, if the latter is expected to go to the Senate shortly before the election.

Visited Others

Mr. Porter is understood to have visited Ottawa two weeks ago when he decided to let his decision be known to the Prime Minister on his visit to Calgary. Mr. MacLeod sent now held by Social Credit.

DIES AFTER CRASH

Quebec, April 18 (CP) — Rene Vaillancourt, 18-year-old passenger in a small private plane that crashed in a swamp 20 miles from here Easter Sunday, died in hospital early today.

Vaillancourt and Claude Mortsette, 19-year-old pilot of the two-seater aircraft, were taken to hospital in critical condition after the accident near Chateau D'Eau.

CLANGING LOCOMOTIVE BELL HERALDS PICTURE

The intermittent clanging of an honest - to - goodness locomotive bell in the lower section of Front Street caused more than a little comment from pedestrians on Monday afternoon and evening.

The bell was the advertising idea of Thomas Masaro, manager of the local Capitol Theatre, to herald the coming of "Canadian Pacific" which is showing this week.

"Canadian Pacific" portrays the early days of Canadian railroading and is claimed to be one of the better railroad pictures. The picture is in cinecolor with Randolph Scott playing the leading role.

RON GODDEN SECOND IN RACE

In the races held recently at Victoria, British Columbia, Ron Godden of Belleville ran second in a two-and-a-half-mile race. He was presented with an eight-inch trophy from the Canadian Legion.

SUFFERS HEAD GASH IN CAR ACCIDENT

Passenger in an eastbound auto which was in a sideswipe collision with another car, James Lorimer, Chatham Street, is in hospital with a severe gash in his head suffered when he was struck with broken glass. The accident occurred Saturday evening three miles west of the city.

Lorimer was riding east in a car driven by Reg. Donnell of Trenton, when it was in a sideswipe collision with a westbound car driven by Wm. Sutton of Toronto. Lorimer was the only person injured in the accident, but both cars were badly damaged.

Provincial Police who investigated reported highway traffic on Sunday was exceptionally heavy. Only one highway accident was reported in the immediate district.

Following the opening of the new building of the Uptown Tire and Battery Service on Pinnacle Street, which is conducted by Bruce Smith, a drawing for a number of valuable prizes took place at the closing on Saturday night. Beston Fitzgibbon, 223 Station Street was the winner of the new Fleet, Gordon Mills 281 Ann Street secured the Goderich tire, L. L. Wright, R.R. 1 Halloway, the Scaloscabic tube and Glenn Ward, R.R. 1 Belleville, 50 feet of Kore Seal garden hose. The winners can pick u ptheir awards at the tire shop at any time.

CAPT. MacMILLAN OPENS NAVIGATION IN LOCAL HARBOR

Harbor Master George O. Tice presented Captain W. J. (Bill) MacMillan of the Britannette Sunday with the traditional flag bat, his boat being the first to enter the harbor this year. The Britannette came in with a load of gasoline. The navigation season opened later this year than last as the first boat came in last year on April 10th. There is now clear of ice and nearly all the navigation buoys have been placed.

WILLIAM C. SILLS CELEBRATES 97TH BIRTHDAY

William C. Sills, resident of Belleville for the past eighteen years, celebrated his 97th birthday on Sunday and was the recipient of many flowers and birthday cards. The Women's Association of Holloway Street United Church presented Mr. Sills with a pot of daffodils. Mr. Sills was born in Brockville but came to Belleville when three years of age. He spent most of his life in this community and for 18 years was employed with the Greene Music Company as a piano salesman and covered the immediate territory. He is enjoying good health and looking forward to many more happy birthdays.

SERVICE STATION OPERATOR INJURED

James Cretney, 72, blacksmith and service station operator on No. 14 highway four miles south of Belleville, is in Belleville hospital suffering from a fractured left ankle received when he was struck by a car which was being driven in his direction by a gasoline.

The mishap occurred Sunday afternoon when William Sills, R. R. 3, Belleville, drove into the service station to purchase some gasoline. As Mr. Sills drove into the garage his car in some manner struck Mr. Cretney who was later taken to hospital.

LARGE FLOCK OF SWALLOWS FEEDS OVER RIVER

A large flock of sand swallows have been flitting over the top of the waters of the Moira River since early this morning. They are apparently taking insects from the water as they fly in large groups from a section of water about 150 yards in length. They have a set pattern that takes them the length of the course. When one group is working its way down the river picking up the insects the other returns to the imaginary starting line. At the same time another group will sit on telephone wires until another group has tired.

NEW ANGLE

Hamilton — (CP) — Audio-visual education will be introduced this year into McMaster University summer school. Two special courses will include instruction in the use of projectors, techniques of discussion-group leadership and the use of film strip.

A. C. Wilkin, Principal Q. V. School to Retire End of Term After 38 Years on Staff

School principal at Queen Victoria Public School since 1911, principal A. C. Wilkin will retire at the end of the present school term, his resignation for retirement having been accepted at the last meeting of the Board of Education.

Principal Wilkin will be succeeded at Queen Victoria School by Principal Everett Fairman, who is being transferred from King George School.

Retiring Principal Wilkin has had a long and enviable record of public service, having commenced teaching 47 years ago, and for 38 years has been school principal in Belleville.

After serving five years in undergraded schools he joined successively to Dundalk and Desoronto and in 1911 came to this city as principal of the old Queen Victoria School. On completion of the present public school on Pinnacle Street Mr. Wilkin was transferred to that building.

Great changes have taken place in education since Mr. Wilkin commenced teaching, but only those years he has kept himself abreast of the times and at many times has been a school organization has been in line with the foremost in the province.

Taken Leadership

In recent years the Queen Victoria School has taken provincial leadership in the development and application of sound and visual education. In like manner, the junior-senior high school organization now finding favor in many progressive communities, found its place in Principal Wilkin's organization, in modified form, in the early 1920's.

In Mr. Wilkin, Belleville is losing a faithful public servant although he will continue to reside in the city. During his many years as school principal in this city his influence has been passed on to many hundreds of citizens who have passed through his school.

Successor to Principal Wilkin at Queen Victoria, Principal F. S. Fairman who will take over his new duties in September, commenced his teaching career in 1918, coming to Belleville in 1930 as assistant principal to Principal Frederick at Queen Mary School.

During the war he was an active service for five years serving with the Canadian Army in India and Germany. On his return he was promoted to the principalship of King George School and in the intervening four years has shown himself a capable administrator, well meriting his transfer to a larger school.

M. Hackett Promoted

Assistant principal at King George School, Mr. Merritt M. Hackett, has been promoted to the principalship succeeding Principal Fairman. Mr. Hackett has 20 years' teaching service, coming to Belleville in 1942 from Picton. He served first in Queen Victoria School and in 1943 was transferred to King George School as assistant principal.

Mr. J. Edgar Bateman, former assistant principal at Queen Victoria School, was named to act as principal of the new school this year. West Belleville's this school is constructed. Mr. Bateman has 23 years' teaching experience in the city or immediate vicinity, three years of which were at S.S. No. 26, Thurlow. At present he is devoting his energies toward an Arts degree at Queen's University.

New B. C. I. Teacher

The board authorized the addition of another staff member to Collegiate and Vocational School to take care of expected enlarged enrolment in September.

The following were appointed as staff members to the public school staff for September:

Jack Gray, Miss Vivian Welbourn and Miss Irene Sidey from the student body of Peterborough Normal School; Mrs. D. Boyer from the Springbrook public school; Miss Rhea McCullough from the Wellington public school and H. A. Lloyd from South Thurlow Township School area.

Attendance Fees of Non-Resident Pupils Must be Paid at Once Or Students Will be Excluded

Non-resident school pupils who are attending public schools within the city's boundaries will be excluded from further attendance if attendance fees remain unpaid.

This was decided upon last week by members of the Belleville Board of Education when they voted that action be taken against parents who are delinquent in payment of non-resident fees for children attending public schools within the city. It was recommended that accounts be placed in the hands of a collection agency for action.

Board members approved of specifications prepared by Messrs. Dreyer and Smith, Kingston architects, for the new school building on Yeomans Street in West Belleville. The plans will be referred to the city engineer for consideration by the Department of Education.

Tenders to Be Called

As soon as any necessary adjustments have been complied with tenders will be called for the construction of the school building, tenders to be received until May 15th.

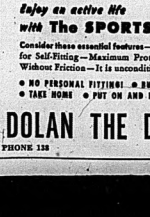
Specification provided by W.A. Watson, local architect, for alterations to the Collegiate and Vocational Institute Science Dept. in the Collegiate and Vocational Institute were approved with direction that tenders be called for the work.

The use of the school grounds at Queen Mary school and at Queen Victoria School was granted to the Canadian National Railways Employees and to the Bay of Quinte Soccer League at specific times.

Denial Service Extended

Denial service for public school pupils was extended through authorization of an additional ten clinics this year.

Co-operation was extended to the local Optimist Club which is seeking to reduce accidents to children by applying Scotch Lite to bicycles. All employees were urged to avail themselves of the T.B. survey now being conducted in the city under the auspices of the Kinsmen Club.



Public school teachers in the city will be encouraged to increase their value to the community by qualifying for university degrees through providing an allowance of $250 in the salary schedule. The offer of the Public Utilities Commission to provide special instruction regarding utilities in the home and community was accepted.

Charles L. Hyde and Son was awarded the contract to install the necessary plumbing to provide toilet facilities in the washrooms at Queen Mary and Queen Victoria public Schools. Cost of the work will be $646.

Resignation Accepted

The resignation of Miss Jean Allan from the public school teaching staff at Queen Mary School was accepted. It was directed that floor hockey be created as a physical education activity in

Arrest Made Before Burglary Discovered

Three hours before the discovery of a burglary at the residence of Mrs. Lawrence Sharpe early Sunday morning local police had made an arrest, the party later being charged with the offence.

Some time Saturday night the home of the policeman was entered through the cellar window with a part case of ale, some jam, bread and butter and a purse belonging to the jailor's son, being taken. The loss was discovered shortly before seven the next morning.

Later most of the empty ale bottles were found in the courtroom furnace, while portions of the bread and butter were found in the furnace room.

Early Sunday morning Francis Donaghue was picked up in an intoxicated condition on Front Street. In his possession were a couple of bottles of ale, the same brand as disappeared from the jail governor's residence.

When the burglary of the governor's residence was reported Donaghue was charged with the offence, while Lorne Sanford, city, has been jointly charged with the burglary.

Police believe the two men entered the jailer governor's residence and then took their loot to the jail furnace room where they disposed of the ale.

RECALLS AMBASSADOR

Teheran, April 18 (CP)—Iran has recalled Hamid Sayah, her ambassador to Moscow, and appointed Communications Minister Arsanjani to the post, it was officially announced here today.

Sayah, the Soviet Union's Consul General at Tabriz, Iran, left for Moscow with his entire staff. This was considered a form of pressure on Iran to get her to change her "unfriendly attitude" towards the Soviet Union.

Public school enrolment for March was given by inspector L. A. Kells as being 3,097 pupils in the four schools. Attendance for the month was 96 per cent.

Enrolment in the Collegiate Institute for the past month was 532 with the Vocational School 358, making a total of 896.

Principal G. E. Currie reported that approximately 70 boys had taken part in the schedule for ice hockey which had been conducted during the winter months.

100 Vision Tests Made

Public school health nurse Mrs. J. C. Watt reported 160 vision tests had been given during the month, with 50 children being physically inspected and placed under observation, children inspected at the health office totalled 146, three visitors and one 37 other defects were found, with 31 of the defects being corrected.

A number of cases of chickenpox were reported in all schools.

The meeting was one of the longest of the year with adjournment not being reached until after 9 p.m. Friday. Members present included Chairman Josephine Tickell, and Messrs. A. E. Burke, A. C. Campbell, Enos David, Frank G. Gandy, H. C. Seldon and George Wishart.

ORIENT REVIVING

Salmon Arm, B.C. — (CP) — A boom in trade between Canada and Japan is predicted by Charlie Nakamura of this town, just returned from a visit to Japan. He said wages in Japan had risen as much as 300 per cent over prewar levels.

Cool Weather Chills Usual Easter Parade

Although at times the chilly wind was more conducive of winter wearing apparel, there was a considerable number of young Bellevillians who on Sunday afternoon took advantage of the sunshine to display their new Easter finery.

But possibly the greatest show of new Easter finery was in the morning as Mr. and Mrs. Belleville and members of the younger generation strolled to the various morning church services.

In the afternoon, however, there was not the customary crowd showing off their new clothes along Front Street. This despite the fact that brilliant sunshine did its best to warm the chilly breeze.

Forest Planting Program Planned

The annual reforestation program of the County of Hastings will start on April 25th, when the first trees will be planted at the Actinolite area. There will be a continuous activity from that time until a total of over 50,000 trees have been planted. One of the highlights of the project will be the opportunity for a total of 23 public schools to plant trees and enter the School Forestry Competition.

The county committee in charge of the project extends a welcome to anyone interested to come out and see the work in progress, and lend a hand if they wish. The following planting days are scheduled:

Actinolite Area

April 25—Seven schools from the Tweed area;

April 26—Four schools from the Tyendinaga Township;

April 27—Four schools from Thurlow township.

April 28—High School Agricultural Classes.

April 29—County planting day. Members of the County Council, Junior Farmers, High School students and all interested individuals invited.

Birdsey Creek Area

May 9 — Ten schools from North Hastings will plant.

May 10 — County planting day. Members of the County Council, Junior Farmers, High School students and all interested individuals are invited.

The continued interest and support of the general public in this conservation project had been encouraged to the county committee, and they expect as many as possible will take part again this year.

What is the "Clique?".

What is the "Clique"? 'Tis a body of men
Who attend every meeting, NOT just now and then
Who don't miss a meeting unless they are sick;
Those are the men that the grouch calls "The Clique."

Who don't make a farce of the magic word "WORK";
Who believe in the motto: "Not a job will I shirk";
Who never resort to an underhand trick;
Those are the men that the grouch calls "The Clique."

The men who are seldom behind in their dues,
And who from the meeting do not carry NEWS;
Who attend to their duties and/don't seek a kick;
Those are the men that the crank calls "The Clique",

We all should be proud of members like these—
They call them "The Clique" or whatever they please
But there are some people who always find fault
And most of this kind are not worth their salt
They will always start trouble but seldom will stick,
And leave all the work to be done by "The Clique",

ST. LAURENT MAY

Significance is attached to the fact that the June 15 date of the British Columbia provincial election was announced the day Mr. St. Laurent left the country.

It was obvious that embarrassments would arise if the two elections came too close together, with Liberals and Conservatives battling in one and not battling in another.

However, the June 15 date does raise interesting possibilities for the federal vote. Premier Hart has yet to have asked for the next two clear weeks between the elections, which if granted, could still mean an early July vote for the country as a whole.

No Resurgence Likely

Meanwhile, Liberal party workers range fairly widely in their private predictions about how their party will do when the election falls. But none appears ready to prophesy anything like a sweeping resurgence of the party all through the West.

This is the way the provinces now stand federally:

British Columbia seven C.C.F.; four Liberals; four Progressive Conservatives and one Independent who generally supports the government. Alberta, 13 Social Credit, two Liberals, two P.C.'s, one vacancy. Saskatchewan, 16 C.C.F., two Liberals, one P.C. Manitoba, nine Liberals, five C.C.F., three P.C.'s.

Ontario, with 83 members, the C.C.F. is the strongest party in the West. The Liberals, wielding the vote of four provinces, are second with 29, four Social Creditors and third with 12 and the Conservatives fourth with 10.

Say Most of Crew Joins Seafarers' Union

Montreal, April 18 (CP)—Officers of the Canadian National Steamships liner Lady Nelson announced a few hours after the ship's arrival here today that 95 per cent of the 160 crew members had joined the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

The crew had been members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) which called a strike against C.N.S. nearly three weeks ago.

The officers said the remaining five per cent of the crew walked off the ship.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Slight Chance Of Health Plan This Session

Washington, April 18 (AP) — One of President Truman's legislative leaders said today there is "a slight chance" that Congress can complete action on a national health program for the United States this session.

This viewpoint was expressed by Senator Elbert Thomas (Dem. Utah), chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

"There is not enough time left to get the bill written properly and through both Houses of Congress this summer," Thomas told a reporter.

He said he expects President Truman to send Congress, probably this week, a new and comprehensive national health bill including compulsory government health insurance.

"We should have a completed bill ready for public and congressional discussion later this year," he said.

Thomas' forecast put him in agreement with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Republican policy leader and sponsor of a substitute "voluntary" government assistance health plan, that no major health legislation will be passed at the present session.

Taft is pushing a health program calling for federal outlays of $1,250,000,000 during the next five years. These would go to states and local governments to help build hospitals and provide medical care for those unable to pay the costs. Special emphasis would be placed upon voluntary pre-payment insurance for medical costs.

The plan the Truman administration is backing would rely on new toll taxes to pay for hospital, doctor and dentist bills. It would be a national system of pre-paid insurance. Administration officials have exchanged criticism with the American Medical Association which protested against the plan as "socialized medicine."

Canada's Exports To U.S. in 1949 May be Over '48

Regina, April 18 (CP)— Canadians mulled over a hope today that this country may sell a record volume of goods in 1949 to the United States.

Canada's exports to the U.S. in 1948 reached a record $1,500,000,000 but Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent thinks it possible that 1949 may be a better year.

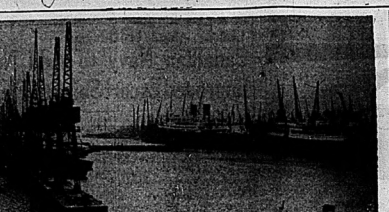
He put it this way in a speech Saturday at a dinner in Calgary sponsored by the Canadian Club and Board of Trade: There has been a lot of talk about boost on exports to the U.S. in the first two months of 1949, but this increase will not go on indefinitely but the promise for 1949 seems to be fairly reassuring."

The Prime Minister is due here today from Calgary and he faces a busy week. From here he will go to Saskatoon, Brandon, Winnipeg, Fort William and Port Arthur and then will continue to Ottawa. He will reach the capital next Sunday, a day before parliament resumes.

Mr. St. Laurent, paraded through Calgary in an open car, lauded the policies of his government in maintaining that postwar prosperity will occur by chance. He said Canadians should understand "what care is required in the disturbed world of today to maintain prosperity in any country."

It was after Mr. St. Laurent had made his mention of the U.S.-Canada trade situation that he remarked:

"We may even hope to surpass our over-all achievement of 1948."



The Prime Minister said Canada's U.S. dollar situation had improved considerably because of emergency restrictions on trade and travel. Other "constructive and positive" measures included the Geneva Tariff agreements, encouragement of development of Canada's resources, a diversion of exports to dollar markets, aid to Britain and Europe, gold inentury subsidies, and a better balance in branch plant industry.

DOCK STRIKE ENDS, BUT THREAT REMAINS

Though the tribs which immobilized the ships in London harbor is over, the scene hangs as a threat over all Britain. The Stevedore's and Dockers' Union which originated strike, gave the U.K. minister of labor notice of their disagreement on the dismissal of 33 "ineffective" workers. This action makes a strike "legal" after 21 days and would render London port as inactive as shown in the photo, taken on April 15 the day before the "illegal" strike ended.—Central Press Canadian.

Drew to Launch Intensive Party Membership Drive

Ottawa, April 18 — (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, will launch an intensive party membership campaign with a coast-to-coast radio speech April 21, it was disclosed today.

Mr. Drew will speak on free time provided by the CBC for political broadcasting. In a message written for "Public Opinion," the party's monthly news paper, Mr. Drew said "We are inviting all those who are with us in this fight against the twin perils of bureaucracy and Socialism to become active members of the Progressive Conservative party."

The membership drive is geared to a full-scale national, provincial and local advertising and publicity campaign.

Must Postpone Referendum in Western Town

Dresden, Ont., April 18 (CP)— A technicality today blocked a referendum on racial discrimination in this western Ontario town.

A vote had been scheduled for tomorrow on whether restaurant proprietors should be compelled to serve all patrons, regardless of race or color.

Mayor Walter S. Reese said today the vote has been indefinitely postponed because "the law requires us to advertise the holding of a referendum three times in the local newspapers. Our town council neglected to do that."

The referendum had been requested by the town's 300 Negro residents who claimed three of the town's five restaurants discriminate against them.

Mayor Reese said the issue would be raised at the next session of the council—scheduled for the first Monday in May.

Dresden, 15 miles north of Chatham, is the legendary home of Uncle Tom, whose escape through the Southern United States was immortalized by Harriet Beecher Stowe. An institute for runaway slaves was established here.

EDWARD JOHNSON HONORED

New York, April 18 (CP) — Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, Saturday was awarded the Degree of Officer of the National Order of the Southern Cross, Brazil's highest decoration. The award was in recognition of Johnson's work in presenting Brazilian music and artists at the Met. In the last 23 years the native of Guelph, Ont., has been decorated by six other countries.

400 Bicycles Equipped With Scotchlite Tape

The Scotch-lite-a-bike campaign got off to a good start on Saturday at the Ammunities and it was so good that it should be only a short time next Saturday before nearly every bicycle in Belleville is equipped with this safety device.

Within two and one-half hours the members of the Optimist Club had applied the Scotchlite to approximately 400 bicycles and it is estimated that there are about 100 yet to be equipped with Scotchlite. The Optimist Club will resume this operation a little earlier next Saturday but a time has not yet been set.

Black-Socked Artificial Leg Found in Auto

Ridgeway, Ont., April 18 — (CP) — An ownerless, black - socked artificial leg now adorns provincial police headquarters in this town 10 miles west of Fort Erie. It was found in a car parked on the main street of the village and turned over to Constable Roland Devereaux.

BACK IN THE FAMILY

Antigonish, N.S. — (CP) — Sale of the Royal George Hotel here recently brings the 35-year-old building back into the family of the original owner and builder, George Armour, new owner, is a grandson of James Broadfoot, who built it in 1914.

Film on Opening Of Parliament Shown to Council

Last Wednesday evening, a good crowd gathered in Sidney Baptist Church to conduct the business of the Ladies' Aid meeting.

A picture of the City of Cologne, Germany was shown depicting the ruins of the buildings and the children being taught under outside conditions. Every fifth child was barefoot, their clothing poor, but one soup was served to each child at noon. Regular inspection was made of the children by a dentist and careful examination of pupils by a doctor. A great many of the children were suffering from T.B.

Used for Information

Mr. Vaclavik said that films are used for information especially for those who can't understand the same language, as for instance Italy's coming to this country. Films are a medium of exchange of information, Mr. Vaclavik was welcomed as a new member of the film council.

The film for discussion for May should be one of wide interest namely Newfoundland. Mrs. C. Rikley is to arrange for the discussion.

Mr. Ward introduced the publication "Canadian Film News," 25 cents per year, for all council members. It was decided to get one copy for the film library.

Recreation Planned

A committee consisting of Mr. Neelands, Ronald Longwell, Sergeant Roman was appointed to make a survey to see where and what kind of a building or room or more lawn socials this summer.

The sports committee consisting of Frank Tummon, Hudson Kelcheese and Ronald Faulkner was appointed to arrange for all games for the socials.

The meeting will be held in Foxboro Public School. Mr. Sine hired his automobile to the Red Church Board for the use of the church.

Mr. Ward showed a film on "Opening of Canada's Parliament." This caused all the ceremonial ceremony in connection with the opening, with all its colorful display and pageantry. There are 3 estates — 1st the Governor - General, Viscount Alexander was escorted to his chair. His wife, Lady Alexander had a chair beside him but one step down; 2nd estate was the Senate and they receive their position by Gov.-Gen.-in-Council and it is for life. There are two women senators; 3rd estate: — House of Commons elected every five years. A new parliament requires approval of all three estates.

The picture showed how the new members were sponsored and presented to Viscount Alexander by another member of his party.

Refreshments were served "just at home" brought out the reason for a great deal more being served in fighting fires. Knowledge of what to do in case of fire keeps one from getting into a panicky and in many cases may save lives. This picture depicts some things to do and a picture all should see and benefit by.

The ladies served refreshments and a half hour was socially spent.

Triplets Born To Gunman's Wife

Montreal, April 18, (CP)— Triplets were born Sunday to Mrs. Rosalie Corbeil, wife of the gunman who was hanged last March 11, for the murder of a Montreal policemen.

Triplet who is executed despite pleas for a stay of execution because of his wife's pregnancy.

Hospital authorities reported the mother and the three infants were doing well.

Smallest of the babies is a girl weighing 3½ pounds. Her little brothers weighed four pounds, seven ounces at birth.

Authorities identified Corbeil by X-rays three weeks ago, after tracking down Gunter's execution, that the 22-year-old Mrs. Cloutier would have triplets.

Cloutier was one of three men convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the Sept. 23 slaying of Constables Paul-Emile Dubeau and Nelson Paquin in an east-end bank holdup. Douglas Perreault, who is appealing his conviction, is under sentence to die June 17. Joseph Perseul has been sentenced to be hanged July 8.

U.K. Exports to Canada, Argentina And U.S. Half of Imports Value

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

Britain's leading export to Canada is textiles and to the United States, whiskey. Motor cars are a big item to both.

The United Kingdom information office at Ottawa, in a current release, sums up Britain's 1948 trade position with Canada, the United States and Argentine as follows.

Exports to Canada: Total $284,000,000 up $108,000,000 over 1947.

Nearly one third of it was in textiles, more than half of which was woollen and worsted goods. Most striking increase was in motor cars, more than 14,000, compared with less than 2,000 in 1947.

Machinery exports as a whole were only a small fraction, but the recent engineering mission reports that Canada offers a solid and expanding long-term market.

Imports from Canada: Total $650,000,000. More than half of it was food, mainly wheat and flour, but also bacon, ham and eggs. Chief raw material imported were timber and paper materials and such metals as aluminium, copper, lead and zinc.

Exports to the United States: Total $284,000,000, the same amount as to Canada, up $40,000,000 from 1947.

Whiskey accounted for $38,000,000, followed by machinery and wool, each ranged to more than 24,000 from about 1,000 in 1947.

Imports from the United States: Total $736,000,000. Main items were machinery and tools, petroleum, tobacco, cotton, metals, chemicals, cheese and lumber.

Exports to Argentine: Total $212,000,000. Vehicles, machinery iron and steel, coal and chemicals and cotton goods accounted for nearly three-quarters of it.

Imports from Argentina: Total $488,000,000, mostly food, including grain and meats; and feeding stuffs.

The release concludes:

"United Kingdom exports to Canada, the United States and Argentina were still less than half the value of imports from those countries. Increasing these exports further is the main task of 1949."

PHONE OPERATOR SAVES HOUSE

Aurora, Ont., April 18 (CP)— A telephone operator who put in a general alarm summoned neighbors today and saved the six - room frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chambers from fire.

Neighbors, summoned by King township operator Mary Smith, arrived in time to see Chambers carrying buckets of water from a pump. By the time firemen arrived the fire was out. The Chambers' three children, Gail, 9, Shirley, 7, and Sharon, 5, were forbid out of the house. Damage was slight.

SPRINGTIME OF THEIR LIVES

Enjoying the great outdoors with more than usual zest are the thousands of bright-eyed and keen-minded thousands of pupils and students who are out of school and college for the Easter vacation. Since the schools reopened in January after the Christmas holidays pupils and scholars have spent more than three months in study and are well advanced in the work of the school year. Vacation at this season is full of inspiration to them as the time is at the first days of a new season when all nature is on tiptoe with expectation of the reviving life in the great outdoors. It inspires the boys and girls physically and mentally and socially, just as springtime is beneficial and in a very real sense is renewal of life in all the world around about. This is a time to which they have looked forward with keenness and nature will not disappoint them for she is ready with her greeting for the spirit of spring is in everything. They will find advantage for enjoyment and exercise, for seeing nature face to face and will gather those interests and that healthy outlook which the presence of nature inspires in young and old.

The education these days will bring to the young boys and girls is really freighted with significance.

The very suggestion of springtime and youthhood and girlhood means a close relationship. These scholars and pupils are in the very springtime of their lives, growing up and being directed in their education so that they may make the most of their lives for themselves and others.

To them springtime is like their own existence one of the glories of life.

NATURE'S CREATURES

Nature's creatures learn their lessons quickly and well. Some wild geese halted on their flight north about twenty-five years ago on the farm of Harry Berry at Muskrat Lake some distance from Ottawa, and there they built their kindly man. In time they went on. Hamilton Spectator, speaking of this incident, notes that the geese came back year after year in larger and larger numbers until this spring there are 4,000 to 5,000 there. It takes 300 pounds of grain a day and they remain generally in the fields to eat up better than tons of grain. The Spectator asks, "Is a goose crazy? Just like a fox, perhaps." It also notes that it is not to be wondered at that government aid was asked and was forthcoming to feed the birds.

Close acquaintance with nature shows clearly the wisdom that animals and birds in the natural state possess. Man appreciates this fact and does not hold this against the wild life which shows itself so understanding.

That wild life in other parts of the world is being well protected is shown in the fact that in Britain the Lord President of the Council, Mr. Herbert Morrison, has announced that a nature conservancy for Britain has been formed to have charge over everything concerned with wild animal plant life and be responsible for their protection. It has 16 members with Prof. Tansley, as chairman. The conservancy will manage the 16 nature reserves which are to be established in Britain.

A MYSTERY

What became of the prehistoric animals of ages ago which inhabited great parts of the earth? Why did they disappear? Scientists say it is one of the mysteries of the world. Great millions of years ago these creatures were the masters of the earth, the absolute rulers of sky, land and sea and then comparatively suddenly, they vanished all over the earth and not one descendant was left of all that strange world of life. No one knows why it looks as though man will never come to know the reason. Those who look at the skeletons of these monsters in the museums find a fascination in speculating on the cause for their departure.

During the last war the skeleton remains of these huge creatures were taken from museums in London and put away for safe keeping. It was thought that perhaps in a generation in modern England which does not know anything of these creatures. Fortunately the remains escaped the holocaust of war and will be found again in the museums for all to see and study. Now they can wonder why nature in her wisdom saw fit to produce these creatures and then saw fit to allow them to pass away from the surface of the earth leaving only the remains which natures has fortunately preserved as evidence of a strange life which once inhabited this globe — in the dawn of life, no doubt long before man appeared.

We cannot always oblige, but we can always speak obligingly.—Voltaire.

JUST FOLKS

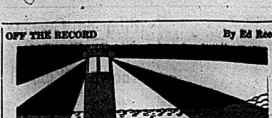
TIME AND TRIUMPH



He looked ahead through doubts and fears
And whispered to himself:
"Ten years
Must come and go. How long they'll seem
Ere I can build what's now a dream.
Ten years before a church will stand
Upon this barren plot of land."

Those ten long years have taken flight
And brighter than the candle light
Upon the altar was the gleam

Of joy in an accomplished dream
That lit his eyes as proudly he Walked round that lovely church with me.

Done was the need through doubt to grope.
No longer fear was threatening hope.
Ten years before but few believed
So great a task could be achieved.
There stood the church in brick and stone.
Said he: "So fast ten years have flown"

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LET IN THE LIGHT

We are always apt to stumble in the dark. Darkness is often true, but it is just as true about the mind. If we keep out knowledge and refuse to let the light in, so as to become rightly informed, ignorance becomes a stumbling block.

One of the great engineers and research men of our time is Charles F. Kettering. He is one of the most inspiring speakers, as well, because of his open-mindedness. He once said: "It isn't what you don't know, but what you know for sure that isn't so, that will get you into trouble."

Before deciding upon the right or wrong of anything, all sides should be carefully studied and then a decision made. Even then new light may change our decision. We are only consistent when we are not afraid to be wrong while we are searching for the light or the truth.

Prejudice, intolerance, and willful stubbornness to not recognize the right of a thing are what close every door to the light. One's enlightened intelligence can only be served by trying to get on the right side of a problem, rather than on the winning side. In the end the right side always wins, so it is far more advantageous to get on the right side in the beginning.

In a democracy like separate parties. In this manner the best and most efficient ideas for governing a people may be evolved. But to be loyal to the good of the land in any one party is not to serve ones' country best, nor indeed oneself.

Books, people, nature, each educate for us, if we will, as they add to this mind of ours. Never should we think that we've mind is drawn so that no light may enter. The more one is educated — and that education does not have to be in the schools — the more there is better example of a unlearned man is that of the late Mr. Winston Churchill.

How much bigger the world appears after one has learned something new, or have been corrected as to a false premise. How welcomed then should be the new light. Upon the beams of the earth's wise Nostradamus retired to work out his great essays he had inscribed on a wall of his study these words: "I stop — I examine — I do not understand — I remain — I doubt — I wait — I pray — I guide the ways of the world and the experience of the senses."

Harlan County's Police Chief Shot to Death

Shields, Ky., April 18 (AP) — Harlan county's police chief, Ambrose Metcalfe, 39, was shot to death on the street Sunday.

State police said they arrested Arthur Jackson and Ford Sizemore on murder warrants. Metcalfe was head of the county's first police patrol several years ago in an anti-vice and liquor drive.

Shields, a coal mining camp, it five miles east of Evarts, where gun play in recent months took the life of one police chief and caused another to resign for fear of getting "shot in the back."

Metcalfe also has had six police chiefs since last August. The sixth was appointed recently after Chief No. 5, Isachar Combs, was indicted for murder.

His wife's assistant, Lewis Deaton, were charged with fatally shooting Bryan Middleton, Evarts restaurant operator, after they tried to serve a liquor - search warrant on him.

Looking Ahead in Ottawa:

Canadian Navy to Add New Improved Escort Ships to Fleet

By The Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 18 (CP) — It will be some time yet before orders are placed for the new, improved escort vessels which the Canadian navy is to add to its sub-hunting fleet.

The vessels, somewhere between a frigate and a destroyer and equipped with late-model detection and attack devices, are still in the drawing-board stage.

The government has not yet decided what yards will get the orders.

Three ships will be in the initial order, and expectations are that one will be built on the Atlantic coast, one on the Pacific and one on the St. Lawrence River. It is not likely that work will get under way in 1940, though there is a possibility it may start late in the year, particularly if things do not look up for the slumping shipyard industry.

Supreme Court

The May term of the Supreme Court of Canada opens April 29, but no major issues are involved in the 22 cases scheduled to be heard.

The cases mainly involve the validity of wills and appeals from decisions of other courts in personal injury claims. No constitutional cases are enscribed on the rolls.

Ten of the cases are from Quebec, eight from Ontario and four from Western Canada. There is none from the Maritime Provinces.

It has been suggested that the court might hear at this term a Nova Scotia government case involving the delegation of powers by the provincial and federal governments.

The Nova Scotia Supreme Court held last year that the province cannot delegate its constitutional powers to the Dominion. It also ruled that the Dominion cannot delegate its constitutional powers to the province.

The Nova Scotia government is key province at this time in relation to the legislature and then to the courts to test the validity of the delegation of powers. It was planned to appeal the case of the Supreme Court of Canada — possibly to the Privy Council.

However, it is doubtful if this year will it may come up for hearing in the Supreme Court.

C.C.Fer's in B.C. Defeat Motion Endorsing Pact

Vancouver, April 18 (CP)—The executive of the British Columbia C.C.F. party said in a statement Sunday it "re-affirmed that policy on the alcohol" which was laid down by the C.C.F. National Council."

The move countered a surprise vote earlier as the B.C.C.F. provincial council voted 54-50 to defeat a motion endorsing the policy.

Said the statement:

"The close vote of the C.C.F. convention on the Atlantic Pact advises the National Council of the major issues involved in application delegates. The C.C.F. being a democratic party, every constituency, the B.C. section, its candidates and speakers, accept as national policy the decision of the National Council."

Saturday the convention sidestepped the issue by passing a substitute resolution which neither endorsed nor opposed it nor condemned the alliance, viewed with mixed feelings in party circles.

Their action brought a speedy declaration from Angus MacInnis, Vancouver East C.C.F. member, and Harry David Lewis of Ottawa that, regardless of the provincial convention decision on the pact, the C.C.F. national policy "still remains unchanged on the pact."

Provincial party leader Harold Winch also repudiated the convention decision, he said that he is going into the election campaign in this province "still he supports the national policy of the C.C.F. on the alliance."

A provincial election takes place June 15.

Voted down was this resolution:

"Resolved that this provincial convention of the B.C. section C.C.F. endorses the Atlantic Pact."

National Secretary Lewis said the party's founding basis has national policy rests with the National convention and the National Council.

While it was "quite proper" for the B.C. section to debate and to "express an opinion, the National C.C.F. policy still endorses the Atlantic Pact."

HUNGARIANS OBSERVE EASTER SUNDAY

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — Newfoundland's recent entry into Confederation meant something to Toronto's Hungarians, who Sunday night observed the event. Hungarians in Toronto commemorated the arrival of the first Hungarian in Newfoundland, Count Stephanius Parmenius, a geographer with an early British exploration party.

Date Selected 33rd Anniversary Bloody Rebellion

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

This Easter Monday is the day when Eire officially becomes the Irish Republic, and it is a day of rejoicing for the invincible distinction?

Nowadays medical care — of a sort — is supposed to be free for all in my opinion, and I believe the American Medical Association is as responsible for the excessive cost as is the snobbery of the great middle class of the American people. I shall have more to say about these factors at another time.

From where I stand it appears that the politicians who seek to establish compulsory sickness insurance are not acting out of what ever you prefer to call federal aid or dedicated service, and I accept their advocacy of the scheme will get votes for the party in power.

It cannot be denied that financial handicaps exists in all human wants. Still instances of sick or injured families denied medical care because they are unable to pay for it are so rare as to be negligible when compared with the great numbers who, under our free enterprise and private initiative system, receive the best care that American medicine and surgery can provide, which pays for a portion of it.

COMPULSORY FEDERAL SICKNESS INSURANCE

In our time, without compulsion of any kind, there has evolved in the United States the greatest medical development in the history of the world. Except Palestine, where transient conditions have accumulated great numbers of physicians, the United States has more physicians in relation to population than any other country in the world.

Our medical schools, postgraduate instruction institutions, research groups, hospitals and related scientific laboratories by far surpass comparable developments elsewhere.

These developments, plus the high degree of medical education of individual physicians in the United States, have resulted in all the medical care of the public because of the enormous financial factor.

It has always been the unlistenable right of free Americans to squawk about the high cost of medical care" whenever they had to pay a medical bill. These folks are like "taxpayers"—you know, birds who get together to demand this or protest against that; they do so as "taxpayers," implying that other folks don't pay taxes. I have never learned who the mythical "other folks" are, but somebody must have discovered a way to get by without paying taxes, else shorn of all connection with British.

Today was selected by the government of Eire for this historic event because it is the 33rd anniversary of the "bloody Easter Monday" rebellion in Ireland, against England. It was indeed a sanguinary affair, as it can testify every inhabitant of Ireland.

The revolt was carefully planned by Sir Roger Casement, an Irishman knighted for services in the British consular service. The First World War was at its height and Sir Roger was in Germany where he recruited a brigade from Irishmen who preferred the German to the British forces. These men were to be transported to Ireland.

Landed From U-Boat

On Good Friday Sir Roger and two Irish colleagues landed in Kerry from a German submarine boat which had transported them from a German submarine. A peasant found the collapsible boat and reported to the police who shortly captured one of them. They also captured one of his colleagues and arrested a third for the uprising.

An attempt was made to cancel the rising, but there was a difference of opinion. Thus it developed that part of the show was Britain's celled while the revolt in Dublin was launched.

Shot At

I charged into Dublin at dead of night in an automobile driven by a friendly Irishman.

A bullet across our car halted us. It was fired by a sentry who had hysonets against us.

"Don't shoot, chauffeur (I later found he was John Feiner) and I were taken at midnight to the Dublin Castle barracks. There Britain's officers subjected me to a sort of drum-head court martial while I stood with hands over my head and a ring of bayonets against my body.

The debate was whether I should be prosecuted or should be sent with my Irish driver to Kingston prison, where a special country road lined with British troops would be awaiting us. Either decision was a death sentence. Finally this was decided on, being marched by me into the barrack grounds. I could hear the command to fire, and I stood behind that wall.

Then the order was ordered to proceed to Kingston. But I footed it. I told my driver to run in his car with his headlights on full, while I bobbed in them constantly. The troops took it for granted we weren't up to mischief while making such a devil of a noise.

The next morning I surrendered to the constabulary and was interned pending my return to England.

CIGARETS STOLEN

Orillia, April 18 — (CP) — About $1,000 worth of cigarets, tobacco and films were stolen Saturday night from Siberti's restaurant at nearby Washago. Police said the thieves entered through a rear door. A small amount of cash was also taken from the till.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

The law loves to boast that it is no respecter of persons. But a modern respect of persons seems to be necessary in all human institutions, even the law, as the constable found out who, after a car accident, put a hand back of the neck, discovered the young driver to be his own son. Then he shook the dust from his feet and left the matter to be settled by the local board of police commissioners.

Rain, pneumonia, barber's itch — these are the three main respecters of persons. A young friend of mine has a very nice unfortunate experience of both ever since he got out of the army. Now he's one another has collapsed under him. He has not yet been able to find the job's fault. But we are trying to find him new ones.

In a large industrial town nearby, the head of a manufacturing enterprise was persuaded to address a meeting of workers with the idea of giving him a gift. He was touched and pleased. It looked like a honey. It meant having a car and chauffeur. A man could stand on his own legs, on such a job. Furthermore, it would be the first proper gift of the highest order to a young man with a future.

The young conqueror drove, in his car, down to the nearby town. At the main intersection of the town, a motor car driven by a dopey old character almost collided with the conqueror's. But no damage of abuse occurred. The old character was every bit as dopey as he looked, even with the army experience. When they asked for my friend with each other, the fix was allowed to proceed.

The young conqueror drove out to the factory where the job awaited. And upon arrival he was ushered into the presence of the big boss.

The boss was the profane old character he had half an hour before, mangled plans and anxiries with.

Now you have a private income in the form of government annuities — some such trade-in-security, it pays to be a respecter of persons.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

BLESSINGS IN DISGUISE

Recently a one-legged man died, leaving an estate of more than a million dollars. A stranger from Texas, passing through the city, commented on how fortunate it was that a man so crippled should be blessed with wealth enough to be independent despite his handicap. It was said at a remarkable story. Before the loss of his leg, this man had been a poor clerk, struggling along on a small salary, with little the opportunity nor the ambition to rise.

Then came his accident. Unable to return to his former position, he was employed in the office of becoming indigent. He became a salesman, stumping from door to door on a clumsy wooden leg. First he sold insurance, then securities and books, then clothing and other things; and in fact he became an important and influential citizen, with automobiles and real estate. Those who knew him as customers first because of pity, soon learned to look upon his wooden leg as a symbol of integrity and honest dealing. Eventually it became to be conspicuous, from competence to wealth — all because of his "misfortune."

Hardships are like whetstones. Try to cut a whetstone, and the knife is spoiled; but apply the knife to the stone, and it is sharpened and improved. Calamities and misfortunes are to meet them with determination we can become stronger through our trials.

CIVIL SERVICE "QUIZ COLLEGE" COSTS TOO MUCH

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London — (CP) — The lease expires next year on Whitehall's "Quiz College," ending Britain's most ambitious experiment "in civil service selection.

After March, 1950, there'll be no more weekend "house parties" for white-collar candidates.

The decision was announced by Britain's Civil Service Commission. In a report to the House of Commons, it said regretfully that the house-party experiment costs too much money. Instead the commission will seek cheaper premises, with candidates reporting daily instead as government guests.

Most other methods used at "Quiz College," such as personality and intelligence tests, will be retained.

"Quiz College" is the popular name for Stoke d'Abernon, a 22-room manor house near Cobham, Surrey. It was rented on a five-year lease as headquarters for selection boards choosing future ambassadors and senior civil servants.

Tough Weekend

Under the system now in force, some two dozen men and women go to Stoke d'Abernon each week. There each candidate is photographed, full face and profile, before undergoing a 48-hour "personal" examination conducted by a staff of psychologists, observers and examiners.

Press reports have said five of every six candidates fail in the tests.

Criticism of methods used at Stoke d'Abernon came from a parliamentary committee on estimates. In a report, it said costs were excessive and asked why 22 servants were needed to look after 30-odd candidates and examining staff.

Tartly, the commission replied that sometimes as many as 48 persons attended the weekend examinations. Then, it said, the number of cooks, maids and waitresses was "by no means excessive."

In the House of Lords, Lord Chatwell said some of the questions candidates had to answer were "nonsensical."

The last word came from the Daily Telegraph. Its editorial outstanding that £36,000 a year is too much to spend on Stoke d'Abernon concluded:

"Human character is a thing too elusive in its development to be susceptible of infallible prognostication by scientific methods."

Bells Signify Resurrection And End of Lent

Vatican City, April 18 (AP)—The Easter vigil of the Resurrection opened here today with the ceremonial blessing of the fire in the entryway to the Basilica of St. Peter.

There were further rites, symbolizing world regeneration, at the Basilica's baptismal font.

The ceremonies were led by Msgr. Giovanni Smith, titular bishop of Paralo and a canon of St. Peter's.

These services end with a mass during which the "Gloria" hymn is sung, and the bells ring out after being silenced for two days. The ringing of the bells signifies the Resurrection, and ends the period of Lent. A large bundle of bay leaves in an iron holder was arranged in the portico of the basilica.

Led by Msgr. Smith, a procession of the Commons and clergy of the basilica filed from the basilica to benches at both sides of the leaf-holders. Msgr. Smith chanted the "Praeconium Paschal" or "Exsultet" liturgy.

The bay leaves then were lighted. They burned fiercely and fragrantly, flecking the canons' red-and-white vestments with ashes.

At the cathedral altar three huge candles, in ancient, painted candlesticks seven feet tall, were lighted. From them, the hundreds of candles on altars throughout the church will be relighted, after having been extinguished during the three days commemorating the death of Christ.

The cannons then moved in procession to the baptismal font, on the right, near the entrance of the church. There, Msgr. Smith blew the waters of the font in the four directions. This symbolized an invitation to world-wide regeneration after the sacrifice of Christ.

The procession returned then to the cathedral altar for the "Gloria" Mass.

ELDORADO

Eldorado—The Eldorado W.M.S and Union Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs C. D. McCann on Thursday for their April meeting which was opened by the president, Mrs. Cecil Blackburn. A reading was given by the president, also a poem entitled "The Church is a Fellowship." The secretary and treasurer reports were given. Mrs. Leonard Blackburn gave a splendid report on the W.M.S. Presbytery which was held in Trenton on April 8th.

Mrs. Cecil Blackburn gave some important highlights on the work of the W.M.S. Mrs. Albert Empey also gave some interesting items on W.M.S. work after which Mrs. Cecil Blackburn then took charge of the worship service with the aid of Mrs. B. Carman and Mrs. Gerald Blackburn. The theme being "Advance in Christian Missions."

The program was withdrawn, owing to time. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants and a social hail hour was enjoyed by all.

Six Catholic Churches Picketed

Boston, April 18 (AP) — Six Boston Roman Catholic Churches were picketed yesterday in protest against the discharge of three instructors at Boston College, who accused the educational institution of heresy. A high school teacher also was dismissed.

The pickets, who were not identified definitely, carried placards which read: "No salvation outside the church."

They also sold booklets entitled "From The Housetops," described as a quarterly published by St. Benedict's Roman Catholics centre in nearby Cambridge.

The three instructors said they were discharged because they accused the college of heresy in teaching that the souls of persons outside the Catholic Church could be saved without belonging to the church.

The instructors, all lay teachers, said that they had advised the General Jesuit Order that Boston College had taught:

(1) That there may be salvation outside the Roman Catholic Church; (2) That a man may be saved without admitting the Roman Catholic Church to be supreme among all churches; (3) That a man may be saved without submission to the Pope.

The Vatican had informed them, they said, that the issue has been placed before the Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office for consideration.

They quoted the Vatican as saying that Pope Pius "appreciates the Catholic sentiments which prompted their gesture and cordially imparts to them his paternal, apostolic blessing."

Teamwork at Highest Degree Says AP Official

New York April 16 (CP)—Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, said Thursday that teamwork between the AP staff and AP newspaper and radio members has reached a "degree rarely ever matched."

This co-operation made Associated Press news coverage "constantly dominant throughout 1947," Cooper said in his annual report.

The report was mailed to members in advance of the AP's annual meeting here April 25.

The Associated Press, a non-profit, co-operative news-gathering association, had 1,708 newspapers and 940 radio members in the United States last year. Through the world, the AP served 4,274 newspapers, radio stations and other publications.

Cooper said formulation of a program to forge even stronger membership ties was the most important general undertaking f the portant general undertaking of the year.

"Associated Press prestige has eminence originally were built on membership loyalty and co-operation," Cooper said. "The new program will revitalize this new principle as the outstanding asset

"The vitality of this teamwork can hardly be overemphasized—at a time when Associated Press standards of honesty, impartiality and co-operation in news-gathering mean so much to those struggling to preserve even a small measure of journallistic freedom in other countries."

Cooper said a "brass tacks" campaign was undertaken to educate the membership to the value of the AP co-operative principle and stimulate contributions to the news report.

Cooper said 1948 was a "year that again called for cool heads and sound judgment in reporting world news, most of it in highly controversial areas." These included, he said the political-economic fronts at home, the shooting areas of the Middle East and China and the European cold war."

In 1948, the AP intensified its drive to make the news easy and interesting to read, rather than let better background. Its current readability campaign stressed simple and direct writing. And the average length of leads and sentences was shortened.

Sidney Schools Begin Project Of Reforestation

Tuesday afternoon, under the direction of Zone Forester, W. E. Edwards, Deputies, the senior pupils of Bayside, and Quinteview schools planted between 800 and 1,000 white pines, and red pines on the island just south of the Bayside School. This island is part of the school farm at Bayside, and it is Board's plan to reforest this part and, if possible, make it into a small park. Due to the great demand for trees this year, only enough trees were available for two schools, which will be entered in the Tree Planting Competition with a special course in woodlot care being conducted next Fall. It is hoped that by the course of a few years more trees will be available for the reforesting of several more acres with all the schools having an opportunity to take part in the planting and care of the trees.

Prorrus Made

It was unfortunate that the short notice of the arrival of the trees, and the busyness of the Easter holidays made it impossible to give the pupils much warning, but with perfect tree-planting weather, and the enthusiasm of most of the pupils good progress was made in spite of the stony soil. The planting was considered the best method by the pupils present, for the planting of three. The Bayside pupils planted the white pine in the lowland area, only two trees were planted while the Quinteview pupils put in the red pine on the more open area near the western end.

Reforestation Needed

Before starting to plant, the trees were given a thorough soaking so that Mr. Macklem, who had to leave early, could get pictures of Mr. B. Bleecker, reeve of Sidney, with the first tree planted. Chairman of the Board arrived later, and took part in the planting. Mr. Edwards, in a few remarks, spoke highly of the need for reforestation and the responsibility of interesting the pupils in this work. Mr. Edwards then outlined the purpose of the Forestry Contest and hoped in a few years they would be able to see definite results of their afternoon's work. The pupils showed their appreciation of the help and information given them by a hearty handclap. The Quinteview pupils were especially grateful to Mr. Rathbun Bus Service which transported them to Bayside and back to Quinteview.

Board Meeting

The April meeting of the Sidney School Area Board dealt with routine business and arrangements for urgent repairs to the floor at Easter. It was decided to hold a special meeting on April 25, to draw up the budget for the year.

The Board members also met and was to examine the blackboard lights which had been installed in the Wallbridge school since last meeting. They expressed satisfaction with the improvement it made and their thanks to the Wallbridge Women's Institute which had offered to help with the cost of installation.

It was decided to have a contractor examine the chimney at Bayside and get an estimate of the cost of recovering the smoking, either by repair or building a new chimney, if considered necessary. Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to insert notice for tenders for writing (less fixtures), the Bayside teacher's house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson. Other repairs discussed were a new floor, the Quinteview roof, a new trap on urinal at Centerpoint, paint at Hogle's, besides the caretakers' needs for their Easter preparations.

O. E. A. Delegate

Mr. Harry Brown was appointed as delegate to represent the Board at the Ontario Educational Association meeting being held in Toronto, during the Easter week. It was decided to renew the Board's membership in the South Hastings Educational Association and the secretary was instructed to send along the necessary fee to Miss Verna Rose, S.S. No. 5, secretary. The Chairman reported that the extension on the west end of the Marysville school was nearing completion, and that the local Women's Institute who had been responsible for all the work for the building of it were planning a supper as soon as it was finished.

March Attendance Record

The pupils of Johnstown School have won back the Attendance Banner for the best March attendance, making the fourth time in the seven months that they have won it. Their average was 97.7 per cent. Centenary pupils made a gallant bid to keep it for another month but lost out by a fraction of a per cent with a mark of 97.6 per cent.

Dates have been set for the Public Speaking Contest to be held by the Sidney Schools. The Belleville pupils will put on their program in the auditorium of Queen Alexandra School on Wednesday afternoon, May 4. There is a possibility of this date being set back a week or more to bring it closer to the S.H.E.A. meeting, which is to be put off for two weeks. The schools nearest Belleville will put on their program in the College Street School, on Friday evening, May 6. Those in the Trenton district will hold theirs in the Sirling Theatre, Wednesday evening, May 11. All programs are scheduled to start at eight o'clock.

Stork Shower Given in Honor Of Mrs. M. Musgrave

A very pleasant event took place on Thursday evening, April 14, when Mrs. M. Weir, 64 South John Street, gave a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Mavis Musgrave, Overlea. Many guests arrived and spent a very enjoyable evening with cards. Prizes for euchre were played and a lovely buffet luncheon served. A gift parcel was presented with a lovely basinet filled with beautiful gifts for baby. Many and good visits of everyone present.

CHRIST CHURCH GUILD

The Parish Guild of Christ Church held their regular meeting on Tuesday last in the Parish Hall. Mrs. Cecil Meade the president presiding. The various reports were heard and adopted and after a short business period, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. G. G. Wright and her group.

A devotional period in keeping with Holy Week was held. Mrs. Wright leading. Scripture reading was taken by Mrs. G. T. Johnson, and prayers by Mrs. J. Sparling, after which Mrs. Grant Sparling gave a devotional address on the theme of The Cross.

Chinese Film Feature of Easter Program

An unusual Easter Thank-offering program, under the auspices of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the Tabernacle United Church, W.M.S. was presented in the church school assembly room when a Chinese film "Surprise for Min Deh", was the highlight of the afternoon. It was shown by Miss Jones, assisted by Mrs. Frank Harbach.

A preview of the film was given by Miss E. Horton, who stated that boys and girls in every land have their dreams and longings. Min Deh's dream was to own and ride a bicycle of his own, after he had learned to ride one which had been loaned to his father, Professor Lin, a teacher in the Christian University in West China.

Day's Activities

In Min Deh's home there are Mrs. Lin, his mother; a little sister of three years and a half, and a wee baby sister. Each day Min Deh can be seen in school and at play, or washing the coats, seeing strange shops and workmen and people young and old.

Back at their home on the college campus are seen interesting things of their home life, as well as the part the church and Sunday School have in their lives. The Lins are not just an ordinary family, but one that the Christian church has done for thousands of years in Christian education and special training. Like Professor Lin, they are become leaders and helpers of their own people, and are a great asset for their country's future, and with the help of the Christian people in Canada great hopes for China may yet be realized.

Dream Comes True

Min Deh's dream came true when he received a bicycle of his own sent by a missionary doctor, after he returned home to China.

The film was both educational and interesting and a vote of thanks was tendered Miss Jones by the President, Mrs. L. Adams son, who was in charge of the business period.

Various games were read and adopted and a vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. J. Harris and Miss M. Johns to Mrs. Harback for the splendid report of the Belleville Presbyterial held in Napanee, Trenton, Twenty-seven home and hospital calls were made.

Devotional

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. A. D. Archibald, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Harrison and Mrs. J. Brennan. Mrs. Archibald chose as her theme "A New Advance in Christian Missions", remarking that Christian Missions were born on Easter Day. The first message of the risen Christ to His Disciples was, "Go, tell the world". They obeyed. The world into which the disciples went was bound with the strong forces of evil and dark with sin, yet they triumphed and became the founders of the Christian Church. Christian churches are aiming to advance. That can be done only if the church receives the divine gift of the Spirit of God, linked with prayer". "What share have we in this advance in our own Missionary" asked the speaker. Thank offering was received by Mrs. F. Faull and meeting closed by the appropriate singing of "Jesus Christ is Risen Today in the West".

Beautiful Windows

Installment Two

By A. HENDERSON

In a previous article we learned somewhat of how 'glass' came to be; of how when certain minerals were added during fusion, colors of varying depth were obtained, depending on the amount of mineral used; of how these small pieces of colored glass were placed in leaden frames called 'cames,' and afterwards assembled together, making beautiful works of art; some of which are known to us as 'stained glass windows,' one of the oldest of which is the Cathedral at Chartres, France.

Today, as we continue our quest for these beautiful windows, let us go next to the stately stone church on the hill, St. Thomas', whose imposing pile has stood through more than a century of wintery storms, and summer sunshine; whose very stones, could they but speak, would have many a tale to tell of the city's growth, its sorrows, and its joys.

As we enter the lower portals, we feel, in some small manner, much like Moses must have felt before the burning bush, when he heard that holy order: "Take off thy shoes from off thy feet for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." Silently we stand gazing at beauty spread out before us: On either side are great, tall windows; on the north side, four; on the south side, four; and on the east side, one; compelled as we are compelled, through whose tiny, colored panes the soft afternoon light is filtering, shedding a wealth of glorious scarlets, sapphire blues, and iridescent greens upon the empty pews. Suddenly, above our head, in wave after wave, rolls the Easter music in a peaan of praise. So while the organist prepares his songs of victory, let us pass along the aisle to the right, and study those wondrous windows, one by one, and see what messages they have to tell us by the eye gate way.

Grapevine Scroll

Round about each window runs a grapevine scroll bearing leaves and fruit, emblematic of the land of Palestine; a fitting frame! Since each picture is contained therein tells of some loving act, some striking episode in the life of Him who chose that land for His own for forty years of His earthly ministry. Looking closer, we see that each window is twin-paned, having a heart-shaped apex. Surely the fingers which formed it wished it to say: "Within the heart man believeth unto righteousness." In every window, below the apex heart, and above the various scenic figures, is a representation of the Olympic altar, delicately intricate in design, and surprisingly lovely in detail.

The theme of this first picture window, which was erected by Henry Corby in memory of his father and mother, in 1871, is "Purity," and the verse of Scripture accompanying it reads: "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

On the left twin panel, the Lord Jesus, in robes of crimson, green and lustrous ivory, is seated on the Mount of Olives, teaching. Above, through the olive boughs, gleams the azure sky, and in the distance can be seen the Holy Temple of the Temple dome. At His feet two little children are gathering offerings of lilies-of-the-valley.

To the right of this group, in the other panel, are three figures: Moses in his priestly mantle of soft, green velvet, bordered with golden cross, and with white robe of ivory with its golden fringe, is seated deep in meditation, the penteicuch partly open on the ground at his feet.

Behind him, a tall blue and purple, Peter stands, key in hand, reverently as if Jesus' words: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven," while close beside him stands the beloved apostle, John, in cloak and tunic of rich, golden brown.

At the bottom of this twin-paneled window, are two sub-panels in which cherubim are kneeling with folded wings; two wings on the top; two wings on the bottom; and one wing on either side. In the heart-shaped apex at the very top, is a cluster of three white lilies, denoting the Trinity, and accentuating the thought of "Purity."

Animation of Color

Passing along the aisle, we come to the next picture window, which is just as lovely in its wondrous colorings as the first. Here are the "Mothers of Salem" bringing their little ones for blessing. One little child, with hands clasped in adoration, is gazing intently at the beginning of his life, and the other nearing the end. On the left twin panel, the Lord of the Wine Men from the east and west, north and south, is in reminiscence, and myrrh; while that on the right shows Him agonizing in the Lord, in the dark garden of Gethsemane; the sleeping apostles, Peter, James and John; and the traitor, Judas, with his band of Roman soldiers, steel helmeted, following with swords and staves. Words fail to adequately describe the emotions portrayed upon the faces here. We see the agony, the grief, the sorrow of the Lord; the weary, sorrow-furrowed countenances of the apostles, seeking rest in sleep; and the crafty, covetous face of Judas as he stealthily approaches.

Angel in Insert

In an insert of cloud is an angel bearing a golden chalice to the suffering Christ, and high above, in the upper left corner, is a six-pointed star of David, inset with a golden crown and golden scroll; on the first scroll is written: "Holy, Holy, Holy," on the second: "Lord God Almighty," and on the third: "Almighty." As in all the other windows, the lilies of purity are lovely indeed, and in perfect harmony with the persons and surroundings.

Leaving the Sanctuary window, we come to the window of the cross to the North side. Here is "The Visit of the Shepherds," including a full view of the birth of Jesus, and reminding us of His humble beginnings. In the left building of the inn we see Mary and Joseph, and the Babe, in the stable adjoining, in their humble shepherd garb, staffs in hand; and above, shining silent the Bethlehem star. Much feeling is portrayed, in the reverence of the shepherds, as they bend fondly at the Babe in her arms; the overwhelming amazement of the shepherds; the peaceful quietness of the doves on the roof in peaceful nest at their Creator, and the protecting look of Joseph as he stands silently by. All are shown with the loving and delicate touch of the true artist, whose work has been a joy in the doing.

In Wife's Memory

The inscription says: "The word was made flesh," and the tablet plaque we read, "To the glory of God, and in loving memory of Amy Ellen, wife of Sir Gilbert Parker. Born 1865, died 1925." In the circumference are the two kneeling angels in white apparel, and in the heart-shaped apex above, a bust of Christ in the Temple, having a bunch of grapes on either side, symbolizing the "Fruitfulness," and denoting "Innocence."

We have now come to the last picture window, and one of the most beautiful in its treatment and conception, that of the "Resurrection Morn." The stone is breaking, a faint ringer of light outlines the eastern sky. In the distance, 3 crosses are silhouetted against the sky, the tree on Calvary's hill. In the foreground, Mary Magdalene, one hand upon the urn of burial spices is kneeling down and gazing into the open sepulchre. Her back is toward us, so we notice the wealth of red-gold hair cascading over the soft green of her robe.

Upper right, under the olive branches, two women, Mary, the mother of James, and Salome, are standing, pale and sorrowful, supporting each other, at the head of the tomb. Mary to in dark blue robes, with the band of white across the forehead, Salome in deep, brownish maroon.

Looking into the tomb, sepulchre like the Magdalene, we, too, see the angel seated at the head of the grave, in raiment rich and shining. Carefully folded at the foot of the grave clothes, clean on the ground beside, the cown of thorns. The angel is speaking the joyful tidings: "He is risen; He is not here."

Member of Senate

In the panel below are two angels, in the attitude of adoration and prayer, and in the spraced letters above, a golden goblet, having on either side a bunch of grapes again reminding us of the words of Jesus at the Last Supper, "But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until that day I drink it new with you in the Father's kingdom." The inscription below reads: "To the glory of God, and in loving memory of Henry Corby, member of the Canadian Senate, born in Belleville, May 2nd, 1851; died in Honolulu, April 23rd, 1917.

Our illnerary for the week is over; softly we close the door, leaving behind the beauty, the waiting music, and the peace, to emerge once more into the hurry, the scurry, and the bustle of a busy city, with its din of machinery; its screeching auto brakes, and its pneumatic drills, knowing full well, that the imprint of what we have seen will never fade away, but will ever remain among the beautiful pictures that hang on memory's wall."

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Letters and Answers
In her husband too outspoken?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My husband tells me he has a lot of friends and that they like him because he is very outspoken and tells them exactly what he thinks of them.

I do not agree. I believe people resent being told what other people think of them. Is it not better to be quiet and keep the bad points to yourselves?

"Interested Reader"

Dear 'Interested Reader':

I agree with you that your husband is almost certainly deceiving himself. He evidently has that curious and quite common quirk of personality which makes a person enjoy pointing out other people's faults. The basis for such behavior, of course, lies in an inferiority complex. Any one who does this sort of thing feels inferior to other people, and so he likes to believe that they are not very much better than he is in his own estimation, and gets satisfaction out of letting them know it. A person who is sure of himself in the best meaning of the term will accept you another person down, either to his face or behind his back.

If it is true that your husband has a lot of friends, then there must be things about him that they like, and he would be well advised to put up with his critical aim. I believe that he has not so many more friends if he did as you suggest and spoke only of the good qualities, ignoring the less attractive ones.

"Going Steady" Too early is not

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Do you think a girl of 16 is old enough to go steady? A boy I think a great deal of has asked me to go steady, and when I refused, I didn't hear from him again.

It's a fellow liked a girl enough, do you think he'd walk out of her life completely because she didn't want to go steady?

"B.P."

Dear "B.P.":

I have said so often, I think it is too bad for girls and boys to start so early to feel they can only be happy if they tie themselves up in the exclusive company of one other person by "going steady". I realize perfectly that it is only natural that a teenager should find some one particular person of the other sex more attractive and exciting than others. But so, also, it is a good idea to try and get exclusive possession of that person's thoughts and company.

I think if more girls would have your courage in refusing to "go steady", there would be a lot healthier relationship between all the girls and boys. If this boy really likes you, you can depend upon it that he'll want to see you on your own terms.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Do you "walk in beauty, like the night?"

To see a woman who carries herself beautifully, walks with a light step, has grace in every line, makes one think of reading a four leaf clover. You get a real thrill. You are lucky.

Yes, my dear, you are loitering in the buy-ways, forget about the speed-ways. Be gay, look and observe your fellow creatures of the frail sex. See how they walk! You'll be surprised. The experience may lead you to wonder about your own mgiod of locomotion, whether you form a pleasing picture when you are hoofing it.

You will see the scurrying girl. She zig-zags through the crowd, elbowing those who get in her way, unmindful of the nasty looks and hot throws at her. No manners, that girl. Her head is in advance of her body. She pays little attention to traffic lights as she darts here and there. No my friend, she isn't really in a hurry. That's the way she always acts on the street. Look at her face. Tense. She is in for beauty grief's before her time.

You can tell a lot of observing a person's manner of walking.

Then there is the hip-swinger. She is an exhibitionist, out to attract attention. She has a good figure, like it, but lacks poise. Silly, eh?

For the sake of health and self respect a woman should carry herself with a sort of splendor. She should move with grace. The animal volume must be kept tall, the chest lifted, tummy held in, head balanced. The hips should swing from the hips; the knees must not buckle. Then one looks vibrant, and interesting, forming a pleasing picture.

Her arms, has the athletic look. Right after her comes the cutie who seems to be all dimpling mincing steps. She has a babylike face. Baby face accompanies walks like that.

You will, no doubt, see another type that will interest you—the domineering-looking woman with the commanding figure. Her two pounds down on her heels with every step she takes. You can tell that she rules the roost all right. She is the boss of the family. You can tell a lot about character by observing the manner of walking.

GOOD MANNERS

Symbols of "In-between-years" Weddings and anniversaries

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

In our group of very close friends we have a couple who are celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary. It is called "tin", isn't it?); one, their eleventh; one, their twelfth. Are there special gifts given for these years between the tenth and the fifteenth?

Josephine W.

For the past few years there has been an effort to give a wider scope to the gifts suggested for the wedding anniversaries—partly, I am sure, because of new materials. For example, as an alternative to the fine tin lenth anniversary, aluminum has been added. And there are now suggested gifts for the "in-between years": 11 years, steel; 12 years, linen. And even for 13 years, lace; and for 14 years, ivory). But still it's true that nowadays, for most anniversaries even the most important ones, the "ideals" are disregarded more often than not, and relatives and friends give a gift that they hope will be welcomed by both the husband and the wife.

Right idea about invalid's thank-you notes

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Recently I read so much attention in my life as I have recently received since my sudden weeks' stay at a hospital, and I am deeply grateful for the kindnesses that were given to me. I am now at home, feel very well, and am eager to make every acknowledgment I should make for the thoughtful things my friends did for me. Please guide me by answering two questions:

1. I have already written thank-you notes for flowers and other gifts that were sent me by friends who were unable to come to see me while I was in the hospital. Should I also write thank-you notes for the gifts which friends brought to the hospital and which I sent home? I thanked for at the time? If so, please give me a hint as to how these notes should be written.

2. I also received many "get well" cards and other cards of sympathy. Should a few of these were sent by people who are not personally busy with me, who have families to take care of. To me they were and are as important as the material gift of flowers, fruit, candy and so forth.

Frieda

No wonder your friends were so kind and thoughtful to you while you were in the hospital, for you're obviously the kind of person whose friendly instincts attract friendly gestures! Nothing is truer than that "friendliness begets friendliness," and the first necessity of friendship is the quality of appreciation which you so richly have. Don't overtax your strength during your recuperation, but do write brief thank-you notes for the gifts that were brought to you These notes needn't be prompt, but they'll be welcomed.

They might read something like this:

Dearest Sally,

I was so deeply touched by your goodness in coming to see me in the hospital and by your thoughtfulness in bringing me the lovely flowers. I'm delighted to tell you again how happy you made me by your visit, and by so much good and your flowers brought such brightness and charm to my room . . thank you, thank you, for your goodness and for the deep friendship!

I'm at home now, feeling very fit, and would love to have you drop in for a chat whenever you can.

Dearest love to you, deepest appreciation.

Affectionately

Frieda,

APPEAL FOR PROTECTION

Asbestos, Que., April 19 (CP)—Terror-stricken families of non-striking workers at the Johns-Manville plant appealed for further police protection over the weekend.

The appeal followed a new outbreak of violence affecting nine families during the last week. The 3,500 striking employees have been idle since their walkout last Feb. 12.

Police said Ernest Dionne, received his baby was hit on the head by a stone tossed through a window at his home. Another, Adelard Fortin, said he had been struck on the head by a stone.

BLOWS UP THEATRE

Hong Kong, April 18 (AP)—Extortionists blew up a theatre at Canton Sunday night, killing three and injuring more than 50 persons, dispatches from the South China city said today.

Leading Canton movie houses had received warning they would be blown up unless they paid the equivalent of $1,000 to $3,000 each for protection."

PEDESTRIAN INJURED

Brampton, April 18 — (CP)— An unidentified pedestrian was critically injured Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile near Claude, 10 miles north of here. He was taken to hospital in Toronto with a fractured leg, broken shoulder and concussion. Driver of the car, Frederick Hall, told police the man stepped into the highway in front of his car.

ON WAY TO CONFERENCE

Calcutta, April 18 (Reuters) — Prime Minister Joseph Chifley of Australia and Peter Fraser of New Zealand passed through Calcutta today on their way to the Commonwealth Prime Ministers Conference in London.

MONEY takes wings today faster than ever before. True . . . many people are earning more — but the cost of living uses up a much greater proportion. Few indeed can hope to accumulate large sums for future emergencies.

How, then, can you ever hope to lay aside enough money to provide for your family in case of your untimely death — or for the years when your earning capacity will cease?

The only sure way is through Life Insurance. It would take years to build an adequate savings fund for your dependents, but a proportion of your savings put into Life Insurance will immediately guarantee to them a monthly income in case of your death. At the same time it will provide for your declining years should you live to old age.

Was Not Southern California's Worst Winter, Just its Most Spectacular

By JACK QUIGG

Los Angeles, April 17 (AP)— No matter what you may have read, southern California's winter wasn't the worst, just its most spectacular. The records agree crop damage was greater in two cold spells.

The California Fruit Growers Exchange, which markets about 75 per cent of the State's citrus crop, said frost damaged one-third of the crop. The exchange breaks the losses down this way:

Valencia orange 23 per cent, navel oranges 37 per cent, lemons 32 per cent, and grapefruit 47 per cent.

California produces more than half of the United States' orange crop, 80 per cent of its lemons and nine per cent of its grapefruit.

Early damage estimates ran as high as 40 per cent and $60,000,000. The Exchange hesitates to put a price tag on the freeze. It says that although last year's harvest was worth $172,000,000 F.O.B. California, its value this year will not necessarily decrease one-third.

Growers will sell more of their fruit fresh this year instead of to by-products concerns. Fresh fruit brings a higher price than fruit for by-products. Even damaged fruit can be processed and sold as cattle fodder.

Prices Jump Sharply

Although their prices jumped sharply after the first January freeze, two months later they were back to normal. The Exchange predicts they will stay there.

In addition to citrus, other Southern California crops were hard hit by icing. Twenty per cent of the lettuce acreage were frost bitten. Some 10,000,000 pounds of Coachella Valley dates were reported a 2,000,000 loss.

In the fertile Imperial Valley, frost ruined millions of dollars worth of vegetables.

But not all the news was bad. Growers of walnuts, grapes and deciduous fruits say that it's anything the freeze was beneficial for them. They expect bigger and better crops in 1948.

Livestock rancher although their stock lost height when heavy snow buried pasture grass, the range lands were never greener or the blades more juicy than this spring.

In 1913—when present elaborate orchard heating methods were unknown—the most damaging frost in history destroyed 90 per cent of the citrus crop and killed entire orchards. This year no trees were permanently damaged. Icy weather returned in 1922 and again in 1937 and when 40 per cent of the citrus harvest froze.

About 180,000 of the State's 300,000 acres of citrus are heated by oil stoves during cold. Growers on the unheated acreage gamble their crops each year. Nine years out of 10 they win. The figure it averages out in the long run.

Aviation Science Being Used To Wipe Out Excuses in Cake Making

By ANN PEARSON

Minneapolis, April 17 (AP)—It's getting so a housewife won't have a single alibi left if her cake turns out a flop.

The experts are using aviation science to wipe out one excuse that a lot of tough-luck bakers maybe never even thought of. That's atmospheric pressure.

It seems there's a lot of difference between baking a cake in Herkimer, N.Y., and whipping one up in Denver, Colo. This is particularly true with the package cake mixes now so popular with grandma, bride and the professional baker.

One miller (Pillsbury) worked out the problem through aviation science. Cakes were baked in a "flying kitchen" that went up to 7,000 feet without leaving the ground. The aerial kitchen is a pressure chamber used by the United States army air forces at Rochester, Minn., to conduct altitude tests on humans during the Second World War.

The company formerly spent considerable time and money sending food researchers to high altitude cities to determine variations needed in cake mix formulas.

When the pressure Chamber idea jelled, all that had to be done was check the elevation of a city. Then a couple of girls from the company's research and development department "took off" with their mixing bowls to turn out a test cake.

"Captain" of the cake flight missions was Miss Mary Kimball. Her crew consisted of one inside helper on each "flight."

The chamber, a large steel tank anchored horizontally on a solid foundation, is divided into the compartments separated by an air lock. A vault-like door seals the chamber during an experiment.

Before the girls took off for an experiment they baked a control cake on the ground. The "secret" was made at the rate of 1,000 feet a minute. When they reached a previously-determined altitude the cake mixer was turned on and the weighing, measuring and baking started. They were up about four hours on each flight.

While the testers were in the air, technicians outside the chamber watched gauges to maintain proper pressures.

Miss Kimball and her crew members have baked about 200 cakes in 84 "logged flights." The aerial cakes are measured and judged against known standards, first as they come out of the oven and later in Minneapolis laboratories.

So if you want to bake a cake on top of 29,000-foot Mt. Everest, don't guess at the recipe. Try it in a pressure chamber first.

YOUNG MOTHER STRANGLED

Cambridge, Mass., April 18 — (AP) — Mrs. Gloria Rich, 30-year-old mother of three small children, was found today — apparently beaten and strangled — in the bedroom of her home.

Neighbors investigating the crying of Mrs. Rich's children, found the body and called police.

HOW DOES YOUR VEGETABLE GARDEN GROW?

It may be too early to plant, but it's not too soon to plan your vegetable garden now. You'll save a lot of time later by laying it out on paper, because you'll know just what seed to sow, how much to buy, and where to sow it! Vegetables—from your own miniature farm—fresh and full of vitamins—are health insurance for the whole family and consequently, the community itself. Any individual activity that so benefits everyone certainly comes under the heading of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Fishing Industry Experiences Boom In South Africa

Capetown — (AP) — South Africa's fishing industry is booming. Fish reduction and canning plants are mushrooming along its coast.

Fishermen received their first impetus in 1944 when the government founded the Fisheries Development Corporation of South Africa, Ltd., a public utility company with a capital of £1,000,000 ($4,000,000).

Its aim is to assist private enterprise in developing the industry along sound lines as well as to improve the lot of the fishermen with better housing, health and insurance schemes.

The final step was the release of a great number of fishing vessels which had been commandeered for patrol and other wartime duties. Today South Africa has a fishing fleet of approximately 2,200 craft of all sizes worth about £3,500,000 ($10,000,000).

There are 5,000 fishermen, both white and Negro. Another 4,000 to 5,000 are employed in the canning factories.

Huge Fishing Grounds

The Union's fishing grounds cover an estimated 150,000 square miles, more than four-fifths of the industry is based on the west coast from Walvis Bay in the north to Cape Agulhas in the south. Other fishing grounds are located on the south coast on the Agulhas Bank stretching from Cape Agulhas to Algoa Bay and off East London.

The cold south Atlantic waters of this coast abound in fish from the lowly snoek which is imported in great quantities by the British Ministry of Food, to the aristocratic sole and sharks.

Dr. S. H. Skaife, chairman of the Fisheries Development Corporation, says the catches of inshore fishermen and trawlermen weighed well over 200,000,000 pounds annually with an unprocessed value of about £3,500,000 ($14,000,000).

In addition, fishermen are developing a new cash catch in the South African pilchard which is similar to the California pilchard. Before the war, fishermen almost completely ignored the pilchard and used it mainly for bait. Today, about 70,000,000 pounds are netted and processed.

South Africa also exports annually 6,000,000 pounds of crawfish tails. Exports rose from 3,556,000 pounds of canned tails in 1924 to 8,156,000 in 1947. The government has set a ceiling of 6,000,000 pounds on the catch in order to protect the crawfish banks off the west coast from over-exploitation.

Five Arrested For Beating Man

Alexandra, Ont., April 18 — (CP) — Quebec Provincial Police Sunday rounded up five young men and took them to police headquarters in Montreal following the beating of Raymond Hurubise, 28-year-old resident of this town, about 50 miles east of Ottawa.

In police custody are Hugh McDonald, Jean McDonald, Anthony McKay, George McKay, all of Dalhousie Station, Que., about 10 miles east of here, and John Longman of Hollywood, Calif.

Hurubise, police say, he and his wife were driving home from Dalhousie Station shortly after midnight Saturday. As he stopped the car at a railway crossing, another car pulled up alongside, several men leaped out and dragged Hurubise from his car.

He was beaten about the head and required medical treatment for a broken jaw, eye and chin injuries and bruises to the back of the head.

The young men were picked up by Ontario Provincial Police and handed over to Quebec police. It was not known whether charges had been laid against them.

Fires Across Canada Last Winter Claimed 160 Lives, Property Loss Expected to Exceed 60 Millions

By The Canadian Press

During the last 10 years Canadians appear to have been very decreasingly careless about fire. In the past winter death and property toll reached what may be the most severe in years.

Fires across the country last winter claimed more than 160 lives. Property damage is expected to exceed $60,000,000, a high point for the last decade.

A Canadian Press survey of provinces, excluding Newfoundland, which did not enter confederation until March 31, indicates the winter's toll of one of the heaviest on record.

In Halifax, Fire Marshal S. S. Wright voiced the feeling of many of his counterparts in other sections of the country.

"Losses of life are appalling," he said. "It cannot be comprehended why a highly-intelligent people permit them to continue."

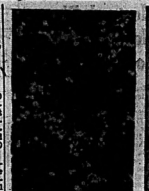
Mr. Wright listed as major causes of fatal fires: Poor chimneys, inflammable interior home finishes, laziness and mistakes in setting up heating equipment.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' last available figures show that in 1947, 376 persons died in 23,321 reported fires which cost some $57,000,000 property damage. The property loss was the highest in 10 years and the loss of life was exceeded only in 1946 when 408 persons died.

Preliminary reports for 1948, including in part the recent winter, show signs of exceeding the record again.

Two Heavy Fires

The Maritime Provinces reported two heavy life-toll fires during December: A two-family home in New Waterford, N.S., where 10 persons died and a Halifax tenement fire which claimed eight lives. The costliest property damage was the Halifax office building blaze toward year's end which caused more than $250,000 damage.



Quebec, the traditionally hardest-hit of all provinces in both life and property-damage toll, reached or exceeded previous highs. The final count will record upwards of 100 deaths and property damage will exceed $17,000,000.

Ontario had seven major fires each of which cost more than $100,000. Thirty-three persons lost their lives. Property loss was more than $2,000,000 from the previous winter's toll of $7,200,000. Many fires struck in the school year. Chesley, 26 miles southwest of Owen Sound; a Roman Catholic Church in Ottawa; and four business sites, two in Toronto, one in Hamilton and one in Algoma, Northern Ontario community 75 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

The two worst fires of the season were on the Prairies. Regina's $1,000,000 street-railway car barns burned to the ground Sunday, Jan. 25, in sub-zero temperature. At Edmonton firemen battled three days to save a $1,000,000 warehouse building. The loss exceeded $2,000,000.

Manitoba's worst fire in 20 years claimed five sisters and a boarder during the midnight blaze in the village of Morden Feb. 27.

In British Columbia 48 persons died and 57 were injured in fires which cost more than $1,797,000. Most were in logging camps and lumber mills, traditional winter fire hazards.

Significant milestones in mankind's fight against dread cancer is announcement from Columbia University, New York state, that scientists of newly established institute of cancer research have identified and isolated a cancer virus in animals. The virus isolated is that which causes breast cancer in mice, a disease which closely resembles human breast cancer, the most common form of the disease and one that attacks about one in every 25 women. The virus was isolated from the actual milk of mice, virtually all of which developed breast cancer late in life. With this as a start, scientists are optimistic they are on threshold of discoveries that will reduce incidence of cancer in human beings. Left, a photo of the cancer virus, magnified 25,000 times by electronic microscope, and appearing like small bead against background. Capital Closeups: Polish Expatriate Ready To Take Place in Canada

By JOHN LeBLANC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, April 18 — (CP)—A bright, smiling young man took a walk out of the shadows this week.

Wladyslaw Zbik stepped out of a niche behind the iron curtain and into Canadian life. He left Red Communism — and what it has done to Poland — enough to make himself an expatriate.

He was the 25-year-old second secretary at the Polish legation — and he still is — a man without a job.

He thus left himself holding a bag — an outsider from his own homeland and a man of uncertain future in Canada — for he has no assurance he could stay here. He still hasn't.

Zbik, affable, handsome, well-groomed, is not cloak-and-dagger character or soap-boxer inveighing against the Communists.

Just a peasant man, he described himself, who was also an chief consul for Ontario. He spirited no files away from the legation.

Rather than talk about politics, he would prefer to talk about Canada. Or about how his wife is picking up English, or how three-year-old Marcia Zbik is the biggest talks Polish at home and chatters English with her playmates in Ottawa's Sand Hill section.

So would Mrs. Zbik, a blue-eyed blonde. Her eyes mist a bit when you mention Poland, but they brighten as they talk enthusiastic to the Rockies, which resemble the mountainous area of Poland where she was born.

She thinks she would like to live in the foothills of the Rockies, at least until she can go back to a free Poland. Her husband favors Ottawa, though he does not see much for him in this city of government jobs. He would not be says, want to embarrass the government by calling on it for work.

What he wants to do, he says, is fit into the Canadian community, make himself a new life in this country.

Meanwhile, he will talk of how the denizens of Brooklyn say "toidt" for "tert."

And he will laugh over that with perhaps a little more freedom.

Traffic Toll Light Despite Heavy Travel

(By The Canadian Press)

Canada's three-day Easter holiday weekend, though marked by numerous fatalities in motor traffic in cities and highways, had a relatively light toll of twenty fatal accidents. Eleven of the deaths were caused by traffic mishaps.

The Canadian Press tabulation showed 10 of the deaths in Ontario, three persons died violently in Nova Scotia, two in both Quebec and New Brunswick, and one each in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. No deaths were reported from Friday morning to Sunday night in Manitoba, Prince Edward Island or Newfoundland.

Baby brothers John Burns, two, and Nelson Burns, one, died in a fire at their home in Riceteau Sunday.

Friday's snowfall in Ontario was blamed in connection with the other two double fatalities. Truck driver Joseph Ferri, 47, and his nephew, Raymond Long, four, of Fort Dover, died when Long's truck skidded on a highway and ended in a ditch near Stoney Creek.

And near Mattawa, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Smith of Ottawa were killed during a snowstorm in a collision between the motorcar in which they were riding and a truck. Stewart Strutt, 32, identified by police as the driver of the car, was taken to hospital and will later face a charge of dangerous driving.

At Virginia, N.S., Allan Burns, 13, drowned in a spring stream while at Caton's Island, near Saint John, N.B., the body of a man identified as Elton Edward Moore, 26, was taken from the St. John River. He disappeared last Nov. 10 — the day he was to be married.

Fell From Bike

At Edmunston, N.B., Emile Violi, 66, was fatally injured by a flying piece of wood while chopping log. In two Montreal deaths, Denis Tomasso, eight, fell from his bike into the path of a Montreal Tramways bus and Roland Gingras, 29, was struck by an automobile at a city intersection.

British Columbia had its first swimming death of 1949 when Bradley Shanks, 14, drowned at Boundary Bay, 35 miles south of Vancouver. Near Edmonton, Rodin Case, 12 died from a bullet wound in his head while hunting with two other boys. Conway Skelly, 35 was struck by a car while riding his bicycle in Saskatoon and police have charged Michael Deptuck, 25, with manslaughter.

Ernest McKinnon of Geraldton, Ont., died Sunday in an auto collision near Parry Sound and Clarence Warner of Coulson, Ont., was killed in a level crossing crash near Midland.

Lorraine Houle, two, was fatally scalded in her Sarnia home while in Toronto Mrs. Lily Glazer, 39, died of injuries when her husband's auto was struck by a street-car. Adolph Widrich, a farmer near St. Catharines, Ont., was crushed beneath his tractor while puling stumps from his farm.

Clarence Gies, 26, of Linwood, Ont., died in hospital at Kitchener of injuries suffered in an auto crash near Heidelburg, Ont., on Thursday. Two others were seriously injured when the car crashed into a tree.

Washington Spotlight: Repeal of Taft-Hartley Labor Law Still Tops on Labor's List

By GEORGE RONALD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Washington, April 18 — (CP) — The unions are basing to it that congressmen don't have too soft a time during the Easter recess.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor have told their members to turn on the heat while the law-makers relax at home.

Labor, a power in last November's elections, wants those campaign promises fulfilled — promise Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law still is tops on labor's list.

Big Beef

Labor has no particular complaint about Truman's post-election performance. Its big beef is what Congress is doing to keep him from carrying out his pledges.

One of those pledges was to wipe from the statutes the Taft-Hartley Law, which labor considers "anti-labor." But there are many indications that Congress' final action will be something much less than outright repeal.

Debate on the administration's version of the Taft-Hartley Law is scheduled in both Houses of Congress next month. It promises to follow the pattern of the bitter tak fest which gave birth to the Taft-Hartley Law last year

Law Defended

A considerable element in both Houses feels the Taft-Hartley Law is not as bad as labor paints it. Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep., O.), one of the sponsors of last year's bill, has teamed this time with Senator Irving M. Ives (Rep., N.Y.) in an attempt to preserve many of the main provisions of the Taft-Hartley measure.

They have agreed tentatively on a "national emergency" procedure that would authorize injunctions, plant seizures and special sessions of Congress and continue the present ban on closed-shop contracts — the one ban which labor hates most.

Something similar to the Taft-Ives program is expected to be offered by the Republican members of the Senate Labor Committee.

On the other side of the fence is a Democrat-sponsored bill which would tighten the Taft-Hartley Act and introduce some new curbs on union activities.

The A.F.L.'s instructions to its 8,000,000 members said: "Your opinions mean something last November. They still do. Let Congress know how you feel about labor legislation."

Congressmen, much as they'd like to relax, have no choice but to listen carefully and do some more serious thinking about labor's demands.

Toronto Maple Leafs Make History By Winning Stanley Cup Three Years in Row

By WILLIAM R. DUMSDAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — Toronto's hockey thousands exhumed Easter presents today and voted as favorite the Stanley Cup which the Maple Leafs won for them Saturday night. By downing Detroit Red Wings 3-1 the Leafs became the first club in modern professional hockey to win the trophy three years in succession.

The 14,344 fans who filled Maple Leaf Gardens to capacity and saw the world champions re-crowned, probably would have liked to have joined the players in sipping champagne from the bowl of the Stanley Cup in post-game party.

At the celebration, managing director Conn Smythe paid tribute to the club which came from behind to beat the Wings in four straight games. He figured the rookie - reinforced team was 10 points stronger than the club which last made fourth and last playoff spot in the National League race.

The champions spotted the Wings a goal in the first period as they did in the first game of the round here last Wednesday. They pulled even midway thru the second period on Max Bentley's point, as they outfought the Wings, it was only matter of time until they moved in front.

Superb Condition

Superb condition and relentless power again paid off for the champions. They outshot the Wings 31-15 and in the third period — when the Wings needed to score to retain a chance of victory — they only directed four shots at goalie Turk Broda while the Leafs tested Harry Lumley 14 times.

In an effort to revive their flagging players, Detroit officials used oxygen tanks and masks during rest periods for the first time in 21 N. H. L. years.

In the dressing room after the game, the Leafs friend Bill Ezinicki had kicked them into the title. Bill lost his stick and when he retrieved it from him he kicked the puck to start an all-Manitoba movement. Bill then produced what proved to be the winning goal late in the second period.

While Jack Stewart tried to push Ezinicki around, Bill kicked the puck onto the stick of fellow-Winnipegger Jimmy Thomson. The defenceman made a pass for Cal Gardner and the centre from Transcona, Man., fired the pay-off shot.

The Wings were changing lines when they struck early in the first period to open the scoring. Jack Stewart replaced Sid Abel at centre and passed the puck to Ted Lindsay, who skated neatly on the left side and beat Broda with a hard shot.

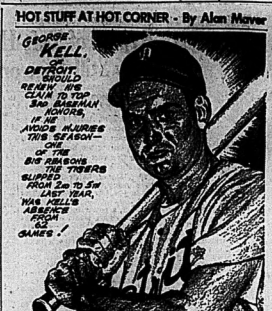
As the second period progressed, the Leafs gained command and as they buzzed around the Detroit net, Ray Timgren finally batted home a rebound after Max Bentley had a chance. Little Max himself capped the scoring on a passing play with Timgren late in the third.

Racetrack Air

In giving Coach Hap Day his fifth world title as a coach, the Leafs were also the first fourth-place team to win the trophy since the Chicago Black Hawks performed the feat against the Leafs in 1938.



Toronto's dressing room took on a racetrack air as Bentley displayed an ivory horseshoe, studded with sapphires, presented to him by breeder Frank Ahern who earlier in the season gave Max a yearling named Pour Moi. On the other side of the room defenceman Gus Mortson waved an actual shoe from the hoof of Your Bo, which Max some day hopes to enter in the King's Plate.

It was a big night for seven of the Leafs who moved into the N. H. L. to stay three seasons ago when Smythe and Day made the famous overhaul job on the team after it finished out of the playoffs for the previous year. The seven who have been members of nothing but Stanley Cup teams since jumping to the big-time are Thomson, Gus Mortson, Gerry Boesch, Bill Barilko, Vic Lynn, Joe Klukay and Howie Meeker.

They were all in uniform but Meeker, who missed the playoffs due to a broken toe. But as the cup was being presented to the Leafs on the ice by league president Clarence Campbell, the fans chanted "We want Meeker" and the little right - winger bobbed out.

At the party, Boesch shouted: "Well boys, now it's four years in a row or bust." He leaned over and gently stroked the Stanley Cup and said "See you again next year, Honey!"

Wide Open Race Seen in National And Two-Team Scrap in American As Major League Season Opens

New York, April 18 (AP) — The big league baseball season opens today with prospects of a six-team jamboree in the National League and a Boston-Cleveland race in the American League.

Only four teams see action this afternoon but all will be busy tomorrow, the first full schedule day.

President Harry Truman, an ambidextrous first-ball pitcher, will be present to watch Washington fiddle with Philadelphia Athletics in his customary Griffith Stadium opener, a day before the start of the American League.

After the President does his stuff, Washington will also shoulder the job of trying to pitch Washington to victory No. 1. He will be opposed by Toronto-born Dick Fowler of the A's.

A crowd of 31,000 is expected to watch the Senators butt up against the strategy of 56-year-old Connie Mack, starting his 48th year as manager of the A's.

Boston also gets a special opening day for the National League champion Braves. Tomorrow is Patriot' Day. That always calls for a doubleheader. As the Braves don't want to open with a double header, they received permission for an early starter with the improved Philadelphia Phils.

Johnny Sain, 24-game winner for the '48 champs, will oppose the veteran Ken Heintzelman at Braves' Field where the World Series ended in a Boston defeat last Oct. 11. Some 15,000 are expected.

Reports of dissension on the Braves ruined the final stages of their spring training trip but there has been no confirmation from any club official. Instead, there has been a steady stream of denials.

But dissension or no, the Braves have their troubles. It's too early to tell for sure whether Eddie Stanky and Jeff Heath are as good as ever after their broken ankles of last summer. Pete Reiser, purchased from Brooklyn, still has to prove his comeback is a sure thing.

Most of the experts, and managers too, think the Braves are in for a tough battle from Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and St. Louis. They give New York and Chicago a chance too. Only Cincinnati and Philadelphia are counted out.

The Athletics, with fine pitching from Joe Coleman, Phil Marchildon of Pentanguishene, Ont., Carl Sheib, Brissie and Fowler, are the popular "dark-horse" in the American League.

Montreal Royals Eastern Finalists For Memorial Cup

Toronto, April 18. (CP) — The smoothly-drilled Montreal Royals today were on the last lap in their race for the Dominion's Junior hockey title. They now have to hurdle either the West's Brandon Wheat Kings or Calgary Buffaloes.

In the search for the Memorial Cup, the Royals have proof positive that they are one of the finest teams to come out of the Quebec Senior league.

They inscribed it in the record books Saturday by defeating the highly-touted Barrie Flyers 5-4 to take the Eastern Canada finals in four straight games. They won the first game of the best-of-seven series 3-1, the second 6-5 and the third 2-1.

For Coach Tag Millar's Royals it was a sweet victory. They were given little chance against the all-Ontario champions before the series started.

It was the rugged, two-way play of shifty Gordon Hudson that contributed mainly to the Montreal Victory Saturday. He fired two goals to lead the Royals to their 16th playoff victory in 17 starts.

A crowd of about 9,000 fans saw the 19-year-old, Calgary-born centre barge his way through a tight Barrie defence in the first three minutes of the third period and score twice.

Flyers Off Stride

It was just what the Montreal-ers needed, after trailing from a second period 2-2 deadlock. They bounded little Gil Mayer in the Barrie nets with well-timed passing plays to set the Flyers off stride.

The Flyers, who swept their Ontario playoffs in 12 straight games, made a must-or-bust attempt to tie the game with 30 seconds left when they drew out Mayer in favor of a sixth forward.

Time and again the Flyers jammed the Montreal nets from the face-off. But Goalie Bobby Bleau was not to be beaten.

The first period ended in a 1-1 tie, the second 2-2. Then the Royals counted three goals in the first five minutes of the third before the Flyers drove back with two.

Bobby Frampton came up with two goals for the Royals while Dick Moore counted the other.

Centre Gord Pennell put on a brilliant performance and scored three goals for the Flyers. Real Chevrefils got the other.

Officials Stan Prest and Hap Shouldice, both of Ottawa, called 20 penalties, 11 of them against Barrie.

Montreal Blues Move Step Closer To Cage Title

Montreal Y.M.H.A. Blues moved a step closer to the Eastern Canada Senior Basketball crown by trouncing Ottawa Glebe Greds 64-35 Saturday at Montreal to take a two-game total-points series lead.

The Y.M.H.A. meet Saint John, N.B., Saints at Montreal Wednesday and Saturday in another two-game total-points round, the winner of which will play the Ontario champions for the Eastern Canada championship.

Tillsonburg Trojans Saturday night won the Southern Ontario Intermediate B Basketball Championship by taking a two-game total-point series from Toronto Broadview Y.M.C.A., 117-114, at Toronto. Broadview won 49-42 Saturday and Tillsonburg took Friday's game 75-72.

The Trojans now advance to the All-Ontario finals against Timmins.

Don Hamilton, former University of Detroit player, paced the Trojans with eight field goals and 3 free throws for 19 points. Bill Coulthard, who starred with Windsor Assumption College a few seasons ago, accounted for 18 Tillsonburg points.

At Ottawa, the Sault Ste. Marie Algoa Basketeers edged out Morrisburg Sailors 40-38 to win the first round in a two-game series for the right to advance against New Brunswick's Mount Allison University in Canadian intermediate basketball playoffs. Second game will be played at Ottawa tonight.

Frank Anderson of Toronto holds a grim grip on the Ontario chess championship he won last year. The close of third day's play in the annual provincial championship Saturday saw Anderson leading with six victories and no losses.

In second place with five wins and one loss is Ludvika Vavrin of Hamilton. Toronto's young Ross Simmons is third with four victories and two losses, while Hedpath Drummond of Hamilton and Roy Orlando of Toronto share fourth place with three wins and a draw each.

Trinity College School of Port Hope won the Ontario junior (under 20 years of age) gymnastic championship at Toronto Saturday with 1,861 points of a possible 2,400. Windsor Lowe Vocational school was second with 1,712 points. Toronto Danforth 3rd and Ottawa Technical High School, last year's champions, fourth.

Marvin Johnson of Windsor, Ont., tied Hugh Wetsford of Toronto for same 75-ft. honors.

At Georgetown, British Guiana, Harrison Dillard, United States Olympic sprinter, equalled the world record in winning the 100-yard dash in the British Guiana Olympiad. He was clocked in 9.4 seconds.

Jim Savage, heavyweight boxer of the early 1900's, died of a heart attack at his home in Orange, N. J., Saturday night. He was 67.

He held victories over such prominent boxers as Frank Moran and Sailor Cunningham and served as principal trainer and sparring partner for Jess Willard.

ation's secretary is James Blake of Kitchener, who has held the post for the last 25 years. Another meeting will be held at Mount Forest on April 30.

Carl Fischer, 38, former pitcher for five American League clubs, may do his hurling for Kitchener in the Intercounty League this summer if he succeeds in getting his amateur card. Fischer, who also pitched for two seasons with Toronto in the International League, was out of baseball last year but the year before played with Pennsylvania Flat in the Southeastern League.

Visiting this weekend at Niagara Falls, Ont., he said his duties at Kitchener would include coaching pitchers in the city's teen-aged clubs.

New York, April 18 (AP) — The Tournament of Champions will stage its first indoor fight show at Manhattan Centre May 4 . . . Their plans also include a heavyweight elimination tournament, staged with the idea that the New York Commission won't recognize the new National Boxing Association champion . . . but one man who usually knows the score in boxing says it's a good bet that the T. of C. won't go through with the Tony Zale - Rocky Graziano scrap that is No. 1 on its list. . . Your Dog Knows! WHAT NOURISHING EVERY INCH MEANS

A dog that's healthier, happier and more fun to be with

You can be an "expert" in caring for your dog. Just nourish every inch of him — feed him GAINES! Then he'll be happy, full of well-being — because GAINES is kennel-tested — biologically proved to be nutritionally superior.

You'll save money, too!

GAINES costs less to feed than any other type of dog food. It's ALL FOOD. Some other types of dog food contain 70% moisture. Why pay for water? Buy nourishment! Buy GAINES!

So easy to feed!

All you do is add water from the tap (or soup, milk or gravy if he likes it).

For variety, try GAINES KRUNCHON, which is GAINES Meal compressed into tasty bite-size pellets.

Wherever dog foods are sold 2-lb., 5-lb. and 25-lb. bags

Here's what your dog gets in every pound!

Proteins as in 1¼ lbs. beef; carbohydrates as in 1½ quarts cooked oatmeal; fats as in 1 ounce butter; minerals as in 1¼ lbs. cheese; iron as in ½ lb. beef liver. PLUS all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need.

Three Rivers Defence Line Of West Powers

Chicago, April 18 (AP) — The Chicago Tribune says today that preliminary resistance of western Europe against any onslaught by the Russian army will be based on the Yssel, the Rhine and the Po rivers.

But North Africa will be the main defence bastion, the newspaper says.

The Tribune reports "this was the decision made by the Foreign Ministers and American authorities in the secret parleys following the signing of the North Atlantic pact in Washington when the European s submitted the list of weapons and equipment they desire from the United States under the proposed military lend-lease."

(The Ysael, or Ijssel, river runs north and south through Meer (the Zuyder Zee) in The Netherlands, joining with the Rhine at the Dutch-German border southwest of Arnhem. The Rhine runs generally north and south inside western Germany and between France and Germany, entering Switzerland at Basel. The Po cuts across the northern part of the "boot" of Italy.)

In a dispatch from Paris by Henry Wales the Tribune says the Iberian Peninsula (Spain and Portugal) will be "organized as a continental defence base if the United States agrees to finance reconstruction of the Spanish highways, railways and ports to handle supplies and troop movements.

The newspaper says it learned the outline of the "projected military operations" from members of the French mission who accompanied Foreign Minister Robert Schuman to the Washington conference.

P.E. Sheardown Wins Contract Bridge Title

Toronto, April 18 — (CP) — P. E. (Shorty) Sheardown of Toronto, frequent winner of the Canadian contract bridge championship, won it again in the three-day tournament which ended Saturday.

The championship goes to the player making the best average performance in all events.

In second place was Bruce Elliott of Toronto, followed by M. M. Miller, tournament chairman, and Mrs. J. Begin of Montreal.

Team - of - four championship went to Toronto players P. E. Sheardown, Bruce Elliott, Roy Thomson, George Boeckh and Bruce Gowdy. Gowdy, 19, who has been playing bridge for only a year, was a substitute on the team.

Intermediate open-pair championship for non-masters was won by J. Scanlon and Eric Murray of Hamilton.

Sam Gold and R. Cohen of Montreal won the open-pair championship while D. G. Farquharson and P. E. Sheardown of Toronto, two of Canada's three life masters, placed second. Gold is the other life master.

In flight B of the open - pairs play, winning pairs were F. Varty and W. Riddell of Orillia, Ont. and Mr. Warden and G. Udy of London, Ont.

Reserve Clause Defended By Larry Lajoie

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 18. (AP)—Organized baseball's current battle over the reserve clause finds Napoleon (Larry) Lajoie on the other side now.

Once Lajoie, one of the game's all-time greats, was a rebel and outlaw. He jumped the National League, in 1901, when there was no other recognized league. His case, which involved the reserve clause, was fought through the courts. He said, "decide the fate of the American League," as he puts it.

He went on to win a place in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., as a second baseman and a hitter with a lifetime batting average of 338 in 3,479 major league games. At one time Cleveland's American League Club was named for him, and later he was the playing manager.

The rawboned Frenchman is 74 now, and hasn't seen a major league contest since Cleveland won the 1920 World Series from Brooklyn. He pulters around in his yard and garden, and doesn't visit the Spring training camps.

"You get enough of it," he says. "You get filled up."

But he still talks the game, and he has no sympathy for the major leagues who were outlawed for jumping to Mexico.

"I don't always have to have laws in baseball," he told a reporter. "If it weren't for these laws, including the reserve clause, old Col. Jake Ruppert would have all the best players in the world here with the New York Yankees when he owned that club. Money didn't mean anything to him."

Man Wanted For 13 Years Gives Self up

Mineola, N. Y., April 18 (AP) — Police wouldn't believe the timid-looking man, carrying two travelling bags, who walked into a police station Friday night and said: "I am Anson G. Purchase and I am wanted."

Not until Saturday did police learn of a warrant issued 13 years ago charging Purchase with second-degree forgery at the Bayside Federal Savings and Loan Association of Queens.

Lieut. Thomas Bonanza, to whom Purchase gave himself up, said the man "told an improbable story" of taking $8,000 from the bank as an employee in 1936 and setting up as a business man in Kansas City, Mo.

But because "he did look sort of bashful-like at that," Bonanza said, Purchase was granted his wish of spending the night in the lockup.

Two Queens detectives arrived with the warrant and took Purchase back with them, climaxing 13 years of wandering and a business career troubled, Purchase said, by a conscience that gave him no rest.

Vitamin E Used As Nerve Tonic

New York, April 18 — (AP)— Uses of vitamin E as an apparent nerve tonic were reported here Saturday.

The reports were made at an international conference on this vitamin, held by the New York Academy of Sciences. Although E has been known for 20 years, few human uses have been found. The reports came from 10 countries including Canada.

Dr. Ugo Butturini, University of Parma, Parma, Italy, said that he found vitamin E beneficial in diphtheria. Especially it prevented paralysis that sometimes follows this disease.

Dr. Butturini also found E useful in diabetes. Dr. Arthur Vogelsang of London, Ont., reported that this vitamin reduced the amount of insulin needed by adult diabetics.

But Dr. George H. Guest, of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, reported that E failed to help 13 children's hospital diabetics on whom it was tried for 50 to 100 days.

Providence Reds Defeat Hershey To Win Title

Providence, R.I., April 18 (AP) Providence Reds, champions of American hockey league champions today for the first time in nine years.

The Reds, coached by fiery Terry Reardon who was noted for his spirit and fight while with Boston Bruins, climaxed a great comeback by defeating Hershey Bears 4-3 in the seventh and deciding game here last night.

The high-scoring Providence entry, which ran away from the field in the league's Eastern Division during regular season play, came back to win three straight games after spotting Hershey a 3-1 lead.

The Reds wasted no time in going after last night's game and possession of the league's Calder Cup. They packed all their scoring into the first period and then held off repeated Hershey drives. Jack McGill, a lanky centre who last year played with the Bears, led the Providence offence with a pair of goals and an assist.

His first goal came after three minutes and six seconds of play when he tipped in a 55-foot shot by Carl Liscombe, the league's most valuable player for the last two seasons, while he was serving short-handed.

Johnny O'Dea made it 2-0 at the 13-minute mark when he batted in his own rebound and 14 minutes later McGill skated in all alone on a breakaway for another goal. Defenceman Art Michalick completed the Providence scoring with two minutes remaining.

For the next two periods the Reds were content to play back and let the Bears come to them. Jerry Toppazzini and Gordie Bruce broke through and got two goals back for Hersey in the second period, but the Providence defence was equal to the task for the remainder of the game.

Nine Paraplegic Vets did Not See the Game

Montreal, April 18 (CP) — Twelve paraplegic war veterans were back in Montreal's Queen Mary Hospital Sunday after a flight to Toronto for the fourth game of the Stanley Cup final Saturday which most of them did not see.

An official member of the party said at least nine of the paraplegics did not get inside Maple Leaf Gardens for the game between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings.

He said Gardens authorities told them there were no facilities for wheel chair cases in the Gardens." Three veterans who were able to leave their chairs had seats to the game.

The flight was arranged by Tramways Branch No. 76 Canadian Legion in conjunction with the R.C.A.F. and the Ministry of National Defence. The party had 16 tickets—good for four seats and 12 standees.

C. S. Jarvis, secretary of the Canadian Legion Branch, said: "The Maple Leaf Gardens knew all about the situation before the paraplegics got here because the tickets were given to the Paraplegics Association of Canada."

Those who were not able to get in to see the game listened to it by radio in the Toronto Press Club.

STRIKE POSTPONED

Rome, April 16 (Reuters)—The Italian General Confederation of Labor Friday night announced that a general strike of all bank workers throughout Italy which had been scheduled for today, has been postponed. The strike was called in sympathy with workers of the Bay of Italy, who have been striking since April 2 for wage increases.

Ottawa Woman Bowler Takes Third Place

Toronto, April 18 (CP)—Avis Harper, Ottawa's leading woman five-pin bowler, ran up an aggregate 3,180 score Saturday to take third place among women bowlers competing in the Canadian Bowling Association's Canadian Open tournament here.

Sadie Meberg of London, Ont., carried off the Fred Hamilton trophy in women's singles with a high score of 830.

Another London team, Arcadettes, bowled 2,438 to take the Brunswick Balke trophy for viewing women's teams. Home Furniture, of Toronto, won the Bennett trophy for Toronto teams with a score of 3,512.

Timmins, Ont., bowlers continued their leadership in men's bowling as their quarets team took top score of the day with 2,663. An Ottawa squad, champs, were second with 2,578.

Ken Tomkinson of Timmins was high man for the day with a total of 932 in the men's singles.

Timmins bowlers carried off the two top places in doubles competition for men. Mike Burs and Lee Bonner led with a total of 1,645, trailed by Allan Guards and George Connor with 1,538.

SHOE PRICES TO STAY FIRM; MAY RISE

Montreal, April 18 — (CP)—It is more likely that shoe prices in Canada will go up rather than come down, the Shoe Manufacturers Association of Canada estimated in a statement issued here Thursday. Because of a still difficult situation in Canada, plus export conditions, rising labor and hide costs, any drop in shoe prices should be anticipated, the statement said.

Hundreds Watch Pickerel Run On Mississippi

Lanstville, Ont., April 18 (CP)—Hundreds of Ottawa Valley spectators in this village 20 miles northwest of Ottawa Easter Sunday to see one of the great valley spectacles of the year—the annual pickerel run on the Mississippi River.

Witnesses said the gleaming Mississippi was jammed thick for seven miles with spawning pickerel, thousands on their journey up-stream to spawn and thousands more on their way home to the well-stocked Mississippi Lake.

Ontario fish and game overseers from all parts of Eastern Ontario were brought to the banks to guard against fish poachers.

Port Colborne One Game up Over Gananoque

Kingston, Ont., April 18 (CP) — Port Colborne Merchants downed Gananoque Legionaires, 5-3 here Saturday to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five finals of the Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A series. Next game will be played in Port Erie on Tuesday with a fifth contest, if necessary, in Toronto.

Gananoque club officials said they would protest Saturday's game, claiming that Don Gallinger, suspended Boston Bruins player, was masterminding the Port Colborne play.

Pine, Benner, Kilpatrick, Kreisler and Cheeks were the marksmen for the winners

REAR FAST DESIGN embodying a new "braced-up" assembly of strong, lightweight material that imparts great strength with resiliency to the whole bicycle.

New Optional Features

3-SPEED REAR HUB is optional equipment on all models except the "Tourist" model on which it is standard equipment.

This hub, which also has a hub brake, enables you to ride up steep grades in "low", then shift to "second", by a convenient lever on the crossbar, and then to "high" for speed on the level.

THE FRONT HUB embodies a built-in generator for producing the necessary electricity for the head-light and tail-light.

WEEPING STATUE RUNS DRY

Seven-year-old Shirley Martin, daughter of a Syracuse milkman, is shown kissing the plaster of paris image of St. Ann. Thousands of persons have passed through the Martin household's kitchen during the past two weeks to see the saint's image weep when Shirley kisses it. Phenomenon? Certainly. Miracle? Still unsubstantiated. According to latest reports, the statue has stopped weeping.—Central Press Canadian.

AT THE McCARTHY—John Wayne, in his best role to date, gives a powerful portrayal of Captain Rails in "Wake of the Red Witch." The stirring sea saga, which teams Wayne with lovely Gail Russell, is now playing at Odeon's McCarthy Theatre.

AT THE CAPITOL—The Rocky Mountain atmosphere in "Canadian Pacific" seems to have a romantic influence on Randolph Scott and Jane Wyatt, while Nancy Olson wants to get into the act too. The threesome are appearing in the Twentieth Century-Fox release currently on view at the Capitol Theatre. The Nat Holt production, filmed in color by Cinecolor, also features J. Carroll Naish and Victor Jory. On the same program the Three Stooges in their latest comedy, "Brideless Groom". Matinee daily at 2:00 p.m.

AT THE BELLE—Jane Russell whispers sweet nothings to Bob Hope as he eyes her six-gun apprehensively, in this scene from "The Paleface". Paramount Technicolor comedy closing tonight at the Belle Theatre. The film is crammed with plenty of Indians, action and laughs.

Hollywood, April 18 (AP)—When Shirley Temple reaches 21 this Saturday, she starts receiving icons of her childhood wealth, including $11,000 she won for spouting she wasn't a midget.

She earned the $11,000 as a child star after an English paper headlined the oft-heard rumor that she was a midget.

"Not only that," Shirley related, "but they also said I was 30 years old and the mother of a child. Imagine!

"Since this was bad publicity in my start in pictures, we sued. The English paper sent a reporter all the little men followed me around for about a week until he finally decided I wasn't a midget. We won the suit, but I wasn't to get the money until I came of age. I think now I'll leave it over there and spend it on a trip abroad some day."

Of course, the $11,000 is but a drop in a golden bucket compared with the other money stored in trust funds for Shirley. Soundingher out, I guessed the sum was over $1,000,000.

"I don't think so," she answered coyly. "You see, a lot of the money I made was put in a trust fund by Fox Studio. When I broke my contract because I didn't want to work there any more, it was paid off in a lump sum, taxable at 92 cents on the dollar. That was when my father almost had nervous breakdown."

Mr. Temple then took over control of Shirley's finances. As it stands now, she has a series of trust funds that mature every few years "until death."

She'll never have money worries. She and husband John Agar have been working regularly in films for sizable salaries. And they don't live high.

"I'm the tightest person I know" she confessed. She told of the indignant letter she got as a new-lywed when she was quoted as budgeting her monthly food bill at $12. She has since increased it to a more realistic figure.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

They tell me an adding machine has been built to record sums that total in billions. Could it carry the numbers of tricks missed by bridge players? Not unless it goes into trillions.

Therefore, solving bridge problems is a pretty pastime with better players. It sharpens their vision for many of the layouts they are likely to encounter in a game.

The less experienced players should first make an attempt to learn the simpler combinations. As one becomes more adept, he can take on the more difficult puzzles gradually.

From Hollywood emanates a weekly radio bridge broadcast. One of the mutterckers announced is shown in these cards:

	NORTH
	♠ K
	♥ 4
	♦ K 10 3
	♣ K
WEST		EAST
♠ 3		♠ None
♥ 7		♥ A
♦ Q 8		♦ Q J 32
♣ 9
	SOUTH
	♠ 5 2
	♥ None
	♦ None
	♣ A 10 8 7

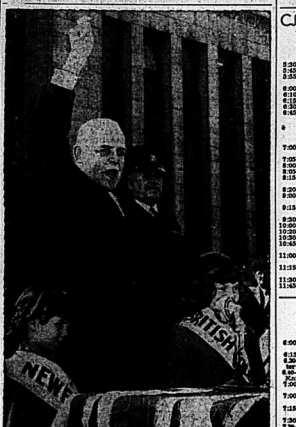
South is the declarer at a no-trump contract. Seven of the 13 tricks have already been played. You see the six cards remaining in each hand and the lead is now coming from south.

The problem is for declarer to take five of these last six tricks. He must do so against any defence the opponents in east and west can possibly attempt. Try your hand at it.

Obviously south must lead one of his black suits, having no reds. Thereafter he must prevent opponents from taking more than one trick. Could you find the plays that make this possible?

Your first thought might be to lead your smallest spade and win with the dummy's spade king. The idea would be to take a later trick with the south five of spades if that hand gets in again.

But what would you do after spade king wins? Throw east in with a heart after cashing the other two kings? East would then be forced to lead a club which your south hand could win.



But suppose east ruffs his heart ace on your spade king? It would change the complexion of things. Give it some thought.

Gas Well Fire Snuffed Out

Calgary, April 18 — (CP) — FFlames from a wild gas well in the Princess Oil Field, about 110 miles southeast of Calgary, were snuffed out Saturday and the well brought under control late Sunday.

The California Standard No. 4 well went out of control and caught fire last Monday.

The fire was extinguished by Hugh Lee Patton, fire fighting expert from Texas, flown in from Houston for the operation. He "killed" the blaze, fed by more than 10,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day, by dropping a hollow, tapered tool into the well-head and then pumping water under pressure into the well.

STRESSES POINT—Prime Minister St. Laurent emphasizes his conviction the feeling of unity in Canada is increasing. He is shown as he addressed a crowd at Vancouver city hall April 13, flanked by two little girls, one symbolizing British Columbia, the other, Canada's 10th province, Newfoundland. (CP Photo)

Narcotics Stolen By Daring Thief

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 18—(AP)—A burglar who dangled Tarzan-like from a frayed rope and sawed his way into a drug company building was at large today with $2,000 worth of narcotics.

An official of the Keyboer Wholesale Drug Company said the 185 packages of morphine and codeine might net the underworld $100,000 in sales to dope addicts.

The strong and daring thief also made off with $300 in cash and $1,000 in cheques when he broke into the building during the weekend.

Officers said the man gained entrance by climbing a 18-foot rope left dangling from a scaffolding. Then, swinging by one hand, he broke two panes in an 18-pane window, sawed through two of the steel frames, and climbed in.

RAINFALL MEASURED

A rainfall of one inch over one acre of ground would mean a total of 6,272,640 cubic inches of water.

Top Stage, Film, Radio Comedian Will Hays, Dies

London, April 18 (CP)— Will Hay, 60, one of Britain's top stage film and radio comedians, died at his London flat today after a long illness.

A leading amateur astronomer, Hay was a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and a member of the British Astronomy Association.

On the stage he was famous for his creation of "Mackrevet" and "St. Michael's College," a boisterous version of a British public school in which he played the benign but shrewd headmaster, Dr. Twist.

Hay was one of the few stage artists whose personality lost nothing on the radio. Listeners did not need to see his gray wig and his pince-nez wobbling precariously on his nose to appreciate his definition of a philosopher as "a man who knows more and more about less and less, until he knows everything about nothing."

Hay's burlesque was essentially British. His sketches of public school life were not as much critical caricatures of the system as boisterous exaggerations of its pitfalls.

During the Second World War, as a sub-lieutenant in the special branch of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, he thought navigation to hundreds of sea cadets and also lectured on elementary astronomy at camps and factories.

Greek Accuses Communist Party Of Polk Murder

Salonika, Greece, April 18 (AP)—Gregory Staktopoulos, on trial here for complicity in the murder of American correspondent George Polk, said today:

"I accuse the Communist party in Greece, the Cominform, and Moscow for the murder of George Polk."

The former Communist newspaper man made the accusation in court as he started his testimony in his own defence.

In a quavering voice Staktopoulos burned to the press corps covering the trial and said:

"I appeal to all of you to broadcast to the world quickly and immediately the truth that this crime was organized and executed by Communists for their interests.

"I was a Communist and I know the government of Greece has been unjustly accused of the murder of Polk."

The journalist and his mother, Anna, are charged with having helped the Communists in an alleged plot to murder the CBS correspondent.

The government charges that Staktopoulos lured Polk to a rowboat where another man shot him.

The Communists, on the other hand, charge that Polk was killed by the Government of Greece in order to provoke an international incident which might be blamed on the Communists.

BUSY GUESSING TIME

Sudbury, April 18 — (CP) — Sudburians are busy at their annual guessing game — a contest to predict when the ice will leave Ramsay Lake. There are already some open patches of water and the remaining ice is pitted by the sun's rays. City merchants offer 18 prizes to the winners with Allen Chalmers, lake expert, the judge as to when the ice leaves.

All Operations Resumed at Three Factories

Detroit, April 18 (AP)— Production returned to normal today at three automobile plants hit by Easter-weekend lay-offs.

But at Ford Motor Company workers began casting ballots on whether to strike. Local 900, United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) has accused management of violating an agreement to lock assembly line controls at the "normal work rate" of employees.

Ford, Chrysler Corporation and the Briggs Manufacturing Company which makes auto bodies reported all operations were resumed on the first shift today. Lay-offs at the three firms Friday totalled about 44,000.

The strike poll of 65,000 workers at Ford's big River Rouge plant was ordered Saturday. A mass meeting voted for it, 2,505 to 92, union officials said. The balloting will continue through next Friday.

Approval of the international union is required before a strike actually could be called, however. A local official said that such authority would be asked immediately if a majority at Ford favors a strike.

Sealer Crew Rescued After Vessel Burns

Halifax, April 18 — (CP) — Crew members of the Norwegian sealer Polarbjorn were on their way homeh Sunday after a rescue at sea when their ship burned and sank Saturday off the Labrador coast. The ship, with its 2,000 seals, went down eight miles east of Belle Isle, near the entrance to the Strait of Belle Isle between Labrador and Newfoundland.

RECOVER STOLEN $62,000 IN GRAVEYARD

A U.S. detective, left, digs in a Staten Island, N.Y., cemetery for a wooden box containing the bulk of $62,000 cash still missing from the $384,000 haul of Banker Richard H. Crowe, who took off from the National City Bank on March 25, after looting the vaults there. Crowe's secret burial party, led to spot by Crowe. All but the money Crowe spent in brief fling before he was taken into custody in Florida, in April, has been accounted for Crowe has been in hospital for 10-day psychiatric examination. Picture on right shows money recovered.—Central Press Canadian.

CAR OVERTURNS

Bowmanville, April 18 (CP) — Charles E. Kemp, 50, of Toronto, was taken to hospital in Oshawa Sunday night with back injuries and possible concussion when his car overturned in a ditch near here. An added complication was a can of green paint in his car, which showered him when the car rolled over. Its condition is reported as "satisfactory."

Brighteners

Jackson, Mich.—Hundreds of jailbirds will be released June 1 from Southern Michigan prison.

They are canaries that the convicts have been keeping in their cells. At present, each prisoner is allowed a quota of five birds, and 1,568 canaries on hand are creating "quite a nuisance," Warden Julian N. Frisbie said. Prisoners formerly raised the birds for an outside market.

The quota will be reduced June 1 to one bird a prisoner, and a large number of the canaries will depart.

"And right now," reported Frisbie, "a lot of these inmates are trying to sprout tail feathers."

Montreal—Everybody expects to see silly female hats in the Easter parade. That's why no one paid any attention to the flowered creation one pretty mite's head on Montreal's St. Catherine St.

They didn't, that is, until the bonnet fell off.

Then people stared.

Out of the fallen hat spilled real flowers—growing in real earth.

Berlin—A man with a hot trumpet might as well save his breath in the Russian occupation zone of Germany. The Russians have muted jazz music.

The British-controlled newspaper Die Welt said Sunday a campaign against jazz was under way throughout the Soviet zone.

Startled Germans in Weimar had to cancel a tea dance. The orchestra was scheduled to play hot tunes.

Hightown, N.J.—Police were hummed with a missing property-lies report today, and added a note of caution:

"If found, be careful in picking them up. They will bite."

The "properties" were two penguins.

The pair are part of a shipment of 38 birds airmailed to animal importer Warren Buck. Buck picked up the convoy at Air Guard-is Airport Sunday, caged them in chicken wire aboard his truck and started home to nearby Merchantville.

Somewhere along the line eight penguins chewed their way to freedom.

Buck retraced his course and found five of them alongside the road.

"They looked like bewildered hitch-hikers," he said.

Further on he found one more — equally confused—leaving two still at large.

Sport Shorts From Britain

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London — (CP) — In these days when more often than not British sport takes a back seat in international clashes, it's a wonder that Stan Mortensen has played football for England 15 times without being on the losing side.

Inside forward Mortensen, known sometimes as the "Blackpool Bombshell" or "Electric Eel," played three times for England in wartime football. He was hurt while serving in the R.A.F. as a result suffered from internal injuries. He was not until England had been beaten by Switzerland at Zurich in May, 1947, that he was well enough to play again for his country.

Then the fireworks began. England promptly recovered prestige by beating Portugal at Lisbon 10-0 and Mortensen raced away with four goals.

His record to date stands at 21 goals in 50 scored in those 15 internationals.

Ray Pitton, 21-year-old Manchester butcher and road-mender, will not forget his first professional fight in London's Albert Hall in a hurry. That is, all except the last three minutes.

Pitton brought off the sensation of the night when he outpointed French bantamweight champion Theo Medina, over eight rounds in a non-titled fight. Yet 10 minutes after the fight he was asking:

"Who won?"

Early in the final round Pitton received a punch to the jaw which caused him to lose track of everything that went on in the ring afterwards.

When he left for home on the midnight train, he was still trying to recall something of those final three minutes.

Pitton accepted the fight on 24-hour notice after Danny O'Sullivan fell victim to influenza.

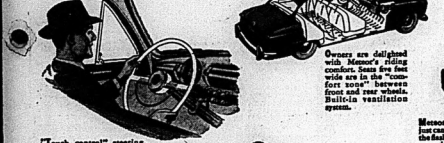
Dorothy Manley, slim and blue-eyed runner-up to the Dutch wonder Miss Fanny Blankers-Koen in the Olympic 100 metres sprint last year, will be married April 30.

Her fiance is Peter Hall, 25, an engineering draughtsman. They met seven years ago at their local youth club at Woodford, Essex, and they've been engaged three years.

Domesticity will yet lure 21-year-old Dorothy from the race track. She will carry on running competitively — "though later we'll want to start a family," she said.



She plans to compete in the All-England meet July 9 and to attend a full quota of local competitions.

Dorothy, the first British girl ever to be placed in an Olympic 100-metre final, has what experts consider the perfect athletic figure—slim and supple as an acrobat.

DEAD LOSS

Vancouver — (CP) — The city paid $2.50 apiece for 18 chickens —but no one will eat them. The birds were killed by dogs and their owner brought claim against the city. On advice of the city solicitor value of the lost birds was set at $2.50 each.

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

Gay smiled. "Tall and blond, a slow mouth, a calm voice, and a tendency toward kissing hands. Gregg is the name. Maxine's practiced snavity went to bits when he kissed my hand."

"I won't do tomorrow, dear, but you go."

She wore a simple black velvet evening dress the following night. At seven o'clock she pressed her finger against the bell of the Randolph apartment.

It had taken courage to come. Her mood all day had been one of great weariness and futility. Tonight when she had come home Patti had raised for money and given ten dollars, had asked, "Is that all you can let me have?" Gay had wanted to say, "I can let you have that because I walk to the store and have no desserts at luncheon."

Millicent opened the door and embraced her affectionately.

"But where is Diana, my dear? I've heard her while hate is pacifically beautiful!"

"My sister came back from abroad unexpectedly."

The dinner was reminiscent of old and better days. Millicent's diamonds gleamed. Gregg's calm blue eyes rested thoughtfully at her.

Millicent said: "I'm going to the theatre. I shall leave you two children to become better acquainted."

She felt at ease with him after Millicent left. The wide quiet room was lovely and dimly lighted. And because Gregg Randolph's quiet charm was soothing, those throbbing hammers ceased to torture her brain.

Here was a girl, he thought, of incredible loveliness and poise. He liked the shining light of her hair, the rebellious chin, and the red mouth that curved easily into a smile. She had been hurt but she shielded it with an armor of restraint. She was quiet but there were turbulent undercurrents beneath her quietness.

He took her hand and held it warmly pressed in his. She looked very young and alone, he thought, as if there were treasured-our barriers before her that neither courage nor fighting spirit could overcome. And so he took her hand to let her know that she was not alone and that he understood.

"I feel that I have known you a long time," he said. He smiled a little shyly. "I felt that yesterday, Gay, I'd be bored at her. I want to be your good friend. I won't abuse your friendship if you'll give it to me."

There was sadness in her smile.

"You came back very opportunely," she said. "I don't know when I ever needed a friend more. You'll have to forgive me for being so quiet. My mind is pulled a thousand different ways to a thousand different loyalties."

"I know," he said.

He took her home. When he returned, his mother was there. He stood, a tall blonde young man, beside the lovely Millicent and said earnestly, "I'm in love with her, mother."

"Of course you are, darling," said Millicent. "I want you to be happy."

They had tried to be happy before Patti came. Out of wreckage and ruin they had tried to shape, if not happiness, contentment. But Patti resented Penny, ignored her, snubbed her, and criticized the drawing that would some day make her famous. Diana was deeply troubled.

"I know," Patti said one night when the sisters were alone, "that you don't want me." Nervously she lighted another cigaret. "What's happened to you, Gay? You're not the same person. You've lost your good taste in everything. You make friends with anyone who smiles kindly on you."

"I know more about friendship than I ever knew before." Her dark lashes came up. "There's no price attached to my friendship." She nodded. "I know what I'm doing. I'm standing firmly on the ground. But your problem . . ."

Patti flared. "Don't start that again! Do you expect me to get a job? What could I do? All you talk about is money!"

Gay turned around and faced her. "Honey, I'm not going again to stay here, waiting for Richard to come back to you! He won't come. He's stubborn and proud. I hate discussions of money but I've had to think about it."

"You've gotten positively plebian from association."

"I won't have you say anything about Penny."

Patti's laughter was brittle. "And this . . . this Chris Mallory. Mother told me about him."

"I owe my job to them."

"I'm going to stay here until Richard comes for me. I'm his wife. Mother wants me, if you don't."

"It's not a matter of wanting." Gay got up and walked to the door. "You don't want to face realities. You're frightened to death by them. You've made a pretty illusion of yourself. You want Richard to come back to you on his knees, promising to grant every selfish wish! When you were in Paris, angry with him because he wouldn't buy you something, Mother and I were looking for jobs."

"And taking crazy artists and stray dogs in to live with you. She waved away the smoke. "You've been mad, both of you." Gay said, "We shall see in the end who is really mad."

Patti's slim fingers cupped several red roses on the table behind the divan.

"You can have the whole world, darling, and everything in it that's worth while if you marry Gregg Randolph. I've never seen a more perfect situation. His mother adores you. Anyone can see he's mad about you. Oh, but you won't! Your precious ideals will get in the way as usual. You don't want money and security and position. You want a big romance."

"I'm not in love with him," said Gay.

Patti bit her lip. "But his money would take Mother out of that horrid tea room. Think about that."

Gay thought about it the next night when she was dining with Gregg at a small exclusive restaurant.

She had seen him continually for weeks. His large car, parked outside Marchand's at noon and at five, was a familiar sight. They had lunched and dined and danced together. They were always alone. Gregg, accosted everywhere and in great demand socially, would not subject her to the coolness of her old friends. But New York society as a whole knew and deeply resented that Gregg Randolph who sent regrets to their invitations, had met and was in love with Gay Van Every. Every one knew. A columnist had told the world, "Chris, down in Nassau, knows," Gay thought. "Alan knows."

"You're very lovely tonight," he said.

Gay, her white shoulders rising above the white satin dress, smiled. "It's the champagne. You're spoiling me, Gregg. I used to take beautiful dining rooms and perfect service for granted. Now it's as if I were being permitted to borrow it for a little time."

She thought suddenly of Lucia's wedding dress that had been fitted on her body. She had touched its softness, thinking, "This was to have been mine. This is Lucia's way of hurting me more."

"This is your world, my dear," said Gregg.

"Not any more."

Then Lucia and Alan came in. Gregg pressed her hand. "Let's go," he said. And he knew he could not bear her eyes following Alan, loving him. Suddenly she had seemed far away and lost to him when Alan appeared.

Lucia pulled off her white gloves and reached for a cigaret. "Did you see them, Alan? They left when we came in. Gay isn't doing badly by herself." She bent her head to catch a light. "She is wearing a new dress Gregg probably bought her."

"That's unkind of you," Alan said moodily, "Catty."

"What else is one to think?" She blew the smoke upward. "Every one is talking about it. Of course, she'll marry him. Gay's no fool. But every hostess in New York is trying to get him to her parties."

"I don't think she'll marry him" Alan said soberly. "She'll never marry him for his money." His head had spun when he saw her and he wondered how he could endure Lucia's insane conversation all evening with the memory of Gay in that white dress and her curls brilliant and shining beneath the shadowy lights.

In the narrow hall Gay stood beside Gregg where she had sat so often with Chris. How different they were! Gregg . . . with his top hat in his hand, his heavy white silk muffler, his dark chin, his long black coat. And Chris—his rumpled tweeds, in a blue shirt and vivid tie, and his casually bare head disheveled.

Gregg drew her close gently.

"Gay, when are you going to let me stop being just your friend and let me be what I want to be? This is too casual and it can't go on this way! There are girls and girls I've kissed and danced with but—but I had to come back to New York to meet the only girl I ever wanted to marry."

She did not draw away. She closed her eyes tightly to keep the tears back because everything was so terribly confused. Added to the other demands people made of her was Gregg's demand—no, not demand but his plea to love him. She thought with a sudden shock that every one in her life asked something of her, every one except Chris. He had demanded nothing, asked for nothing.

"I want you to love me," Gregg said. "I know and understand that in your life now there isn't much room for love. But, Gay, love me, love me a little. Let me help to take some of the confusion out of things for you. They all expect too much of you."

"Perhaps I'm afraid to love you even a little, Gregg. The people I love always go away. They take themselves out of my life."

"I'll never go away unless you send me away. I won't become another problem to you. Perhaps I spoke too soon."

It was pleasant to be in his arms. Life wasn't so frightening when arms that loved you—held you. "Chris, yours were the strongest arms. Yours was the strongest will. I felt invulnerable to everything when you were with me. Why did you go away, leaving me helpless?"

Gregg said, "Kiss me, Gay. For weeks I have wanted to kiss you."

When he left, her heart moved quickly and painfully in her. She stood in the dark living room, her hands at her face about her, and despised herself for letting him kiss her. "I felt unfaithful," she thought bitterly. "Unfaithful to Chris."

Spring next to Penny, she tasted her tears that night because she saw herself helplessly caught in a current that was stronger than she was.

There is always music in Nassau.

Sitting on a vine covered balcony overlooking the sea and other demands people made of her was Gregg's demand—no, not demand but his plea to love him. She thought with a sudden shock that every one in her life asked something of her, every one except Chris. He had demanded nothing, asked for nothing.

"I want you to love me," Gregg said. "I know and understand that in your life now there isn't much room for love. But, Gay, love me, love me a little. Let me help to take some of the confusion out of things for you. They all expect too much of you."

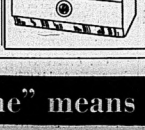
Mac, with a deep scar over his eye, grinned.

"You and me, too. But here we are and what are we going to do about it?"

Frowning, filling his pipe Chris said, "I never realized before that I left her an easy prey to any man with money. She'll marry for her mother's sake. She's crazy about her, mother. I left her at loose ends. I was afraid of being hurt myself. We're a fine pair, we are! We didn't care how much they'd be hurt!"

He picked up a typewritten manuscript.

"She's in this, in every page."



"Are you going back?" Mac asked.

"Not until this is done. Maybe I'll have something to offer her then. But I don't want to offer her anything except myself."

"Suppose she gets married."

Chris walked to the door that led to the balcony and looked out into the warm night.

Mongrel Spitz Lost 19 Months Returns Home

Waltham, Mass., April 18 (AP)—The Hall family said today a weary dog that plodded by their front door was the pet they lost 17 months ago in Kentucky.

Penny Hall said "Jeep," a four year old mongrel pitz, was ill and apparently half starved and his paws were swollen and sore to the touch.

She said the saga of their pet began in November, 1947.

At that time, Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their three children were in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Kentucky en route to a visit in California.

They tied Jeep to the automobile bumper while they stopped for a meal. When they came out Jeep was gone. The Halls spent nine months in California, then returned to Waltham.

Oft-Attacked Verigin's Tomb Again Blasted

Nelson, B.C., April 18 (CP)—Provincial police said a hole 10 feet deep and 22 feet across was blasted early Sunday in the oft-attacked tomb of Peter (The Lordly) Verigin, former spiritual leader of the Doukhobor sect.

They are pressing an investigation in the district of Brilliant, B.C., 36 miles west of here.

The attack was the third since 1944. At that time dynamite blasts left the tomb in ruins.

The area only a little more than a year ago was the scene of burning and violence as members of the radical Sons of Freedom Movement attacked Orthodox members of the sect which came here from Russia.

Verigin himself died violently, victim of a dynamite explosion aboard a train in 1924. Police said the explosion was an accident, killed eight others.

Canada's Pearson First Delegate At Conference

Asian Question Expected To Take Spotlight at Parley

London, April 18 — (CP) — L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister for External Affairs and delegate to the forthcoming Commonwealth Conference, arrived yesterday for the talks at which the Asian question is expected to take the spotlight.

London newspapers, meanwhile, are debating the question which is expected to be the chief concern of the conference: can a formula be found under which a Republican India will be able to remain within the traditional Commonwealth framework?

The Times of London has raised another point: Would India and Pakistan introduce the question of a loan to the Burma government, no longer within the Commonwealth?

Central figure at the conference, India's Prime Minister Nehru, is expected in London this tomorrow. He will be preceded by Prime Minister Mahan of South Africa, Sir Zafrullahkhan of Ceylon, Chifley of Australia, Fraser of New Zealand and Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan.

Discussing the possibility of India leaving the Commonwealth, Alfred Sendall, the Daily Telegraph's political correspondent, had this to say:

"The paradox of the situation is that none of the other Commonwealth nations wishes either India or Eire to go outside. So far as can be ascertained the latter's sons do not wish to leave."

The strength Imperialist and Conservative Daily Mail mourned what it called a trend toward republicanism in the empire" and remarked by declaration yesterday of the Republic of Ireland and the expected similar move of India.

It added editorially:

"Socialists (the Labor government) are learning how much the Commonwealth contributes to British living standards . . . they have a glimpse of some sense of thank goodness they will have with them those millions of Americans who know what empire means".

MOTHER AND TWO SONS CONFESS TWO SLAYINGS

Victims Were Met Through "Lonely Hearts" Correspondence by Woman

Dover, Del., April 19—(AP)—A 45-year-old woman and her two sons have admitted the slayings of two elderly men she met through a "lonely hearts" correspondence.

Col. Herbert E. Barnes of the Delaware State Police, said Mrs. Iren Gertrude Simms today admitted her part in the shotgun slaying of Wade N. Woolridge, 76, and Ralph Schultz, 66, after more than 36 hours of questioning.

Earlier he announced the two sons — half-brothers — signed confessions.

Mrs. Brennan and one of her sons, Robert, 16, already have been charged with murder in the slaying of Woolridge. Similar charges will be filed tomorrow in the Schultz killing. The other son, Raymond, 23, is in custody as an accessory.

The Woolridge slaying was disclosed last Saturday by Barnes.

Monday night Barnes told reporters his investigators had linked the Brennans with a second slaying which he said also resulted from a "lonely hearts" correspondence.

Barnes said his men found "a bushel basket" of letters from lonely men who evidently read Mrs. Brennan's advertisements.

Robbery Motive

Barnes said he believes the killing motive was robbery.

Barnes said Robert told this story of the Schultz slaying in his signed statement:

The boy and his mother went by train to Concord, N.H. They were met by Schultz who took them to his cabin home.

The mother handed her son a shotgun and told him to shoot Schultz. She told him over and over to do it but he couldn't. So she did it.

After the murder the mother and boy stuffed the man's body into a 50-gallon drum and left it near his garage for several days. The woman sold 500 chickens, a gasoline portable generator, a machine to an auctioneer, and also some of Schultz's tools and household furnishings.

Later the body was taken out of the drum and buried in the same pigpen with Wooldridge. It was dug up later, burned and the remains placed in the dump.

CROWDED BUS CRASHES INTO HIGHWAY DITCH

Eight of 39 Passengers Aboard Bus Injured

Spencerville, April 19 — (CP) —A huge 10-ton inter-city bus, crammed full with Easter holidayers, yesterday overshot a curve on the highway near here, tumbled onto its side and crashed down into a five-foot water-filled ditch, injuring eight of the 39 passengers.

The passengers were mostly holidayers returning to Ottawa after spending the weekend at district points.

Three of them — all Ottawa women — are in a nearby Kemptville nursing home today, recovering from bone fractures, head abrasions and shock. Five other passengers were treated in Kemptville doctors and allowed to return home.

The bus, a Colonial Coach Line vehicle, was returning to Ottawa from Prescott on Highway 17. Its driver, Ray Stephens, of Kingston, who was cut about the face by flying glass, apparently had lost control of it in negotiating a sharp curve just south of this village, some 40 miles south of Ottawa.

The vehicle continued along the west pavement for about 100 feet, bounced over a soft road shoulder, then plunged sideways down the water-filled ditch for another 50 feet before coming to a halt.

Within minutes, the highway on both sides was jammed with motorists who had stopped to help the injured.

Relief buses brought the passengers of the wrecked vehicle to Ottawa. Others, injured but able to return home, were brought to the office of Ireland and Ireland and New Year peaks," Mr. Belford said.

It added editorially:

Early today army forces still patrolled the streets of Salta.

The Salta demonstrations began as a protest against a communique issued by a General Confederation of Labor in Buenos Aires announcing that it was sending officials to take over from the striking trade - control authority.

In Buenos Aires, police made 57 arrests Monday night when they broke up a peace demonstration called by communists.

Smog Test Made Despite Clouds And Steady Rain

Donora, Pa., April 19 (AP) — Low-lying clouds and a steady rain today failed to halt a three-day test of poisonous fumes in the air over this mill town.

Scientists are seeking to recreate industrial conditions reported last October when 22 persons died in a five-day fatal smog.

The test started at first light Monday, a strong wind prevented formation of fog. But by noon the haze of the smoke across the Monongahela River was almost impenetrable.

George Clayton, of the United States Public Health Service, said the rain was not interfering with the test. He added the test would be valuable if it showed that atmospheric conditions of last October are being duplicated.

Archbishop Deprives Priest of Functions, Upholds Boston College

Boston, April 19 (AP) — Rev. Leonard Feeney, S.J., 52, noted Roman Catholic educator and author incurred the wrath of the hierarchy of his Order in a dispute at Boston College, has been "deprived" by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

The Archbishop said in a formal decree that the priest "has lost the right to perform any priestly functions, including preaching and teaching of religion . . . "because of grave offenses against the greatest laws of the Catholic Church."

The move climaxed a week of controversy which began when three lay instructors at the College were dismissed after accusing the Jesuit School of Teaching Heresy. They also were supported their dismissal.

The Archbishop also acted against the St. Benedict Centre, a Cambridge intellectual group headed by Father Feeney.

He said the centre "is henceforth without ecclesiastical approbation and attendance as it is strictly forbidden to Catholics," under penalty of forfeiting "the right to receive the sacraments of penance and Holy Eucharist."

The punishment is one of the most severe that can be imposed on a priest. He remains a priest although he loses authority to carry out his duties.

The priest was not available for comment. However, he said previously he supported the three instructors because he felt "very strongly" that their doctrine "is the true doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church."

The instructors are James R. Mills, philosophy teacher; Father Hirmi Maluf, assistant professor of philosophy; and Charles Ewaldo, assistant professor of physics.

Boston College was accused by the pair of teaching heresy by saying (1) There may be salvation outside the Roman Catholic Church; (2) A man may be saved without admitting the Roman Catholic faith may be saved if he agrees among all churches; and (3) A man may be saved without submission to the Pope.

Archbishop Cushing criticized the instructors "for the serious scandal they have caused.

"In the public controversy "obliged men to reveal the unhappy fact that Father Feeney has been defying the orders of his legitimate superiors for more than two years."

Before the Archbishop's decree was issued, Father Feeney said St Benedict's Centre "has taken steps to place the documents of its incorporation in the hands of every Bishop, every Cardinal, Pa-pal Nuncio and Metropolitan Bishop in the world."

The three instructors said they asked the Archbishop for a secret meeting of the Vatican Council for the infallible pronouncement by Pope Pius XII on the issue involved."

Four are Killed, 24 Wounded In Demonstration

Buenos Aires, April 19 (Reuters) — Four persons were killed and 24 wounded when police broke up a workers' demonstration in the strike-bound town of Salta, Northwestern Argentina, yesterday.

Workers hurled stones and bottles at police, who dispersed the demonstration.

Early today army forces still patrolled the streets of Salta.

The Salta demonstrations began as a protest against a communique issued by a General Confederation of Labor in Buenos Aires announcing that it was sending officials to take over from the striking trade - control authority.

In Buenos Aires, police made 57 arrests Monday night when they broke up a peace demonstration called by communists.

Minister Admits Beating Wife To Death in Bed

New York, April 19 (AP)— A young Baptist minister today said he had beaten his wife fatally after finding her in bed with another man, police reported.

Brooklyn police said Rev. James F. Brown, 23, made the statement after he had first reported his wife was beaten by two other men. Detectives found the wife, Anna, 24, in a pool of blood in the bed in her home.

Detective James Cahill told this story:

Brown, a Negro, came to the police station at 3 a.m. and reported he had found his wife dead a few minutes before.

He said Dolores, 4, oldest of his four children, had told him she was awakened by her mother's screams and saw two men beating her. Dolores later said she was telling a version her father had instructed her to tell.

After questioning, Brown said he had come home at midnight and found the two men in bed.

Brown said he snatched up a wooden table leg, ran the men from the house, and then beat his wife until she was unconscious.

The minister said he washed the blood from his hands and prayed over his wife but she died in a few minutes.

Council to Probe Complaint

London, Ont., April 19 (CP) — Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Mary Scott, 84-year-old pensioner, who complains that they have been barred from her home will have to submit to it to Westminster Township council.

Council Welfare Chairman W. C. Stevenson said today that the grievances would be aired Wednesday.

Ill-feeling between some residents and township welfare officials reached a climax last week when a group of 13 women were not allowed to visit Mrs. Scott on her birthday. Instead they stood on the verandah and sang a birthday greeting.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) — Synopsis: A week and slow moving disturbances over Lake Ontario this morning will continue to drift eastward and weaken. Overcast skies and occasional drizzle associated with this system will gradually clear from the West during the day.

Clear and warmer weather is indicated for southern regions tomorrow.

CSU Crew in New York Refuses to Leave Ship

By The Canadian Press

The Canadian Victor, owned by Canadian National Steamships, today became the latest ship to be tied up by the tension-fraught struggle between rival seamen's unions for control of the Dominion-to-Europe shipping.

The vessel lay at anchor 14 miles off the Ambrose Light after her crew of 26 voted to join the strike called 20 days ago by the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) in a demand for union recognition.

The Canadian Victor hails the Canadian vessel Tridale in port at Wellington, N.Z., while in Brisbane, Australia, 30 of the crew of the Canadian freighter Triberg were fined up to 14 days imprisonment for disobeying a lawful command to take the ship to sea. The C.S.U. crew went on strike 12 days ago.

In Montreal extra police kept watch over a tense waterfront where the C.P.R. freighter Canadian Cruiser was due with a C.S.U. crew aboard the Montreal Shipping Company vessel.

Police today reported fleets of taxi-cabs carrying unidentified grocery men were moving freely about the waterfront and in the vicinity during the day and night.

Other developments yesterday in the strike called by the C.S.U. March 31, after Canadian shipowners signed an agreement with the S.I.U.

Lifted Gangplank

In New York, the C.S.U. crew of the Tricape, owned by the Triton Steamship Co., of Montreal, hoisted the ship's gangplank and refused to leave the freighter after its Master, Capt. Stuart C. Gordon, said he had dismissed the crew and was dissatisfied with them.

The S.I.U. spokesman said efforts to dismiss the crew violated existing agreements and that the crew said they would accept their dismissal if they were to pay their expenses back to Halifax from which they sailed. There were no disorders.

In Halifax, the S.I.U. boarded the freighter Sunprince IA daylight without incident, and the freighter sailed for Montreal. Fully loaded, the vessel, owned by Sagamay Terminals Ltd., Montreal, was believed en route to the British West Indies.

The Sunprince was moved into the harbor early today to avoid a possible second clash between the S.I.U. and C.S.U.

In Wellington, N.Z., a spokesman for crew members of the 1,192-ton freighter Tridale, the Tridale said they refused to take her to sea until the Canadian strike in Canada is settled.

Colbert Napper, 43-year-old seaman from Stoney Plain, Alta., left Montreal hospital after treatment for facial and head wounds suffered when unidentified men struck him in his hotel room. The attack came after he and several other men announced they had switched allegiance from the C.S.U. to the S.I.U. Napper rejoined his ship, the Canadian Constructor.

Former War Prisoner Happy Man After Being Freed on Year's Parole

Montreal, April 19 (CP)— Happiest man going to work, in Montreal today was Willy Gottschalk who shook hands with friends on the Monte Santo Chemical Plant at suburban Ville La Salle.

For this former prisoner of war and ex-member of the German Merchant Marine the merest act of entering the plant was a dream fulfilled.

Yesterday he arrived in Montreal under guard and learned that representations on his behalf had been successful. He was to be allowed his parole in Canada and to be given one year in which to make good.

A spokesman for the chemical company said the plant had put Gottschalk back to work immediately it received word from Ottawa that he could remain in the country legally.

In Ottawa, immigration authorities emphasized that a factor in arriving at a decision to parole Gottschalk was that he had served as a merchant seaman and not a soldier, and had not actually taken up arms against Canada or the Allied Nations in the ordinary sense of the word.

Various Rumors Follow Disorder, No Details Given

Demonstration Said to Have Started Over Prison Fare

Kingston, April 19 (CP)— Conflicting rumors spread like wildfire through Kingston today in the wake of disturbances in the cell blocks of Collins Bay penitentiary yesterday.

No details were released by officials of the federal prison six miles west of here. But unconfirmed reports said nearly 200 of the 300 prisoners were involved.

The rumors said the prisoners smashed plumbing, ripped fixtures from the walls, destroyed furniture and caused thousands of dollars worth of damage.

Extra police ringed the penitentiary area and barred reporters during the demonstration, which started as a protest over prison food.

Reporters at the scene said the row started at 4:30 p.m. and continued for more than 1½ hours.

Collins Bay penitentiary is distant from the Kingston Penitentiary, two miles away. It is reserved for less troublesome prisoners, convicted of non-violent crimes like embezzlement and those who have been carefully selected because of good behavior.

Last Outbreak in 1927

The last serious outbreak at the prison was in 1927 when nearly 50 prisoners staged a sit-down strike for nearly a week in protest against prison disciplinary measures.

Reports in Kingston said trouble had been brewing for some time in the prison.

One report said the convicts staged a sit-down strike in a dormitory and began refusing to guards when ordered to their cells. Another said prisoners wanted a special meal for Easter Monday and staged the demonstration when they didn't get it.

A different version said only the arrival of extra guards prevented a mass outbreak of the convicts.

Boy Still Unconscious 30 Hours after Accident

Detroit, April 19 — (CP) — Twelve-year-old William Kelly remained unconscious today in critical condition in hospital today, more than 30 hours after he was found hanging by his overshoe rope from a basement beam.

Police said Steven Kelly remained at his bedside almost constantly.

Although unable to explain how he became suspended, his parents are convinced it was an accidental. Before he was found by his father, they showed him some tricks with his plastic cowboy rope.

ARGENTINE ARMY QUELLS FIGHTING IN SALTA STREETS

Casualties Reported in Disorders Stirking Workers and Police

By FRED L. STROZIER

Buenos Aires, April 19 (AP) — The Argentine army today restored peace in the City of Salta near the Bolivian frontier after violent street fighting between police and workers participating in a general strike.

Correspondents in Salta, 1,200 miles northwest of Buenos Aires reported casualties were light—killed and 31 wounded in a 2 1-2-hour street fight yesterday afternoon. Reporters on the scene expressed belief the casualty list is greater than reported.

The strike was called by the General Labor Confederation to protest the high cost of living. The Federation has extended strength only to a recent decree fixing maximum prices for necessities. It demanded the decree be withdrawn and called for the resignation of the cabinet minister responsible for it.

Army and federal police were among those injured. Lower ranks of the federal police threatened to join the strikers but eight policemen leading the revolt were jailed and the strike started.

Walkout Declared Illegal

Union headquarters in Buenos Aires declared the walkout illegal.

Trouble started when the strikers assembled in two big meetings and then marched toward the provincial government house. Mounted federal police repulsed one group of workers. The workers, armed with sticks and stones, regrouped and charged again and then the shooting started.

In the melee that followed the crowd broke through the police cordon, stolled the windows of government offices and mounted the balconies. At this point, a nearby army garrison arrived and seized the headquarters and restored order.

Communications with Salta were cut. Government telephone and telegraph offices closed down early today whether the service was cut by the authorities or by the workers. Reports of the disturbances reached Buenos Aires through the province provincial capital of Tucuman.

SHOT IN HOTEL LOBBY

Olympia, Wash., April 19 (AP)— Harold Cooke, 49, fatally shot Mrs. Hazel-gold with a gun in a downtown hotel lobby Monday night as bystanders in the lobby ran for cover, police reported. Then he turned the gun on himself and committed suicide. Police said the shooting was the result of a lovers' triangle.

Oleo Bill Will Take Effect Within 10 Days

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) — Ontario's margarine bill will take effect within 10 days, Ontario government sources said unofficially Monday night.

The bill provides that yellow coloring in margarine must not exceed 1.6 degrees and that moisture content is not to exceed 16 per cent.

However, the bill requires certain regulations before it can come into force. These will be drafted after meetings with manufacturers and farm groups today and Wednesday.

The act also provides that public eating places serving margarine must inform patrons by

Greenwood Airfield not Bustling Place it Was Before Hostilities

Greenwood, N.S., April 19 (CP) You don't find the same urgency now that pervaded this Annapolis Valley R.C.A.F. base throughout the war. But its inhabitants are as alert and keen as ever.

Greenwood resembles any Canadian village more than it does the bustling airfield it is. The casual observer would notice little sharp contrast to their old wartime camouflage of grey or dull green. There is a theatre, church and school. One hundred homes have been built on the station and another 100 are about to go up.

You wouldn't know that there this is the home of 130 Search and Rescue Squadron, one of the few operational air force units left in Canada. Almost daily, the big Lancaster aircraft take off to look for a missing boat, to carry food to an isolated island or drop a doctor off on an errand of mercy.

The men do not figure that they are much different from civilians or that their jobs vary greatly from the "outside" jobs. Most of them work from nine to five and go home to their wives and families.

A clothes line is strung outside the block next to the officers' mess and dozens of odds and ends are seen scrambling around the guardhouse at almost any hour of the day.

Rent for a new, five-room house costs about $65 for an officer, $44 for an airman.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 men on the base are married. Of this number, about 40 are aircrew.

Chief search and rescue pilots here are Flt. Lts. Grant Nelson of St. Thomas, Ont., John Moss of London, England, and R.A.F. exchange officer, and Errol Shaw of Toronto.

A crew stands ready to take off at any time. It can be called and in the air in under half an hour during the day, less than an hour at night.

There are none of the parties here that there used to be.

In the messes, night after night, bartenders wait patiently for drinkers who never come.

The chief topic of conversation right now seems to centre around when a new swimming pool will be built.

'Pyramids' at Work In Montreal

Montreal, April 19 — (CP) — Police figuratively looked through a blind eye today and said they couldn't see a pyramid club anywhere in town. The truth is they couldn't be more surprising.

Right now the pyramids are being built at a frantic pace in various sections of town and the early starters have cashed in some sizeable winnings. One netted a $1,000 pot and two others received $900 apiece.

City and District News

INJURED MAN STILL IN HOSPITAL

The condition of James W. Latimer, John Street, who was injured Sunday evening as result of a motor accident on the Trent Road, is satisfactory, it was reported this morning. Mr. Latimer suffered a gash in the head when the car in which he was riding was in a sideswipe collision with another vehicle. He is still confined to hospital.

In yesterday's edition the address of Mr. Latimer was given as Chatham Street. This was an error as Mr. Latimer lives on John Street.

BARKING DOG SCARES WOULD-BE THIEF

It sometimes pays to keep a watchdog about the house.

At least that is the opinion of an Ann Street resident who reported an attempted break-in at his residence.

Early Sunday morning this resident was awakened by the barking of his dog. He investigated the cause of the dog's behavior and found that a small window in his residence had been removed. But the would-be thief had disappeared — apparently scared away by the sudden barking of the dog.

MEAN PERSON BREAKS NEWSSTAND WINDOW

Whether he can be termed as another candidate for being the "meanest citizen" remains undecided but at any rate some unknown party in the city is at least putting himself up to uncover- ing a blind resident of the city.

For the second time within recent weeks a window in the small news vending stand owned by blind William Lane has been broken, necessitating replacement of the pane.

Object of the window being broken remains a bit of a mystery as nothing was reported taken from the building on either occasion.

POLICE COURT

Appearing in city magistrate's court before Magistrate T. V. Wills for sentence on a theft charge, Gordon Graves, Cannifton Road, was today given suspended sentence for one year and ordered to pay the court costs.

The offence for which Graves was charged took place more than one year ago when a quantity of furniture was taken from the Percival Store on Front Street. Following the offence Graves had disappeared from the city for some months but was charged on his return to the city.

Seven drunk charges were included in the rather heavy morning court docket which also included several traffic charges.

Bernard Rose, before appearing on a charge of false pretences involving the trading of a car on which there was a "substantial" lien, was given further enlarged to give him the opportunity to make restitution.

Frances Hamilton was given three months on a charge of having liquor in his possession not obtained on his individual permit, while Lorne Sanford was given ten days on a vagrancy charge.

Both the above men are also charged with entering the basement of the county jail governor's residence during the weekend but both charges were enlarged.

YELLOW ONION CROP PLANTED

Erieau, April 19 (CP) — The rich black land of Kent County's Erieau marshes now are being sown with the yellow winter onions which have made the marshes famous across Canada. The crop — some 500 acres of yellow onions and 30 acres of red onions — now is almost completely planted. The red onions are grown mainly for consumption in Quebec.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) Golds continued last week's advance on the Toronto Stock Exchange today, climbing slowly at the best price level since March, 1948. Trading was active at the opening as markets resumed after a four-day Easter holiday. Western oils showed moderate advances and a wide list of industrial issues dipped quietly. Base metals were mixed in a narrow range.

Volume for the first three hours was 508,000 shares, about 4,000 shares more than last year's similar period.

Senior golds led the stronger tendency in the gold list in the early part of the session. Juniors took up where seniors left off in mid-session.

Fractional losses cropped up in a wide list of industrial issues. Liquors were lower and steels slipped.

Normetals and Hudson Bay rose fractions in base metals while Labrador, New Calumet, International Nickel and Golden Manitou eased.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) — Prices were firm on all sales at the Toronto Livestock Market up until noon today. Receipts were reported as follows by the Dominion Marketing Service: cattle, 600; calves 300; hogs 1,200; sheep and lambs, none.

OBITUARY

MRS. MAE (HERITY) WRIGHT
(Formerly of Belleville)

Mrs. Mae Wright, wife of Mr. William Wright, died in hospital at Dallas, Texas, early Tuesday morning after a brief heart, illness. To many friends in this city and in the district the announcement of her death will bring sincere feelings of regret.

Mrs. Wright was born at Moira Ont., and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Herity and a niece of the late Mr. Owen Herity. By her pleasing personality and cheerful disposition she attracted many close friendships and during her residence in this city she held a high place in the regard of all who knew her. On leaving here, Mrs. Wright resided in Winnipeg for a time and later took up residence in Detroit. For the past twenty years she made her home in Houston and Dallas. She was a member of the Methodist Church of the United States.

Surviving are her husband, Mr. William Wright, and one brother, Mr. Stanley Herity, Seattle, Wash.

The funeral service will be conducted from Hoskins Funeral Home, Dallas, Tex., on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and interment will be at Restland Memorial Park.

Gerard Cote Running Seventh At 12-Mile Mark

By BILL KING

Boston, April 19 — (AP) — An international field of 138 long-distance runners toed the line at Hopkinton — 26 miles and 385 yards from Boston — at noon today in the 53rd annual Boston Athletic Association marathon.

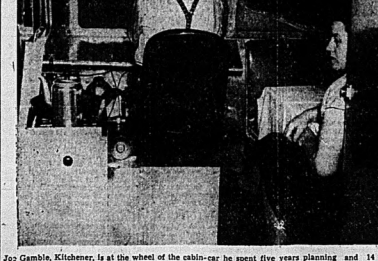
Ideal weather conditions prevailed as the lightly-clad group started over the long course to Boston.

The road through Framingham, Natick, Wellesley, and Newton was drying out rapidly. A gentle southeast wind — 10 to 15 miles an hour — was expected to help the leaders hang up good times.

Yun Bok Suh of Korea holds the record for the long grind. He covered the distance in 2:25:39 in 1947. Suh is not competing this year.

Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., last year's winner, was a favorite to annex his fifth victory in this classic. He won also in 1940, 1943, and 1944.

Starting off slowly, Cote, at the 12-mile mark, was back in seventh place with Sweden's Karl Leanderson leading. Leanderson had a 100-yard lead early in the race and was out in front at the five-mile mark when Tom Jones of Lincoln University, Penn., pulled into a 100-yard lead, Leanderson and Cote fell in again at Wellesley College, about 12 miles along the route.



The punishing Newton Hills still lay ahead of the runners.

Seattle School Destroyed by Fire And Explosion

Seattle, April 19 — (AP) — Fire, coupled with an explosion of an oil furnace, destroyed the half - block-long exclusive Helen Bush school today. There were no injuries.

The flames destroyed the main school building, consisting of classrooms, a gymnasium and assembly hall. Origin of the fire was not known.

None of the three dormitories housing some 50 of the school's 300 students was damaged.

Booklet on 'Search for Uranium' Gives Much Useful Information

By FORBES RHODE
(Canadian Press Par Business Editor)

Any one intending to look for uranium will find useful information in a 10-page article, "The Search for Uranium," issued by the Ontario Department of Mines.

The article is written by Dr. W. S. Savage, resident geologist at Swastika in Northern Ontario, and he goes into further detail, tells how to use a geiger-counter, and the best places to look.

On the basis of present knowledge, the most favored areas are the western and southern margins of the Canadian Shield, the mineral belt which stretches across most of Canada.

When pitchblende was found in the great Bear Lakes of the North West Territories in 1930, it was not valued for its uranium content but for its radium. The tailings containing uranium were either sold at nominal prices, or they could be sold at all, or were dumped outside the refineries.

The atomic bomb changed that and Canada's uranium put her in a key position in its development. Dr. Savage's article comments:

"Every nation on earth, large and small alike, now is engaged in a feverish search for uranium resources. Politically, the nation that has large reserves of uranium ore assumes a stature out of proportion of mere size, or population, or wealth . . .

"There are many low-grade deposits of uranium that have received little attention . . . with the development of the atomic bomb and the possibility of using nuclear energy for power purposes, it is very likely that all low-grade deposits of an extensive nature will be carefully investigated and subsequently utilized . . .

"The first step in planning to prospect for radioactive minerals is to become familiar with the regulations affecting new discoveries and marketing . . . prospecting and disclosure of information has been cleared of restrictions, with the exception that all new discoveries must be reported to Ottawa.

"Permits must be obtained from the Atomic Energy Control Board before proceeding with any development work other than that required for making a discovery. It may be possible to develop a radioactive deposit to the production stage as a private enterprise, but the concentrates must be sold to the Canadian government purchasing agency."

Battle of Yangtze R. Expected As China Rejects Red Demands

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

Nanking, April 19 (AP)— An official source said today the Chinese government had decided to reject the latest Communist demands—an act which is expected to touch off the battle of the Yangtze.

The Communist radio warned that a veteran Red Army of 400,000 men is ready to storm across the Yangtze in the Nanking-Shanghai area unless the government gives in.

The Reds demand an answer by tomorrow. The Red "peace" terms amount to surrender.

Communist-raiding parties probed the slim government defences on the Yangtze's south bank. The Nationalists reported they repulsed Red attempts to slip troops across the river on both sides of Nanking.

The few government bridgeheads on the north bank of the Yangtze were under mounting pressure.

1,000,000 Red Troops

North of the river 1,000,000 seasoned Communist troops were ready to begin firing. South of the river, half a million more of the armed and ill-trained Nationalist troops crouched before the impending blow. Despair gripped Nanking.

Defiant government officials, nevertheless, met in drafty makeshift offices to consider the Communists. They pinned their hope on a plea for more time. The expiration date of the ultimatum has been extended before.

The government of acting president Li Tsung-jen appeared ready to concede almost anything except Communist armies to be permitted to establish bridgeheads south of the Yangtze.

Nationalists at home no longer made any secret that the proposed Communist peace agreement calls for outright capitulation. However, the specific nature of the Communist demands still was a secret.

Right-wing elements led by Premier Sun Fo are in favor a final Nationalist resistance movement in Nanking.

The only optimistic note heard in the capital today came from president Kuomintang of the legislative Yuan. He told legislators that the Communist stand may be relaxed at the last moment.

The Communist radio, on the other hand announced that peace negotiations in Peiping would end tomorrow if the peace agreement was not signed.

Historian-Botanist, 96, Attends O.E.A.

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) — Dr. John Dearness, of London, Ont., internationally known historian and botanist, today attended his 76th Ontario Education Association Convention. He is 96.

Dr. Dearness has missed only one O. E. A. convention since 1872. He got his teacher's certificate at 17 and has been teaching ever since. He was principal of London Normal School and for 30 years a professor of biology at the University of Western Ontario.

EX-PROFESSOR FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Seattle, April 19 (AP)— Ralph Gundlach, who recently was dismissed from his post as a professor at the University of Washington, was sentenced today to 30 days in jail and fined $250 on a charge of contempt of the State Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities. He had refused to tell the committee whether he was, or ever had been, a Communist.

TRAIN NATIVE NURSES

Pietermaritzburg, South Africa —(CP) — More Bantu (native) nurses are to be trained in Natal hospitals in an effort to ease the shortage of nurses. These nurses will be used to provide better care for their own people.

REMEMBER YOUR FIRST, VERY FIRST ICE CREAM CONE?

Put on your gossamer wings and take a flight back into your childhood. Can you remember your first ice cream cone? Well, in this winsome picture, Deborah Mastro, eight months old, is about to get her very, first taste—the hard way. Her four-year-old brother, Bobbie, is obviously ignoring Deborah at his side. He licks slowly on the ice-cream hoping his baby sister will not get curious. But Bobbie is a woman and gets curious as to what's so good as to keep Bobby so quiet and uncomplaint. A little eartugging was necessary to get even a look-in, but in the end Bobbie surrendered. What can you do with someone as irresistible as Bobby?—Central Press Canadian.

Man With Hatchet And Another Held By Toronto Police

Toronto, April 19 — (CP)— two men, one of them wielding a hatchet, were arrested Monday night at gunpoint and charged with breaking into the Murray Axler Company Ltd. in the southwest section of the city.

Police said one of the men was swinging a hatchet over his head in a threatening manner and lowered it only when a policeman threatened to shoot.

Brass and other metal was piled in the doorway of the warehouse and police said they believed the pair intended to remove it in a truck standing nearby. The pair, John D. Dempsey, 22, and John A. Van Koughnett, also 22, were remanded to April 26 on charges of shoplifting.

Austin Reduces Prices

Windsor, Ont., April 19 (CP)— Price reductions of $100 to $150 covering all models were announced today by the Austin Motor Co., Ltd. The new prices go into effect at midnight tonight.

G. H. Crane-Williams, Canadian director, said the cuts are the culmination of over a year's success in the Canadian market, and have been made possible by "increasing production volume supported by demand unprecedented for an industry."

Nearly 10,000 Canadians are now Austin owners, he said.

C.S.U. Dispute May Spread to Netherlands Workers

Rotterdam, April 19 — (CP) — A Canadian seamen's dispute which resulted Friday in the arrest of part of the crew of the Canadian freighter Dingwall threatened today to spread to Netherlands dock workers.

The seamen were arrested at the request of the ship's captain on the ground they refused to work the ship. Then men had said they were protesting a threatened cut in wages.

Reports from the Rotterdam waterfront today said dock workers were discussing the possibility of a "sympathy" work stoppage.

WHAT IS MORE BEAUTIFUL?

Spring though seeming tardy with touches of snow and cool and even cold winds has brought a whole new world to man's sight and interest. The robin, the swallow and the great company of birds from their faraway winter quarters are back again with their gay plumage to match spring's gift of the colors in the flowers and the grass.

This week boys and girls who have been in school are learning much of nature and even the children who are not yet of school age have been able to see something new in the great outdoors which they did not realize last year when summer and autumn were here in their full glory.

Easter holidays are a rich treasure vault in which the schoolboys and school girls can gather new knowledge of nature and learn more about the world in which they are to perform their part in the not very far-off future. All nature opens her doors to them in the city and the countryside. They are learning what is one of the best attainments in life, they are learning to take their part in play—play, that gift of nature and human nature which offers training which will enrich the individual and social life.

These days are really a new world, flowers as new as spring on the lawn or in the house, new sounds as the merry birds trill their songs, and more and more boys and girls finding their interest in all that mother nature offers in the wide outdoors.

What is more beautiful than these days even if there is a dash or spot of rain on nature's face or the sign of a cloud? They offer even the older a rebirth of interest and to the young they bring a pandora's basket of delights and pleasures, new attainments and so many things that charm forever.

WALLACE BEERY

Wallace Beery's death removes a figure of the screen art whose reputation was made many years ago and held throughout the years. He was called "the bad man of the movies" but his was a kindly, good-humored, hard-boiled movie character who had no small share in building the art of the motion picture industry of today. The movies are no longer young they did not make Beery and Wallace Beery himself had devoted thirty-six years of his life to the art in which he made a world-wide name. He formed with Marie Dressler one of the greatest teams in the movie-kingdom. For years he was in the top ranks of the artists in the movies.

Beery possessed the sense of the true artist for he was able to create character, which means so much to the pleasure of the millions who have attended the moving pictures.

Beery had training as a trainer of elephants in a circus. That might indicate the robust peculiarities of his artistry. He delighted in playing rough but kindly roles.

Wallace Beery made his contribution to the pleasures of the people through the art which was young when he started in it. To its great progress through the years he and a great many of others have contributed their share to an art of entertainment and instruction which has earned a solid place in the world's pleasure fare. Movies were needed to round out a new form of art and the public enjoyed his work and gave him due measure of acclaim for the quality of his artistry.

Few men if they had ventured to predict the future of the art of film could have had greater pleasure in witnessing its rise to prominence in the entertainment world than Wallace Beery, who helped to make it what it is.

HONOR FOR BRITISH MOVIE ART

British film art has been given recognition in the granting of the academy award to the film version of "Hamlet" of Shakespeare made by Sir Laurence Olivier. Those who saw the film realize its greatness and know how effective the motion picture are is for bringing to the stage of today plays such as "Hamlet" with its deep and solemn lessons on life and human nature. Though Shakespeare is the world's supreme poet and dramatic artist, many have not become familiar with his works and it therefore is of the greatest importance that British and American movie art should be linked to the presentation of such works.

Those who saw Olivier's work in this film "Hamlet" know it is art of the highest quality and can see that it marks a trend to the production of plays which made a name in other eras to the audience of the twentieth century not only in Britain but in the United States, Canada and elsewhere.

JUST FOLKS

GRATEFUL

There are books I haven't read
Which I should have read, I'm told.
I have stayed at home instead
Of long trips to places old.
There is much I haven't seen
Which I'll never live to see.
But contented I have been
With what's been allowed to me.

There are games I've never tried.
There are skills I haven't gained,
But for what has been denied
I've not bitterly complained.
Love and laughter I have had
In a home from rancor free,
And I'm grateful and I'm glad
For what's been allowed to me.

THE PACKSACK

OF GREGORY CLARK

In Rome, the traffic constable at main intersections stood on small white sun helmet, large white gauntlets and flowing blue cape, and conducted traffic the way Toscanini conducts a symphony. This, of course, was in Mussolini's time. It may be changed now. Rome may be once more its old pandemonium self.

Standing nobly to the constable on the platform was another figure whose job was mercenary. He bore a small book of traffic forms in his hand. Whenever anybody committed a traffic crime, such as jay walking or disobeying the signals of the lofty traffic conductor overhead, a scrupulous, This, of course, was in Mussolini's time. The constable afoot wore a wallet harnessed, full of ready change.

In addition to this novelty, there was a curious hush about Rome's traffic. Mussolini had banned car horns. No pro-Mussolini could honk. Romans street sounded as if the greater part of Rome had fever after been allowed to sound. Still, the city of the Rome blasted with their endless outcry. Mussolini, the silent, the dictatorial man. He collected the dough without benefit of slam, untidy counters. And to solve the noise problems, he simply had all the Roman horns taken out.

It was not quite a hush that descended on Rome. Rather, it was a curious sound, a mutter-ing, a subdued roar, with the sharp whistles, brief shouts, and abrupt imprecations, as in the old days, but the cause was driven. Rome substituted labial and vocal sounds for the honking of horns.

Even a stranger could tell that the Roman people were not happy about these eminently sensible, practical, new laws. Orders were coming out of chaos, it is true. But chaos has a certain charm about it. Order, being contrary to human nature, must be imposed continuously, tentatively.

The Italians who hung Mussolini upside down may largely have been traffic violators.

The investigators said in their report that they found that residents had to submit outgoing mail, unsealed, to the matron. They informed the county council that the practice should be stopped.

They said they also found that residents' mail addressed to them was held in their rooms by screen doors locked on the outside. They criticized this arrangement.

The report also termed the housekeeping conditions "untidy" and not conducive to safety. It recommended that the present home be replaced with a new building.

Mackenzie's Column:
Irish Division Basis of Long, Bloody Warfare

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

While his countrymen danced through the streets of Dublin Monday night in joyous celebration of the setting up of the Irish Republic, my good friend President Sean O'Kelly laid out a further task for them to perform.

Quit speaking English, he admonished in a broadcast, and revive the Irish language. The winning of a republic would be an empty victory if the Irish lost their tongue, he added.

Well, I guess I knew an Irishman who lost his tongue — but of course we get the present-day Irish to give Ireland the individuality of her ancient independence.

Sean O'Kelly typifies that unflagging adherence to an ideal which has become a spiritual urge. He has devoted his life to the cause.

I first met Sean O'Kelly 30 years ago in Paris, during the peace conference following the First Great War. He was there as representative of the Sinn Fein organization, of which he was one of the founders, and was trying to obtain recognition from the conference.

In the Thick of It

Since then — ever since his youth, for that matter — he has been in the thick of the battle for Irish independence, finally achieving his ambition in this decade.

The idea of reviving Gaelic isn't new, of course, since the campaign started several decades ago. However, O'Kelly is bent on giving it a fillip. Of far greater significance is the pact he got both him and Premier Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State and Sir James Craig, premier of Northern Ireland — (Ulster) with the 26 of the Republic, Eire, remained loyal as part of the United Kingdom.

Long, Bloody Warfare

This division of the emerald isle has been the basis of long and bloody warfare between the two sections. Costello declared Monday night that the partition imposed upon the fair fabric of the state offended our national dignity." He added that a united Ireland "could be what a divided Ireland can never be: a tower of strength in a bastion of defense for world peace."

Irish Republican statesmen have announced that they regard the Anglo-Irish Defence Pact and the partition of Ireland as ended. That is to say, they won't join with Britain in any military alliance while Ulster remains part of the United Kingdom.

Perhaps time will result in a union, but there is no present indication that it will be forced in the near future. The feeling is bitter. It is only two months ago that the Irish Army was threshed out in a general election in Northern Ireland and the decision was that Ulster wanted to remain a part of the United Kingdom.

Says Russia Has Miniature A-City

Berlin, April 19 (AP)—The British licensed newspaper Evening Echo claimed today Red Russians are operating a "miniature city" near Moscow to train Potsdam.

The newspaper said the Russians had been conducting secret atomic research in a "city within a city" under hide-away" there with a staff of German scientists since 1947.

The report said the work was solely research and no production.

No confirmation of the report was given by American intelligence officials but they said it had been known for some time that the Russians were using German scientists in atomic as well as other military research.

Voting System To Elect Leader Made Fool-Proof

Toronto, April 18 (CP)—A fool-proof voting system has been prepared for next week's convention to choose a leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ontario, party officials said Thursday.

The new leader will be chosen April 27—the last day of the three-day convention—by 1,683 delegates.

The convention will be made up of 360 delegate members of the provincial Conservative Association, four from each of the 90 ridings, 900 leadership delegates, 10 from each riding, who are chosen only for the purpose of electing a leader; 90 substitutes at large, chosen by the association from a cross-section of prominent people in various professions on a geographical basis; 65 officers of the Young Progressive Conservative Association; 65 officers of district associations; 90 members of the provincial executive of the various number of ridings; and the provincial and federal candidates at the last elections.

If any of these delegates are unable to attend, 1,200 alternate delegates have been appointed.

Before each delegate could present a delegate must establish his identity and collect his credentials from the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association. Only those who are printed with marking similar to bank notes to prevent counterfeiting, will be accepted. Delegates will be allowed on the convention floor only with their credentials. Each delegate receives a book of ballots and is elected differently if he or more than one vote is necessary.

Must Have Majority

To be elected a candidate must have a clear majority — more than half the votes cast. Any one on the first ballot no candidate receives a majority, the candidate receiving the least number of votes drops out and another ballot is taken.

Four candidates have already declared themselves: Provincial Treasurer Frost, Attorney-General Blackwell, Speaker Michael Patrick Foster and Kelso Roberts, a Toronto mining lawyer and former member of the legislature. Friends of Highways Minister Thomas Murphy say he will not announce his candidacy within a few days.

The convention was called to choose a successor to George Henry, premier, who resigned last fall when he was chosen national leader of the party. Premier Kennedy agreed to accept the premiership on a temporary basis until a new leader can be chosen.

Prime Minister Claims Liberals Made Mistake

Regina, April 19 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie said here Monday night that the Liberal party made a mistake in not selecting its candidate for the Nicolet-Yamaska by-election Feb. 7.

The party leader, now on a tour of western Canada, told an audience of 2,700 that the Liberals failed to "take the Independent nationalists" was in choosing a candidate who would appeal to dividists as Conservative.

In the by-election, the Progressive-Conservative candidate, Paul Chapdelaine, Nicolet lawyer, polled 8,295 votes in defeating the Liberal candidate, Jean Bruneau, Trahan, also a Nicolet lawyer, Mr. Trahan obtained 7,799 votes. Romulous Monsseau, third man in the contest received 1,200 votes. Independent, polled 432 votes.

Mr. Trahan's name was not mentioned by Prime Minister who told the meeting:

"We failed to choose, and it's not going to do it again. We're going to choose a leader.

The Liberal party would choose the strongest candidate it could find and so win back their support.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Progressive Conservatives "got terribly excited" over getting Bruneau's credentials. But it was no indication of general Liberal decay because Bruneau, a national Quebec ridings favor the Liberals.

LUMBAGO FROM NEGLECTED HEMORRHOIDS

Q. One an external pile (hemorrhoid) becomes acutely inflamed, a blood clot (clot) forms in the vein) and the vein thickens the attack for days or weeks until gradually healing occurs, or, being a little less stupid, promptly has the clot turned out, under local anesthesia and so recovered from the "attack" in a day or two, that pile will never give trouble again. It is cured forever. But obliteration of a pile or hemorrhoid, whether by nature, surgery, electro-coagulation or injection treatment seems for that particular pile only. Unless the primary cause of piles is corrected the victim usually has piles in the body just as he had in the past.

A. The world or no one can guarantee that a patient will not have piles again, no matter what kind of treatment is used for the present trouble.

The pain of internal piles is less severe than that of the "attack" of external piles. It is more or less constant dull sensation of heaviness, fullness or distention in the rectum as though by a foreign body, and constipation, straining so the the piles are carried downward. Later there is mucous discharged and the natural desire for expulsion becomes more pronounced, associated with a peculiar feeling of sickness intestinal.

The trouble is neglected long enough the piles will prolapse or protrude, and then can be carefully replaced each time. Eventually, however, the prolapse becomes so severe that the piles or frequently enough to keep them in natural surroundings irritated, itching, excoriated. This is the patient's chief complaint. It makes no difference whether he knows he has internal piles or not.

The constant ache or pain of internal piles is in the lower back, pelvis, loins, lower back, perineum and down the thighs. In a few cases, sciatica and even lumbago from the internal piles have been wrongly treated for the "sciatic complaint" or "displacement"—because the patient went to the wrong doctor, incompetent to find out whether piles are present in the rectum or not. This can be determined, by visual examination through the anoscope or proctoscope.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON UNDERSTANDING OTHERS

Perhaps the frankest autobiography ever written was that one which Rousseau has scattered and brought together in logical sequence, from his published essays. His theory was that the best way to find out about others was by finding out about yourself. Hence he: "I describe others in reporting one single ill-made individual."

We misjudge others by misjudging ourselves. Perhaps a better way to say it would be that we judge others by ourselves and that is usually wrong. We are cast in form but not in mold, and we differ widely.

This is one of the many reasons why we should be tolerant of others, respect their views, and kindly toward them, no matter what the circumstances. It is rarely that we can even imagine what is going on inside the heart of another. There are the secret springs the natural flow of which may be dammed or destroyed by a single unkind or misunderstanding word carelessly uttered.

$200,000 Fire Razes Hatchery at Brantford

Brantford, April 19 (CP) — A $200,000 fire which struck one of Canada's biggest poultry farms here Monday night at the height of the hatching season destroyed incubators holding 180,000 eggs, 12,000 chicks and came due to lack of water.

Flames, of undetermined origin, destroyed a spruce-length farm frame building with a basement for a hatchery, incubators, office and storage rooms and gutted an adjacent structure which housed 1,600 grown chickens.

Six fire companies, assisted from the main building, shortly before 9 p.m. and a pebble mill from extinguishers. Only some office furniture and records and chickens were rescued from the large farm.

Three youths, playing on the second floor when the alarm was turned in, made down to safety. John and Don Schultz and Gerry Searle, were warned by Clement Green when they attempted to escape down the stairs, smoke and flames drove them back. They then climbed through a window and slid down the roof.

The farm, noted for its wartime production, produced about 500,000 chicks in a season.

$2,500 IN SAFE TAKEN

Toronto, April 19 (CP)—Thieves broke into a safe in a 200-pound safe containing $2,500 from the office of Fleischmann Bros. Ltd. in west central Toronto, Monday night and escaped undetected, it was disclosed today. Police indicating that the thieves had forced their way out of the building but nothing to indicate how they had gained entry.

BABY IDENTIFICATION

A nation-wide system of assigning serial numbers to all new-born babies in the United States will go into effect this year.

Recommendations Not Acted Upon

Toronto, April 19 — (CP) — Ontario health department officials said Monday that, as far as they knew, none of the recommendations made by department investigators who visited the Wellington County Home for the Aged six months ago have been acted upon. The investigators' report was submitted to the Wellington county council.

Reeve J. K. MacDonald of Elora has asked the department to make another investigation. The reeve charges that residents of the home are locked in rooms and that their mail is censored.

WEALTH BEYOND TAXATION

A parent was telling me the other day of how deeply he was his son wrote home and said, "I am proud of my heritage." The father, a wealthy man, possessed many temptations but he had taught that, above riches and the collapsing about him on all sides, he was aided by the skin of his teeth was staying decent, honest, and brave. He attributed it to the fact that two good folks back home and given him the training he needed to become a man and stay a man in the midst of the world's bewildering entitlements.

It is a marvelous thing when a child can write a parent and say, "I am proud of my heritage."

Most parents would rather hear those six words uttered than to have all the money in the world. Usually if a parent had six million dollars and his son could write that, the parent would be glad to have a family morally. It requires plenty of discipline on the part of father and mother to bring sons and daughters to moral maturity.
